DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

Will Decorate Graves of Volunteers on Decoration Day.

The 57th Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, recently formed in Peterborough, met yesterday in the armories. About forty were present. Thirty-eight new members have been added to the roll, which is considered extremely encouraging.

At the meeting the members were chiefly instructed in the work and objects of the society. It is intended to create more loyalty in the city for King and flag. The work of the society will be all done, of course, through the 57th Regiment. They propose placing flags on Decoration Day on the graves of volunteers who have been interred in Peterborough. Families in need among the men of the regiment will be visited and aided in the most suitable manner.

Another meeting will be called in two weeks' time.

CITIZENS ASKED TO CLEAN WALKS

The public are rejoicing in the fact that they are once more able to hear the click of their heels on the bare pavement on some of the city streets. This would be possible on every street if merchants and house owners would strain a point and, by taking advantage of the melting sunshine, remove the slush and ice from the front of their premises. Mayor Bradburn personaly requests the citizens to show sufficient thoughtfulness and pride in their city's appearance to do this.

JAMES GIRVEN, MARKET CLERK
MARKET CATTLE PENS MUST GO

Accepted tender of James Girven for position of market clerk—amount $860.

Decided to do away with the cattle pens on the market square and rennovate the market clerk's office.

Agreed to be photographed with the City Council for the Toronto Sunday World.

The above summarizes the main business transacted last evening by the City Property Committee during a little over one hour's session. There were present Alderman Duncan chairman, Mayor Bradburn, Ald. Morgan, Brown and Graham.

MARKET TENDERS.

The opening of the market clerk tenders was the first business. Just two were received, one from Mr. Jas. Girven, offering to perform the work this year for $850, his tender being $50 less than 1911. Mr. Walter Fisher, Water street, was the other applicant, asking $851 a year as remuneration. After due consideration, Ald. Morgan and Graham moved and seconded that Mr. Girven's tender be accepted at the amount offered.

Ald. Duncan followed up the market question by remarking that there was one thing that would have to be looked after better this year, and that was keeping the arcade of the market and the stairs in a more cleanly condition.

"It is a disgrace," he said. The temperature of the hall upstairs must be given more attention also, and it would be advisable to have signs put up at the doors, indicating the proper doors for entry and exit.

CATTLE PEN BANNED.

The advisability also of doing away altogether with the cattle corrals on the square was brought up by the chairman. The latter favored banishing them entirely. Ald. Brown favored retaining at least one for the accommodation of the farmers, who had occasion to use them, and give the farmers the understanding that they must not abuse the privilege.

Ald. Morgan—"Well, they'll abuse the privilege anyway; my idea is clear them all away."

Ald. Brown, however, maintained that the farmers should be given some consideration.

Ald. Graham—"You wouldn't carpet the pen, would you, Ald. Brown?"

Ald. Duncan—"How would it do to clear them all away, and if the farmers complain we could put one up for them."

Ald. Brown—"That would be a case of tearing down and building up again."

The argument was clinched and settled by Ald. Morgan moving that "the pens be done away with." Ald. Graham backed up the motion, which carried.

Putting the market house in a better shape was decided upon, by a motion in which the chairman was authorized to have the house cleaned out, painted, and the place put in as good condition as possible.

NURSERY STOCK TENDERS.

Tenders for the supplying of nursery stock for the King Edward Park were opened next. A list of the tenders and their prices is given:

John Best, 429 Donegal street, $158.00 without planting—$170.00 including planting.

A. A. Peters, 247 George street, $240.00—planting additional $35.00, or $275.00 in all.

B. P. Welch, local representative of Stone & Wellington, Toronto, $162.95—planting additional $47.36, or $210.31

Frank Wise, of Little Lake cemetery, $168.00; planting additional $40, or $208.00.

H. A. Porter, representing Pelham Nursery Company, Toronto; $190.45. The latter volunteered to do the work for nothing, with the help of a man supplied by the city, which it was estimated would incur expenditure of perhaps $10 or $12.

Ald. Morgan and Ald. Graham were responsible for the motion, recommending the acceptance of the tender of Mr. Frank Wise for $208.00. The committee was all in favor.

Mayor Bradburn asked the committee to be on hand at two o'clock to-day, when with the remainder of the city fathers they would pose for the Toronto Sunday World photographer, and enjoy the distinction of seeing themselves pictured in the paper on Saturday.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Peter Thompson, plumbing inspector for the city, submitted his report to the committee. It stated that 250 permits had been issued, ten smoke tests made, 101 tests altogether, and 579 visits made during the year. The committee felt that a more detailed statement was desirable, and therefore, on motion of Ald. Graham and Brown, it was decidedd to add a clause to the report, which goes to the Council, asking that the plumbing inspector be compelled to furnish his report in accordance with a question blank furnished him.

After deciding to meet to-night, the committee adjourned.

Manager Templin says the Sharon and McKeesport teams of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League, were hot-foot after both Davis and Ulmer, but he managed to land them right under the noses of the Class B. clubs.

ELMER D. BAVER, is a right-handed twirler, 23 years of age, 5 ft. 8 in. in height. He was with Jacksonville, Fla., in the spring and finished the season with Schuylkill, Haven, one of the fast teams in the coal regions. Baver is a graduate of the Kutztown State Normal School and Manager Templin saw him in action for the team of that Institution. He has brains, good curves and speed, and in addition can hit some.

CURLING CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Norwood Club Has Membership of Forty-Five.

There is nothing slow about the Norwood Curling Club, that organization having held their annual meeting this week, when officers for the year were elected and other business transacted.

Although the club was inaugurated this winter, the season was shown to have been most successful from every standpoint. To their already large roll of members, 27 in number some 18 new names were added, bringing the total membership up to 45. As a consequence of this increase in members two more sheets of ice will in all probability be added to the present rink next winter.

Patrons and Patronesses—Dr. and Mrs. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Woollcombe Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cuffe.

Hon President—Rev. Fr. Kelly.

President—Mr. J. E. Roxburgh.

Vice-President—Mr. W. E. Pakenham.

Secretary—Mr. Chas. Brackenridge.

Treasurer—Mr. Hugh Robb.

Exec. Committee — Messrs. J. G. Keefer, J. R. McKelvie and C. I. Pufer.

A committee was also appointed to see about holding an at home, when the prizes won in the local tournaments will be formally presented.

SPORTS AT Y. M. C. A.

The game between the Ekos and Hustlers at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium drew a large crowd, who were certainly rewarded for being present by witnessing one of the best games played on the local floor. Both teams were fast and the Hustlers true to their name hustled the ball into the basket three times in rapid succession and from then to the end of the first half, every point that either team secured was by good hard play, the half time score being 9 to 6 in favor of the Hustlers. The second half saw some very fast ball with the Ekos slowly, but surely creeping up the score column until with but one minute to play and one point behind, Fleming of the Eko's defence, stole up the floor away from his check, and dropped it in the basket, that won the game for the Eko's by a score of 18 to 17. Teams, Ekos— Canniff and Hall, centre, Walker; defence, Fleming and Turner, Hustlers— Forwards Flowers and Ellis, centre, Wallis; defence S. Hal and D. Loomis. Referee J. J. Thompson, umpire, C. E. Sisson.

There is considerable interest centered in the Brownie and Nemo game which is billed for to-night at 9 o'clock. Both teams handle the ball very fast and are noted for their spectacular shooting, and one of the best games of the season should result.

To-morrow night the Hustlers meet the Nemos in a City League fixture at 8.30. The first game will be called at 8 p.m., when the Juvenile League will be opened. The Midgets will clash with the Electrics and the Hustler-Nemo game will be called at 8.40 p.m.

There will be a meeting of the Automobile Owners and Prospective Automobile Owners of Peterborough on Friday evening, March 29th, at 8 p.m. sharp, in the Bank of Montreal Chambers, for the purpose of organizing a Peterboro' Automobile Association. All interested are requested to attend.

MANAGER TEMPLIN LANDS TWIRLER WITH GOOD SPITTER

Won Twenty-one of Twenty-six Games—More to Come

The roster of the local team is about completed. Manager Templin has forwarded four more contracts and says he will have a few more in the course of a few days. In writing to Secretary Davidson he says that Peterborough is going to be represented by a team this season that will be in the fight all the time and he is waiting for the opening bell to ring.

The problem of a pitching staff should be about solved by now with the number already signed, but Old Folks intends landing a couple more slab artists as he does not want to be left in a hole when the season opens.

The following is something about the latest men:

R. A. CONNOLLY, first baseman and outfielder, if necessary he can also catch. He is 22 years old, 5 ft. 10 in. in hieght and weighs 170 lbs. in uniform. He is a righthand batter and thrower. In 1910 he was with Clarkesbury in the West Virginia League, until that League disbanded and last season with Bluffton in the Indiana League which also blew up. He finished the season playing around New York and New Jersey with fast professional clubs. Connolloy is highly recommended by Scout Dick Coogan, coach of the Bucknell College team.

JOSEPH ULMER, infielder is very fast. He hit over the 300 mark in the fast Manayienk team which beat everything in and around Philadelphia last year. Ulmer is 22 years of age and stockily built. He can be used at third or short, has a great whip and is a good batter. The securing of this boy prepares Manager Templin for any break that may take place in his infield. Speaking of Ulmer, he says: "This boy is a comer and I expect a lot out of him."

PERCY DAVIS, is 22 years old, 5 ft. 7 in. tall and weighs 150 lbs. He pitched for the Manayienk team last season, winning twenty-one out of twenty-six games. Davis, who is a spit ball artist, has good curves and fine control and above all works with his head as well as his arm. He was the best semi-pro. pitcher the

DARK BLUE CREW FAVORITES FOR RACE TO-MORROW

Great Britains' annual blue ribbon event on the river—the Oxford-Cambridge Varsity race—will be rowed to-morrow over the historic Putney to Mortlake course. Not much information that would furnish a line on the relative merits of the eight has reached us so far in the cable despatches. This has been mainly due to the fact that the crews did most of their early work on different reaches of the Thames and under conditions that rendered an intelligent comparison most difficult.

But now both boats are on tidewater. Daily they are taking spins over the course upon which they will race at the end of the week.

Reviewing the work done up to eight days ago R. C. Lehmann, who will be remembered as Harvards' English coach, writes in the London Sportsman:

"The Oxford men are a very big and powerful lot. With one exception they are Etonians, and they thus possess a sort of preliminary guarantee of uniformity. To a great extent this in confirmed by their actual rowing, which is, on the whole, more elegant than that of last years' crew. Up to a recent date, as was natural with so heavy a crew, they have appeared to be somewhat sluggish, but in that respect they have certainly not been more backward than most of the recent victorious Oxford crews. There are, however, two main faults in this years crew which will require careful handling. The movement of the hands on the recovery is slow and the result is that the beginnings are not taken with sufficient vigor.

"On the whole there can be no doubt but that this crew shows a remarkable promise of excellence. They will require, as all recent Oxford crews have required, some very hard driving in order to keep them fulfil this promise completely, but when once they have learned how to extend themselves properly at a racing stroke without shuffling or scrambling or cutting the finish they ought to have great pace."

Owing to illness and other causes Cambridge has been forced to make frequent changes in her boat this year. After referring to this early handicap Mr. Lehmann says of the Light Blues:

"A glance at their weights will show that they are considerably lighter than their rivals, but they are by no means a weak crew, though they are not, as modern university crews go, a heavy one. Their bodies are not so well sized in the boat as those of Oxford, there being a greater contrast of short men mixed up with tall men, but they keep fairly square on the swing and are in that respect, perhaps, superior to Oxford, some of whose bodies still fail to keep a true line.

"Cambridge this year may not have the same reserve of physical power as Oxford. They have evidently determined to do their best to counterbalance this by being as fit as honest work can make them.

"As I have indicated, they are by no means a negligible crew, and I doubt if there is at present any great difference between their pace and that of Oxford. I cannot, however, help remembering that in the last three years the chief improvement in Oxford took place in the last fortnight of practice. This year they again have Mr. Bourne at stroke and Mr. Gold to coach them, and their general characteristics are much the same. There is no reason, therefore, why they should not repeat the performances which, with an almost startling suddenness, turned them into a fast and formidable crew."

LENS GRINDING

We have just recently installed another Automatic Lens Grinding Machine. With this machine we have now the most complete retail lens grinding plant in Ontario. We are now in a position to grind 200 lenses every day. In case of an accident (if you didn't buy your lenses from us) bring the broken pieces to us and we can duplicate the lense on the shortest possible notice. It makes no difference what kind or what strength of a lense or where you bought them we can duplicate them in a very short time and we guarantee perfect results.

We carry the largest up-to date Optical stock in the city. If you compare our prices you will find that they are the same as charged by Eaton and other Optical houses in Toronto. Our prices are governed by Toronto prices. In case you need new lenses (providing you have used them before) or if you are suffering from eye strain or headaches, kindly give us a call. We will guarantee to give perfect results.

MILITARY MEN HEARD LECTURE

An excellent address of great interest and benefit to military men and civilians as well, was delivered in the armories recreation room last evening by Major Holman, of the Australian army. A large representation of military men were present, including nearly all the officers and non-commissioned officers. Lieut.-Col. Clegg presided at the gathering.

The Australian military system compels every male between eighteen and twenty-six to undergo military training. The person first commenced when a boy as a junior cadet, then as a senior cadet, and then graduating into the militia. Officers were detialed to instruct and oversee the training of so many men in every district.

The system had resulted in the bringing of the Australian army to a high state of efficiency, a fact which was recognized throughout the world.

The Australian army was sufficiently strong and well organized to protect her extensive coast-line and in addition forts were constructed in several of the most likely places of attack.

Major Holman's address was much enjoyed, and was greatly appreciated.

WEDDING BELLS

SPEARS — KEITEL

On Wednesday at the manse of St. Andrew's church, the wedding was solemnized of Miss Janet Keitel and Mr. Albert A. Spears, both of Otonabee. The Rev. Mr. Pogue performed the nuptial ceremonies in the absence from the city of the Rev. Jas. Rollins.

PEARSON—BROWNLEE

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening in the manse of St. Paul's church, when the Rev. R. Pogue, united in marriage Miss Matilda Brownlee and Mr. Fred J. Pearson, both of Peterboro. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will reside in the city.

FAREWELLS AT THE NORMAL

Yesterday was the last day at the Normal School for those pupils who are successful in their Easter Examinations, and after the close of the school yesterday afternoon for the Easter holidays, the teachers gave the departing pupils a very enjoyable pink tea.

When the thirty-five honored pupils had partaken of the good things provided, short addresses were given by the Faculty.

The dainties were prepared and served by Miss Steinhoff and the remainder of the young ladies who are attending the Normal School this year. The table was beautifully and appropriately decorated with a nice arrangement of daffodils.

The affair was a very pleasant one and the pupils in whose honor it was given were gratified at the means taken to make their departure as pleasant as possible. It is safe to say that the occasion will one long to be remembered.

WAS KILLED BY TRAIN AT VANCOUVER

Word has been received in town of the death of William Callaghan, which occurred in Vancouver on March 22. Very few particulars are to hand, but it appears that the late Mr. Callaghan was struck by a Great Northern train on the 19th, succumbing to his injuries three days later.

The deceased was well known in Lindsay and the vicinity, having formerly resided in North Emily. Two years ago he left for the coast with his family. He was about 58 years of age.

Among the relatives of the deceased in this section are Messrs. John Meehan, Lindsay; Jos. Meehan, of Ops, and Patrick Meehan, of Downeyville, all brothers-in-law of the deceased.—Lindsay Warder.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Mr. C. W. Moat of Belleville is in the city on business.

Rev. F. J. Sawers took the Lenten service at Campbellford last night.

Miss Helen Eraad, of Port Hope, is the guest of Mrs. Chas. L. Brewer, Smith street.

Rev. H. J. Keith has returned to the city and reports much progress in the condition of Mrs. Keith.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly Shepard are in Orillia, conducting rehearsals for a minstrel show to be given Wednesday, April 0, in aid of Orillia's new hospital.

Mr. John Crane, of Peterborough, D. D. G. M. for Masonic District No. 20, will pay his official visit to Norwood Lodge, No. 223, A. F. and A. M., on Monday evening.

Mrs. John Carscallen and family, of Parnell street, wish to thank their friends for the many acts of kindness and sympathy toward them to their recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McWhinnie, 513 Harvey street, city, who have been spending the winter with their daughters at Regina and Kerrobert, Sask., returned home to-day.

The many friends of Mr. J. M. Greene, of the Greene Music Co., will regret to learn that he was taken to the hospital yesterday, suffering from an attack of appendicitis. The operation was performed last night and Mr. Greene is doing nicely to-day.

W.E.A.C. SMOKER

The West End Athletic Club held an informal smoker in their rooms last night. The guests, to the number of fifty, spent a delightful evening under the influence of that soothing weed enjoyed by all smokers, and during the earlier part of the evening engaged in a euchre contest. The first prize was won by Mr. Ira Huggins, and the "booby prize" by Mr. Arthur Heard. Both young gentlemen made recognition of the honor in neatly worded speeches.

A musical program was supplied by an orchestra which rendered several bright selections and by Messrs. Naish and Lang, who so pleased the listeners with their solos that each, in his respective song, was encored.

In the absence of Mr. Dinsdale, Mr. E. Will Pratt very ably discharged the duties of chairman.

The success of the affair is in a large measure due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Bert Williamson, to whom, as chairman of the social committee, the greater part of the management fell.

At St. Luke's Church

Mr. C. E. Jameson, of the Collegiate Institute, will give an Evening with Drummond, the Habitant Poet, to St. Luke's A.Y.P.A. to-night. This will be an open meeting. All are invited.

THE EYE LIKE A CAMERA

The eye is constructed so wonderfully and ingeniously that the handicraft of man has not as yet been able to construct as delicate an instrument. It is like a camera—the lens to focus, the lid as a shutter, the iris or color as the diaphram, the thick coatings of the eye-ball as the dark room, the nerve as the sensitive plate, and strange as it may seem, the images are bottom side up exactly as the image in the camera. Now so delicate and sensitive an instrument as the eye should have good care. Let us explain more fully to you how to care for the eyes.

REPORT WAS ALL TOO TRUE

It Was Albert Parrish of Peterboro Who Was Killed

A tragedy of every-day, and one which possesses phases of terrible sadness, has invaded the humble threshold of the home of the late Albert Parrish of this city, the report of whose shocking death in Vancouver has been confirmed by the receipt of a wire to his relatives here. To no person has the news come with such pitiful shock as to his young wife, who is now left widowless, and with an infant child to care for.

Three weeks to a day passed, and on the anniversary of his leaving Peterborough came the tidings of his sudden death.

A letter written to his wife's mother, Mrs. Sadler, 466 1-2 Gilmour street, is filled with an account of the brilliant prospects he had entertained for establishing a cosy and comfortable home in Vancouver, and which he had intended his wife and child to soon occupy.

In the letter he told of his first position; the one at which he was doomed to meet his death. He was working as a steeple jack and rivetter on the Hambury Mills burner, and was swung out and suspended in a chair above the water, while engaging in the rivetting. Hambury Mills are situated on False Creek in the suburbs of Vancouver.

PROSPECTS WERE BRIGHT.

While the work at which he was engaged at the time of writing was not particularly remunerative, still he spoke most hopefully of the future.

Another sad aspect of the case is that his young wife has been busily engaged with preparations to go out to join her husband, and in the midst of her happy expectations, fell the news of her husband's death, shattering forever her happy prospects.

Mr. Sadler wired to Vancouver yesterday. He received in reply a telegram signed by Frank Hopkins, confirming the belief that the victim was the Albert Parrish known here. The deceased was an absolute stranger in Vancouver, and the person named Hopkins, is supposed to be a foreman at the mill where Parrish was employed.

His widow and Mr. Sadler have consulted Mr. G. N. Gordon with a view to taking whatever legal action is necessary. It is understood that if the Company in Vancouver were in any way liable for the accident, a claim for damages may be entered. Mr. Sadler wired the authorities to withhold burial until he arrives, having left on the 4.28 C. P. R. to-day for the scene of the fatality. Until his arrival there, no further particulars of the sad affair will be obtainable.

It is not likely that the remains will be brought to Peterborough.

The late Mr. Parrish was insured with the Foresters and his wife will benefit thereby. While in Peterborough he was a member of Knox Church.

Dr. Bruce Hewson, L. R. C. S., L.R.C.P., Edinburgh, has opened an office at the corner of Charlotte and Stewart Streets for general practice of medicine. Special attention given to diseases of eye, ear, nose and throat. Phone, Bell 220, Hours 9-10 a.m., 2-4 p.m., and 7-8 p.m.

CONVENTION AT GOSPEL HALL

A Christian Convention is to be held in the Gospel Hall at the corner of Brock and George streets, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 5, 6 and 7 and over one hundred delegates are expected. A large number of speakers from outside points will be present, and the convention promises to be productive of much interest and help. Three meetings will be held each day, at 10.30 a.m., 2.30 p.m. and 8 p.m., and all three meals are to be served at the hall.

Mothers can bring their babies and rest assured that they will be cared for, during the progress of each meeting as a nursery will be an innovation of the Convention.

The invitation to these meetings is general and cordial.

SAVAGE ATTACK MADE ON COMMISSIONER MORINE

Member for Carleton County, N.B., Causes an Eleventh Hour Sensation In the Commons With a Sweeping Attack on the Career of New Federal Appointee—Says He Is Paid to Keep Out of Island.

Ottawa, March 30.—Almost the last day of the first session of the 12th Parliament of Canada was enlivened, not to say electrified, by the utterance of a Liberal member, from his place in the House, of charges of the most sweeping and serious nature against the personal and political honor of a new Borden Government appointee.

F. B. Carvell (Carlton, N.B.) seized the opportunity of the motion to go into supply for a savage attack on A. B. Morine, chairman of the Public Service Commission, based on Mr. Morine's political life as Premier of Newfoundland.

The members of the commission, which involved almost the liberties of many public servants, said Mr. Carvell, should be above reproach. They were not only judges, but prosecuting attorneys as well.

He said that Mr. Morine, when he went to Newfoundland, became connected with The St. John's Mercury, which raised a violent creed cry, at first against the Roman Catholics. Then about 1890 he turned and supported them.

"The alacrity with which this man was able to get from one side to the other was surprising," said Mr. Carvell.

But this, he continued, was not the point he wished to emphasize. In 1898, he said, when Mr. Morine was Finance Minister and Minister of Customs for Newfoundland, he made an agreement with R. B. Reid, a prominent railway contractor, by which the colony of Newfoundland gave away to Reid almost all the colony possessed, in order to secure the operation of railroads.

The colony under Mr. Morine spent $13,000,000 on this railroad, said Mr. Carvell, handed it over with all its branches to Reid for fifty years, with the condition that it should become Reid's property on his paying $1,000,000. Reid was also given 5,000 acres of land a mile, which with the other concessions he had got would take up almost all the available land in the colony. He was given all the coal with the understanding that there should be an import duty of $1 a ton.

He was also given a monopoly of steamship lines on the coast, with a subsidy of $100,000. He was given control of the docks at St. John's for $325,000, a monopoly of telegraph lines and certain other franchises totalling $13,000,0000 to $15,000,000.

Then Mr. Morine had fought the election of 1897, with the deal with Reid as his principal plank.

Continuing, Mr. Carvell read an extract from the reply of Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, then Secretary of State for the Colonies, to the governor of Newfoundland, dated March 23, 1898, refusing to ratify the agreement, in which he referred to the "extraordinary powers" handed over to Reid. Meetings of protest were also held at St. John's against the agreement.

On Mr. Morine admitting in 1898 that while he was a member of the executive council of Newfoundland, he was the legal adviser of Reid, the governor of the colony, Mr. Carvell declared, dismissed him from office, stating in a letter that he should "not give him the choice which master he would serve for the future."

"It was impossible to conceive," commented Mr. Carvell, "that any man who had been so disgraced would have the hardihood to hold his head up and seek public office in this country."

Then a general election was held and Morine had the hardihood to join himself to Reid in an attempt to get back into office, but though he had been elected himself, only three of his followers were.

"Having betrayed the colony for the benefit of his employer, he then attempted," said Mr. Carvell, "to betray his employer for the benefit of himself."

Morine and Reid, he said, had quarrelled over The St. John Mercury, on which Morine held a mortgage of $35,000.

The law suit with Reid over The Mercury, continued Mr. Carvell, had resulted in a supplementary agreement which had driven Morine out of Newfoundland. He was allowed his pension, bribe, or whatever it could be called of $10,000 a year on condition that he wouldn't come back.

"For $10,000 a year," vehemently declared Mr. Carvell, "he became an exile from the colony of Newfoundland, and now he comes to this country, forces himself into our politics, and becomes the head of the most important commission this Government has created since it came into power."

He charged that Premier Borden knew all about Mr. Morine's record; that he was made acquainted with it when Mr. Morine was a Conservative candidate in Nova Scotia in 1908.

Mr. Carvell topped his charges against Mr. Morine by reading a letter of Rt. Rev. F. Howley, Bishop of Newfoundland, to Mr. Winton of Toronto, which contained some choice morsels of denunciation. Mr Morine was, according to the bishop, "the greatest scoundrel that ever entered the narrows—an unmitigated rascal." Reid had "found him out embezzling from him," held it over him as a threat and driven him from the colony.

"I'd like to know," said Mr. Carvell in conclusion, "what credence will the people of Canada place on the evidence of a court presided over by a man of the reputation described in the document I have read. I want to know how my hon. friend can square this appointment with the professions he made in his Halifax platform of 1907.

Does he not think that the time has now come when he should call a halt? If he is going to investigate the public service of this country he should do it by men who, as he said in his platform, are above reproach, men in whom the people will have confidence, men in whose judgment the people will have confidence."

Premier Borden in a dignified reply stated that the details of the allegations of Mr. Carvell were absolutely new to him, and were of an exceedingly grave character. "I stand exactly with regard to appointments to public office," said the Premier, "where I stood when I made the statement my hon. friend has referred to (the Halifax platform of 1907). I shall place the charges which my hon. friend has made before Mr. Morine and give him an opportunity of making an answer to them. When Mr. Morine's answer has been made to these charges, I will announce to this House of Commons and to this country what action the Government purposes to take in regard thereto."

TO STOP ALL WORK

Soft Coal Miners Suspend Operations On Monday.

Special to the Review.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 30—Contrary to expectations last night, bituminous coal miners will suspend all operations on Monday, for at least a fortnight, pending the taking of a referendum vote on the question of a strike. This decision followed by eight hours, the order for suspension of work in the anthracite mines. Six hundred and seventy thousand miners will be idle Monday.

MILITARY TACTICS AT BROCKVILLE

Brockville, March 30.—A number of men, prominent in the Army Medical Service of the Canadian militia, spent a day in Brockville and vicinity doing some practical field work. Last spring the culmination of the big "war game" was an imaginary action in the valley to the west and south of Lynn between two large forces. The medical men went out to the scene of the action to carry out their part of the game, that is to say, the care of the injured.

Among the officers in the party were: Col. G. Carleton Jones, director-general of the Canadian Medical Service; Major C. A. Hodgetts, medical officer of the Conservation commission; Major F. L. Vaux, Major R. Lorne Gardner, Major Newtalley, Ottawa; Major Potter of Toronto, Capt. A. E. Snell, Kingston, and Major F. T. Murphy of Halifax.

The party dispersed yesterday after putting in a solid day's work in the field.

HON. MR. MORINE REPLIES TO CARVELL'S CHARGES

He Says Contract With Railwayman Proved Beneficial to Newfoundland After All — Acted Openly as Mr. Reid's Adviser and Money Since Received Is Fair Compensation—Has Been Invited to Go Back.

Ottawa, March 30.—A. B. Morine, K.C., issued a statement last night to the press. It is, in part, as follows:

"Being informed over the telephone, that Mr. Carvell, M.P., was speaking about me in the Commons, I at once went to the gallery to listen, and I now submit a reply to what I then heard him say.

"I can give an outline only of the facts relating to my resignation from the Government of Newfoundland in 1898, at the request of Governor Murray. They are as follows:

"Governor Murray was personally opposed very bitterly to the Reid railway contract, adopted by the Legislature, and after is passage became embittered against me for some fancied slight I was accused of showing him. The opponents of that measure urged him to punish me, the man most connected with the measure, in their opinion, and the most energetic member of the administration. One of the most active of these politicians was the Very Rev. M. F. Howley, whose letter abusing me was read by Mr. Carvell.

"It was a public fact that I was and had been the general legal adviser of R. G. Reid, the contractor. No secret had been made of this, for I openly acted in that capacity in the courts. I had specially asked the Premier, Sir James Winter, if it were desirable that I should remain in the Cabinet, and had remained at his request. Other counsel for the contractor had sat in the previous Cabinet with the knowledge and acquiescence of Governor Murray himself. The governor knew that I acted for Reid, and he made no protest or took any action till moved to do so for party ends and because of his personal feeling. Any objection that might be to the situation on principle was offset in this case by the fact that the Reid railway contract, 1889, was unanimously supported by the members of the Legislature supporting the Government and by half of the Opposition, led by the present Premier of Newfoundland, Sir E. P. Morris. Though amended disadvantageously, that measure remains in force to this day, to the general advantage of the country, and now it is almost universally admitted that the contract was a splendid one for the country. I may add that St. John's newspaper, which asserted that corrupt influences were used to support the measure, was sued for libel and most unreservedly withdrew its imputations.

"After my resignation my colleague urged my appointement. Governor Murray though reconciled to me personally, demurred to a reappointment and soon retired. His successor, Governor McCallum, immediately restored me to office, officially sending me a letter."

Mr. Morine here cites a portion of a eulogistic letter by Governor McCallum at this time, and continues:

"I may add that at the next general election in 1904 I was re-elected by my constituents, whose confidence was given to me for twenty years without a single defeat. I became and continued leader of the Opposition until I resigned to come to Canada.

"I served in office under Governor MacCallum for several months in 1899, and then on a question of policy I again ceased to be a member of the Government of Newfoundland. Then, free from office, I once more became Reid's legal adviser, entering into a contract for my exclusive professional services, I acted under it till 1906, when it was terminated by agreement.

"It was represented to Mr. Reid that his relation with the Government could never be friendly and that the political opposition of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Howley, a strong supporter of the Government, would not cease while I was Reid's legal adviser. Mr. Reid came from Montreal, where he resided to solve the difficulty after consultation with me. I had abandoned my private practice to become his legal adviser, and had a moral and legal claim for my unexpired time. Mr. Reid had also promised me extra remuneration for what he was pleased to regard as peculiarly good work done for him by me in a large arbitration. He was anxious to compensate me properly, but he desired to avoid the further friction which he feared might occur if I remained in the colony. Knowing that I had long contemplated a return to this, my native country, he offered to commute my claim on him by paying to me annually, if I resided in Canada, a portion of the yearly salary which I was entitled to under my contract.

"Very strong language derogatory of me was quoted by Mr. Carvell from a letter written by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Howley of St. John's, Newfoundland, the Roman Catholic archbishop of St. John's, not, as Mr. Carvell called him, 'the bishop of Newfoundland.' My deference to the office Dr. Howley holds overcomes my anger at his wanton assault, and I refrain from saying more than this, that where we are both equally well known—in Newfoundland—no surprise would be felt at any violent thing he might say about me.

"As proof of the place I hold in the public opinion of Newfoundland, may I be pardoned by saying under the great provocation which has been given that I have repeatedly been urged to return to the colony to lead a party, and that for two years I have been unanimously elected president of the Newfoundland Society in Newfoundland."

PRISONER MADE SECOND ESCAPE

Sawed Bars of Cell and Scaled the Walls

Kingston, March 30.—By sawing through the bars of his cell in the insane ward of the penitentiary, Joseph Chartrand, a French half breed, early this morning succeeded in making his escape after scaling the walls with the aid of a rope. Chartrand was serving a life term for killing a policeman at Sault Ste. Marie, and escaped once before six years ago, when he was at liberty for a month.

Highland Regiment for Galt.

Galt, March 30.—News comes from Ottawa to Col. A. J. Oliver, commanding the 29th Battalion, that the Militia Department will spend $15,000 on the Galt armory, and agrees to the formation of a city regiment of Highlanders.

Tax In New York State.

Albany, N.Y. March 30.—The Harte bill, levying a direct tax of one mill, passed the Legislature yesterday. It is estimated that the measure will produce a revenue of $11,000,000.

TO PUT ON LID AT THE N.Y. FALLS

Niagara Falls, N.Y., March 30.—Business men in this city are up in arms against clergymen, who petitioned the council to force the Sunday closing of theatres, holding the conditions in Niagara Falls, Ont., as model.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon representatives of theatrical and business houses decided to attempt to close grocery stores and all other places of business if the theatres are forced to close.

If the threats are carried out, thousands of dollars of Canadian money will be lost to the city every Sunday. Every Sunday hundreds of people come here from nearby Canadian places. The police court is filled with Canadian drunks every Monday morning. This is the most wide-open city in the state.

DIED ON HEARING SON'S ELECTION

Victoria, B.C., March 30.—C. E. Pooley, K.C., former Speaker of the British Columbia Legislature, and a pioneer Conservative leader, died Thursday night just after he received news that his son, R. H. Pooley, had been elected as a Conservative member of the Provincial Parliament from Esquimalt, the district which the elder Pooley had represented for many years.

Mr. Pooley came to Esquimalt with a party of English gold-seeker in 1863. He was a member of the Robson, the Davie and the Turner Cabinets.

Prospective Son-in-Law Baulked.

Galt, March 30.—Joseph Lafrautz, belonging to the local Armenian colony, was arrested charged with threatening to shoot his prospective father-in-law. The latter promised the other his daughter in marriage, but refused to sanction the ceremony until the suitor came across with the customary monetary consideration.

Taxes Went Up In Smoke.

Belleville, March 30.—The residence of Mr. Thomas McMunn, Mayo Township, was with all its contents, destroyed by fire. Mr. Munn was tax collector for the Township of Mayo in this county, and $200 which he had collected went up in smoke. There was no insurance on house or contents.

DECISION GIVEN AS NO CONTEST

Cambridge Shell Sank and Crew Had to Swim Ashore---Oxford Finished Eleven Minutes Behind Record Time --- Crews Will Race Again Monday.

Special to the Review.

Putney, March 30.—The Oxford crew won a hollow victory over Cambridge in the annual boat race to-day. A strong wind was blowing and the river was so rough that the Cambridge shell sank when half way over the four and one-quarter mile course, the crew being forced to swim ashore. The Oxonians also had to stop and empty their craft, but finished in a sinking condition eleven minutes behind the record time. The race was declared "No Contest" and is to be renewed Monday.

SET A NEW RECORD

Oxford set up a new record last year of 18 minutes 29 secs. and defeated Cambridge by two and three-quarter lengths. The only dead heat in this event since 1841 was in 1877, the time being 24 mins. 6 1-2 secs., and Cambridge had a similar experience in 1859, when their shell sank. The first race was rowed in 1841, and in the subsequent races Oxford won 37 and Cambridge 30.

Suffragette Advises Boycott.

London, March 30.—At a meeting of suffragettes held last night in protest against what the speaker described as their "Base betrayal by the House of Commons," Mrs. Despard, who was sentenced to prison in 1909, and was once arrested for picketing Premier Asquith's house, said the time had arrived for the militant suffragettes to adopt more effective methods to gain their desires.

She urged, in effect, a boycott. She said the women should not buy hats, which would hurt the tradesmen worse than window-smashing, declared that they should not go to a seaside resort represented in Parliament by men of anti-suffragist tendencies, and should not subscribe funds to churches or institutions or invest their money in England.

PROBABILITIES

Light winds and fine to-day. Sunday—Easterly winds with about the same temperature.

Are Beaver Skins Contraband?

North Bay, March 30.—The trunk full of beaver skins seized on the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway was forwarded to its destination at Mattawa, accompanied by Game Warden Parks and Provincial Constable Hayman, who watched the baggageroom at Mattawa and arrested a man who asked that the trunk be shipped to Pembroke. The man took an affidavit that the skins were secured in Quebec, and were being taken through Ontario, but could produce no permit for so doing.

DANGELO THE ITALIAN SINGER

This great artist will be at the Red Mill for one week only, beginning Monday, April first. The proprietor has made arrangements with the Verbick Concert Company, Buffalo, for the singer's appearance here. The range of his voice is that of a high baritone, and he will render all the latest song hits, and which are so popular just now.

No increase in the admission fee, which is only five cents. Open afternoons and evenings. The Red Mill. 2d Crothers and Grand Trunk.

Ottawa, March 30.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, gave what seemed an ultimatum to the Grand Trunk Railway last night. He made a careful statement of his position.

He suggested, though, that the powers of the Railway Commision should be broadened so that they could arbitrate in cases of disputes between employers and employes. There were 120,000 men in the employ of Canadian railways and these men should not be dismissed after years of service at the whim of officials.

Mr. Crothers went into the history of the dispute with the Grand Trunk Railway and showed how in his opinion the company has failed to live up to the agreement it had signed, both in regard to reinstating its men and to the schedule of wages. In closing he declared that there was no legal machinery by which the G.T.R. could be compelled to observe the agreement entered into with them by another party and then repudiated by them. It seemed to him the time was not far distant when Parliament would say that any quasi-public institution such as a railway, must be compelled to treat its employes decently.

Publish My Letter The World Over

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

ROWELL TEMPERANCE POLICY

There are many points in the Rowell temperance policy open to criticism by those to whom he is catering for support. A policy of Abolish the Bar will receive the support of many Conservatives, as well as many Liberals. The division upon the question is not likely to be strongly political in its nature, unless some counteracting policy is put forward by the Whitney Government. Apart from the question as to what attitude will be assumed by the Government, the situation is very interesting indeed, for it foreshadows a re-alignment of the Liberal party in Ontario, or what remains of it. The advanced temperance people who were looking for a complete prohibition policy are disappointed. The Liberals who believe that Premier Ross' experience with caucuses should have been sufficient to discourage Mr. Rowell from attempting to shove a prohibitory measure, or any part of it, down the throat of the party, are disgruntled. The only apparent accession of strength the move will secure Mr. Rowell will be those Conservatives who are willing to support anyone who proposes to further the cause of temperance.

The Rowell proposal, if put into effect, would close the bars, and do away with public treating, but the liquor traffic would be transferred to the shops and the clubs, where the licenses would do a Midway business. The shops would be left undisturbed, so that those who are determined to have liquor at any cost, might be able to get it legally. The clubs are not interfered with, as they are not open to the general public. The proposal to permit these places to do business looks like discrimination quite unfair to the hotelmen, many of whom have tried to serve the travelling public to the very best of their ability. The provision that inspectors of hotels and transient boarding places shall be appointed certainly would not be a feasible means of keeping up the hotel standard. The recent protest from the Commercial Travellers' Association to Premier Whitney, about the dreadful condition of hotels in local option districts, indicates that a province-wide abolition of the bar would have serious effects in this respect. However, many people will be disposed to support the Rowell proposal because it takes a long step towards wiping out the liquor traffic as officially recognized. Being very incomplete, its defects are prominent, and opponents will not forget to make the most of them. It is an interesting question whether Mr. Rowell, having secured the adoption of the proposal by a majority of his House followers, can get the support of the party at large in anything like equal measure.

THE BOURASSA GAG

The announcement that Henri Bourassa will not contest his seat in the Quebec Legislature, but will take a holiday in Europe instead is not surprising. Mr. Bourassa has been having quite a number of disappointments lately. He entered the Quebec Legislature with the idea of reforming the provincial administration. He proposed to set the heather afire locally. But he was unable to make much headway against the Gouin Government. He turned his attention to Federal politics, his old love. The Laurier organs, the Examiner among them made a great ado because Bourassa opposed Laurier in the last campaign. He was therefore in a close and Machiavellian alliance with Premier Borden. Ever since the formation of the present government the Globe and its lesser satellites have seen the Bourassa ghost in every bit of government legislation. They have been busily trying to show that Bourassa was the real premier, the boss of Ottawa, and that those Britishers who voted for Premier Borden and the Conservatives had been most diabolically duped.

What is the record of the Borden government so far? It has been doing business for six months. How far has Mr. Bourassa been able to exert that malign influence he is credited with by the Laurier organs? In the first place, there was a demand that the heads of the Montreal harbor board be chopped off. The first great surrender was sure to come, according to these too clever oppositionists. The Montreal Harbor board is the same as on Sept. 21, notwithstanding French activities. Then came the Ne Temere legislation, the Lancaster bill, etc. Here again was a peck of trouble. Premier Borden boldly proposed that the first step out of the whole difficulty was to find out where the Dominion stood as to jurisdiction in marriage legislation. He proposed a reference to the Supreme Court and the Privy Council, and this was accepted as the wisest course. The government immediately framed the questions, and they are now before the Supreme Court.

Then came the Manitoba boundary bill. This was another rock upon which the Borden government was sure to split. Here again was Bourassa dominating the situation.

Bourassa and Lavergne tried their best to have a separate schools clause embodied in the bill, it is true, but they were turned down hard and flat, and the three ministers and Quebec representatives stayed pat. Where were Bourassa and Lavergne? The organs, especially those who make any semblence of trying to avoid direct lying, have dropped their Bourassa screamer type. They have been made to look so ridiculous by the actual events that they have shut up for a while, ashamed. And Bourassa is going to Europe.

HER MESSAGE TO SISTER WOMEN

Found Relief and Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Jacob McLean Could Not Lie Down Without Suffering Agony Till She Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Grindstone Island, Magdalen Islands, Que., March 29—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing a great work for the suffering women of Canada can no loner be denied. Every corner of the Dominion furnishes some noble woman who is willing to speak out and tell her suffering sisters where they can find relief, and Mrs. Jacob McLean, of this place, is one of them.

"I am fifty-six years old," Mrs. McLean states, "and at that critical time of life that comes to every woman.

"I had Rheumatism, Diabetes, and pain in my limbs, so I could not lie down without suffering the greatest agony. I found relief in two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Nine out of ten of the suffering women of Canada will find that the cause of their sufferings is diseased kidneys. If they cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills their sufferings will cease, and they will find health and energy that will make them new women. Ask your neighbors.

But rush won't bother Sandy, he's thorough and precise,
There's no holes in Sandy's armor
 when it comes to snow and ice.

And Rose, he's handlin' business such as Billy did before,
For the old Grand Trunk—now, younger—in the self-same natty store,
He's beamin' in his manner and joyous in his mein,
Quite a man among the agents as the burg has ever seen.

And Dodds, well now you're shoutin'
 —there's a man who looks his job,
He's a wizard at the art of gettin'
 business from the mob,
For the C. P. R. and branches that are loaded down for fair,
Let alone the main lines buildin'
 here and there and everywhere.

And we ask, has any paper any nicer things to say,
Of the railway men within their
 burgs who're workin' day by day,
If the paper thinks they're worthy,
 it can state the facts in rhyme,
But for beating Peterborough's men none other come to time.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Extension to Breakwater and Dredging at Goderich, Ont.," will be received at this office until 4 00 P.M., on Monday, April 15th, 1912, for the construction of an Extension to the North Breakwater and Dredging at Goderich, Huron County, Ont.

Plans, specification and forms of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of J. G. Sing, Esq., District Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto Ont.; H. J. Lamb, Esq., District Engineer, Windsor, Ont., and on application to the Postmaster at Goderich, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"I can't help what you thought," I answered rudely, for I was getting desperate. "You've no right to keep me here like this, and it won't do you a bit of good, for if you stand there till we're both in our second childhood I won't change my mind. You ought to know that now, Mr. Parker. Please let me go."

He didn't move.

"If you don't I'll scream at the top of my lungs," I said. And he must have seen that I meant it, for he flung open the door with a slam, and I swept past him with my nose in the air, trying to look like mother.

I didn't see him again till it was time to go home. Then he drove back with Mrs. Ess Kay and me to the Moorings in the shut up motor car and didn't open his mouth once on the way, which was wonderful for him and seemed somehow ominous.

I had been too angry and excited after that scene of ours to feel unhappy or to worry much about what might come next, but that drive, short as it was, with Potter freezingly silent and Mrs. Ess Kay alarmingly polite, made me feel that the end had come. I was sure she had been told by her brother what an obstinate, ungrateful girl I was, and I had a guilty sinking of the heart as if I really had been both. There was no Sally to protect me now, no one to advise me what to do, and there was a big lump in my throat as I said good night and went to my own room.

I hadn't been there long when there came a knock at the door, the same determined kind of inexorable knock which mother gives when I've been found out in something which she thinks it her duty to make me sorry for.

I'd locked the door and would have liked to make some excuse not to open it, but it was Mrs. Ess Kay's door and Mrs. Ess Kay's room just as much as it was Mrs. Ess Kay's brother I had refused.

She sailed in all in black, like an executioner, though, of course, executioners don't go down into history wearing chiffon trimmed with jet.

"My dear Betty," said she, subsiding into a large armchair, "I want to have a serious talk with you."

It would have been stupid pretending not to understand, so I just looked at her and waited.

"My dear Betty, I want to have a serious talk with you."

"I dare say you can guess what it's about?" she went on.

"I suppose so," I said. "I am very sorry about everything. But I can't help not being in love with Mr. Parker, can I?"

"I should have thought," said Mrs. Ess Kay, "that your mother's daughter would have attached very little importance to being in love. Apparently she hasn't been as successful with you as with Lady Victoria. Believe me, Betty, there's nothing in it—nothing at all."

"In what?"

"In what you call 'being in love.' A girl fancies a man for his eyes, or his dancing, or because he is strong, and she thinks she's in love with him, but it's only a fancy which passes before she's been his wife for twelve months, and she wonders what she ever saw in him then. A year after you have been married to my brother, you will be very fond of him, and you will be one of the most important young women in America as well as in Europe. Oh, my dear, you will have to take him. Your mother will never forgive you if you don't. It was quite an understood thing between us when she lent you to me that if possible there was to be a match. Your beauty and name, and Potter's money. He's really a very good fellow—a temper, perhaps, but I wouldn't give much for a man without one, and, like most Americans, he'll make a splendid husband."

"For some one," I murmured.

"For you, Betty. I assure you, I daren't tell the duchess you've definitely refused Potter. You must be persuaded. Be engaged to him. Let him follow you to England."

"If I did that I should find myself being married off to him before I knew."

"Well, and if you did? It would be because you'd had the chance to change your mind."

I shook my head. "I must go home to England," I said, "but Mr. Parker mustn't follow me."

Mrs. Ess Kay's face hardened.

"I'm afraid if you go home after refusing Potter you'll have a very poor welcome, my child. The duchess has been kind enough to take me a little into her confidence. I don't think she would have sent you over with me if she hadn't known something about Potter, and your sister's affairs aren't arranged yet. Oh, you needn't blush and look so indignant. The duchess didn't mind putting her difficulties in a letter when I wrote her you weren't behaving quite satisfactorily, and you may take it from me that at present things stand like this—you must go back an engaged girl or else stay away until Lady Victoria is married."

If mother were different I should have hoped Mrs. Ess Kay was exaggerating, but as it was I believed her, though I did my best to be high eyebrowed and incredulous till she remarked that I could see the duchess' letter if I liked, though it might be rather embarrassing.

I was sure it would be and preferred to take its contents on faith, but I was so miserable that I had to keep my eyes staring wide open to prevent the tears dropping down. I was tired and forlorn and homesick—for Vic and Stan and the dear dogs and everything except mother—and I felt such a horrible weakness creeping over me that I could even imagine myself by and by doing what they meant me to do. I thought the best thing was to gain a respite lest Mrs. Ess Kay should drag some kind of a concession from me which I would have to live up to afterward.

I would strongly recommend them to all mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FOB AND LOCKET PRESENTATION

To Mr. R. Mann by Woolen Co. Employes

Mr. Robert Mann, who is leaving next week for the West, was presented yesterday, by the employes of the finishing room, at the Auburn Mills with a very handsome watch fob and locket, of gold. Mr. Mann has been overseer of the room for many years and has always been very highly esteemed by those under his direction.

A brief address signed by those in the room, expressed regret at his leaving and hopes for a happy and prosperous future. To the address, Mr. Mann made reply as follows—

"I really do not know how to thank you for this kind remembrance. I shall take this beautiful guard and locket with me and will never forget the givers. I know that I have been hard and exacting at times when pressed with work, but may say that you have never failed to answer the call and I know that the management appreciated our combined efforts. You all deserve a very happy future, which all of you ladies, I am sure, are on a fair way of doing, and the men and boys will be sure to prosper.

With all best wishes I will bid you "Good-bye."

The proprietor of a roadhouse near Lewiston, N.Y., has been arrested on a charge of importing "white "white slaves" from Canada.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY AND THE OPTIONS

Have you sent in your application for a membership ticket in the Peterborough Horticultural Society? If not, do so at once before it is too late and participate in the good things this society is distributing to its members this season.

OPTION ONE.

1. One Paeonie, Festive Maxima, a grand White.
2. One Ampelopsis Veitchii or Boston Ivy.
3. One Rosa Rugosa, Rubra, deep Rose.

OPTION TWO.

1. Three Begonias, assorted.
2. Three Fuchsias, assorted.
3. Three Geraniums, assorted.

OPTION THREE.

1. One Bush or three Honeysuckle, Pink.
2. One Hydrangea Aborescens, a grand new variety.
3. One Crimson Rambler, Climbing Rose.

OPTION FOUR

1. One Dorothy Perkins, Pink Climbing Rose.
2. One Wigelia Rosea, Pink Flowering Shrub.
3. One Lillian Auratum, the King Lily of Japan.

In addition to your choice of one of the above options, members receive The Canadian Horticulturist, a bright monthly magazine devoted to everything pertaining to flowers and gardening, etc.; also a distribution of flowering bulbs in the fall, all for the annual membership fee of $1.00.

Greater interest than ever is being exhibited by the members in enlisting the sympathy of the public in general with the society, and the membership is steadily increasing, but owing to the nature of most of the plants in the option requiring to be planted as soon as possible those desiring to join should communicate with the secretary, Mr. C. H. Williamson, 203 King street, at once, and thus avoid possible disappointment, as these plants must be ordered soon. Application blanks may also be had at the following places:—Mr. Frank Wise, Little Lake cemetery; Jordan Bros., P. Connal & Son, and Porter & White.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AL. HARPER

On Thursday evening last the members of the Young Men's Bible Class of St. Andrew's Church, gathered at the home of Mr. Al. Harper, Downie street to spend a social evening and say good-bye to Allan who leaves this evening for Montreal, where he has secured a position, having severed his connections at the G.T.R. uptown ticket office, where he has been assistant passenger and ticket agent for a year.

Allan is the president of this fine class of young men. During the evening Mr. Jack Laing, the popular teacher of the class, on behalf of its members, presented the departing friend with a handsome Bible in which were the signatures of all the boys of the class.

Allan in a neat speech, thanked his friends for their kindness in remembering him. He recalled their many pleasant associations and predicted a bright future for the class and its members.

While choking his wife, James Currie, an engineer of Richmond, Va., was shot and instantly killed by his 15-year-old son.

Cheap Tea is Dear Tea

So declared the mother of a small family not long ago—

—And proved the statement true by simply relating her tea experience.

"I used a 30c. Tea for years," she said. "One day the Grocer asked me to try a 40c. package of Red Rose—he told me it was better Tea. I found it better Tea, and—before I had quite finished the first package I thought it made more Tea. The second pound I used with care——And found out that less Tea in the Pot made a richer, finer-flavored Tea, if you know what I mean."

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

We know exactly what this lady meant—

The 30c. variety makes about 150 cups—

—Whereas the 40c. Red Rose Tea makes about 200 cups.

So—You might as well have better tea for the same cost in the long run.

There are several grades of Red Rose Tea selling at different prices, but the 40c. grade seems to please best. It is not only fine Quality but goes farther.

ANOTHER SLAB ARTIST SIGNS

Secretary Davidson, of the local club received a letter from Manager Templin this morning, which is accompanied by the contract of Pitcher Ed. Bartlett, of the Kodak Park Club, of Rochester, N.Y. Manager Templin has been angling for this boy for some time, and though Bartlett wrote accepting his terms, he did not sign to come to Peterborough until this week.

Bartlett has a great reputation, and if he delivers as heralded the pitcher problem is about settled.

MUSEUM AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Curios From Inverlea Placed in New Home.

Through the efforts of Mr. T.A.S. Hay, the curios in the museum, at Inverlea Park, have been removed to the top storey of the Public Library building. The work of removal has been going on for some time, and in the new quarters, the splendid collection presents a much better appearance.

For the past sixteen years or more Mr. Hay has interested himself in the museum at Inverlea, and most of the curios and relics have been gathered as a result of his work. Among the relics are rare pictures of veterans of '66, the first Legislature of Canada, 1867; a case of historical documents, rare firearms, some of which date back to the battle of Waterloo. There are also alligators, turtles, and sword-fish, from Florida, and almost all the members of the bird family.

The general public is not yet admitted to the museum, but in another month it is expected that it will be opened for visitors, at least two afternoons each week.

MARKET PRICES

Offering Was Not Large But Demand Was Brisk

The market this morning was small, particularly in meat. There was only a fair supply of butter and eggs and a large demand so that the prices remained fairly staple. No hay or wood appeared and potatoes were few. Vegetables, except onions, were scarcely to be found.

The farmers report that the soft weather has had a bad effect on the roads, making pitch holes, and that it is very slow and difficult travelling. Though there is little snow on the city streets there is more than enough in the country.

To-day's prices were:—
Pork, front, per lb., 11 and 12c.
Pork, hind, per lb., 12 and 13c.
Mutton, front, per lb., 11 1-2c.
Mutton, hind, per lb., 12 1-2c.
Veal, per lb., 10 and 12 1-2c.
Chickens, per pair, $1 to $1.50.
Chickens, each, 50 to 75c.
Geese, each, $1.50.
Butter, per lb., 35 to 38c.
Eggs, per doz., 20 to 23c.
Potatoes, per bag, $2.00.
Potatoes, per peck, 40c.
Onions, per peck, 50c.
Parsnips, per peck, 30c.
Carrots, per peck, 30c.
Beets, per peck, 30c.
Apples, Ben Davis, per pk., 35c.

PROF. JOHN DUXBURY

Among the first class passengers of the Caronia which sails from Liverpool to New York on Saturday, March 30th, is the name of Professor John Duxbury, the famous Reciter, of Manchester, England.

From his headquarters, the Hotel Bellevue, Beacon st., Boston, Mass., Professor Duxbury will start on his tour through the States and Canada, and his itinerary includes Boston, New York, Newburgh, Pittsburgh, Toronto, London, Belleville, Montreal, Washington, Minneapolis, Chicago and Vancouver. While in New York, Professor Duxbury will give his well-known recitals, "The Book of Job" at Dr. Jowett's church, 5th Avenue, and "The Book of the Revelation" and "Jean Valjean," from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" at Lewis Avenue church, Brooklyn.

BRASS TABLETS AT THE LIBRARY

Visitors to the public library will notice on either side of the door, on entrance to the reading room, a fine brass tablet. On the one to the north is the following inscription:

"In recognition of the generous bequests of the late Charlotte Jane Nicholls, towards the erection and maintenance of this library."

The one to the south, which is a duplicate of the other, in size, has on it the following:

"A tribute to the beneficence of Andrew Carnegie, to whose liberality the citizens of Peterborough are indebted for this building."

The Library Board secured these tablets from the Prichard-Andrews Co., of Ottawa. They were put in place yesterday.

W.O.W. AT HOME

The members of Sherwood Forest Camp No. 50 W.O.W., with their wives and friends, initiated their splendid new quarters over the Nugent drug-store and Gibson's jewelry store last night. The early part of the evening was spent in progressive euchre, and after refreshments had been served, dancing was commenced Tucker's orchestra supplying the music.

There will be another dance under the auspices of the local Woodmen in two weeks.

Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, now has the distinction of ranking second on the Dominion honor roll. On November 1, last, it stood in twenty-sixth place, but successful membership campaigns since, have raised it to the top rungs of the ladder.

There have been 237 initiations since Nov. 1, 1911 and this augurs well for the prosperity of the order.

There is now a membership in the local camp of about 600 and the goal is set at 1000. On Monday night last there were thirty-eight initiations, making a total of fifty-three for the month of March.

SPORTS AT Y. M. C. A.

The Brownies and Nemo's put up a very interesting game of basketball in their City League fixture last night. The Nemo's seemed to have the game well in hand at half time and were leading 11 to 6, and having the best of the play. But after the rest period, the Brownies came back and put up a plucky up hill fight and with three minutes to play were leading by one point. At this stage the Nemo's were awarded a fowl which Hill converted, play being resumed Nicholls of the Brownies dropped in the winning basket just before time was called, the game ending 25 to 23, in favor of the Brownies. Teams. Brownies—Nicholls and Hanwell, forwards; Downing, centre Irvine and Stewart, defence; Nemo's—Hoden, Hill and Long, forwards; Hill and Gilbert, centre; Throop and Rogers defence. Referee, A. Flowers; umpire, F. E. Ellis.

To-night at 8 p.m., the Hustlers meet the Nemo's in a postponed city league game, and as both teams need this game to stay in the running, it is quite evident that "some game" will be the result.

The first game in the Juvenile City League, will be called at the conclusion of the Nemo-Hustlers' game to-night, when the Midgets, captained by "Fat" Brown, will meet the Electrics, who are under the direction of "Warhorse" Austin.

ASSOCIATION WAS FORMED

Mr. A. H. Stratton is President of New Organization

The seventy-five or more auto owners of the city realized that the time was ripe to organize themselves into a recognized body, and at an enthusiastic and largely attended meeting in the Montreal Bank chambers last evening, formed a Peterboro Automobile Association and decided to affiliate with the Ontario Motor League.

Those present were Messrs. Bond, Moher Banks, Doan, Rackham, D. Hall, V. Eastwood, Denham, Dr. Amys, McLelland, Greer, A.H. Stratton, C. Ackerman, F.J. McPherson Brightman, R.W. Travers, Dr. Holloway, Miller and Duffus.

The election of officers resulted as follows.

Honorary President—Dr. Halliday.
President—A.H. Stratton.
Vice-President—R.W. Travers.
Sec.-Treasurer— Charles Ackerman.

An executive committee was appointed by ballot as follows—

Messrs. J. J. Duffus, chairman; W. H. Denham, V. Eastwood, A. F. Coulthard, D.R. Frederick and E.G. Patterson.

The new president A.H. Stratton, suggested that the Association unite with the Ontario Motor League, thereby receiving all the benefits and attention which comes from being associated with the League. It was pointed out that this connection would come in useful in case of local motorists being fined unjustly by a police magistrate, The Ontario Motor League would take up the case and fight it in higher courts and if possible obtain justice.

The secretary of the Ontario Motor League, will therefore be invited to come to Peterborough, when ever convenient, but within the next two weeks if possible and address the local Association. The meeting will likely be held in the Dominion Bank Chambers.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

It is understood that the liquor case reported yesterday in the Review has been dealt with but further information is not given.

The Belleville engine was used today, under the supervision of Mr. Geo. Lytle, of Lindsay, to thaw out the G.T.R. gates at the Charlotte street crossing. This is the second time this season that they have had to be released from the grip of the ice, but taking into account the weather conditions it will likely be the last.

LUNDY---HALL NUPTIALS

At three o'clock this afternoon a quiet wedding was celebrated at "Riverview," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, when their daughter, Miss Marlie Thompson Hall, was united in marriage to Mr. George William Lundy, second son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lundy. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The bride was given away by her father and as the bridal party entered the drawing room Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mr. John Crane. The bride was very lovely and graceful, gowned in softest ivory satin, with square train, and exquisite Duchess lace on the bodice and skirt. Her veil was of tulle, prettily fastened with a garland of orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet was of white roses. Miss Effie Munro acted as bridesmaid, wearing a pretty frock of pale pink ninon over satin of the same shade, large hat with pink roses and carried a sheaf of Killarney roses. Mr. Gerald K. Rackham was best man. After the ceremony the "dejeuner" was served, followed by the usual toasts and speeches. The bride travelled in a smart navy blue suit, navy blue hat to match and handsome mink furs.

Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present, those from out of town being Dr. and Mrs. Speer, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Hall, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Clarkson, Toronto.

LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Winnifred Maud Armstrong, took place this afternoon from the late residence on Douro street to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The late Miss Armstrong was a young lady who had made many friends in the city, and her death coming as it does, at such a promising period of life, is regretted exceedingly. She had possessed a disposition that was always cheerful and won for her high regard by those with whom she came in contact. Rev. C. E. Cragg, pastor of Mark street Methodist church, conducted the service at the house and grave.

To the bereaved parents and family, will be extended sincere sympathy in the loss of a daughter and sister.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE DISCUSSED BY THE LOCAL W. C. T. U.

Expect the Ballot Yet to Become Law

The Peterborough Women's Christian Temperance Union held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. S. Knapman, George street, yesterday afternoon, with a good attendance. Mrs. Ellis, the president, was in the chair. Mrs. Goodfellow conducted the devotional exercises. At the conclusion of the business session the union discussed the question of the day, votes for women, which was introduced by a paper, entitled, "The Awakening of Woman—the Franchise." The franchise for women has always been a plank in the platform of the W.C.T.U., though it has not been pushed to the fore by any unseemly methods. White Ribbon women expect the ballot at no distant time, notwithstanding the fact that the Local House has given the bill the six months' hoist, and the British Parliament has voted out "The Conciliation Bill," which would have enfranchised a million or more women

"If a lassie wants the ballot,
Wants to run the town;
If a lassie gets the ballot
Need a laddie frown;
Many a laddie has the ballot
Not so bright as I,
Many a laddie votes his ballot
Overcome with rye."

At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by the hostess

HOAGLAND'S CONQUEROR HERE TO DEFEND HIS WALKING TITLE

Montreal, March 29.—George N. Brown, the champion heel and toe walker of the world, is this week at the Theatre Francais. Last week he performed in a big street walk in New York city, over a route of three and two-fifths miles, from the City Hall to a theatre. He gave Frank Trainer, a handicap of five blocks and defeated him by two blocks. The race was witnessed by thousands of persons, and Brown was given an ovation all along the line. Brown is in training for a big match race in Australia, in which he will defend his title of the world's champion against Fred. Smith in July, 1913. The race will be for the title and will be 100 miles in length. A side bet of $1,000 will be wagered by each man and a purse of $2,000 will go to the winner, in addition to the additional $2,000 posted by the athletes.

Billy Barke, Brown's manager, has already posted $1,000, and says he has $3,000 to bet on the outcome. Brown weighs 140 pounds, is 5 feet 8 1-2 inches in height, and is but 20 years old, and is ready to meet any man in the world in a heel and toe walk for a purse or a side bet. He has his big novelty walking act and his twentieth century walking machine, which is his own invention and which he has patented. He has participated in 127 contests, and has returned winner in 121. Brown won the world's championship title from W. A. Hoagland in a match race at Peterboro, Ont., on May 24, 1909. At that time he walked 127 miles in a little less than twenty hours. Brown has since succeeded in defending his title, and is open to meet all aspirants any distance from one to one hundred miles.

SHAG LIKES BERLIN CHANCES

Also 'Likes the Way the Game is Boomed in Peterboro'

Discussing the various Canadian League teams, so far as he has been able to get a line on their paper rosters, Frank Shaugnessy says:

"I look for Rube Deneau to bring a cracking good team out of Berlin. Deneau is a good ball player himself, and he will gather around him a fast team. He has the majority of his last year's pennant winners and has been able to fill up the weak spots detected after a season's play. Deneau's team will be in the race all the year, mark my word. Knotty Lee, I believe, will be a fighter for the pennant. He also is an old ball player, and what's more, Hamilton will demand a fast team this season. I see Secretary Robinson has been in Detroit for a couple of weeks getting some good men for the club. Templin is using a tooth comb on the Tri-State for the club he will place in Peterborough, and he has some good boys on the list to my personal knowledge. I like the way they are booming the game in Peterborough. The home crowd can always win a few tight games for its team, and when it is pulling hard the players are always crabbing for all they can get. That's what wins ball games. Guelph should be there. They have good backing and an enthusiastic owner. Same with Brantford. I don't know much about St. Thomas, but hope Elliott pulls through in time to take charge of his club. If the Canadian League playing fields are as good as I am led to believe they are, you will see some of the fastest baseball put on by the minor leagues on this circuit. All the clubs are looking for the young stuff, and they are the boys who have the 'pep,' and that is what makes baseball the great game it is."—Free Press.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

THE BLOOD AND THE BRAIN

To Get the Best Brain Work the Blood must be Maintained in Healthy Condition.

As all brain action is dependent upon the blood — that is the heart action — we frequently look for an explantion of unhealthy mental conditions in the state of the blood. Unusually low blood pressure is generally associated with the mental states characterising brain-fag, neurasthenia, etc.; anaemia or poorness of the blood quality will produce also mental incapacity and dulness—a man whose blood is not healthy cannot be alert and decisive. Bad food combinations (such as cheese and tea together) and ignorant eating are responsible for much more than indigestion, serious as that is in itself. It is by such mistakes that the blood is rendered less valuable to all the organs of the body, including, of course, the brain. The powers of memory are directly influenced by biliousness and an over-acid condition of the blood. Again vigorous brain action depends largely upon the regular and speedy elimination of the waste products of the body; if these do not get out by way of the bowels and kidneys they are taken into the blood, and this, fouled as it is, is yet sent by the wonderful pumping mechanism of the heart to the remotest corner of body and brain. Simple food, plenty of water to drink between meals, fresh air by night and day, regular exercise and deep breathing will keep the blood at its best, and that in its turn will do good work for the brain.

The Latest in Guns

During the recent extended manoeuvres of the German army there were many night attacks, in which use was made of the newly-introduced illuminating pistols. According to the new regulations, these are to be employed wherever the configuration of the land makes their use preferable to that of the ordinary searchlight. The machinery necessary for the use of the latter device is very inconvenient, and especially in rolling and otherwise difficult country, where the main manoeuvres take place, it cannot be used to advantage. The illuminating pistols have not this disadvantage, as they are easily transported. Further, the searchlight is useless in valleys and deep-lying plains, as their rays shoot over these and leave them apparently in still deeper shadow. For this reason, such valleys serve as excellent covers at night against the searchlights. The illuminating pistols have done away with this advantage of shelter, as the cartridges which they throw light up the deepest and darkest gulleys. There are two different sorts of cartridges, producing respectively white and red light. The white ones serve exclusively for illuminating the country, the red ones for signalling purposes between widely separated commands or divisions, even where the distance between them is several miles. The illuminating cartridges develop a light that makes everything within 650 feet visible, and lasts eight to ten seconds.

Edison's First Invention

The story of Mr. Edison's first invention will bear retelling. One day, when he was a small boy of five, his parents missed him, and after a long search his elder sister discovered him in the fowl-house, where he said he intended to remain three weeks. His clothes were in a terrible condition, being smothered with crushed eggs. "What were you doing that for, Tom?" asked his sister in alarm. "Well, I thought if the hens could hatch eggs by sitting on them I could," was the reply of the youthful genius.

Mr. Edison has often been credited with inventing things which even for him would have been remarkable. Some time ago, an American paper stated that he had invented a wonderful shirt which would last a man for twelve months without requiring to be washed. This shirt, it was stated, was made of 365 layers of material, the composition of which no one knew but the inventor, and all the wearer had to do to restore it to its original spotlessness was to tear off one of the layers, when he would have practically a new shirt. This announcement was reprinted in various other papers, with the result that Mr. Edison received no end of orders for the mystery shirt.

New White Metal Alloy.

Metallurgical investigation has resulted in the perfection of a new white metal alloy. 'Atherium' it is called, and it is stated to be lighter than aluminium. The metal is said to be superior to the pure metal, to make good, sound castings, and to work well in rolling and turning. It can also be soldered, welded, and forged; it does not tarnish, and is impervious to corrosion and the action of sea-water. It should prove an excellent substitute for German silver under these conditions, and be effective for a great variety of purposes for which aluminium would be used were it stronger, and lightness combined with strength is the superlative consideration. Owing to its electrical conductivity, the new alloy should be extremely useful in a wide range of applications in this phase of industry.

To Locate Underground Water.

A French inventor has contrived an application of the microphone to the discovery of underground water. One end of a tube is inserted in the ground the upper end being attached to the microphone. The sounds of flowing or dropping water are conveyed to the ear from great depths. In the Marne valley two springs were discovered with this apparatus at a depth of about 50 feet below the surface of the ground. It is believed that the apparatus will be of great service in mining operations both for indicating the location of concealed springs and for communicating with imprisoned miners.

T. & N. O. May Get More Than $300,000 From G.T.P.

Toronto, March 30.—That the income of the Ontario Government for rental of the T. & N. O. Railway line may not be at all limited to the $300,000 received from the G.T.R. for running rights between North Bay and Cochrane, was brought out in the Legislature yesterday afternoon, when the agreement was under consideration in committee. The Opposition leader took occasion to remark that the $300,000 rental for the use of the T. & N. O. line looked pretty cheap from the standpoint of the G.T.R., whatever advantage there was in it for the Government.

Hon. W. J. Hanna did not agree with Mr. Rowell. He cited as a comparison the G.T.R. line between Toronto and Hamilton, for the use of which the C.P.R. paid $40,000 rental. This amount to $1,000 per mile, while the G.T.R. was paying $1,200 per mile for running rights on the T. & N. O., with only one-fifth the traffic of the Toronto-Hamilton line.

Mr. Rowell was afraid that if another railway came to secure running rights over the T. & N. O. tracks, the G.T.R. would receive an abatement in the rental of $300,000.

Hon. W. J. Hanna explained that the agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway giving that company running rights over the T. & N. O. line did not mean that the commission could not make a similar agreement with other companies and still further increase the large revenue of the Government-owned road. If a similar arrangement was made with another railway for running rights, it would not affect the G.T.R.'s present rental.

Mr. Rowell had endeavored to convince the members that the Grand Trunk was getting the long end of the deal. This company would only pay 4 1-2 per cent. on half the cost of the road, but still would have full use of it.

After firing a volley of questions at Hon. Dr. Reaume, the leader of the Opposition veered on the subject of the Elk Lake road. "Can the hon. Minister tell me if the Government sent a party of surveyors up to Elk Lake to make a survey of the proposed line immediaately preceding the election?" asked Mr. Rowell.

The hon. Minister referred to, said that he could not keep track of all the movements of the engineers employed by the Government at the particular time mentioned by Mr. Rowell.

"Can the hon. Minister tell me when the Government decided to build this Elk Lake line?" persisted the Opposition leader.

"I can't tell you exactly," answered the Minister of Public Works. "We don't keep dates of what goes on from time to time. If the hon. member wishes to get facts in regard to the date of the Government's decision, he had better ask Mr. Englehart, chairman of the T. & N. O. Commission." The incident here dropped.

The bill regarding charitable institutions and hospitals was given its second reading. The Provincial Secretary made an amendment to the effect that all hospitals receiving aid must admit patients suffering from tuberculosis. He said that four years ago there were only nine or ten hospitals which would attend to people suffering from consumption. All doors will have to be open to these sufferers now.

Z. Mageau, Liberal member for Sturgeon Falls, stirred up a lively debate when he charged the Government with discrimination in the construction of bridges in Conservative and Liberal constituencies.

"I don't find a bridge for Sturgeon Falls district in these estimates," said Mr. Mageau. "Six petitions have been sent to the Government for a bridge and improvements to roads."

Dr. Reaume said petitions did not matter. The Department did the best it could, but couldn't please everybody.

Boal Not Wholly to Blame.

Ottawa, March 30.—New light is thrown on the circumstances leading up to the disastrous wreck on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Hull on March 8 by the announcement that the company has dismissed from its service the despatcher who transmitted the order to Harvey Boal, the Hull operator, to hold the passenger train that was subsequently wrecked.

Boal's failure to hold the train, as ordered, caused the wreck, but it will come as a source of some comfort to his friends to learn that the order was not sent in the regular manner.

IMPROVEMENTS AT RIVERSIDE

More Grand Stand Accomodation to be Provided.

Improvements at Riverside

The fans will be pleased to learn that there are extensive improvements to be made at Riverside Park before the Canadian League season opens. The grand stand accommodations will be increased. It is possible that the present stand will be moved to the north of the place. There will also be an addition built and some bleachers.

The management of the local team met the ground owners last night, and an agreement was made between them for the use of the ball park for the local Canadian Leaguers for the season. Exhibition games will cost extras, as the contract was only made for schedule games.

The ball park owners are strongly in favor of the promoting of professional ball here, and they were not hard to close with. They gave the magnates an option at the same price for three consecutive years.

To make these improvements the directors have decided to offer more stock for sale. The park owners will invest dollar for dollar with them towards the expense of the changes. There should not be much trouble in getting subscribers for few more shares.

CHILDREN'S ANNUAL AT THE S. A. TEMPLE

The services in the S. A. Temple, on Sunday will be in connection with the Children's Annual and will be of very interesting character. In the afternoon the children with their teachers will occupy the platform, and J. S. S. M. Braund will pilot them through a very thorough catechising of their Bible studies, as well as singing and other features of the Sunday School work.

On Monday evening the annual concert and distribution of prizes will be held. A good program will be given, comprising recitations, dialogues, drills, singing, etc. The Boys' Band will also play several selections during the evening. A large number of prize books will be presented to those deserving them. All are invited to these meetings.

CLEVER WORK BY "Y" GIRLS

Closing Exercises at Collegiate Performed in Pleasing Manner

The Y.W.C.A Gymnasium closing exhibition, given by the girls of that institution, under the direction of Miss Ivy Coventry, in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute last night was a grand success. The spacious auditorium was comfortably filled and every one of the large number present was delighted with the faultless manner in which the young ladies executed the various drills and exercises.

Each number on the program was given in such a praiseworthy style that it would be impossible to say which was the most pleasing.

Miss J. F. Ratcliffe rendered three beautiful solos and in each was heartily applauded by the audience. Miss Ratcliffe had selected a trio of songs which were admirably suited to her voice which is characterized by its power and expression.

Miss Margarite Burnett's solo was also very much appreciated, her superb fulness of tone won the favor of the audience in the first few lines.

Miss Coventry, physical directress of the local Y.W.C.AA., under whose management and supervision the exhibition was given, was during the evening, the recipient of three lovely bouquets. These, though in themselves very charming, were more valued because they were a token of the appreciation of her ceaseless efforts, which were so successful in making the exhibition the delightful affair it really was.

Miss Janet Quinn presided at the piano, and her accompaniments to the solos, as well as the swinging tunes she played for the dumb-bell and wand drills enhanced the pleasure to be derived from the drills and the singing.

The first part of the program opened by the entry of sixteen intermediate girls who gave a dumb-bell exercise. Following this was a wand drill by the senior class, who displayed as much skill in handling the wands as any of the stronger sex could have done, and went through the movements with a great deal more grace than a boy in a similar drill. The Teddy Bear drill and frolics elicited rounds of applause from the audience who were delighted at the capers and antics of the little tots in their Teddy Bear contume. The accuracy and ease with which the girls handled the clubs in the club drill could only be a result of careful training, and the wand drill by the junior class was very interesting. The little sailor girls, in their sailor costumes, and singing the breezy sailor songs, merited fully the hearty applause of the audience, who recalled the little ones, and their sailor drill and song was as pleasing an item as any on the whole program.

The second part of the program was as satisfactory as the first part. The young ladies were gaily costumed for the Swedish Folk Dances, the Dutch Folk Dance and the Wooden Doll drill, and the costumes augmented the effect of the drills. The Japanese parasol drill and fancy march by the intermediate girls were exceedingly pretty. One of the finest numbers was the Aesthetic Movements by the senior girls.

The exhibition was an undoubted success and all those taking part, and Miss Coverty, are to be congratulated.

SLAUGHTER OF MISSION PIGS

Annual Killing at Park St. Church Was Successful

A most successful gathering took place last night at the Park street Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Mission Band.

It was their annual meeting and the pastor occupied the chair.

The members of the Band sat down to tea at six o'clock and partook of the good things provided by the congregation, after which the program was rendered in fine form by the children. The chief event of the evening was "The Killing of the Missionary Pigs." Some were fat, some lean, but all missionary pigs, and not a squeal did they give when Donald Smith, who in white coat and apron, ruthlessly hammered out their insides, which enriched the coffers of the Mission Band to the extent of about fifteen dollars.

The red pigs beat the blues. The prize-winners, who owned the fattest pigs, were, for the Reds, Willie Ridditord, and for the Blues, Bertie Burnett.

The new officers for this year are:
Hon. Pres.—Miss Maggie Mann.
Pres.—Maud Smith.
Vice-Pres.—Mary Robinson.
Organist—Flora Nichol's.

WEDDING BELLS

DARWIN—HAMBLIN.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's church this afternoon at three o'clock, when the Rev. Canon Davidson united in marriage Mr. J. H. Darwin and Mrs. Hamblin, both of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin will reside in the city.

Choir Entertained

Twenty-five members of the Mark street choir and their pastor, the Rev. Charles Cragg, spent a very pleasant social evening at the home of Mr. J. H. Callander Thursay night. The first part of the evening was devoted to choir practice, after which the guests indulged in games and musical numbers. Following the games dainty refreshments were served.

BOUGHT EGGS IN LARGE QUANTITY

Charge Laid Against Heavy Buyer on Market

A local Jew almost had a corner on the eggs at the market this morning, but, unfortunately for his purpose, the market clock had not yet stuck ten bells. He had corralled about seventy dozen, paying for the majority, 20c per dozen, when P.C. Kidd came upon him. The officer questioned the purchaser, regarding the extensive supply he had secured and he was informed that the eggs were all for his own use.

P.C. Kidd took his man to the Police station, and he will appear before Magistrate Dumble on Monday morning, charged under the by-law which states that "buyers" shall not attempt to purchase produce on the local market before 10 o'clock.

GOOD CONCERT IN LECTURE HALL OF ST. ANDREW'S

The annual Sunday school concert of St. Andrew's was given last evening in the lecture hall, the scholars acquitting themselves in a very pleasing manner. The program consisted of choruses, duets and drills, cleverly executed and much enjoyed. Mr. Richard Lees, the superintendent, acted as chairman.

Two splendid choruses were rendered by scholars in the beginners' department, and two by the juniors. H. C. Treneer showed that he possessed more than musical talent alone by contributing a recitation. The class of Miss Mowat were also good in a series of readings, and a doll drill and ring drill by the pupils of Miss King's class made the little ones very popular with the audience.

Mr. J. J. Thompsons' young athletes gave an exhibition of elementary tumbling and pyramid work. A rag time chorus was also given by the intermediate boys. This with a couple of instrumental duets, concluded a very pleasurable program.

"WITH EDGED TOOLS"

With Edged Tools which comes to the Grand on Thursday night, April 4th, is as most theatregoers well know, adapted from Henry Seton Merriman's modern novel of the same name. It is up to the second as regards wit and brilliance, form, strong dramatic situations and surprises and yet the glamor of romance pervades the whole.

It deals with the philanderings of a young society lady who is prepared to go to any length of feminine dishonor to find herself a rich husband. In the process of selection she becomes engaged to two at the same time, undecided which to choose—Jack Meredith and Guy Oscard. Unfortunately for her, the father of young Meredith an astute retired old diplomat discovers her duplicity and, wishing to save his son from a loveless marriage, emerges from his retiremnet to battle with her. The fight between these two, delicate, clever, caustic, forms one of the most original and dramatic episodes in contemporary dramatic fiction. The old man is helped by the fact the Progidence intervenes in a curious way, the rivals becoming associated in a business scheme in Central Africa, and eventually becoming friends in addition to being partners. Sir John uses this knowledge with the consummate tact of the practiced schemer, and the young lady with ambitions is summarily rejected by her two lovers. This is the bare outline of the story, but nothing can express the infinite charm of Merriman's great play, with the romance of Africa and the smart London drawing room scenes.

The play, as it has been for the past four years will be interpreted by the original all-star English company. It has now reached a record of thirteen hundred performances in America and England, having played Montreal Ottawa, Toronto twice, Chicago, London, Eng., and and Great Britain, America and Canada generally. The company after a tour of nine months here, sails home on May 3rd.

POLICE STATION IMPROVEMENTS

It looks as if some steps will soon be taken in the way of improving the local police station. The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough City Trust Commissioners will be held next Thursday afternoon at 3.30 and the principal business before the members will be the alterations and improvements at the police station.

THE EYE LIKE A CAMERA

The eye is constructed so wonderfully and ingeniously that the handicraft of man has not as yet been able to construct as delicate an instrument. It is like a camera—the lens to focus, the lid as a shutter, the iris or color as the diaphram, the thick coatings of the eye-ball as the dark room, the nerve as the sensitive plate, and strange as it may seem, the images are bottom side up exactly as the image in the camera. Now so delicate and sensitive an instrument as the eye should have good care. Let us explain more fully to you how to care for the eyes.

JOHN MEHARRY APPOINTED CITY SANITARY INSPECTOR

Read by-law providing for the establishing, maintaining and regulating of a system for the collection and disposal of ashes, refuse and garbage.

Read by-law defining the duties of sanitary inspector.

Accepted tender of Charles Scriver for the contract of removing and disposing of garbage in specified area for $2,750. No other tender was received.

Decided to collect money for garbage collection quarterly in advance at rates specified in by-law.

The outstanding feature of the list of doings of the Property Committee enumerated above, was the appointment of John Meharry to the position of sanitary inspector for the city at a salary of $700 per year. The voting was close on the appointment, Ald. Brown being the man who cast the deciding vote, breaking the deadlock which occurred, owing to a difference of opinion which the members entertained on the merits of three applicants, namely, John Meharry, A. Hope and Claude A. Spence.

Ald. Morgan and Graham moved in favor of Mr. Meharry. In an amendment Mayor Bradburn and Ald. Duncan advocated Mr. Spence. Ald Brown wouldn't vote for either man, but moved for the appointment of Mr. Hope. A deadlock then ensued, which was only dispelled by Ald. Brown withdrawing his motion and throwing in his vote for Mr. Meharry, who was declared sanitary inspector at the salary quoted.

The latter duties will commence on May 1st, providing the Chief can make arrangements to part with his services on the police force, by that date.

Mr. Spence in his application made a strong plea for the position, giving excellent sounding references.

DUTIES OF SANITARY INSPECTOR.

The duties of the sanitary inspector will be by no means light. The by-law outlining his duties was given a reading and is synopsized below. The full by-law will be published next week.

The inspector will be required to examine the waters and banks of the Otonabee above the waterworks dam, with a view of ascertaining whether the water is being in any way polluted. He will be supposed to report on his finding to the committee of the City Council and to the Water Commissioners.

He must enforce the provisions of the by-law licensing and regulating milk dealers, and make periodical inspections of all dairies and cow stables of milk vendors; he must inspect slaughter houses, yards and lanes and see that all are in a cleanly condition. Meats, poultry, fruit and vegetables for sale on the main streets must be inspected, and lastly he must assist the Medical Health Officer in every way possible.

GARBAGE REMOVED FOR $2,750

Tenders for the contract of removing and disposal of the garbage in the area outlined at the last meeting, closed yesterday, but only one was forthcoming. Mr. Charles Scriver offered to perform all the duties of the position in accordance with the provisions of the by-law governing the same, for the sum of $2,750.00 yearly. He was willing to advance security and also guaranteed to discharge the duties to the complete satisfaction of the Council.

In the district mentioned from which garbage will be collected, there are thirty-five hotels and fruit stores, two hundred and twenty-two other stores, and one hundred and thirty-nine offices, which include barber shops, banks and pool rooms.

COLLECT QUARTERLY.

Ald. Duncan inquired how the money was to be collected for this removal of garbage.

Ald. Morgan said the easiest way was to put it on the tax rate, and take it off the landlords.

Mayor Bradburn—"How do they collect it in Guelph?"

Ald. Duncan—"It is put on the taxes."

Mayor Bradburn—"Well, the only objection I have to that, is that it comes heavier on the tax payers, which is the very thing we are trying to avoid."

Ald. Duncan—"Why not let the sanitary inspector do the collecting for one year?"

Mayor Bradburn—"Why not let the chairman and the sanitary inspector work out a system of collection?"

Ald. Morgan—"If we don't settle it ourselves the sanitary inspector will put up all kinds of arguments."

It was finally decided that the sanitary inspector should make the collections quarterly in advance for a year and see how the plan worked out.

Some of the rules to which the collector of garbage must adhere as provided in the by-law, are:—

The contractor must furnish the number of wagons, horses and men specified in the contract, and shall carry out the work under the direction of the sanitary inspector. In case the number of men, horses or wagons furnished by the contractor under the terms of the contract is found to be insufficient by the sanitary inspector the corporation shall furnish such additional assistance.

(a) Hotels, fruit stores, hospitals and factories, other than those employing more than fifty persons, sum of 45 cents a month.

(b) Stores and shops within the fire limits, the sum of 30 cents a month.

(c) Residences and all other premises not specially provided for, 15 cents a month.

(d) Stores and shops not within fire limits and boarding houses having more than five boarders, other than members of the family, 25 cts. per month.

Every owner, lessee or occupant of the premises referred to must provide boxes or barrels, wherein to place from day to day all ashes, garbage and refuse and shall keep the same conveniently placed for collection.

Any person guilty of any violation of any of the clauses of the by-law shall on conviction be liable to a fine of $50, or six months in jail.

Boys of No. 8,

No. 8 Company of the local Regiment held an informal smoker last night. The prospects for the coming drill season which opens on Tuesday, April 2, were discussed and several recruits signed. There was great enthusiasm displayed, and No. 8 Co. will have to be reckoned with for Company honors.

The boys are all after recruits, and judging by the way they were signing up last night, Captain McPherson will have a large company this season.

Be Suspicious

BE suspicious of that of which nobody is proud. Be suspicious of the mere low-price argument offered in favor of an article with no reputation, no backer, no guarantor.

Better buy the thing you know and can trust, than an article unbranded and unvouched for.

The branded shoe, made by a maker with a reputation, is a safer shoe to buy than the one made in an unknown factory by an unknown maker.

The underwear made by a firm whose name is as familiar to you as your own, is worth more to you than underwear nameless or labelled by a maker of whom you have never heard.

Tea sealed in a packet bearing the name of a reputable firm is to be preferred to tea of which the packer is not sufficiently proud to advertise its quality.

That in which much money has been invested to make or keep it good is worth more than that on which nothing or but little has been spent.

Peace of mind is worth something, just as quality is. Buy peace of mind.

When you buy anything worth while buying, buy that of which you know—from advertisements, or from other dependable acquaintance. Buy the article with the "money back" guarantee—with the pledge of a known name behind it.

Put your faith in the advertisements appearing in good newspapers. Beware of the article that cannot stand the spot-light of publicity. The commodity an advertiser backs with his own money is something worth your buying.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

Peculiar Table Customs.

In a book entitled "Domestic Manners of the Middle Ages" we are told that in those days dinner tables were covered by a "nappe," or tablecloth. Upon it were placed a large saltcellar, bread and cups for wine, but no knives or plates. The reason for the absence of the knives arose from the common practice in vogue of people carrying their own knives in a sheath attached to their girdle. In an early work, written by Lydgate—"Rules For Behavior at Table"—the guests are told to bring no knives unscoured to the table, which can only mean that each one was to keep his own knife—that is, the one he carried with him—clean.

Killed by Elevator.

Toronto, March 29.—Israel Zinger, 144 Williams street, was instantly killed by an elevator at Grand & Toy's warehouse on Wellington street. Just how the accident occurred is unknown. The elevator man was working at a bench and the first he knew of the man's presence was when he cried out. The hoist had come down and crushed the Hebrew's chest. The man was a rag picker, and an hour after the body had been removed to the morgue, his horse was found standing on Jordan street.

An inquest will be opened at noon by Coroner Myer.

Strike Situation Better.

London, March 29.—Acting on the advice of Lord Lansdowne to accept the situation, painful and humiliating though it is, all the Opposition amendments were either negatived or withdrawn, and the House of Lords last evening passed the third reading of the bill without division.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost is the eye brows are thin and scanty, and the lashes are thing and scanty, Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. HOME OF THE COD.

In the conditions surrounding the industry of cod fishing there is a fascination for the inlander that takes him back year after year. And most interesting of all is the fisherman himself. I am not certain, but it really seems to be his supreme indifference to everything but the "fish" that makes him so attractive. I have wandered in and out among them where they do not see a visitor in a month; I have seen them empty a boatload of shiny cod that equalled a fortnight's ordinary catch; I have watched them lift a large horse into a tiny skiff where nothing save prayer appeared to offer any hope of its reaching its destination; I have helped them carry into the steamer's hospital men sick unto death, and have bade "good luck" to a patient returning from the hospital legless and helpless in life's fight; I have handed out food to the starving from the steamer's stores, and have heard them refuse to accept well-paid work until the cod ran again. But I have never seen a cod fisherman excited. If one of them should rouse the ire of the strictest judge of wolking it would be taken locally as convincing evidence of insanity; and I could heartily agree.

Far down the coast of Labrador we were returning from our northern trip, trying by every means to reach a certain part of the coast before darkness set in. But, as usual, the fishermen lolled over the steamer's rail despite the warning whistle. The bell rang from the bridge, and the last of them wobbled down the ship's steps towards their small boats moored alongside. The captain leaned over the edge of the bridge, and, thinking the last one had stepped into his boat, gave the signal to the engineer. The steamer swung away just as a fisherman was reaching for his boat. Thereupon he calmly stepped into the icy water rather than exert himself to regain his balance on the steps. Of course the fisherman cannot swim, and this one sank with expected promptness. Up along the rail we were wildly running for the mailboat, which was always in readiness on the davits; but the men in the small boats alongside quietly watched the widening circle where the man had disappeared. He came up calmly as if it were his morning ablutions, turned his head towards a boat within a foot—and promptly commenced to sink again. But instinct was stronger than reason. Just then his hand went out and fell over the side of the boat. They hauled him in—and we drew away, with him sitting on the edge of the boat, so that there would be less to bale.

Perhaps it is the cod itself that imparts some of its apathy into its worshipper, since that vari-sized portion of the world's refreshment is scarcely a gamey fish. When it takes the hook it does not trouble to telegraph its surrender; it takes that for granted. When it lounges into a net it lets the next one push it up against the one in front until it makes one of a mass of fish so solid that it can be walked on in the water. Its captor pulls it over the side as one puts on his cravat in the morning, casts the line in again and awaits the instinct of "fish." At the proper time of the afternoon, be the catch great or small, the sails are hoisted and the flight homeward commenced.—W. Lacey in The Globe.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifers, acting directly on the mucuous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

TO RESTRICT MARRIAGES

Dr. Godfrey Has His Amendments Discussed in House.

Proposed Reforms of the Marriage Laws by Preventing the Union of Insane, Imbecile and Epileptic Persons Is Withdrawn—Hon. Adam Beck to Receive a Salary of $6,000 a Year—Hon. I. B. Lucas's Bill.

Toronto, March 29.—Two physicians occupied the spotlight in the Legislature last night, Dr. Forbes Godfrey (West York) introduced two bills aimed at the prevention of the marriage of misfits, and procreation of idiots and insane persons, and he had a noble supporter in Dr. McQueen, Liberal member for North Wentworth. Both stated they would stand or fall together with the proposed legislation. They fell.

Hon. W. J. Hanna and Sir James Whitney were quite profuse in the presentation of bouquets to the physician members, but the Provincial Secretary explained that such legislation could not possibly be adopted this session. The Government was not in readiness to adopt the measures provided in the bills. Dr. Godfrey, under these circumstances, withdrew both bills.

His amendment to the Marriage Act was intended to prevent insane persons from marrying and to compel the issuer of a license to secure a certificate from a qualified physician, that either of the parties are not insane, an epileptic or an imbecile. He also believed that tuberculosis was a further impediment to marriage, and he thought that the act should be amended in such a way as to prevent tuberculos people marrying. Another good thing to stamp out so much breeding of insanity was to compel three weeks' residence by the parties in the municipalities where the licenses were applied for.

There was one commendable feature in connection with the Marriage Act now in force. This was the fact that a contract of marriage was practically indissoluble. "There is a great weakness in the law, though," he said, "that is when anyone has enough money to buy a license a person is always ready to do the rest." During the session a bill was passed with regard to the breeding of a certain class of horses. If it is necessary to safeguard live stock it is more necessary to enact legislation to protect and develop human life."

Hon. Mr. Hanna spoke of the seriousness of the problem facing the Government. He agreed with a provision making it necessary for the contracting parties to live three weeks in the municipality where the license was applied for prior to its issuance.

Six thousand dollars per annum in future is to be paid Hon. Adam Beck for his services as chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission. The announcement was made in the Legislature yesterday when Sir James Whitney introduced an act to amend the Power Commission Act, in order to allow Mr. Beck to receive remuneration for his services and still retain his seat in the House.

That public school inspectors will receive an increase of remuneration from $1,700 to $2,000 per annum was the gist of an amendment to the Public School Act. The raise of salary will run over three years with an additional $100 each year. The bill, which was introduced by Hon. Dr. Pyne, also provided for vacation schools during the summer if school boards desire to establish them.

"It is a perfect disgrace that we should have toll roads in the Province of Ontario," declared Sam Clarke (West Northumberland), when the bill of Hon. Dr. Reaume respecting them was being considered in committee. The Minister of Public Works was asked by Mr. Clarke as to the number of toll gates in the province, to which he replied that he couldn't give a definite number, but there were only a few. "They should be stamped out," quoth Mr. Clarke.

Hereafter no telephone company, Bell or independent, will be able to get an exclusive franchise without the assent of the pepole. This is the effect of a bill introduced by Hon. I. B. Lucas, which was considered in committee. The proposed legislation had been before the House for some considerable time, but the acting Provincial Treasurer brought out an amendment regarding "exclusive franchises" yesterday. One purpose of it is to get some publicity as to the nature of the contract being entered into by the company and the municipality for the benefit of the people. A franchise may be granted with the approval of the municipal board, but it shall not be exclusive unless endorsed by the voters.

Further supplementary estimates, amounting to $768,740.25, were brought down yesterday afternoon.

The determination of the Government to develop Northern Ontario is shown by an item in these estimates for $183,101 for colonization roads in the northern division of the province. Of this amount $15,000 has been set aside for Tisdale Township, where the Porcupine Goldfields are situated. The sum of $1,400 has been provided for a second assistant engineer for the good roads department, and an additional grant of $1,200 for the good roads branch of the Public Works Department.

That the new regulations of the revised Public Health Act will be enforced without delay is shown by an item of $25,000 to provide for ten district officers of health at $2,500 each. An additional $10,000 is provided for the expenses of these district officers at $1,000 each.

In the legislation department $100 is provided to increase the salary of the clerk assistant and clerk of routine, librarian $100.

An additional allowance of $500 is made to Crown Attorney Corley for City of Toronto commutation of fees.

Patriotism and allegiance to the throne is to be fostered and encouraged by having portraits of Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary given to the schools. To cover this expense $1,750 has been provided.

Must Raise Engineers' Pay.

New York, March 29.—Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, predicted here yesterday that when the result of the strike vote on the wage question is made public here on April 10 it will be found that less than 2,500 of the 25,000 engineers in the brotherhood oppose a strike.

"It is significant," said Mr. Stone, "that in none of our conferences with the eastern railroad representatives have they once declared that our demands were unjust. They do not say we do not need the increase; they say merely that they cannot afford to grant it, because they are not allowed increased freight rates. The Interstate Commerce Commission stands in the way of any raise, and, as the commission represents the public, it is really the public that is the stumbling block. That is why I repeat that the public needs an object lesson to convince them that the roads are entitled to more pay for the freight they carry. Freight rates are bound to go up."

Exit the Phosphorus Match.

Washington, March 29.—The bill by Representative Hughes of New Jersey, Democrat, virtually taxing out of existence the phosphorus match industry in the United States, was passed yesterday by the House after a heated debate. The vote, 163 to 30, was remarkable in that Minority Leader Mann was the only Republican who joined the Democratic opposition to the measure. The high death rate among workers in the phosphorus match factories of the country inspired the bill.

Besides imposing a prohibitive tax on phosphorus matches, heavy fines and penalties are provided for violations of the law. The exportation or importation of the matches also is forbidden. The main features of the law will go into effect on July 1, 1913, if the bill passes the Senate.

Montreal Tunnel to Start.

Montreal, March 29.—When the first sod is turned, inaugurating the construction of the Canadian Northern Railway's tunnel under Mount Royal, a public ceremony will be arranged for by the management of the road, at which a number of prominent Canadians will be present.

Mayor Lavallee will, probably, be the first man to commence the gigantic work of burrowing under the mountain, and will declare the work officially open, after which the thousands of workmen who are to be employed will start the excavations at both ends of the projected route, which will connect the city with the new model city, Mount Royal, and the business sections of Montreal.

Buffalo, March 29.—The local branch of the Lake Seamen's Union yesterday received an order officially declaring off the strike begun by fifteen thousand members of that organization four years ago. In the referendum vote taken on the question of abandoning the fight against the Lake Carriers' Association, only 2,000 votes were cast, and of this number more than half favored a return to work.

Detroit and Milwaukee members voted strongly against the move, and it is understood that they will seek another referendum on the ground that the rank and file did not understand the question upon which they were voting.

No Bail For Mrs. Pankhurst.

London, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, joint editors of "Votes for Women," and Mrs. Pankhurst, were committed to take their trial at the Old Bailey sessions by the police magistrate at the Bow Street Court yesterday. Bail was refused in the case of Mrs. Pankhurst and she was sent back to Holloway Jail to complete the sentence of two months imposed upon her on March 2. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence undertook to abstain from any further violence pending their trial.

Mrs. Mabel Tuke, who is in ill health, fainted during the hearing and was discharged from custody. The magistrate thought that the case against her was not nearly so strong as that against the other prisoners.

Gamey to Choose Route.

Toronto, March 29.—R. R. Gamey, the member for Manitoulin, has been appointed by the Ontario Government to take charge of the expedition that is going north to select a route for the five-mile strip of territory in Manitoba over which the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway will run to Port Nelson.

NEW DONALDSON LINER

Extract from "Glasgow Herald," 22nd February, 1912.

Scott's Shipbuilding and Engineering Company (Limited) Greenock, launched from their Cartsdyke yard yesterday, the steel twin-screw steamer Letitia, which they have built to the order of the Donaldson Line, (Donaldson Bros., Glasgow) for their service between the Clyde and Canada. A large party was invited to the ceremony. The naming ceremony was performed by Miss Grace Donaldson.

The Letitia is handsomely modelled and well equipped. Her principal dimensions are—Length, between perpendiculars, 470 feet; breadth (moulded) 56 feet 8 inches; depth (moulded)39 feet 6 inches to the shelter deck, above which are fitted poop bridge forecastle, and boat decks. The vessel has been designed for the emigrant trade, and takes the highest class at Lloyd's. The accommodation for second class passengers is fitted on the bridge, shelter and upper decks, state-rooms being provided for over 300 passengers of this class. The dining saloon, music-room writing-room, and smoke-room, are handsomely panelled in polished hardwood, and very comfortably furnished. Special attention has been given to the culinary department, and the galley and pantry arrangements are very extensive, the equipment including all the latest improvements. Accomodation is also fitted on the shelter, upper, and main decks, for about 600 third class passengers, principally in two and four berth state-rooms. Separate dining saloons and recreation rooms are fitted for third class, and a special feature has been made for their lavatory accommodations, which includes baths and wash-basins supplied with both hot and cold water.

While primarily intended for passenger trade, the vessel will carry a large cargo, there being five holds worked by ten derricks and ten steam winches. The steering gear is of the Wilson and Pirrie type, controlled by telemotor. A very extensive installation of electric light has been provided, and electric fans and bel's are fitted throughout. Refrigerating chambers are provided for ship's provisions and cargo, the plant being on the C 02 system.

A system of wireless telegraph will also be installed.

The machinery, which has been constructed by the builders, consists of two sets of triple-expansion engines. The propelling machinery has been built to Board of Trade and Lloyd's special survey. Six single ended boilers, each having three Morison suspension furnaces and working under natural draught, supply steam to two sets of three-cylinder triple-expansion engines driving two screws. The high pressure cylinder, is 26 inches diameter, the intermediate 43 1-2 inches diameter, and the low pressure 72 1-2 inches diameter—all of 48 inch stroke. Piston valves control the steam to the h.p. cylinders Andrew's valves are fitted to the m.p. cylinders, and double ported slides to the l.p. cylinders. The columns and bedplate are of substantial box section. The condensers, circular in form, are carried on seatings from the tank top, and are supported by brackets from the backs of h.p. and l.p. columns. Ample colng surface is iprvided to maintain high vacua. Working in conjunction with the condensers are air pumps of the well-known Edward's design, while independent contrifugal pumps supply the necessary cooling water. A steam reversing engine of the all round type and a steam turning engine are fitted to each main engine. The thrust and propeller are about 17 feet diameter and of the built type, the bosses being of cast iron and blades of bronze. There is an auxiliary condenser and a full equipment of auxiliary machinery to ensure the safe and economical working of the vessel and the comfort of passengers. For the disposal of ashes from the furnaces two of Crompton's silent ash hoists, with the necessary chutes, have been installed. Duplicate sets of electric generating machinery supply current for the lighting of the vessel and power for cabin and saloon ventilating fans, etc.

During construction the vessel has been under the supervision of Capt. Taylor and Mr. Innes, the superintendents of Donaldson Line.

The P. C. I. Philomathean Society will hold an open meeting on the evening of Friday, April 19th, in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute. The program will be an excellent one, provided entirely by school talent. There will be no admission and everyone is invited to attend.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World —Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

Fox Creek, N. B.—"I have always had pains in the abdomen and a weakness there and often after meals a soreness in my stomach. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better and I can work with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM S. BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N. B.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Opposed to Mourning Clothes.

"A southern physician of recognized skill and eminence urges that all outward symbols of mourning should be abandoned," says Munsey's. "For many years he has expressed his views. He has won over a large number of people who see no reasca why the heart should advertise its sorrow by the conspicuous insignia of gloom. There are or have been peoples wiser in their generation. The Romans of the days of the republic wore blue as a sign of mourning. It is the proper thing in Asia Minor now. The Turk mourns in violet and the Persian in pale brown. Until a French queen set the present fashion in the latter half of the fifteenth century white was the color of grief in Europe, as it is now in China."

Cookery Points

A Dainty Luncheon.

Although this little lunch is dainty enough to tempt the most capricious, yet it is sufficiently satisfying to serve as the only meal between breakfast and dinner.

Hard boil as many eggs as necessary, allowing two for each plate required. When cool enough to handle remove the shells and carefully cut each egg in two lengthwise.

Crumble yolks in a bowl, add salt, pepper, paprika and mustard to taste and finely chopped cold ham or veal in the proportion of about a teaspoonful for each egg. Mix well. Then moisten with lemon juice and olive oil in proportion to suit the taste, adding enough liquid to make a very soft, smooth paste.

Replace this mixture in the empty whites and arrange four halves around a lettuce leaf on a plate. In the center place a generous tablespoonful of cut-up radishes and celery, being careful in cutting these that each piece of radish shows some of the bright red outside.

Around the outside of plate, between the halves of eggs, put more radishes, cut in larger pieces than those used in the center.

Then put the plates in the icebox until the sandwiches are prepared. Make these of thinly sliced white bread spread with butter and cheese. While any kind of cheese will make tasty sandwiches, if American cheese is used it is better to grate it and then sprinkle it over the buttered bread than merely to slice it.

When the sandwiches are ready to serve remove the plates of salad from the icebox and over the center of each pour some mayonnaise dressing. Coffee is the drink to be served. And the salad is so satisfying that few will feel the need of a sweeter course to follow.

If one has the mayonnaise dressing ready this lunch can be prepared very quickly by systematizing the work to be done.

If one has no mayonnaise the salad will be just as delicious if the celery and radishes are marinated in French dressing while the eggs and sandwiches are being prepared. The French dressing then should be passed around at the table.

FOR FAMILY USE

An Ideal Remedy for Coughs, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Weak Chest.

After having made a special study of the treatment of the throat and lungs for twenty years, Prof. D. Jackson states that in his opinion no preparation for general family use is so efficient, so healing, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone.

As his reasons for making this claim for Catarrhozone, Dr. Jackson says:

"Catarrhozone is free from opium.

"The patient can breathe its rich, balsamic fumes direct to the diseased spot.

"It is a remedy that treats and cures causes—prevents disease spreading.

"Alleviates chest soreness.

"Stops coughing instantly.

"Prevents bronchial irritations.

"Relieves clogged nostrils.

"Cures sniffles and nasal catarrh.

"Prevents La Grippe.

"Has proven itself a cure for weak lungs, loss of voice, speakers' sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, coughs, colds, and winter ills."

Catarrhozone is unquestionably the world's greatest breathable cold, cough, and catarrh medicine, and being free from all drowsy drugs, entirely safe for children and old folks; it makes an ideal family remedy. Recommended by the medical profession, and sold by all reliable dealers. Beware of imitations, get "Catarrhozone" only; large size lasts two months, and is guaranteed, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. By mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Refuse substitutes.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

Macaroons.

Macaroons, so delicious a cake and so very expensive to buy, can be made at home if one will be careful. Prepare a pound of almonds the day before by blanching and when perfectly cold pounding to a paste, adding a little rosewater now and then to prevent oiling. When a smooth paste add a large tablespoonful of bitter almond extract and set aside until next day.

Stir the whites of eight eggs lightly and then stir in a pound of finely powdered sugar. Gradually whip in the almond paste. Have a broad baking pan lined with white paper and drop the paste by the spoonful far enough apart to prevent running together. Sift powdered sugar thickly over and bake to a delicate brown.

BRASS WORKERS.

Theirs Is a Dangerous Trade, and They Usually Die Young.

The present rate of mortality of the brass foundryman is two and a half times that of the farmer. Respiratory diseases, particularly consumption, account for the difference. Comparative tables based on sickness and invalidism, if obtainable, would show even greater differences.

The age statistics in the trade are startling. Of 1,751 brass foundrymen but seventeen over fifty years of age were found and a bare 200 over forty years of age. When asked the cause of this officials invariably stated: "They got too old. They can't turn out the work they should every day." But what sort of an industry is this in which nearly six-sevenths of its followers are too old at the age of forty? It is not thus among ironmolders, most of whom are hale and hearty even at sixty years and still able to turn out their full quota of work daily. Workmen claim they "are knocked out by the brass fumes."

These age statistics for Chicago workmen are no different from those Sir Thomas Oliver gives in his book on "Dangerous Trades:" "Only ten brass workers of 1,200 casters in Birmingham, England, were found living beyond sixty years. A superannuation insurance for brass founders, to begin at fifty-five years of age, had only three applicants in a period of some ten years."

There is no cure for brass chills. But they can be prevented by striking at the cause. For such an important industry not to do so is like tolerating smallpox in a modern community. The workmen must be protected from the breathing in of brass fumes and foundry smoke. In large foundries with good ventilation, either natural or artificial, brass chills practically never occur.—Emery R. Hayhurst in Survey.

A Generous Actor.

I remember when Toole was playing an exceptionally fine engagement with us that he said laughingly: "Oh, by the way, Calvert, if my wife comes down next week don't say anything about the big receipts. You see, I've a lot of nephews and nieces, and they all expect tips from Uncle Johnnie. Last year they had over £400 from me, and my wife thinks I rather overdo it."—"Sixty-eight Years on the Stage," by Mrs. Charles Calvert.

Irish Women.

A cosmopolitan critic, lately deceased, after surveying woman kind from China to Peru, gave the palm for attractiveness to the women of Ireland. He dwelt rapturously on their beauty and their naivete, averring as a final compliment that they are pre-eminently the femmes dangereuses. That they have infinite charm none can deny, even the cockney whose profound knowledge comes of a galloping holiday trip to Killarney, Wicklow or the Giant's Causeway—London Chronicle.

YOU CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF VALUES

If you carefully read the store advertisements and follow them in your buying.

Merchants advertise certain lines because they know these lines will advertise their stores. Because there is something about certain goods, they are put in conspicuous places and the people are told about them. It may be the exclusiveness or newness of design, it may be an unusual quality, it may be an attractive price.

But there is at least one definite, sure reason why a merchant advertises an article and is willing to stake the reputation of his store upon it.

Therefore, when you see an article advertised in THE REVIEW, depend upon it, that article is good value, as good value as can be obtained in that particular store.

ABOUT THE BRIDGES.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—It seems that the Hon. Geo. P. Graham repudiates the statement that the late Government ever agreed to take over the Buckhorn Bridge and relieve the county and the Township of Harvey and perhaps Smith also of the contract by which they were bound to pay the Government $3,000.00 and maintain the bridge forever. Now they have got to pay, but if the men running this matter, viz., J. R. Stratton and Bob Shaw, had had sense enough to make the agreement with the late Government while the bridge was being built, there would have been no trouble. It was before the contract was finished that any compromise was to be made and not when it was done, and it was too late to do anything at all. It was an awful bungle, since Mr. Graham, the late Minister of Canals, says there was no taking of the burden off the township and county but that it remains there; then, of course, the present Government has no possible right to step in and forgive the debt. Mr. Cochrane, the present Minister, I am told, was ready to do anything that the late Government said, or would say, it had agreed to do. But the blunder was made and there is no way out of it.

Yours truly,

"ONE WHO KNOWS."

He writes:—"I received your letter of recent date and in reply I am pleased to say that after taking two months' treatment I would consider myself completely cured, as I have seen no signs of them coming back (one year).

THE WORLD SEEMS DIFFERENT.

Patient No. 15923. "I have not had a regular Emission I don't know when and am feeling fine. The world seems altogether different to me and I thank God for directing me to you. You have been an honest doctor with me."

VARICOSE VEINS CURED.

Case No. 16888. Symptoms when he started treatment:—Age 21, single, indulged in immoral habits several years. Varicose Veins on both sides—pimples on the face, etc. After two months' treatment he writes as follows:—"Your welcome letter to hand and am very glad to say that I think myself cured. My Varicose Veins have completely disappeared for quite a while and it seems a cure. I work harder and feel less tired. I have no desire for that habit whatever and if I stay like this, which I have every reason to believe I will. Thanking you for your kind attention," etc.

GAINED 14 POUNDS IN ONE MONTH.

Patient No. 13522. This patient (aged 58) had a chronic case of Nervous Debility and Sexual Weakness and was run down in vigor and vitality. After one month's treatment he reports as follows:—"I am feeling very well. I have gained 14 pounds in one month, so that I will have to congratulate you." Later report:—"I am beginning to feel more like a man. I feel my condition is getting better every week." His last report:—"Dear Doctors—As I feel this is the last month's treatment that I will have to get. I thought at one time I would never be cured but I put confidence in you from the start and you have cured me."

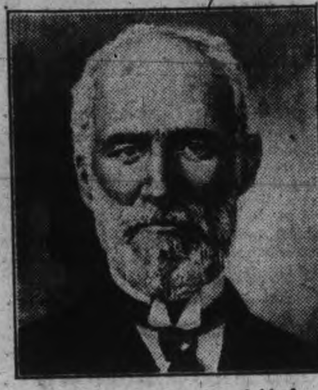
EFFECTS WERE MARVELLOUS

When I Tried "Fruit-a-tives"

HARDWICKE, N.B., Jan. 17th. 1910.

"I feel it my duty to give you a statement in respect to the wonderful cure I received by taking 'Fruit-a-tives'. Chronic Constipation was the complaint I suffered from for years. My general health was miserable as a result of this disease, and I became depressed and alarmed. I was treated by physicians without the slightest permanent benefit, and I tried all kinds of pills and tablets.



"I saw the strong testimonial in favor of 'Fruit-a-tives' by New Brunswick's 'Grand Old Man' Senator Costigan, and I knew that anything he stated was honest and true and given only to help his fellow-men. I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and the effects were most marvellous, and now I am entirely well from all my Chronic Constipation that I suffered with for years." A. G. WILLISTON.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure you, just as they cured Mr. Williston. Get a box today—take them—and begin to feel better. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE STRAPONTIN.

Found In Parisian Theaters, It Is a Delusion and a Snare.

In every Paris theater there are two or three score "strapontins." You wonder what a strapontin is? Well, it is a folding or strap seat on the aisle attached to the side of the aisle chair of the orchestra or balcony rows. It has neither sides nor back and is without visible means of support except through affiliation and attachment. The unsuspecting American tourist whose stay in Paris is but a matter of days approaches the Parisian box office and is shown the diagram by the middle aged lady with the blond curls. Guilelessly the visitor indicates what he believes to be an aisle seat and congratulates himself on his luck at so late an hour in capturing it.

A few minutes later he has paid his 10 cents for a program and tipped the woman attendant who shows him to his strapontin. It is as devoid of legs or feet, this strapontin, as of arms and vertebrae, a device to be shunned and tabooed. You squirm to make yourself comfortable, to secure some attitude whereby the hardships of the strapontin may be annihilated, but in vain. It drives from your mind the most seductive music, the most dramatic episode fails to affect you, and your thoughts are forced back on the instrument of torture which has cost you the full 10 francs, the price of an orchestra chair.—New York Press.

PROMINENT RAILROAD MAN

STRONGLY ADVISES HIS FRIENDS TO TRY GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS

"I have been a Pullman Conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central during the last three years. About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pains in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate. I treated with my family physician for two months for gravel in the bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by taking Gin Pills, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try Gin Pills which I did,—with the result that the pains left me entirely.

KANAA BURIAL GROUNDS.

Bolivia's Fearsome Valley of the Shadow of Death.

There is a valley in Bolivia, South America, which might well be called the Valley of the Shadow of Death. It has been inhabited for an indefinite period of years by the Kanaa Indians, who are kindred to the various South American tribes and number now only a few hundred souls.

That they were once a very powerful tribe is indicated by the condition of the land which they as a tribe still inhabit. One cannot travel any distance through their land without coming upon the old and forsaken burial grounds of the Kanaa dead. These places cannot be called graveyards, for the bodies are not buried, but rather placed upon elevated platforms, wrapped in the garments of death and bound to the crossbeams that they may not be displaced.

In one of these burial grounds there will be probably fifty high skeleton platforms, and on each will lie from three to five of the Kanaa dead. The air in that part of Bolivia is very pure and preservative, for it is one of the highest plateaus of the continent, although Kanaa valley is just a little below the plateau's height. A traveler passing through that land at night and by moonlight would be awe stricken at the gloomy vision those graveyards present.

Won by His Wit.

On one occasion a dress rehearsal at His Majesty's theater was prolonged till the small hours of the morning. The company grew very weary, particularly a gentleman who had been with Sir Herbert Tree in a good many productions, but who had never attained to more than a very tiny part. When the time came to rehearse his few lines he was so tired that his voice was anything but distinct.

"What's the matter, Mr. Z.?" asked Sir Herbert in his most sarcastic tones. "Are you saving your voice for the rehearsal?"

"No, Sir Herbert," was the retort; "I've never been able to save anything under your management."

Sir Herbert, an exceedingly witty man himself, was so pleased with the retort that the salary of the small part man was raised.—London M. A. P.

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE"

So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.

In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills.

"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend, he advised a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exert on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines, freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the ailing."

For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Here is a New Kind of COFFEE

And We Give You A Pot To Make It In—Free

Never sold in Bulk

To get to the heart of the coffee question, you must do as we did—get to the heart of the coffee berry. The coffee berry is protected by Nature from the insect world, by a tough inner shell or coat. This shell contains tannin and other bitter substances.

It is this shell, roasted and ground up with ordinary coffee, that causes indigestion, headaches and other ill-effects so common with coffee drinkers.

Yet there is no other beverage in the world so thoroughly wholesome healthful and delicious as good Coffee when properly made.

Never sold in Bulk

Dalton's French Drip Coffee

is this good, wholesome, delicious coffee. It contains no chicory and by our special process of grinding, every particle of the bitter tannin-bearing shell is removed. We take out all the injurious parts. We leave the meat—the heart—the flavor—the aromatic essences that mean so much to coffee-lovers.

The Percolator, or French Drip Process, is the only way to make really good coffee. We have secured sole rights at last for a practical, economical, reliable French Drip Coffee Pot.

We will give it to you free so that you can try Dalton's French Drip Coffee as it should be made. Read our offer. We have put up Dalton's French Drip Coffee in two Blends

This is the Coffee Pot we are giving away with 2 tins of Coffee at 50c. per tin.

—MILD and STRONG. You can't tell which one you will like best until you try both. Dalton's French Drip Coffee is better and costs less than any other if made in Dalton's French Drip Coffee Pot. That is why we make this special offer.

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER

We have authorized your Grocer to give you one of these handsome pots (worth $1.30) absolutely Free with your first purchase of a tin EACH of Mild and Strong Blend at 50c. per tin. You buy two tins of our Coffee—one of each blend—to give it a fair trial and we give you the means of testing it FREE, satisfied that you will use nothing but Dalton's French Drip Coffee thereafter.

A Perpetual Pension.

An interesting fact has come to light in connection with Mr. Smith, a groom who has lately taken up his residence at Peterborough, viz., that his family have been drawing a pension from the British Government for the space of 276 years.

Mr. Smith, who draws thirty shillings a week, explained in an interview the history of the pension. It appears that after the battle of Worcester an ancestor of Smith assisted Prince Charles to escape, and was one of those who helped to hide him in the famous oak tree. Years passed, and it was not till 1675 that King Charles II. was informed of the incident. Parliament, on the advice of the King, was not slow at rewarding those who had rendered services, however slight to the sovereign The consequence was that Mr Smith's ancestor was placed on the perpetual pension list at the rate of thirty shillings a week, with the result that the family have received (in round figures) something like $107,500 since the pension was granted.

Mr. Smith's father, it appears, parted with the pension to another person while he lived, but on his death it reverted again to his eldest son, and in turn it will descend to the present pensioner's eldest child, and so on. It is stated this perpetual pension is the only one of its kind in existence.—London Daily News.

The Greatest Man of All

A man who has maae a happy home for his wife and children, no matter what he has not done in the way of achieving wealth and honor; if he has done that, he is a grand success. If he has not done that, and it is his own fault, though he be the highest in the land, he is a most pitiable failure.

We wonder how many men in a mad pursuit of gold, which characterizes the age, realize that there is no fortune which can be left to their families as great as the memory of a happy home.

DIABETES

Is one of the most cruel maladies of which mankind is subject, the many complications arising from time to time, making life seem almost unbearable. For many diseases, medical, scientific, and physiological knowledge and experience gained from years of deep research, has achieved remarkable results, but, up to now, little has been discovered of practical value in the treatment and cure of Diabetes. In fact, people have begun to look upon the disease as well-nigh incurable. Even in the medical profession can be found doctors who are of the same opinion, regarding sceptically any claim to ameliorate or improve the condition of a diabetic patient.

It can, however, be proved that SANSOL'S ANTIDIABETES lastingly cures all cases of Diabetes. Full particulars can be obtained from the Sansol Mfg. Co., Winnipeg, Man.

Irish Capital's Progress Held Back by Party Politics.

"Greater Dublin" is the war cry of a new organization which has been formed recently in the Irish capital for the purpose of bringing about the consolidation of the outlying residential suburbs with the city proper. It has the support of many influential citizens and its only opponents are those whose financial or political interests would be affected by the change.

It is an old complaint that Dublin is one of the dirtiest and most squalid cities in the world. An Irish American who visited the city recently full of enthusiasm for the land of his fathers went away disgusted. He declared that he had never seen more hopeless, dirty, and degraded poverty even in Naples. He was disposed to blame the Dublin corporation for the condition of affairs which shocked him so, but while the corporation is to blame to a certain extent it is not responsible in the sense that he was disposed to hold it.

The trouble is that with the best will in the world the Dublin corporation has no money for civic improvements, and especially for providing better housing for the very poor, and it won't have any until the inhabitants of the prosperous suburbs are made to pay their share. The tax rate is now far too high and to make it any higher would be simply to invite disaster.

Dublin proper is suffering in two ways. Years ago her aristocracy left her for London, and the fine old houses in the squares which still bear the names of the great Irish families which occupied them once have been cut up into tenements for slum dwellers. The prosperous commercial class have also left the city. They have been attracted by fresh new houses, cheaper rents, and lower taxes in suburbs like Rathmines, Pembroke and Blackrock, and the houses that they once occupied have also fallen on evil days. Even the better class artisans are leaving the city for the new suburbs. Both of the latter classes, however, belong to Dublin.

They come into the city every morning to earn their living and they leave it at night. There is no physical division between the suburbs and the city and the suburban dwellers really are escaping their responsibility for the sanitation of the city, out of which they make their living, and for the housing of the workers without whom their prosperity would not exist.

Perhaps it is natural that these suburbanites should resist the annexation of the suburbs by the city and try to keep their low taxes as long as possible, but they would hardly prevail if the political element did not enter into the calculation, and curiously enough, both Nationalists and Unionists are united on this one issue. The suburbs are largely Unionist in politics and the city is Nationalist. The Dublin corporation elected as it is by the old city area, is overwhelmingly Nationalist, and it has the control of a good deal of patronage. Its members are afraid that if Greater Dublin became a fact they would be swamped by the Unionist vote of the suburbs. The Unionist suburbanites are not so sure of this and they fear that if they allowed themselves to be absorbed by the city they would lose their control of their little independent Unionist townships. Both parties are united in the desire to hold on to what they have as, in this case, it is hard for patriotic men who desire only the good of Dublin as a whole to make headway.

Hard to Get Into Jail.

There was a queer old specimen of humanity brought to the Cuyahoga county jail. He had been convicted of the crime of cruelty to animals, and there was no doubt in anybody's mind that he richly deserved the penalty inflicted. It is the custom to examine prisoners, however, before they are assigned to their cells. When this old reprobate was brought up the interrogation went thus:

"What is your name?"

"Budd Dobbs."

"What is your age?"

"Sixty-eight."

"What is your religion?"

"Great snakes! Does a man hafter git religion before they'll let him inter jail in this county?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

More Suffragettes to Jail.

London, March 27.—A special sitting of the County of London Sessions opened yesterday for the trial of 126 women who have been committed in connection with the window-smashing raids in London on March 1 and 4.

Travers Humphrey, solicitor for the Treasury, in his speech for the prosecution, emphasized that the raids were an organized attack on property and could not be tolerated.

Judge Robert Wallace sentenced a succession of suffragettes to terms from four to six months' imprisonment. In some cases, where the women undertook not to repeat the offence, they were bound over to come up for judgment if called upon.

Must Give Passes to Legislators.

Providence, R.I., March 27.—A public utilities bill, the feature of which is a clause making it obligatory for all railroads in the state to furnish passes to state officers and members of the Legislature, passed the House yesterday by a viva voce vote, after a long debate. The bill provides for the creation of a public utilities commission of three, which is given liberal authority in regulating public service corporations.

Ten Skiers Killed.

Vienna, March 28.—A party of eleven ski-ers were overwhelmed by an avalanche near the summit of Sschnee Berg, near Vienna, Tuesday afternoon and ten persons were killed.

Two woodcutters, coming down the mountain, heard groans from beneath the snow. They dug hastily and discovered a woman with her clothes torn, and so exhausted that there is little hope for her recovery. She gasped "Avalanche, dig deeper," and then fainted.

They laid her on the snow, and after much work recovered the corpse of the leader of the party, Dr. Hacker. Then they conveyed the woman (Fraulein Blanca Tagleicht) who is the sole survivor of the tragedy, to the hotel.

Owing to the heavy snowstorm on Tuesday night the relief expedition was without result, but yesterday morning several detachments of soldiers on skis proceeded to the spot.

Nine bodies, including that of one woman, have been discovered. It is remarkable that the faces of all the victims wear happy expressions, which seems to indicate that death was instantaneous.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING

Do Not Use Harsh Pugatives — A Tonic is All You Need

Not exactly sick— but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches, and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in spring is a tonic what will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine makes new blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite, and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mrs. Maude Bagg Lembers, Sask., says: "I can unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a blood builder and tonic. I was very much run down when I began using these pills, and a few boxes fully restored my health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It is rumored that the Grand Trunk Railway is considering the erection of a modern hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, in connection with its new station at London, Ont.

PARIS BUNKO.

A High Class Game Played By the Slick French Artists.

Paris bunko is refined, rampant, and chooses a shining mark. During the past summer and autumn quantities of tourists regretted the mention of their losses, and begged the Paris papers to remain quiet. The confession of the bait proved too humiliating—the hope of entering titled society! Alas, how sad that these social climbers should be so easily duped. How they would shine in the social world to be sure! Such brilliancy of mind, and keenness of intellect—my, my!

All these elegant bunks, they say, are of the school of Heinrich Wyler, son of a Swiss village tailor, recently sentenced to four years in St. Petersburg, "a natural born patrician," the Duke of the Abruzzi called him, and, according to Lombroso, a "return freak," jumping back through centuries, perhaps, to the personality of some prodigal, versatile and magnificent unknown ancestor of high degree.

As a boy of 17, Heinrich was publicly whipped by his father for pestering a girl of the village with his addresses. He ran away, worked as a clerk in France, went to Monte Carlo, won $5,000, and in a year's trip through Spain and Italy he picked up the charm, polish and languages which made him famous. Three years later, when he became the Duke of the Abruzzi's secretary, he spoke French, German, Spanish, Italian and English. Presented as a prodigy of Lombroso, the great criminalogist examined him, admitted his genius, but pronounced him to be "a person not fit to be at large," which killed him with the duke, and started him on his great career of bunko, as Count Halwyl. Without doubt, his most brilliant feat was the bunkoing of the diamond bracelet of the Russian ambassador's wife at Rome. As the lady was seated in her box at the Royal Opera, elegant Count Halwyl entered, introduced himself and said that the Queen had admired the bracelet and would like to inspect it. Naturally, the lady handed it over.

Bunko always seems impossible when told in print, for the magnetic influence is missing; but in this case it is stoutly asserted that neither the Queen nor the lady saw the latter's bracelet after the bogus count got his fingers on it so cleverly.

Supports the Cycle.

The new Inspector-General of Home Forces, Lieut.-General Sir Charles Douglas, is a great believer in the value of cyclists' corps, and once remarked, "Give me 10,000 well-disciplined cyclists and I will guarantee to hold up any invading army that attempts to land on our shores." In this connection he tells an amusing story. One day during some manoeuvres he found a troop of men sitting under a hedge calmly watching an opposing force of cyclists rapidly approaching them. He called the attention of the subaltern in command to the fact that he was in danger of being cut off from the main army. "Don't you worry, sir," came the reply. "I have peppered the road with sixpennyworth of tin tacks Wait till they get off to repair their punctures and see me round-up the whole of them in next to no time."

The Peace Palace and War.

The Matin, Paris, is ironically demanding the immediate destruction of the peace palace at The Hague. "When its construction was decided upon," The Matin notes, "the Anglo-Boer war broke out, and plans were laid for the Russo-Japanese war, when the first stone was laid the Kaiser made his first voyage to Tangier, which event was the beginning of the Morocco-European complications; when the first floor was finished Austria seized Bosnia and Herzegovina; when the second floor was completed the Franco-German controversy arose, and when the roof was put on the Turko-Italian war began."

Adjoining Lake Titacaca, in Peru lie the ruins of a great city whose origin was as much a matter of conjecture 900 years ago as it is to-day according to the records of the Incas The stone walls of the largest buildings were of excellent workmanship, and the gateways were elaborately carved. Evidence in abundance exists that the inhabitants were skilled masons. At present the region is cold and arid and entirely incapable of ripening cereals. It is inhabited by a few hardy mountaineers. It is evident that the climate is entirely different from what it was when the plateau was the centre of a large population.

The Real Thing In Obedience.

As indicating with what exact obedience the Oriental servant obeys his master's orders, a distinguished British diplomatist, tells of an incident in India.

It appears that an eminent British general during a campaign in that country had ordered his man to prepare his bath at a certain hour. One day a fierce engagement was going on, but the servant made his way through a storm of bullets and appeared at the commander's side.

"Sahib," said he, "your bath is ready."

They Ate Him.

"Spare me!" cried the captive, "and I will be your slave for life. I am a cook by trade, and I can make you any dish you desire."

"Well," replied the cannibal king, "you do look as if you would make a good dish. I think we can use you."

Cautious.

"Gustave's letters to me are exceedingly dull and commonplace," said one fair girl.

"Don't you know why?" responded the other.

"No."

"Gustave once served on the jury in a breach of promise case."

It is reported that the Kaiser and King Victor of Italy have agreed as to a renewal of the Triple Alliance, Pancakes.

To four tablespoonfuls of prepared flour add enough milk to make an ordinary batter. Beat four egg yolks very light and stir them into the batter. Stir in a scant teaspoonful of salt and fold in the stiffened whites of the eggs. Melt a little butter in a frying pan and pour in enough batter to cover the bottom of the pan. When the pancake is done on one side turn it. Pile the pancakes on top of each other on a plate, strewing each one thickly with powdered sugar or maple sugar or spreading each with jelly or honey. Cut in triangles, as pie is cut, and eat very hot.

Deep Apple Pie With Cream Cheese.

Bake a nice deep apple pie about three-quarters of an hour before dinner. Have a small cream cheese pressed through a ricer and mixed with a cupful of whipped cream and a little salt. Press through a pastry tube or tin funnel on top of the pie in a pattern and serve warm for dessert. The cheese and cream combinations may also be used on a two crust apple pie.

WOMAN'S HAIR

Here's a Preparation That Makes Hair Fascinating

PARISIAN SAGE is the ideal hair tonic and beautifier of the present time.

It is compounded on the most advanced scientific principles, and nothing on the market to-day can compare with it.

It accomplishes so much more than the ordinary tonics, and does it so quickly that users are astonished.

PARISIAN SAGE kills the dandruff germs and eradicates dandruff in two weeks, or money back.

Since its introduction into America it has become a prime favorite with women of refinement.

PARISIAN SAGE gives a fascinating lustre to women's hair and makes it beautiful. It makes the hair grow luxuriantly; it is the daintiest and most refreshing hair dressing that science has produced, and has not a particle of grease or stickiness in it.

A large bottle of PARISIAN SAGE costs but 50 cents at Wm. Madill's and dealers everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

COCHRANE TO TAKE DRASTIC MEASURES AGAINST G.T.R.

Failure of Company to Live Up to Its Agreement With Its Men Elicits Indignant Speeches in Commons and But For Urgency of Present Measure It Would Never Have Been Allowed to Pass

Ottawa, April 1.—The Grand Trunk financial bills passed the House in the dying hours of the twelfth Parliament on Saturday night but not before a dozen members had expressed in strong language their feelings over the way the Grand Trunk was alleged to have violated its agreement with the men. They made it very clear that they were only allowing the present bills to pass the House on account of the financial considerations involved and because necessary improvements and betterments to the road would be held up, and expressed themselves in vigorous terms in favor of passing legislation to compel not only the Grand Trunk but all railways to keep their agreements with the men, and it was intimated that, although the legislation was permitted to pass, the Grand Trunk would be dealt with with a stern hand.

A special enactment will probably be introduced in the bill to meet the case.

Mr. Borden moved that the rule be suspended and that the Grand Trunk bills be taken up. When the chairman read the first clause of the bill, Mr. Lancaster (Lincoln) rose and spoke in terms of condemnation of the Grand Trunk and of Mr Hays in particular in connection with the strike of 1910.

"It is very difficult to know," said Mr. Lancaster, "what ought to be done in the interests of the people. I have not a particle of respect for the promoters of this bill under the circumstances. It was amended in committee so that it is in less dangerous form than it was. Mr. Lancaster then offered an amendment to the bill, which was not seconded, by the terms of which the Grand Trunk would be included in any future legislature covering circumstances similar to those existing in the dispute between the road and its men. He said that if he could see his way, without injuring the transportation interests of the country, to hold up the bill he would willingly talk till midnight and all day Monday to kill the bill and added that he had nothing but contempt for the management of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Mr. Wilcox (N. Essex), in whose constituency some of the strikers live, spoke in a similar strain. He read an order made by the Department of Immigration in 1910 allowing railway workers to come into the country without the usual money requirements, whereupon Mr. Lancaster asked what would the honorable gentleman think of having Mr. Hays deported as an undesirable alien, to which Mr. Wilcox replied, "I should think it worthy of serious consideration."

W. A. Clarke (North Wellington) urged that something ought to be done to protect the Grand Trunk employes on the branch lines. Many of the old employes who had been taken back by the company, were employed on the branch lines and would therefore come under the act recently announced by the company. Mr. Clarke, at the same time, explained that he had no particular objection to the passage of the bill on its merits, and, as in the general public interest, the need of betterments on the lines of the Grand Trunk being unquestionable.

Mr. Morphy (North Perth) said that never again would a dollar be given to the Grand Trunk unless it treated its men fairly.

Hon. George P. Graham, ex-Minister of Railways, told of his troubles with the Grand Trunk, and condemned the management for its treatment of its men in the matter of the strike. He said that he had not hesitated to tell the Grand Trunk authorities when he was in conference with them that he did not respect men either in a high or low position who could not keep a promise.

Major Currie (North Simcoe) under whose charge the bill was introduced, pointed out very strongly that the bill did not deal with the labor question of the Grand Trunk Railway. It was a purely domestic bill and had nothing to do with the relation of the House of Commons to the public. As far as he could see, the bill was attacked by certain members of the House because they were afraid to attack the public bill some days ago which gave a grant of four millions to the Grand Trunk Railway. While supporting the bill, he could not justify the action of the Grand Trunk Railway in that they did not carry out their agreement, but that had nothing to do with this bill.

ARE NOISY REFORMERS

Taft Says His Opponents Have no Real Remedy.

Philadelphia, April 1.—At the Ohio Society dinner, President Taft spoke of the recall of judges, defended the constitution, said his administration had been progressive, and pointed out some of the reasons why he thought it was progressive. In speaking of the recall of judges, the president said:

"I am here to express my gratitude for the demonstration given by this country that all the surface talking and lecturing does not represent the opinion of the people. We are conservative people, ready for progress on a conservative basis."

The president spoke of "noisy reformers" who make plans for reform without having worked out a scheme that had any basis.

The president replied indirectly to the question raised by some of his political opponents, "Shall the people rule?" He said that he himself had been elected president by only eight per cent. of the total population of the United States. Unless adult women and children and others who did not now possess suffrage were given the right to vote, he said this is about as near as we can ever come to popular government.

In a brief speech before the American Academy of Political and Social Science, Mr. Taft touched on the anti-trust law and spoke of the plan for placing corporations under national supervision. He said he was in favor of enforcing the Sherman law just like any other law.

CHICAGO WOMEN IN CAMPAIGN TO URGE KINDNESS TO HORSES

MRS. FREDERICK W. PACKARD SERVING COFFEE AND DOUGHNUT TO TEAMSTER.

"Be kind to the faithful horse" is the lesson which Chicago women in increasing numbers are trying to impress upon the minds of teamsters and team owners. The campaign of gentleness and thoughtfulness is having a marked effect. Hundreds of volunteers are keeping watch for every case of cruelty, so that appropriate action may be taken in punishment or praise.

Specially active this winter in behalf of the horse are Mrs. Frederick W. Packard and Mrs. Mary V. Connor. Mrs. Packard has braved the coldest days of the record breaking winter to water thirsty horses from buckets in her own hands.

MONTREAL MEN SHOT WHILE AVENGING FANCIED INSULT

Montreal, April 1.—Attempting to avenge a fancied insult to a lady acquaintance of their brother, Edgar and Herbert Chapman were shot, probably fatally, in a room in the Savoy Hotel at four o'clock yesterday morning, while Harold Chapman, the brother, lies in the hospital with a bullet in his knee.

Carl Hemmans, a player in the orchestra of the Enchantress Co., with Kitty Gordon, which finished its engagement in Montreal Saturday night, is held, charged with the shooting, and pleading self-defence.

Harold Chapman had a room in the Savoy Hotel and early yesterday morning a woman came to see him, saying she heard he was sick. He was in his room asleep. The woman found the lock broken and started to mend it. The noise of her hammering awoke Harry Stanford, a player in the same company as Hemmans, who came out and asked the woman not to make so much noise. She desisted and went into Chapman's room and told him of her conversation with Stanford.

Chapman came to the door and saw Stanford entering Hemman's room. He got up and dressed and then sent a message to his brothers, who lived nearby, saying that he was in trouble. The messenger came back with some money, his brothers believing he meant financial difficulty.

Harold Chapman then got a hack, drove up to his brothers' residence where they lived with their mother, and got them out of bed and had them dress, and brought them down to the Savoy Hotel. The three went to Chapman's room and removed their coats. Then they went to Hemman's room, where Stanford had been seen to enter by Harold Chapman. They broke down the door. Stanford had left the room for his own while Harold Chapman had gone out, and consequently was not in Hemman's room. Hemmans was seen sitting on the side of the bed, awake.

As they entered some object broke the electric light, plunging the room into utter darkness, and they could not see a thing. Shouting out threats, the three brothers rushed at Hemmans, whom Harold Chapman took to be the man who had had the conversation with the woman, who was mending his door, and, throwing him to the floor, started immediately to beat him up. Hemmans finally managed to struggle to his dress suit case on the top of which he had left a revolver, fully loaded, and open fire in the darkness. All three brothers were hit by the flying bullets.

When the hotel employes arrived on the scene they found the Chapman brothers helpless and Hemmans badly beaten.

The shooting was done with a 32-calibre revolver, with sofe-nosed bullets. Edgar Chapman has a bullet in his lungs, while Herbert is wounded in the liver and chest, also by bullets. Neither are expected to recover.

Edgar Chapman identified Hemman, who is held by the police in jail, and offered to shake hands with him, saying: "You're not to blame at all, old man."

The woman in the case declares that she did not tell Chapman that Stanford's words were discourteous, merely saying that he had asked her to cut out the noise.

SCOTT GOES ON AND HOPES TO FIND THE SOUTH POLE

Britain Is Bitterly Disappointed at News From New Zealand That the Terra Nova Has Returned and That on Jan. 3 Explorer Was Still 150 Miles From the Pole—He Will Spend Winter In the Antarctic.

London, April 1.—The long and impatiently awaited news of Captain Scott's Antarctic expedition has at last arrived, but will bring the keenest disappointment to the cherished hopes of all Englishmen that the British expedition might after all prove to be the first in the race for the South Pole.

On January 3, nearly three weeks after Amundsen hoisted the Norwegian flag at the pole, Scott still had 150 miles to cover before attaining the object of his desire. The Terra Nova has returned to New Zealand and reports that Scott is still pressing forward and will spend the winter in the search.

Since the news of Amundsen's successful attempt, Englishman have built great hopes on Capt. Scott emulating, if not surpassing, the Norwegian's achievement. It was known that Scott had chosen the longer route, and as Amundsen's experience proved the more difficult route, but, presuming that he was favored by the same exceptional weather conditions as Amundsen, few doubted his success.

Now comes the disappointing news that Scott is spending another winter in the Antarctic, and there will be further weary waiting before it can be known whether he even succeeded in reaching the Pole. According to some of Captain Scott's intimate friends here, however, so surprise need be felt at his decision to spend another winter in the south, this having been within the original scope of his intentions. They suggest that he may have learned of Amundsen's exploit, and thereupon determined to attempt a great journey across the ice barrier, returning from the side almost opposite to that from which he started his journey.

If this is so, the Terro Nova probably received instructions to meet Scott at some fixed date at a point on the barrier opposite Graham Land, not far to the south of Cape Horn. It will be remembered that the German expedition is working from that side and it is possible that the two parties may meet.

The Probe Disaster.

Victoria, April 1.—Premier McBride has taken cognizance of the verdict returned by the coroner's jury which has been investigating at Merritt the circumstances attending the recent deplorable disaster at the mines of the Diamondville Coal Co., near Nicola City.

The jury in its finding held that the accident was occasioned by the neglect of prescribed precautions on the part of the company and further held an inspector of Merritt blameable in his not having posted or seen to the posting of certain notices which are called for by provisions of the Provincial Coal Mines Regulations Act.

Had Silver on Him.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., April 1.—A novel attempt at smuggling was detected by American immigration officials Saturday when Kalla Mittila, a Finlander, was taken from the Grand Trunk train at the north end station. In a belt about his waist he had twenty pounds of almost pure silver.

The discovery was made during an investigation to learn if the foreigner had any concealed weapons about him. The American officials will not prosecute him for smuggling, as silver bullion is not dutiabe when entered through the written consent of the owner of the mine from which it is obtained, but the fact that he did not make the entry of silver allows for its seizure.

He was deported in care of the provincial police, the silver being confiscated, and will be sold at the next public auction of the customs department.

Mittila declared he bought the ore in Toronto for $50. He had been employed in the Nipissing Mines. He was bound for New York when apprehended.

Putney, April 1.—Oxford had no difficulty in beating Cambridge in the annual boat race to-day which had been re-rowed as a result of both boats sinking Saturday. The Oxonians finished six lengths ahead of their opponents, after leading the entire distance. The time of 22 mins. 3 sec., was 3 minutes, 34 seconds behind the record of last year, when Oxford won by two and three quarter lengths.

HELD BIG HOME RULE MEETING

Speakers Made Addresses From Four Platforms.

Dublin, April 1.—Many thousands of residents and others who arrived on special trains, attended a great home rule demonstration here yesterday. Four big platforms had been erected on O'Connell street, from which the speakers addressed the crowds. All the buildings in the vicinity were decorated. A hundred bands participated and the principal corporations, except that of Belfast, attended in state.

Green flags with the words "We Want Home Rule," were displayed everywhere. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Parliamentary party, William Redmond, M.P. for East Clare; John Dillon, M.P. for East Mayo; Joseph Devlin, M.P. for Belfast, and John J. Clancy, M.P. for the North Division of Dublin, were among the speakers. John Redmond predicted that a home rule Parliament would be established on College Green sooner than the most sanguine there expected.

THE LAW IS INADEQUATE

Meredith Makes His Report on Compensation Act.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 1.—That the law of Ontario is entirely inadequate to meet the conditions under which industries are now carried on, or to provide just compensation for workmen employed who meet with injuries, are statements made in the report given out to-day by Sir William Meredith, the commissioner, who was appointed to inquire into the Workmen's Compensation Act. From the material at hand, however, he was not yet ready to make a recommendation for the basis of a new compensation act.

FISHERIES TREATY MAY BE RESCINDED BY DOMINION

Unless the United States Congress Approves New Regulations Drawn Up by International Commissioners Canada May Demand Dissolution of Pact Made In 1908—Clash of Federal and State Authority the Cause.

Ottawa, April 1.—Unless the United States Congress at the present session approves of the regulations, which have been drafted by the commissioners appointed by the international fisheries treaty, signed between the republic and the Dominion on April 11, 1908, it is likely that the Canadian Government will withdraw from the treaty.

Although the treaty was signed four years ago and the commissioners, consisting of Prof. Prince, representing Canada, and Dr. David Starr Jordon, representing the United States, prepared a code of regulations which were agreed to on May 29, 1909, the American Congress have never ratified them.

The British Columbia members, who are particularly interested, have been strongly urging that Canada withdraw from the treaty, and officials of the Department who have made a report to Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, also recommend consideration of withdrawal unless the United States acts at once.

The treaty was originally entered into with a view of protecting the fisheries along the Great Lakes and international boundaries waters. Unless there is common action by the two countries and similar laws and regulatons as to closed seasons, etc., it is almost impossible to protect fisheries in waters common to both nations.

The difficulty in the United States seems to be principally over a clash beween Federal and State authority in the republic, the different State Governments make and administer the fishery regulations, and while it is held by the United States Attorney-General that the treaty overrides state law and rights the Federal Government had no legislation either to enable the promulgation of the regulations or for the appointment of a staff of officers to enforce them.

On Feb. 22, 1910, the President submitted the regulations to Congress in order that due legislation action might be taken. However, they waited to pass Congress. In 1911 the regulations were submitted to the Senate and approved as far as the Atlantic coast was concerned, but rejected in regard to the most important part, the great lakes and Pacific coast. The House of Representatives took no action. So far nothing has been done this year by Congress.

In British Columbia the situation is particularly acute. The treaty was, by a special clause, included the Fraser River. The salmon have to run the gauntlet of the United States nets along the coast of Washington before reaching the Fraser.

W. A. Found of the Fisheries Department, who has been making an investigation for Mr. Hazen, reports to him that the United States fishermen have the first chance at them and they are making the best of it to such an extent that the future of the fishery in the Fraser seems doomed unless more restrictive regulations are enforced in Washington State.

Mr. Found adds that no attempt is made to enforce the Washington State regulations, nor do the fishermen think of abiding by them.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY IN COURT

There is no question but that the matter of medical testimony and its general tenor as offered in Court has received a distinct shock, growing out of the disclosures in the recent case that came before the County Court in Toronto, in which a doctor gave evidence as to the condition of a patient who had been injured in an accident. This evidence was practically killed, and its credibility utterly discounted when the "patient" testified that his accident was all a fake and that he was acting in the interests of the Toronto Street Railway which was endeavoring to show that the facility afforded to instituting actions for alleged injuries, had been abused. The general public are now asking "how much does a doctor really know when he prescribes?" "How seriously are his statements to be taken?"

There is no doubt that the action of the Street Railway authorities is to be condemned as treating a serious matter of procedure lightly, yet thousands of citizens will smile at the outcome. It is possible that the next time expert medical evidence is offered in court that this case, under review will be offered as a precedent, and as much of our law and very little of our justice is founded on precedent, the case may have weight. Anyway it will afford the opposite side a fairly good supply of ammunition to hurl at the defence or prosecution, as the case may be.

If the doctor could not detect that the "patient" was shamming, of how much value would the advice have been in case the man had been really sick. Probably a good deal of medical advise is based on what the patient states as to how he "feels." The practice of medicine is not an exact science. Surgery is very much more so, for the operator can see things and work accordingly. But a man may have pain in his left side, or about his heart and it may arise from any one of ten causes. How is the doctor to determine? It is largely a matter of deduction and sizing up of the individual, his habits, temperament, occupation.

THE SENATE A CATSPAW

The Senate is awake and bouncing with a new found dignity. At last it is cutting some figure in national affairs. No longer may it be described as the "sleep chamber" and be stung by Liberal newspaper calls for its abolition. The members, who once upon a time were feeling old and tired of senatorial life, now get around at eleven o'clock in the mornings, and hold sessions at night. Why? Because the Liberal majority, coached by cunning Sir Wilfrid Laurier is engaged in obstructing the important legislation of the Borden government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals went down and out with a mighty thud last September—that is, the Liberals of the House of Commons. The Senators whom Sir Wilfrid, has appointed during his fifteen years of office, formed a large majority in the upper house. They had been appointed for life, and so escaped the breaking of the storm. Now they are repaying Sir Wilfrid by helping him block the principal reforms proposed by Mr. Borden, and for the putting into effect of which he was elected by the people of Canada.

The Senate stripped the Canada Highways Act, of two of its principal clauses, in obedience to the orders of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the boss wire-puller. The clauses had been opposed by him and the Liberals of the Commons, but the opposition was voted down, in accordance with the principle of majority rule. The Liberal senators rushed into the fray, but have not succeeded in accomplishing their object, as the government refused to accept the amended bill, and has inserted in the estimates the appropriations that the bill would have covered. Then again, the Liberal majority in the senate, is busily trying to prod the corpse of reciprocity. It ordered the presence of some of the western grain-growers who were Laurier henchmen in the last campaign, to give evidence of how much the loss of reciprocity had cost Canada. This little excursion by the Senate Liberals has not been popular with the elements of the party that read reciprocity out of the ranks, with bell, book and candle, but it was part of the Laurier game. The provincial Liberal governments and the Liberal oppositions, respond like mannikins, along with the senate, to the Laurier pulling of the wires. Tactics such as these cannot prevail against a government so solidly entrenched in public esteem as the Borden administration. They are as unavailing as a child's cry for the moon.

Sir James Whitney intimated in the local House that before the Legislature rises there will be made public the views of the Government with reference to the French-English schools, founded on Dr. Merchants report. As an early closing down is looked for the statement should be forthcoming this week.

THE MARKET

Latest Quotations in Grain Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Forage grain to-day soared above even the record-breaking high prices made on previous occasions this week. Bull leaders pressed the buying and compelled the covering of important short lines. In the May option corn went to the extraordinary figure of 75c a bushel, and oats to 55c. The close for both cereals was within 1-8c of the topmost level reached, a net advance of 1-4c to 7-8c for corn and 1-4c to 3-8c for oats. Hog products, too, showed a rise of 5c to 17 1-2c, but wheat a decline of 1-4c to 3-8c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat, ¼d higher to ⅛d lower, and on corn ⅛d higher. Antwerp wheat closed unchanged, Buda-Pest, 1¼c lower, Paris ½c to 1c higher, Berlin unchanged.

More Car Riots In Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 1.—A renewal of the trouble between the general public and the tramway company has occurred. A crowd on Saturday took possession of the cars, rendering the collection of fares impossible. A large force of police were sent out to maintain order, but the demonstrations were so serious that the entire tramway service had to be suspended.

The original trouble arose through the company, which is a Canadian concern, attempting to impose increased fares. Serious disorders occurred a month ago, but the authorities finally succeeded in restoring a semblance of order, and the situation has been quiet for the past week.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"I can't talk any more about it now," I said. "I believe what you say, but it only makes it worse for me to think that mother should have made what amounts to a kind of bargain with you. Maybe by tomorrow everything won't seem so dreadful."

"Of course it won't," said she. "It won't seem dreadful at all. You've no idea how happy we're all going to be. Now, just you sleep well and dream sweet dreams and you'll wake up feeling a different girl. Maybe poor Potter hasn't been as tactful as he might be. That's because he's too much in love to be clever. But he has a lovely surprise for you tomorrow. Something connected with a certain finger of your left hand. I promise you that you'll like it. And now I'm going to leave you in peace for the night."

I can't tell what savage deed I might not have been capable of doing if she had had the idea of kissing me, but she hadn't. She merely patted me on the shoulder and went out, leaving me to stare aimlessly at the door after she had softly closed it.

Chapter 13

I DON'T know how long it was before the thought came to me that I would take Vivace and a handbag and run away to Sally, but anyway it was before it had occurred to me to sit down.

Sally said before she went away that I was to go to her if I felt like it, and Sally always means what she says. Now I felt like it so much that it seemed suddenly the only possible thing to do, so all I had to decide was the best way and the best time to do it.

As for the time, if I didn't escape before Mrs. Ess Kay and Potter formed a hollow square round me to pour their volleys into my heart in the morn all that was prophetic in my soul said I would never escape, but would suffer great confusion and rout.

As for the way, it was more difficult to make up my mind, but the first thing was to see how much money I had in my exchequer, which happened to be a gold purse Sally had given me.

I hadn't spent much, and since coming over dear old Stan had sent me another fifteen pounds, which he wrote was part of one night's winnings at bridge—unusual for him, if it's true, as Vic thinks that he continually loses. Altogether I had nearly thirty pounds in hand, which seemed a lot, only I didn't know at all how much it would cost for Vivace and me to reach Sally in Chicago, and I couldn't tell until I had got irrevocably away from Mrs. Ess Kay and the Moorings.

By this time it was nearly 2 o'clock, and in a couple of hours it would be light. I must sneak out of the house with a dressing bag before any of the servants were stirring, and meanwhile I must pack up all my belongings except such things as Mrs. Ess Kay had given me—so that I could write and have my boxes sent on by and by.

As soon as I had realized that there wasn't a minute to throw away, the worse was over, for I didn't stop to grizzle. I finished getting out of my bridesmaid's dress in which I had danced so gayly a little while ago, dashed a thin frock, a dressing gown and a few other things into my fitted dressing bag (which was almost too heavy to carry, but not quite), and then stuffed everything else, except a traveling frock, into the boxes that were stored in a huge wardrobe built into the wall.

I made all the haste I could, but I'm not clever at packing, so I heard some clock striking 4, when I had slipped on my thin gray canvas coat and skirt, and was putting on my hat, with cold hands that trembled so much I could hardly stick in the hatpins.

I had been excited enough the day I heard I was to come to Mrs. Ess Kay, but I was twice as excited now when I was going to leave her. I felt rather frightened, still I couldn't help smiling when I said to myself how little I had thought when I learned the great news about America and Mrs. Ess Kay, in what circumstances I should part from her.

Each step Vivace and I took in the corridors and on the stairs seemed to make such an incredible noise in the quiet house that I felt like a runaway elephant eloping with a hippopotamus, but either it wasn't as bad as I thought or every one was lying charmed in a magic sleep, for we got out through a window in the dining room, down the veranda steps and across the lawn without being stopped, as I half expected.

I knew the way to the railway station very well, for I had often been there since I arrived (the last time was when I saw Sally off), but the question was, When would there be a train? And a good deal depended on that question, for, though Mrs. Ess Kay and Potter might not exactly have the power to drag me back, I wanted to get as far away from them as I could before they discovered that I had gone.

I was horrified to find when we arrived that, as the Americans say, there was "nothing doing." Not a soul in sight, and there I was, very hot and hysterical, with Vivace and my dressing bag looking like an escaped burglaress. I had been so nervous while I was packing that I'd been afraid of everything, even the soap in the soap dish, which had two great blinking bubbles at one end, like a pair of goblin eyes that watched me move, but I was much worse now, and I could have fallen on the neck of the first official person I saw moving about the station after I had waited for perhaps a quarter of an hour. I don't know what he was, but when I appealed to him for news of a train for New York, instead of calling the police to give Vivace and me in charge as a dangerous pair, he scratched his head and said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

A milk train sounded innocent and suitable to a girl traveling alone, but even if it hadn't I should have been thankful to go in it. I couldn't buy a ticket, it appeared, in the ordinary way; but when the milk train came my man introduced me to another. Perhaps he was a milkman; anyway he seemed to have authority and he said as a favor Vivace and I could be taken. He was a nice person, and he talked a great deal after the train had given several false starts and at last had got off. I sat on my bag, as I had on the docks, in a bare, curious car, which really belonged to the milk, and sometimes when we bumped I should have fallen on the floor if it hadn't been for him. He told me all about himself, and wanted to be told all about me, but I thought, nice as he was, it would be safer not. He asked leading questions which it was hard to keep from answering unless I hurt his feelings, but I think he somehow got the impression that I was going to see a sick relative, though I never exactly said so.

I don't know what time I should have got to New York if I had had to travel all the way with the milk, for milk, it seems, objects to speed, but after we had jogged along for a couple of hours, we crawled into a station where a real train was ready to start. There were just five minutes to say farewell to my friend and buy a ticket, when, all flushed and panting, I found myself and Vivace and the bag in a car different from any I had seen yet. It had no nice easy chairs and plate glass mirrors and wire nettings in the windows, like the one in which I'd traveled to Newport, but there were two rows of seats, and when the train moved a cloud of coal smoke poured in through the door at the front end. Babies squalled, children whined and their faces grew black and damp with mingled dirt and heat while grownup people scolded, but a dear old lady got into my seat before long, and just because I helped her with a bandbox, she made me a present of a huge peach. I was thankful to have it, for by this time I was collapsing with hunger, having been up all night without anything to eat.

The peach made me think of Mr. Brett and the little basket he had sent me on the docks. Then this thought suggested another. He had said he would do anything for me that was in his power, and if he were still in New York it was in his power to help me a good deal. He could tell me how much it would cost to go to Chicago, and he could show me how to get there.

I really believe that at first I hadn't had a thought of seeing him, but once it had got into my head I welcomed it, begged it to sit down and make itself at home.

Leaders Voted Down.

Ottawa, April 1.—The Senate on Saturday showed what it can do when it takes a notion, for it voted down both its leaders.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed, who represents the Government, was the first to meet disfavor. He appealed from the statement of reasons why the Senate should insist upon its amendments to the Government highways bill. The Senators went against him 29 to 9.

Then Sir Richard Cartwright gave his support to a motion by Senator Dandurand, which would have killed the bill by granting Prince Edward Island an increased allowance.

The Senate turned this down by 16 to 12.

The Senate adjourned until Monday morning, at which sitting it is expected that the business of the session will be completed.

Disagree on Sugar Case.

New York, April 1.—The jury in the case of John E. Parsons, Washington B. Thomas, George H. Frasier and Arthur Donner, charged with violating the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law while directors of the American Sugar Refining Co., reported a disagreement yesterday morning. The defendants were charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade in closing the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Co. plant.

The jurors were out from noon Saturday. It was reported that they stood eight to four for acquittal, but one juror, who said he favored acquittal, stated that he was in the minority.

Father Would Upset Marriage.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 1.—Contractor E. Burger, Fort Erie, was here yesterday investigating the marriage of his 17-year-old daughter, Bessie, of the same village, to Frank Van Dusen. The couple were married Thursday by Rev. Mr. Vassar. To the issuer of the license the bride said she was 19 years old, but the girl's father says she is two years younger. He threatens an abduction charge.

Halton County Council will spend $300,000 on good roads.

Emperor Threatened to Quit.

Vienna, April 1.—The crisis in the Hungarian Cabinet, which ended on Saturday by the Emperor Francis Joseph expressing confidence in the Cabinet under the Premiership of Count Kuehn von Hedervary, had a sensational development in a threat of the Emperor to abdicate. It is stated that at a recent audience with the Premier, the Emperor openly threatened to abdicate unless certain proposals in connection with the controversy over the army were immediately abandoned.

When Poultry Is High.

When poultry is high in price economies may be practiced by adding enough vegetables to the dish in some savory style to extend its possibilities. A casserole of young fowl is made in this way by a house mother who is known for ingenuity in making a little go further than most cooks. She has the fowl cut into the usual joints and pieces and sautes them in two tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of olive oil. When they are a rich golden brown she puts them into a fireproof casserole with a little stock and white wine, salt and pepper, covers the dish and lets the contents simmer very slowly. Meanwhile she fries little young onions, little young carrots and some potato balls in the fat in which the chicken was cooked, and about half an hour before the chicken is done she turns the vegetables into the casserole and cooks all together. The casserole goes to the table on a folded napkin over a round platter. If the cooking is long and slow there is no need to provide an expensive chicken for a casserole. A tender fowl will be equally tasty.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys, and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in yellow boxes, 25c. per box, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

MISSIONARY ADDRESS ON CHINA BY REV. MR. JOLLIFFE

Large Congregation Heard Returned Missionary at Mark St. Church.

The congregation of Mark street church, turned out in full yesterday to hear the Rev. S. J. P. Jolliffe, from China, who spoke at both services in that church.

In the morning, Mr. Jolliffe spoke of the missionary and the problems in China. He explained that China, like all other countries had its peculiar problems for the missionaries.

The first difficulty was in learning the Chinese language, which is as difficult a task as the young missionary ever has to set himself to at college or any place before he went to China. Then there must be the adaptation of the missionaries to the peculiar customs and standpoints of the Chinese people. The missionaries must learn the etiquette of the houses of the high officials, of the feast and of the guest room because any breach of the set form in these places would hinder their work.

In Christianizing the Chinese they antagonise the heathen religions as little as possble, but try to seek what is good, and true in their religions, as a ground of appeal to them. For example the Confusionist Creed embraces such jewels as the golden rule, mottoes, encouraging self-control and injunetions to kings to deal justly with their subjects. These, as well as other truths in the Chinese religions are used as a common ground between the two religions. The missionaries are trying to press back the religious thought of the Chinese to its original purity. Thousands of years ago the missionaries remind the Chinese, their fathers worshipped one God, and they are simply calling them back to the worship of the true instead of the false.

The messengers of Christ in the dark land, adopt the constructive and not the destructive method of teaching, because they have perfect faith that there is so much power and beauty in the Christian religion that when they are made to see it, they will simply drop their own. Mr. Jolliffe pointed out how in every way the Chinese religions were inadequate to the spiritual comfort or help, or the other purposes that a religion should serve to those who take its creed. The Chinese carry on the worship of their ancestors, the commonest religious practice in China, because of fear, and not for any love, reverence or veneration for their fathers.

In conclusion, Mr. Jolliffe stated that, because they are foreigners, their attitude to politics, or political upheavals or disturbances must be strictly neutral, because even in their neutrality, they are often thought to be agents of a foreign power. One robust Chinaman came to Mr. Jolliffe to offer his services as a British soldier for four dollars a month, believing that he was an agent of Great Britain, and that he was gathering together a number of soldiers. Some potatoes in bags were seen going into the residence of the missionary, and were thought to be arms and ammunition. There is a yellow peril, said Mr. Jolliffe and it is illustrated somewhat by the lowered moral standard of the white people in the treaty ports where they are allowed to trade. The Chinese religions have an inestimable lowering influence, as have also the creeds of other lands, inhabited by the yellow race. Now after the revolution, China will come more and more into contact with the Christian nations, and as its relations become closer with us their lowering influence will grow. So to save ourselves, we may have to save the Chinese first.

IN RELATION TO "WITH EDGED TOOLS"

Plebiscite was recently issued by an eminent English journal, with a reputed circulation daily of over one million copies, as to the most popular Bristish author. The Scottish Henry Seton Merriman won the palm Of al' his works "With Edged Tools" was chosen favorite. At a computation by the publishers it was reputed to have been read by upwards of two millions of people. It was also proven that only one book vied with it from a point of view of sale and that book, the Bible. It was dramatised four years ago, and has had a run of over one thousand three hundred performances in England and America. It has therefore been estimated that over one million people have paid an average of a shilling each, (one millions shillings) to see the play adapted from the novel read by over two million people.

It will be played here by the original all-star English Company that has been with the play all along, both in London, England, and in Chicago, Montreal, Toronto, etc.

The company includes that famous young actor, Hamilton Deane, and Stanley Bedwell brings back memories of the old London Adelphi, while Hicks brings with him all the polish of Crompton and Collette with whom he was for many years. Florence Dufhunty brings back memories of the great Wilson Barrett, with whom she toured the world, while Alice Maude, brings the refinement of the West End London Theatre with her. It is this company that has been called through America and Canada "The Incomparable English Company" and the coining of the word has not been done by the advertising agent. It is popularly accepted.

DIRECTORS AND CHAIRMEN OF THE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

At a meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, Limited, held on Saturday evening, several directors elected at the previous shareholders' meeting resigned. The following is the present list of directors:

T. D. Mulholland,
A. H. Stratton.
Peter Campbell.
Hazen Ritchie.
W. H. Denham.

Mr. Mulholland was elected president, and Mr. D. D. Brown, accountant of the Bank of Toronto, elected secretary-treasurer.

Greens Committee—Mr. A. H. Stratton.

House Committee—Mr. P. Campbell.

Tennis and Boating—Mr. H. Ritchie.

It was decided that the entrance fee for all newly proposed members should be abolished until July 1st, 1912, and the hope was expressed that a large number would avail themselves of this and apply for membership. It is altogether likely that the entrance fee will be raised to an amount equal to the annual fee, after the first of July.

The directors look for a very successful season.

A PRESENTATION

By The Review Staff to Mr. John Thompson.

Mr. John Thompson in severing his connections as foreman of the job department of the Review was honored by his fellow-employees and the staff of the newspaper and business office, Saturday afternoon, when an appreciative and congratulatory address together with the presentation of a three-piece silver service was made to him.

The address expressed regret at his departure coming as it did after seven years of association which had been most pleasant and also the confidence of his friends of the Review that he would continue to make good, he having shown that winning combination, thoroughness, industry and celerity. Congratulatory reference was made to his approaching marriage.

In a suitable acknowledgment, "Jack" thanked his friends for their kindness and assured them that he would always be pleased to meet his Review friends in the future.

Mr. Thompson leaves shortly for Charge Against Jew Who Bought Eggs Was Dismissed.

There was considerable interest taken at Police Court this morning in an "Easter Eggs case." On Saturday morning last, P. C. Kidd, while on duty at the market, saw Joseph Lexchin, a local Jew, with a basket containing about seventy-five dozen eggs, before ten o'clock. The officer believed the man to be a "huckster" or "runner" according to the by-law governing such things, and this morning, Lexchin appeared before Magistrate Dumble. When the charge was read he pleaded "not guilty' through his counsel, Mr. G. N Gordon.

The defendant lives at 166 Stewart street. He is a junk dealer, and came to the city, about seven months ago, from Fenelon Falls, where he lived about five years. He is a married man and has a family of seven. He explained that the Jewish Easter started to-night, and lasted eight days, in which the Jews ate only unleavened bred, eggs, and and potatoes. He was sending a couple of cases of eggs to his half-brother in Toronto, who had a family of eight. This half-brother had done him several favors and he wished to make him a present.

Lexchin also expected a sister from the States with a family of eight. This would increase the number of egg eaters at his home, to fifteen persons. By allowing two eggs apiece three meals a day for eight days, Mr. Gordon calculated that about sixty dozen eggs would be eaten in the Lexchin household during Easter week.

SHOULD BE 11 A.M.

His Worship dismissed the case and in doin so remarked that "hucksters" and "runners" should not be allowed to purchase produce on the market before 11 a.m. The citizens should be given a better chance than they get.

Mr. Gordon and Chief Thompson agreed with Magistrate Dumble's view and it is possible that an attempt will be made to amend the by-law.

RE-INCARNATION

The Comedy "David Garrick"

You have often heard the theory that many men living to-day have lived before on this earth, that their present existence is a re-incarnation. There are some who think they can remember dimly days of long ago. If there is anything in this theory then Mansfield must have lived in the time of Garrick, and been an ardent admirer of the British Roscius in the play when "Davy" was king of the London stage. Mansfield's passion for Garrick is permeating. Garrick is the Mansfield model. With Garrick Moreover he believes that the truly great actor should be equally at home in either comedy or tragedy.

The comedy, "David Garrick," is written around an actual experience of this once famous actor, which happened in London, during his famous run in Hamlet, with a society belle who had fallen in love with him. The play places the actors in such a position that he must act both comedy and tragedy, a task which has tried the abilities of some of our most famous actors. Mr. Clifton Mallory seems one of the few who has made a success of this very trying character. He will be seen at the Grand for 2 days, next Friday and Saturday, April 5 and 6, with matinee, Good Friday at 2:30.

Dr. Bruce Hewson, L. R. C.S., L.R.C.P., Edinburgh, has opened an office at the corner of Charlotte and Stewart Streets for general practice of medicine. Special attention given to diseases of eye, ear, nose and throat. Phone, Bell 220, Hours 9-10 a.m., 2-4 p.m., and 7-8 p.m.

Easter Twilight Musicale

SPRIGS OF SPORT

Bright Liners on Athletic Topics

CHAUCER ELLIOTT WILL MANAGE FROM THE BENCH

Canadian League Schedule Being Drawn up — 120 Games to be Provided for Each Club.

Hamilton, April 1.—A letter received from Chaucer Elliott evidences that the popular athlete and coach still maintains that cheery attitude which has marked his fight against the dread malady from which he is suffering. He had expressed much confidence in his ability to beat the game and winds up by remarking that, "However, if fighting and keeping confidence is going to help any, you'll see me taking tickets on your gate some day in the near future." Evidently Chaucer has given up all hope of further participation in active sport, but still feels confident that he will be able to look after the business end of the Saints and act as bench manager. Writing about his ball team, he remarks that he has a pretty good bunch signed up, just enough players to improve the weak spots in last year's squad, and that he is well satisfied with the manner in which the league has promised to look after his interests for him.

"You made a good trip when you landed Teed and Mueller," he writes, "as they are two good men, especially Teed, and with some control there is no doubt but that he will go up into fast company before the year is over. He has a wonderful curve ball, and looked like one of the best prospects in the league last year."

Brantford Expositor:—Secretary M. M. Robinson, of the Canadian League, and Mr. Harris Walsh, the Brantford club secretary, commanced the big job of drawing up the Canadian League schedule yesterday, and will probably have it completed by Monday next. The schedule will then be submitted to the league executive, for adoption or rejection. It is hoped, however, that it will please the magnates, and give general, all-round satisfaction. The schedule will provide for about 120 games by each club, which means that Brantford fans will have the opportunity of watching some 60 contests during the summer. There are numerous intricate problems in the drawing of this years' schedule, and a special effort is being made to provide the weaker clubs with good business. Sunday games, it might be stated, are being given to Ottawa. At present the Expositor is unable to announce any of the dates, which have been scheduled, as none have as yet been approved. From the general appearance of things, however, it looks as if the league was a whole lot stronger this year.

HERE'S A HIGH SOUNDING NAME

Byersville, April 1.

To Nickname Editor, Review:

Dear Sir,—I think a suitable name for the Peterborough ball team would be the "SkyScrapers" or the "Bounding Elks."

S. H.

Ernest Lusby, aged 17, was sentenced at Goderich to two years for an assault on a farmer's daughter.

STILL ANOTHER PITCHER SIGNED

William Schaeffer is the Latest for Local Club

Manager Templin now has five pitchers under contract, and his team is about completed. So far the club roster consists of: Catchers, Trout and Brode; infielders, Rothenberger, Connolly, Templin, Climer, Tully and Hartman; pitchers, Bartlett, Baver, Scull, Davis and Schaeffer; outfielders, Schwartz and Beard.

Secretary Davidson received the signed contract of Wm. Schaeffer this morning. Schaeffer is a right-hand-pitcher, has speed and a good curve ball. He was with Charlotte in the North Carolina Association last spring, but some older pitchers were with the club and he was forced out. Since then he has been pitching independent ball, and there were no clubs in his neighborhood that could do anything with his pitching. He is 6 feet 1 inch tall and 25 years of age. He weighs about 185 pounds, and his habits are good. He has had considerable experience in working professional ball clubs.

Manager Templin says in his letter to the secretary: "This makes five pitchers that I have under contract, and if some other deals that I have on work out right I can pick out some good first class men at my leisure. I can then release a man as I go along, and in that way strengthen my club."

POTTER'S FIELD.

Where New York's Pauper Dead Rest In Forgotten Graves.

Three times each week a boat leaves an East river wharf for Hart's island bearing its load of the city's pauper dead. About 200,000 interments have been made in the city cemetery since its opening in 1869. For the first four years, or until July, 1874, when trench 1 was made, the number of bodies was known, but not the location of each body. Since then the records show where each of the dead was buried.

An entry in the death book, which is kept in the little office, is all that tells where the burial was made. A numbered incision made in the plain wood coffin furnished by the department of charities is the means whereby the authorities are able to locate a body.

It is of interest to recall the origin of the designation potter's field. The name comes from the New Testament, Matthew xxvii, where the suicide of Judas is recorded: "Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed innocent blood. And they said: What is that to us? See thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple and departed and went and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the silver pieces and said, It is not lawful to put them in the treasury, because it is the price of blood. And they took counsel and bought with them the potter's field to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called the field of blood unto this day."

Hart's island contains about 100 acres and is oval in shape. Not more than a quarter of the island has been used, and half a dozen generations will pass away before the great army of the city's pauper dead will cause any overcrowding.—New York Sun.

LEGISLATIVE BELLS.

Whenever there is a roll call in the house of representatives or any other procedure requiring the attendance of members 500 electric bells start ringing simultaneously. They are operated from a switchboard or call box at the speaker's desk. Similarly in the senate 239 bells are operated. At the capitol these gongs are known as legislative bells.

Four hundred of the house bells are in the house office building and 100 in the house wing of the capitol. There is a bell in the room of every member, one in every committee room and several in the cloakrooms, corridors, lobbies and restaurants. In the senate office building there are 140 gongs and ninety-nine in the senate proper.

On the roll call in either house the signal is given as soon as the first name is called by the clerk. Senators and congressmen who are in their offices hurry to their respective chambers in order to answer to their names. Each house has a different system of signals, as follows:

The senate—One bell, yeas and nays; two bells, call of the senate; three bells, executive session; four bells, adjournment; five bells, doors open after executive session.

House—One bell, tellers; two bells, yeas and nays; three bells, call of the house; four bells, adjournment; five bells, recess.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Canal of Steel.

In connection with the Nile irrigation system at Wadi Kom Ombo there has been constructed a canal of steel 5,200 feet in length whereby water from the service reservoir is distributed to the earth canals. In section this metallic canal is U shaped, twenty feet broad and twelve feet deep. It is made up of seventeen sections, connected by expansion joints, and the riveted steel plates of which it consists are six millimeters in thickness. During the construction the engineers were troubled, among other things, by the unequal expansion of the metal. The expansion was greatest on the side where the sun happened to shine full upon the plates, and the inequality was often sufficient to displace the end of a section about to be joined as much as four inches to one side or the other.—Harper's.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

BRITAIN'S COAL SUPPLY

Prophesied Exhaustion of Fuel Will Hurry the Advance of Improved Engines and Machinery.

Scientific calculation goes to show that the available quantity of coal in the proved British coal fields is in the neighborhood of 100,000 million tons, and that if the rate of working increases as it is doing this will be completely exhausted in 175 years. And in the life of a nation 175 years is a span. It is far from certain, indeed, whether the period named is not an extreme one, for the ever-expanding mechanical activity of the world indicates an acceleration of the rate of output on which the calculation is based, and so it is not beyond the range of possibility that the children of those now living may, before they become octogenarians, witness the contraction of industry, the beginnings of the at first slow but afterwards rapid transformation of Britain's great career.

It is pointed out however that this summing up of our learned men does bolt the door against a more hopeful prospect. At present the greater part of the energy potential in the coal mined is wasted. There can be economy in many ways, it is pointed out, by the substitution of turbine engines for reciprocating engines, thereby reducing the coal required per horse-power from 4lb. or 5lb. to 1½lb. or 2lb.; by the further replacement of turbines by gas engines, raising the economy to 30 per cent. of the total energy available in the coal, and thus lowering the coal consumption per horse-power to 1lb. or 1¼lb.; by creating the power at the pitmouth and distributing it electrically, as is already done in the north of England. There are other methods by which economy can be effected, but none of them perhaps so obvious as that of checking waste in the domestic grate as well as the factory chimney.

TWO NEW LAKES

A spectacular feature attending the building of the barge canal, in New York State, is a change in the map of the state that will add to its lakes two bodies of water of considerable size.

A profile of the canal across the state shows a continuous descent from Lake Erie to the confluence of Seneca and Oneida rivers, then a rise to the comparatively low divide in the vicinity of Rome, followed by another continuous descent, to the Hudson. From this it will be seen that there are two critical points in furnishing a water supply for the canal. The problem at the western end is readily solved by the abundance to Lake Erie, but throughout the history of the state canals, the question of supplying the Rome summit level has always presented more difficulties, and has led to the building of a chain of reservoirs among the hills to the south and within the Adirondacks on the north. For the enlarged canal these existing sources are retained, and the two large reservoirs are added.

The work of building the dam and clearing the site at Delta, for impounding the waters of the upper Mohawk, about five miles north of Rome is now about three-quarters done. Across the greater part of the river gorge, 600 feet wide at its base, the dam has reached its full height of 100 feet above the loftiest foundation. When the gaps left for the river and an existing canal are closed, and the top of the dam is extended to its 1,300 feet of length, there will be formed a reservoir some four miles long and two miles wide at the base of its triangular shape, having an average depth of twenty-three feet and a capacity of about 20,750,000,000 gallons.

The Mystery of Glass

A correspondent recently reported what he described as the 'curious freak' of a backbird flying against a parlor window many times at the some spot continuously. Such an incident is not uncommon. Birds have been known to fight for hours at a time, day after day, with their own image reflected in a pane of glass, pecking and fluttering against the pane and quite exhausting themselves in their fury to demolish the supposed rival. It is another instance of how the arts of our civilization corrupt and confuse the birds. It is the same with fishes. Darwin tells a story of a pike in an aquarium seperated by plate glass from fish which were its proper food. In trying to get at the fish the pike would often dash with such violence against the glass as to be completely stunned. It did this for more than three months before it learned caution. Then when the glass was removed the pike would not attack those particular fish, but would devour others freshly introduced. It did not at all understand the situation, but associated the punishment it had received, not with the glass, but with a particular kind of fish. Darwin's American monkeys proved themselves more 'knowing.'

A New Cave Wonder

"Cathedral Cave" is the name that has been given to a vast cavity in the earth near Prescott, Arizona, in which are found some of the most awe-inspiring works of nature, in the form of stalactites and stalagmites, that the eye of man ever beheld; also there are evidences that the place was used both as a burial ground and as a dwelling by some prehistoric race. The discovery was made accidentally only a few weeks ago, when a picnic party was going through a large cave that has been known for years. One of the party stumbled on a dark and narrow crevice giving access to the glorious "Cathedral." From the floor were picked up human bones and articles, which indicated that the cave had been used as a burial ground by the mysterious people who inhabited the south-west of what is now the United States before the Aztecs. Implements and domestic pottery were strewn about in profusion.

Fruit Dealers Allowed Shipment to Remain on Sidewalk

Longo & Co., the George street wholesale fruit dealers, allowed over thirty boxes of oranges to remain on the sidewalk in front of their premises, George street, on Friday afternoon after three o'clock. The manager appeared in police court this morning to answer to a charge which was laid against the company.

P. C. Kidd testified to having seen the orange crates on the street from 2.55 p.m., until 4.30 p.m., on Friday.

The manager, who had a lengthy name, informed the court that he had no back yard and the fruit in question was placed in front of the shop for the purpose of transportation. Everything had to be taken in and out the front door.

His Worship wished to give the merchants all the chance possible, and suspended sentence. He read the by-law which said that after 3 p.m., the merchants must not have piled on the sidewalk boxes, bales, etc., and on Saturday the walk in front of their premises must be cleared at 10 a.m. Before that hour a small space may be taken up by cases, etc., which are being unpacked.

AN APPEAL FOR MORE PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY

The pulpit of Charlotte street Methodist Church on Sunday was occupied by the pastor in the morning and Rev. C. E. Cragg, of Mark street church in the evening. The latter delivered a strong, urgent appeal for the carrying out of a more practical Christianity in every-day life. He also dwelt at some length on the mystery of life and its varied phases.

During the service solos were rendered by Miss Brock and Miss Edna Pringle.

The afternoon service in the Sunday school, was an open session. A black-board talk was given by Mr. Ivor Brock manager of the Brinton Carpet Company. Mr. Brock illustrated some of the qualities or virtues which should be sought for by all, and which when put into practice in daily life would exemplify the character of the Master.

Mr. Brock's address was very interesting to the smaller children.

The annual missionary offering was received also, $39.27 being received. One class contributed $6 alone.

LARGE INCREASE IN MISSION OFFERINGS

In connection with the missionary anniversary at Mark street Methodist church on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Jolliffe of China occupied the pulpit, morning and evening, and the missionary offering was one hundred and fifty per cent. in advance of last year, and much in advance of any year's offering in the history of the church.

The congregation in the morning was exceptionally large.

C. O. F. RECEIVED HOLY COMMUNION

About two hundred members of the Catholic Order of Foresters received Holy Communion yesterday in St. Peter's Cathedral.

The Foresters met at their rooms on Hunter street at 7.45 o'clock and marched to the church in a body. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor officiated.

HOTEL PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

Port Hope, April 1.—A local syndicate, headed by Reeve Mitchell and Mr. A. E. Law, has purchased the Queen's Hotel property on Simcoe street north. The price paid was $17,000, and the buy is considered a very good one. The purchase will be one for the town's benefit as well, for it is understood that these enterprising citizens will remodel the hotel, and erect two stores, each of about 20 feet frontage, to the north of the hotel.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

At the twelfth annual meeting of the Ontario Library Association to be held at the Toronto Public Library, Easter Monday and Tuesday, April 8th and 9th, "The Work of the Librarian" will be dealt with by Miss B. Mabel Dunham, Berlin' Mr. W. O. Carson, London; Miss J. S. Reid, Chatham; Miss H. Young, University of Toronto; Miss Annie T. O'Meara, London; Dr. G. H. Locke, Miss Poole, Miss Barnstead, Toronto Public Library, and Miss L. E. Stearns, Free Library Commission, Madison, Wis. Public Library Boards should be sure to send their librarians to this library meeting. It is too good to miss.

BANQUET FOR ANGLICAN LAYMEN

St. John's Church Association Committee met on Saturday and arranged for the banquet on April 10th, for the Laymen of the three Anglican churches also for a social for St. John's congregation on Monday, April 15th.

Mr. Claxton presided over the meeting which was held in the Bank of Ottawa.

All Saints' Church

Three services will be held in All Saints' Church this week. Stainer's Crucifixion will be sung this evening by All Saints' and St. John's choirs, and on Wednesday evening the regular Lenten service will be taken by the rector. The service on Good Friday is to be held at 10.30 a. m.

"The Palms" was given in good voice by Miss Ruth Dawson, at the evening service yesterday.

OBITUARY

The Late Wm. Tully

A widely known and respected resident of Smith, in the person of Mr. Wm. Tully passed away yesterday at his residence, lot 4, concession 2. Mr. Tully has spent all the 75 years of his life on his farm in Smith and was popular with both his country and city friends who will regret to learn of his demise.

The late Mr. Tully had been ailing throughout the winter, nevertheless his death is a shock to his many friends and relatives.

He is survived by two brothers, one in Midland, and Thomas, of Peterborough, and one sister, Mrs. F. Weir, East City.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Cragg, officiating.

Mrs. Thomas Hickey

The death occurred on Saturday of Mrs. Thomas Hickey, of Emily.

The deceased was well and favorably known, not only in her home township, but also among a large circle of acquaintances in Peterborough and elsewhere.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, two daughters and one son. The daughters are Lily and Stella, and the son is Frank, all the children living at home.

The funeral took place this morning to St. Martin's church, and thence to St. Martin's cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Michael Crough, D. Crough, Patrick Flaherty, Dennis Sullivan, W. Lowes, and Jos. Travis. The Rev. Father Fitzpatrick conducted the funeral services.

ANNIVERSARY AT ST. JAMES'

Interesting Services With Rev. P. P. Bryce Taking the Pulpit.

Large congregations, morning and evening, attended St. James' Methodist church on Sunday, where special services were held commemorating the third anniversary of the dedication of the church. Rev. P. P. Bryce, pastor of Earlscourt church, Toronto, preached at both services, and also addressed the open session of the Sunday school. The annual thank offerings were received, which goes to clearing off the church liability.

Mr. Bryce spoke in the evening on the fruitful work that is being promulgated in the neighborhood of his church in Toronto. His missionary labors were chiefly among the poorer classes of English and Scotch immigrants, who come to live in his neighborhood. The church was accomplishing splendid work, and through the agency of the clubs for men, women and children, the people were being benefitted in every way.

The pastor described his work in a very interesting manner. Mrs. Bryce, his wife, also spoke in the afternoon, she being an active assistant in the work.

This evening the annual congregational gathering will be held.

JEWISH FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

The Jewish feast of the Passover commences this evening at sunset and the large number of Jews in this city will take part in the ceremonies which commemorate the delivery of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage and the passing by of the destroying angel.

COUNTY COURT

At County Court this afternoon Magistrate Edmison was hearing a case between two Douro residents. James Crowley and Michael Leahy. Crowley accused Leahy of using abusive language.

Mr. Moore, K.C., was the counsel for the complainant, while Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the defendant.

LOCAL FISH AND GAME SOCIETY

Rainbow Trout Wanted for the Back Lakes

The members of the Peterborough Fish and Game Society met on Saturday evening last to discuss the question of placing rainbow trout in the back lakes. The chain of lakes yearly attracts tourists from many places, and as they nearly all pass through Peterborough, it means that considerable money will be left here from time to time. Of late years the game fish in the old haunts have become less and less, and it is about time to stock the lakes with something new if they are still to be of interest to the sportsmen.

With the double view of preserving the sport and of benefitting the community by making the lakes an even more desirable summer resort than they have been, the local Fish and Game Society decided on Saturday night to interview Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., about the matter. They adjourned until next Saturday evening, when a report will be made as to his disposition in the matter.

WAS VETERAN OF THE FIRST RIEL REBELLION

Death of Mr. John Robinson Benson Sunday Morning

On Sunday morning about 10.30, there passed away at the residence of Mr A. M. Brock, 571 Weller St., a veteran of the first Riel rebellion, in the person of John Robinson Benson. The deceased had reached the grand old age of seventy, but the closing two years of his life were passed in poor health, the end coming peacefully on Sunday.

The late Mr. Benson was no stranger to Peterborough, and many of the older residents will be able to recall the time, when with his father, the late Colonel J. R. Benson, he lived on the premises now occupied by Mr. Richard Hall, on Water street. Forty-three years ago the deceased, then a young man, left Peterborough with his father, who had charge of the local sappers and miners, to take part in quelling the first uprising instituted by the rebellious Louis Riel. When this was subdued successfully, the late Mr. Benson joined himself to the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, with whom he served with credit for some years. Leaving the force he entered the cattle buying business. For the past twenty years he had lived a retired life, and lately feeling that the end was approaching he came to Peterborough to spend his remaining days.

The deceased was the second son of the late Colonel Benson. He was married in Winnipeg to a daughter of the late William Taylor, formerly of Lindsay, and later of Winnipeg, who survives him, together with three daughters and two sons.

The daughters are, Marjorie, Kate, and May, of Winnipeg, and the sons, John, of Edmonton, and Charles, of Vancouver. Five sisters are, Mrs. Green, of Toronto; Mrs. Bell, of Fernie, B.C.; Mrs. (Colonel) Worsnop, of Vancouver; Miss Martha, of Vancouver, and Mrs. A. M. Brock, of this city, who was with him when death occurred. One brother, James, of Winnipeg, also survives.

Interment will take place in Winnipeg, the body being forwarded Sunday afternoon on the 4.28 C.P.R.

Body Turned to Stone Brought Into World After Forty Years

MOTHER AN AGED LADY

Exceedingly Rare Case Comes Before Toronto Doctors

Toronto, April 1.—In a doctor's office on Sherbourne street lies a little figure with arms crossed on its breast. It has legs, feet, hands, lips and ears just like a flesh and blood baby. Even the delicate tracery of the superficial veins in the thin membrane that encased it can be seen, but the sharpest knife would make no impression on them. The infant is of mineralized bone—a lithopaedion, or, an ossopaedion the doctors term it—literally speaking, a "stone baby" or a "bone baby."

BABY FORTY YEARS OLD.

For forty years its mother, a resident of Crawford street, carried this little seven-months' child that she did not know had died.

DOCTOR COULD NOT FIND IT.

When a young woman of 27 the mother's busy fingers made pretty preparations for the little babe that did not come.

Perplexed, she consulted a Montreal physician, for she lived in the eastern metropolis then. He said her hopes had been unfounded, and that the growth, whatever it was, would be absorbed.

COMING BY UNUSUAL ROUTE

And so it was to a certain extent, for all the moisture and substance dried out of the little frame which had formed in the extra uterine duct instead of the womb.

Even there it might have lived and been brought to the world by a Caeserine operation. But another little citizen of the Kingdom of the Future curious to see the light of day, crowded to the portals so that Father Time's ship might bring it soon to earth, and all unknowingly crushed and jostled the little relative into the Kingdom of the Past to live in the realm where "there are no dead."

FOUR CHILDREN FOLLOWED.

The second child was born and wore the other baby's clothes. Three other children followed; two had preceded it.

The mother, not as shapely as in her girlhood days, but a comfortable-looking, stout old lady of 67, suffered no pain or inconvenience until a year ago.

Latterly the pain increased to agony. The operation showed that years had sapped the former strength of muscle and membrane. The weight of the "stone baby" would soon have caused perforation of the bowels and death.

MOTHER LIVES TO SEE IT.

But the little form has at last been brought to the light that forty years ago was denied it, and the aged mother has lived to see it.

Such cases as this, though unique, are not unknown. Dr. Fraser quotes one in Brockville some years ago and says that for a large sum a New York medical museum secured the lithopaedion.

IT MADE ANOTHER WEIGHT.

"This case," continued Dr. Fraser, "was most unusual and severe, as the placenta, or afterbirth, had to be dissected out from an altogether different place. It had also ossified or petrified and necessitated the removal of some of the intestines.

"This is the sixth day since the operation, and the patient is doing well. She is not out of danger yet, but she is a woman of unusual vitality and we have strong hopes for her recovery."

When the eye is said to be astigmatic, the meaning is that the eye has a double focus. This annoys the brain and the eye will strain unconciously to bring about a clear focus; this strain usually causes headaches. Astigmatism is usually congenital or so at birth.—It is remedied by wearing glasses ground from the segment of a cylinder. These glasses, if rightly made, brings images to a focus on the retina and thus relieve all strain.

SEND OFF FOR HAROLD CLANCEY

Teammates and Friends Presented Him With Suit Case

The members of the local Junior O.H.A. team and a few of those of the club who have been most closely associated with the team during the season, gathered in Hooper's palm parlors on Saturday evening, at a farewell banquet to Harold Clancey one of their number, who left yesterday evening for Seaforth to enter the Dominion Bank. Those present besides the guest of honor, were Joe Dwyer, Pete Mulloy, Fred. Denison Rollie Weir, A. P. Hall, D. Kenneatley, Stan. Cook, Ed. Dillon, Gene Hartubise, Mark Kenneatley, Thos. McGeachie, I. D. Craig and L. H. Ingram.

After the party has partaken of the splendid supper spread by mine Host Hooper, Mr. Thos. McGeachie, as chairman, referred to the many pleasant associations which had been enjoyed by the players during the past season. This was the first break in the "happy family."

Art. Hall, captain of the Juniors, was called upon and he read the following address, while Fred Denison on behalf of the boys, presented Harry with a splendid solid leather suitcase.

Dear Harry—We, the members and management of the Peterboro Junior O. H. A. team, otherwise the Bear Cats, hearing of your intending departure from the city, could not allow you to leave the city without giving you a remembrance of the happy season we have had together and a testimonial of the kindly relationships that have existed. We one and all, are sorry to hear that you are leaving. It is the first break in the pleasant circle of friendship that has been formed during the past season and while we unite in wishing you every success in your new sphere, we regret that you are going away from Peterborough. We ask you to accept this suit-case as a slight testimony to our esteem and liking for you, and trust that you will have many occasions to use it in coming back to Peterborough, where there will always be a warm welcome from the Bear Cats.

Harold Clancey is a distinct loss to the hockey interests in Peterboro. This was his first season in O. H. A. company, but he made good with a vengeance, developing into a star player before the season was over. He will be too old for the Juniors next season, but he could catch an Intermediate team place in nearly any town and if his Bank allows him to remain in Seaforth next season, he will be a valuable addition to their Intermediate team.

In going to Seaforth, Clancey will be in the same Bank with another Peterboro boy, in Hugh Burritt, of the champion Strathconas. This youngster has also been making a mark since he left Peterboro, and it was largely due to his efforts that the Seaforth Juniors, went so far as they did in the season of 1912.

Something Out of the Ordinary in Window Dressing

One of the brightest Easter displays in the city is to be found in the window of Coleman Bros., the George street confectioners. There is an appropriate arrangement of bright colors on the white background that reminds one of the Easter season, and the alluring array of chocolate eggs, chickens, rabbits and elephants, and other novelties, some of which are wrapped in bright colored tinsel paper, is certainly well calculated to induce the customer to buy.

The window is an attractive one and could scarcely be made at any cost more suitable to the Easter time

HINDU ACCUSED OF PERJURY

Vancouver, April 1.—Houssain Rahim, the Hindu real estate agent of Vancouver, charged with perjury in getting his name on the provincial voters' list, was up in the police court Saturday. The court fixed bail at $10,000 and adjourned the case until Monday. Detectives who made the arrest, also executed a warrant to search the effects of Rahim. Detective Thompson said he found among Rahim's effect a quantity of Industrial Workers of the World literature, and a petition signed by a number of Hindus for the removal of Mayor Findlay from office.

The maximum penalty for conviction on a charge such as that preferred against Rahim, is fourteen years' imprisonment.

To Celebrate Cartier Centenary.

Winnipeg, April 1.—E. W. Villeneuve and John Boyd, delegates from the Cartier centenary committee of Montreal, who have been several days in Winnipeg with the object of securing the co-operation of the Manitoba Government and the City of Winnipeg in the great celebration which is to be held at Montreal in 1914, in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Sir George Etienne Cartier's birth, left for home Saturday. Their mission was crowned with complete success. Premier Roblin having promised a grant of $5,000 and the co-operation of his Government.

DAY OF FREEDOM.

Lunatic Escapes From Penitentiary, But Is Soon Taken.

Kingston, April 1.—Joseph Chartrand, insane prisoner, under a life sentence, who escaped Saturday morning from the penitentiary and caused a big sensation, was caught late Saturday afternoon and the staff of guards of the big prison are breathing easier.

Late in the afternoon a guard was sent on an errand to the old building where binder twine was made for many years, but which is now not in service, and there he found Chartrand crouching in one of the old chimneys. He offered no resistance and was soon back in his cell. It was thought he had scaled the wall, but he says the rope he had was not strong enough so he postponed the trip and intended getting over the wall Saturday night. After getting out in the yard he secured entrance to the top storey binder twine department by climbing up the fire escape. He wanted to get into the building so as to fit himself out with a good piece of rope to scale the wall.

There is a rule at the penitentiary calling for the bars to be tested by the guards every Saturday, and it was for this reason that this scheme for escaping had been planned for Friday night. Chartrand had his bars almost free Friday night, an dhe knew that they could not stand another test. Chartrand had a stock of food with him. He felt very sorry that the plans had failed, as he felt sure he would have been able to get over the wall Saturday night and make the trip across the ice to the American side.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—No anthracite or bituminous coal will be taken from the mines of the country to-day by union miners as a result of the suspension which went into effect at midnight last night, due to wage troubles. More than 400,000 miners, about 150,000 in the anthracite field, and 250,000 in the bituminous, will take a vacation, which probably will last only a few weeks. Unlike strike conditions, the miners will leave pumpmen and others at work to protect the mines from flooding or other trouble due to a shutdown of the plants.

The bituminous miners will be out only long enough for the wage agreement, reached in Cleveland, to be ratified by the miners by a referendum vote, as it is believed the agreement will be sanctioned by a large majority of the men. The suspension in the anthracite mines will be of longer duration, as no agreement has yet been reached between the miners and operators. After negotiations were broken off in New York on March 1, between the anthracite miners and operators, nothing was done toward getting together again until Saturday, when both sides agreed to meet in Philadephia on April 10, and reopen negotiations.

Collapsed In Hospital.

Toronto, April 1.—After an illness of several weeks Mrs. Johanna Murphy, aged 70 years, of 87 Wright avenue, left her cot in St. Michael's Hospital with the intention of attending early morning mass yesterday, but she had only walked a few steps along the hospital corridor when she collapsed to the floor. She died within a few moments. The body was removed to her home.

PARLIAMENT IS ADJOURNED AFTER HISTORIC SITTING

Speech From the Throne Refers to the Boundaries Act and Its Effect Upon Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec—Consuls Sit In Places of Honor—Georgeous Scene Marks the Ceremony of Proroguing the House.

Ottawa, April 2.—To the accompaniment of the booming of cannon, the blare of martial music and with all the gorgeous trappings of stately ceremonial. the first session of the first Parliment of Right Hon. Robert Laird Borden, P.C., yesterday passed into history.

Four o'clock had been the hour set and long before that time crowds of interested spectators began to gather along the terrace, braving the chilly wind, which, under lowering skies, swept over Parliament Hill. A few awaited the arrival of Their Royal Highnesses on the lofty vantage ground of the roof of the new wing on the Commons' side, getting a bird's eye view which well repaid the climb.

It was just 4.20 p.m. when the guard furnished by the Governor-General's Foot Guards sprang to attention and presented arms. The royal standard was run up and the band played the National Anthem as the royal carriages, attended by a mounted escort from the Princess Louise Dragoons Guards, drew up under the arches of the great tower.

His Royal Highness was accompanied by the Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia and attended by Col. Lowther.

The House of Commons had met at three o'clock and passed the interval after their business was concluded singing songs and generally enjoying themselves.

Then came a surprise. Three taps were heard on the door, and the sergeant-at-arms—Col. Smith is always inquisitive about these little things—discovered the gentleman usher of the Black Rod lurking in the lobby, awaiting a chance to butt in with a summons from the Governor-General that the Commons attend him immediately in the chamber of the honorable the Senate.

But this was not the surprise. The House of Commons has seen "Ernie" Chambers before. But "Ernie" Chambers' clothes!

Never before had mortal eye of Commoner beheld the pristine glory of those knee-length velvet inexpressibles, the sheen of those silken hose or the glint of those silver shoe buckles.

"Ernie" Chambers' shirt was lace-bedizened. but his outward bearing was as calm and collected as ever. Like the Pied Piper of Hamelin, he drew the Commoners in a long trailing line after him to the Senate.

The scene in the Red Chamber was gorgeous, though lacking in the display of feminine finery which marked the opening of Parliament. For the first time Premier Borden wore his gold-laced Privy Councillor's uniform and occupied a position of honor to the right of the throne. The diplomatic corps were given seats on the floor of the House.

After the royal assent had been given to the legislation of the session, not forgetting the supply bill, His Royal Highness read in a clear voice, first in English and then in French, the speech from the throne, as follows:

"Honorable gentlemen of the Senate:

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

"I am glad, at this comparatively early period of the season, to be able to relieve you from further attendance in Parliament. The diligence with which you have applied yourselves to your public duties calls for my warm acknowledgements.

"The act to extend the boundaries of Manitoba and to make financial provision commensurate with the requirements of its enlarged area, will, I am sure, be welcomed, alike by the present inhabitants of that province and by those who dwell in the added territory now admitted to the advantages of the provincial status.

"The enlargement of the limits of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec will undoubtedly contribute to the progress and development of those northern territories which hitherto have been little known and which will henceforth form part of those great provinces.

"Highly important and far-reaching advantages should result from the measure to aid and encourage agriculture in concert with the several provincial Governments, which I doubt not will materially contribute to the development and progress of that great basic industry.

"The act respecting grain—a most comprehensive measure—will, it is hoped, assist the farmer in the marketing of his produce, as well as in obtaining better prices, thus relieving him of disadvantages under which he has hitherto labored.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I thank you in His Majesty's name for the liberal provision you have made for the requirements of the public service.

"Honorable gentlemen of the Senate: "I am happy to congratulate you on the many indications of the abounding prosperity of this country and I earnestly pray that the blessings of Providence may always attend this favored land."

The Parliament was declared prorogued till May 9 next, a formal date which does not signify anything as to when the next session will begin.

Then Their Royal Highnesses passed to their carriages again, again the band played, the guard saluted, and, as the pennons on the lances of the Dragoons, gayly fluttered down the hill, the royal standard fell from the flagstaff, and all was over.

You Are on the Bench

YOU—the Public—are the judge. On your good opinion and your good word depends the success of the advertised article. For no amount of advertising will induce you to buy a second time what you do not like. No advertising will offset the bad effect of a dissatisfied buyer.

That is why advertisers must and do maintain the quality of their goods.

They are not looking for one-time sales. First sales, in most cases, would not pay for the advertising.

To be successful, they must make steady customers. So, quality is being put in to bold the trade that advertising produces.

Thus, to be sure of quality, one naturally turns to goods that are advertised. And isn't it only reasonable?

No manufacturer can afford to advertise for long an inferior article. From the moment the advertising begins, the quality must either be kept uniform or improved—to go back means ruin.

The day is passing when you ask for a pint of pickles. You name the brand.

You don't ask for Rolled Oats. You name the brand you prefer.

The unknown article may be good, but you are not so sure of it as you are of the advertised article, which bears the seal of quality,—a well known maker's trade name.

TO MANUFACTURERS

You who make good goods and do not advertise—show your confidence in your product.

Advertise it.

Let the public know that you stand back of your goods to maintain their high quality.

Make your trade name the recognized standard in your line.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

STRIKE TO SOON END

Head of U. S. Miners Predicts Quick Return to Work.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2.—With only one or two exceptions the suspension in the coal mining industry of the country, which went into effect at midnight Sunday when the wage contracts between the members of the United Mine Workers of America and the bituminous and anthracite coal operators expired, was general yesterday, and approximately 400,000 miners are out of work, the country will miss more than a million tons of coal and the miners are out about $1,000,000 in wages.

President J. P. White of the miners, before starting for his home in Oskaloosa, Iowa, yesterday afternoon, said that he expected the bituminous men to ratify the Cleveland agreement and return to work probably by April 20. He also predicted a speedy adjustment of a wage contract in the anthracite field when the miners and operators meet in Philadelphia on April 10. The ballots for the referendum vote on the bituminous agreement are being prepared in the national headquarters here, and it is believed they will be returned here by April 15.

The only exception to the general suspension, which came to the notice of the miners' officials here yesterday, was in two railroad mines at Evansville, Ind., in which the men continued at work with the understanding that they are to receive the new scale of wages. No trouble has been reported from any district, and pumpmen and others required to keep the property in shape for a resumption remained at their posts yesterday the same as over a holiday.

In many places yesterday was celebrated as "eight hour day" among the miners, marking the anniversary of the installing of the eight-hour day in the mines.

Edwin Perry, national secretary-treasurer of the miners, says the Cleveland contract, when ratified, will provide the highest wages ever paid to coal miners of any country.

"The men of the picks needed the increase," he said, "and I do not think the public will feel that we are trying to hold them up. The increase should have little if any effect on the price of coal."

EDUCATION BILL FOR THE YEAR WILL BREAK RECORDS

The Main Item of Projected Expenditure For the Year Ending Oct., 1913, Is That of Schools Which Will Be Over the Two Million Mark — Capital and Current Expenses Will Amount to $8,844,496.

Toron9to, April 2.—Expenditures for education during the coming year will exceed $2,000,000, as is shown by the main estimates for 1912-1913, which were submitted to the Legislature yesterday afternoon. This amount is the greatest in the history of the province.

The main estimates for the fiscal year ending Oct. 31, 1913, amount to $8,844,496.66. Of this amount the current expenditure for 1912-13 is $7,993,496.66; on capital account, $721,000; other purposes, $130,000. The services for which this large sum of money is voted consists of: Civil government, $757,774; legislation, $286,400; administration of justice, $748,364.66; education, $2,043,070; public institutions maintenance, $1,383,407; agriculture, $719,636; colonization and immigration, $107,600; hospitals and charities, $399,775; maintenance and repairs of Government and Departmental buildings, $153,150; public buildings including (1) repairs, $77,700; (2) capital account, $647,000; public works, on capital account, $73,200; colonization and mining roads, $130,000; for other purposes: charges on crown lands, $662,050; refunds account, $92,500; miscellaneous expenditure, $562,070.

Except for the estimates there was little to arouse interest at yesterday's session. Sir James Whitney introduced for second reading his two bills—one respecting the appointment of a commissioner (R. R. Gamey) to report upon certain territory, and the other to amend the Power Commission Act to provide a remuneration of $6,000 per annum for Hon. Adam Beck.

With regard to the appointment of Mr. Gamey, N. W. Rowell said he would make any criticism he had to make when the bill came up in committee.

Mr. Rowell asked whether it was the intention of the Government to introduce any legislation this session regarding workmen's compensation. Sir James replied that it would hardly be possible or desirable to do so.

G. Evanturel, Prescott, will on Wednesday next enquire of the Ministry as to whether the Government will include $15,000 in this year's estimates towards the construction of the interprovincial bridge at Hawkesbury.

In explaining his bill to amend the Mining Act of Ontario, Hon. W. H. Hearst said the law would now make it an offence for any person under the influence of liquor to be anywhere near a mine.

Z. Mageau, Sturgeon Falls, will ask for a return of correspondence relating to the granting of a permit for a tug owned by the Dominion Fish Co. to fish on the Lizard Island preserve. Mr. Mageau will also enquire whether the Government intends to issue any fishing licenses affecting Lake Nipissing during 1912.

Dr. J. McQueen, North Wentworth, wants a return of correspondence regarding the conduct of J. S. Dempsey, police magistrate, and the part he took in the recent elections.

Hon. I. B. Lucas introduced an amendment to the bill respecting telephone systems, whereby an associated group of people running a telephone system can, if they wish to become incorporated, take over the shares of those who do not wish to come into the incorporated company. If a settlement as to the value of stock cannot be reached, it is to be left to arbitration by the Ontario Railway Board.

Part of the afternoon and the whole of the evening session were taken up with the consideration of the insurance bill, containing 243 clauses. With the exception of the legal members of the House, there was little interest taken in the proceedings, and most of the members spent the time reading the newspapers or with private conversations, some of the tete-a-tetes centering around the action of the Senate in throwing out the Federal Government's proposed subsidy for the T. & N. O. Railway. About 160 clauses of the insurance bill were passed when the House adjourned at 10.30 p.m.

MINERS VOTE AGAINST THE NEW WAGE BILL

Are Not Voting As Predicted by The Union Leaders

Special to the Review.

London, April 2.—The country heard with dismay to-day that the Union leaders' prediction that the miners' vote to resume work would carry by 3 to 2 majority was unfounded. At noon the ballots showed 101,474 favored the resumption of work, and 106,252 were opposed to going back under the terms of the minimum wage bill.

Many Want to Go Back.

London, April 2.—Up to midnight the votes counted in the ballot of the miners in connection with the coal strike numbered 135,696. Of these, 69,141 were in favor of resumption of work and 66,828 were against resumption. These totals, however, do not include North Wales and other districts, where it is believed large majorities will be polled in favor of resumption.

The ballot affords surprises, and there is doubt in some quarters whether a majority will cast their ballots for a return to work, although all the responsible leaders continue to advise the men of the folly of continuing the strike. Strangely enough, South Wales, which was supposed to be a hot-bed of resistance, polled nearly 2 to 1 in favor of resuming, while the English northern counties ballotted in favor of continuing the strike.

One explanation of the somewhat unexpected ballot is that large numbers of willing workers are not taking the trouble to record their votes. In the meantime it is estimated that between 20,000 and 30,000 miners descended into the pits yesterday. Coal traffic is being resumed and many shipyards and industries have started up again. The price of coal declined 3s. 6d. on the London Coal Exchange.

St. Kitt's Painters Strike.

St. Catharines, April 2.—Because of a hitch in negotiations with employers in their request for an increase from 30 to 35 cents an hour, all journeymen union painters of the city went on strike yesterday. Hopes are entertained that differences will be settled before the end of the week. Carpenters were given an increase of from 40 to 45 cents an hour as an inducement to remain at work.

Peterboro's Bill Asked for Expropriation Rights

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 2.—The Peterborough bill as amended, providing for the taking over of the Power plant within the municipality only, was the storm centre in the Private Bills Committee this morning. J. W. Johnston, of Belleville, called the proposal confiscation. The company claims that the city was trying to break its solemn agreement with them, and if they wanted the plant they should take over the whole of it under the terms of the general act. Amid the hubbub Hon. Mr. Foy asked that the bill be laid over for one week, and this was done.

Prominent Brockville Man Dead.

Brockville, April 2.—Word has reached here of the death of Chilion Jones at Bermuda, where he had been staying for some time in search of health. His daughter, Mrs. Alban Jones, was with him.

Chilion Jones was 75 years of age, and a prominent figure. In late years he was interested in manufacturing pursuits in Gananoque, but made his home in Brockville. He leaves three daughters and one son, Mrs. Alban Bedford Jones, Toronto; Mrs. R. E. Webster, Ottawa; Mrs. A. R. G. Heward, and F. P. Jones, Montreal.

Bad Freight Wreck Near Woodstock.

Woodstock, April 2.—About 1.45 p.m. yesterday a freight train of fourteen cars was wrecked in front of the G.T.R. station at Burgessville by the breaking or spreading of a rail. The cars are piled up and overturned, and five cars of wheat, two cars of coal and one of cement have their contents scattered around.

Buildings on the railway side, belonging to Messrs. A. R. Siple and A. Mollins were almost demolished by the cars, which dashed into them. No one was hurt.

LAURIER INSTIGATES THE TURNING DOWN OF FOUR BILLS

Unprecedented Action Is Taken by the Liberal Majority In the Upper Chamber When Tariff Commission, Highways, and T. & N. O. Bills Are Thrown Out — Heated Debate In the Commons.

Ottawa, April 2.—During the dying hours of the 12th Parliament of Canada the Liberal majority in the Senate slaughtered no less than four Government measures, three of the bills being of unusual importance. The measures which the Upper Chamber, at the direction of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, chloroformed on the last day of the session, were the tariff commision bill the Highways Act, the bill to give a subsidy to the T. & N. O., and a minor bill amending the Weights and Measures Act, introduced by Hon. George E. Foster.

Usually the last day of the session is devoted to the merest formalities, winding up with prorogation by the Governor-General. Yesterday, however, the deadlock between the two chambers and the interchange of messages kept the Commons and the Senate in a state of excitement up to four o'clock, the hour set for the arrival of the Governor-General.

It was three o'clock when the Speaker of the House read the message from the Senate, insisting on its amendment to the tariff bill. Hon. Mr. White expresssed surprise at the unusual stand of the Senate. The Government had accepted three of the four amendments submitted and had tried to meet the Upper Chamber half way. This amendment, Mr. White described as irrelevant, senseless and so carelessly drawn it would prove a blemish to the bill.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster accused Sir Wilfrid Laurier of being responsible for the defeat of the three measures. He had directed the action of the Senate, whom he described as "men who were fed by his patronage and have earned their reward."

Mr. Borden, said Mr. Foster, in bringing in both the tariff commission bill and the highways bill, was simply carrying out his pre-election promises and now the Senate had thwarted the will of the people, as expressed by the newly-elected Commons.

Mr. White said it was a very important matter that the Senate of Canada should reflect the opinion of the House. "We accepted," said Mr. White, "three amendments, although they were irrelevant because they did not disturb the scope of the commission. We tried to meet the Senate. I cannot see that the Senate is justified in deliberately rejecting the opinion of this House.

"The Senate," continued Mr. White, "must take full responsibility before the country for rejecting the bill. The tariff was a pledge given by the Premier to the people of Canada. There was an expectation on the part of the people of Canada that the Government would redeem its pledge. This House is fresh from the people; it is not moribund House. I beg to move that a message be sent back to the Senate repecting the amendment.

"There is none so blind as he who will not see," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply to Mr. White, "and my hon. friend, the Minister of Finance shows by the speech that he has just delivered that he is afflicted with such blindness. Mr. White's entire speech has been devoted to a criticism of the wording of the amendment."

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid said that he feared that Mr. White's real reason for refusing or avoiding a conference was that he was opposed to giving the people the safeguard which the amendment provided for them.

"For my part," concluded Sir Wilfrid, amidst Liberal cheers, "I am glad to share the responsibility of killing this bill. It is not an unmixed misfortune, and it is an unmixed blessing."

THE NEW WELLAND

The route for the new Welland Canal has been determined in reports recently submitted to the department. Under the plans as suggested by Mr. Weller the canal will be widened and deepened on the existing route from Port Colborne to a point a little north of Thorold. From there a new cutting will be made, carrying the canal for a distance of some five miles to Ten Mile Creek crossing the present route and the railway. The new Welland will have six or seven locks instead of twenty-two, and the reaches will be deepened to twenty-four or twenty-five feet, a depth of thirty feet over the sills being provided in the locks. The canal will probably be widened to two hundred feet, and the estimated cost has been placed at forty-five millions, with the probability that another five millions may be added in order to have the work carried out in the best manner possible.

Detailed plans will be worked out this summer, and it is hoped that tenders will be called for in September next. This will double Canada's transportation facilities across the Niagara peninsula, and afford the largest vessels a better draught of water.

THE PASSING OF THE STEAM VESSEL

The complications arising out of the coal miners' strike in Great Britain, and of the British stoppage of work in the American mines, has brought to the attention of the large owners of steamship lines, any alternative that would afford a means of marine power.

For years, oil as a fuel, has been used experimentally. It has been a marked success in the locomotives of western railway lines, because there was a certain sense of security that in case of failure, only a train would be temporarily stalled. It is a very much more serious matter with a vessel on the high seas. It is interesting to note the confidence expressed by Sir Marcus Samuel, director of one of the largest steam lines plying between Britain ports and abroad. The company built and equipped a large vessel, the motive force being derived from oil used in Diesel gas engines. The results have been phenomenal.

Addressing the Institute of Naval Architects, he said, he was absolutely certain that engines of the Diesel type would take the place of steam, and his own company's Vulcana had shown that the consumption of oil was as one to five when compared with coal.

The question of oil supplies, Sir Marcus added, was undoubtedly a grave one, but there were enormous supplies awaiting development in addition to the supplies already in existence. He instanced Borneo, for example, and added that the Mexican supplies were by no means fully developed, while great hopes were also entertained of the successful development of the Egyptian oil fields.

Another speaker stated that he had found that the Diesel engines worked smoothly and well that the engineer had practically nothing to do and could sit down and read books.

Should projected enterprise in the direction of naval use of oil for steamer fuel be carried out, there is no question but that one of the largest sources of coal consumption would be materially lessened, leaving that much more coal to be used for other purposes.

NOTE AND COMMENT

As a result of investigations, undertaken by the Commission of Conservation, it has been ascertained that there are 1,016,521 horse-power developed from water power in Canada.

In the matter of meat inspection, Canada is much behind the times. The Government, some years ago very properly made arrangements for the inspection of meats for export. No diseased meat may now be shipped out of Canada, but it can be sold in Canada. Why should Canadians be content to consume impure and dangerous food products such as these.

The lighting rates will probably be raised at Orillia. The flat rate system is in operation, the rate being 25c. per month for 16 c.p. lamp for residence and 30c. for stores, hotels and offices, on the supposition that these latter use their lamps for a greater number of hours. A 20 per cent. discount will be given off these figures making the net rate 20c. and 24c. The present rate is 18c. and 22c.

Latest Quotations in Grain Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Predictions that only favorable crop reports can come from Texas and Oklahoma for a long time had a good deal to do with swamping the wheat market to-day under no end of stop loss orders to sell. Support given the May option in which the concentrated holdings here are large, tended to avert a more complete smash in prices than actually occurred. The close was irregular, running all the way from ⅛c to 1⅛c below the figures of 48 hours before. Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 1.—A fairly good business continues to be done in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable. The demand was good and the prices bid in many cases were 1½d to 3d higher. There was some demand from Dublin for extra No. 1 feed oats at 21s for May-June shipment. A strong feeling prevails in the market for corn and prices were 1c higher. Butter is scarce and supplies have had to be imported from New York and Chicago in order to fill the requirements. Demand for eggs is good. Dressed hogs are very strong at another advance of 50c.

Corn—American No. 2 yellow, 83½c.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 52½c to 53c; Canadian western, No. 3, 50c; extra No. 1 feed, 51c; No. 2 local white, 50c; No. 3 local white, 49c; No. 4 local white, 48c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, 63c; malting, $1.05 to $1.10.

Buckwheat—No. 2, 72c to 73c.

Flour—Man. spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.70; seconds, $5.20; strong bakers, $5; winter patents, choice, $5.10 to $5.35; straight rollers, $4.65 to $4.75; straight rollers, bags, $2.15 to $2.25.

Rolled oats—Barrels, $5.05; bags 90 lbs., $2.40.

Millfeed—Bran, $25; shorts, $27; middlings, $29; moullie, $30 to $34.

Hay, No. 2, per ton, car lots, $14.50 to $15.

Cheese—Finest westerns, 15¼c to 15½c; finest easterns, 14c to 15c.

Butter—Choicest creamery, 35½c to 36c; seconds, 34½c to 35c.

Eggs—Fresh, 25c to 27c per doz.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, $1.55 to $1.60.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, April 1.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 91 cars, comprising 1839 cattle, 422 hogs, 105 sheep, 72 calves and 5 horses.

Exporters.

We are not aware of any cattle having been bought for export, but those of export weight and quality sold at from $6.80 to $7.40 per cwt., and not more than one load was reported at the latter price. Export bulls, $5.35 to $5.75.

Butchers

Best steers and heifers, 1000 to 1100 lbs., $6.50 to $6.90; good steers and heifers, $6.25 to $6.50; medium, $5.80 to $6.15; common, $5 to $5.70; cows, $3 to $6; bulls, $4 to $5.25; canners sold at $2 to $3.

Milkers and Springers

About half a dozen milkers were on sale, all of which were bought by Mr. Fred Rowntree at $40 to $60 each.

Veal Calves.

There was an excellent demand for veal calves, prices for which were quoted at $5 to $9 per cwt.; of course, the latter price was paid for a few choice quality, new, milk-fed veals.

Sheep and Lambs.

The market for sheep and lambs was reported higher. Sheep, ewes, $4 to $6.25; yearling lambs, $4 to $8 each.

Hogs.

Few hogs were on sale. The Swift Canadian Company reported selects, $8.10, fed and watered at the market, and $7.75 f.o.b. cars at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 1.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending March 30, were 2100 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 3500 hogs and 2000 calves, while the supply on the market this morning for sale amounted to 1100 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 650 calves.

A feature of the market was the sale of one steer, which was of extra choice quality, weighing 1905 pounds and sold at the fancy price of 12c per lb. This steer belonged to A. W. Talbot of Beaverton and it was bought by Drolet & Fils of Quebec.

The Masterman Packing & Provision Co. of this city bought from T. A. Marquis of Sunderland, Ont., 12 choice steers and heifers, which weighed 16,250 pounds at $7.65 per cwt. These cattle were fed by Tucker Bros. of Sunderland, Ont.

Forty lambs, which averaged 130 lbs. each, were sold at 9c per lb. These lambs were fed at the government farm, Ottawa. Aside from the above special sales a good trade was done in extra choice steers at $8 to $8.25, choice at $7.50 to $7.75, good at $7 to $7.25 and the lower grades at from $5 to $6.50 per cwt.

There were a number of good to choice bulls, weighing from 1500 to 2000 pounds, which sold at $6.25 to $6.50, and the smaller ones down to $5 per cwt. The demand for cows was good at from $5 to $6 per cwt. There was no further change in the condition of the market for hogs, prices being firm under a good demand from packers and sales of selected lots were made at $9 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

The market for lambs was strong, owing to the limited supply coming forward, and sales of stock fed for the Easter trade were made at $8 to $9 and the ordinary at $7.25 to $7.75 per cwt. A few spring lambs were on the market, which sold in some cases at 16c per lb., live weight, and others at $6 to $10 each, as to size. A few choice milk-fed calves brought as high as 11c to 12c per lb., and the ordinary sold at from $3 to $10 each.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Cattle—Receipts, 18,000; market steady; beeves, $5.25 to $8.50; Texas steers, $4.50 to $5.85; western steers, $5.25 to $6.75; stockers and feeders, $4.30 to $6.60; cows and heifers, $2.50 to $4.60; calves, $6 to $8.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 32,000; market strong, generally 5c to 10c up; light, $7.75 to $7.95; mixed, $7.65 to $8; heavy, $7.70 to $8; rough, $7.70 to $7.80; pigs, $5.30 to $7.50; bulk of sales, $7.90 to $7.95.

Water Meters For Brantford.

Brantford, April 2.—Nineteen million gallons of water was the increase in March this year in the amount of water pumped over the amount in March last year, and all records were broken when a total of ninety-five millions was reached. Water commissioners declare that there is terrific waste on among the consumers generally, and the installation of meters is contemplated as the only remedy at hand.

Silver Smuggler Remanded.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 2.—Magistrate Fraser yesterday remanded Kalla Mittila, deported from the States while smuggling in twenty pounds of silver ore, for eight days on the technical charge of violating the Miners' Act. In the meantime the Attorney-General's Department will investigate the case.

WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY

HUNDREDS CURED BY TAKING "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ont. July 27th.

"Last spring, I had a severe attack of Kidney and Bladder Trouble, and "Fruit-a-tives" cured these complaints when the physician attending me had given me up." JAMES DINGWALL.

The cause of Kidney Congestion and Pain in the Back, is that the bowels are badly constipated and the skin is inactive. Thus, the kidneys are forced to do double work in ridding the system of impurities,—and become strained.

"Fruit-a-tives"—the great fruit medicine—acts on bowels, liver and skin, as well as on the kidneys,—rids the system of all impurities, and completely cures all kidney congestion and pain in the back.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

I could have clapped my hands with joy when I saw the Grand Central station and the delightful cafe au lait porters with their red caps. It looked as familiar and comforting as if I'd passed through a hundred times instead of once, and I had the nice feeling that now something pleasant was sure to happen, which one has when one first arrives in Paris.

Vivace brightened up, too, and he took me out, rather than I him. I was in such a hurry to get away, for fear Potter might have come after me by a quick train and be looking somewhere, that I flew along with my bag and Vivace without waiting for a porter. I followed other people out of the station, with the intention of finding a cab and driving to the club where Mr. Brett was employed; but, though there were dozens of hansoms drawn up by the pavement, they had the air of being private ones. It did seem queer that so many people should have private hansoms waiting for them at this particular hour (it was half past 12), but the drivers, with their tall shiny hats, smart coats and bright, clever faces, the glitter of the harness, the newness of the cab linings and appointments all forbade any other thought. I wandered wistfully along the line, wondering if there were no public conveyances of any kind at the Grand Central besides the trams, which were as appalling as a procession of African lions. When I came to the end I caught the eye of a well groomed young man in a pale gray topcoat, looking down from his high seat at the back of a dark green hansom with great round portholes knocked in the sides, and it struck me that there was pity kindling in his glance. I snatched at the ray as if it had been that everlasting straw which always seems to be bobbing about when an author is drowning one of his characters.

"Do you think there is anybody who could drive me?" I inquired meekly.

"You bet, miss," said he. "I'm engaged myself or I'd be only too pleased, but you just speak to that other gentleman there," with an encouraging jerk of his sleek head toward the next vehicle. "He'll take you anywhere you want to go."

"Are you sure it isn't a private hansom?" I breathed up to him in a low, confidential voice, for the cab he indicated was even finer than his, and Stan doesn't look as smart on his coach on a coaching parade day in the park as did the gentleman I was recommended to address.

"Sure pop," said my friend, grinning, but not in a way to hurt my feelings, so I thanked him, and we both bowed very politely, and the new man, who had heard after all, said that none of the hansoms were private. Anybody might have them who could pay, but I needn't be afraid; he wouldn't charge me too much.

When he asked where I wanted to go, after all I hadn't the courage to mention the club. The only other place I could think of was the Waldorf-Astoria, where Potter had said any stranger who liked could walk in and sit down. I told the man to drive me there, so he did, and only charged me 50 cents, which he hinted was a very special price. "We don't want you English young ladies to think bad of us," he explained, and I assured him there was no danger of that, if I could judge by myself.

They wouldn't let me go into the Turkish room—which I remembered very well—with Vivace, so I had to give him up to be fed and taken care of, and I was obliged to part with my bag too. Then I wrote a note to Mr. Brett, just a few lines, saying that I was alone in New York, in a little difficulty, and, remembering his kind offer, I ventured to ask if he would come to the Turkish room at the Waldorf-Astoria to help me with advice.

Said there was a milk train due presently if I was mighty anxious.

A messenger took the letter—such an aggressively brisk child I was sure he wouldn't waste a second on the way—and as soon as he had gone I was beset with fears lest Mr. Brett should have left New York or lest, if still in town, he might be surprised or shocked at my taking him at his word.

I was past being hungry now, but my head ached and I felt dull and stupid. There was hardly any one in the Turkish room, for all the world of the Waldorf-Astoria was lunching. I sat watching the door, watching the door until I seemed to have been in that place doing that one thing and nothing else for years. My eyelids would keep dropping and my thoughts slipping away as if they flowed past me on a slow stream. I caught them back again and again, but at last I forgot and let them go.

Blow to Berlin's Pride.

Berlin, April 2.—The possibility of a Highland regiment being formed in Galt to which will be attached the Galt Kiltie Band is arousing keen interest here, not that any deutcher is longing to be dressed in skirts, but the formation of such a regiment will put out of existence the 29th Waterloo Regiment of Infantry and the Berlin Band, which for the past 35 years, has been known as the 39th Military Band, will no longer be styled as such after winning many laurels.

Col. Oliver of Galt, who has had the command of the 29th Regiment for several years, has not been able to muster a full regiment, and there seems very little reason why he should be given the command of a new regiment to boost Galt at the expense of Berlin.

It will be next to an impossibility to get a single soldier boy to march out of Berlin, even to a camp instruction. If they are not led by the band with a record the old 29th holds.

Sugar Magnate Died Without Will.

New York, April 2.—Five days after the death of John Arbuckle, the sugar millionaire, who died here on Wednesday, his lawyers and relatives have about given up hope of finding a will, and it is now believed that he died intestate. His estate is estimated at more than $20,000,000. No children survive to inherit it, and Mrs. Arbuckle, his wife, died five years ago. Mrs. Robert Jamieson and Miss Christina Arbuckle, sisters, are the nearest relatives.

Shuster For South America.

Washington, April 2.—W. Morgan Shuster, deposed treasurer-general of Persia, has been appointed South American representative of the National City Co. of New York. It is said that the company, allied with the National City Bank of New York, intends to devote its business primarily to South American loans.

OBITUARY

Robert Arnott

Belleville Ontario: Robert Arnott, after a lingering illness, passed away this morning at his home on Wharf street, ripe in years. He had suffered an injury to one of his toes several years ago, as a result of which gangrene set in. About a year ago he underwent an operation and had his leg amputated. He never fully recovered from the shock.

He was a native of County Monaghan, Ireland, born in 1836. For the past 55 years he has been a resident of Belleville. For years he was foreman with the Rathbun Co. in the lumber yard department when the old mill occupied what is now Queen Victoria Park. In religion he was an Anglican, and a Conservative in politics. His wife predeceased him to the tomb. He leaves to mourn his loss five sons, Thomas, Toronto; Jas., Peterborough; Richard, John and Frederick, of Belleville.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

A SUGGESTION

To The Editor of The Review.

Dear Sir—I wish through the medium of your columns to draw the attention of the proper parties to the unwelcoming, if not actually disgraceful, condition of that plot of ground on Charlotte street, in front of the curling rink

This piece of land of course, is seen by all the travellers coming from the G. T. R. station, and in its present state of disorder must certainly give them an unfavorable impression, particularly when the ground is in front of a nice building and is suitable for a beautiful lawn.

It would cost very little to have the ground sodded and a couple of flower beds judiciously placed, and the effect would be worth far more than the expenditure necessary to carry out any plans in that direction.

Now that so many are endeavoring to beautify this city, I suggest that this little step be taken, and should a traveller, newly arrived, notice the beautiful little spot of verdure, with perhaps a park bench or two, they will receive a pleasant and not disagreeable impression from the now unpromising spot. In my opinion such an opportunity for improvement should not be neglected.

Yours truly,
"CITY BEAUTIFYER,"
Peterboro, April 2.

Coughs, Colds
Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing, and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1, at all dealers. 10

FINGER HAD TO BE AMPUTATED

Painful Mishap to Workman at Punch Press

Mr. S O'Toole was the victim of a very painful accident at the Peterborough Lock Co., yesterday, when he had one of his fingers crushed. He was employed in the press room, on a large punch press, and in some manner caught his finger in the machine. Medical aid was summoned and he was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the finger was amputated last evening.

WANT PART OF STREET CLOSED

C.G.E. Would Convey an Equal Portion to the City

A request last night from Mr. E. G. Patterson, superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Company, was received, asking the Council to close the unused portion of Townsend street, and accept in lieu thereof, conveyance from the company of an equal portion of lot 17, of the same length and width as the proposed closed portion of Townsend street. This portion of land at present separates the company's recently acquired property of the Chamberlin Estate from their adjoining property.

The company in other words desire to move the unused portion of Townsend street, on the south side of lot 17 to the north side thereof, so that no street will intervene.

They claim that property owners will not be injured, but that it will be a distinct advantage to the various owners of lot 18, by giving them a frontage on another side.

A blue-print plan of the locality was enclosed.

The request after receiving due consideration was granted, providing the company will meet the expense of making the change. The necessary notices will be given.

To ascertain the whereabouts of a suitable dumping ground for the refuse of the city, the chairman of the Property Committee and Ald. Brown were appointed a committee to make enquiries respecting land suitable for such purposes and present a report. The committee was also authorized to make arrangements for the temporary use of ground for that purpose.

ONCE AGAIN.

The matter of improvements at the street railway curve at the corner of George and Smith streets was referred to the Board of Works, the latter being authorized to take it up with the Peterborough Radial Railway Company.

MEETINGS IN CENTRAL PARK.

The request of G. W. Mulligan for permission to hold religious meetings on Sunday evenings in Central Park, was granted.

RUTHERFORD ACCOUNT.

On motion of Ald. Duffus and Johnston, a committee of the Mayor and the Chairman of the Property Committee were authorized to settle the long disputed account of Rutherford Bros., which arose from their claim in connection with construction work at the Peterborough Public Library building. The City Treasurer will be given authority to issue a cheque for the amount on the certificate of the Mayor and Chairman.

CLIFTON MALLORY IN "DAVID GARRICK"

All theatre goers are interested in a great play, written by a great author, one which has been played by such artists as the elder Sothern, Goodwin, Willard and Charles Wyndham, before the crowned heads of Europe and the elite of America. Such a play must possess genuine merit, elevating the stage, the actor and humanity, as only the work of the true artist can be used both in the rendering of the play, and in the construction of the stage effects. So all the scenic artists, the actor stage manager, costumer, musicians and electrician can do, has been done to equip the eminent actor, Mr. Clifton Mallory, for his appearance this season in the great English comedy, "David Garrick." The beautiful on the stage as in nature, deserves admiration, and all lovers of the highest and grandest in the world of the drama, should see this production at the Grand Good Friday and Saturday, with usual Good Friday matinee.

Record Success of Four Years on Two Continents

"With Edged Tools," the brilliant Merriman play, may safely be claimed to be the record success of the past four years, both here and across in England, where it had a run of over one thousand performances.

Merriman thought his "Barlasch of the Guard" was his best work; all the critics have averred that "The Sowers" was his best, both on account of its literary style and its purpose; the public has always said that "With Edged Tools" is his best, and have bought copies of the novel to the extent of two million copies. Where all are so pleased over the work of a man, it is safe to say that work is good.

"With Edged Tools" will be played here by the incomparable all-star English Company, which has gained the reputation of one of the most brilliant companies ever sent over from the other side. James O'Donnell Bennett, of the Chicago Record Herald, said of it: "There are five players in this English Company who can give any actor or actress now appearing in Chicago lessons in diction."

By request, the Y.W.C.A. Gymnasium Exhibition will be repeated this evening (Tuesday, April 2nd), in the Collegiate Assembly Hall. Prices—Adults, 25c; Children 10c. Time 8.15 sharp Excellent program.

POLES TO BE REMOVED FROM GEORGE STREET

From W. J. Duckworth, superintendent of the G.N.W. Telegraph company, stating that the company will undertake to remove the poles on George street, and bring the wires in cables from the rear of their office, if the city will agree to pay the sum of $350, which will be the actual cost of making the change.

On motion of Ald. Buller and Duncan the offer to remove the 14 poles on George street between Brock and Charlotte streets for $350 was accepted.

Ald. Buller thought it was a good bargain at that price. The only other poles on George street, are those of the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

REMOVAL OF CATTLE PENS

Ald. Brown Objects But the Order Stands

Some Changes in Regulations Regarding Garbage Disposal

Alderman Brown objected to the passing of the clause in the Property committee's report last evening, calling for the removal of all the cattle pens on the market square. He said that if the city didn't run in conjunction with the farmer, trouble was practically certain to ensue. The reason that he had suggested their removal, had not been the use of them, but the abuse. He contended that at least one pen should be retained. Ald. Johnston was of the opinion that it was folly to leave any pens there. Ald. Morgan was of the same mind, saying that it was understood that the market clerk, tender had been lower this year, on the understanding that the pens were to be removed.

Mayor Bradburn stated that the Council had no wish to injure the farmers, or inconvenience them, in the least, but the cattle pens had in the past, been a disgrace to the city. The clause objected to by Ald. Brown was allowed to remain.

GARBAGE BY-LAW.

The next kick was registered by Ald. Anderson, who objected to the clause in the garbage by-law, relating to the district from which garbage is to be collected. His idea was that the area, which the garbage collection was to be in force, in the centre of the city, should be contracted, leaving it optional with residents in outlying sections to take advantage of the new system of collection. Whithout this, he felt that residents outside the specified area would feel that they were being deprived of its advantages. The garbage collector would moreover endeavor to make as many collections as possible as it would be to his advantage.

WOULD NEED AN AEROPLANE

"If he does all the work outlined for him already, he will require a pair of wings," he added. Ald Anderson wanted the Council to go into a committee of the whole, to formulate a better garbage plan. Ald Duncan, however, stated that the committee had delved so thoroughly into the perplexing problem that there was nothing further that could be done.

"We can't find a place" he said "and there is no use referring it back as I'm positive we can't do any better." He explained that the system was more of an experiment to prove whether it was feasible for one year at least.

Mayor Bradburn also assured Ald. Anderson, of the pains expended by the committee in working out a plan of disposal for garbage. His idea was to have the plan tried for one year, and then next year, come to the people with a by-law, providing for the purchase of land, on which to erect an incinerator.

Ald. Buller said that the people in the south end, as far as he knew, didn't want a garbage system. They had gardens to inter their refuse in.

ALD GILLESPIE OBJECTS

The succeeding objection came from Ald. Gillespie, who was strongly against the sanitary inspector collecting the fees. He felt that the only adequate plan would be to place in on the assessment roll. Mayor Bradburn, on reconsidering the matter, also was of the opinion that it would ultimately prove more satisfactory to add it to the tax rate.

On motion of Ald. Gillespie and Gordon the clause of the by-law was amended to make the payment for garbage collection payable through the taxes.

The by-law regulating the duties of Mr Charles Scriver for the collection removal and disposal of garbage passed its three readings.

The fee for collections from hotels of 45 cents was considered insufficient and on motion was increased to 75 cents.

FINE IS $10.

The fine embodied in the by-law, of $50, for violation of any of the rules, was felt to be exorbitant and severe and Ald. Gordon, and Brown, advocated the inserting of $10 as a maximum, which was done. Also before prosecution takes place, in case it should be necessary, the sanitary inspector will consult with the Mayor and chairman of the Property committee.

POLICE COURT

Some Are Weighed and Found Lacking

There were four men before Magistrate Dumble this morning. They had been drunk on "All Fools' Day," April 1st. The fines imposed amounted in all to $14, but $4 of that is all that was collected.

John Hogan was the first victim. He was able to pay his $2 forthwith.

GOT ANOTHER CHANCE.

William Kelly will have another chance to get out of town. He appeared before His Worship a few days ago and he promised to leave the city at once. He has spent a few nights in the cells since and yesterday morning he was allowed out to go away. He promptly got drunk.

Magistrate Dumble suspended sentence this morning and if Kelly does not do the disappearing act he will likely go to jail.

A local man was found drunk in a public place yesterday afternoon. He was fined $2 when he appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning.

A blacklister, whose name is withheld on his family's account, was fined $10 to be paid forthwith. He had been drunk yesterday. He could not pay and will spend 30 days in jail if someone does not come forward with the necessary.

The offender was called to the witness box. He claimed that he had his whiskey stored away before he was put on the blacklist. Chief Thompson had him fairly cornered for a time, but he seemed to be a professional at making up stories to suit the occasion.

The Magistrate was disgusted with his performance and asked if he could not get something fresh.

TO BE REPEATED THIS EVENING AT THE COLLEGIATE

The immense success and popularity which marked the recent Y.W.C.A. gymnasium exhibition and concert has brought forth persistent and numerous requests for a repetition of the performance.

Miss Coventry and her class are quite agreeable to acquiesce to the demands, and will therefore repeat the exhibition this evening at the same place, the Collegiate Assembly hall. Such a brief space intervening could not be avoided. There will be very little change in the program, and it is expected that fully as large an attendance will be present at this performance as at the first.

Bright Liners on Athletic Topics

A NAME FOR THE BALL TEAM

The fans and fanettes big and small, are having lots to do, to find a name to fasten to our Templin and his crew; one fair young miss who ought to know thinks Lockers would do fine, another thinks the dear old name of Petes should crown our nine. There's others by the dozen, some that wouldn't do at all, while there's others that would make the boys forget the game of ball. It isn't hard to pick the name, a lass thus sends a card; I've got the one that ought to stand on almost any yard. You've got to get the boys who have a wholesome brand of gab, and not the least afraid to hurl it at the man upon the slab; you have to have a bunch who keep things humming all the time, a bunch that's always out to win no matter what the crime. They've got to be some peggers, of the kind that hit the mark and can use their club like winners on the home or foreign park. You can't afford to have a bunch with families on the brain, they won't have time to stay at home, their hopeful sons to train. Then here's the name that takes the prize, and settles all the bets, just send them out upon the green as PANKHURST'S SUFFRAGETTES.

POCKET HERCULES TO BOX KEYES

Toronto, April 2.—Artie Edmunds leaves for New York Wednesday, where he will box Bert Keyes, in a ten-round bout before the Sharkey Athletic Club on Saturday night. If Edmunds gets the decision over Keyes he will get a bout on with Tommy Murphy, who recently fought a draw with Packey McFarland. As usual, the American fighter will not meet Edmunds at his own weight, 122 pounds, Keyes refuses to reduce, so when he meets Edmunds he will have a ten-pound advantage on the Toronto lad.

HYDRO FOR EAST.

Work Will Be Started at Once on Transmission Line to Kingston.

Kingston, April 2.—The proposition from the Hydro Electric Commission for supplying power to Kingston has been received, and is regarded as a good one for the city. The contract was submitted by Hon. Adam Beck before the utilities committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Following are the rates: For three thousand horsepower, $30.40; for four thousand horsepower, $26.64; for five thousand horsepower, $24.25.

"Work will be commenced at once upon the transmission line, if Kingston will sign a contract. A temporary supply of power will be secured for Kingston, Brockville and Prescott from the New York and Ontario Power Co. at Waddington, N.Y., until the commission can install a plant at Waddington.

Members of the committee also had for consideration an offer from the Seymour Power Co. The rate this company quoted was $25 per horsepower. Both the company and the commission state that, providing the contract is signed, power will be delivered by Nov. 1. After some discussion, it was decided not to give a final answer on the propositions today, and an adjournment was made until Thursday.

That the offer from the Hydro-Electric Commission is the best for the city, appears to be the general opinion. Engineers P. B. Yates and H. Y. Acre of the commission appeared before the committee in regard to the contract submitted for approval by the commission.

THE DURBAR

Marvellous Exhibition of Art and Beauty are the Kinemacolor Pictures

A large number saw the Durbar in Kinemacolor at the Grand last night, the program being the first of a three night stand and those who have so far failed to see these wonderful pictures will have an opportunity to do so this evening or to-morrow evening. There will also be matinees both days.

These pictures are of the state entry into Delhi and all the minor ceremonies which occupied almost a week. The exact color scheme used at the Durbar is depicted, the pictures being taken by Charles Urban, the inventor, by Royal Command of King George, and they have created a sensation in London and New York.

It is expected that these pictures will be shown to a crowded house at the Grand to-night and Wednesday. The program is a revelation of art and beauty and one forgets the present surroundings and is taken to Delhi to the crowning of the King and Queen as Emperor and Empress of India.

While the films of Kenemacolor pictures of the former engagement, gave a large amount of pleasure to the audiences at the Grand, the present program is much in advance and to miss seeing these pictures is passing an opportunity which does not come every day in the form of an entertainment.

SECOND CHARGE HAS BEEN LAID

Toronto, April 2.—Brought back from Toledo after skipping his bail, Leonard Williams reappared in police court yesterday on a charge of stealing $5.34 from Thomas E. McNair in connection with a real estate deal on Peterborough property. As before, there was no plea, but this time Williams was remanded into custody without bail.

There is a second charge that Williams stole $16 from Miss Elizabeth Hopper, by retaining that amount in excess of his commission on a property transfer.

RINGLING BROS. CIRCUS IN JUNE

Equipped with more spectacular and daring attractions and feats than ever before in its history, the great Ringling Brothers' circus will visit Peterborough, on June 15th, so the Review was informed to-day by Mr. N. G. Petit, their advance agent, who was in the city this morning, making arrangements for the approaching event.

Circus Day will never cease to be a great day for young and old alike and patrons of Ringling Brothers' big shows this year, are assured by Mr. Petit of full value for their money in the way of mammoth attractions and feats of daredevilty and skill.

The feature of the performance this year will be known as the Joan of Arc ballet, a big pantomine presention. This is spoken of as one of the most remarkable and impressive acts ever placed before the public.

Ringling Brothers are carrying eighty seven cars of effects, and their big parade will be over three miles in length. The total strength of the shows, is twelve hundred people, and their exhibition covers over twelve acres of ground.

It is seven years since the Ringling Brothers' circus visited Peterborough, but this city is one of the favored few in Ontario this year, selected by the management, in which to exhibit.

Their first performance will be given in Chicago, at the Coliseum, on Saturday night.

Premier Gouin of Quebec says no elections will be held before the autumn.

DID SCOTT MAKE POLE?

Explorers Incline to Belief That He Has Succeeded.

London, April 2.—Though the latest word from the British Antarctic expedition under command of Captain Robert F. Scott left the explorers still 150 miles from the South Pole on January 3, polar experts here are strongly of the opinion that Captain Scott will achieve the great object for which he set out. Captain Scott was still advancing on the date of his last message, and those familiar with Antarctic exploration express the opinion that he would probably reach the Pole before the end of January. Among those favoring this view are Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the noted Norwegian explorer, who, in an interview at Christiania yesterday, gave expression to this belief.

All the London morning papers print editorials congratulating the members of the Scott expedition. They emphasize the fact that it was not a mere dash for the Pole like that of Amundsen, but a thoroughly planned exploring expedition on a large scale, without any idea of racing for the Pole, and that it has achieved results of the highest importance.

The Telegraph points out that Captain Scott was confronted with great difficulties when traveling to the Pole; they had continually to dig out the ponies and tents when snow fell.

Wool Bill Passes.

Washington, April 2.—The Democratic wool bill, reducing duties, yesterday passed the House, 189 to 92, with 20 Progressive Republicans voting for it. Representative Murray of Colorado, who opposed it in debate and answered "present" on the roll-call, and Representative Francis of Ohio, who voted against it, were the only Democrats who did not line up with the majority.

Representative Payne moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to the committee to report the Republican substitute, but that was lost, 169 to 108.

Six Years With Broken Neck.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 2.—After living six years with a broken neck, George Steele died here yesterday. His neck was broken when he fell from the roof of the Toronto-Niagara power house when the building was being constructed in 1906. He has been confined to bed ever since the accident, practically his entire body being paralyzed.

Prince Reaches Paris.

Paris, April 2.—The Prince of Wales arrived at Gare du Nord last night and was received by the prefect of Paris, M. Lepine, the Marquis and Marchioness de Bretueil and several members of the English colony. The prince was greatly startled by the volley of flashlights with which the newspaper photographers greeted him. M. Lepine reassured the prince, saying that this was the first mark of esteem of the Parisian public. A large crowd outside the station cheered him as he entered the automobile and drove off to the Bretueil home.

The Prince of Wales is here incognito, under the name of the Earl of Chester. He will be received by President Fallieres to-day.

How Watches Vary.

Theoretically, says a jeweler, the best watches of today are perfect, but actually they both gain and lose time every day. Even if the good watch does not vary one second at the end of the twenty-four hours, the expert insists, it has both gained and lost in that time. If it is wound in the morning it runs fast and toward the next morning runs slow, thus equalizing the time. He says the best watches should be wound twice a day and then at only two-thirds of the capacity of the mainspring, thus preventing either binding or extremes of strong or weakened spring. The balance wheel was expected to equalize differences of mainspring tension, but really this is not the case to what is called perfection.—New York Press.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. CLAUDE A. SPENCE APPOINTED CITY SANITARY INSPECTOR

Objections Raised to Mr. Meharry's Appointment at City Council Meeting—Some Communications Received.

The old saying, "There's many a slip twixt cup and lip," was forced home again last evening at the session of the city fathers, when Mr. John Meharry's hopes of being sanitary inspector for the city of Peterborough were doomed to disappointment. Instead Mr. Claude A. Spence, another applicant, who forwarded a flowery application, annexed the job, on motion of Aldermen Gillespie and Gordon, who advocated that Mr. Spence's name be submitted in the Property Committee's report in place of Mr. Meharry.

A hot discussion ensued however, previous to the passing of the motion, as to who was the better man for the position. It was also suggested combining the offices of sanitary inspector and plumbing inspector, but Ald. Gordon gave this idea the quietus by remarking that before that was possible the plumbing inspector had to be dismissed and and there was not evidence before the Council to make that action justifiable.

COMBINING OFFICES.

Ald. Johnston was the strongest exponent of the idea to combine the two offices, being much in favor of making a department out of them.

Both Ald. Gillespie and Gordon were much opposed to the appointment of Mr. Meharry. The latter thought that a man with the reference that Mr. Spence claimed to be possessor of, and who had twelve years' theoretical knowledge of the duties of a plumbing inspector, should not be overlooked.

He also said, if Mr. Meharry was a good police officer he was needed on the force. He didn't believe that he had any good qualifications for the job save that he had looked into a few back yards and lanes. Moreover he was also operating a rink and it was contrary to police regulations that an officer should be engaged in another occupation while an officer. He thought that the Brock street rink was a nuisance to residents in the neighborhood and also that Mr. Meharry's observance of the duties in the past were not such as to warrant his appointment as a man possessing the necessary qualifications for the position.

WANTED MR. MEHARRY.

Ald. Morgan staunchly upheld the appointment of Mr. Meharry.

"He knows cows from the hoof up,' said, and he couldn't see where Mr. Meharry's qualifications were not fully as good as any other man's on the list. He felt that Mr. Meharry should have the preference having been brought up in Peterborough, and his father before him.

Ald. Johnston said those were his sentiments too. The argument on the respective merits and demerits of the men wavered to and fro for a while until the Mayor put the motion. Besides the movers it was backed by Ald. Anderson, Duffus, Buller and Mayor Bradburn. Ald. Duncan stayed with his report that Mr. Meharry be given the job although at the Property Committee he voted for Mr. Spence.

The action of the Council did not suit Ald. Johnston at all. He said it would have been wisdom to have referred the matter to the Committee of the Whole.

Ald. Buller and Gordon also held up the clause in the Property Committee report awarding the contract for tree planting in King Edward Park to Mr. Frank Wise. A motion on their part that H. A. Porter be given the contract lost, however.

The report of the Property Committee was then adopted after making the change specified in regard to the sanitary inspector.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were recieved:—

From the auditor, to the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—I have the honor to submit herewith my report as auditor of the accounts of the city for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1911.

The books and vouchers of the City Clerk, the City Treasurer, the Treasurer of the Commissioners of the City Trust, the Treasurer of the Board of Education, of the Nicholls Hospital Trust, of the Public Library Board, of the Central Charity Board, the Assessment and Collector's Rolls of 1910 and 1911, and the arrears of taxes, have been examined and checked, and I have much pleasure in reporting that all these departments are well and accurately kept.

The bonds of the various officials of the Corporation are in proper form, and for the required amounts.

Respectfully submitted.

JAS. A. HALL,
Auditor.

March 29, 1912.

The report was received and instruction given to have 200 of the auditor's reports printed in detail.

From W. D. Lighthall, secretary-treasurer of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, asking Peterborough to send delegates to the 12th annual convention of the Union to be held on Aug. 27th, 28th and 29th, at Windsor, Ont.—The letter was received.

From Lieut.-Col. H. C. Lowther, Military Secretary to the Governor General, acknowledging the city's invitation to visit Peterborough this year and stating that the time of their Royal Highnesses is taken up to the end of November, and suggesting that it might be better to postpone the engagement until next summer.—Received.

SIDEWALK NEEDED.

From Miss Helen Denison, secretary of the Protestant Home, regarding a sidewalk on Anson St., from Water St. to the Protestant Home. This was promised last fall and its completion at an early date is desired as the opening of the new Home may be held on April 23rd.—Referred to the Board of Works.

From Thos. Darke, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, emphasizing the desirability of having all the streets in the city named, stating that the Labor Council was heartily in favor of this idea.—Referred to the Board of Works.

DOURO RESIDENTS BATTLE IN WORDS

Police Court Case Follows and Both Make Contributions

Douro was well represented at the County Court sitting yesterday afternoon, when two of its residents had Magistrate Edmison decide a charge of abusive language. James Crowley was the complainant and Michael Leahy, a neighbor, was the defendant. Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., appeared for Crowley, and Mr. F. D. Kerr for Leahy. His Worship was reluctant to have the neighbors quarrel, and he wished them to shake hands and be friends, but as the complainant would not accept overtures, the Magistrate heard the evidence. He found that both the defendant and complainant had been at fault. A fine of $1 was imposed upon Michael Leahy, the defendant, while half the costs of the court were to be paid by Crowley and the other half by Leahy. It cost Crowley $2.60, and Leahy $3.60.

The story of the trouble, as gathered by the evidence, was about as follows: Michael Leahy and his brother Thomas were driving along the road about three o'clock on Monday, March 25. They met James Crowley, with whom they were merely on speaking terms. Crowley made some remark to the Leahys, which Michael did not like. One word followed another, and Crowley, so he said, was insulted. He rode a little way on Leahy's sleigh, and upon leaving said that he would see how good their word was in court in a few days.

When Crowley was cross-examined by Mr. Kerr he acknowledged being what is termed a "fighting man." He said he could "go some" if he had to defend himself. Crowley is a big, husky Irishman, while Leahy is a small, quiet, inoffensive man, though it was quite evident that he is Irish, too.

Even after the evidence was all in, Magistrate Edmison said that if the men would shake hands and assure one another that they were sorry, he would dismiss the case. Leahy was prepared to go half way, but Crowley did not see it quite that way.

His Worship remarked that both men were guilty of using offensive language. He said that if Douro had many such residents as these two appeared to be, the time would come when no person would wish to go there. The above judgment was then given.

HORTICULTURAL

The Authority and Objects of Horticultural Societies

Horticultural Societies are brought into existence under, and conduct their business and undertakings in accordance with the provisions of an Act of Legislature of Ontario, and are under the direct supervision of the Department of Agriculture, to which annual statements of their transactions are made.

The object of the Horticultural Societies, as set out in section 9, of the Act referred to, "Shall be to encourage improvement in horticulture."

By holding meetings for discussion, and for hearing lectures on subjects connected with the theory and practice of improved horticulture.

By holding exhibitions and awarding premiums for the production of vegetables, plants, flowers, fruits, trees and shrubs.

By the distribution of seeds, plants bulbs, flowers, shrubs and trees in ways calculated to create an interest in horticulture.

By prompting the circulation of horticultural periodicals.

By encouraging the improvement of home and public grounds, by the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers, and by otherwise promoting outdoor art and public beauty.

By offering prizes for essays on questions relating to horticulture.

By importing and otherwise procuring and distributing seeds, plants and shrubs of new and valuable kinds.

The Peterborough Horticultural Society seeks under the above authority and conditions to improve the horticultural surroundings of the "Electric City" and district, and it heartily requests every resident to join in the good work.

WHY THE LOCAL MERCHANTS SHOULD BE PATRONIZED

Some people send a considerable amount of money out of the city, and the local merchant to whom should be given every support suffers accordingly. There are many reasons why the custom should be given to the man who has spent his money and time in building up his business, and who also is one of the potent forces in the growth and upkeep of the city or town in which he does business. It is as much to his interests to keep down the prices and give the best values as it is for the customer to receive them, and he acts on this principle.

Because your home merchant is always ready and willing to make right any error or any defective article purchased of him.

Because: When you are sick or for any reason it is necessary to ask credit, you can go to the local merchant. Could you ask it of a mail order house?

Because: If a merchant is willing to extend you credit you should give him the benefit of your cash trade.

Because: Your home merchant pays local taxes and exerts every effort to build up and better your market, thus increasing the value of city and country property.

Because: the mail order merchant does not lighten your taxes or in any way help the value of your property.

Because: The mail order merchant does nothing for the benefit of market or real estate values.

Because: "If your town or community is good enough to live in it is good enough to spend your money in."—Gov. Folk of Missouri.

Because: The best citizens of your community patronize home industry. Why not be one of the best citizens?

Because: If you will give your home merchants an opportunity to compete, by bringing your order to him in quantities you buy out of town he will demonstrate that, quality considered, he will save you money.

Firemen's Mascot

This morning the firemen were the recipients of a new and lively mascot. The little dog is the present of Mr. George Hatton to the fire brigade, and the men appreciate his gift very much. The mascot's name will be "Jerry," and the men are determined that their little spaniel, now eight months' old, will be trained in a way that will eliminate the necessity of having him done away with by the big men in blue.

Always remember to be a gentleman—unless you are a woman.

ROBERT FAIR & Co. Limited

THE FORTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

A most sumptuously printed book is the Forty-Second Annual Report of the Royal Bank of Canada. Artistic, chaste and confidence-inspiring, its production is a credit to the management and to the printer.

Appended to the general statements of the bank's affairs is a historical sketch, which affords some interesting information. Commencing in a small centre of the Province of Nova Scotia, two years after confederation, it made steady, if moderate progress, for thirty years. The ensuing ten years were years of phenomenal progress throughout the Dominion, and even beyond. To-day it points with justifiable pride to the fact that it is the third largest bank in Canada. There are now 202 branches, of these one each in Great Britain and United States, twenty-four in the West Indies, and the remainder in the Dominion and Newfoundland.

In pace with the enterprise of the establishment of new branches, the business of the bank increased by leaps and bounds. The expansion of business throughout the country has been mirrored in the bank's operations. In one year, 1910, its assets had increased from $67,000,000 to $92,000,000, the total deposits from $50,000,000 to $72,000,000, its capital and reserve fund from $10,700,000 to $13,200,000, its current loans and discounts from $33,000,000 to $52,000,000. Since 1884 the dividend has been steadily increasing from 7 per cent. at the time indicated to 12 per cent. in 1911. This tells the story of the bank's prosperity and efficiency most clearly and satisfactorily.

The local branch in Peterborough, under the management of Mr. V. Eastwood, enjoys the confidence and accounts of a large number of our business men. The methods of the bank as reflected in the manager and his staff, draw to it remunerative business, as the Peterborough branch is one of the most important stations throughout the province.

THE CRUCIFIXION

Choirs of All Saints' and St. John's Were Heard

The choirs of All Saints' and St. John's were heard to splendid advantage in the presentation of Stainer's Crucifixion at All Saints church last evening with Mr. R. J. Devey as conductor, and his son, Master Cyril Devey, presiding at the organ.

The attendance at the service, at which the rector officiated, was very encouraging, and the efforts of the choristers were appreciated to a marked degree. The interpretation of the choruses by the seventy voices was accurate, and throughout most pleasing to the congregation, while the solo, duet and quartette work was equally correct. The soloists were Messrs. Chandler and Brown, tenor, and Messrs. Barling, Spence and Edley, bass. Special mention might be made of the quartette, "God so Loved the World," unaccompanied, and the duet by Messrs. Chandler and Barling, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition," and also the work of the young organist.

The careful training of Mr. Chandler and Mr. Devey was evidenced throughout the presentation, and no doubt another large congregation will be present when the oratorio will be repeated in St. John's church Good Friday evening at eight o'clock.

LOCOMOTIVES DO A LITTLE TOO MUCH BLOWING

Citizens Ask the Council to Remedy the Nuisance

A petition to which the signatures of several citizens were affixed, was read at the City Council meeting last night, complaining of the unnecessary blowing of locomotive whistles within the city limits.

Ald. Gordon took up the cudgels on behalf of the petition, saying that much unnecessary whistling prevailed, which might have deleterious effects one way or another on persons ill, living in the vicinity of railroads.

He thought that quite often engineers indulged in needless whistling more from a spirit of sportiveness than anything else.

Ald. Buller however thought that it was necessary for engineers to sound their whistles on the ground that it was a great protector of human life.

On motion of Ald. Gordon and Ald. Duffus the City Solicitor was instructed to draft a by-law prohibiting as far as possible, the blowing of locomotive whistles within the city limits.

When the eye is said to be astigmatic, the meaning is that the eye has a double focus. This annoys the brain and the eye will strain unconciously to bring about a clear focus; this strain usually causes headaches. Astigmatism is usually congenital or so at birth—It is remedied by wearing glasses ground from the segment of a cylinder. These glasses, if rightly made, brings images to a focus on the retina and thus relieve all strain.

LADIES' OF ST. JAMES' CHURCH ARE WORKERS

Have Done Commendable Work in the Church's Interests

In spite of the wintery weather the members of St. James' Methodist church and Sunday school turned out in large numbers to the meeting last night.

An attack on the sumptuous array of good things provided by the ladies of the church, occupied the attention of those in attendance during the first few hours of the evening. When the dainties had been disposed of, representatives of the different departments of the church presented their reports.

Two bright musical numbers were much enjoyed by the audience, Mrs. Rehill and Mr. Potter in their duet were well received, and Miss Leader's solo was heartily applauded.

Reports from the Trustee Board, Quarterly Official Board, Ladies' Aid Society, Sunday school, senior and junior Epworth Leagues, young men's and young ladies' guilds were read.

The reports showed the church's finances to be in a most flourishing condition. There is only $1,600 of the churchs' debt that is not provided for by subscriptions.

The Ladies' Aid report showed that they had raised during the past year $731.63, and had contributed to the building fund the sum of $300. Their efforts in the various financial projects they have undertaken have resulted in winning for them the honor of having raised a larger sum of money than any other body of Methodist ladies in the Peterborough district.

They have also done more than their duty in visiting the members of the congregation and sending flowers to the sick.

The Rev. Mr. Brown remarked that the past year had been one of internal development and not of increase in numbers. He was grateful, too, for the loyal support St. James' church had received from the outside churches and their members. The church had in the past year commenced several new organizations and introduced new features into the former and older bodies.

Mr. H. C. Stabler also spoke, complimenting the congregation of St. James' church on the energy and vigor with which they had attacked and reduced the church debt.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the doxology.

The Minister of Militia has instructed the D.O.C. at London to secure a camp district from 4 to 10 miles square.

ENDORSATION BY CITY COUNCIL OF M.I.P. EXHIBITION

Would be Good Thing for City and Her Industries

A deputation from the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Peterborough Health Association waited on the City Council last night, asking for the co-operation and assistance of that body in making their "Made in Peterborough" exhibition in the Armories, a success. The Association purpose holding a big carnival week from May 27th to June 1st, in the effort to raise sufficient funds to engage a district nurse to visit consumptive homes in the city and disseminate educative literature and information on correct methods of combating the disease.

The deputation was composed of Mrs. R. W. Travers, Mrs. W. H. Bradburn, and Mrs. James Kendry. Mrs. Kendry spoke first explaining the nature of their contemplated exhibition. They intend to have the Armories stocked with booths, which will be occupied with exhibits of Peterborough's manufactures. The ladies have made a thorough canvas of the city, calling upon every manufacturer, soliciting from them exhibits. The responses met with in some instances were gratifying, while in others, discouraging. Arrangements have been made to have forty-two booths on exhibition, but so far just fourteen have been sold.

The ladies therefore besought the aid of the Council in stimulating the manufacturers to purchase booths thereby assisting the Auxiliary in their praiseworthy efforts, and at the same time booming Peterborough's industries.

The Council through Mayor Bradburn and Ald. Gillespie expressed their willingness to co-operate with the ladies as far as possible in causing the affair to be a success. They also thought that Mrs. Travers' suggestion to have Sir James Whitney or the Governor General visit Peterborough at the time, was a good move.

On motion of Ald. Gillespie and Gordon, the following resolution carried.

"That this council is of the opinion that the 'Made in Peterborough Exhibition' which is being arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Peterborough Health Association will be a good advertisement for the city, and for those who exhibit at it, and that in view of the benevolent objects to which the proceeds will be applied, and for the credit of the city, it should be supported and that this Council commend the exhibition to the support of the manufacturers and citizens generally.

A further motion authorized the Manufacturers' committee to act in conjunction with the Ladies' Auxiliary in the matter.

MR. COLLINS GAVE FINE ADDRESS

Local Astronomists Enjoyed His Interesting Talk

Those who attended the meeting of the Astronomical Society last evening at the Collegiate Institute enjoyed a rare treat in the address of Mr. J. R. Collins of Toronto, who had kindly consented, at considerable personal inconvenience to be present.

Mr. Collins is a trained observer, and has devoted many years to observation and study of astronomical matters. His deductions and comment have an added authority from this study of the subject. The address was illustrated with many slides, showing details of research in connection with the planetary system of the universe.

Formal business of the Branch was transacted as soon as the meeting opened. Mr. H. D. Fiske, president, presiding. Messrs. Keyes and Carveth who have been making individual observations recently, gave accurate accounts of what they had noted, with the aid of their telescopes. Mr. Fred Roy was received into the membership of the society. The meeting was again indebted to the able services of Mr. Fiske, who took charge of the lantern, which contributed so much to the interest of the address.

Mr. Collins, in his opening remarks showed the relation of the earth in space to the other seven planets of the sun, describing in what respects the earth corresponded with these planets. His comparisons showed the earth to be but a comparatively small body. Also he compared the earth's density and gravitation to that of the other planets.

Mr. Collins dealt with the cause of the four seasons of the earth, demonstrating the sun's effect in that connection. Mr. Collins also made clear the connection between the magnetism of the earth and that of the sun, and how solar activity effects the earth's magnetism. So marked is this effect that it is calculated that in years to come the astronomers will be able to predict the seasons and the weather to a great extent by the sun's activity.

At the conclusion of the address, on motion of Messrs. Easson and Elliott, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker of the evening.

It is expected that the next meeting of the Society will be addressed by Mr. F. L. Blake, O.L.S.D.L.S., of Toronto Observatory.

Good Friday Service

The public service will be held on Good Friday afternoon at three o'clock under the auspices of the Ministeral Association, as in the past few years, this being decided at the meeting yesterday. Owing to the lateness of the season, the service will not be held in Central Park, and by kind permission of the military authorities it will be held in the armories. Further notice of details will be made later.

SCHOOL TEACHERS CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING BOY

Magistrate Reserves Judgment Till Thursday, After Taking Evidence In Case Preferred by Vincent Hopwood, a Pupil at Baptist College—Received Ten Stripes at Night—Admits Being Bad.

Woodstock, April 3.—At 7.30 o'clock last night, the three Woodstock College professors, Messrs. R. A. F. McDonald, Leon McCrimenon and Vincent Price, who it was alleged administered a severe thrashing to Vincent Hopwood, a student at that institution, were charged in the local police court with assault. The accused professors were represented in court by G. G. McKay, K.C., of this city, while Crown Attorney Ball prosecuted.

Hopwood stated that at about 11.30 p.m. on March 22, Prof. McDonald came to his room and told him to follow him. Witness did so, and was taken to the gymnasium, followed by Prof. McCrimmon and Prof. Price. Hopwood was ordered to take off his bath robe and to lie across the vaulting horse. He refused, but the three masters forced him to do so. McCrimmon and Price held him and McDonald applied ten cracks with a strap over his bare back, leaving long weals. Witness did not think he had been cut. McDonald told him he would get twice as much next time.

Hopwood admitted that he had been a bad boy. He had been punished by other teachers several times and had been warned that his next offence meant severe punishment. Witness stated that he had attended other schools and had received similar punishment for disobedience, although it had never been on bare skin.

Dr. Walford, who examined the boy the day after the punishment, stated there were several marks on the student's back about 12 or 14 inches long. The skin was not cut. Dr. Walford thought that the beating was most severe.

The only witness called for the defence was Prof. R. A. F. McDonald, who administered the punishment. He stated that, previous to the whipping, he had repeatedly warned Hopwood regarding his disobedience. Witness did not feel that the whipping had been too severe.

McDonald stated that, although he had not secure special instructions from the principal in this case, the masters were generally trusted regarding the punishment to be administered.

After the hearing of the evidence, Magistrate Ball reserved judgment until Thursday next.

CHANCELLOR LLOYD GEORGE SHOWS SURPLUS OF $32,725,000

British Treasury Chief Reports That the Loss of Revenue on Account of the Coal Strike Has Been $2,000,000—Disappointed In His Hopes of a Big Reduction In Naval Expenditures—Trade Prospects Are Good.

London, April 3.—The British budget for the financial year, 1912-13, was introduced by David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the House of Commons yesterday before the thinnest attendance on such an occasion for fifteen years.

The Chancellor was in the comfortable position of having a nest egg of $32,725,000 remaining from the year just closed. This, he said, was the largest realized surplus on record.

The loss to revenue from the coal strike has been upwards of $2,000,000.

The estimated expenditure for the financial year, 1912-13, amounts to $934,625,000, an increase of $28,095,000 over that of the past year.

This is mainly due to the compulsory insurance act for workmen and the acquisition of all the telephones in the United Kingdom by the state.

From the good trade outlook, the Chancellor of the Exchequer considered that it was safe to estimate an expansion of most of the revenue-producing taxes. He announced therefore that, although there would be no reduction of taxation, no new taxes will be imposed.

The revenue for the coming year he estimated at $935,945,000, leaving a surplus of $1,520,000.

Referring to the increase of $28,000,000 in the expenditure of the fiscal year of 1912-13, the Chancellor said he had been disappointed in his anticipation of a big reduction in naval expenditure.

He was afraid the prospect of a decrease in that direction was not bright. He, however, took a rosy view of trade prospects. He said:

"Trade throughout the world appears to be in an exceptionally healthy condition. The conditions in the United States are stronger than they have been for years, and instead of the devastating cyclone we had a few years ago from across the Atlantic, we are likely now to have a steady trade wind. There is only one disturbing factor, the Presidential election, but I do not think that is going to have a very serious effect on the trade of the United States. That is full of hope for our trade here."

PASSING OF EDWARD TERRY

London, April 3.—Edward O'Connor Terry, best-known of English actor-managers, died at his home, Priory Lodge, Barnes, Surrey, yesterday, after a brief illness. He was born in 1844, and came to his stage heritage by right of birth, his father, John Terry, having been a well-known and popular London actor.

Young Terry was educated privately, and made his stage debut in 1863. His first London appearance was at the Surrey Theatre in 1867, and in rapid succession he had appeared in the Lyceum and then the Strand. He remained at the Strand till 1873, then he went to the Gaiety, where he stayed till 1887, then opened Terry's Theatre with "Sweet Lavender," playing the part of Dick Pheany 1,670 times. He was one of the best known Freemasons in the world, having been grand past treasurer of the English Grand Lodge and founder and first master of Edward Terry Lodge. He was very charitable, and had written many books. He has played in every country in the civilized globe.

WHY PETERBOROUGH LACKS INDUSTRIES

The Examiner in a staff-contributed communication undertakes to read the citizens of the city a lesson in lack of enterprise, and to assign non-arrival of industries and a lack of civic enterprise to certain "sectarian" movements and influences. The Examiner, as usual, is talking through its hat. If it printed the truth, that might be helpful. Appeals to class differences, which are supposed to exist, and diatribes against municipal politics never help to build up the city.

Suppose we tell the truth, and see how people will take it. It may act as a sort of industrial emetic, and the city feel better afterwards.

It is little use for the Board of Trade, for instance, to get in session and call for establishment of industries. Such will not descend from the clouds. They will come here as the result of outside judgment that Peterborough would be a good point at which to locate, and from assistance, interest and capital brought forward by our own men.

Outside judgment is influenced by the inducements offered elsewhere. These include, loans, sites, exemptions and other forms of assistance or inducements. Power, now, is available at reasonable rates, at many points, which have just as good shipping facilities as Peterborough, if not better. What, then, are we to offer? Who is to define the inducement? Will it pay to pay industries to come here. That is the whole thing in a nut-shell.

Honestly, can we accuse our own citizens of lack of enterprise and confidence? They had the enterprise—lots of it, have it yet—but they have lost confidence. And why.

Where is the local capital lost in the Cordage Works?

Where is the money that went out in the first Weaving Co.?

Will the man who had some money and put a part of it into the first Shovel Co. repeat the experiment?

Have the stockholders who come to grief in the Rapid Tool Co. confidence to start another, or any industry like it?

Where is the capital stock of the Lubricator Co.?

How much local capital went down to grief in the Stove Works?

Who was ruined in the fiasco of the Bridge Works?

What about the Navigation Co. Anything missing in that?

How much further shall we spin out this list of disasters, the graves of the hopes and money of those who, loyally to the city, ventured their money in local industries, to make something for themselves and to help the growth of the municipality?

One man loses $15,000.00. Another sunk $40,000.00. A third threw away $8,500.00, and so on down the list.

Can we ask these men—they are here yet, most of them—to repeat the operation? Not much. Not any! Not by a jugful!

They have had enough, and say so.

What caused these failures, these abortive enterprises? Who knows the cause? Want of market, lack of sufficient capital; expensive and poor management? One thing is certain, what they paid for power never crippled the concerns. The freight rates never floored them. Possibly they were born—some of them before their time.

No wonder the citizen with some money shakes his head. No wonder he closes his pocket and keeps a grip on his roll. What is the lesson to the local man—steer clear of industries, every time. It is a hard pill to swallow but it may do us good to take our medicine.

Not much of "sectarian" rot in this list of casualties, is there, to say nothing of those that are struggling on in adverse circumstances.

Where is the money going that should be ready for investment in a city the size of Peterborough? It is not being hoarded in stockings. The answer is patent to anyone who looks. When a man can walk into the city and serenely sell sixty lots of land on the Albertan prairies, collar the cash and leave the field in a week, he can tell where the money is going. Those who are putting money into the Northwest say that it is safer, better, and a larger return promised than offered in Peterborough industrials. The city is being drained. All the talking and speeches and help-our-city harangues at Board of Trade meetings will not stem the flow of capital going out of its limits.

Whether we like it or not, within the last few years a thing has cropped up in relation to the establishment of industries. The vital question of labor supply.

Position, freight, power, may all point to a location as good. If the labor supply be not equal to the present and future needs of the industry, then the lack of it is a determining factor.

Suppose we relate one incident—typical of all others.

When the Eaton Co. were about to establish their underwear factory, and which would employ from 500 to 600 female employees, the first place they considered in placing it was at Peterborough. Site, freight, express, power and municipal rates were all reasonable. Ample capital was available from their own resources.

They, as a beginning, sent men to Peterborough. These inspectors counted every female employee going into work, morning and noon, for one week, at the Quaker Oats Co., the Can. Gen. Electric Co., Auburn Mills, Chicle Co., Lock Works, Turner & Sons, Ackerman's, at local stores, millinery shops and wherever female labor is employed.

They took the City Directory and made a careful analysis of all girls recorded on its pages. They made careful enquiry as to the numbers in families, and after this was done it was totalled and conclusions reached. They found they were in this situation, outside the labor then used by the local industries there was not enough female labor available, or likely to to be available, without one or two things taking place.

Either they would have to offer inducements in a wage scale that would assure employees leaving places and coming to them, with the result that the scales would immediately go up in local factories, where employees would be retained, or they could import and bring in from outside points sufficient numbers to equip the factory.

They declined to go into any such scheme with any such contingency, and established the factory at Oshawa.

Why at Oshawa? There they found a state of affairs to their hand. The Automobile Works and other industries—industries that had grown from small beginnings—wanted skilled mechanics. The best skilled man is the man with a family. These had held away from Oshawa because there was not employment for girls in sufficient quantity. Now that is remedied. The machine shops take care of the heads of families and the Eaton factory takes care of the young women and girls. Cause and effect—each working and working together.

The facts as above are the truth. How do you like it? Isn't this the reason for non-arrival of industries? All this "sectarian" rot is nothing beside the conditions that have come up in business and the business of making things.

What is the remedy? First help the industries we have. Try and see that their expansion, so far as reasonable and sound, is not hampered.

Then encourage the industries we have, such as are on a sound basis and controlled by a man or men who have gained confidence because they have been working industriously and have been prudent in management, to grow bigger.

Persuade people to keep their money at home and not go into wild-cat mining schemes, Port McNicol and that sort of thing.

Get together and decide as citizens, as ratepayers, as property owners, just how much the city can afford to give to have an industry establish. It can't be dodged. We'll have to give to get. How much is the getting worth to us? How much and how far and in what way shall we give.

And first of all bury the Examiner's "Sectarian" ghost.

BIG LOSS OF LIFE

Steamer Lost in Typhoon Had 130 Passengers.

Special to the Review.

Perth, Australia, April 3.—It is feared that one hundred and thirty lives have been lost in the wreck of the steamer Koomba during a typhoon. A great quantity of wreckage, including the deckhouse, boats and life rafts have been washed on the beach here.

FACTORIES CLOSING.

Kingston, April 3.—The Children's Aid Society will take action in regard to the placing of Paul Layer, the fourteen-year-old gorger from North Bay, in the penitentiary. The lad was given a two year term for raising an express order, and he had the first train ride of his life on his way to Kingston.

STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Miners Are Ordered Back to Their Work

Special to the Review.

London, April 3.—Announcement was made in the House of Commons this evening that the coal strike had been called off, and the men ordered back to work. Many mines will resume operation to-night.

British Miners May Vote Against Resuming Their Work.

London, April 3.—The balloting of the miners on the question of terminating the coal strike has finished, but the official returns will not be available until to-day. Apparently there will be a majority against the resumption of work. Under the rules of the Miners' Federation a two-thirds majority is a necessity to authorize a national strike and it is a question of doubt whether a bare majority will suffice for the continuance of the strike. This point has not arisen heretofore and whichever way it is decided, it will likely cause dissension and delay and possibly a split in the federation.

Meanwhile more than 30,000 miners have already resumed, and if the decision is against returning to the mines it is certain that thousands of men who are desirous of working will disregard it.

King George, Queen Mary and the Queen Mother Alexandra have contributed $5,000 cash for the relief of the widespread distress.

Both the president and the secretary of the federation express the opinion that the executive will decide that a two-thirds vote is necessary for a continuance of the strike and that at a meeting of the executive, to be held to-morrow, the men will be advised to resume, although there may be a majority against it.

British railway traffic for the current week shows still heavier losses than the previous week.

Thames River In Flood.

Chatham, Ont., April 3.—The Thames is still rising and now stands fifteen feet above normal level. The country is inundated above and below Chatham, and in many down-the-river localities the farmers go about their farms in boats and on rafts.

Monday night an ice jam formed opposite Tecumseh Park and broke gas and water mains crossing the river. On account of the torrent, workmen cannot fix them, and the escaping natural gas is boiling up through the water.

Civic Beauty Campaign In Chatham.

Chatham, April 3.—The City Council will institute a civic beauty campaign in Chatham. Vacant lots will be advertised as garden plots and tenders will be asked for them from gardeners. This will do away with the weed nuisance, and prizes will be offered for the best flower gardens in front of all vacant lots and street corners. The scenic committee will also have charge of the tree cutting and trimming in the city limits.

UNION LABEL

BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS

The loss to Ontario this year, through the action of the Liberal majority in the Senate in killing the T. and N.O. subsidy bill, and the Highways bill, will be about two and a quarter millions. Sir Wilfrid Laurier found himself impotent in the House of Commons to obstruct the Borden government in giving justice to Ontario, but he made use of a subservient following in the senate to carry out his spite against this province. The reason for this spite is not hard to find. What Ontario did to the Liberal party and reciprocity in the late election, was almost sufficient to kindle his prejudice into flames of passion. Ontario, being a Conservative province, has never received the treatment from Laurier that its position as the leading province in Confederation entitled it to. It has been deprived of its common rights. The Temiskaming and Ontario railway, built by the province, was never given the subsidy that is given by the Dominion to all privately owned railways. The Whitney government was running the T. and N.O. The appropriations for public works were exceedingly generous to Quebec, but Ontario got only what had to be given—what could be got by Liberal members or used as a bribe in doubtful constituencies.

The Highways bill is a measure of very great importance to Ontario, which leads all the other provinces in the good roads movement. Of the million dollars appropriated for this year the government was prepared to devote to Ontario highways about one-third. This was an early implementing of the pre-election promise made by Mr. Borden to give federal aid to road construction. The Liberals in the House of Commons dared not oppose the principle of the bill, for the return of Mr. Borden by such a large majority was a mandate to him to go ahead with the proposal. But they were unwilling that it should be put into effect. Sir Wilfrid Laurier attacked the bill on the ground that it invaded the rights of the provinces, that the B.N.A. act had specified that road construction was provincial business entirely, and that the only form federal assistance could take was an increased subsidy, earmarked for expenditure on roads by the provinces. This principle was denied by the Borden government. Hon. Frank Cochrane urged that the provinces were only too willing that the federal government should undertake roadwork as it was deemed best. It was impossible to devote the money to supplementing the provincial road funds until some definite plan had been worked out. The government intended to divide the appropriations among the provinces, according to population, so that each would be treated quite fairly and squarely.

But Sir Wilfrid Laurier knew that the measure as proposed by the government would be immensely popular with the country. He knew that the farmers, and the business men were looking forward to an improvement in the general road standard. He could not prevent the passage of the bill by the House of Commons, but he still held the strings in the Senate. At his bidding, therefore, Liberals headed by the "blue ruin" knight, stripped the bill of two clauses in such a way that the government could not accept it, and for the present the road scheme is blocked. Laurier's enmity to Ontario and to the measure designed to improve domestic conditions will eventually be a boomerang.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The water-powers of Canada are among the most valuable possessions the country has. To safeguard the rights of the public, the Commission has adopted the following principles to guide it in formulating the opinions it gives on questions relating to the disposal of water-powers:

No unconditional titles shall be given to water-powers, but every grant or lease of powers shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Development within a specified time

(b) Public control of rates.

(c) A rental charge subject to revision from time to time.

Central Canada is constantly within measurable distance of a coal famine; nor are the conditions which may precipitate such a famine in any considerable degree within the country's control. This is due to the fact that all Eastern and Central Canada is dependent on the Pennsylvania fields for their supplies of anthracite coal. In view of the threatened strike of the Pennsylvania miners, this situation is of unusually grave importance to Canadians. It is only when such strikes occur that the public actually realizes how dependent it is upon supplies of United States coal. Again very few seem to realize the fact that the supplies of United States coal, both anthracite and bituminous, may be entirely denied us at any time. Mr. Geo. Otis Smith, of the U.S. Geological Survey, says: "Let us keep our coal at home, and with it manufacture whatever the world needs." Should this happen can we say that we are prepared to get along without it?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Your editorial in your issue of Tuesday was very interesting. The following brief article on expert medical testimony throws some true light on medical science:

A DEADLY EXPERT.

A certain great Chicago physician and A. S. Trude, a lawyer of that city, are close friends, but one time when the physician was called as an expert witness in a case Trude was on the opposite side and had to cross-examine.

The physician had given his expert testimony. It upheld the contention of his side perfectly.

When it came Trude's turn he squared away, glared at his friend and, after the usual preliminary questions, began the examination:

"Doctor, you are frequently called into consultation when prominent men are ill in this community, are you not?"

"I am."

"Were you in attendance on George M. Pullman?" "I was."

"Where is Mr. Pullman now?"

"He is dead."

"Ah, yes! And were you called in by Mr. Marshall Field?" "I was."

"Where is Mr. Field now, may I ask?"

"He is dead."

"Indeed! And were you in attendance on Phillip D. Armour?" "I was."

"And where is Mr. Armour now?"

"He is dead."

Trude knew that his friend was called in consultation in almost every big case in Chicago, and there was a malicious gleam in his eye as he named dead man after dead man and asked if the expert had attended them. After he had named about a dozen prominent citizens who had passed away he turned to the jury with a wave of his hand as if to say: "There's your expert!" and sat down.

Five Men Escape.

St. Louis, Mo., April 3.—Five men, one a confessed murderer, and four charged with burglary and robbery, escaped from Judge Taylor's court room while court was in session on the third floor of the municipal courts building yesterday.

They were in a cage adjoining the court-room and crawled through a small door in the rear of the cage to the window sill, then walked along a narrow ledge to another window, 20 feet away, re-entered the building and escaped.

Infantry Association Organization.

Ottawa, April 3.—The Canadian Infantry Association was organized yesterday. The officers are: Patron, the Duke of Connaught; vice-patrons, the Premier of Canada and Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces; hon. presidents, members of the Militia Council and the inspector-general; president, Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, Toronto. Capt. Hunter Pellatt, of the 12th York Rangers, will act as secretory pro tem.

The association will make an effort to organize divisional or territorial branch associations.

The Minister of Militia announced that $5,000 had been provided in the estimates for the Infantry Association.

Census Branch Transferred.

Ottawa, April 3.—An important departmental change went into effect yesterday by order in council when the census and statistics branch which have been under the Minister of Agriculture since its organization, was transferred to the Minister of Trade and Commerce. Archibald Blue, census commissioner, will continue at the head of the branch. This is the most important departmental change since the new Government went into power.

The archives has already been transferred to the Secretary of State and it is likely that patents and copyrights will also be placed under Hon. W. J. Roche.

Negress Slew Seventeen.

Lafayette, Ind., April 3.—Clementine Barnabet, a "half-blood" negress, told a story here yesterday that the police authorities say they accept as clearing the mystery veiling the killing of twenty negroes in southwest Louisiana, and which, it is said, gave clues that will fix the guilt for fifteen other night assassinations of blacks in Louisiana and Texas.

From Clementine's story it appears she led a mysterious negro cult, the members of which performed the rites of "human sacrifice."

The negress declared she killed seventeen of the victims with her own hands.

Hit Prosecutor With Poker.

Victoria, B.C., April 3.—City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison is nursing a sore head as a result of an incident in the police court.

"I think this man has been here before," said he, referring to a defendant named Arthur Morris, charged with vagrancy. No sooner was the remark made than Morris hit him over the head with an iron poker, which he had surreptitiously procured from the prison stove and smuggled into court.

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

SPRING Skin Troubles

Mothers who have used Zam-Buk know how it cures Spring Skin Troubles in Children or Adults. Mothers who have not yet tried it should note these facts:—Zam-Buk was unknown ten years ago, yet such is its merit that to-day it has become the standard salve in the homes of four continents! Zam-Buk is purely herbal; contains no poisonous colouring matter; is used by leading medical men; used in the British Army and Navy; used by all best fitted to know the needs of the skin. Make it your family balm!

Mr. J. C. Bates, of Burks Falls (Ont.), says:—"Zam-Buk cured my three children, who were all broken out in sores to such an extent that it was pitiable to see them. These sores had defied all remedies previously applied, but I am glad to say Zam-Buk healed them."

Miss S. G. Hamilton, of Alliston (Ont.), says:—"My face and hands were one mass of pimples and blotches. These would itch, and when rubbed, broke out into sores. Whenever I put water near the affected parts it caused a stinging sensation and much pain—just as if I had been scalded. Nothing that I applied seemed to do me any good until I tried Zam-Buk. That gave me relief, and a few weeks of the Zam-Buk treatment resulted in a perfect cure."

Zam-Buk cures pimples, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, bruises, piles, festering sores, ulcers, blood-poisoning, eczema, ringworm, bad leg, diseased ankles, and all skin diseases and injuries. Rubbed well into the parts affected, it cures neuralgia, rheumatism, and sciatica. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. box, three for $1.25, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

The next thing I knew I was raising my head with a jerk and opening my eyes to look straight into those of Mr. Brett. It was he, there was no doubt of that, and yet he was different. In my dreamy state I couldn't think how for an instant, but as I came to myself I saw it was all a question of dress. He had perhaps been making money in journalism, for he was no longer good looking in spite of his clothes. He had the most excellent gray flannels or something of the sort, just the right kind of collar (I know it must be right, for Stan always wears it) and a waistcoat Potter himself might have envied. I didn't exactly think of these things then, but I must have unconsciously taken them all in in a flash, for I knew them afterward.

By the time the flash had passed we were shaking hands, and he was saying in his nice voice how awfully sorry he was to have kept me waiting. He had been at the club, but owing to a stupid mistake there had been some delay in his getting my letter.

Opening my eyes to look straight into those of Mr. Brett.

I was even more pleased to see him than I had thought I was going to be. I felt as if I had known him all my life, and he looked so strong and handsome and dependable that I couldn't bear to take my eyes off his face lest I should wake up and find him gone—because I'd been dreaming him.

"I'll tell you all about everything if you'll sit down," I said, but instead of doing as I asked he inquired with a queer, worried expression on his face whether I had had lunch.

"No; nor breakfast either," I replied quite gayly, but with a watery smile.

"Good heavens," said he, going as red as if I had accused him of snatching it from my lips. "Then you must have both together before you begin to tell me anything."

"We might go out and have a sandwich somewhere," I suggested.

"There's nothing the matter with the Waldorf sandwiches."

"Except that they're expensive," said I. "You must remember you and I aren't millionaires."

"I have been doing pretty well lately," said he. "I can almost call myself rich. Please have some lunch. I can afford it, and if you refuse I'll know it's because"—

I guessed what he might be going to say, so I stopped him.

"Nonsense!" I exclaimed. "But I've run away from Mrs. Stuyvesant-Knox, and I don't want to be found. If she or her brother should have come to New York or if anybody else"—

"I've thought of that," said he quickly, "but we've no time to waste. You're starving. If you wouldn't mind my getting you a private dining room and sending you in some lunch"—

"But I want you to be with me," I insisted.

He evidently hesitated, but only for a minute. I don't think he's the sort of man to hesitate long about anything.

"Very well, that's what I'd like best, of course, if you don't mind," he said. "I'll go and see to everything, and be back before you can count sixty, if you do it slowly."

I didn't do it at all, but thought how thankful I was that he had come to me, for I was sure everything would go right now.

In two or three minutes he came back to take me into a charming little dining room, where there was no danger that Mrs. Ess Kay or Potter could pounce upon us, as it was for Mr. Brett and me alone. I shuddered to think what it must be costing, but his clothes were so exceedingly good I hoped he hadn't exaggerated about the luck that had come to him.

Naturally I couldn't tell the part of my story which concerned Potter Parker, but I said that Mrs. Ess Kay wanted me to do things which I didn't think it right to do, and I couldn't stay in her house even a day longer.

"I should like to go home," I went on, "but I can't yet, and the only other thing is to join Miss Woodburn in Chicago. You remember Miss Woodburn, don't you?"

He said he remembered her very well, had read in the newspapers that she had left Newport for Chicago and thought it was a wise idea of mine to join her.

"I'm glad you think that," said I, "for I want to start today, and I hope you'll tell me how to go, how much money it will be, how long it takes to get there and all about it."

Legislature Supports Present Civil Service System.

N. W. Rowell Speaks In Behalf of His Motion to Create a Commission to Govern the Public Employes of the Province—Leader of the Opposition Criticizes Amendments to the Power Commission Act.

Toronto, April 3.—Lift the civil service out of politics, eliminate the spoils and patronage system, make appointments and promotions by competitive examinations, and create a non-partisan civil service commission. These were the proposals N. W. Rowell, leader of the Opposition, advocated in a motion before the Legislature yesterday. His motion was lost on division. The Premier introduced an amendment to the effect that the House congratulate the people on the present administration of the civil service and the absence of the spoils system, and it was carried.

Mr. Rowell delivered a splendid oration in support of his idea, but after he retired the Premier gave his views on the matter and introduced an amendment which looked rosy to the Government supporters.

Dr. Jamieson, South Grey, referred his bill respecting osteopaths to a special committee. The bill requires, among other things, that all osteopaths who have been practicing less than five years will require to submit to an examination by the Ontario Medical Council. The special committee consists of Jamieson, Reaume, Pyne, McQueen, Thompson (Simcoe), Marshall, Musgrove, Johnson, Bowman, McNaught, McPherson, Sinclair.

"It is a well understood maxim of civil polity," said Hon. Dr. Pyne, in moving for the second reading of the bill respecting the compulsory school attendance of adolescents, "that in countries were the people have a part in the function of government the electorate should possess at least the essentials of an education." The Minister then told of how some countries like Germany and Switzerland have compulsory school attendance laws under varying conditions up till the 17th or 18th year. In Ontario, however, this law will be optional, each municipality voting on the proposition for itself.

N. W. Rowell thought the compulsory plan would be best, but admitted that the optional plan might be preferable till the system gets in working order.

N. W. Rowell criticized the bill to amend the Power Commission Act when it came up for second reading at last night's session of the Legislature. Mr. Rowell objected to the principle of the bill, giving added powers to the commission. He thought the powers of the municipalities ought to be increased and not curtailed, as the present bill proposes to do. Mr. Rowell suggested the appointment of a public service commission to deal with such matters. He also declared in favor of municipalities having direct representation on the commission and a voice in its management.

W. K. McNaught drew attention to the meeting that was held at the Parliament Building a week or two ago, when malcontents from one end of the province to the other stated their objections to the Hydro-Electric Commission, regarding the giving of added powers to the commission.

"At these meetings," said Mr. McNaught, "there was not a single municipality represented. The malcontents were all corporations, and the leader of the Opposition in a very attenuated way to-night echoes their sentiments."

"I wasn't at these meetings," interrupted Mr. Rowell.

"Well, you must have read about them," replied Mr. McNaught.

Sir James Whitney introduced an amendment to the Power Commission Act to provide, if necessary, for the remuneration of members of the commission other than the chairman, in case members of the commission at some future time may not be members of the House.

C.P.R. Invades Austria.

London, April 3.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—It is announced that the C.P.R. has concluded an agreement with the Austrian Government to operate observation cars on three main routes of the Austrian state railways. The news created considerable excitement in Austria, where an increase in tourist traffic of Canadians and Americans is naturally expected, and the Government is being besieged by cities not on the specified routes for the extension of the services, and interpellations have been made in the Hungarian Parliament that pressure be brought with a view to extending the service to Budapest.

FORTY INCHES OF SNOW IN MARCH

Total Fall During the Winter was 104 1-2 Inches

Some inquiries have been made as to the total amount of snow that has fallen this winter, and a little research has brought to light the following figures. The first snow (sufficient to whiten the ground) came on October 6th.

	Inches
October	1-2
November	6 1-2
December	11 1-2
January	37
February	28
March	23
Total	104 1 2

The snowfall was measured in each case shortly after its descent, and when possible before it had drifted, and become solidified. Some of these falls of snow melted shortly after they arrived.

The greatest depth on the ground at any time was about the middle of March, when snow covered the ground to the depth of 40 inches on the level in sheltered and undrifted locations.—W.P.

LABOR REPORT FOR FEBRUARY

The following is the report of the local correspondent to the Labor Gazette on the situation in Peterboro, for the month of February.

The general condition of the labor market for February was active. All branches of industry were well employed except the building trades, cold and stormy weather being largely responsible for this. Building operations were suspended much of the time. Heavy snowfalls gave temporary employment at removing snow to a large number of men. The various ice houses have secured an abundance of ice of a quality unsurpassed in previous years. The Water Works Department shows a surplus of $2,200.24 on the year's operations. The total revenue was $45,194.95. The expense accounts include $13,197.70 paid to the city in meeting the interest on debentures $9,370.23 for sinking fund, and an amount for depreciation of tools and plant, and totalled $4,299.41. The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company was held this month, and the report showed that the company was in a flourishing condition, and had expended $40,000.00 in the past two years, remodelling new buildings, and installing new plant. The International Harvester Company have started the manufacture of binder twine. About one hundred and twenty-five hands are at present employed in this industry, the only difficulty experienced by the new manager being his inability to secure sufficient female help. The Canadian General Electric Company is advertising for tenders for the erection of another large building, the dimensions of which are to be 325 feet by 80 feet.

The city will pave George Street and Charlotte street this year, and work in this connection will be commenced as soon as the weather permits. The city council have passed a by-law, by which all sewers will be paid for on the frontage tax system. A rate of 52 cents per foot straight on all frontage will be the assessment on land on both sides of the street on which sewers are constructed and the remainder of the cost of such sewers will be borne by the corporation. Street watering will also be paid for by frontage tax. The city council have appointed a permanent assessor at a salary of $1,400 per year. Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, tent manufacturers, have received a contract from the Dominion government for two hundred military tents.

The markets for agricultural products were well attended during the first part of the month, but the attendance has lately fallen off on account of the roads. Prices are the highest known.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darting through my side and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy and enjoy perfect health."

Nerviline CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large bottles, 50c, trial size 25c. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

THOMPSON—MARTIN

At Knox church manse, Reid street, yesterday evening, Miss Alberta Martin and Mr. John J. Thompson, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. H. J. Keith. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Wm. Martin.

After the ceremony, the wedding dinner was served at the residence of the bride's mother, at the corner of Park and King streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents, testifying to their popularity. They left on the nine o'clock G. T. R. train for Port Hope and will return to the city before leaving for Ottawa to reside.

A resolution passed the last regular meeting of the Council demanding the return of the collector's roll not later than April 15th. Those who have not paid their taxes are asked to do so at once and save legal expense.

REV. DR. GRAHAM AT PARK ST. CHURCH

There was a very appreciative audience in the Park Street Baptist church last night to hear the address of the Rev. Dr. Graham, of Toronto, who delivered an address on the Jesuits. The Rev. Mr. Riddiford occupied the chair.

Dr. Graham described the early organization, and gave a sketch of the life of the founder of the Jesuits, Ignatuis Loyola. He told of the principles of the Jesuits, and their teachings. Mr. Graham also showed how most of the movements directed against the Protestant people and their faith, were the result of the Jesuits' efforts.

Dr. Graham's address was so highly appreciated that he was invited to return and deliver it again. He accepted the invitation and will give the same address on the first Friday in May in the S. O. E. Hall.

Y.W.C.A. GIRLS PLEASED AGAIN

Repeated the Program of Closing Gymnasium Exercises

Another large and greatly appreciative audience attended the second presentation of the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium exhibition and concert in the Collegiate auditorium last evening. The girls again achieved a decided triumph and the performance was in all particulars a grand success.

The musical accompaniments were supplied by Miss Gwen Hall.

Miss Coventry was presented with a bouquet from the girls and another from Miss McCalla. Miss Coventry is certainly very popular with the Association girls, she having recently been presented with a brass clock. Mr. S. J. Keys was chairman.

SCHOOLS CLOSE TO-MORROW PENNY BANKS MAY BE ADOPTED

Mr. W. J. Neal Resigns to Accept Position at Ottawa—Labor Council Ask for "Fair Wage" Clause—Board of Education Hear the East City Resolution Read.

The Board of Education decided to close the schools on Thursday noon for the Easter holidays and reopen them a week from Easter Monday. This will allow any out-of-town pupils attending school, to reach their homes for Good Friday.

The meeting of the Board was held last evening with the following members present: John Crane, chairman; V. Eastwood, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Morrison, B. F. Ackerman, Robert Fair, T. H. Adams, and W. H. Hill. Inspector Mowat and H. R. H. Kenner were also present.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. W. J. Neal, assistant principal of the Central Normal Training School, sent in his resignation, he having accepted a good position on the teaching staff of the Ottawa schools. The resignation was accepted, the Board expressing their regret at losing his valuable services.

Miss Jean Kennedy, of Pontypool, sent in an application for a position on the public school teaching staff.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

FROM LABOR COUNCIL.

A letter was received from the secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, asking the Board if they were agreeable to insert a "fair wage" clause in all agreements of work to be done by the Board of Education. They were willing to send representatives to the Board to explain what they wanted if it was so desired.—Referred to the Building Committee.

GRANT FOR LIBRARY.

H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate, wrote the Board asking for the usual $50 grant this year for the library of the school. The request was granted.

THAT RESOLUTION.

The resolution passed at the East City ratepayers indignation meeting was read. The resolution contained a strong objection to the building of the new East City school on the Armour Estate. The secretary was instructed to acknowledge the receipt of the communication and write to the secretary of the East City ratepayers explaining the Boards position.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

A committee from the Board was appointed to attend the Teachers' Convention to be held in Toronto on April 9th.

CHILDREN ON THE OUTSIDE.

Dr. Morrison brought up a matter which he had heard complained of, namely, of children in the public schools being kept outside of schools during bad weather, owing to the school doors being locked up to five minutes previous to opening time. The Inspector replied that he had given instructions to all the principals to have the doors opened fifteen minutes before commencement time, and if this was not done it was contrary to his orders. He promised to look into the matter. It was thought that the janitors were perhaps responsible.

COAL TENDERS.

Vincent Eastwood moved that the Board advertise for tenders for coal to ascertain the difference in cost of hard and soft coal, with a view, perhaps, to burning the former.

An Advisory Commercial Committee was appointed to oversee the Commercial work of the Collegiate Institute. This committee will consist of six members from the Board and six non-members.

PENNY BANKS.

On motion of Messrs. Morrison and Ackerman, it was decided that a committee, composed of the Chairman, the Public School Inspector, and Mr. Eastwood go to Toronto to inquire into the Penny Banks Savings system, with a view to its adoption in the local public schools.

Moved by B. F. Ackerman, seconded by W. H. Hill, that the payment of the following accounts be confirmed:

Charles Clarke, account per order....... $16.00
R. J. Soden, account, text books and supplies....... 100.00

WON'T IT BE AWFUL MAGGIE ?

The dope's been coming thick and fast, we've got the fever bad, about the ball team for this burg; some fans have gone real mad. We've players who have biffed the pill to corners far and wide, and others who have just sailed in upon the "comers" tide. There's names we've never heard before, and some well known to fame, attached to youths who sure are billed to play the winning game. They'll have to stretch the ball lot out, just know 'twould be a cinch, for our ball team will all be there to swat in time of pinch. And we've pitchers lean and stocky, one 'tis said cannot be hit, and we've mit men who can work 'em, just like "Schmidy" with his kit. And we've got the best of leaders, nothing dead about his lid; there is nothing to the finish, we've the flag already hid. But there'll be an awful holler from the lot across the drink, if the mogul of our ball team, has to have another think. There'll be weeping, wailing, plenty; 'twill be awful won't it Mag, if the ball yard near the brewery doesn't land the grand old rag.

A CONTRIBUTION

To The Sporting Editor

In your columns of last night dear sir, my eyes light on a name that certainly should lead our boys to victory and fame. The "Suffragettes," a nickname that would suit our ball men fine, that would take the starch by pailfulls from any opposing nine. Our boys may not break windows, nor wreck the down town stores, but they sure will use the hammer to get the big end of the scores. The government itself could scarcely keep them from the rag, they'd make the other ball clubs look like nightmares with a jag. The Champs may think it easy, but they'll find it pretty hard, to swamp the Pankhurst fellows on the level Brewery yard. And St. Thomas too would wonder where our men their spirit get, till they learned that every one of them was a Pankhurst Suffragette.

Yours truly,
A. FANETTE.

One Eddy Will Claim Settled.

Attleboro, April 3.—George W. Baker, who is a nephew of the late Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, leader of the Christian Science Church, last night confirmed a report from New Hampshire that he had accepted a settlement in the Eddy will case. In an interview here he declined to give the sum of money for which he had agreed to settle. He had feared that the suit would be a longstanding one and he preferred to accept a smaller sum and have it now.

BORDERING ON THE MIRACULOUS

John McElroy's Heart Trouble Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Could Not Work All Summer, and Doctor Failed to Help, but Cure Was Quick When He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Benton N.B., April 2.—(Special.)—Bordering on the miraculous is the cure of John McElroy, a young man well-known here. He was suffering from heart trouble and was so bad that all last summer he was not able to do a day's work. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him. In telling the story of his cure, Mr. McElroy says:

"I went to a doctor who said I had 'palpitation,' but his medicine did not seem to reach the spot. I suffered for over a year and all last summer I was not able to do a day's work. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I felt heavy and sleepy after meals and I was always tired and nervous. I perspired freely with the least exertion.

"After I had finished taking the doctor's medicine, and as I felt no better, I read in an almanac what Dodd's Kidney Pills could do and made up my mind to try them. Before I had finished the first box I felt different, and by the time the second was half gone I was working in the woods and doing good work."

Fodder Famine In Kent.

Chatham, April 3—Farmers throughout Kent are becoming greatly worried over the fodder famine existing here. Many of them have to buy corn and hay to keep their stock alive, and it is proving very expensive. Corn is now selling at as high as 80 cents a bushel, and bran is up to $1.30 a hundred. Stock in many parts of the country is suffering for want of food.

Three Killed at Level Crossing.

Three Rivers, Que., April 3.—Montreal bound train No. 352 crashed into a sleigh at Rochelaus crossing at 3.30 yesterday afternoon, and instantly killed two men and a woman, all of Mount Carmel, named Daucet.

To Cross Ocean.

Atlantic City, N.J., April 3.—Melvin Vaniman has secretly filled his airship Akron with finest quality of hydrogen, and is prepared for a trial ocean flight this week.

Since Vaniman, on Nov. 4 last, landed helpless in the marshes of Grassy Bay, he has reconstructed the Akron. The gas bag now contains 400,000 cubic feet of gas, with a lifting power of 26,000 pounds, an increase of 100 per cent. A horizontal flat fin, with sixty square yards of surface, has been added to the steering equipment, to keep the airship from pitching.

The Akron now has three power systems, each made up of a motor and pair of propellers.

Grant To Toronto Harbor.

Toronto, April 3.—Alex. Lewis, secretary of the Toronto Harbor Commission, announced late last night that the Government had made a grant of $218,517 to the commission.

This expenditure is the largest in years on the Toronto harbor, and the commissioners say that the Government has granted them everything they have asked for. The only reason that there was not a larger expenditure is that the commissioners had not the necessary plans upon which to submit their estimates.

It was announced that tenders have been called for in connection with the usual spring dredging.

David Dexter Dead.

Hamilton, April 3.—David Dexter, president and managing director of the Federal Life Assurance Co., died at his late residence in Hamilton yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dexter, who was 67 years of age, had been ill and confined to his bed for the past week. He was one of the founders of the Federal Life Assurance Co. and occupied the position of managing director since the company's inception. He was a past president of the Life Officers' Association of Canada. At one time he was a member of the Hamilton School Board. His activities were many and varied.

DIABETES

is one of the most cruel maladies of which mankind is subject, the many complications arising from time to time, making life seem almost unbearable. For many diseases, medical, scientific, and physiological knowledge and experience gained from years of deep research, has achieved remarkable results, but, up to now, little has been discovered of practical value in the treatment and cure of Diabetes. In fact, people have begun to look upon the disease as wellnigh incurable. Even in the medical profession can be found doctors who are of the same opinion, regarding sceptically any claim to ameliorate or improve the condition of a diabetic patient.

It can, however, be proved that SANSOL'S ANTIDIABETES lastingly cures all cases of Diabetes. Full particulars can be obtained from the Sansol Mfg. Co., Winnipeg, Man.

Teamsters Strike Averted.

Toronto, April 3.—Thanks to a good measure of common sense exercised by the three Toronto cartage companies, who teamsters went on strike yesterday morning, a serious tie-up in the delivery of freight from the railroads has been averted.

After a conference between the Dominion Transport Co. and the committee appointed by the 300 striking teamsters of that firm, the men decided to accept the offer made by the company and agreed to return to work this morning. The transport company refused to make public the wage settled on, as all the little details have not been completed.

Mrs. Pankhurst To Be Released.

London, April 3.—The Home Secretary yesterday directed that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, who on March 2 was sentenced to two months' imprisonment for window-smashing, shall be released on April 4. The remainder of her sentence has been remitted to enable her to prepare her defence in the conspiracy charge.

Mrs. Pankhurst is jointly charged with Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence with conspiracy and inciting to commit malicious damage to property. This case has several times been remanded at the Old Bailey sessions.

Mr. Kian Johnson, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, will address the Peterborough Automobile Association on Thursday Apr. 4, at 8 o'clock in the Bank of Montreal Chambers. It is desirable that all owners and those interested be present

Guelph to Have Real Hospital.

Guelph, April 3.—Though the General Hospital has been improved recently, in accordance with the Government inspector's orders, by erecting a nurses' home and an isolation hospital, it does not meet with his approval, and he has intimated that the Government grant may yet be withheld if the desired improvements are not made. The directors of the hospital have asked the City Council to submit a bylaw for $25,000 to the people to make the hospital second to none in any respect.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. If you own a good watch, better be on the safe side — Bring it to our Repair Department where it will receive Skilled Attention.

LENS GRINDING

We have just recently installed another Automatic Lens Grinding Machine. With this machine we have now the most complete retail lens grinding plant in Ontario. We are now in a position to grind 200 lenses every day. In case of an accident (if you didn't buy your lenses from us) bring the broken pieces to us and we can duplicate the lense on the shortest possible notice. It makes no difference what kind or what strength of a lense or where you bought them we can duplicate them in a very short time and we guarantee perfect results.

We carry the largest up-to-date Optical stock in the city. If you compare our prices you will find that they are the same as charged by Eaton and other Optical houses in Toronto. Our prices are governed by Toronto prices. In case you need new lenses (providing you have used them before) or if you are suffering from eye strain or headaches, kindly give us a call. We will guarantee to give perfect results.

This society is doing a great deal of good in the city and many of the poor families are deriving benefit from this source.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR REGIMENT

Camp to be Held at Kingston in June.

The 57th Regiment turned out for parade in the Armories last night for the first time this season. There was a good attendance of the men and both the bugle and brass bands were in attendance.

Quite a number of recruits have joined the regiment this season, but there are still vacancies in some of the companies for good men. According to the present indications, the regiment this year will be over full strength.

The 57th Regiment will soon appear in a completely new array of uniforms, with which they are going to be provided this year. The regiment will go to the military camp at Kingston on Thursday, June 6th, and return to Peterborough on Monday, June 10th.

The next parade will be on Tuesday night. Last night, the orders were read as follows—

Headquarters,
Peterboro, April 2, 1912

Orders by the Officer Commanding the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

No. 1—The following extracts from the general and militia orders promulgated for the information of the regiment.

Militia order, No. 38, dated Jan. 27, 1912. "Instructions for training" Infantry, City Corps. The training for each week will be divided into two periods.

(a) Training at Regimental Headquarters ....11 days
(b) Training at a camp of instruction .... 5 days
Total .... 16 days

For this portion of training as regards distribution of time, credit will be given to the following scale.

(a) For an evening drill of two hours from the time of falling in until time of dismissal, 1-2 day.

(b) For a forenoon, or afternoon, drill or parade for field exercises, musketry, inspection, Divine Service etc., of less than 5 hours duration, 1-2 day.

(c) For a practical tactical exercise of 5 hours duration, 1-2 day. Recruit drills, of which there should be at least ten, should be voluntary.

General order, No. 28, Feb. 6, 1912. 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers. To be provisional Lieutenant, Sergeants Benjamin Howard, Meyers and Cyril Karl, Lech, Jan. 2nd, 1912.

No. 2 instructions for training for City Corps, in the active militia for 1912, have been issued with militia order, No. 38, on Jan. 27, 1912.

These instructions will govern the drill for 1912. The course prescribed for each training day, will require two successive nights.

No. 3 The regiment will fall in promptly hereafter at 8 p.m. on each drill night, and attention is to be called to the order to be observed in "falling in." This will be the same as set forth in Regimental orders, No. 5, dated April 4, 1910.

For Recruits

No. 4 practice with the sub-target will be carried on at the Armories from this date as follows—

Wednesday, April 3 at 8 p.m.—Co. H.

Thursday, April 4, at 8 p.m.— Co. G.

Monday, April 8, at 8 p.m.—Co. F. The practices will be under the direction, instruction and supervision of Sergeant Instructor Fletcher, R.C.D.

D. WALKER, Lt. Major.
Adjutant.

WEDDING BELLS

INNIS—SWEET

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon, at the manse of St. Paul's church, when Miss Elva Maud Sweet, formerly of Haliburton county, but latterly of Peterborough, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel Innes of Haliburton county. A number of their immediate friends were present at the ceremony, at which the Rev. R. Pogue officiated.

They will reside at the home of the groom, in Haliburton.

CITY'S BILL

To Come Up Again To-morrow Morning at Toronto

The amended Peterborough bill providing for the taking over of the plant of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, which came before the Private Bills committee, in Toronto yesterday, was at first ordered to be laid over for one week longer. This morning, however, Acting City Solicitor, L. M. Hayes, K.C., received notice that the bill will come up again on Thursday morning for definite disposition. Mr. Hayes will be present in the city's interests together with Mayor Bradburn and City Clerk, S. R. Armstrong.

POLICE COURT

Who Knows Relatives of the Late Ed. Luscombe

Chief Thompson has received a communication from Edmonton, asking for information as to the relatives of the late Edward Luscombe, who is thought to have lived at one time in the vicinity of Peterboro, or Bobcaygeon.

Wm. Kelly failed to leave the city and on a drunk charge, this morning, was fined $10 or fifteen days. He couldn't pay.

A visitor from Orillia named Daniel Turner, was given his freedom, he not having the money necessary for a drunk fine. He is on his way to Campbellford, to work.

RICHARD HALL & SON. LIMITED

GORDON-DAVIES CO. IN PETERBOROUGH

Mr H. P. Kennedy addresses the following letter to the Review, with reference to his disposal of interests in Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—As per press reports of last week, I have disposed of my fixtures and lease of my store, situated at at 340 George street, Peterborough to the Gordon-Davies Co., Limited, of Toronto.

I have much pleasure in stating to the citizens of Peterborough that I have had considerable dealings during the past two years with the said Company, in fact I have supplied them largely during the summer months from the Toronto market with all classes of live stock for their stores in Haileybury, Porcupine and Golden City, where they carry on a large business as well as several retail stores in Toronto.

I can assure all the customers who dealt with me at 340 George street in the past, the very best possible service, and would consider it a favor if all of my past customers would give them a fair share of their patronage, and I feel satisfied that a few trial orders will convince everyone that this company are prepared to cater to all classes of trade in a most satisfactory manner.

I am pleased to state that the two principal members of this company, Mr. W. E. Davies and Mr. J. R. Gordon are both practical men in the meat and provision business, and from past experience can confidently state that they will endeavor in every way to handle only the very best quality meats and to serve the public in the most up-to-date manner.

I have the pleasure to remain,
Yours respectfully,
H. P. KENNEDY

THE NEW ORGAN FOR ST. ANDREWS'

Will be Purchased From Karn-Morris Company.

In accordance with authority given them by a recent congregational meeting, the organ committee of St. Andrew's church has placed an order for a new pipe organ, with the well-known Karn-Morris Organ Co., of Woodstock.

The organ will consist of 92 registers made up of 40 stops, 25 tablet couplers, 27 pistons and mechanical accessories. There will be a great organ, swell organ, choir organ, solo organ and pedal organ. This ordinarily makes a four manual organ but the St. Andrew's organ will be played on three manuals, the solo organ being a "floating" organ and is therefore capable of being played on any manual.

The action will be electro-pneumatic throughout, which will permit of the console being placed at any distance from the organ without in any way impairing the immediate response of the instrument.

The wind pressure will vary, being 3 1-2 inch, 4 inch, 7 inch and 10 inch the power being supplied by an electric motor. The organ will be modern and complete in every detail and the committee is to be congratulated on taking the position that the best is none too good. The are doing a bit of pioneer work in Peterborough which will be generally appreciated.

WITH EDGED TOOLS—A RECORD

In comparison with recent successes Henry Seton Merriman's novel "With Edged Tools," drmatized possesses a record almost as enviable as the novel itself. On leaving England to come to America, it had been running continuously since its production four years ago, and had reached its one thousand and seventy ninth performance. After leaving London it was played during that period on no fewer than fifteen occasions in Liverpool. (A week on each occasion) Ten weeks in Manchester, five in Birmingham, Newcastle, Nottingham, four in Swansea, Cardiff, Leeds, Bradford and Hull, and twice or thrice in Edinburgh and Glasgow, and every other city of note in the Isles.

The original All-Star English Company that has made the play known, to the ends of the world, will interpret the play with us. It includes Hamilton Deane, Marie Leonhard, Stanley Bedwell, Sybil Hammersley, Richard Hicks, Florence Dolhunty, Charles Hartopp, and other notable players with the original cast. It has been hailed as one of the finest acting combinations ever sent over from the other side.

James O'Donnell Bennett, the severe and eminent Chicago critic on the Record Herald said of it, "There are five players in this company, who can give any actor or actress now appearing in Chicago lessons in diction."

The local opinions on the occasion of the former warranted a return, and patrons should not miss the play this time. The date is Thursday April 4th.

When the eye is said to be astigmatic, the meaning is that the eye has a double focus. This annoys the brain and the eye will strain unconciously to bring about a clear focus; this strain usually causes headaches. Astigmatism is usually congenital or so at birth—It is remedied by wearing glasses ground from the segment of a cylinder. These glasses, if rightly made, brings images to a focus on the retina and thus relieve all strain.

THE CHARGES ARE PROVEN

In Commissioner's Report on Evidence in Byersville Enquiry

The Commissioners' report on the hearing of the evidence in the charges of political partizanship against W. J. Byers, postmaster at Byersville, has been received by the Postmaster-General, Hon. L. P. Pelletier, who finds that the charges have been proven. Mr. Albert Saunders' appointment as postmaster is sustained.

An offer is made to publish the Comissioner's finding, or any other facts elicited under or during the enquiry, if the defendant desires the public to be informed in that way of the enquiry. In this case a letter was received from a lawyer, in which he stated nothing of that sort was desired. It will be noted that while it is open to anybody who feels aggrieved over dismissal, to bring the matter up in the House of Commons and have the matter threshed out in the minutest detail before the Parliament of Canada, yet nothing of that sort has occurred respecting the dismissals in Peterborough.

Scranton Coal

VOL LIXV., NO. 81 — PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1912 — TEN CENTS PER WEEK.

CITY GIVEN RIGHT TO EXPROPRIATE

Special to The Review.

Toronto, April 4—The decision of the Privates Bills Committee, this morning, gives the city of Peterboro the right to expropriate the Peterboro Light & Power Company and on terms included in the city's bill which makes no allowance for prospective profits. It was shown in the committee that the company formed a branch of the Ontario Electrical ring, and this decided the committee in its action.

WHITNEY MOVES STRONG TEMPERANCE RESOLUTION

In Reply to Liberal Leader's Proposal to Do Away With the Bar the Premier Announces the Government's Intention of Passing Drastic Legislation Against the System of Treating—Mr. Hanna Speaks.

Toronto, April 4.—"That in the opinion of this House legislation to prevent and put a stop to the treating habit should be enacted, and, if necessary, supplemented by regulations under which retail licenses are granted and held."

In substance this was the purport of an amendment introduced by Sir James Whitney yesterday afternoon, when Mr. N. W. Rowell moved his resolution in the Legislature to abolish the bar. Mr. Rowell's original motion on which the debate occurred was:

"That in the opinion of this House the public interests demand. (1) The immediate abolition of the bar; (2) Such other restrictions upon the residue of the liquor traffic as experience may show to be necessary to limit its operations and effective to remedy its evils; (3) The strict enforcement of the law by officials in sympathy with law enforcement, and the elimination of political influence from the administration of the law; (4) Regulation and inspection of all houses of public entertainment so as to ensure reasonable accommodation for the traveling public."

F. G. Macdiarmid, West Elgin, introduced an amendment to the amendment, as follows: "And this House desires to put on record its appreciation of the good work done by the present Government of the province during the last seven years, by their earnest and faithful administration of the liquor license law, and by the desirable improvements which have been added thereto."

By a vote of 80 to 18, with Allan Studholme lined up with the Government, the amended amendment to Mr. Rowell's motion was carried early this morning. Four members on the Liberal side and three on the Conservative side were absent. The absent Liberals were McKay, Evanturel and Racine and Kohler. Three of them were paired with the absentee Conservatives, viz., Col. Matheson, A. H. Mahaffey and Gamey.

Not since the present session commenced has the public shown such interest in the deliberations of the Legislature as was evinced yesterday. Scores of clergymen were present, some of them even making their way into the press gallery to get a better vantage point. The ladies' gallery had not a vacant seat, and special chairs had to be provided beside the Speaker's dais to accommodate the friends of the members and others who were unable to find seats in the galleries.

Mr. Rowell said one of the significant signs of the times was the growing recognition on the part of the people of the great evil of the liquor traffic. He quoted statistics and opinions from authorities showing that the three great evils confronting society were—the opium trade, the liquor traffic and the white slave traffic.

"The open bar is a nuisance and a social pest," he said. "It is prejudicial alike to church and state, and therefore it is time for its abolition." There were 1,530 bar licenses in Ontario, 220 shop licenses and 53 club licenses. The bar represented an overwhelming percentage of the traffic. There was about $81,000,000 invested in the business generally. The Government's receipts amounted to nearly $300,000 yearly.

In explaining the meaning of his resolution, he said it would wipe out in one stroke the great retail traffic. Local option would continue to work on any residue of the traffic not wiped out. Such legislation would strike a vulnerable point and accomplish great good. Once the bar was abolished, it would never be restored. No political party would ever think of restoring it. The word "prohibition" was a misnomer, because the Government must work within the limits of its power. The Privy Council had decided that the province had no control over the manufacture or importation of liquors. He did not consider that abolition of the bar meant wiping out the traffic completely, but the existing evils would be reduced as far as practicable. He fully realized that there should be no discrimination between the club and bar.

Regarding law enforcement, he said that officials should be in sympathy with the law. A great difficulty was the interference of the liquor people in politics, and the only solution was the removal of, the enforcement of law from politics entirely.

The cause of dissatisfaction among the traveling public with respect to poor hotel accommodation was on account of the bar in most cases being the main source of revenue. Hotels, therefore, did not provide the required accommodation. If the liquor traffic was cut out entirely the people would Madero's Forces Victorious.

Jiminez, Mex., April 4.—The troops of President Madero gained their first victory in the northern campaign when they defeated the rebel general, Campa, at Parral and sent him scurrying back to the base at this city.

Instead of finding a handful of defenders at Parral under Gen. Pancho Villa, he was met by a deadly fire from a force which he estimated at 2,000.

Montreal Shooting Affair Claims One of Chapman Brothers.

Special to the Review.

Montreal, April 4— Herbert Chapman, one of three brothers, who were shot by Carl Hemman in the Savoy Hotel Sunday, died this morning, and Edgar Chapman, another brother is not expected to live through the day.

Hemman was given his freedom yesterday, being honorably discharged by the Judge.

COMMISSION IS NAMED

Imperial Trade Inquiry Board Is Discussed In British Commons.

London, April 4.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In the House of Commons yesterday Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt announced the completion of the Imperial Trade Commission.

The representatives will be: Lord Inchcape, chairman; Sir Rider Haggard, Sir Edgar Vincent, Sir Charles Owens, T. Garnett, cotton manufacturer of Manchester, and William Lorrimer, Glasgow. Members of Parliament have been deliberately excluded in order to avoid the question of party politics.

Completing the commission are: Hon. George E. Foster, Canada; Donald Campbell, Australia; Hon. Mr. Bowring, Newfoundland; Sir David Graaf, South Africa, and Sir J. Ward, New Zealand. W. Robinson Coloff is secretary of the commission.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt, defending the Government against the charge of dilatoriness with respect to the resolutions of the imperial conference, enumerated a dozen matters which had been given effect to, including the modification of the Japanese treaty. Copyright Act, strengthening the appeal court, and naturalization.

The Government succeeded in releasing the dominions from treaties with Mexico and Sweden, and he hoped the labors of the trade commissioners would be concluded before the next imperial conference was held.

The Opposition is greatly disappointed over the personnel of the trade commission and regard it as entirely partial. Lord Grey and Lord Burleigh should have been asked, they say, and not men who are known to be extreme partisans on the fiscal question.

Sir Gilbert Parker will ask the Commons if Inchcape will be allowed to hold his position as Suez Canal director while serving on the commission.

BOURASSA IS VERY GLOOMY

Montreal, April 4.—Henri Bourassa's farewell speech at St. Hyacinthe was delivered in a very discouraged tone, he announcing that his newspaper duties would prevent him from again asking the mandate of the electors. He had at one time been influenced by party spirit, but would strive the rest of his life to drive this out of the minds of his compatriots.

He declared that he was no better off for having combatted Laurier by saying that he had no regrets in having combatted the Laurier regime, but his people must not forget that they had been going downhill for forty years, and it was impossible to get back in one day.

ROMAN CATHOLICS GET CONCESSIONS IN MANITOBA

Under an Amendment to the Present Act Brought In by the Roblin Government the Children In Cities Will Have Separate Teachers, But Not Separate Boards—Is Designed For Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, April 4.—The amendment to the school law to be made by the Government at this session of the Legislature provides for separate schools in the cities, but not for separate school boards.

Notice of the scope has been given in the law amendments committee by Hon. George E. Caldwell, Minister of Education. The amendment will contain three clauses, to the following effect:

1. A new definition of the word "school," to mean any school room, whether self-contained or whether one room in a school building composed of several rooms. In the latter case, each room in the building would become a "school" for the purposes of the act.

2. A provision that all school boards must furnish school accommodation for all school children of school age within their school districts.

3. A provision that in any school where there are forty children of Roman Catholic parents, they shall be separated from the remainder of the children, and shall have a teacher of their own faith.

The Minister stated that the object of the clauses was to make it easy for the Winnipeg School Board to take over the Roman Catholic schools of the city.

The effect will be that, while there will not be two school boards in Winnipeg, one Catholic and one Protestant, nor any division of ratepayers into two panels, there will be a segregation of the Roman Catholic school children in their own schools, under teachers of their own faith. These teachers will be employed by the Winnipeg School Board and will be subject to the same inspection as the other schools.

The present law provides for one Roman Catholic teacher being employed in every school in which forty Roman Catholic school children are in attendance. The change by which "school room" is made to read "school" will authorize the employment of a Roman Catholic teacher in every school room of a graded school.

The law will no doubt apply to all cities, and will meet the conditions in Brandon as well as in Winnipeg.

A large deputation of Orangemen appeared before the legislative law amendment committee yesterday to protest against a motion to change the School Act, so that any school in which there are forty Catholic pupils shall be designated as a separate school and have a Catholic teacher.

In spite of protests, the indications are that the separate school amendment will pass.

MEXICO HAS NOT CEDED TERRITORY TO JAPAN

SEÑOR MANUEL CALERO

Reports that the Mexican government has ceded territory to Japan under a secret treaty were vigorously repudiated by Senor Calero, Secretary of Foreign Affairs in Mexico. He said—

"The rumor that Mexico had given Japan any part of her territory is an absurd falsehood. The Republic could not make a secret treaty, because all treaties must be ratified by the Senate. It is stupid to suppose we would enter into any entente inimical to a nation giving such proofs of friendship as had been shown by the United States."

Peace With Honor.

London, April 4.—"It will be peace with honor and the men will return to work," said Thomas Ashton, secretary of the Miners' Federation, last night. But pending a scrutiny of the ballots to-day he was unable to give the figures. Other delegates who arrived in London last evening to attend the meeting of the federation today are agreed that there will be too small a majority against resumption of work to justify a prolongation of the conflict.

Work in the coal fields is rapidly extending. Large numbers have resumed in Staffordshire, and it is stated that 20,000 men in this district are in the pits to-day.

Babe Was Done to Death.

Barrie, April 4.—At the adjourned inquest into the death of the infant found on the track near Midhurst, the jury returned an open verdict.

The verdict found that the child had either been thrown from the train or been placed on the rails; and that it had been foully dealt with by some persons unknown, but that there was nothing to show by whom. The probability is that the secret will never be unfolded, as at least three weeks elapsed between the time the child was put on the tracks and the day it was found.

U. S. Banks Under Scrutiny.

Washington, April 4.—National and state banks to the number of 3,000 or more will be interrogated by the House "money trust" investigating committee. This action was decided upon yesterday. The banks will be asked to furnish lists of their directors, information concerning deposits, trust and stockholders, and numerous other details of their business.

It is the purpose of the committee to determine the extent of the control of banks over industrial corporations, trust companies and like concerns.

Saves a Million.

Ottawa, April 4.—It was officially announced last night that the Government will be unable to use the million dollars which was placed in the estimates to carry out the policy of the Government for a system of better highways throughout Canada, since the Senate has killed the act. The million dollars was divided amongst the various provinces, according to population.

AIRMAN LOSES HIS LIFE

Rodgers Who Flew Across America Killed In California.

Long Beach, Cal., April 4.—Galbraith P. Rodgers, the first man to cross the continent in an aeroplane, was killed almost instantly here yesterday afternoon, when his biplane, in which he had been soaring over the ocean, fell from a height of 200 feet and buried him in the wreck. His neck was broken and his body badly mashed by the engine of his machine. He lived but a few moments.

Rodgers for a week past had been making daily flights here and had taken up with him many passengers, both men and women.

Yesterday he started from his usual place and coarsed out over the ocean, crossing the pier and then turned and dipped close to a roller coaster in a Beach amusement park.

Making a short turn at a height of 200 feet, he started at full speed for the pier, and then suddenly dipped his planes and his machine began a frightful descent. Rodgers was seen by hundreds of persons on the pier to relax his hold on the levers and then, seemingly realizing that he was in danger, he made strenuous efforts to pull the nose of his machine into a level position.

Failing in this he managed to turn his craft further in shore and an instant later the craft crashed into the edge of the surf, not 500 feet from the spot where, on Dec. 10 last he had finished his ocean to ocean flight.

Examination showed that Rodgers' neck, jawbone and back had been broken. A telegram was sent to the aviator's widow, who lives in Pasadena, Cal., and a cablegram to his mother, Mrs. H. S. Schweitzer, who is now in London. The body was prepared for burial and was sent to Pasadena last night.

MURDERED BY FARMER?

Berlin April 4.—A sensational communication comes from New Hamburg to Mayor Schmalz from a man who signs his name Carl Uttesch, private detective, and who claims to know all about the Lobinski murder, which was committed near Wellesley village in January, 1911.

His story is that Lobinski, the day he was murdered, was over to Baden and was given a ride by a farmer, who, learning of the old man's hoard, went home with him and robbed and murdered him.

To impart the full information, Uttesch says, is worth more than the $500 now offered, but he seems willing to unload himself of his story, and it looks circumstantial enough for the Attorney-General to investigate.

Acquitted of Murder Charge.

Dalhousie, N.B., April 4.—Dr. W. W. Dougherty of Campbellton, was acquitted yesterday of murdering D. J. Bruce, a merchant of the town, on the night of Sept. 21 last. During an altercation over the election Dr. Dougherty's umbrella entered Bruce's eye, piercing the brain and he died the next day. Witnesses swore that the doctor jabbed his victim, but the prisoner swore that he lifted his umbrella to defend himself after he had been struck and he had no intention of striking back.

Year For Lottery Swindler.

Ottawa, April 4.—One year hard labor in the Central Prison was the sentence imposed on Irving Robison, arrested by Detective Downey in Montreal for promoting a lottery scheme here in February. Robison pleaded guilty, and though his counsel asked for leniency on the ground that although he might have, he had made no money out of the gambling scheme.

Woollen Industry for Ayr.

Ayr, April 4.—This bylaw submitted to the voters of Ayr yesterday for granting aid to a new industry establishing a factory in the Ninth Vale property adjoining the corporation, was almost unanimously carried, only 2 out of 176 voting against it. The industry will manufacture woollen and knitted goods.

The Man Who In Self-Defence Shot Three Intruders In His Room at the Savoy Hotel Is Free of Blame Says Magistrate—Court Is Held In Hospital Ward With Two Dying Men Present—A Pitiful Scene.

Montreal, April 4.—"Honorably discharged," said Judge Lanctot to Carl R. Hemmen, in the improvised court room at the Royal Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon, and the last words of the fateful sentence which made a free man of Hemmen were lost in a long and fond embrace with his wife, who had thrown her arms about his neck as soon as it became evident that the court would acquit her husband for the shooting affray at the Savoy Hotel last Sunday.

One of the Chipman brothers, Herbert, was too weak to give his antemortem statement, and the doctors state that he will not last long. Edgar and Harry, lying in the same room, were strong enough to be examined.

It was a pitiful scene which was enacted in the hospital yesterday afternoon, when justice journeyed to a dying man's bedside, and from his own lips in broken words and choking sobs, heard the story of the shooting affair.

The mother of the dying boys, and the wife of the man who was held to be responsible for their deaths, condoled with each other.

Judge Lanctot, Crown Prosecutor Walsh, Morris Alexander, acting for the defence, Official Stenographer Kenehan, journeyed to the Royal Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon and were advised that Herbert was too weak to give his deposition. Harry is convalescent and will be out of the hospital in a week or two.

"Did the doctors tell you that you were dying?" asked Mr. Walsh of Edgar.

"No, they will not tell me anything, but I know that I am done," replied the wounded boy in a broken voice.

"Will you tell us what happened at the Savoy Hotel Sunday morning?"

Edgar then told how his brother Harry had called for him early Sunday morning and with his brother Herbert they had gone to the Savoy Hotel to help their brother Harry against a man who, Harry said, had been abusing him. He told how they got into Hemmen's room and attacked him, thinking him to be Sandford, who had offended Harry, and how Hemmem began to shoot on being attacked. The shooting began as soon as he opened the door, said the witness. Herbert and Edgar were then inside.

After taking the evidence of Sandford and others concerned, Judge Lanctot rendered his decision.

U.S. MINERS STAY OUT

Pittsburg, Pa., April 4.—Union miners throughout western Pennsylvania, numbering 50,000, will remain idle until Monday, April 22. This decision was reached yesterday at the annual convention of district No. 5 (Pittsburg district), United Mine Workers of America. At the suggestion of District President Feehan, the poorly organized Mercer-Butler-Armstrong county field will be excepted, the men there continuing at work with the companies paying the increased wages.

A proposition to have the miners resume work next Monday, pending the result of the referendum vote on the Cleveland wage scale compromise agreement, was voted down unanimously. Tabulation of the vote of all the bituminous miners will not be completed until April 19, according to word received here yesterday from International President J. P. White.

John Mitchell addressed the delegates yesterday. The report of the tellers on the election of officers will be made public to-day.

Prince of Wales May Come.

Ottawa, April 4.—Right Hon. R. L. Borden was interviewed yesterday by Messrs. E. W. Villeneuve and John Boyd in reference to the proposed memorial for the Cartier Centenary. Representing the committee, they spoke to the Premier concerning an invitation to be extended to the Prince of Wales to be present at the centenary celebration, which will be held in Montreal in September of 1914. The delegates asked the Prime Minister to bring the matter before the Governor-General, and Mr. Borden promised to do so.

The Duke of Connaught has already extended his patronage to the movement to commemorate the centenary of a great Canadian work.

MINERS DID NOT HAVE THE TWO THIRDS MAJORITY

Proposal to Continue the Strike Was Defeated

Special to the Review.

London, April 4—Official returns of the miners' referendum vote given out this afternoon, showed 244,011 miners favored a continuance of the strike and 201,013 favored the resumption of work. The executive committee of the miners' union, however, immediately applied the two-thirds majority rule and declared the proposal to continue the strike defeated.

FIVE DOCTORS GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Said she Would Die of Kidney Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HER

MOUNTAIN, ONT., Dec. 14th. 1910.

"For six years, I suffered from dreadful Kidney Disease. My legs and lower part of my body were fearfully swollen, and the pain was awful. My people thought sometimes I was dead, as I would faint from the agony. Five different doctors attended me, and all said it was kidney trouble and gave me no hope of getting well. A kind neighbor told me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and mentioned the case of Mrs. Fenwick, who was cured by them.

I took "Fruit-a-tives"—and in a short time, I began to feel better, the swelling went down, the pain was easier, and then "Fruit-a-tives" entirely cured me. All my friends look upon my recovery as a miracle, and I am unable to praise "Fruit-a-tives" enough."

The Daily Review

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1912.

THE WESTERN GRAIN SITUATION

The situation in the west, politically and commercially, calls for very careful handling. The provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan voted strongly for reciprocity, American farmers forming a large part of the population. When Eastern Canada declined to be a party to the give-away to the United States, the Western Liberals, aided by some politicians of a most unscrupulous type, sought to raise a storm of sectional feeling against the East. They have failed, owing to the common-sense of the western people, but the inability of the railways to move the crop quickly enough to prevent heavy losses, aggravated the soreness existing. It was pointed out that, had reciprocity carried, there would have been a market in the United States for the wet and the spoiled grain that now, will probably be a dead loss. It is not argued now that prices for wheat, generally, would be better if tariff barriers had been swept away, or that the consumer would get the juicy benefits, so glowingly pictured at election time. But the need of more railway outlets for the present has been pointed out, and most justifiably. If there were any real reason for reciprocity as regards wheat, the transportation phase of the question would furnish it.

The Canadian railways have grown tremendously, have stretched every energy to accommodate the needs of the west. Branch lines have checkered the country, and millions of acres have been broken and put under cultivation each year in consequence. The west has been so strenuously demanding branch lines, in order that settlement may proceed unchecked, that land prices may advance, and the country boom generally, that the railways have been entirely unable to also add to their outlet trackage requirements. The C.P.R. has announced that it will double track the whole of its western lines. The G.T.P. will soon have connection via the Transcontinental with the East. The Pacific coast systems will be carrying wheat by next year. The Hudson Bay railway construction will be rushed. In fact, with the opening of the Panama canal, and the bringing into play of all the railway extensions now contemplated, the transportation troubles of the West should largely disappear.

But in the meantime it is necessary to provide every facility for the early marketing of wheat. The arrangement made by the Canadian railways, by permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission, to take wheat to Duluth at the same rate as to Port Arthur should be put into force at the beginning of next harvest. The railways cannot afford to selfishly hold up the whole supply of wheat, after the terminal elevator facilities are choked, in order that they may eventually get a little higher price for transportation. That would create a sentiment against them on every hand. The utilization of the American outlet for wheat, under bond, until it has become unnecessary by reason of other facilities, would be splendid business.

HYDRO VS. SEYMOUR

Kingston is seeking a supply of power and has before it two offers, one from the Hydro-Electric and another from the Seymour Power Co. The offers have been submitted to the city council and are being considered.

Naturally there is competition, and the rates quoted are such as Kingston could not have hoped to enjoy except under such circumstances.

The Hydro-Electric offer is — for 3,000 h.p., $30.40 per h.p.; for 4,000 h.p., $26.64; for 5,000 h.p., $24.25, delivered at the city limits.

The Seymour Power Co., have made an offer that is extremely reasonable; $25.00 per h.p. for the same quantity in a 4,000 h.p. or 5,000 h.p block.

The city is inclined to accept the Hydro-Electric proposition though the other offer has many supporters. A decision will be reached on Thursday of this week.

NEWS FROM NORWOOD

Special Correspondence.

Norwood, April 4— The Norwood Board of Education met on April 1st. Members present: J.A. Finlay Esq., chairman; Messrs. E.P. Cuffe. E. L. Squire, F. Anderson, T. Burkell, W. Webster, W.H. Cuthbertson, J. G. McKelvie, Jno. Doherty, G. H. Niebel.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Mr. Cuffe reported that Mr. Harrison would charge the usual rates for two electric lights for the Board room. It was decided to take no action and in future the Board will hold its deliberations by the dim light of the kerosine lamps as heretofore.

A communication from Miss Edna Howson of Keene, asking that her fees be returned, she only having attended one week, after paying same, Moved by Mr. Cuthbertson, seconded by McKelvie that in event of Miss Howson's coming back to school, that the money paid be allowed on her fees for the next term. Carried.

The chairman reported that Miss Mary Anderson had been teaching in Miss F. Foster's place, during the illness of Miss Foster's mother.

Moved by Mr. Cuffe, seconded by Mr. Webster, that Miss McLachlan be appointed associate examiner for the coming mid-summer examinations. Carried.

The chairman pointed out that heretofore, the salary of the janitor had been apportioned equally between the two schools by the Finance committee, without authority of the Board, and asked the Board to pass a motion, defining the proportion payable by the two schools. After some discussion it was moved by Mr. Cuthbertson, seconded by Mr. Niebel that for 1912, the High School be charged with $250 of the janitor's salary, and the Public School $200.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cuffe, seconded by Mr. Squire that the secretary be instructed to issue cheques to Miss Foster and Miss Anderson, in payment of the days taught by each of them. Carried.

A committee composed of Mr. Doherty and Mr. Webster was appointed to interview Miss Kirkpatrick to see is she would be willing to resume her duties after Easter up to mid-summer and report to the executive committee.

An account of $22.50 from J.E. Roxburgh, for hard coal, was passed by the Board and ordered to be paid.

A RUNAWAY.

Mr. E.J. Laing had the misfortune to have his cutter badly wrecked in a runaway this morning. Mr. Laing was driving into the country with a sewing machine in the front of his cutter, and in going through a pitch hole the horse took suddenly to the side and ran the runner on to the bank of snow at the side, thus upsetting it and throwing the driver and his load out, when the horse made a dash and succeeded in getting away with the result of demolishing the cutter to such an extent that it cannot be repaired without an entire new body. The horse had its leg injured by striking against the irons on the shafts.

The Nellie Gill players under the management of Messrs Henry and Decks have engaged the Norwood town hall for a three night engagement and are making their debut tonight. The company comes with good recommendations. Those who have seen their work say it is of a high order.

They played in Havelock some time ago to good houses, and are playing a return engagement in that town after leaving Norwood on Friday of this week.

The Bachelors of Norwood have engaged the town hall for April 11th, evening, when they intend holding another of their popular at homes.

Mr C.J. Blake has purchased the farm, known as the Powell property west of Norwood.

Admiral's Wit.

Admiral Sir Day Bosanquet, brother of the sedate and severe Common Sergeant of London, is famous for his sarcastic wit. Once during some naval manoeuvres he had to rebuke a young commander for mishandling his sloop, and asked him what would have happened in a real naval engagement if he had fought his ship like that. "If I had been with Nelson at Trafalgar," answered the commander, jauntily, "my ship would have sunk the French and the Spanish fleets by herself." "Humph," growled Bosanquet: "if Nelson had been the man I take him to have been, he'd have had you strung at the yardarm before he went into action."

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Gilt-edge weather for growth in Kansas and Oklahoma and for seeding in the Dakotas and Minnesota encouraged speculators to-day to pound down the price of wheat. Latest trading left the market at a decline of 1-2c to 5-8c to 1 1-4c net. Corn finished 1-8c to 3-8c off, oats with a loss of 3-8c to 5-8c and hog products varying from the same as Monday night to a decrease of 10c.

Liverpool wheat closed ½d lower to ¼d higher than yesterday, and corn unchanged. Paris wheat closed ¼c to ⅜c higher; Antwerp ⅜c lower, Buda Pesth ⅝c higher and Berlin ⅝c higher.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 3.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the offerings were 600 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 1365 hogs and 2200 calves. The trade in cattle was slow, owing to the fact that buyers in most cases filled their wants earlier in the week, consequently the demand was limited and principally for small lots.

There were no extra choice beeves on the market and the top price paid for choice steers was $7.25 and the lower grades sold from that down to $5.50 per cwt. The best cows and bulls offered brought $5.50 and the commoner ones ranged from that down to $3.50 per cwt.

A fairly active trade was done in small meats, there being a good demand for all lines, but the supplies of some were light and especially of lambs. The tone of the market was firm and sales of yearlings were made at $7.50 per cwt. and old sheep at $4.50. The supply of calves was large at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality.

Hogs were firm and in good demand at $9 to $9.25 per cwt. for selected lots weighed off the cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 150; market steady.

Veal—Receipts, 650; active and 25c higher; $5 to $9.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 1300; active and 10c higher; heavy and mixed, $8.35 to $8.40; yorkers, $8 to $8.40; pigs, $7.50 to $7.75; roughs, $7.25 to $7.40; stags, $5 to $6.25; dairies, $8 to $8.30.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5000; active and 10c to 25c higher; lambs, $5.50 to $8.50; yearlings, $6.50 to $7.40; wethers, $6.25 to $6.50; ewes, $5.60 to $6.15; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $6.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 12,000; market very strong at opening, closed weak. Beeves, $5.50 to $8.65; Texas steers, $4.50 to $6.85; western steers, $5.35 to $6.85; stockers and feeders, $4.25 to $6.60; cows and heifers, $3.60 to $6.75; calves, $5.75 to $8.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 20,000; market steady to 10c higher; native, $4.40 to $6.50; western, $4.50 to $7; yearlings, $6 to $7.15. Lambs, native, $5.65 to $7.80; western, $6.25 to $8.20.

Hogs—Receipts, 23,000; market steady to 5c higher; light, $7.60 to $7.95; mixed, $7.65 to $8; heavy, $7.65 to $8.05; rough, $7.65 to $7.75; pigs, $5.30 to $7.50; bulk of sales, $7.80 to $7.95.

Scotch Potatoes for Chicago.

Chicago, April 4.—Potatoes from Scotland will be served on Chicago tables within a week. Nine carloads will be delivered here at $1.40 a bushel wholesale, as against $1.42 to $1.45 for potatoes grown in Michigan and Minnesota.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

He didn't answer for a minute, but sat looking very grave, staring at his brown hand on the white tablecloth as if he'd never seen it before. Then he said:

"Curiously enough, I am going west this afternoon too. Would you object to my being in the same train? I wouldn't suggest such a thing, only, you see, as you're a stranger in the country I might be able to help you a little."

"How splendid!" I exclaimed. "It seems almost too good to be true. You can't fancy what a relief it is to my mind."

He looked pleased at that and said I was very kind, though I should have thought it was the other way round.

"I'll get your ticket, then," he went on. "If you'll give me twenty-five dollars—five pounds, you know—I'll hand you back the change, but I'm afraid it won't be much."

"Change?" I echoed. "Why, I supposed it would be ever so much more than five pounds to get to Chicago, which is almost in central America, isn't it?"

"The people who live there think it's central," said Mr. Brett, "but they make the railroad men keep prices down so that dissatisfied New Yorkers can afford to go and live there. It isn't a bad journey, you'll find. I think it will interest you. You sleep and eat in the train, you know."

"What fun!" I exclaimed. "I've never slept in a train even on the continent."

"If you had it would be different from this one," said he. "Can you be ready in twenty-five minutes? The train which we call the Twentieth Century starts at 2:45."

"I'm ready now," said I. "The sooner we're on the way the better. But oh, about Vivace! Will they allow him to sleep and eat too?"

"I expect I can arrange that," Mr. Brett answered in such a confident way that I felt sure he could do it or anything else he set out to do. It really was lucky for me that he happened to be traveling west that same day, and such an extraordinary coincidence too.

"Are you going on journalistic business?" I asked.

"No; it's business I'm undertaking for a friend," he explained, "but I hope to get something good for myself out of it in the end."

"Oh, I do hope you will," I replied. "I'm sure you deserve to."

"I'm sure I don't," said he, laughing, "but I shall try hard for it all the same. You know you told me to be ambitious."

"I know I did," I answered.

A moment later he said that he must hurry off and attend to the tickets, and I had only time to glance through some papers the waiter brought me, with columns full of Mohunsleigh's marriage, when he was back again with a cab.

While I read an account of the wedding and gushing paragraphs about me I wondered if there mightn't be things not so flattering in the same papers tomorrow.

"If it got out that I had run away, would there be a scandal?" I asked Mr. Brett in the cab. But he said that I needn't be afraid. Mrs. Stuyvesant-Knox was too clever a woman to let anything she wouldn't like get into the papers. She would send a paragraph to the effect that Lady Betty Bulkeley had been suddenly called home or had gone to visit other friends or something of that sort. "But she will almost certainly cable to your people," he went on.

"Yes, but she won't know where I've gone till afterward, and anyhow they can't object to my being with Miss Woodburn," I answered him.

"You don't think they'll send for you to come home at once?"

I shook my head. "They won't do that. They don't want—that is, they think it wiser for me to stop on this side longer, now I'm here."

"I'm very glad of that," said Mr. Brett and he looked at me as if he really were glad in spite of all the trouble I'd made him.

Chapter 14

THE train for Chicago is perfectly wonderful, not like an ordinary, human kind of train at all. I'm in it now, and have been writing everything about the wedding and what happened afterward because I have a whole room of my own and I'm much too excited to sleep.

There's a bed in the room—not a hard shelf, but quite a wide, springy bed, with an electric light close by the pillow; there are walls made of mirrors; there's a sofa, a washband stand and a palm leaf fan; there's netting in the window so that you can have it open without getting black, and there would be plenty of places to put my things if I'd brought three times as many. But better than anything else, there's a soft, sweet, brown maid who goes with the room and isn't an extra. She's the same brown as the porters, only paler than most, and the train wasn't ten minutes outside New York when she appeared to ask what she could do for me. There was nothing at the time, but she didn't go away. She looked about for a minute, then pouncing on the palm leaf she began to fan me, slowly and gracefully, not holding on by anything, though the train was hurling itself through the state of New York apparently with the speed in which light travels around the world. (I never could remember how many times it can do the whole distance in a minute, but whatever it is, it has the air of being a boast.)

I thanked her a good deal and said I wouldn't trouble her any more, though it was very nice, but she kept straight on, like a mechanical doll, until I felt that in common humanity I ought to fan her. If any one in England, especially any one in her position (only there aren't such positions), had asked half as many questions as she did people would be extremely surprised and offended, but I would defy even the crossest person to be offended with this soft brown thing. It would have been too ungrateful not to answer her nicely when she was keeping my flies at bay with extreme inconvenience to herself, so I admitted that I was English, told what county I came from, how long I'd been in the States, where I'd been staying, how I liked America, where I was going now, and ended up by satisfying her as to my age and whether I had a mother. I also stated that I was neither married nor engaged. The dear creature rewarded me for all this by telling me a great deal about herself and her relatives, and a church picnic she attended last Sunday, where there were more young gentlemen than ladies—"which always makes parties so nice for us girls."

"I must say that's a mighty pretty hat you've got," said she at last. "I reckon it came from England. And my, but that is a sweet waist! I'd give my life for that waist."

If I had had a twin sister of the sweet waist with me I couldn't have resisted pressing it upon her, and I don't believe she would have refused.

As soon as Mr. Brett got me nicely settled in my room he said we wouldn't meet again during the journey. I was sorry and wanted to know why, so he explained that his ticket was different from mine. I hope that is the only reason, really, and that it isn't because he thinks he ought not to be traveling with me. I suppose he is going second class.

I did miss him at dinner, which I had in a grand restaurant car about half a mile away from me in the train. It was fun being there, seeing all the people and being served by fascinating black waiters, but it would have been more fun with him. I longed to exclaim to Mr. Brett about the glorious sunset which marched with us along the Hudson river for an enchanted hour, and I couldn't half enjoy it for wondering every minute as it changed from one beauty to another whether he were watching too.

We have tenderly radiant sunsets at home, which I love, but they're not startlingly magnificent as in America, where all things—even cloud effects—are managed on such a sensational scale. I saw some skies to remember in Newport, though never one like this, but perhaps the magical charm of it was partly dependent on the gleaming river.

Good Business.

In his early days, when he was beginning to be recognized as one of the most brilliant of the "Glasgow school" of painters, John Lavery sold a picture to a famous Scotch collector.

"I'm glad," said the latter, "to be able to give some encouragement to a fellow countryman."

Mr. Lavery said nothing at the time, but later he wrote to the purchaser as follows:

Dear Sir,—I am an Irishman, but I have enough Scottish blood in me to have concealed the fact until I had cashed your check.

MOTHER'S LESSON.

Little Martha Discharges Some of Her Responsibilities.

Martha heard some one speak of her mother's deficiencies in arithmetic—which are perfectly visible to the naked eye—so she came and sat down beside her gravely and began:

"Mother, take four from fourteen and how much does that leave?"

"Ten," proclaimed the parent, thinking she was teaching the little one her lesson.

"Now, three from eight—that's rather hard, you know."

"Yes, it's frequently got on my nerves, too, but it eventually leaves five."

"And four from five?"

"One!" exclaimed her elder from the proud pinnacle of perfect knowledge, thinking also what a nice teacher she was.

Martha rose with a sigh of relief from the region of her pinafore and said kindly, but with some condescension, "Well, now, you have learned that much anyway."—Lippincott's Magazine.

[illegible] Wrong.

It was the busy hour in the quick lunch establishment. The overworked waitress hurried up to the waiting customer.

"Tea or coffee?" she demanded.

He smiled pleasantly upon her.

"Don't tell me," he whispered. "Let me guess."—Brooklyn Life.

Her Little Game.

"Daddy, let's pretend you're Satan and I'm Eve, and you tempt me with some fruit."—Black and White.

No Consideration.

Mrs. Nexdore—Professor Adagio called at our house yesterday and my daughter played the piano for him. He just raved over her playing.

Mrs. Peprey — How rude! Why couldn't he conceal his feelings the way the rest of us do?—Catholic Standard and Times.

He Had 'Em.

"I want damages," shouted the bruised and battered citizen who had just been beaten up by his athletic rival.

"I think," replied his friend and adviser after a critical inspection, "that if you look in the glass you'll find you have got 'em."—Baltimore American.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

He didn't answer for a minute, but sat looking very grave, staring at his brown hand on the white tablecloth as if he'd never seen it before. Then he said:

"Curiously enough, I am going west this afternoon too. Would you object to my being in the same train? I wouldn't suggest such a thing, only, you see, as you're a stranger in the country I might be able to help you a little."

"How splendid!" I exclaimed. "It seems almost too good to be true. You can't fancy what a relief it is to my mind."

He looked pleased at that and said I was very kind, though I should have thought it was the other way round.

"I'll get your ticket, then," he went on. "If you'll give me twenty-five dollars—five pounds, you know—I'll hand you back the change, but I'm afraid it won't be much."

"Change?" I echoed. "Why, I supposed it would be ever so much more than five pounds to get to Chicago, which is almost in central America, isn't it?"

"The people who live there think it's central," said Mr. Brett, "but they make the railroad men keep prices down so that dissatisfied New Yorkers can afford to go and live there. It isn't a bad journey, you'll find. I think it will interest you. You sleep and eat in the train, you know."

"What fun!" I exclaimed. "I've never slept in a train even on the continent."

"If you had it would be different from this one," said he. "Can you be ready in twenty-five minutes? The train which we call the Twentieth Century starts at 2:45."

"I'm ready now," said I. "The sooner we're on the way the better. But oh, about Vivace! Will they allow him to sleep and eat too?"

"I expect I can arrange that," Mr. Brett answered in such a confident way that I felt sure he could do it or anything else he set out to do. It really was lucky for me that he happened to be traveling west that same day, and such an extraordinary coincidence too.

"Are you going on journalistic business?" I asked.

"No; it's business I'm undertaking for a friend," he explained, "but I hope to get something good for myself out of it in the end."

"Oh, I do hope you will," I replied. "I'm sure you deserve to."

"I'm sure I don't," said he, laughing, "but I shall try hard for it all the same. You know you told me to be ambitious."

"I know I did," I answered.

A moment later he said that he must hurry off and attend to the tickets, and I had only time to glance through some papers the waiter brought me, with columns full of Mohunsleigh's marriage, when he was back again with a cab.

While I read an account of the wedding and gushing paragraphs about me I wondered if there mightn't be things not so flattering in the same papers tomorrow.

"If it got out that I had run away, would there be a scandal?" I asked Mr. Brett in the cab. But he said that I needn't be afraid. Mrs. Stuyvesant-Knox was too clever a woman to let anything she wouldn't like get into the papers. She would send a paragraph to the effect that Lady Betty Bulkeley had been suddenly called home or had gone to visit other friends or something of that sort. "But she will almost certainly cable to your people," he went on.

"Yes, but she won't know where I've gone till afterward, and anyhow they can't object to my being with Miss Woodburn," I answered him.

"You don't think they'll send for you to come home at once?"

I shook my head. "They won't do that. They don't want—that is, they think it wiser for me to stop on this side longer, now I'm here."

"I'm very glad of that," said Mr. Brett and he looked at me as if he really were glad in spite of all the trouble I'd made him.

Chapter 14

THE train for Chicago is perfectly wonderful, not like an ordinary, human kind of train at all. I'm in it now, and have been writing everything about the wedding and what happened afterward because I have a whole room of my own and I'm much too excited to sleep.

There's a bed in the room—not a hard shelf, but quite a wide, springy bed, with an electric light close by the pillow; there are walls made of mirrors; there's a sofa, a washhand stand and a palm leaf fan; there's netting in the window so that you can have it open without getting black, and there would be plenty of places to put my things if I'd brought three times as many. But better than anything else, there's a soft, sweet, brown maid who goes with the room and isn't an extra. She's the same brown as the porters, only paler than most, and the train wasn't ten minutes outside New York when she appeared to ask what she could do for me. There was nothing at the time, but she didn't go away. She looked about for a minute, then pouncing on the palm leaf she began to fan me, slowly and gracefully, not holding on by anything, though the train was hurling itself through the state of New York apparently with the speed in which light travels around the world. (I never could remember how many times it can do the whole distance in a minute, but whatever it is, it has the air of being a boast.)

I thanked her a good deal and said I wouldn't trouble her any more, though it was very nice, but she kept straight on, like a mechanical doll, until I felt that in common humanity I ought to fan her. If any one in England, especially any one in her position (only there aren't such positions), had asked half as many questions as she did people would be extremely surprised and offended, but I would defy even the crossest person to be offended with this soft brown thing. It would have been too ungrateful not to answer her nicely when she was keeping my flies at bay with extreme inconvenience to herself, so I admitted that I was English, told what county I came from, how long I'd been in the States, where I'd been staying, how I liked America, where I was going now, and ended up by satisfying her as to my age and whether I had a mother. I also stated that I was neither married nor engaged. The dear creature rewarded me for all this by telling me a great deal about herself and her relatives, and a church picnic she attended last Sunday, where there were more young gentlemen than ladies—"which always makes parties so nice for us girls."

"I must say that's a mighty pretty hat you've got," said she at last. "I reckon it came from England. And my, but that is a sweet waist! I'd give my life for that waist."

If I had had a twin sister of the sweet waist with me I couldn't have resisted pressing it upon her, and I don't believe she would have refused.

As soon as Mr. Brett got me nicely settled in my room he said we wouldn't meet again during the journey. I was sorry and wanted to know why, so he explained that his ticket was different from mine. I hope that is the only reason, really, and that it isn't because he thinks he ought not to be traveling with me. I suppose he is going second class.

I did miss him at dinner, which I had in a grand restaurant car about half a mile away from me in the train. It was fun being there, seeing all the people and being served by fascinating black waiters, but it would have been more fun with him. I longed to exclaim to Mr. Brett about the glorious sunset which marched with us along the Hudson river for an enchanted hour, and I couldn't half enjoy it for wondering every minute as it changed from one beauty to another whether he were watching too.

We have tenderly radiant sunsets at home, which I love, but they're not startlingly magnificent as in America, where all things—even cloud effects—are managed on such a sensational scale. I saw some skies to remember in Newport, though never one like this, but perhaps the magical charm of it was partly dependent on the gleaming river.

Good Business.

In his early days, when he was beginning to be recognized as one of the most brilliant of the "Glasgow school" of painters, John Lavery sold a picture to a famous Scotch collector.

"I'm glad," said the latter, "to be able to give some encouragement to a fellow countryman."

Mr. Lavery said nothing at the time, but later he wrote to the purchaser as follows:

Dear Sir,—I am an Irishman, but I have enough Scottish blood in me to have concealed the fact until I had cashed your check.

MOTHER'S LESSON.

Little Martha Discharges Some of Her Responsibilities.

Martha heard some one speak of her mother's deficiencies in arithmetic—which are perfectly visible to the naked eye—so she came and sat down beside her gravely and began:

"Mother, take four from fourteen and how much does that leave?"

"Ten," proclaimed the parent, thinking she was teaching the little one her lesson.

"Now, three from eight—that's rather hard, you know."

"Yes, it's frequently got on my nerves, too, but it eventually leaves five."

"And four from five?"

"One!" exclaimed her elder from the proud pinnacle of perfect knowledge, thinking also what a nice teacher she was.

Martha rose with a sigh of relief from the region of her pinafore and said kindly, but with some condescension, "Well, now, you have learned that much anyway."—Lippincott's Magazine.

SPRING ASSIZES

One Criminal Case and One Civil Action to be Heard

Undertaker of Campbellford Claims $5000 Damages

The list of cases to be dealt with at the Spring Assizes, which commence on Tuesday next, will be confined to one criminal case and one civil action. There will be non jury cases.

The criminal case will be that of Samuel Newell, of Dummer, who is charged with indecent assault. This case was to have been dealt with at the Fall Assizes, but owing to the defendant being unable to attend, through illness, it was felt over until the Spring Sittings.

CLAIMS $5,000.

The civil case is between James Irwin and L. H. Stephens, two Campbellford undertakers and furniture dealers, the former claiming $5,000 damages, and costs of the action, for slander in regard to a letter that was published in the Campbellford Herald on Jan. 11, 1912.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant wrote maliciously a letter concerning the plaintiff to the editor of the Campbellford Herald and caused it to be published.

The trouble arose out of a misunderstanding of some sort on January 6th, 1912. Mr. Stephens met the train at the Campbellford station on that day. A corpse was taken from the train and Mr. Stephens proceeded to take it away, under the direction of Rev. Father Casey. Mr. Irwin drove up about that time, his horse on the gallop. He demanded an explanation as to why Mr. Stephens was removing the body of the deceased. The matter was settled by Mr. Irwin getting possession of the body, when a son of the deceased decided in his favor.

Mr. Stephens felt that he was losing the confidence of the people over the misunderstanding, and in an attempt to explain matters he is supposed to have written the letter, which appeared in the Campbellford Herald on January 11th, 1912, and to which Mr. Irwin takes exception.

His Honor Judge Latchford, of Toronto, will preside.

PUBLIC SERVICE AT THE ARMORIES

Commences at Three O'clock To-morrow Afternoon

The Ministerial Association has received permission to hold a service in the local Armories to-morrow afternoon. Three very short addresses will be given by Rev. Robert Pogue, Rev. Jas. Rollins, and Rev. F. J. Sawers.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan will sing, "There is a Green Hill Far Away." The hymns will be, "Tell Me the Old Old Story," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," and "Jesus Keep me Near the Cross." The singing will be led by the Salvation Army band, which body has kindly consented to co-operate.

The service, which will commence at 3 o'clock, is expected to last about 45 minutes. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Kian Johnson, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, will address the Peterborough Automobile Association on Thursday Apr 4, at 8 o clock in the Bank of Montreal Chambers. It is desirable that all owners and those interested be present

POLICE HOPE TO LAND THE MURDERER

Evidence Points to Italian as Having Shot Cooper Woman

Toronto, April 4—That it was an Italian who shot Mrs. Rebecca Cooper, alias Berger, alias Marks, in Chesnut street, on Monday of last week, was the story told by witnesses at the morgue last night. The trouble started in the afternoon, when an Italian had been in the house with the woman, and missed $14 besides $5 paid to Mrs. Cooper.

Sadie Cohen admitted that she kept a fast house. She declared that she had been away from the house for only a few minutes during the early part of the afternoon. "No one was in the house except Beckie and me," she said repeatedly in answer to the crown's questions. She could not describe who did the shooting further than that he was about 5 feet 4 inches in height. She answered the rest of the questions by saying; "I don't know."

Who the Italian was is still baffling the police, although the detectives working on the case have a suspicion.

The inquest was adjourned until Friday of next wee. In the meantime the police hope to locate the muderer

PRETTY EASTER WEDDINGS

MacARTHUR—HOLCOMBE

Havelock, April 4—At 12 o'clock yesterday noon, a quiet wedding was celebrated at the Methodist church, when Adah Grace, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Holcombe, was united in marriage to John A. MacArthur, L.D.S. of Markdale. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Real. The bride was given away by her father and as the bridal party entered the sacred edifice, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by the organist, Mrs. Roy Campbell, while Mesdames Real, Kindred and Swain, sang a trio, "The Wedding Song," from Lohengrin, during the signing of the register.

The bride was very lovely and graceful, gowned in white ninon over satin en train, with pearl trimming and silk lace. Her veil was of tulle prettily fastened with a garland of lilies of the valley, and she carried a bouquet of real orange blossoms and bridal roses. Miss Anna Bryans acted as bridesmaid, wearing pink silk with lace trimming and black picture hat with willow plume, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Frank Hill of Markdale officiated as best man. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a sunburst of pearls, and to the groomsman a masonic ring.

After the ceremony the dejeuner was served at the residence of the bride's parents, Donald street, followed by the usual toasts and speeches. Only the immediate relatives were present.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for New York for a honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a smart tan suit, with tan hat and cerise plume.

Dr. and Mrs. MacArthur will reside at Markdale, and the bride's large circle of friends will wish her every happiness.

MACGREGOR—FROST.

A pretty wedding was solemnized last night at the home of Mr. Geroge Frost, of Otonabee, when his daughter, Miss Pearl, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward MacGregor, of North Monaghan. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. G. Brown, of St. James' church, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. After the wedding ceremony, a delightful supper was partaken of. The couple left on their honeymoon trip on the 7.42 train for Toronto.

MR. FRED ROY CAN TRAVEL SOME

Mr. Fred Roy, of Roy's studio, has purchased through F. J. R. McPherson a new Indian motor cycle from the Hendee Co., of Springfield, Mass. This machine is four horse power, equipped with free engine clutch, automatically controlled, and is capable of travelling sixty miles an hour.

A basket seat may be attached to the side of this car, which makes it possible to carry two people. This is the first time one of these attachments have been shown in Peterborough.

Mr. Roy gave his new machine the first trial yesterday morning, and was well satisfied with it.

HE SAW THE SUFFRAGETTES IN ACTION

Mr. George Lenton Had Interesting Visit to Old Country

Feeling vastly improved in health and thoroughly pleased with his trip, Mr. George Lenton, of the Peterborough Lumber Company, returned home this week after a six weeks' jaunt to points of interest in the Old Country. Mr. Lenton's primary purpose in making the trip was to benefit his health, which was by no means good before leaving Peterborough. He left here for the Old Country trip on the advice of Dr. Boucher, and it is rather remarkable that the physician who tendered such good advice should in the interval have been taken off.

Mr. Lenton reports very disorganized conditions prevailing in England. Traffic, both passenger and freight, is sadly crippled owing to the big strike, and every railroad system in England has been forced to reduce the number of trains on their respective lines. Clerks in the stores are standing idle, and many are daily being allowed to go, owing to lack of work.

Mr. Lenton saw the suffragettes at work. They carry little hammers with which they administer damaging blows on plate glass windows, etc. The Empress of Britain, on which he took passage, encountered rather boisterous weather on both trips, and on the home trip was two days behind schedule time.

The passenger vessels leaving England have large passenger lists, there being fifteen hundred on the vessel which conveyed Mr. Lenton. The great majority of the passengers are destined for the western provinces, so he stated.

Fighting the Flames

Mr. E. J. King, proprietor of the Princess, has presented the firemen with a treat, the fire fighters being invited to the Princess to witness a film of a costly conflagration, in which the big city firemen are seen in action. The pictures show the latest devices for fighting the flames and saving life, and the invitation is one which is thoroughly appreciated. As the film is on to-day and to-morrow, the Chief is providing for the men to be present in relays.

Bright Liners on Athletic Topics

A TIP FOR MANAGER TEMPLIN

We've heard of Casey at the bat, of mighty stunts he's done, of how he failed to smash the pill, for Mudville's winning run; and once again the story goes, poor Casey then came back, and as a volunteer won fame, with that unheard of smack. Now, Mudville always takes the top, as Casey's on the team, he wafts them to the corners, for at slugging he's supreme; the Irish fans in Mudville always howl when Casey's on, for Casey's got the corner on the diamond class of con. They cheer for pitcher "Skinner," loud they shout when "Smiler" clouts and they yell for "Short" and "Beef Trust" as they make the needed outs. But it's nothing short of riots when his umps calls Casey out; there's no noise among the Irish when their hero fails to clout; no one blames the lusty bang man, but they sing aloud in glee when the next attempt by Casey, sets the whole three corners free. Now in looking o'er the roster, Old Folks just now has at hand, something's missing for the lineup if you ask the Irish band. There are German names and others, which will have to be remade, if the players want to win the smiles or be among the paid. But the Irish fans around this town, are feeling blue and sad, there's nothing in the Templin bunch to make them change to glad; and while the ball league pennant, may come this way by dream, there's no joy for the Irish, THERE'S NO CASEY ON THE TEAM.

PETES TWIRLING STAFF WILL MAKE OTHER CLUBS HUSTLE

Manager Templin has about all the men he wants on his roster, which is as follows—

Catchers—Irwin Arout, Reading, Pa.; Frank Brode, Shenonadoah, Pa., E. J. Kelly, Reading, Pa.

First base—Levi Rothenberg, Boyertown Ma.

Second base—Curtis H. Templin, manager.

Short-stop—Chas. Tully, Reading, Pa.; Jos. Ulmer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Third baseman — Earl Hartman, Reading, Ma.

Outfield — Jimmy Beard, Reading, Pa.; Willie Schwartz, Reading, Pa.; R. A. Connolly, Newburgh, N.Y.

In a letter to secretary Davidson, which arrived this morning, Templin says, "I have three deals on with players. All three are pitchers and first-class men. If I land one of them I will be doing good. At present I have seven pitchers whose records are good, but of course, I cannot use them all, and I will get a pitching staff that nobody in the league can duplicate. I will not have one bad one in the whole lot when I get done weeding out. The four pitchers that I will carry will make other clubs look mighty sick. I have three first class catchers. Two I will use behind the bat and the other one I can use in right field, or change them about as I see fit. Their hitting will benefit the team.

I have two first basemen, both of them good. One is a left hand hitter, the other right. The best hitter will stay and the other, if I cannot use him some other place, will have to go.

I have one extra infielder that can play either third or short, and if things don't break right, will have this man to fill in.

As regards my outfielders, there is no question about them, and as to myself I will be there better than I was last season as I am feeling fine."

An international exposition of irrigation and rice culture will be held in Italy in October and November.

SHRUBB BEAT THE INDIAN

Longboat Fell to the Wayside After Ten Miles

Toronto, April 4— Alfred Shrubb, England, secured a victory over T. Longboat, Canada, in the international invitation race last night at the Riverdale arena. The Indian was obliged to drop out at the completion of 10 1-4 miles, owing to a mishap to his footwear.

Shrubb had a good lead when Longboat's shoe troubled him. Shrubb's time for the 12 miles was 1 hour 5 min. 3 secs.

Percy Sellen won the three-mile preliminary, his opponents being H. Westerly and C. Banks, the last named dropping out soon after the start.

AUSTRALIAN MACK WANTED AT VANCOUVER

New York, April 4.—At the hearing yesterday on the extradition of John McNamara, otherwise known as "Australian Mack," who is wanted in New Westminster, B.C., on a charge of burglary committed on September 15, last, Charles Fox, counsel for the British Government, called three witnesses to contradict the alibi evidence produced by McNamara.

The defence sought to prove that at the time of the burglary in British Columbia, McNamara was riding about Fort Lee, N. J., in a touring car owned by Henry F. Schilling, a hotel keeper of Fort Lee.

Arthur E. Kerwin, mayor of Fort Lee, and Thomas Goodrick, and Geo. F. Stanbel, a blacksmith and an automobile builder, testified that prior to September last the touring car bodies had been taken off the two Schilling automobiles and that they had been converted into power wagons that were afterwards used for business purposes. The case will come up again on Friday.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

The following is taken from the Mail and Empire, the letter following one which was written by Mrs. Fessenden:

AGREES WITH MRS. FESSENDEN.

Editor Mail and Empire.

Sir,—Allow me to voice my opinions, with all Mrs. Clementina Fessenden's, in her intelligent and sensible letter, in your last Saturday's issue, on the subject of this latter-day women's agitation for suffrage (and what not?) As I have neither time nor the ability to go into a written discussion of all my thoughts in the matter, I will just venture to express some of my own personal views in regard to the majority of womankind of the present day.

I firmly believe the root of the whole matter, is the craze for love of dress and style, with all its accompanying desires for luxury of limitless horizon, which, preying on the fancies, and, probably, with a set purpose of being above "the other woman, etc., etc," added to which, their trying to instil a high sense of their own individual self-importance, they thus give vent to their frivolity and childishness.

They bring up their daughters (severally, according to their means) in such a way as to make them imagine that the world was only made for their comfort and convenience; adorning their bedrooms, fitting up their wardrobes and giving them all the latest luxurious appointments attached. No wonder we see the young girls (of the wealthy class,) when "outing" so self-centred, self-absorbed and proud in their carriage, giving one an impression, as though they thought the rest of the world beneath them.

If only the educated and supposedly (under the circumstances described) cultured women would curtail their lavish luxuries and devote their valuable (I use this word advisedly here), time to doing good, for advancing the true cause of womanhood, by helping their needier sisters to do their part in the Creator's great plan, I think we would then, truly, be on the real road to progress. These are the "rights" which I maintain should be aimed at.

Now, as to the men. No wonder there seems to be such revolution in their manners towards our sex, when women will be so bold and unwomanly, as to thrust themselves into the fray "to be equal with men in identity of function, etc., etc.," as ex-President Roosevelt puts it.

Speaking for myself, I have always felt a genuine respect for the true gentleman, whether he be a rich or a poor man, and I think it a dreadful thing that womankind should forfeit their everlasting respect and tenderness as their present-day attitude induces to.

Yours truly,
AN ENGLISH WOMAN, TORONTO.
Toronto, April 2.

IN THE ENGINEERS.

Both Officers and Private Draw Higher Pay Than In Other Branches.

According to an old service saying, officers of the corps of Royal Engineers are either "mad, married, or Methodist."

Lord Kitchener, of course, comes instantly to mind as a living refutation of the charge, but there is not a grain of truth in the jest.

The sapper is the best paid officer in the army, and competition for commissions in the R. .., which are won via the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, has always been keen.

True, the regimental pay of a sapper subaltern is only a trifle better than that of the infantry lieutenant, but every Royal Engineer, officer or man, draws "engineer pay."

In the case of officers, this ranges from $1.00 to $3.50 a day extra, and so the sapper subaltern is nearly as well paid as an infantry captain, apart from the fact that he has many opportunities of earning additional pay and special allowances.

Map, road, and railway making, laying of telegraph lines, construction of fortifications, surveying, bridging, irrigation, are some of the sapper's duties; but he has also often to act as architect and builder, and it is here that various stories are told against him.

Once a sapper officer was deputed to build a gymnasium. Elaborate plans were drawn, many workmen employed, and eventually the building was completed. It was an imposing structure, and cost a pot of money, but it had one slight defect —entrance was to be gained only through the skylight, for the architect had forgotten to provide a door!

On another occasion the commanding Royal Engineer at a certain colonial station was instructed to provide a new system of drainage for the infantry camp. He was a very clever man, but not clever enough to make water run uphill, as he attempted to do. The result was that a neighboring village was converted into a swamp, and an epidemic of enteric ensued among the inhabitants.

The local civil authorities sued the C.R.E. for damages, and were awarded a heavy sum. This he refused to pay, and an order was issued for his arrest for contempt of court, but by this time the genius was on his way home, and took jolly good care never to come back.

If it is difficult to become a R. E. officer, the would-be sapper private has also to pass special tests. Of the ordinary recruit, nothing is required except that he should comply with the age and physical standards, but the R.E. novice must first be able to give references as to character, and next he must be a skilled tradesman, unless he enlists as a driver or laborer; but even then he must have references, while the driver must be accustomed to horses.

The term "tradesman" is elastic, and includes printer, telegraphic, photographer, architect, clerk, electrician, engine-driver, balloonist and sail-maker (for training as kite-maker). In general terms, the sapper recruit must be capable of earning his living in civil life in some skilled occupation.

The sapper private gets only 8 cents a day more than his infantry comrade; but then, as has been mentioned, he draws engineer pay, which ranges from the 8 cents a day of the private to the 50 cents a day extra of the higher grades, while there is also "addition pay" and "working pay" to be earned on special jobs.

In peace the sapper's life is often exceedingly humdrum, but in war he is the first into battle and the last out of it. He goes ahead of the army to build bridges over unfordable rivers, and to remove obstacles of any kind in its path.

If the army is beaten, and retreating, he remains to the last to check the foe's pursuit by destroying bridges, laying mines, throwing up "obstacles," etc.

In the case of a siege, he tunnels up to or under the walls by means of those "saps" or trenches from which he gets his nickname of "sapper," or heads the storming party sent to blow a breach in the defences.

Snake Got Loose.

There was a startling incident at the Gypsy and Folk Lore Club of London recently, when Mr. W. B. Haselden brought some snakes from the Zoological Gardens for an exhibition of snake-charming.

A bull snake, eight feet in length, from South America, which recently performed in "Kismet" at the Garrick Theatre, escaped from a box while the charmer was engaged in awakening a snake of another family, and had got "well away," before he was missed.

The reptile finally coiled itself round a beautiful fur stole worn by Miss Winefride Borrow, a descendant of the author of "The Romany Rye," who evidently inherits the fearlessness of her ancestor, for Miss Burrow was "not a bit afraid," and walked to the box with the stole and reptile.

This particular snake was of a non-poisonous species, but it was some time before those of the audience who had made a hurried exit could be induced to return.

The exhibition followed a lecture on "Serpent Worship in the Land of the Gypsies" by Mr. Haselden.

Selling an Estate.

The sale of the greater part of the estate of Lilleshall, in Shropshire, will dispossess the Duke of Sutherland of his oldest territorial possession in England.

The property came to his family in the seventeenth century, through the marriage of the heiress of Sir John Leveson to Sir Thomas Gower, high sheriff of Yorkshire, and grandfather of the first Lord Gower.

A Leveson obtained possession of the Augustinian monastery of Lilleshall, and the ruins of the Abbey are a feature of the beautiful terraced gardens in which the stately Tudor manor house is set. Many of the paintings and other art treasures formerly at Trentham are now housed at Lilleshall. The estate comprises some of the best agricultural land in the Midlands.

learn that hotels were devoted entirely to giving satisfactory accommodation. Hotelkeepers wondered why they were ostracised, but the blame could be laid to the fact that they could not keep up an honorable business with a saloon attached.

"My hon. friend has announced his position," said Sir James Whitney in reply, "and we on this side of the House may be allowed to congratulate him at having reached a decision after long consideration. He has expressed himself with strong feelings and fervid utterances. I congratulate him in good faith for breaking his bonds.

Sir James stated that for over a year the Government had been considering the proposition of putting the license department into the hands of a provincial commission. However, nothing as yet had been decided on in that regard.

"Under the Scott act," said Sir James, "the evils of the liquor traffic were infinitely worse than under the ordinary hotel license system. I do not wish to speak of the things that occurred under the Scott act, nor even think of them. They were so revolting."

"What has determined me to favor legislation abolishing the treating system—and I ask members on both sides of the House to sympathize with my position," said Sir James, "is that it would kill the desire for treating—even if it didn't become enforced right away." The Prime Minister thought that holding over the head of the hotelkeeper the threat that he would lose his license if the treating system was persisted in, would be of great effect. Even the hotelkeepers had declared that they were in favor of the treating system being abolished.

"The question of treating," continued Sir James, "is the root of the whole matter, and if the two proposals were put to a vote of the people, I firmly believe that infinitely more would be in favor of abolishing the treating system than abolishing the bar."

Hon. W. J. Hanna ridiculed the idea of the Government being stampeded into the action they had taken with regard to the abolition of the treating system.

"It would look," said he, "by the remarks of the Opposition, that this was the first useful thing that had been done since February, 1905. "Who was behind the stampedes every year since?" enquired the Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Hanna showed conclusively that by the three-fifths vote, everything including bar, club houses and shop licenses would go if the local option bylaw is carried.

Nearly every member of the House spoke on the question before the vote was taken.

Says Women Run Congress.

Washington, April 4.—In the face of a bitter attack by Senator Bailey, the Senate yesterday passed the Esch-Hughes House bill to put a prohibitive tax upon the manufacture or importation of white phosphorus matches. Mr. Bailey called the measure a monstrosity and spoke pointedly of the fact that many women had demanded its passage.

"When the labor agitators and the women get through running this Congress there will not be a shred of the constitution left," he said. The Senator quoted a little Shakespeare and declared that Portia was a suffragette who had palmed off a subterfuge in her argument before the court which tried Shylock's claim.

Thames Flood Diverted.

Chatham, April 4.—An ice blockade, two miles long and over 25 feet above low water mark, formed yesterday afternoon at Prairie Siding and has diverted the Thames freshet out over the low-lying farms of Raleigh and Dover.

Water is now rushing across country several feet deep, and the river continues to rise. Farmers three miles below Chatham are marooned and most of the country roads west are impassable.

The river is now almost 20 feet above normal level in the city and some of the north side streets are under several feet of water.

"RATEPAYER" WHO SIGNS HIS NAME

He Writes Regarding the Taxes for Garbage Removal

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir.—In reading the report of the proceedings of the Council on Monday night last, I notice that they decided that the charges for the removal of garbage be collected with the taxes, or in other words, that the property owners pay the full amount for the collection of garbage. I am not a lawyer, and perhaps don't understand law very well, but it strikes me that the Council has no power to levey those charges on the property owners, at least it don't look to me to be either reasonable or just. Suppose a man owned ten or twenty houses occupied by tenants, would it be fair that he should have to pay for the removal of all garbage from those houses. I think that this garbage business would come under the same head as personal property, which, of course, the property owner is not responsible for. I don't know what the Act calls for, but if it is law it don't seem to me to be justice. Don't you think it would be wise to have the city solicitor's opinion on this question?

Yours,
J. J. HARTLEY.

Nag Went Down

An exciting episode occurred this morning near the corner of Dublin and George streets when a dray horse owned by Mr. John Quinlan slipped and fell on the road. No damage was done and Mr. Quinlan resumed work after a short delay.

Lecture To-night

Remember the lecture on the Holy Grail by his honor Judge Huycke tonight at eight o'clock, in the W.A.A. studio at the Public Library. Silver collection for non-members.

BACK WITH THE CAREY MOHER CO.

Mr. R. J. Moher Had Practical Experience in Auto Plants

The Carey Moher Company on Hunter street, has been greatly strengthened by the return of Mr. R. J. Moher from Racine, Wis., where he has spent the last three months to good advantage with the Mitchell Lewis automobile plant, of whose car, the firm are representatives in Peterborough.

Mr. Moher has many interesting things to say about the Mitchell Company's plant, and other plants which he has visited while away. The Mitchell Company plant is second to none in America, covering many acres. They are furthermore the only people on this continent who control their own testing track. One half of their output is shipped to France, which speaks very highly for the quality of the Mitchell car, Europe being a strong competitive market.

Mr. Moher also visited the Hupmobile and R.C.H. factories at Detroit. Being a mechanic himself, has enabled him to profit greatly from the time spent at Racine, and the experience gained will be vigorously exerted in the firm's interests in Peterborough.

POULTRY MEN MEET TO-NIGHT

Mr. J. H. Callander to Read Interesting Paper

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association will be held to-night in their hall, Simcoe street, at 8 o'clock, and the meeting should be of great interest to the younger members as well as to the older ones. There will be a paper read on "The Early Production of Chicks," by Mr. J. H. Callandar. Members in quest of information along this line should not fail to attend the meeting, as the membership rarely has an opportunity of acquiring valuable information from a person with such a thorough and practical knowledge of raising chickens for show purposes as Mr. Callandar possesses. There will also be several varieties of birds on exhibitions, and their good and bad points will be thoroughly discussed by the members.

Service at St. Luke's

There will be service at St. Luke's church on Good Friday at 10.30 in the morning and at 8 o'clock in the evening. The rector will preach at both services.

TRADEMARK MUST BE KEPT SACRED

Court Upholds Owners of Trademark Name Made Valuable by Advertising

The value of advertising, especially to manufacturers, was never more clearly shown than in the decision of Mr. Justice Charbonneau, in the District Court of Montreal. A few days ago, a new retail firm, with the word "Vineberg" as a part of their firm name, in inaugurating its advertising campaign, caused to be inserted in two Montreal papers large advertisements, the most prominent features of which were the words "Progress Proclaimed." Messrs. H. Vineberg & Co., Limited, proprietors of "Progress Brand Clothing," immediately made application for an injunction restraining this retail firm from using, for publicity purposes, the word "Progress."

Messrs. H. Vineberg & Co., Limited, claim that the use of the word "Progress," especially in connection with the name Vineberg, was calculated to mislead the public into believing that the new arrival was somehow or other connected with the older firm of the same name. As a matter of fact, such an impression was created among the customers of the petitioner, several inquiries being made asking whether the petitioner had decided to enter the retail field. As the ethics of the wholesale business precludes this possibility, except at the risk of losing all its clientele, the injury brought about by the false impression which had gained currency might have been incalculable.

Messrs. H. Vineberg & Co., Limited, have made a specialty of their "Progress Brand" Clothing, which has been so widely advertised as to be sold to the trade in practically every town as well as city in Canada.

The application for injunction was opposed and judgment was rendered in default, His Lordship, Mr. Justice Charbonneau, making the injunction so far reaching that the respondent, as well as the newspapers figuring in the case, are forbidden to publish any advertising material for respondent in which the word "Progress" is found.

THE NEW NAME IS MARLBORO CLUB

The West End Athletic Club held their regular weekly meeting last evening, with an encouraging attendance of members, and it was unanimously decided that owing to the central location of the club, the name be changed to "Marlboro Club," and in the future the organization will be known by that name.

It was further decided that the colors would remain the same, yellow and black. The next club dance will be held on the evening of Wednesday, April 17.

UNIFORMS TO BE ISSUED NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

The annual 57th Regiment Camp will be held this season from June 6th to the 16th at Kingston, orders to that effect being issued by Lt.-Col Clegg after the regimental drill Tuesday night. The five days' outing will be taken up with drill, and the usual camp life duties.

The Regiment is to be fitted out with complete new uniforms this year, tunics, serges and caps, etc. They will be issued next Tuesday at the Armories.

At the annual inspection last year, the 57th Regiment was very favorably commented on by the inspecting officer, No. 6 Co., under the direction of Captain McLean, coming in for special mention.

After drill Tuesday night Companies 6 and 7 held an informal little banquet and smoker in the recreation rooms, where a very jolly time was passed.

SIXTEEN FIRE ALARMS IN MARCH

Majority of Runs Were to Chimney Blazes.

In the month of March this year the fire brigade has been called upon to answer sixteen fire alarms. In most cases, though, the cause of the alarms was chimney fires, and in no case did the conflagration result in much injury to the threatened property. The total loss by fire was only $35.

In March of last year there were six fires, and $162 worth of damage being done.

Although in most cases the fires were slight, there were some instances where the promptness and skill of Chief Howard and his men prevented a large blaze.

REPORT FOR KINGSTON.

Here are the figures given by Fire Chief Armstrong, of Kingston, for the first three months of the year:

Alarms, 24; loss, $6,925.80; insurance, $70,500; hose used, 2,630 feet; nozzles used, 9; ladders used 21—341 feet; chemicals used, 28—92 gallons, water used, 12 hours, 10 min.

L. O. L. No. 1175

The Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 1175 held a meeting last evening in their rooms on Simcoe street. One new member was initiated and two members were put through the Royal Arch Degree.

Mr. George McCartney, the organizer of Bethany, gave an instructive talk on the benefits of lodge insurance.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY FOR WARSAW PEOPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Clements Entertained Their Friends.

Special Correspondence.

Warsaw, April 3.—Mrs. Douglas, who has been ill for some time is not expected to live.

Most of the farmers in this vicinity are commencing sugar-making operations and expect a good run.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McDonald and daughter, of Wisconsin, are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Douglas, of Peterborough, were in Warsaw on Saturday evening.

Mr. George Trotter and Misses Annie and Lizzie Trotter, of Clydsdale, visited relatives in Warsaw last week.

An egg social will be held at the Manse of Thursday evening, April 3rd.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clements entertained about seventy of their friends and relatives on Wednesday, March 27th, in celebration of the 25th anniversary of their marriage. After the bride and groom of 25 years had received the congratulations of their friends and all had partaken of a sumptuous wedding repast, those who were so inclined, "tripped the light fantastic toe," while games and other amusements were provided for those who did not wish to so indulge. There were present guests from Otonabee, Peterborough, Nassau and Clydesdale. The music was excellent, being furnished by Mr. H. Clements, Miss O. Clements, Miss Ethel Boyce, Mr. A. Hendren and Mr. Fred Payne. Songs were sung by Mr. Clarence Watts, Mr. Ted Payne and Mr. Cridland.

The light of another day was appearing ere some of the guests departed, and all testified to having spent a thoroughly enjoyable time.

Spring must surely be coming as some of the men in this locality are losing their whiskers. Some have lost them altogether and others only part of them.

THE TRAGEDY OF THE CROSS

On Good Friday evening a most interesting service, entitled "The Tragedy of the Cross," will be held in the S. A. Temple, Simcoe street. The story of the Crucifixion, as narrated in the Gospels, will be further supplemented with a number of appropriate solos and duets, and illustrated by several very striking scenic representations, making a most impressive service. A cordial invitation is extended to all, and an offering will be taken at the door.

EAT RAISINS

On April 30th, the people of California will celebrate the fourth annual California Raisin Day when the slogan is "eat raisin bread, eat raisin pie, eat raisins cooked or raw, but eat them anyhow." The idea of the celebration is to assist one of the greatest industries of the State by bringing the native product before the public as prominently as possible, and after four years the institution has become quite popular. It is not by any means confined, however, within the borders of California for many of the Eastern railways feature the dusky fruit by placing special raisin dishes on the menus of their dining cars for that day.

The Grand Trunk has fallen into line on previous anniversaries and will again give prominence to raisin dishes throughout their system on April 30th, this year.

WIDOW OF MAN WHO WAS KILLED IN MINE TO GET $900

Settlement has been made by the Cordova Mines, Ltd., in connection with the death of the late Mr. Bert Easton. The deceased was killed while in the employ of the Company when engaged at some work at the pumps in the mines.

The superintendent of the company at the trial submitted considerable evidence in the endeavor to prove that the deceased had in some measure been responsible for being the victim, claiming that he had neglected precautions for his own safety and that he had unnecessarily exposed himself to danger, contrary to the instructions of the company.

They admitted a slight liability, however, and the counsels for both parties getting together, a compromise was effected by the company agreeing to pay the plaintiffs $900. The deceased left a widow and one child, who pressed the claim.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, of Peterborough, represented the plaintiffs, and Mr. Willis, of Belleville, the defendants.

WAS ALMOST CUT IN TWO

Young Englishman Met with Terrible Accident

FELL ON SAW

Is Making Brave Fight and May Recover

Barrie, Ont., April 4—Almost cut in two by a swiftly revolving wood-sawing machine, Abraham Pinion, a young unmarried Englishman, lies at the Royal Victoria Hospital here now fighting a brave struggle for his life, with chances for recovery. He was engaged with Andrew Cunninghham, operating a wood-sawing machine at the farm of Charles Parker near Minessing, and when canting a log on to the carriage he fell across the saw, which cut deeply into his left chest and into the lung. Dr. Murphy, of Phelpston, who was in the neighborhood was called, and he summoned Dr. W. A. Ross, of Barrie, in consultation several hours later. The injured man was taken to Minessing station to be brought to Barrie, but a blockade on the line delayed the train, and the ten-mile journey was made over rough roads by sleigh. Grave fears were entertained by the doctors that pneumonia would set in, but he has so far warded this off, and hopes are now entertained for his recovery.

SEMI-READY Garments for the Spring and Summer Season are the authoritative style fabrics and models, accepted everywhere by the man who cares.

More and more are we in Canada earning our reputation as a Nation of well-dressed men.

Were it not for the economic savings in men's wear effected by the great organization tailoring Semi-ready Clothes, such suits as we sell at $15, $20, $25 and as high as $35 would now cost twice as much in the old retail way. In some places they do.

MRS. ASQUITH'S FEATS

WIFE OF BRITISH PREMIER IS A REMARKABLE WOMAN.

She Is an Expert Athlete and Dancer as Well as a Person of High Literary Talent—Is the Heroine of E. F. Benson's Novel "Dodo" and the Victim of Watson's Poem—A Favorite of Gladstone.

Mrs. Herbert Asquith, wife of the Prime Minister of England, is noted for her unconventionality. At a recent fancy dress ball at Muerren, Switzerland, in which she played a large part in organizing, some of the dresses were striking, but none more so than her old gold brocaded Turkish trousers costume. When the fun became furious she danced a pas seul in the centre of the floor, while the company marveled.

A famous incident is told of her bachelor days, when, as Margot Tennant, she caused a tremendous sensation by entertaining a company at a hunt ball with a skirt dance.

Mrs. Asquith is an expert skater, and the picture shows her indulging in the sport at the Swiss resort.

Mrs. Asquith is one of England's favorite conversational topics. When nothing else is going on there always is something in which Mrs. Asquith is concerned to talk about, or else she does something then and there to make conversation. Mrs. Asquith first became widely known outside of England when, as Margot Tennant, she was made the heroine of E. F. Benson's clever novel, "Dodo." More recently she was dragged into notoriety through William Watson's poem, "The Woman With the Serpent Tongue."

The poem created a great sensation at the time of its appearance, and Watson's known hostility to the Asquiths immediately disclosed its object. Later, after he went to America, Watson admitted that Mrs. Asquith was the woman he had referred to, and his excuse for the poem was that Mrs. Asquith and her husband were traitorously trying to wreck the Liberal party.

Some time after the appearance of the poem there was gossip that Mrs. Asquith and her husband were to separate.

Mrs. Asquith before her marriage was an especial favorite of Mr. Gladstone, and her influence in society was such as to gain for young women a much less restricted position. In spite of her disturbing freedom in society she counted leading statesmen, men of literary, scientific and musical fame, in her train, and her appearance in the gallery of the House of Commons gave zest to whatever debate was on hand. She was the creator of a semi-mystic, semi-literary society called the Souls, and, with Arthur Balfour as her lieutenant in the movement, she gathered some of the best minds in England about her.

In time the newspapers came seriously to chronicle the doings of Miss Margot Tennant as they would those of the Queen and the Prime Minister, and when the irate conservatives in society were at end of all patience with the gay, clever, sarcastic little Philistine she overturned all their predictions by giving her hand in marriage to one of the ablest and most serious young politicians, Mr. Asquith.

As if to prove the infinite variety of her talents, Mrs. Asquith for several years settled down at once to the duties of wifehood and motherhood and showed as marked a capacity for these graver callings as for the lightest frivolities.

Mrs. Asquith is the third daughter of a wealthy Scotch mine owner, Sir Charles Tennant, who made a vast fortune out of the Tharsis copper mine in Spain. Her brother Harold was for some time private secretary to Mr. Asquith before she became Mrs. Asquith. She is a dashing horsewoman and can take the most difficult jumps when following the hounds, during one of which she fell and broke her collar-bone.

When she married Mr. Asquith he was a widower with several children.

IRISH HUNTING WOMEN.

Find Keen Enjoyment In Sport That Calls For Nerves of Steel.

Irish women are renowned for their fearless prowess in the hunting field, where the terrible obstacles to be negotiated call for nerves of steel, and it is neck or nothing in the distressful country.

The fearsome stone walls, sometimes overgrown with turf and masking a brook, appall all but the stoutest hearts, and even the most hardened sportswoman is known to quail at the commencement of the hunting season, experiencing the sensation of the heart in the mouth when called upon to face the stiff going. She finds her nerve returning, however, after a day or so in the saddle.

Every Irishman is a true sportsman, and the whole neighborhood turns out for a meet, those unable to raise a mount following on foot or driving in every sort of vehicle, some rare antediluvian specimens seeing the light of day on such occasions.

The Irish colleen will dance all night at a hunt ball and turn up at a distant meet as fresh as paint without going to bed at all, full of life and spirit, with wit and repartee bubbling like a font. The wild country brings out all the daredevil Irish nature, and there is little searching for gaps and gates when the blood of Irish horse and rider is up.

Ireland is not overrepresented in the matter of hunting, and Irish packs are not by any means numerous and may be reckoned to number a couple of dozen. Some only possess quite a restricted number of couples and but few hunt four or five days a week, though an occasional by day may bring the total up. The Meath hunts five days a week and is one of the famous hunts of the United Kingdom, and the County Galway, the Blazers, has four days a week.

The famous happy go lucky hospitality that marks the Irish temperament is exemplified in matters sporting, and open house is kept by those having accommodation in a good hunting district.—London Globe.

Toothsome Reward.

The resignation of his Warwickshire living by Archdeacon Colley is felt by the children of Stockton, England, in whom the rev. gentleman was always intensely interested. By means of a long tube the archdeacon had established some kind of telephonic communication between the rectory garden and the village green, and through this tube the children playing on the green would repeat, in answer to a call from the archdeacon, texts from the Scriptures.

Not always was the text correctly rendered, but whenever the version called through the pipe was substantially accurate, the fortunate child was made aware of his or her success by the arrival of an orange or some other toothsome reward by way of the capacious "speaking pipe." On special occasions the oranges contained coins inside them, which were drilled with holes so that they could be worn as medals round the neck, and very proud the children of Stockton were to obtain one of these.

For years the archdeacon has been a staunch believer in Spiritualism, and his challenge to, and litigation with Mr. Maskelyne will be fresh in the public memory. It is recalled that in 1904 he made a will bequeathing his body to the University of Birmingham for dissection—"to be cut up in the interests of anatomical and surgical science when I have done with it."

On New Year's Day the archdeacon was carried round his church in a coffin he had made some time ago, clothed as he had expressed a wish to be clothed after death. "I desired to impress on my parishioners that death is the gate of life," he said afterwards. "I hope and expect that after death and a spell of rest—which may be one year or 500—I shall return again for useful work. That is the doctrine I have taught, and the doctrine I believe in."

Kept Awake by a Pillow.

The Earl of Erroll is a Canadian by birth having been born in Kingston, Ont., in 1852. He is a Knight of the Thistle, nineteenth earl, and twenty-third Hereditary Lord High Constable of Scotland. This office was created in 1315, and by virtue of it he is the first subject of the King in Scotland.

He has done much soldiering, rose to the command of the Royal Horse Guards, and has been A.D.C. to Field Marshal Viscount Wolseley. He also did good service in the Boer war as brigadier-general of Imperial Yeomanry. He is said to be head of the house of Hay, which settled in Scotland in the twelfth century, and from which spring the Marquisate of Tweeddale and the Earldom of Kinnoull.

His lordship owns the historic castle of Slains, which has for centuries fronted the North Sea from the coast of Aberdeenshire. Dr. Johnson stayed at Slains on his famous Highland progress 140 years ago, and left record that he was kept awake not only by the roaring of the waves under his window, but by "the smell of sea-fowls feathers" in his pillow.

SCHOOL FOR PRINCES.

India Possesses an Institution of the Most Aristocratic Sort.

India possesses a school—the Rajkumar College at Rajkut, in the province of Kathiawar, Bombay Presidency—which is the only one of its kind in the world. No one but a prince can become a "kumar," or princely student. At the present time there are forty of these little princes at the college, each with his miniature suite, presided over by an official known as a "musaheb." Never must a musaheb let his kamur out of his sight, except during school hours. The "Rules for Musahebs" throw a valuable light upon the upbringing of Indian princes:

"Musahebs are to keep control over the kumar's servants, and see that they do their work properly, paying particular attention to the cleanliness of the rooms. They are responsible for the regularity of the kumar's meals, and for the quality and measure of the food, as also for seeing that there is no waste in the kitchens. They are to see that beyond their legitimate work the servants have nothing to do with the kumars."

The history of this remarkable school has just been completed by his highness Sir Bhaysinhji, Maharajah of Bhavnagar. This history, entitled "Forty Years of the Rajgumar College," has been eagerly expected, and is one of the most astonishing works ever published. It comprises seven prodigious volumes, so heavy that they can only be lifted with difficulty. Nine tons of paper—six for the text and three for the illustrations—have been used in the manufacture of the 1,000 presentation sets. Eighteen months were occupied by the publishers in the production, which involved the printing of 180,000 plate-sunk photogravures, and the cost has run into many thousands of pounds.

Sets bound in the finest royal red morocco have already been presented through the governor of Bombay to King George and Queen Mary. A similar set is on its way to Canada for the Duke of Connaught, while the Prince of Wales will be the fortunate recipient of a fourth set.

His Progress.

Mr. Arthur Roberts, the well-known comedian, tells many a good anecdote of music hall proprietors and performers, and among them the following is one of the best: The late George Fredericks, who became proprietor of the Bedford, Camden Town, developed while there a fine soul for irony.

He had engaged for a week a comedian who as a performer was too dreadful for words. After the opening night he came down to the bar brimming over with pleasure. "Well, guv'nor," he cried, "I think I knocked 'em. How do I go?" To which Fredericks replied as good-naturedly as possible, "Go? You go on Saturday!" And he did.

Croatia Kicks Over Traces.

Vienna, April 4.—Telegrams from Agram, capital of Croatia, announces that owing to the landtag elections, which resulted in an overwhelming majority in favor of the severance of Croatia from Hungary, absolute government has been proclaimed there. The constitution has been suspended and all authority is vested in a royal commissioner.

Train Killed Horse Dealer.

Montreal, April 4—Emile Lamarche, a horse dealer of Pointe Claire, was struck and killed by a Canadian Pacific Railway train while walking on the tracks near Pointe Claire yesterday.

Must Recognize Union.

Philadelphia, April 3.—Sentiment among the workers in the anthracite region seems to be crystallizing in favor of prolonging the lay off until the operators grant recognition to the union. At a meeting held yesterday in Nanticoke, near Wilkesbarre, a thousand miners, mostly Poles, declared that they would not accept a ten per cent. increase unless it was accompanied by union recognition. When one of the speakers announced that President Baer had said that the miners were not strong enough to strike, a score of workers jumped to their feet exclaiming "Well, we'll show him."

Both operators and miners, however, seem content to await the result of the conference to hold in this city on April 10, and none of the large companies made any attempt to work their breakers yesterday.

Rogers May Tell.

Montreal, April 3.—It is understood that the speech to be delivered by Hon. Robert Rogers here on April 13 at the Conservative Club dinner will give out the secret in connection with the coming Manitoba school settlement by Premier Roblin.

Mr. Bourassa's paper, Le Devoir, does not, however, want to be pacified, as that paper has an article in last evening stating that if The Free Press report of the alleged settlement is correct, it will never be satisfactory.

Be this as it may, it is well understood that His Grace Mgr. Langevin has been given an inkling as to the coming modification in the law and has expressed himself as perfectly satisfied. The same attitude is also reported to be taken by the papal delegate at Ottawa.

Honor For Boy Scouts.

Ottawa, April 3.—The Duke of Connaught, chief of the Canadian Boy Scouts, has approved the following awards:

Harold Whitcomb, Smith's Falls, and Gordon Scott, Niagara Falls, silver medals for saving human life; Victor Garnham, Tillsonburg, gilt medal for merit; G. Bowman, Wingham; Charles Heintzman, Toronto, and Alvin Gray, Millbrook, scrolls of honor signed by His Royal Highness.

Heintzman, a member of Toronto troop, No. 30, rescued Willie Jackson in the Don River on August 23 last. The lad had gone beyond his depth while bathing.

Gray pulled a fellow scout, N. H. Boyle, out of a deep hole in the river at Millbrook.

Lt.-Col. William White Dead.

Ottawa, April 3.—Lt.-Col. William White, C.M.G., one of Ottawa's respected citizens, died yesterday.

In 1888 he succeeded W. H. Griffin, C.M.G., as Deputy Postmaster-General of Canada. This office he held until June, 1897, when he retired from the Department, when he was appointed Canadian delegate to the posal union at Washington.

He commanded the Canadian rifle team which went to Wimbledon in 1884 and won the Kolapore Cups, and was also chairman of the executive committee of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association from 1886 to 1896.

Murderer Latwell Pardoned.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., April 3.—A telegram from Senator Gittins in Albany yesterday, announced the pardon by Governor Dix of Albert Latwell, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering his wife here in 1898. His father is an Orangeville, Ont., coal dealer.

Socialists Routed In Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, April 3.—Milwaukee voters yesterday swept from office the Socialist administration, installed a non-partisan mayor, board of aldermen and county board of supervisors, and probably eliminated every national political party from participation in future municipal elections in the State of Wisconsin.

Nearly complete returns from the 146 precincts in the city show that Dr. Gerhard A. Bading, non-partisan candidate for mayor, defeated Mayor Emil Seidel, Socialist incumbent.

Overrun With Unemployed.

Vancouver, April 3.—Cordova street yesterday was lined with men out of work. The majority of these have come off from the work on the Canadian Northern line between Vancouver and Kamloops.

About 4,000 men have thrown up their jobs and there seems to be no disposition on their part to organize into any particular demonstration. They say they will not return to work until their resources are exhausted. At the I. W. W. headquarters, many new members are being enrolled. Their complaints against the Canadian Northern are that the bunk houses are filthy, the food poor, the prices high and the hours of work long.

FACTORY GIRL GIVES UP

Too Sick to Work—Doctor Advised Operation. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—"I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for female trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me more than the doctors did. I hope that every one who is suffering will get the Compound. My pains, nervousness and backache are gone and I have gained five pounds. I owe my thanks to your medicine for it is the working girls friend, and all women who suffer should write to you for special advice."—Miss TILLIE PLENZIG, 3 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge anyone to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A Notable Will.

In 1797 there died in London a merchant named Peter Thelusson, of foreign extraction, who bequeathed $500,000 to his wife and children, and the rest of his property, amounting to upwards of $3,000,000, to trustees, with instructions that the money was to be invested and the interest suffered to accumulate until his three sons and all their sons should have died, when the entire property was to be transferred to his eldest great-grandson. In the event of no such heir being then alive, the accumulated property was to be appropriated to the reduction of the National Debt.

Many calculations were made as to the probable amount which the accumulations were likely to reach, and according to the lowest computation it was believed that the sum would, in seventy years, amount to $95,000,000. The family of the deceased disputed the validity of the will, and some years were passed in litigation, the result being that the document was declared valid, but an Act of Parliament was passed in 1800 rendering null and void all bequests for the purposes of accumulation for longer than twenty years after the testator's death.

The last grandson of Peter Thelusson died in 1856, fifty-nine years after the death of the author of the will. Prolonged litigation again ensued, and when, in 1859, the House of Lords decided that Charles Thelusson was the heir, the legal expenses and costs of maintenance were found to have swallowed up the whole of the accumulated profits, leaving to the heir a sum as nearly as possible equal to the original bequest.

Delays of Justice.

Legal records supply many instances of long intervals between the crime and the arrest. The leading case is that of Eugene Aram, who was hanged for the murder of Clarke fourteen years after the offence. In the eighteenth century a man named Horne was executed for the murder of his child thirty-five years after the crime. There is also the well known case of Governor Wall, who was hanged in 1802 for a murder committed in 1782. But Sir James Stephens recalls what is surely the most remarkable case on record. He prosecuted in 1863 a man who was charged with stealing a leaf from a parish register sixty years before.—London Chronicle.

CURE THAT COLD

This Is Quickly and Pleasantly Accomplished If You Use

Catarrhozone

Catarrhozone will relieve colds almost instantly and in a few hours will cure completely. If it is old-standing asthma or bronchitis its quick and curative results will astonish you.

Catarrhozone is little drops of healing medicine carried by air to the sore and diseased parts. You breathe them through the Catarrhozone Inhaler and they spread throughout all the air passages.

It is sense as well as healing, because Catarrhozone is a germ killer, a healer and restorer of weak tissues, because it is so prompt and certain in its results, better than any other remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is neither alcohol, morphia or cocaine—all dangerous.

Tens of thousands have used Catarrhozone without reporting a single case of failure to cure diseases of the throat and lungs and nasal passages. Remember, CATARRHOZONE is taken in air, and is little drops of healing for the throat, nasal passages, or lungs. It always does cure—is guaranteed.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, post paid, from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

CRANKS IN WASHINGTON.

Why Some Officials Keep Loaded Revolvers on Their Desks.

Five out of the nine well groomed and gentlemanly private secretaries of members of President Taft's cabinet keep loaded revolvers handy in their desks every day of the year. They do not often use them, but there are just enough cranks around Washington and its departments to make a revolver feel good to the touch occasionally.

Mr. Robert O. Bailey, private secretary to Mr. Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, keeps his even handier than in a desk drawer. If you were to step back of the big mahogany desk at which Mr. Bailey works you would find a small shelf to the right beside his knee. Upon it there is a businesslike looking 38 caliber revolver. It has been there ever since Mr. Bailey was visited last summer by a man who demanded to see Secretary MacVeagh that he might get "a license for free speech."

Mr. Bailey was alone in the office on a midsummer day. Into it dashed a disheveled individual who had long neglected the art of the safety razor and who was plainly looking for trouble. He rushed up to the desk and, crowding close to Mr. Bailey, brought his fist violently down upon the blotter and shouted—

"I demand a permit for free speech!"

"All right," said Mr. Bailey; "go ahead."

This seemed to be a surprise to the man, who showed a desire to shoot up the place. He recovered himself and stepped back a few paces. Then he began an oration. It lasted ten minutes. At a halt Mr. Bailey put in—"Fine; that's the way. You are all right."

The crank accepted the verdict, made a deep bow and walked out of the room.—New York Herald.

LEAP YEAR PROPOSALS.

Two Ancient Laws Giving Women the Right to Make Them.

Although most women are well aware of the great privilege which they may enjoy during leap year, it is not to be presumed that they are all equally conversant with the fact that their prematrimonial right was originally secured to them by a statute law of England enacted in 1606 under James I (1603-25), which readeth thus: "Albeit it is now become a part of the common laws, in regarde to the social relaytions of life, that so often as everie besextile year doeth returne, the ladyes have the sole privileges, during the time continueth, of making love unto the men, which they may doe, either by words or looks, as unto them seemeth proper, moreover, no man will be entitled to the benefit of clergy who dothe refuse to accept the offers of a layde, or who dothe in any wise treat her proposals with slight and contumely."

A Scotch statute of 1228, under Alexander II. (1214-49), however, preceded the above and will appear to be even more stringent:

"It is statet and ordaint that during the year of his maist blissit majestie, ilk fourth year known as leap year, ilk maiden layd of both high and low estait, shall hae liberty to bespeak ye man she likes, albit, if he refuses to tak her to be his wif, he shall be mulched in the sum of one poundis (£) or less as his estait may be, except and anis if he can mak it appear that he is betrothed to ane woman, that he shall then be free."—Harper's.

A Famous Beacon Swept Away.

The Tennyson beacon, on the edge of the Isle of Wight, which a recent gale destroyed, was a landmark for all vessels entering the Solent from the west. It consisted of a tall Iona cross thirty-two feet high with the pedestal and bore the following inscription: "To the memory of Alfred Lord Tennyson this cross, a beacon to sailors, is raised by the people of Freshwater and others, who desire to honor him in England and America." The site on which it stood formed part of the manor of Farringford and was one of the objects of the long daily walk which he took until within a few short years of his death.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Last of the Paris Lanterns.

A relic of the days of terror in the revolution, when the aristocrats were strung up to lanterns in the Paris streets, has disappeared. Until last week the last of these old lanterns, which were pulled up and down on a pulley to a gallows shaped iron rod, still hung opposite the Hotel de Lausanne, on the Quai des Celestins. Some necessary repairs to the qauy made it imperative to pull down the wall, and the lantern has been sent to the Musee Carnavalet. It was the last oil lamp in the Paris streets and until a short time ago was filled and lighted every evening.—London Standard.

Domitian's Dining Floor.

Professor Boni, who has been investigating the ruins of the Domus Flavia on the Palatine, Rome, has discovered almost intact the pavement of the dining hall of the Emperor Domitian. It is about 100 feet square, of oriental granite and is bordered with Numidian marble. The pavement was the richest in any of the imperial palaces of the first century.—Chicago Tribune.

Saving the Swiss Eagles.

The four remaining nesting places of eagles in the Alps are under the protection of the Swiss federal government, which indemnifies the peasants in the valleys for any damage done by the eagles to herds and flocks. Last year eagles carried off fourteen lambs, four kids and one cat, for which the state paid.

THE VOICES AT THE OUTPOSTS

You can hear 'em in the darkness
Of the far Alaskan wild;
You can hear Caruso singin'
Or the chatter of a child;
You can hear the band a-playin'
Or the burst of darky song.
No hike's's too far for packin'
A phonograph along.

If you snowshoe to the summit
Of the continent's divide
You will hear from out some cabin
A sound that stirs your hide
With that prickly, strange sensation
That comes when home has spoke.
It's a phonograph a-callin',
And you stop and blink and choke.

On the wildest reservation,
At the Injun trader's store,
'Mong the islands of the south seas,
Soundin' o'er a pearly shore;
Everywhere that white men follow
O'er dim trails with pack and staff
You can hear the callin', callin',
Of the friendly phonograph.

Missouri Horse Talk.

Speaker Champ Clark enjoys telling of an incident that occurred in a circuit court of Missouri during a "horse case," in which a horseman well known throughout the state for his expert knowledge was called as a witness.

"You saw this horse?" asked counsel for the defendant.

"Yes, sir, I"—

"What did you do?"

"I opened his mouth in order to ascertain how old he was, and I said to him, I said, 'Old fellow, I guess you're a good horse yet.'"

At this juncture opposing counsel leaped to his feet. "Your honor," he cried, "I object to the statement of any conversation between the witness and the horse when the plaintiff was not present."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

OUR NEW JUDICIAL SYSTEM.

The Change Made by the Passing of the Circuit Courts.

The United States circuit court, after a long and honorable history as part of the judicial system, established by the judiciary act signed by President Washington Sept. 24, 1789, passed out of existence at the stroke of midnight Dec. 31, after lasting 122 years three months and seven days. This change in the judiciary system is in accordance with an act signed by President Taft March 3 last whereby the functions of that court are merged in the district court and the circuit court of appeals, thereby simplifying the judicial system and to that extent expediting legal federal processes.

The confusion arising from the overlapping of district courts and the circuit courts, which has concurrent jurisdiction, was at times not a little puzzling even to lawyers, and it has now been definitely cleared up by making the district courts courts of first instance except in the few certain and specified matters in which the supreme court itself is of first instance.

The change is one that will probably be welcomed by the judges of both courts and certainly by the legal profession in general. In effect it is not so much an abolition of the circuit courts except in name as an amalgamation of them with the district courts. The view that the new act which became effective at the beginning of the new year deprived the circuit judges of all functions until an enabling act has been passed by congress is not taken seriously by the judges themselves, but any doubt on the subject that may exist will be promptly cured by additional legislation making the status of the judges of the abolished court clear. —New York World.

ARROWS OF THE ABORS.

Usually Tipped With One of the Most Deadly Poisons Known.

The fact that the Abor tribesmen, against whom the government of India has sent a punitive expedition to punish them for the recent massacre of Noel Williamson, are chiefly armed with bows and arrows, has led people to imagine that the natives will inflict but little damage on the soldiers.

As a matter of fact, however, the arrows used by the Abors are often more dreaded than bullets, for they are usually dipped in a poison which is probably the most deadly in the world. This poison is known as curare and is so virulent that savages have been known to smear it on their nails and to kill an enemy merely by scratching him.

Three years ago a young doctor was convicted at Vienna for supplying curare to a married woman, who touched a little raw place on her husband's body with it and he died. In effect he had been struck by a poisoned arrow. Curare is an artificial compound, the secret of which is most jealously guarded by the priests and medicine men of savage tribes, and travelers have told fascinating tales of how old women of the tribes assist the priests to make the stuff and regard it as an honor to test its strength upon themselves.

Curiously enough, the domestic fowl and the Argos pheasant are the only creatures said to be immune from the effects of this deadly poison.—London Field.

Relief For German Actors.

As in other countries, the lot of the members of the lower grades of the theatrical profession in Germany is often very hard, and an imperial commission has been appointed to investigate into their position, find out what reforms are advisable and enforce them in the form of a bill which will be submitted to the reichstag to become law all over Germany. The commission will begin its work in a few weeks, and it will investigate the wages, hours, contracts and fines of the lower rate actor and music hall artist, ascertain under what terms agents find them engagements and frame a bill which will improve all these conditions.—London Globe.

American Students of Singing.

Signor Randegger, the famous singing master, whose death has just been announced, had a great partiality for American pupils. "Not," he once said, "that I think that their voices are better in themselves, but Americans have so much more 'go.' As pupils they are so much more enthusiastic. They understand and act upon everything one tells them with greater eagerness and intelligence. There are plenty of good voices among the English people, but as pupils I find them, with a few exceptions, more or less cold and self conscious."—Westminster Gazette.

Saving One's Bacon.

The old Dutch for "bacon" is "bas," and the Anglo-Saxon for "back" is also "baec." To save one's bacon seems, therefore, equivalent to saving one's back—from a beating. Moreover, it is the back of the pig that was and still is chiefly made into bacon—the legs are hams.

The legal existence of juries was perhaps first recorded in Plantagenet times. At one time a jury that could not agree was placed in durance vile, and during Queen Elizabeth's reign a banquet was usually given to the jury by the successful litigant.

Perfumed Baths.

The most notable feature of the fashion today is the remarkable extent to which perfume is being used in baths. Another modern fashion is the burning of perfumes in rooms. Perfumes have, of course, been burned in this way for ages, but of late there has been a remarkable revival of the custom, and there are now on the market ingenious little lamps. There has to be no flame. The perfume is brought from the reservoir to the surface by an ordinary wick and there volatilized by a redhot needle. Oriental scents, which are composed chiefly of gums and spices, are used for the purpose.

Modish Heads Dressed Low.

All modish Parisienne heads are dressed low in these days. In fact, little curls are getting nearer the neck all the time. Heads are quite flat all around, the hair well drawn over the ears in tresses merely suggestive of the wave, for the marcel has passed out long ago in Paris. Plumes, too, are less worn on the head than formerly. Now it is the small cabochon of pearls or colored stones or round knot of mousseline, the best coiffeurs declaring that the hair should be its own garnish.

Peer's Lucky Election.

Lord Ashtown, the third of his line, has entered upon his forty-fourth year. His lordship is a Representative Peer of Ireland, and concerning his election an amusing story has been told.

He obtained an equal number of votes with Lord Farnham, and the decision in his favor was made by a drawing of lots by the Clerk of Parliaments. The mode of procedure is as follows: Two slips of paper of a like size and shape are put into a glass on the table of the House of Lords, while the House is sitting. One piece of paper has to be drawn out, and the name upon it is held to be that of the peer elected. This was done, and Lord Ashown had luck, and was chosen as a Representative Peer of Ireland. But Lord Farnham's election followed not long afterwards.

Lord Ashtown resides at Woodlawn, in County Galway, and it will be remembered that a few years ago Woodlawn was the scene of an alleged Fenian outrage.

WHY THE LOCAL MERCHANTS SHOULD BE PATRONIZED

Some people send a considerable amount of money out of the city, and the local merchant to whom should be given every support, suffers accordingly. There are many reasons why the custom should be given to the man who has spent his money and time in building up his business, and who also is one of the potent forces in the growth and upkeep of the city or town in which he does business. It is as much to his interests to keep down the prices and give the best values as it is for the customer to receive them, and he acts on this principle.

Here are a few reasons why the local customer should trade-at-home.

Because: You examine your purchase and are assured of satsfaction before investing your money.

Because your home merchant is always ready and willing to make right any error or any defective article purchased of him.

Because: When you are sick or for any reason it is necessary to ask credit, you can go to the local merchant. Could you ask it of a mail order house?

Because: If a merchant is willing to extend you credit you should give him the benefit of your cash trade.

Because: Your home merchant pays local taxes and exerts every effort to build up and better your market, thus increasing the value of city and country property.

Because: the mail order merchant does not lighten your taxes or in any way help the value of your property.

Because: The mail order merchant does nothing for the benefit of market or real estate values.

Because: "If your town or community is good enough to live in it is good enough to spend your money in."—Gov. Folk of Missouri.

Because: The best citizens of your community patronize home industry. Why not be one of the best citizens?

Because: If you will give your home merchants an opportunity to compete, by bringing your order to him in quantities you buy out of town he will demonstrate that, quality considered, he will save you money.

A WHISTLER PICTURE.

The Story of Henry Irving's Portrait as Philip II.

The queer ups and downs of a picture are illustrated by the history of the portrait by Whistler of Henry Irving as Philip II. of Spain, now hanging in the Metropolitan museum, in New York. Whistler at a precarious period of his career asked his friend Irving to sit to him for a portrait in the character in which Irving was then playing, Philip II. The portrait was painted, and Irving, much pleased, requested Whistler to let him buy it and to name a price not too high for his slender purse. Having had the pleasure of Whistler's acquaintance, the writer can imagine the following conversation:

"Not too high, Jimmy! You know—aha—that actors—now, modestly, Jimmy!"

"My dear Irving, 'tis a masterpiece, but you shall have it for a song—let us say a thousand pounds."

"Too much, Jimmy—too much!"

Whistler kept the portrait. Soon after, in one of those unpleasant experiences which he shared with his great master, Rembrandt, he was sold out for debt. Rembrandt was sold out only twice. The "Butterfly" underwent three such forced sales.

Irving heard of the sale. Unknown to Whistler, he was able to buy his portrait at the auction for a song, and then in a spirit of friendly retaliation he invited the "Butterfly" to dinner. After the coffee and cigars he remarked, "Aha, my dear Jimmy, you must see my latest acquisition!" and invited him in to see his pictures, not mentioning the fact that he had bought the portrait. Whistler went from one picture to another, criticising, admiring, with that subtle, biting wit of his, and, coming in front of the portrait, he gayly remarked: "Aha! What have we here? My congratulations, Henry—the best picture in your collection!" He never turned a hair. This picture after Irving's death brought $25,000 at auction in London, and we are lucky to have it here now. This was a legitimate advance in price, and the picture is worth it. The few pounds that Irving paid was one of those fortuitous hazards of the auction room.—Saturday Evening Post.

RED TAPE IN PRAGUE.

While the Officials Wrangled the Matter Settled Itself.

A delightful story of circumlocution comes from Prague. One of the least imposing of the bridges in the city, the Liebner Brucke, connects two suburbs. Some time ago the toll collector discovered that some rabbits had invaded the district and concluded that their burrowings might threaten the stability of the bridge, so he called the burgomaster's attention to the matter. The burgomaster decided that it did not come within his province, but he sent the representation to the committee managing the public slaughter houses. The committee examined the rabbits and found they were wild, so they could do nothing, and as it was a close time the aid of the sportsman could not be impressed. Still, they did not relieve them of their moral responsibility.

The Prague slaughter house committee in turn informed the Stadtratpreesidium, but the matter was not within its jurisdiction. Yet the stability of the bridge was beyond all things necessary, so the dossier was sent to the central authority for buildings. This body went into the matter and concluded that the water authority should deal with the subject. But, no; the water board opined that it was for the conservators of rivers, and this body decided that rabbits could not be brought within the domain of things fluvial and that the burgomaster was the right party to take action. The dossier having completed the circle of possible departmental travels, the burgomaster decided to act. He appointed a committee of investigation. The committee went to the bridge in four carriages, and then they learned that the rabbits had taken their departure for some months.—Munchner Nachrichten.

What the Death Mask Shows.

The value of a plaster cast as a portrait of the dead or living face cannot for a moment be questioned. It must of necessity be absolutely true to nature. It cannot flatter; it cannot caricature. It shows the subject as he was or is, not only as others saw him in the actual flesh, but as he saw himself. And in the case of the death mask particularly it shows the subject often as he permitted no one but himself to see himself. He does not pose; he does not "try to look pleasant." In his mask he is seen, as it were, with his mask off.

An Itemized Bill.

The departing guest, according to a writer in the London Opinion, scrutinized his bill and exclaimed, "Look here, you charge for writing paper and I haven't used a scrap all the time I've been here!" The Proprietor—Ah, pardon, m'sieur. It is for the paper on which your bill is made out.

The Origin of "Booze."

The Turks make a liquor from barley which is called booza and which, although fermented, is not prohibited like wine, because it gives heat and strength to the body of Moslem warriors and goes for hunger. Excess in drinking it brings on gout and dropsy.—Eylia Effendi, "Travels."

An Old Family.

He—Miss Bellacour claims to belong to a very old family. She—Well, she's justified. There are six of those girls, and the youngest of them must be at least thirty-five.—Exchange.

A VICIOUS COLONY

England's Penal Settlement In the Andaman Islands.

LIFE CONVICTS FROM INDIA.

Often the Most Desperate Prisoners Kill One Another, While Others Fall Victims to the Native Head Hunters, to Whom Murder Is Sport.

Frederick Taylor, F. R. G. S., writing in the Century Magazine about life in the Andaman islands, says:

"The sailing of the Maharaja from Calcutta for the Andaman islands was not accompanied by the usual goodbys and handkerchief waving, for of my fellow passengers there were seventy to whom no one wished bon voyage or a safe return. These were convicts, all murderers under life sentences, who for some reason had escaped the death penalty, and included six women, for the Maharaja is the ship used by the colonial Indian government to transport convicts to the penal settlements near Port Blair, South Andaman island, a distance of 630 miles from Calcutta.

"The prisoners were all manacled and shackled about the ankles, with chains fastened to bands at the wrist. They were a despicable lot. At night a continual moaning and cursing and hopeless sobbing came up from the hatches and made sleep out of the question for me, though the European officer in the steamer's cabin apparently slept undisturbed. Early the first morning I went on deck and learned that two of the male prisoners were ill and had been brought up to the deck for air. They were closely guarded, and raw recruits were stationed at the railing to prevent them from committing suicide by jumping overboard into the Hugli river.

"The Andamans are literally the homes of murderers. The inhabitants are the most vicious members of an older civilization and the uncivilized head hunters, among whom murder is a sport and a pastime. In the settlement are about 1,700 prisoners, including 800 women. On arriving at Port Blair the prisoners first spend six months in solitary confinement in the cellular jail of Viper island. They are then transferred to one of the associated jails and the comparative blessing of hard labor in company with others, though still occupying separate cells at night. After a year and a half of this they become slaves, working in and about the settlement during the day and sleeping in barracks at night, always closely guarded. At the expiration of five years a convict becomes eligible to join the colony of 'self supporters' and live in the village, where he earns his living in his chosen way, lives in his own house and can send for his wife and children or marry a convict woman. In a limited sense he becomes a paterfamilias, but is always carefully watched and cannot leave the settlement without permission.

"Despite the rigid discipline and the vigilance of the authorities the communal life is far from harmonious, and the more vicious often rebel. The murderers kill one another and are in turn murdered by the treacherous Andamanese, who regard the hapless convicts and their guards as their natural prey. Occasional attempts at escape are made by the prisoners, but the efforts inevitably prove disastrous. The fugitive, finding his conditional freedom worse than servitude, either dies at the hands of the Jarawa warriors, falls a victim to fever or other disease or starves. There is also a system in vogue by which the more friendly tribes of savages co-operate with the authorities in capturing escaped convicts and receive rewards for the return of the unhappy desert ers. More often, however, the head hunters kill the fugitive and return only the head, receiving the reward just the same, the killing adding zest to the chase and the return of the head being the easiest and quickest way of earning the reward.

"Under these conditions there are few attempts at escape, though many remarkably hazardous dashes for liberty have been made from time to time, which, though futile, were most daring. Some time ago the steamer Fulata picked up a poor, emaciated wretch who was sighted on a small bamboo raft off the Arakan coast. He was later found to be an escaped convict. When picked up he had been on the raft for twenty-nine days during one of the southwest monsoons and had secured water by catching the rain and sucking it from his turban and loin cloth. He lived upon flying fish that flew aboard the raft, eating them raw. He was swept off the raft many times by the waves, but had managed to cling to it. After a month in a hospital at Rangoon he was returned to prison and solitary confinement.

"Another daring attempt at escape was made by a party of six convicts who were sent with two native policemen to a small island off the middle Andaman to work. They managed to escape from the guards and, hoisting the sail of the small boat, started out in a gale. After seven days of heavy weather they were dashed upon the rocks of the Tenasserim coast, and the boat was wrecked. All escaped with their lives and eventually reached the Burmese border, where they were apprehended by the local authorities and returned to the prison."

KING OF THE ASPS.

This Reptile, the Most Venomous of Snakes, Is Death Itself.

The most venomous of snakes is said to be the Echis carinata of India. It is about eighteen inches long and of a gray color. The creature is death itself and carries in its head the secret of destroying life with the concentrated agony of all the poisons.

The Echis carinata is tolerably common in India, being found in nearly every part of the peninsula.

Fortunately, however, for man, it is not, like the cobra, a house frequenting snake, for its aggressive habits would make it infinitely more fatal to life than its dreaded relative.

This king of the asps does not turn to escape from man, as the cobra will, or flash into concealment, like the koriat, but keeps the path against its human assailant and, pitting its own eighteen inches of length against its enemy's bulk, challenges and provokes conflict.

A stroke with a whip will cut it in two or a clod of earth disable it. But such is its malignity that it will invite attack by every device at its command, staking its own life on the mere chance of its adversary coming within the little circle of its power. At most the radius of this circle is twelve inches. Within it at any point lies certain death, and on the bare hope of hand or foot trespassing within its reach the Echis carinata throws its body into a figure of eight coil. Then it attracts attention by rubbing its loops together, which, from the roughness of the scales, make a rustling, hissing sound, erects its head in the center and awaits attack.

It is said that no one, having once encountered this terrible reptile, can ever forget its horrifying aspect when thus aroused, its eagerly aggressive air, its restless coils, which, in constant motion one over the other and rustling ominously all the while, stealthily but surely bring it nearer and nearer to the object of its fury.—Harper's.

TWO NEW HATS.

The Scheme That Won Them and the Way It Was Worked.

A man who used to be in politics and was a constant borrower found himself in need of a new hat, but he couldn't find anybody who would lend him a cent.

Finally he went to an acquaintance and said:

"I want to borrow $50 for five minutes."

"You can have it if you will put up a couple of fingers for security."

"Nix. Now, I've got a scheme. You lend me the fifty and you needn't let me get out of your sight. If you do it I'll stake you to a new hat."

Mystified, but curious, the acquaintance agreed to this, and the two repaired to a prominent hat store.

"Wait a minute," said the adventurer and left his backer doing sentry duty on the sidewalk.

Picking out the most important looking personage in the store, the politician went up to him and said:

"I am So-and-so of the —— district. I have come to pay for two hats for which I have given orders on you to two of my constituents."

With that he flashed a fifty dollat bill.

There was a scurrying around, a search of books and a reply that no such orders had been presented.

"Just look out for them, will you?" said the district leader, waving the big bill, which was hypnotic in its way, for the clerk bowed low and said, "Yes."

The History of "Stepmother."

"Stepmother" is a word with a commonly unsuspected history. Probably most people if called upon to explain it would say that it meant a woman who had stepped into the place of the true mother. Dr. Johnson, at any rate, believed that this was the suggestion of the word to most minds. Really, "step" is the Anglo-Saxon "steop," the original meaning of which appears to have been "orphaned." Stepchild, stepbairn, stepson and stepdaughter came first, and then by gradual fading of the etymological meaning of "step" stepfather and stepmother came into being.—London Chronicle.

Japanese Landowners.

A landowner in Japan owns the surface and products of the land only. All minerals under the surface appertain not to him, but to the Japanese government. Moreover, should the government or its nominee wish to extract the minerals lying under a landowner's property the latter, though he would, of course, receive compensation for loss, cannot object on legal ground to the development of these minerals.—British Consular Report.

His Motion.

"De meetin' had to disband very sudden."

"Did you make the motion to adjourn?"

"I did."

"How did you do it?"

YOU CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF VALUES

If you carefully read the store advertisements and follow them in your buying.

Merchants advertise certain lines because they know these lines will advertise their stores. Because there is something about certain goods, they are put in conspicuous places and the people are told about them. It may be the exclusiveness or newness of design, it may be an unusual quality, it may be an attractive price.

But there is at least one definite, sure reason why a merchant advertises an article and is willing to stake the reputation of his store upon it.

Therefore, when you see an article advertised in THE REVIEW, depend upon it, that article is good value, as good value as can be obtained in that particular store.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings, If you own a good watch, better be on the safe side — Bring it to our Repair Department where it will receive Skilled Attention.

NEWS FROM OMEMEE

Special Correspondence.

Omemee, April 3.—The social on Thursday evening in the basement of the Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Bible class was well attended. The decorations were attractive and appropriate, the evening with England, Ireland and Scotland instructive and entertaining, while the refreshments were delectable. The affair was a pronounced success, both socially and financially.

A large attendance attended the lecture in Coronation Hall on Wednesday evening. Rev. Mr. Forsyth, Field Secretary of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, illustrated his lecture with the aid of a large number of lantern views. His talk was intensely interesting and instructive. He lucidly explained the disease consumption, told how to avoid it and how to treat it, all aiming at the reduction of its victims. About three-fourths of the persons afflicted with the great white plague can be cured if taken in time. Reeve Mulligan occupied the chair.

A meeting of the Public Library Board was held on Tuesday evening to arrange for a concert on the evening of Victoria Day.

The W.F.M.S. of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. O. G. Williamson on Wednesday afternoon, and an interesting meeting was held.

Preparations have been in order for some time among the trappers who begin their work the first of the week. John Buckshot and his son were in town on Saturday and have pitched their tent along the river.

The Seymour Power line is under construction north-east of Omemee. It will not come through the town, but along the concession line north and proceed by the shortest route to Lindsay. Some of the construction men are registered at the Commercial House.

Mr. Moher, of Downeyville, has moved into the residence lately occupied by Mr. Dickens and owned by Mr. Wm. Neill.

Mr. Bert Skuce, one of our popular local boys, has been promoted from teller of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto to a position in the branch at Port Hope. His many friends extend congratulations. Mr. Fitzgerald, of Millbrook, has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

A number of people from the town and vicinity attended the auction sale of Messrs. C. H. Lough and D. Curtis on Wednesday afternoon. They report a very large patronage, and a sale of stock and farm implements at fancy prices. Messrs. Lough and Curtis are bound for the West.

The Easter holidays, with their reduced railway rates are prompting many to visit friends at a distance. The schools close on Thursday and re-open on Monday, 15th inst.

In the rural districts the snow is deep on the roads, which are not very satisfactory for travel.

Some of the owners of maple bushes have tapped, and report a slight run on warm days where the bush faces the south. A general prediction is that there will be a good sharp flow of sap for a short time. The great depth of snow in the woods is a hindrance to the work of syrup and sugar making. This year the snow has not melted since winter began, an unusual occurrence.

Mrs. Wm. Smith returned on Thursday to her home at Mount Pleasant, after a visit with Mrs. D. Blaycock, who is fast convalescing.

MILLBROOK BOY SCOUT GETS AWARD

He Saved His Companion From Drowning in River.

Ottawa, April 3—Among the Boy Scouts, who are to receive awards for gallantry displayed by them, in life saving, is Alvin Gray, of Millbrook, who saved the life of Alvin Boyle, a fellow scout, from a deep hole in the river at Millbrook.

The awards have been forwarded by the Dominion secretary of the Canadian Boy Scouts, to the provincial headquarters in Toronto for transmission to the respective recipients.

SMITH COUNCIL

The members of the Municipal Council of the township of Smith met in the county council chamber, Peterboro, on Monday April 1st. All the members were present with Reeve J. H. Garbutt in the chair. Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

A communication was received from Mr. J. K. Moore, asking that the council pass a by-law prohibiting the posting up of indecent placards throughout the township. The matter was referred to the township solicitor for investigation.

The members of the Monaghan council interviewed the local council, in regards to the Boundary Road. An agreement was reached whereby Monaghan agreed to spend in the neighborhood of two hundred dollars during the latter part of the coming season and after that the road was to be kept up jointly by the two townships.

Moved by Mr. McKee, seconded by Mr. McConkey, that the treasurer be instructed to pay the following accounts.

F. McIlmoyl, drawing cemt tile 1.50
T. Armstrong, shovelling snow 16.50
J. Harrison, shovelling snow ... 5.50

W. A. B. WRITES.

To the Editor of the Review.

"Medical Testimony in Court."

Sir,—Enclosed from London paper are to the point, and it may be that the doctor in the fake case was misled. Under the heading "Mental Deficients" the World stated, "all that Commissioner Starr could do was to evade the law and send the boy to the personal custody of Governor Chambers, who will provide for him in the jail hospital." On Wednesday the Star's report of the convention in Toronto, says: "Commissioner Starr explained that the present agitation in regard to feeble-minded children had resulted from the committal of a feeble-minded child to the jail by himself for the express purpose of raising such an agitation." A strange reason, even if medical testimony were all that is desired.

Yours truly,
W. A. BAILEY,

BRUTAL MURDER COMES TO LIGHT

With Head Battered in and Rope Around His Neck Body of Man is Found in Yard of Hydro-Electric Commission.

Injured Man in Hospital Makes Unsatisfactory Statements to Police.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 6—A man named J. Rosenthal, who was, until a fortnight ago, interpreter at the General Hospital, was found brutally murdered in a pole yard of the Hydro-Electric Commission, on Strachan Avenue, this morning. The back of his head was battered in and round his neck was a rope by which the body had apparently been dragged through the mud for some distance. The police believe that Rosenthal, who was a well dressed man, was decoyed to the rear of the cattle market by toughs who pretended to have a box of scrap iron to sell, and, while rolling a cigarette at this point, he was slugged. On finding their victim dead, the men made haste to drag the body to a more secluded spot. Rosenthal is said to be the father of Harry Rosenthal, former manager for Tom Longboat.

Eli Dunkelman, who was seen coming from the vicinity of the murder this morning, badly beaten and covered with mud, is in the hospital. His statement that he had a bad fall is not satisfying to the police. They believe he knows something about the murder but is afraid to tell.

PROBABILITIES

Southwesterly winds, warm, showers to-night. Sunday, unsettled and becoming cooler with northwest winds.

MAY CASHIER IMMORAL OFFICERS

New York, April 6.—A special cable to The New York Herald, from London says:

It is reported that the King is about to issue an order that all army and navy officers who are proved culpable as co-respondents in divorce actions shall be cashiered.

Credence is given to the report because of the attitude of the King and Queen toward divorced men and women, who, as a rule are barred from all court functions.

Judgeship For Haughton Lennox?

Barrie, April 6.—It is reported here that Haughton Lennox, M.P. for South Simcoe, will be one of the new Ontario judges. Already several Conservatives are looking for the party nomination.

The Bear No Longer Sulks.

London, April 6.—Russia has definitely agreed to participate in the "six power" loan to China to the extent of $50,000,000, says The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent.

YOUNG PRINCE ON A VISIT TO "GAY PAREE."

THE PRINCE OF WALES AS A "MIDDY"

During the stay of the Prince of Wales in Paris he will be the guest of the Marquis and the Marquise de Breteuil.

The two sons of the host and hostess, François and Jacques, twenty and eighteen years old, will be the companions of the Prince while he is in Paris. One of the main objects of the visit of the Prince is that he may perfect his French. For that reason he will engage in conversation with the host and hostess and their sons exclusively in the French tongue.

SIX HUNDRED MILES OF COUNTRY ARE THREATENED

MARRIED HIMSELF

Terre Haute, Ind., April 6—The Rev. John Peters, performed a marriage ceremony for himself and Miss Maude Bowman at Annapolis, Ill. The minister who was to have officiated was flood-bound and could not reach Annapolis.

From Columbus, Ky., to Vicksburg, Miss., Is In the Danger Zone and Devastation May Occur at Any Moment—Don River In Toronto Is Also Unruly and Severe Damage to Property Results.

Cairo, Ill., April 6.—The Mississippi is still rising here and the Ohio is rising up as far as Louisville, and small streams are pouring unprecedented volumes of water into both rivers. The lowest river district faces a crisis.

Six hundred and thirty-eight miles of the Mississippi are seriously affected, that being the distance between Columbus, Ky., and Vicksburg, Miss. The greatest strain, where the levee is liable to break any time extends from Columbus, Ky., to Helena, Ark., a distance of 318 miles.

The flood death list probably was brought to eighteen yesterday. This is not positive, however, as reports of loss of life have proved inaccurate in some instances and doubtless persons have been drowned in remote settlements and the facts not made known.

The property loss last night was conservatively estimated at $1,500,000. Relief work is going on as rapidly as interrupted transportation facilities will allow. At Hickman, Ky., 3,000 are sheltered in tents, provided by the federal and state governments. Food is being supplied in all localities where the local supply has been exhausted. There has been little suffering from hunger.

Many Towns Threatened.

St. Louis, April 6.—The Mississippi River at St. Louis registered 30.8 feet at sundown, a rise of .2 since morning and four-tenths in 24 hours. Unless there are heavy rains in this vicinity within a week, the river is not expected to pass the 31-foot stage.

The flood situation at Caruthersville, Mo., is very serious, the river rising at the rate of five inches in twenty-four hours, and the stage has passed that of 1903 by 25 inches.

Every store in the city was closed yesterday and 2,000 men employed in them joined the already large force of flood fighters.

No water is in the streets of Caruthersville, but the flood from the Point Pleasant gap is fast filling up the little river basin, several miles back of the city.

The levee in Caruthersville is the key to the flood situation of the entire St. Francis Valley. Should a break occur here, the entire basin, filled with thickly settled towns, will be swept by water.

Don River Flooding.

Toronto, April 6.—When the great accumulation of ice on the River Don broke loose yesterday afternoon, 200 yards of C. N.R. track at East Don Station were washed out, three trains were held up, and the damage to the company was estimated at $20,000. Two children were saved from death by the plucky action of a lumberjack just opposite the Rosedale sawmills. Two families were flooded out and the homes were damaged slightly by the heavy chunks of ice. Several dams were torn away by the rushing torrents of ice and water which had risen to a height of ten feet and several small bridges on private property were picked up and thrown clear of the banks. What saved the ice and water from probably destroying property in the city was a jam at the confluence of the east and west branches of the river about six miles of its mouth. Here the ice towered to a height of 20 feet and ice was scattered over fully fifty acres.

"It is getting worse," was the reply made to an inquiry at Rosedale Station early this morning. "If it rains the devastation will be awful."

Dougall Montgomery, a lumberjack at Rosedale saw mills, saved two George street boys from drowning. They were playing on the ice when the flood picked them up. Several yards from shore one of the boys jumped from an ice floe into the water and was rescued by Montgomery. The other lad was afraid to jump. The raging water washed his raft down the river about 200 yards when it struck the shore and the boy jumped to land.

At two o'clock this morning the ice in the Humber River commenced to break and it is feared that considerable damage will be done to-day unless the ice goes out into the lake. Owners of the boathouses at the mouth of the river are afraid that their property will be flooded.

Floods In West Ontario.

London, Ont., April 6.—Many points in this district report serious flood conditions as a result of the warm winds yesterday breaking up the ice. At St. Mary's the Thames has smashed a dam and covered part of Water and Queen streets. Cellars are flooded, and the Baird Co. has lost considerable lumber.

At Cold Stream, near Strathroy, Marsh's dam was carried away. Alexandra Park and other lowlands at Strathroy are flooded. A large area of low ground around Prairie Siding is under water.

Fight Warm In Michigan.

Detroit, April 6.—Two delegations of 192 members, one for President Taft and the other for Roosevelt, will represent Wayne County at the State Republican convention at Bay City April 11. At the county convention yesterday the Taft supporters elected in regular convention a solid delegation. The Roosevelt followers, after a heated contest, called a separate convention and took similar action.

OF INTEREST TO INSURANCE HOLDERS

Montreal, April 6.—A point of interest to very holder of a life insurance policy in a fraternal organization is raised in a suit entered by J. H. Hodges et al, against the Commercial Travelers' Mutual Benefit Society, the action being for the recovery of the amount of a policy taken out in the defendant society by the late John H. Hodges.

The society claims that at the time of the death of the latter a fixed premium was three days' overdue and consequently the deceased lost all rights in the society.

The plaintiff claims on the other hand that the assured, his father, had not received notice that such premium was due, and further that for several years prior to his death the society had accepted without protest and unconditionally amounts over due by him.

"CRAZY SNAKE" HAS PASSED AWAY

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 6.—"Crazy Snake," the Indian responsible for the last uprising in Oklahoma, died yesterday, according to a report received from Vinita. The old chief's end came near Old Hickory, the stamping ground of the Creeks in 1908.

The Indian had always contended that his tribe was robbed of its land by the whites.

Sugar Millionaire Dead.

New York, April 6.—William Dick, who started as a small grocer here many years ago, and later became a factor in the American Sugar Refining Co., died yesterday in his ninetieth year. His granddaughter, Doris Dick, is the wife of Henry O. Havemeyer, Jr. He leaves a fortune running into many millions.

Former Mexican Minister Robbed.

Paris, April 6.—The residence of Senor Sebastian Mier, former Mexican Minister to France, was robbed yesterday. The thieves secured jewels valued at $50,000.

Trying to Release Fuchs.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 6.—An effort is being made by friends of William R. Fuchs, Toronto, held on the American side to answer to the grand jury for alleged issuing of worthless checks for $32, and passing it on Walter J. Corby, Niagara Hotel, to obtain his release by settling the account.

John Wicks, Toronto, promised Corby to make good the amount if he would refuse to prosecute Fuchs. Wicks was referred to District Attorney Ackerson of the grand jury, whom he will interview in Lockport to-day.

Imported Potatoes Cheaper.

Montreal, April 6.—Potatoes from England, Ireland and Scotland are now being served on Montreal tables. Three thousand bags have recently been received, and are being sold at $2 a bag.

The potatoes, imported from across the Atlantic, cost from $1.35 to $1.40 a bag, against $1.75 for the Canadian article.

A few baskets of new potatoes have been received from Florida, but they are a luxury, and cost about $3 a bushel.

He Will Survive.

Hamilton, April 6.—The condition of George Skillicorn, the young Englishman who swallowed poison Thursday, and who was removed to the City Hospital, was greatly improved last night, and it was stated at the hospital that he would probably recover.

Eight Killed by Avalanche.

Innsbruick, Austria, April 6.—A party of eight professors and students from Laibach University, while making a tour in the mountains near here were overwhelmed by an avalanche on the Hochstuhl and all were killed.

EXPECT IT TO BE SATISFACTORY

Ottawa, April 6.—Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden and Mrs. Borden left yesterday afternoon for a two weeks' holiday trip to Hot Springs, Virginia. Hon. George E. Foster will be acting Premier in the meantime. Most of the Ministers are out of the city over Easter, and there will be no council meeting until Tuesday.

On Monday the negotiations with the West Indies delegates will be resumed, and the conference will close on Tuesday, when an official announcement will be made.

It is the general impression at Ottawa the conference will be successful. "We are not without hope," in a cheerful tone, was the reply of Hon. George E. Foster to a question as to how negotiations were succeeding.

POLITICS A CURSE TO PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS SAYS DOCTOR

Dr. C. K. Clark, Former Superintendent of Toronto Asylum, Says All Such Places Should Be Emancipated From Political Influence If They Are To Be Efficient—Favors an Independent Commission.

Toronto, April 6.—Some straight-from-the-elbow remarks about the administration of provincial institutions, coupled with words of commendation for Hon. W. J. Hanna, were made by Dr. C. K. Clarke, superintendent of the General Hospital, at yesterday's meeting of the Canadian Hospital Association at the Parliament Buildings.

"Asylums must be emancipated from politics," he declared, in the course of a short address, reminiscent of some of his experience with regard to the management of institutions for the insane.

"I recognize political influence as the curse of the whole service," he continued. "I'm not afraid to say it, but I suppose you are."

Dr. Clarke said that the public don't understand institutions for the insane or the insane people themselves.

"We can't deny the fact," said he, "that the public regard them with horror. But I left the work reluctantly, because my whole heart was in it. However, I saw I couldn't institute the reform I had in view.

"Larger staffs are needed," he declared, "and the physicians in charge should be freed from clerical work." Dr. Clarke also referred to the salaries paid to attendants, etc.

"For $20 a month," said he, "the right kind of men can't be got. They are transients. The salaries are not at all commensurate with the service given. Now that I am out of the work, I can't see why I was such an idiot to stay there so long."

In contrasting the state of affairs that existed prior to the regime of the present Provincial Secretary. Dr. Clarke paid a tribute to Hon. Mr. Hanna.

"I am fully convinced," said he "that Mr. Hanna sees further than his nose, and that he has in view the placing of all these institutions on a high plane."

A broad-minded commission, unhampered by political influence was what Dr. Clarke recommended for the administration of provincial institutions.

"Superintendents should be appointed by reason of merit," he said, "rather that because they have been faithful to a political party."

Dr. Clarke, in conclusion, urged the establishment of psychiatric clinics in university centres.

"The Government would find it money well spent," he said.

One of these clinics has already been established in Boston and another in Baltimore. He hoped the next one would be in Toronto and in connection both with the hospital and the university.

"We must have proper equipment and proper men to carry out the work," he continued. "We must not be hampered in institutions as we are. The time has come when we must have psychiatric clinics. It is a public right."

He thought the establishment of one or two of these clinics in connection with the new general hospital should be effected without delay.

Dr. E. H. Young of the Rockwood Hospital for the Insane, Kingston, said that the work of these institutions was not made public sufficiently. He startled the audience by telling that in the Rockwood Asylum four nurses and two orderlies attend to forty crazy men and there hasn't been an accident. Dr. Young maintained that the public didn't know what good work was being done in these institutions.

"Why, oftentimes," said he, "a man with insipient insanity is sent around the world to look at cathedrals, and if you would treat a case of insipient typhoid that way, you'd be laughed at, or charged with malpractice. The patient should be put on his back in bed." (Laughter.)

Tried to Murder Manchurian Viceroy.

Tientsin, April 6.—An attempt was made at noon yesterday to assasinate Gentral Chao Erh-Hsuan, the viceroy of Manchuria, in Mukden, according to a message from there.

Two shots were fired at the viceroy as he was entering his yamen. No arrests were made.

The authorities believe that a conspiracy was instigated by Manchus because of General Chao's activity in behalf of the association for the preservation of peace, a Republican organization.

SYRACUSE PIANO FACTORY BURNED

Syracuse, N.Y., April 6.—The plant of the J. E. Davis Piano Co. at Cortlandt was destroyed yesterday morning with a loss of $250,000. The plant consisted of two brick buildings, which were erected eight years ago. Considerable dry lumber was stored in one of the buildings, but the origin of the blaze is unknown. The firemen could do little with the fire, and both buildings were rapidly consuemd. About 150 men are thrown out of work.

MIGHT HURT STEEL TRUST

Washington, April 6.—An adverse report on the House steel revision bill, signed by all the Republican members of the finance committee except Senator LaFollette, was submitted to the Senate yesterday. The bill is denounced as ill-advised and unfortunate.

It is declared the enactment of the bill would reduce protection below the margin of safety and tend to destroy one of the most important industries of this country. The committee contends that hearings of 245 different industrial concerns of eighteen states showed a widespread opposition to the revision of the present rates, and that representatives of 225 manufacturers of machine tools testified that putting machine tools on the free list would compel the closing of their factories.

Among numerous other reasons given by the committee for its opposition to the Democratic bill is cited the absence of a report from the tariff board on metals.

CANADIAN LINE PLANS TO ENTER AMERICAN METROPOLIS

Sir William Mackenzie and Party Visit Buffalo In Quest of an Outlet Into New York State — Conference Is Held With Thomas C. Mitten of the Morgan Interests—Result of Meeting Is Kept Dark.

Buffalo, April 6.—An outlet through Buffalo to New York either via the Lackawanna or the Erie with a bridge over the Niagara River at Niagara Falls in conjunction with the International Railway Co., is the plan of Sir William Mackenzie of Toronto, head of the Canadian Northern, who was in Buffalo yesterday with a party of capitalists and officials interested in the steam and electric system in which the Canadian Northern is the principal factor.

"The Canadian Northern is seeking an outlet into New York State, and the east. What is more, we will get it, too. Just when or through what channels I cannot now say," said Sir William, when questioned as to his railway's proposition.

With Sir William were D. B. Hanna, third vice-president of the Canadian Northern; E. F. Seixus, the general manager; and J. M. Aird, assistant manager of the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway Co., which is closely identified with the Canadian Northern; E. R. Wood, Noel Marshall and A. W. Smith.

Shortly after the arrival they went into conference with Thomas G. Mitten, chairman of the board of directors, and Thomas Penny, president of the International Railway Co. With them also is Nelson Robinson, the widely known New York financier, who represents the Morgan interests in the financing of the proposed extension. While Sir William declined to discuss the plans, it can be stated that they include the extension of the Canadian Northern, which now stops at Toronto, to Hamilton.

From there construction will be made by the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto until such time as the latter line may be converted into a steam railroad. Such a construction will bring the Canadian Northern to Niagara Falls, Ont., and form the first link in the line to New York.

At the Falls the situation is that the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto owns the necessary land for a bridge approach on the Canadian side. On the American side the International controls a similar site. The proposition is to construct a bridge, and one of the questions under discussion yesterday was whether the bridge shall be a joint affair or erected by one road and traction rights leased to the other. The question of furnishing power also is understood to be under discussion.

From the American side of the Falls to Buffalo the projected frontier western terminal line is understood to figure in the Canadian Northern's plan of getting into Buffalo. Eastward from this city the Lehigh, the Erie and the Lackawanna have been under consideration as a possible eastern outlet to New York. The Lehigh, with its business affiliations with the Grand Trunk, a rival to the Canadian Northern, has, it is understood, been practically eliminated from consideration and either the Erie or the Lackawanna is looked to as the most likely to New York connection.

Asked yesterday in regard to the long proposed line from Port Colborne through Crystal Beach and Erie Beach to Fort Erie, Sir William referred enquiries to Vice-President Hanna who said:

"We have the line from Port Colborne to Fort Erie under very serious consideration. The right of way has been secured, and we hope to begin actual work of construction this spring, probably at the Fort Erie end. We are now in communication with Manager Weber of Erie Beach over some details of the project."

New Electric Road.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 6.—Following the conference in Buffalo, Sir William Mackenzie, and Thomas Penny, president of the International Railway, which operates many electric lines on the frontier and is said to be controlled by the Mackenzie-Mann interests, yesterday afternoon inspected the site of the proposed new bridge over the Niagara River. It is understood that the Buffalo conference was for the purpose of discussing the new bridge, together with the entrance to New York for the Canadian Northern. It has been decided to make provision in the new bridge for steam and electric railways, carriages and pedestrians.

Nelson Robinson, representing Morgan interests, participated in the conference, it is believed, with the result that New York banking firm will finance a new electric road from here to Buffalo to connect with the Niagara, St. Catharines, Toronto Railway. The projected frontier western terminal line is understood to figure in the Canadian Northern's plan of getting into Buffalo. The Erie and Lackawanna lines have been under consideration as possible eastern outlets to New York.

Another conference will be held shortly, after which the entire details will be made public, the officials intimated.

BURGLARY AT DUNDAS

Dundas, April 6.—A daring attempt to burglarize Grafton & Co.'s store and head office was made about 1.40 yesterday morning by three men, who were interrupted by Night Officer J. F. Lumsden.

The officer hearing a noise, went to the rear of the big building to investigate. One of the men gave the alarm. Lumsden chased one man for five blocks and fired three shots, wounding the man slightly, but he made his escape towards the city.

Iron bars to assist in the work were stolen by the gang from R. J. Johnston's shop.

NAVIGATION IN ST. LAWRENCE

Quebec, April 6.—At a meeting of the council of the Quebec Board of Trade it was decided to memorialize the Government afresh in regard to winter navigation of the Lower St. Lawrence. The memorial will set forth the new records made by the Government steamship Montcalm and the steamer Mahone during the season just passed. The memorial will set forth the possibilities of winter navigation, especially when carried on by larger and more powerful boats.

Another memorial is to be submitted to the Government in regard to the deepening of the St. Lawrence be-

ABOLISHING TREATING

The policy of the government on the liquor question was enunciated by Sir James Whitney in the legislature in reply to Mr. Rowell's resolution for the abolition of the bar. In brief, the government proposes to enact legislation that will make illegal all treating in a bar, and to enforce that law will provide departmental regulations to ensure the cutting off of the license of any hotelman caught violating it. The treating system is undoubtedly at the root of a large part of the drink evil, but the Whitney compromise can scarcely be said to be very satisfactory. In the working out, it will not reduce drinking materially, except possibly in the case of groups of three or four or half a dozen men.

The working of such a law is likely to be somewhat like this: Two or three men meet. An invitation to have a drink follows, and they line up before the bar. Each gets what he orders, but the law steps in to say that one must not pay for the others. Therefore, with mutual consent, each pays for his own drink, or drinks, instead of each "standing treat," and thus equally dividing the expense. The solitary drinker is not molested. The prohibition of treating will not prevent two or three friends, or half a dozen from passing an evening in the bar together, or sitting down for a jamboree. All that is imposed is that each man must bear his own expenses. In the majority of cases, the expense end will work out very much the same as if there were no anti-treating law. What the actual deterrent effect will be cannot be estimated at present, but certainly the Whitney compromise is by no means satisfactory.

Politically, one fortunate thing in the situation is that Mr. Rowell delayed coming out for the abolition of the bar until the provincal elections were over. In the face of his own personal opinions, his own determination to initiate this policy of abolish the bar, he went through his campaign with his hands over his mouth. The present legislature has under ordinary circumstances, four years of life. The Whitney measure will probably be enacted next session. It will go into operation for a long enough period before the next provincial election that its results can be fairly estimated. If it does not offer the solution that the people of Ontario at large, want, there will be time for Sir James Whitney to come out with a measure of a much more sweeping nature. Temperance sentiment in Ontario has gained great ground. Of 811 municipalities 444 are already dry, and in 118 local option has been defeated by the three-fifths clause, making 562 municipalities that have by a majority vote declared for total abolition. This is a very satisfactory condition, indeed. If the doing away with the treating system lessens to a very large degree the evils of the drink traffic, it is quite probable that the moderate people will vote for a continuance of the restricted license system. This would avoid the question of compensation that would arise immediately were complete abolition enforced.

The government step is not at all radical, but if it proves, as seems likely, to be an inefficient measure, there will be time for an advance of much wider scope.

THE MORINE CHARGES

The charges made on the floor of Parliament by Mr. Carvell against Hon. A. B. Morine, chairman of the Public Inquiries Commission, were very serious. The government recognized their gravity, Premier Borden saying that they would immediately be looked into, and prompt action would be taken on the findings. The promise of immediate investigation by the government, to which many of the facts alleged by Mr. Carvell were quite new, was in striking contrast to the Laurier action in blocking the inquiry into the $60,000 bank account which Hon. Frank Oliver, a cabinet minister, was charged with having paid out for political purposes. When the Laurier administration was forced to go to the country on the reciprocity question, it managed to shut off the demand for the inquiry, shielding the Edmonton minister, apparently against his will.

The Morine business may or may not be as was alleged by the New Brunswick Laurierite. Certainly, the statements would not lose in the telling by a bitter foe of the Borden government, and a man who seemingly was anxious to find some method of upsetting the inquiries the commission had on foot. The statement that was given out by Hon. Mr. Morine cleared up much of the ground covered by the Carvell charges. It was quite evident that Mr. Morine had been through some very stormy times in the Newfoundland political arena. His admission that while acting as legal adviser for the Reid family he sat in the cabinet, and assisted in handing to the Reids a thirteen million dollar contract, is not conducive to the fullest of confidence in his high moral standing. It may be that the exceptional character of the situation quite justified Mr. Morine. Canadian politics very often reach a low level; but the rule obtaining here that cabinet ministers must be free from outside relationships of such a nature is seldom broken.

It is to be hoped that the investigation will be quite thorough. Mr. Borden is a man of such high standing; his government has been actuated by motives of such patriotism; its actions have been so commendable in practically every detail that we may be assured its high standard of conduct will be observed in this case. Mr. Morine should have every facility for furnishing proofs that he is free from blemish. If it should be proved that he was guilty of misconducts even twenty years ago, and as far away as Newfoundland, the Borden government should have no hesitation in taking the required steps. The opinion of the people is back of it in every effort to keep its administration entirely free from the crooked and devious ways of Laurierism.

Lionizing Sir Rodolphe.

London, April 6.—Sir Rodolphe Forget, after a very brief sojourn here, has proceeded to Paris. He will return shortly and will be tendered a dinner, presided over by Bonar Law, leader of the Unionists in the British House of Commons. River Under Bison City.

Buffalo, April 6.—An underground river has been discovered under Main street, at one of the busiest corners of the city. Drillers, while locating the foundations for a new bank building lost their drills soon after striking the 65-foot level. Tests showed that they had struck a stream of running water. The water backed up in the hole for a distance of 25 feet, or about the level of Lake Erie, and the belief is expressed that the stream has its outlet in the lake.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New Health Giving Blood

In the spring the system needs a tonic. To be healthy you must have new blood just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid. You may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disfiguring pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What you need in spring is a tonic medicine to put you right, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring. This new blood drives out the seeds of disease and makes easily tired men, women and children, bright, active and strong. Mrs. Murray Marshall, Zephyr, Ont., says —"I do not believe I would ever have been well and strong again but for Dr. William's Pink Pills. I was so weak and nervous that I could not be left in the house alone. I would take weak spells with my heart and think I was going to die. I tried doctors and electric belts, but they did me no good. Then a friend urged me to try Dr. William's Pink Pills. To my surprise, I soon noticed my appetite improving, and from that on I improved rapidly until I was enjoying the best of health and I have not been troubled with weakness or nervousness since."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Bavarian postal service utilizes 144 motor vehicles, operated on 57 lines.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

When the daylight blue had faded there was a kind of dusky lull; then, as if flames leaped up out of the clear water, river and mountains and sky ran gold, reddening slowly till the color burned deep and vivid at the heart of a rose. From crimson was born violet, soft blue violet that hung like a robe over the mountains, while the living azure of the river was slashed with silver, and as one gazed and gazed, afraid to turn away, there broke a sudden flood of amethyst light out of the floating haze. It was dazzling for a moment, but before one realized the change the brilliance had been drunk up by purple shadows. The outline of trees and foothills melted into the pansy gloom, and, at last, with one dying quiver of light, all warmth of color was blotted out. Water and sky paled to a pensive gray-blue, and, as the French say, "it made night."

There was a tremendous menu for dinner, such as we used to have for breakfast on shipboard, and droves of things whose names I'd never heard before. Just for curiosity I ordered several of the strangest, and some of them were a great success. For instance, there was "succotash," which sounds as if it might be a guttural insult flung at the mouth of one red Indian brave by another, but when it was (figuratively speaking) flung at mine by a black waiter it turned out to be something more in the nature of a compliment. It looked like beryls mixed with pearls, though it was really only green beans stirred up with American corn, and the two got on so well together you felt they had been born for each other.

It's now about 2 o'clock in the morning, and it seems as if we must have raced across half America, but we have a long, long way to go still, so says the soft brown thing, who looked in on me about an hour ago to ask in a casual way whether, if she should go to Europe to live, she might not be taken for an Italian?

When I was a little girl and my nurse used to make up tales to put me to sleep at night, I would sometimes get impatient and tell her to "go down into the story and find out what happened next." Just now I feel as if that is what I should like to do in my future.

Chapter 15

THE first face I saw on the platform when we arrived in Chicago was Mr. Brett's. He was waiting to help me and looked as fresh as if he hadn't spent eighteen hours in the train. He said I looked fresh, too, but if I did it must have been excitement, as I'd written half the night and dreamed desperately the other half about Potter Parker—dressed like one of those red Indians they have for cigar signs in New York—pursuing me with a jeweled tomahawk.

Mr. Brett had insisted on my telegraphing to Sally before we left New York to say I was coming and asking her to meet the train; therefore we were surprised not to find her at the station. I was rather anxious, and so, I could see, was Mr. Brett. He thought he had better not drive in a cab with me to the friend's house where she was staying, but he told me the name of a hotel where he would go at once and made me promise that I would send him a line by the cabman to say whether everything was well with me.

"Miss Woodburn probably has a headache or perhaps is out of town for the day," said he. "It can't be anything else. Still I shall be a little uneasy till I hear. And you know I hold myself absolutely at your service."

"What about your friend whose business you've come to attend to?" I asked. "I mustn't be so selfish as to interfere with that, whatever happens."

"Oh, I can attend to both interests," he assured me, "without neglecting either. I shan't need to let one interfere with the other. And remember, I won't stir out of my hotel till I've had your note."

Bereft of him, Chicago overawed me and took my breath away. It is a good thing I saw New York first, for if I'd come straight from England with only memories of peaceful London to support me through the ordeal, I don't know but it might have affected my brain.

It was a long drive, though, and as I had time to calm down I saw that numbers of the huge buildings are nobly designed and very magnificent in decoration, making a splendid effect in spite of their vast size rather than because of it. And such shops too! They're like the fairy palaces my nurse used to tell me about, as big as whole cities, where you could get anything you wanted just by wishing.

At last we stopped before a large, handsome house with a lawn round it and no fence. The house was stone in front, but had brick sides, which gave it a queer effect, yet somehow didn't spoil it, and wherever there wasn't a porch it had broken out in bow windows.

I told the cabman to wait and then ran up the four or five steps to ring the front door bell. In a minute a maid came who could have been very smart looking if she had only worn a proper cap.

"Is Miss Woodburn stopping here?" I asked.

"No, she isn't," returned the young woman, with a glint of the eye which seemed to say she would perish sooner than call any one "Miss."

"Are you sure?" I persisted, my heart preparing for a plunge bootward.

"I guess so," said the girl with a superior but not ill natured smile. "She was staying with us, but she went day before yesterday. I don't think she'll be back, because she's gone to take care of a friend who's real sick way back in Ohio somewhere."

"Way back in Ohio somewhere!" The words were like a knell for all my hopes. I didn't know what was to become of me now.

"I am sorry," I said. "Do you know if a telegram came for Miss Woodburn yesterday?"

BABY'S LITTLE ILLS

Baby's little ills are many and need close attention. Worms are among the most common of these ailments—there being scarcely a child who is not afflicted by them at some time or other. These, though, can be readily banished by the frequent use of Baby's Own Tablets — the only remedy sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to contain no opiate or other harmful drug. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Daigle, Ste. Perpetue, Que., writes: — "My baby was troubled with worms; he was nervous and had no appetite. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and he was soon well again." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Victoria Woman.

According to fashion authorities the straight, elongated style, with its almost severe simplicity and its narrow skirt, is doomed, and instead there are to be graceful robes and flowing draperies. There will be an important difference, however, between the Victorian modes of the past and those of the near future, inasmuch as the formerly neglected details of cut and outline will receive special attention.

The new Victorian woman will be extremely graceful, so the style makers assert. She will have her waist in its proper place, and her waist will appear small, for she will wear large sleeves and ample skirts.

Gasoline Street Cars.

The first petrol-propelled tramcars used in England on a track have just been inaugurated at Morecambe, when large numbers of experts gathered to witness the trial of the new system. The cost of fuel is stated to be only a penny per mile.

Historic Places Burned.

London, April 6.—Three destructive fires in historic country mansions occurred last night. The first was in Lake House, in Wiltshire, a fine Elizabethan edifice, full of priceless Jacoban furniture. The Lake House was occupied by Percy Holden Illingworth, member of Parliament, who, with his wife and children, was only saved from death from the flames by the barking of a dog outside the door. As it was, the family made its escape clad only in night clothes.

The other fires were in Rossdhu House, on Loch Lomond, belonging to Sir Ian Colquhoun, and Giggstown Castle, near Nayan, County Meath, Ireland, where alone the damage done aggregated $200,000.

Rebels Take Town.

Jiminez, Mexico, April 6.—Parral fell into the hands of the rebels yesterday. The numbers of the enemy, which looked so large to Gen. Campa in the hour of his defeat, proved to be a force of only 700. They escaped Thursday night, leaving behind them a rapid firer and a mortar, previously captured from the Liberals.

It developed that Gens. Villay and Urbana, the federal commanders, fought alone on Tuesday when they routed Campa. They are believed to have retreated to Mapimi where the main federal forces are said to be mobilizing. The wires to El Paso, were restored yesterday afternoon.

When Woman Wins.

'Twas in the year 2011, and the intrepid general was rallying her wavering female troops.

"Women," she cried, "will you give way to manly fears?"

A timid murmur ran through the ranks.

"Shall it be said we are clothed in mail armor?" shrieked the leader.

The murmur grew more confused.

"Will you," came the taunting cry from their gallant general, "show the white feather at this time of the year, when feathers are out of fashion?"

The effect was wonderful, astounding, marvelous!

"Never," roared her noble followers, "never!"

And, forming themselves rapidly into battle array, they once more hurled themselves relentlessly upon the enemy.—New York Call.

YOU CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF VALUES

If you carefully read the store advertisements and follow them in your buying.

Merchants advertise certain lines because they know these lines will advertise their stores. Because there is something about certain goods, they are put in conspicuous places and the people are told about them. It may be the exclusiveness or newness of design, it may be an unusual quality, it may be an attractive price.

But there is at least one definite, sure reason why a merchant advertises an article and is willing to stake the reputation of his store upon it.

Therefore, when you see an article advertised in THE REVIEW, depend upon it, that article is good value, as good value as can be obtained in that particular store.

Several Reasons why Mitchell Cars are high in Quality and low in Price:—

1st, The Mitchell manufacturers are one of the few firms in America who refuse to partake in the Automobile Trust. They strictly refuse to have an American Financier set their prices and control their stock.

2nd. They do not waste enormous sums of money in unnecessary advertising, but devote the money in replacing parts and and giving service absolutely free to Mitchell owners.

3rd. By having the most modern and up-to-date manufacturing establishment in America with capital of $10,000,000.

4th. By having 13 years experience in building Motor Cars, and by holding their skilled mechanics for years and do not experience the difficulties of various firms with unskilled workmanship.

98½ per cent. of cars manufactured by The Mitchell-Lewis Co. since their inception are still running and giving entire satisfaction.

The Whale's Wail.

The fire in the parlor of the Spotted Cow roared up the chimney, while the hardened fishermen boasted and wrangled over their doughty doings. Then the tall, spare, silent man who had been listening quietly spoke:

"Gentlemen, did it ever occur to you to wonder what finally became of the whale that swallowed Jonah?"

"What's the good of wondering about a thing like that?" said the trout fisherman rudely. "Nothing definite is known."

"Boys," he continued, "she must 'ave tipped the beam at"—

"Look here," the silent man interrupted again. "I know what became of that whale."

"Humph!" said the trout fisherman. "What?"

"For the rest of his life he made a bore of himself telling all the other whales he met how the biggest and heaviest man he ever caught wriggled free and got away!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Brutal Thomas.

The worm eaten chestnut of all proverbs is—well, you know what it is—"Unlucky at cards, lucky at love." If your bridge partner is a bit flirty she always goo-goos at you and springs it. Then she leads you away to a secluded spot. You know. Tommy Treathinger was the only one we ever knew to beat this game, and that was an accident. Here was the way of it:

"Are you very lucky at cards?" asked the woman.

"Very," said Tommy. "I always win."

"How about love?" she continued, looking arch and kittenish.

"Lucky again," plunged Tommy—"I always lose."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BODY IS FOUND

The body of the late Henry Ivan Fairweather, who was drowned on Sunday, January 14th, while chopping ice at the Nassau dam, was discovered yesterday morning at ten-thirty by Mr. Robert Cotton. The remains were shipped on the 1.01 C. P. R. last night to Sussex, N.B., for interment.

The body was found by Mr. Cotton, among some floating logs and drift wood about two hundred yards above the old pump house. A man by the name of A. B. Downer, who was working on the logs at the time the discovery was made, rowed Mr. Cotton out to the spot where the body was found. Mr. Cotton thought he noticed from the shore something red out amongst the logs, and it was found to be the red sweater worn by the unfortunate man when he was drowned. The body was brought to shore and the coroner phoned. An inquest was considered unnecessary and the body after being prepared for forwarding at Comstock's undertaking parlors, was sent to the home of the deceased in New Brunswick.

HIGH PRICES FOR CATTLE

Two Days Sale Amounted to Over $20,000.

Belleville, Ont., April 6—The consignment sale of Holstein-Friesian cattle, held under the auspices of the Belleville district Holstein Club, has been concluded. It proved to be a most successful sale, 160 choice animals being disposed of. Lulu Keyes a four-year old cow, consigned by E. B. Mallory, of Sidney Township, Hastings County, brought $1,450, being sold to A. D. Foster, of Bloomfield, who subsequently sold her to D. B. Tracey, of Cobourg, for $1,500. Pontiac Hermer, a male consigned by G. A. Brethren, of Norwood, brought $700, the purchaser being A. D. Foster and E. B. Mallory. The sale of the two days totalled over $20,000, buyers being present from all over the country, including Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia.

City's Bill Had Stormy Passage But Made Safe Port

Mayor Bradburn, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and L. M. Hayes, K. C., acting city solicitor, have returned home from Toronto, highly satisfied with the result of their mission in the interests of power for Peterbroo.

The Mayor states that although their bill encountered considerable stiff opposition, it was finally granted giving the city full rights to expropriate the distributing plant of the Light and Power Company.

Mr. D. O'Connell of Peterborough was at the meeting in the interests of the Quaker Oats Company.

NOVEL FEATURE AT MILLERS

Something Distinctly New in the Window Dressing Art

An electric fountain in the window of J. W. Miller & Sons, boot and shoe dealers, George street, is being greatly admired by passers-by. It was designed and constructed by Mr. E. S. Lorimer, E.E., the inventor of the Lorimer automatic telephone system, and the fountain consists of four glass bowls, varying from 14 inches in diameter at the bottom to 4 inches at the top. The water used is from a city main, it spraying through a special nozzle at the top and as each dish overflows, the water trickles to the next lower and from the bottom bowl to the city out-take pipe. Pretty gold fish are seen at play in each of the bowls.

From 36 candelabra lamps around the lower bowl, is produced four colors, white, violet green and red, the lights being worked by a special motor and flasher mechanism. The fountain complete cost $150.

A Heavy Calf

An enormous calf which when dressed weighs five hundred pounds, is on exhibition in R. Dale's butcher shop. This monstrous calf tipped the scales at eight hundred and seventy pounds when alive. It was raised in North Monaghan by Mr. James Fowler, and was one of the finest specimens ever shown in Peterborough. The animal was just eight months old.

Monarch of the Road

1st, The Mitchell manufacturers are one of the few firms in America who refuse to partake in the Automobile Trust. They strictly refuse to have an American Financier set their prices and control their stock.

2nd. They do not waste enormous sums of money in unnecessary advertising, but devote the money in replacing parts and and giving service absolutely free to Mitchell owners.

3rd. By having the most modern and up-to-date manufacturing establishment in America with capital of $10,000,000.

4th. By having 13 years experience in building Motor Cars, and by holding their skilled mechanics for years and do not experience the difficulties of various firms with unskilled workmanship.

98½ per cent. of cars manufactured by The Mitchell-Lewis Co. since their inception are still running and giving entire satisfaction.

The Mitchell Cars are on Exhibition for inspection and demonstration at

27 TRAINS USED TO CONVEY 10,000 IMMIGRANTS

Yesterday morning, a special train consisting of five coaches passed through Peterboro, carrying Italian immigrants to different points in the West, and 400 more passed through Peterboro this morning to seek employment in the Western country.

During this week, no fewer than 13000 immigrants were transported from the Atlantic seaboard to Montreal and the West by the Canadian Pacific, and the Grand Trunk. Of these, ten thousand were handled by the Canadian Pacific in 27 special trains.

The Whale's Wail.

The fire in the parlor of the Spotted Cow roared up the chimney, while the hardened fishermen boasted and wrangled over their doughty doings. Then the tall, spare, silent man who had been listening quietly spoke:

"Gentlemen, did it ever occur to you to wonder what finally became of the whale that swallowed Jonah?"

"What's the good of wondering about a thing like that?" said the trout fisherman rudely. "Nothing definite is known."

"Boys," he continued, "she must 'ave tipped the beam at"—

"Look here," the silent man interrupted again. "I know what became of that whale."

"Humph!" said the trout fisherman. "What?"

"For the rest of his life he made a bore of himself telling all the other whales he met how the biggest and heaviest man he ever caught wriggled free and got away!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Brutal Thomas.

The worm eaten chestnut of all proverbs is—well, you know what it is—"Unlucky at cards, lucky at love." If your bridge partner is a bit flirty she always goo-goos at you and springs it. Then she leads you away to a secluded spot. You know. Tommy Treathinger was the only one we ever knew to beat this game, and that was an accident. Here was the way of it:

"Are you very lucky at cards?" asked the woman.

"Very," said Tommy. "I always win."

"How about love?" she continued, looking arch and kittenish.

"Lucky again," plunged Tommy—"I always lose."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BODY IS FOUND

The body of the late Henry Ivan Fairweather, who was drowned on Sunday, January 14th, while chopping ice at the Nassau dam, was discovered yesterday morning at ten-thirty by Mr. Robert Cotton. The remains were shipped on the 1.01 C. P. R. last night to Sussex, N.B., for interment.

The body was found by Mr. Cotton, among some floating logs and drift wood about two hundred yards above the old pump house. A man by the name of A. B. Downer, who was working on the logs at the time the discovery was made, rowed Mr. Cotton out to the spot where the body was found. Mr. Cotton thought he noticed from the shore something red out amongst the logs, and it was found to be the red sweater worn by the unfortunate man when he was drowned. The body was brought to shore and the coroner 'phoned. An inquest was considered unnecessary and the body after being prepared for forwarding at Comstock's undertaking parlors, was sent to the home of the deceased in New Brunswick.

HIGH PRICES FOR CATTLE

Two Days Sale Amounted to Over $20,000.

Belleville, Ont., April 6—The consignment sale of Holstein-Friesian cattle, held under the auspices of the Belleville district Holstein Club, has been concluded. It proved to be a most successful sale, 160 choice animals being disposed of. Lulu Keyes a four-year old cow, consigned by E. B. Mallory, of Sidney Township, Hastings County, brought $1,450, being sold to A. D. Foster, of Bloomfield, who subsequently sold her to D. B. Tracey, of Cobourg, for $1,500. Pontiac Hermer, a male consigned by G. A. Brethren, of Norwood, brought $700, the purchaser being A. D. Foster and E. B. Mallory. The sale of the two days totalled over $20,000, buyers being present from all over the country, including Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia.

ARE PLEASED WITH THE RESULTS

City's Bill Had Stormy Passage But Made Safe Port

Mayor Bradburn, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and L. M. Hayes, K. C., acting city solicitor, have returned home from Toronto, highly satisfied with the result of their mission in the interests of power for Peterboro.

The Mayor states that although their bill encountered considerable stiff opposition, it was finally granted giving the city full rights to expropriate the distributing plant of the Light and Power Company.

Mr. D. O'Connell of Peterborough was at the meeting in the interests of the Quaker Oats Company.

NOVEL FEATURE AT MILLERS

Something Distinctly New in the Window Dressing Art

An electric fountain in the window of J. W. Miller & Sons, boot and shoe dealers, George street, is being greatly admired by passers-by. It was designed and constructed by Mr. E.S. Lorimer, E.E., the inventor of the Lorimer automatic telephone system, and the fountain consists of four glass bowls, varying from 14 inches in diameter at the bottom to 4 inches at the top. The water used is from a city main, it spraying through a special nozzle at the top and as each dish overflows, the water trickles to the next lower and from the bottom bowl to the city out-take pipe. Pretty gold fish are seen at play in each of the bowls.

From 36 candelabra lamps around the lower bowl, is produced four colors, white, violet green and red, the lights being worked by a special motor and flasher mechanism. The fountain complete cost $150.

A Heavy Calf

An enormous calf which when dressed weighs five hundred pounds, is on exhibition in R. Dale's butcher shop. This monstrous calf tipped the scales at eight hundred and seventy pounds when alive. It was raised in North Monaghan by Mr. James Fowler, and was one of the finest specimens ever shown in Peterborough. The animal was just eight months old.

TO PROCEED WITH POLICE STATION IMPROVEMENTS

It was definitely decided by the City Trust Commissioners at a meeting Thursday afternoon to proceed with the improvements at the local police station building, in accordance with the plans submitted by architect William Blackwell. Tenders are being advertised in the local papers to be in by 3 p.m., Saturday, April 20th

The police station is to be put in first class shape. The present building will be extended twenty-one feet south along Water street to the market. The interior area will be spacious and comfortable. The cells at present in use, will be torn down, and six first class "coops" will replace them. Three of these are to be what are known as cage cells. A good heating system will be installed and new lavatories.

The new structure will be of white brick and will adhere to uniformity of size to the present building.

LOCAL GUN CLUB OFFICERS; TROPHY HAS BEEN DONATED

Club Has Largest Membership of Its History—First Shoot Held Yesterday.

A most enthusiastic meeting of the Peterborough Gun Club was held on Wednesday evening last in Mr. C. B. Routley's store, and the following officers were elected for the coming season:—

President—L. Hall.
Captain—C. Lech.
Sec.-Treas.—C. Wood.

The club is in a good financial condition, with the largest membership of its existence. Arrangements will be made to meet other clubs of the district, and a busy summer is looked forward to. The secretary has received a splendid trophy, "A Nobel's Gun Case," donated by the Nobel's Explosives Co., and presented by the Dominion Cartridge Co., of Montreal, which will be competed for by the members during the months of May, June, July and August. Any member competing must shoot at least once each month. The scores of the first shoot in the month being recorded. Howevver should any member be unable to attend the first shoot, his score may be taken at the next. This is a valuable trophy and should encourage the enthusiasm of the members. It is on exhibition and may be seen in Messrs. Lech and Son's fur store, George street. Regular shoots will be held on the first and third Thursdays of each month, commencing on Thursday, April 18th. The hour will be announced later. Another meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday, April 16th.

The opening shoot of the season was held yesterday afternoon with twelve members present. Shooting at 25 birds each, the scores were:

H. C. Hill	21
C. Gutterson	16
J. Harris	14
C. James	13
H. Routley	13
C. Wood	13
C. Lech	12
H. Cook	10
J. D. Collins	7
L Hall	8
C. Mills	8
M. Miller	2

Then followed a 10 bird sweepstake:

H. C. Hill	9
C. Wood	9
C. Gutterson	8
J. Harris	8
L. Hall	7
H. Cook	6
C. Mills	5
H Routley	3
C. Lech	2

In shooting off the ties H. C. Hill won first, C. Wood second and J. Harris third.

The next event was a sweepstake at 5 doubles:

H. C. Hill	6
H. Cook	5
C. Wood	5
C. Gutterson	4
J. Harris	4
L. Hall	2

C. Hill first in shooting off the ties, H. Cook second, C. Wood third.

OBITUARY

Parents Bereaved

The death occurred yesterday of Winnifred Marjorie French, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold French, 389 Stewart street. She was born on the 17th of December, 1911.

The funeral took place from the family residence to Little Lake Cemetery, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Webb, officiating.

Death of Mrs. Embery

After a brief period of illness, there passed away on Thursday evening, Mrs. Helen Embery, 295 McDonnel street. The deceased was a native of Belleville, having resided in Peterborough for only two years. Surviving her are one son and one daughter, Beatrice of Saskatoon, and Thomas, of Peterborough. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. The body was sent to Belleville for interment.

The directors of the Peterborough Horticultural Society feel that there is quite a number of citizens who wish to qualify for the options of the society, although they are backward in sending in applications. They are reminded that this is the last week, and the membership fee should be forwarded at once.

MILK WILL TAKE A DROP

When the Cows Can Go Out to Pasture.

The price of milk is to take a drop of one cent, commencing on June 1st. This decision was reached on Wednesday evening last at a meeting of the Peterborough Dairy Association in the Foresters' Hall. The lowered prices will be due to cows being allowed out to pasture by that time, which will mean an increased yield of milk.

The prices of milk after the date mentioned will be 5 cts. to public institutions, and 6 cents to private residences. The prices at present are in each case one cent higher. Mr. A. Hunter the president, occupied the chair at the meeting.

FINED AT LINDSAY

Lindsay Post.

This morning in Police Court Jas. Wilson, who gave Peterborough as his home address, was charged with being drunk and incapable. He has been working in a lumber camp all winter and was celebrating his return to civilization. Magistrate Jackson imposed a fine of $2.00 and costs.

"Jim" is a well known character, and has a police court record as long as two weeks' rain.

Nothing Doing

The city was free from fires yesterday and Chief Howard and his men spent a very quiet day at the Fire Hall.

SERVICE IN THE ARMORIES WAS WELL ATTENDED

A large congregation attended the service in the armories yesterday, all showing deep interest and attention throughout. All the ministers who were in the city gave their attendance, and the Rev. Canon Davidson, in the unavoidable absence of the president of the Ministerial Association, Rev. J. R. Webb, presided. Three addresses were given, and the S.A. band supplied the music.

Boat Arrivals

"Virginian" reported east of Cape Race, on Thursday, due at Halifax early this morning.

"Megantic" reported eighty miles east of Halifax, at 5 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. Due at Halifax to-day and at Portland on Monday.

JACK JOHNSON IS IN TROUBLE

Chicago, April 5—Jack Johnson, the world's champion pugilist, will be prosecuted by the U.S. Government for smuggling unless the sum of $9600 is paid as penalty, according to the government, for secretly bringing a diamond necklace into this country from Europe without paying duty. The treasury department charges he smuggled a diamond necklace valued at $6000 into this country when he returned from witnessing the coronation processions of King George in London.

SPORTS AT Y. M. C. A.

The game between the Eko Club and Nemo's last night proved to be the most strenuous game of the league so far this season. It was a case of the veterans against the youngsters, and from beginning to end the score was always close. The Eko's were weakened considerably by the absence of two of their best men, Elliott and F. Turner, although credit must be given to the men who replaced them for the fine game they put up, Roy Turner and D. Loucks filled the places made vacant by the regulars. The half time score showed the Eko's leading 12 points to 11, and right at the start of the second half forged further ahead but the Nemo's by some good shooting forged to the front and won with a score of 34 to 27. Teams, Eko's—Canniff and Hall, forwards; R. Turner, centre; Fleming and Loucks, defence. Nemo's—Long and Howden, forwards; Hill, centre; Throop and Gilbert, defence. Referee J. J. Thompson.

Next Tuesday night should be the very best game of the season when the Eko's and Brownies meet, only one point separated these two teams last time they met, and as both teams are tied for the league leadership, it looks like the league championship for the winner of Tuesday's game, game will be called at 8.30 sharp.

To-night at 8.15 the Ramblers will meet the St. Andrews in a city juvenile league game.

EATING ON THE ROAD.

Dick Mitchell went out ahead of a show some weeks ago, and that show seems to have been routed by some one whose passion was for discovery rather than for gate receipts. According to Mr. Mitchell's friends, the music in most of the theaters was furnished by a man with a harmonica. Once Mr. Mitchell told the local manager that he wanted an augmented orchestra that night. "I got yuh, bo," said that official. "The stage hand is a swell player on the jewsharp."

But the worst of it, from Mr. Mitchell's point of view, has been the food that he has encountered in the one horse hotels. On one occasion he ordered scrambled eggs. When the waiter brought them on he slammed the plate down proudly in front of the sufferer. "There you are, mister," said he. "Tell me if them eggs ain't all right!"

Mr. Mitchell glanced at the plate. "The eggs," said he, "look all right. But when did your cook first notice that she was losing her hair?"

One morning Mr. Mitchell met a friend at breakfast. The friend was frightfully irritated by the quality of the service at the hotel. "This is awful, Dick," said he. "I wonder if there is another hotel in town?"

"Yep," said Mitchell. "I've just left it."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

From Horse to Hen.

James Mark had the misfortune to lose a fine horse last week. We had a horse that was not doing well, so one day last week we were at the store and told Jim Mark about it, and he said, "Here, take this package of condition powders back with you, and that will fix him all right." So we gave it to the horse, and then we fixed him a bed of straw.

When we went to see the horse next morning he was acting awful queer. So we went up to the store and told Jim about it, and when we went to leave Jim said: "Hold on. I am going with you, and maybe I can tell what is the matter with your horse." When we got to the barn and opened the door we saw the horse sitting down on his bed of straw. Jim looked at him and then said, "Say, where is that package I gave you?" We got it for him, and he looked at it and exclaimed: "Great heavens, man! I have made a mistake and given you poultry food! Your horse has gone to setting!"—Burlington Republican.

Tommy Knew Better.

Mr. A., who was planning to build an outdoor sleeping porch at the back of his house, had an expensive new saw sent home from a hardware store. He left his office early the next afternoon with the intention of getting the porch well under way before dinner, and as he was very much interested in doing the work himself, he donned a pair of overalls and went at it in good spirits. An hour or so later he came tramping into the house, his face dark with exasperation, and flung himself down in disgust.

"That new saw I bought isn't worth 5 cents," he stormed. "Why, the thing won't cut butter!"

His small son, Tommy, looked up in wide eyed surprise.

"Oh, yes, it would, daddy," he said earnestly. "Why, Ted and I sawed a whole brick in two with it just this morning!"—Harper's Magazine.

Cheerful Outlook.

The dear old lady was chatting amiably with the innocent little elevator boy as the elevator rattled upward.

"Don't you find this work monotonous?" she asked.

"Oh, no, mum!" came the reply brightly. "Sometimes it's quite exciting. Only yesterday a man started to get out too soon and got his head cracked, and last week the engine broke down and everybody 'cept me was nearly killed. And now this 'ere rope looks sort o' weak. I shouldn't wonder if it broke any time. And the engineer's away ill today and a amateur's on his job. An' that makes things interestin'!"—New York Mail.

Staff of the Bank of England.

There are about 1,000 persons on the staff of the Bank of England, of whom 840 are at the head office in London and the remainder in the branches throughout the country. Five hundred porters and mechanics are also employed. The bank prints its own notes and Indian rupee notes, together with all postal orders and old age pension orders. This work is done at the head office. The chief circulating medium, however, is not now banknotes, but checks, the value of which, passing daily through the London clearing house, has risen from $55,000,000 in 1868 to $240,000,000, whereas banknotes in the same period have only increased from $120,000,000 to $145,000,000 in average daily circulation.

Why Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mme. Dufault's Ills.

She Had Diabetes, Sciatica, Backache and Headache But Found Speedy Relief in the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

St. Boniface, Man., April 5.—(Special.)—After suffering for three years from a complication of diseases, Madame Oct. Dufault, of 84 Victoria St., this city, is once more in perfect health and Dodd's Kidney Pills are credited with another splendid cure. Speaking of her cure, Madame Dufault says:

"Yes, I am again a well woman, and I thank Dodd's Kidney Pills for it. I suffered for three years and I may say I had pains all over my body. I had sciatica, neuralgia and diabetes. My back ached, and I had pains in my head. I was nervous and tired all the time; there were dark circles around my eyes which were also puffed and swolen, and heart fluttering added to my troubles.

"But when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I soon began to get better. I took thirteen boxes in all, and I think they are a grand medicine."

Every one of Madame Dufault's ailments is a direct result of diseased kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills so quickly cured them all.

JUST MISS JUNE

Her Romance and the Way It Developed.

By VIRGINIA LEILA WENTZ.

Summer after summer the same elderly quiet people had come to Mrs. Austin's pretty country boarding house and the same noisy, vehement children. Of course there had been some additions to the latter class, some defections from the former, but the character of the company had remained much the same. This year, however, came a new boarder of a distinctly different element. He was Paul Campbell, a playwright of some reputation.

Being the only eligible man on the place, Miss Austin had managed to lay hold of Mr. Campbell as her especial property. At first he did not mind. Were not her eyes sufficiently blue? Was there not always about her the odor of orris and heliotrope? But when he discovered that both mother and daughter were trying to work the matrimonial game upon him he balked.

One warm day they had been down to the lake boating, and now they had turned their faces homeward.

"If you find the path rough for fashionable heels or tear your gown with the brambles or scratch your face with the wild rosebushes, on your head be the consequences." Paul Campbell was warning Miss Austin, who had capriciously chosen a path through the woods, while he had wisely indicated another.

"I don't care. It's too hot to breathe today, and I know this is the shorter way. It'll get us home more quickly than the other."

"Well, it must be single file," observed Campbell, with something like positive relief, remembering that the arrangement would do something to add to the difficulty of conversation.

"You'll have a good opportunity," threw back Miss Austin over her shoulder, "of determining whether my hair is all my own."

"Its glory," answered Campbell, quick always in saying the required thing, "must blind me to its defects, if there be any."

"So good of you to make the qualification," retorted Miss Austin.

Here and there the brier roses bloomed in all their exquisite pinkness. Campbell absently broke off a spray. Absently, too, he pulled the leaves from the stalk. Then he chanced to look upon the pink bud.

With a whimsical, half tender gesture he thrust it into his buttonhole. Oh, he was a fool, beyond doubt, to fancy such a connection. But those unostentatious little petals, showing their delicate veins as they tapered upward and infolding so much wild sweetness, reminded him of Miss June.

June was Mrs. Austin's younger daughter. She had wide, dark eyes and teeth of pearl, but she was not beautiful like her sister Jane. Their names, in fact, many of the boarders thought, ought to have been turned about, for June was just like her sister's name, while Jane was as flushed and jubilant as summer's first month.

"There's a pleasure as well as a credit in dressing her," June had once overheard her mother say when she'd slipped Jane into a thin white frock and brushed her glossy curls. That was twelve years ago. June was only six, but her fragile little hands had gone together in mute protest, and her eyes had grown larger with half understood pain.

June, whom her household and the summer boarders saw; June of the infrequent speech, the shy, fugitive smiles and proud, reticent air—that was not June of the woods whom Paul Campbell had grown to know. June of the woods had an elusive grace, shining eyes, laughter as silvery as the rippling streams, exquisite fancies, quick, dramatic gestures and withal a delicate, childish abandon of spirit.

"Well," asked Miss Austin as they came out from the woodland path on to the sunny road, "have you settled the affairs of the nation? I looked back at you once or twice, but you were in such a brown study you didn't notice me," she pouted.

"Miss Jane, how could that be possible?" mocked he courteously.

"Pshaw!" she said, twirling her sunshade indignantly. "I believe I'm nothing but a peg for you to hang compliments on"—

"You are the magnet which attracts them," he corrected. Suddenly Miss Austin lifted her eyes.

"That wild rose bud in your coat is very pretty. Will you give it to me for a remembrance of the day?"

Campbell's fingers closed upon the bud to detach it; then he remembered.

"No, Miss Austin," he laughed, thrusting his hands into his pockets; "it would be inappropriate. When I go to the village tomorrow I'll get you some roses from the florist's."

One morning several days later they were in the woods together, June and he, under the silver column of a beech tree. She sat beside him, with her slim brown hands folded in her lap and the wild rose buds withering in her dark hair. The pink of them had somehow stolen to her cheeks. She was happy today in spite of the fact that Campbell was chiding her.

"See here, young lady," he was saying half seriously, half playfully, "if you continue to evade me as you've been doing for the past few days I'm going to pack up my trunk and leave next week. What possible pleasure do you think I find in a lot of staid ladies who knit on the porches and children who squabble"—

"There's Jane," suggested the girl demurely, watching the flash of a bird through the rift in the foliage. "She likes to be with you, Mr. Campbell, I'm sure. And I'm sure"—here the pearly teeth caught the scarlet underlip—"Jane's neither a staid knitting lady nor a squabbling child. And why should you miss me? I'm not beautiful like Jane. I'm just"—

"Just Miss June," finished Campbell simply. But there was a world of quiet pride in his voice.

June trembled beneath his words and knew not why she trembled. But there was sufficient dramatic force in her to go toward the making of a great actress. She spied a spray of scarlet columbine on a gray rock overhanging a dark pool. Unconsciously the contrast of colors struck her artistic eye, and she made use of it all to hide her sudden emotion.

"Will you fetch me those columbines that wave from the rock and throw colored patches on the pool, Mr. Campbell?" said she quietly.

But when he had gone her hand went for support to the column of the beech, her bosom rose and fell and her wide eyes dilated, then half closed.

"Oh, dear God," she prayed inwardly, "I've never had any one in my whole life really to love me. And he is so big and so knightly. Don't let me imagine a vain thing that would break my heart. Let me remember that I am plain—and that he is just kind."

"Here," cried Campbell cheerfully, coming back with a bunch of the columbine and handing it to her. "The scarlet just matches your lips, little maid." It was not alone her lips that were scarlet now; a flame spread hotly over her cheeks.

In a few moments she jumped up, laughing, smoothing out her blue gingham frock. "If ever I come to regard myself as a bewitching fairy princess I'll hold you responsible, sir. But I must be going now. I'm still Cinderella," she added. "I promised mother to make the salad dressing for luncheon."

And so the fragrant summer month drifted irresponsibly on.

One warm evening when the air was filled with the gold of fireflies, a maze of spangles, now darkening, now brightening, Mrs. Austin came out on her side porch, which, for a wonder, was vacant, and swung her portly weight none too gently into the hammock. The silver of the moon was beginning to tremble through the leaves of the trees and to show patches of the garden path that wound toward the front gate.

"Those locusts sound awfully shrill," thought Mrs. Austin, trying ineffectually to put the hammock in motion. Then she lay there inert, yielding to the drowsiness of the air.

She must have dozed off a bit, for suddenly she started as is the way of one who tries to capture one's waking wits.

"And you know, dear, that I love you. I guess I've been loving you right from the first, but I didn't realize it till"—

Two figures had just passed the moonlit patch in the path and were emerging into the shadows that stretched toward the gate, so Mrs. Austin couldn't exactly see who they were, but she recognized Campbell's rich, deep voice.

"At last!" she cried, smiling broadly. "Well, Jane deserved it, and she'll have a good husband." She raised herself up in the hammock. Sleep had fled.

Now, just at that moment Sarah, the cook, who had been buying some ribbon and ruching in one of the village shops, happened to enter the front gate. As she came abreast of the wide porch Mrs. Austin leaned over the railing.

"Sarah," she whispered, with maternal pride in her voice, "was that Miss Jane who went out of the gate then with Mr. Campbell?" It was a statement rather than a question.

"No'm," said Sarah, looking up quickly; "that wasn't Miss Jane, ma'am. It was just Miss June."

They call Semi-ready the "too-good" clothes

A MERCHANT in another town said that Semi-ready Tailoring was too good for his town.

We don't believe it!

We do know that nothing is too good for our customers, and that is why we always get the best the makers make.

Trouble with these "too good" men lies with themselves; they don't understand the service and satisfaction in high quality clothes; they don't understand the uplift feeling in every man. We all want the "something better" that stands out from the crowd.

PASSED AWAY AT HAVELOCK

Sudden Passing of Mr. J. Hilton in His 64th Year

Havelock, April 6—Mr. J. Hilton, an old and well respected resident of this place passed away Friday morning in the 64th year of his age.

For a number of years the deceased had been in very poor health. Although his death was not unexpected, it came very suddenly. Mr. Hilton for years was an active member of the Methodist church; and his untiring services won the love and admiration of those who knew him.

He leaves to mourn his loss, two sons and two daughters, J. W. Hilton of Norwood, F. S. Hilton of Havelock, Mrs. W. J. McMillan of Round Lake and Miss Annie Hilton of Peterboro.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended the bereaved family.

STAINERS CRUCIFIXION

The ninth presentation of Sir John Stainer's sacred meditation on the "Crucifixion" was given in St. John's church last night by the combined choirs of All Saints and St. John's, numbering about 70 voices, with Mr. R. J. Devey directing, and Miss Flowers at the organ. The presence of so large a congregation in St. John's last night, amply proves that sacred choral music has many lovers in this city, for in the last three weeks, three presentations have been given of this class of work, by these choirs, embracing works of Handel, Mendelssohn and Stainer. The solo parts were well taken by Messrs. H. W. Morphet and G. E. Chandler, tenors; and Messrs. A. Flowers, Barling, Spence and Edney.

The unaccompanied quartette, "God so loved the world," was finely sung by Mrs. Devey, Mrs. Common, Mrs. Seward, Miss Hopkins, Messrs. Morphet, Chandler, Flowers and Coleman. The chorus work was all good, the men's chorus excelling themselves in the last words, "It is finished."

Miss Flowers presided acceptably at the organ, in an exceedingly difficult position.

The Rev. Canon Davidson opened the service with intercessory prayers and closed with the benediction; and in the vestry, expressed his pleasure at the singing, and thanked the choristers for their faithful work in both churches.

Mr. R. J. Devey and Mr. G. E. Chandler, deserve hearty congratulations for the combined work of the two choirs which it is hoped, may be continued.

FIRST APPEARANCE OF MAPLE SYRUP

Sold for 40cts. per Quart and Was in Demand.

The offering of meats on the market this morning was decidedly slim, but there was a fair supply of butter and eggs. Maple syrup made its first appearance to-day, selling for 40c. a quart. Only one can appeared and the eager buyers kept the seller busy ladling out the liquid. According to the farmers, there will not be a large supply of maple syrup this year on account of the frostless nights.

Two loads of hay and two of wood were offered for sale.

OSTEOPATHY TO BE A BRANCH OF MEDICINE

Osteopathy is to be officially recognized as a legitimate branch of the medical profession. The admission of practitioners of osteopathy to membership in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario was approved Thursday by a special committee of the Legislature, which discussed the bill of Dr. D. Jameson, M.P.P., to give osteopathy a standing recognized by the medical council.

The Council approved of the principle of the bill. All who have practiced the profession are to be recognized on presentation of diploma from any recognized school or College of Osteopathy.

Dr. A. G. Walmsley is the pioneer osteopathic physician of Peterborough, it being almost five years since he located in this city, during which time he has built up a splendid practice. The doctor is a graduate and post-graduate of the American School of Osteopathy, of Kirksville, Missouri, under the founder of the science, Dr. A. T. Still. He is a member of the American Osteopathic Association, and is one of the trustees of the Ontario Association of Osteopathy. Dr. Walmsley is receiving the congratulations of his many friends in Peterborough and elsewhere.

FIRST YEAR OF PROGRESS

Independent Real Estate Co. Pays Dividend of 20 per Cent

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the Independent Real Estate Company, whose head office is 116 King street, west, Toronto, was held last evening in the Hotel National. The shareholders were the guests of Mr. Galbraith, manager of the company, at a banquet at 7 o'clock, and afterwards the business meeting of the company was held in the parlors of the hotel.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, President of the Company, was in the chair. The President gave a detailed account of growth and development of the company since its formation one year ago. His report was one which reflects great credit on the business ability of the entire management. The company is in a most flourishing and healthy condition.

The shareholders declared a dividend of 20 per cent. to the stock holders and placed the sum of $6,000 in a reserve fund. It was further decided to issue at once $10,000 preferred stock, bearing 7 per cent. interest per annum.

The stockholders elected the following directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. Kennedy, Kidd, Galbraith, Downey and D. Neal. Subsequently the Directors elected officers as follows:

President—Mr H. P. Kennedy.
Vice-Pres.—Dr. Neal.
Secretary—Mr. Downey.
Manager—Mr. Galbraith.

A resolution was unanimously carried by the shareholders, thanking the Board of Directors for the able manner in which the company's business had been taken care of during the past year.

THEATRICAL

"CLIFTON MALLORY"

Those who witnessed the effective impersonation by Clifton Mallory, of the famous English character David Garrick, at the Grand yesterday, were extremely pleased with his clever interpretation of the role, and with the exhibition of stage personality, which has been the largest factor of his public success.

While the supporting company are good, yet the play itself would lose much of its effectiveness and success were it minus the presence of this talented actor. He is the leading figure at every moment and he makes the most of his opportunities. The costuming and scenery are all that could be desired and this with a charming love story permeating the piece, combine to form a very pleasing attraction and one that can be heartily recommended.

This afternoon and to-night the company will present "Our Minister"

WILL TELL THE STORY OF THE REBELLION

Mr. Harold Robertson to Speak at Muray St. Church

On Sunday evening Rev. Harold Robertson will speak in Murray St. Baptist church on the recent rebellion in China. Mr. Robertson it will will be remembered, went to China five years ago, taking with him his bride the daughter of Mrs. Hunter, of Gilmour street, and niece of Hon. J. R. Stratton. During the rebellion Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, with their two children, were shut up in the city. They finally made their exit with other missionaries and travelled one thousand miles in a house boat, at times under the fire of the rebels, but after a journey of nearly ten thousand miles reached Peterborough on Feb. 20th.

This will be the first address of Mr. Robertson in Peterborough and doubtless the church will be crowded.

NEW SCHOOL FOR EAST CITY

The following is a copy of a reply by the Board of Education to the resolution passed by the residents of East City, regarding the new school:

Wm. Scott, Esq.,
Peterborough:

Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your recent communication to the Board setting forth a resolution passed at a meeting of the East City ratepayers in opposition to the Board's selection of a site for the new Public School.

In this connection I would point out that the Board has not come to a decision hastily—the matter of a site has been in the hands of a competent committee for upwards of six months—all the facts have been carefully considered and any objection now raised has been known and carefully dealt with by the committee before reporting to the Board.

You will understand, that, while the school is principally for the benefit of the East City—the Board is acting for, and with the funds of, the entire city and are called upon to act in the best interests of the city at large, having by virtue of its position an intimate knowledge of exisiting conditions.

The Board, however, has no desire to act arbitrarily but its action in this case is supported by a consistent grasp of the whole situation.

It is the policy of the Board to supply the East City with a complete school capable of caring for a child in the kindergarten and through up to the Entrance—with provision for Manual Training and Domestic Science. This will require a school of eleven or twelve rooms and to those who regard the Board as too optomistic, I would point out that even at present eight rooms are required.

It is apparent that the growth in that section of the City must be to the north bringing the new site as near a central position as could be wished for.

It would be folly on the part of the Board to attempt to put a large school on the present site, which, even with an expenditure of six to seven thousand dollars would only give about two acres and to this expenditure must be added the value of the present property which would make the old site costing at least $15,000.00. On the other hand, the new site at a cost of $3,300.00 gives six acres in a dry, healthy position affording ample room for play ground.

The Board feels that past experience justifies this site—at the South Central School the children play on the street—at the Queen Alexandra School the same is the case—all as a result of a short sighted policy in years gone by. The City of Toronto is only now awakening to the fact that study in the school room is but a part of a child's education, and are spending large sums in acquiring large grounds. The school premises and grounds, in which a child spends the larger portion of its young life, must afford as much provision for healthy recreation as possible and this cannot be done unless ample ground is provided. The Board are agreed as to the wisdom of their action and regret if the East City citizens are not a unit in supporting it.

The land has been purchased—plans and specifications prepared based on the requirements of the site, these negotiations covered a period of six months at least and were carried on with the fullest publicity without drawing a word of opposition from East City, although the papers reported from time to time the Board's doings in the matter. I am confident, that, upon the completion of the school, you will all come to agree that a wise choice was made.

Yours truly,
JOHN CRANE,
Chairman.

PAINFUL INJURY THROUGH FALL

Last night as Mrs. Harold Lambert was leaving the residence of Mrs. Hunter, 467 Water street, she had the misfortune to slip on the steps leading up to the front verandah and break her arm and hip.

Drs. Halliday and Hammond were called and the patient was taken at once to the Nicholls Hospital where her injuries were attended to.

Mrs. Lambert's condition to-day shows a favorable turn towards the better.

It is only about one month ago that Mrs. Lambert had the misfortune to fall and sprain her wrist.

Our Present Display of Popular Priced Millinery is the Biggest Success We Ever Achieved

We are showing a greater variety of fine Hats and we're hearing more words of praise concerning our styles and values than ever before. Little wonder, then, that we are breaking all previous sales records.

Here are the prettiest styles, largest varieties and lowest prices in Peterborough. It is the biggest and most interesting Millinery Show this town has ever seen. It comprises everything that is new, fashionable and worth while. We have the right styles at the right prices. And best of all,

NO TWO HATS ARE ALIKE

This safeguards you against selecting a model that half a dozen other women might be wearing at the same time, in the same place.

Our own expert designers have excelled all former efforts. Then, of course, we are showing dozens of charming creations from foremost millinery artists at home and abroad.

Come and see with your own eyes our styles, varieties, and prices and you will understand why our Millinery department is making a bigger hit than ever before.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION

With a view to arranging affiliation for the newly-founded Peterborough Automobile Club with the Ontario Motor League, Main Johnson, secretary of the provincial association, was in town on Thursday evening. He was in consultation with several officers of the club, and details of the affiliation were discussed. The central organization looks after the general interests of automobilists in regard to just legislation and good roads and the club attends to local needs. The arrangement is one that has worked out most advantageously all over the province. The Ontario Motor League has a membership of 1,600, which is being increased rapidly, this spring. New affiliated clubs are being formed in all parts of Ontario.

Mr. Johnson was glad to see the beginning of such a strong club in Peterborough." "Your success," he said, "is assured, and before the summer is far advanced you should have enrolled with you every motorist in the city and district. It is decidedly in the interests of automobilists to form strong clubs. From the union they gain both pleasure and profit."

Mr Johnson is on an organization tour of the province. He attended the annual meeting of the Ottawa Valley Motor Car Association earlier in the week. This is one of the numerous large affiliated associations throughout the country. Both eastern and western Ontario are well represented in the league.

WITH THE W.A.A.

On Thursday evening, April 4th, a most delightful address was given by His Honor Judge Huycke, in the studio of the Women's Art Association, in the Public Library building. The subject, "The Holy Grail," was treated more from the point of view of the legends and stories clustering round this miraculous vessel, than the usual conception held, namely, Tennyson's interpretation, and proved a most fitting topic for holy week and the eve of Good Friday.

All those who were fortunate enough to be present felt that the Women's Art Association deserve the thanks of the community at large for the interesting talks given from time to time in their studio.

The chair was taken by Mr. Mowat.

On Friday, April 12th, at 8 o'clock, Mr. Dobbin has kindly consented to give a talk on the subject, "When the City was Young," to which the members and their friends are invited.

Through Trains to the West via Chicago and St. Paul

Personally conducted Grand Trunk special train will leave Toronto 10.30 p.m. Tuesday, April 2nd, for Camrose, Edmonton and points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, stopping at all points on Grand Trunk Pacific, west of Winnipeg.

Pullman Tourist sleepers will be carried fully equipped with bedding and porter in charge. Berths may be secured in these cars at a low rate.

This is an exceptional opportunity for those wishing to take advantage of the remarkably low one way settlers rates or round trip Homeseekers' excursions, through the American cities. No change of cars.

Secure tickets, berth reservations, etc., from Grand Trunk Ticket Agent, City Ticket Office, 334 George street. 6d

Blew Up a Bridge.

El Paso, Texas, April 6.—The Mexico & Northwestern bridge spanning the Ria Grande River, between El Paso and Jaurez, known as the Corralitos Bridge, was blown up by a terrific dynamite explosion about 9 o'clock last night.

Eighty Motor Cars Burned.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., April 6.—Eighty automobiles were destroyed yesterday when the garage of Hannan & Henry was burned. Fifty of the machines were owned by individuals and stored at the garage. The total loss is about $200,000.

YOUR SUMMER VACATION

"The Seashore," a forty-eight page booklet with a striking cover and more than 100 illustrations has just appeared describing the New London District of Connecticut on the line of the Central Vermont Railway, which promises to be an even more popular resort for Canadians in general and Montrealers in particular than was Old Orchard in its palmiest days. Any-one who is worried over the annual "summer vacation problem," will find interest if not inspiration in the contents.

Just how varied are the resources of this new territory can be realized from the statement that they include deep sea fishing and bathing at New London; river boating on the Thames; salt water bathing and sand for the youngsters at Ocean Beach, Watch Hill and Block Island; as well as golf and tennis at Fisher's Island. New London is the scene every year of the Harvard-Yale boat race, which corresponds in America to the historic contests between Oxford and Cambridge Universities on the older Thames of the British Isles, and this sporting event attracts large crowds of college men and "summer girls" to the sturdy sea port town.

Copies of this publication may be obtained for the asking from any agent of the Grand Trunk Ry. System or Central Vermont Railway.

J. W. Cheeseworth Dead.

Toronto, April 6.—John W. Cheeseworth, a well-known figure in both business and political circles, passed away yesterday at his residence, 332 Markham street. Mr. Cheeseworth had been critically ill with la grippe for the past seven weeks.

He was born in Lancelles, Cornwall County, England, on Oct. 3, 1840. At an early age he came to Canada, and has resided in Toronto since 1872. For many years he was a merchant tailor in King street. Later he was engaged in the brokerage business, and for years he has been connected with the Dominion Metals Co., Ltd., of which firm he held the position of secretary at the time of his death. For the last fifteen years his business activities have been mostly confined to different mining exploitations. He has been interested in various developments of this character in the Lake of the Woods district and in Algoma.

New Dress For the Eiffel Tower.

The Eiffel tower changes its dress every five or six years at a cost of from $14,000 to $16,000. The date is at hand when fifty painters will find occupation for three or four months in covering the 180,000 square yards of its surface with a new coat of paint. The shade has yet to be decided upon. The Eiffel tower started twenty-two years ago in orange, wore red in 1893, golden yellow in 1899 and silver white on the summit and chromo yellow at the base in 1907. There are people who would vote for an invisible shade of khaki for the coming renewal. The tower is now used as a wireless telegraph station, as a post for an electric device to prevent hailstorms and as a guiding mark for aviators.

YOU CAN DEFY HEADACHE!

Yes you can, with a box of ZUTOO Tablets in your pocket or home.

Taken when you feel a headache coming on, one little tablet will ward it off—nip it in the bud. Taken later it will cure the headache in twenty minutes.

Why then continue to suffer when a box of ZUTOO will make you headache proof. You would be suprised to know how many people, who never before used a headache remedy, are now using ZUTOO Tablets. Why not you?

GUN PRACTICE.

Some Curious Things Happen at the Big Gun Naval Practices.

That hoary old saw, "You can't please everybody," is curiously demonstrated in big-gun firing practice. When for any reason it is suspended, the experts declare that the country is going to the bow-wows; when it takes place, complaints pour into Whitehall by the ton.

Many of these are in consequence of damage done to property, which always suffers more or less through concussion waves. After the trial of the 38-ton guns on Seaforth Battery there was an enormous destruction of glass on the other side of the river, and the local glaziers had the time of their lives.

Still greater damage was done at Dover by the firing of the 9.3 guns. The vibrations were so great that in the neighborhood of Shakespeare's Cliff windows were broken, ceilings brought down, and pictures and ornaments shaken off walls, while at the Coastguard Station practically every house was damaged.

Sheerness, again, had a terrific shaking the last time the big guns in the Ravelin Battery were fired. Though the wind was blowing seaward at the time, the concussion waves shattered some of the plate-glass windows of business premises and drove in several window-panes in the public schools. In a few private houses, too, ceilings fell with an alarming crash.

For much of the breakage of glass, however, the public have only themselves to blame. Though the authorities give notice of firing practice, and suggest that windows be opened, many householders will not take this simple precaution, with the result that they have to call in the glazier. At Portsmouth they know better. Along the front at Southsea windows are always opened during big-gun firing.

When gun-firing practice takes place round the coast farmers have a grievance. It brings on, they contend, heavy rain, which falls just when they do not want it—at harvest time. On their behalf an effort was recently made to get the practice carried out in winter, but the Admiralty declined to make any alteration in the usual routine.

The erratic behavior of projectiles also gives rise to complaints, some of which are of a very serious character. A year or two ago a shot from Shoebury Battery struck the water not more than twenty yards from a small boat containing nine persons. No reason could be discovered for the abnormal conduct of the shell, but it was conjectured that it ricocheted from some floating substances.

A more remarkable incident happened off Dungeness. The crew of an Antwerp vessel went ashore, and on walking across the beach discovered a large shell. Thinking it would make an interesting memento, they took it to the boat, and conveyed it to their ship. A day or two later they began cleaning it, whereupon it exploded, blowing a man to pieces and badly injuring three others, one of them so seriously that he subsequently died. How the shell, which must have been fired from some heavy gun, reached the beach is still a mystery.

The most serious cases Whitehall has to deal with, however, are those in which craft are hit or sunk. One of a curious character took place off Portsmouth. When there are private reasons for getting practice over quickly, some very pretty firing takes place, the first or second shot knocking the target into smithereens, and thus making further work impossible. On this particular occasion the men wanted to get away, and consequently the gun was trained very carefully.

Unfortunately, however, the object aimed at was not the target, but a fishing-boat, which, seen from the battery, closely resembled it. So the shot crashed into it, sinking it instantly. By remarkable good fortune the men on board—who were soon picked up—were not even scratched, but the Admiralty had to pay for a new boat in place of that which had been sunk.

Skeleton of an Indian Dug Up.

The skeleton of an unknown man was discovered at the foot of Carlaw avenue, Toronto, by a Finland laborer in the employ of Jennings and Ross, contractors, while excavating for the overflow sewer which will drain the surface water into Ashbridge's Bay.

From the fact that the cheek bones were unusually high and the forehead sloping Mr. Jennings concluded that the skeleton was that of an Indian.

Consternation spread among the foreign laborers when, on the point of the pick of the Finlander the white skull came away from its resting place, and practically half a day's work was lost before they could be induced to return to work. Even then they seemed strongly superstitious. However, after the skeleton had been buried nearby, they resumed work, as their fears seemed to have been banished.

When seen, Mr. Jennings stated that there was evidence that the body had been buried in a rough hewn pine coffin, of which there remained but a few pieces of rotten timber. The skeleton was buried in about 3 feet of sand a hundred and fifty feet back from the present waterline, or practically on the waterline of 50 years ago.

DOCTORS FAILED. RESTORED BY PERUNA.

Catarrh of the Lungs Threatened Her Life.

Miss Ninette Porter, Braintree, Vermont, writes: "I have been cured by Peruna.

"I had several hemorrhages of the lungs. The doctors did not help me much and would never have cured me.

"I saw a testimonial in a Peruna almanac of a case similar to mine, and I commenced using it.

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me.

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment.

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

Where Did They Read 'Em?

Mr. John Murray, the publisher, speaking in London on the censorship of literature, instanced a book published last year, of which a dozen people had told him they would never allow it in their houses. "They had all apparently read the book—in the house of somebody else," said Mr. Murray.

Successful efforts to reclaim waste marsh lands by raising celery, are being made in Bermuda.

STANFIELD A FIGHTER

CHIEF CONSERVATIVE WHIP IS TOO LIVELY FOR SENATE

He Is an Aggressive Fighter and Loves the Political Game — Entered the Federal Arena In 1907 In the Days When There Was Little To Be Gained by a Conservative—Rumors That He May Go to Red Chamber.

He joined the writer at breakfast one stormy Sunday morning about a year ago. He entered the Parliamentary restaurant immersed in the reading of a letter, his face wreathed in smiles.

"Good news?" was the query which his demeanour prompted, followed introductory salutations.

"Letter from home," he replied, laconically. "Little fellow's been licked—in a fight."

There was an exultant ring about the last three words, which did much to explain the otherwise strange satisfaction over a happening which had meant defeat to the diminutive son and heir.

The story came out. He was, in fact, bubbling to tell it. The "little fellow" at home had seemed so docile and retiring that anxiety had taken hold of his father lest he should be unable to sufficiently assert himself in the rough and tumble days that were to be. And now he had fought, fought with a comrade nearly twice his size—and been wholesomely "licked."

The incident serves to reveal much of the why and wherefor of John

JOHN STANFIELD, M.P.

Stanfield's selection as Chief Whip of the Conservative party, when it returned successful from the polls last autumn to resume the job of running things at Ottawa. He is an aggressive, fearless fighter, and loves the tourney.

John Stanfield won his constituency of Colchester, Nova Scotia, in the days when there wasn't much winning going in Conservative circles. He was elected at the bye-election of 1907, capturing the seat on the appointment of Hon. F. A. Lawrence to the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, and making the first break in the then solid phalanx of eighteen Nova Scotia Liberals. Since that time he has sat continuously for the riding, and on the appointment of Hon. George H. Perley, former Chief Whip, to the new Borden Cabinet, the Premier-elect chose Mr. Stanfield as his successor. The new Chief Whip is a big and successful manufacturer, the president of Stanfields, Limited. He has adapted sound business methods to the game of politics, and declares it pays.

The recent death of Senator McKay, Truro, has started rumors that Mr. Stanfield may go to the red chamber. Those who know him best hold it is unlikely. He is too fond of the "game" to prefer the grandstand. However, Mr. Stanfield will doubtless have the nomination for the vacant Senatorship, and can suit himself. Meanwhile, he is engaged in rounding up and marshalling Premier Borden's big majority.—H. W. Anderson in The Canadian Courier.

Forbade Son's Marriage.

Dr. Pigou, the veteran Dean of Bristol, is one of the first authorities on church music in England, and is also one of the humorists of the pulpit.

One of his quaintest experiences happened once at Dr. Johnson's old church of St. Clement Dane's.

An old lady, armed with a big gingham, rushed into the vestry to forbid her son's marriage on the ground that he had no money. On being told that that was no legal impediment, she yelled, "Well, then, he has got no brains!"

Another of Dean Pigou's stories concerns a Halifax verger who, before the passing of the Deceased Wife's Sister Act, allowed him to marry unconsciously an aged couple within the prohibited degree. When remonstrated with, the verger replied: "Well, vicar, it was this way, do you see. One of the parties was eighty-four and t'other eighty-six. I says to myself, 'Lord, it can't last long; let them wed, and bother the laws!'"

Just the Thing.

"Your poem used? I should say not!" answered the editor.

"Would you give me a candid criticism of it?"

"Certainly. It's clumsy and vulgar and unspeakably idiotic."

"Good!"

"Good?"

"Yes; set to music, it will become a popular song."—Tit-Bits.

As Instructed.

A well known American author tells of an amusing incident that occurred during a reception given in his honor by a London society woman. The lionizing accorded this writer, who is a great favorite in England, did not upset him, nor was he chagrined by an embarrassing situation that confronted him just before the reception closed.

It was then that the hostess brought up to him her daughter, a pretty child of seven years. Just as soon as she had been presented the youngster said in a loud, clear voice:

"I think you're a very wonderful man."

"Why do you say that, my dear?" asked the author, smiling.

"Because," said the little girl, "mother told me to."—Harper's Magazine.

Admiral's Wit.

Admiral Sir Day Bosanquet, brother of the sedate and severe Common Sergeant of London, is famous for his sarcastic wit. Once during some naval manoeuvres he had to rebuke a young commander for mishandling his sloop, and asked him what would have happened in a real naval engagement if he had fought his ship like that. "If I had been with Nelson at Trafalgar," answered the commander, jauntily, "my ship would have sunk the French and the Spanish fleets by herself." "Humph," growled Bosanquet: "if Nelson had been the man I take him to have been, he'd have had you strung at the yardarm before he went into action."

When a Man Marries

WHEN a man marries he quickly discovers his need of innumerable things he had never thought of before.

And the butcher, the baker and the cabinet maker have a new home to supply.

The new husband and wife must buy things to which they had previously given little thought.

Right here is a fact overlooked by many merchants.

¶ They say, "How could it pay us to keep on repeating the story of our goods or service?"

¶ If they could reach every possible customer with one advertisement—and if people didn't forget—there might be no object in "keeping everlastingly at it."

¶ But because every possible customer does not read every advertisement, you must repeat.

¶ And because these thousands of new homes are every day coming into existence, continuous advertising brings increased results.

¶ Perhaps some people knew your goods or your store five or ten years ago. Since then new generations have come into existence.

¶ The boy of to-day is the man who will sign the cheques to-morrow. To-day your advertisements are of small interest to him. To-morrow he is your customer, if you solicit his trade through advertising.

¶ Every day thousands of people discover for the first time their need of your kind of goods.

¶ Will you be there every day with your bid for their business?

¶ Or will you leave the field to your competitors?

Advertising is the key that opens the door of these new homes to your goods.

Is Advertising on your key-ring?

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Tells How She Keeps Her Health — Happiness For Those Who Take Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich. — "I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine." —Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for woman's ills known.

A PYTHON IN SPLINTS.

Interesting Reptile Surgery at the London Zoo.

A second operation has just been performed on the great python at the zoological gardens, who fractured his jaw while swallowing a goat a few weeks ago.

After the jaw and head had been enveloped in a rigid casing for a couple of weeks he began to shed his skin. It was impossible for the patient to complete the shedding while the head was bound up, and the bandage was therefore removed. The bones of the jaw, it was found, had partly reunited.

With his head free again the python was obviously in the best of spirits and celebrated the occasion by swallowing a duck. The skin of the head was then shed, including the transparent outer lenses of the eye. Afterward it was decided to replace the plaster of paris.

Awaiting a moment when the giant reptile was coiled in his tank, six heavy keepers crawled into his cage, each carrying a stout board. These were quickly slid over the top of the tank while the operators sought for the injured head through an opening between two of the boards. Once the neck was seized the six heavy keepers sprang on the boards and were ordered to sit tight, thus forming a living roof. As the powerful coils heaved inside the tank the heavy keepers were lifted up bodily, but their combined weight was too much for the heavy python, and the splint and bandages were rapidly replaced.

It will be some weeks before the bandages are removed, and meantime the python will not be able to eat or see.—London Mail.

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has Hitherto Baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhozone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases.

What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhozone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat, lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system.

Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs?

Why not use Catarrhozone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhozone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment. Is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists. That is why

CONCERT HALL SCENES.

Remarkable Incidents Which Were Not Given on the Program.

Many Londoners will recall a remarkable affair which caused no little sensation at the Steinway Hall a few years ago. Some practical jokers desired to take a rise out of a well-known singer, and for this purpose they dressed up a wax figure to resemble him as closely as possible, and then, assisted by the arrangement of the building, thrust this effigy on to the platform in full view of the audience while the vocalist in question was actually singing. Naturally, the audience was dumbfounded for the moment, as also was the victim of this "joke," which was, in reality, an outrage. Quickly recovering himself, however, he addressed a dignified sentence expressive of his amazement at the occurrence to the audience, and then left the platform, after which the offending figure was removed by the attendants. This was certainly an occurrence of a very unusual kind.

A personal incident of another order occurred in a London concert room more recently. This was in March, 1905, at which time, it may be recalled, a great revivalist mission was being held in London. The scene was St. George's Hall, and the occasion an afternoon ballad concert, at which it had been arranged that a well-known society entertainer would provide a "humorous interlude." When, however, the artiste appeared he startled the audience by announcing that, as he had been "converted to God through the agency of the mission at the Albert Hall," he did not feel inclined to proceed with the task of amusing people, and therefore begged to be excused. Whereupon he left the platform, never to return to the stage again.

The modern practice which requires all instrumental soloists to play from memory has been responsible not infrequently for trying occurrences. The late Henry Holmes, formerly well known as a violinist, once figured in a painful incident of this kind. He was playing in a concerto of Spohr at a Philharmonic concert some years ago, when, on reaching the cadenza in the last movement, his memory completely failed him, and, coming to a sudden stop, he ran right off the platform—leaving the conductor and orchestra to finish the work as well as they could without him.

Mr. W. Matthews, a famous amateur flautist of an earlier generation, had an unpleasant experience of a somewhat different kind. He was playing a solo at one of the Leslie Choir concerts in the old St. James' Hall, when it was noticed that his tone seemed to be getting weaker and weaker, till eventually not a note would come, and he had to leave the platform. Temporary paralysis of the lips, induced by extreme nervousness, was understood to have been the cause of his breakdown.

Mme. Melba was once the victim of a rather disconcerting experience in her native Australia. After singing one of her famous songs she had returned to the platform, and was about to sing again when a loud voice was heard: "Keep perfectly still a moment; I am going to take a flashlight photograph." Melba had evidently not been apprised of this part of the program, for she was clearly taken aback, but, like the laughing audience, she bowed to the inevitable and the photographer got his picture.

A Varied Career.

Mr. Frank Harris, who has recently been lecturing to the fashionable world at "the Ritz," London, is one of the most remarkable figures in contemporary English literature. He was editor of The Fortnightly at its best, he made The Saturday Review the first literary paper in England, and invented Bernard Shaw as a dramatic critic. He has written some of our best short stories, one of our best novels—"The Bomb," a book on Shakespeare, which is as interesting as a romance and as startling as a Yellow Press news par. He discovered the late Richard Middleton; he fought numberless literary duels on "Vanity Fair." He has traveled all over America—in the West where no man's life is safe without a revolver; on Wall Street, where no man's life is safe without a bundle of debentures. He has made money at finance, he has a villa at Nice, and he has accused Mr. G. B. Shaw of stealing the idea of his Shakespeare play.

Classified.

Lord Normanby is one of the few peers and the only marquis in England in holy orders. For many years he conducted a school at Mulgrave, and some good stories are told of his scholastic days. His charges led an unpampered life. Hampers were forbidden, and the boys' weekly pocket money was limited to threepence.

Once when expounding the mysteries of the creation Lord Normanby asked one pupil, who is now a well known politician, the difference between himself and a tiger, meaning, of course, the difference in the scale of nature. The boy thought hard and at last blurted out:

"A tiger, sir, is an imperfect beast; but you are—well, a perfect beast!"

To Fight John Burns.

Viscount Curzon, who has accepted the invitation of the council of the Conservative Association to contest the seat of the Rt. Hon. John Burns, M.P., is the only child of Lord Howe by his marriage with the late Lady Georgina Spencer-Churchill, daughter of the seventh Duke of Marlborough.

Mr. Burns' young opponent (he is only twenty-seven) is a commander in the naval reserve, in which he has served for eight years. He is a man of great personal charm, and is sure to put up a good fight against the redoubtable Tribune of Battersea.

Some Recommendation.

A Hindu baker's assistant in Bombay, on setting up in business for himself, bethought him of catering for the English community as well as for the native one. With this end in view, accordingly, he had the following painted over his doorway: "Ram Bux solicits respectful patronage. He is a first-class British loafer."

"The Value of Forgetting," runs a heading. It depends upon the amount borrowed.

DOCTORS GAVE ME UP

But "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Me.

MOORFIELD, ONT., March 25th, 1910.

"I suffered from severe indigestion and dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without fearful distress.

I could not do any work and became so run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors and they both pronounced my case incurable, that they could do nothing more for me as they thought my disease was HEART FAILURE AND INCURABLE. The doctors gave me up and I looked forward for death in a short time.

At this time my son asked me to try 'FRUIT-A-TIVES', and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better, and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight."

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. box—6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c.—or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A NEW IDEA.

Montreal Man Makes a Curious Holiday Suggestion.

Writing in a Montreal daily paper not long ago, Mr. John H. Roberts makes a curious suggestion about summer holidays which is valuable grist at this time of year. His chief contention is that the Canadian idea of a summer home puts too great a strain upon the mother of the family. Mother is worn out with packing, getting in supplies, putting the summer house in order and entertaining. To meet this evil, as he terms it, he makes these suggestions:

"What we really want is an organized holiday movement which would teach us how to enjoy holidays, show us how where to go and how to get there, and enable us to make the most of the all-too-short vacation time. I am not writing for those to whom expense and time are no object. I have in mind those of us who only have a limited amount of time and money to spend. This section has its holiday needs met in the old land by what is known there as the Co-operative Holiday movement. The idea originated in the brain of a clergyman and has spread at a remarkable pace until to-day there are seven or eight different holiday-homes, including one in Switzerland.

"The association has bought large houses or mansions in different parts of the country, it places a matron and a staff in charge of each one, and keeps them open for the larger part of each year. Comradeship is the keynote of the movement and with the holiday is combined the educational ideal. For instance, each day has its program of trips and excursions from the Home to places of interest in the surrounding country. One day there will be a mountain climb, another a drive to some famous old castle or monastery, perhaps, or a tramp to some point of interest. Arrived at the destination for the day the ladies of the party make ready the meal which the men have carried in their knapsacks. Then some geological expert or teacher of history gives a talk on the subject of particular interest in that locality, and, it is safe to say, that these holiday-makers return knowing more of their country's wonders or its story than the average vacation tripper would learn in a lifetime.

"Why cannot we do something like this in Canada? We are a young people and our history is in the making. But we could, I believe, develop a movement which would help us to know our country in the most intimate sense and link us together in the bonds of steadfast comradeship. Holidays organized, purposeful, and helpful may be had, but not on the present aimless plan most of us now follow. I shall be most happy to co-operate with any of my fellow-citizens to whom the idea here advanced may appeal."

Halton County Council will spend $300,000 on good roads.

DIABETES

Is one of the most cruel maladies of which mankind is subject, the many complications arising from time to time, making life seem almost unbearable. For many diseases, medical, scientific, and physiological knowledge and experience gained from years of deep research, has achieved remarkable results, but, up to now, little has been discovered of practical value in the treatment and cure of Diabetes. In fact, people have begun to look upon the disease as well-nigh incurable. Even in the medical profession can be found doctors who are of the same opinion, regarding sceptically any claim to ameliorate or improve the condition of a diabetic patient.

It can, however, be proved that SANSOL'S ANTIDIABETES lastingly cures all cases of Diabetes. Full particulars can be obtained from the Sansol Mfg. Co., Winnipeg, Man.

STORIES WIN WIVES.

Literary Men Who Have Found Their Mates by Their Books.

A few days since at a dinner given by the Authors' Club in London, the editor of The Cornhill told how a story which appeared in that magazine was instrumental in bringing about a marriage.

The story in question, the work of a contributor from whom more than one tale had been previously accepted, not being up to the required standard, was returned by the editor to its author, from whom soon afterwards came a letter wherein the writer stated that he and his fiancee having quarrelled were not on speaking terms—a state of affairs which he had trusted to put right by the publication of the rejected story, which contained matter the perusal of which would, he was sure, have softened the lady's heart. The letter concluded with the request that the editor would reconsider his decision. This was granted, with the result that the marriage was duly celebrated.

More than one literary man owes a happy marriage to his books. Long before she first met her future husband had Elizabeth Barrett felt herself drawn towards the author of "Bells and Pomegranates," of which she makes the hero of "Lady Geraldine's Courtship" say: "Some Pomegranate of Browning's, which, if cut deep down the middle, shows the heart within blood-tinctured of a veined humanity." Nor was Browning insensible to the charm of the lady's work, so that the inevitable, though delayed, meeting resulted in a love which, overcoming all obstacles, resulted in the happiest of unions.

It was through his play, "The Plain Dealer," that William Wycherley made the acquaintance of the lady who was destined to be his wife. One day, when at Tunbridge Wells, he chanced to be making a purchase in a bookseller's shop on the Pantiles, when a very handsome woman came in and inquired for "The Plain Dealer," which had then but recently been published. "Madam," he said, with his most gallant bow, "I am the Plain Dealer," and followed up this introduction with such assiduity that the lady, who turned out to be the widowed Countess of Drogheda, gave gracious ear to his suit, and, after a brief courtship, accepted him as her husband. In this case, however, the marriage did not turn out a success, for the lady proved to be imperious, extravagant, and jealous, though her comparatively early death released the poet from a life of misery.

Father of Warships.

Sir William White, who has just completed his 67th year, has probably done more for the world's navies than any man living. For sixteen years he was Director of Naval Construction, during which time he designed more than two hundred and fifty battleships, the building and equipment of which represented an outlay of one hundred millions sterling. The principles of naval architecture laid down by him have been followed in every shipbuilding yard in the world, and his pupils have covered the oceans with copies or developments of his design. Sir William began his career as a shipwright apprentice at Devonport in the early sixties, and was appointed to the Admiralty at the age of twenty-two, when Sir Edward Reed was Chief Constructor. He remained at the Admiralty until 1902, when a breakdown in health caused his retirement. He once nearly lost his life in a submarine. The boat stuck in the mud at the bottom, and was only raised in the nick of time.

Whistler's White Feather.

One of Mr. Whistler's many peculiarities was a lock of white hair gleaming from among the black tresses on his forehead. At one house to which he had been invited to dinner the butler came into the drawing room and whispered:

"There's a gent downstairs says 'e 'as come to dinner wat's forgot 'is necktie and stuck a fevver in his 'air."

For at this period Whistler never wore a necktie when in evening dress.

The white lock bewildered others. On one occasion when in a box at the opera the attendant leaned over and said, "Beg your pardon, sir, but there's a white feather in your hair, just on top."

How to Change the Color of a Cat.

Remarking that cold storage is the best method of preserving meat on board ship, Professor P. A. Ellis Richards, lecturing at the Queen's College, told the story of a certain cat, which had slipped into the hold of a vessel bringing meat from Buenos Ayres, and been there immured for the whole voyage.

The animal fared excellently during its incarceration, as was apparent when the cold storage compartment was opened in London and the cat walked forth, plump and smiling. The only difference observable was that the Arctic rigors of its recent environment had changed the color of its fur from black to white.

Old Easter Customs.

The English people formerly had two very large cakes divided among the congregation at the church on Easter. In 1645 Parliament forbade this by law, providing that the money spent for cakes should in future be used to buy bread for the poor.

At Easter let your clothes be new
Or else be sure you will it rue.

The boys in the north of England will tell you that if you do not put on something new on Easter day some misfortune will befall you.

Underneath all these customs and carols lies the symbol of Christ's resurrection.

An English Turf Custom.

A curious usage of the English turf is one which ordains that, when once worn, the cap and jacket representing a patron's "colors" become the property of the jockey. If, as frequently happens, the owner wishes to retain them as a memento of a successful race, he must buy them from the employe to whom perhaps he gave them but an hour or two before.

TRAMPED 60 MILES TO SAVE HIS CHUM

LARDER LAKE, ONT., MARCH 26th, 1911.

"I am writing to tell you the good GIN PILLS did me. I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time, the pain was something awful and no rest at night. I began to feel worn out. I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum out to get them (about 60 miles)—and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief. In two days, the pain had left me altogether. I took about half a box and to-day I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again. Thanking you for the pills which I always intend to keep by me. Yours respectfully,

SID CASTLEMAN.

WELCOME RELIEF.

We have never received a letter that pleased us more than this one. When we realize what Gin Pills meant to this sick man, lying on a bed of pain miles away from a doctor in the frozen north, and how they helped him, we feel that our efforts to prepare a standard preparation for Kidney and Bladder Troubles have been crowned with success.

GIN PILLS is a wonderful solvent for uric acid. It instantly neutralizes the hot, scalding urine, allays the burning pain, soothes the irritated bladder and heals the kidneys. C. A. MINER, Manager.

They are saying of a pioneer who died lately, that as a young man, he once killed twenty-seven buffalo in one day, out on the plains. There is great indignation; people say it was brutal. Don't wory, he never did it. You know how men lie in telling hunting stories.

It always amuses me to see a "good mixer" working among the people; it is as interesting as a good pointer dog working among birds.

New Municipal Building Will Tower 560 Feet In the Air.

Of all the big structures in the city the new municipal building has the largest steel frame, the height of which is forty stories, including the tower, which begins at the twenty-sixth story. There were used for it 26,000 tons of steel, several girders weighing fifty tons each, and some floor beams were required of such a size that many weigh ten tons each.

The building is 560 feet high and will be the fourth tallest building in the world when the Woolworth building, the highest, is completed. It required 700,000 cubic feet of granite to incase the steel frame, some of the base stones weighing as much as sixty tons each, and more than 1,000,000 square feet of tile and floor were used.

There is about an acre of usable space on every floor, except those in the tower section, which will be used by more than 6,000 employees of various departments of the city government that will be accommodated in the new building. The basement will have about two acres of space, which is to be wholly utilized for a subway station. This is probably the only building in the world that has its basement above ground, as the provisions for the subway necessitated the using of the fourth floor of the building as the basement for machinery for elevators and the operating plant. The building will have thirty-two elevators and four stairways.

The structure, including the land it covers, will cost between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000, but despite this enormous expenditure for one building it will prove a most profitable investment, as is indicated in a recent report of Comptroller Prendergast that the city spends about $1,000,000 a year in rent. The bulk of the expenditure will cease when the municipal building is completed.—New York Post.

BIG FORTUNES IN GERMANY.

Forty-five Million Dollars Is the Top Figure of the Empire.

The essential matter of a recently suppressed Prussian "year book" is gradually coming to light, and a conspectus of the millionaire class of Germany is now possible. A millionaire in that part of the world is the possessor of a million marks ($250,000), and of this class, according to the author of the compilation, there are 8,300.

The greatest seven fortunes in Prussia range between $45,000,000 and $17,000,000. The two named are both possessed by women—the former by the daughter of Krupp, the latter by a daughter of the Vienna Rothschilds. Between them come a number of noblemen whose wealth is principally in coal and zinc, a fact strongly corroborative of the claims to mineral wealth lately put forward by Germany. Immediately behind the fragment of the Rothschild fortune follows a Berlin banker. After him comes a duke in the mining and manufacturing district of Westphalia with $15,000,000.

Americans will wonder at the precision with which the Prussian fiscal authorities ascertain and tax them. The information is based upon assessments for "income and capital taxes," and an ingenious Teutonic system of checks and counterchecks leaves no room for ambiguity and permits no rich man a chance to escape paying his just dues. A publication equally accurate and comprehensive, dealing with American millionaires, would have its interest, but cannot be looked for at once.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Latest In Ocean Palaces.

A German company is planning to build the greatest passenger carrying steamship in the world, the idea being to provide luxuary rather than to seek speed. She will be an eleven storied floating palace, will carry 5,000 passengers and will have engines of 80,000 horsepower, exactly twice as powerful as those of the new White Star liners. On the promenade deck one of the new features will be quiet summer houses in old English rustic style for tea and coffee parties. Another new feature will be a huge marble swimming bath running through two decks. The bath is to be an exact copy of one found in Pompeii, and its mosaic pavements are to be copies of Roman pavements discovered at Treves.

Fresh Air.

A calendar published by a manufacturer of a ventilating novelty bears in conspicuous type under every date the words, "Good air—the best doctor—costs nothing." For every day there is also a short hint on the volume of good air. Among the little essays are these: "Once upon a time hot poultices and tightly closed rooms cured (?) pneumonia. Now it's fresh air." "In 1812 consumptives died in stuffy rooms; in 1912 they live in fresh air." "Ten full inhalations of good air before dinner do more good than the best cocktail." "Fresh air in your bedroom will make you cheerful at breakfast." "A doctor for mind and body—always on call—never sends a bill—fresh air."—New York Tribune.

Keep Off the Track!

More than half the persons who are killed on the railways each year are trespassers who walk on the tracks. In ten years 50,708 such trespassers have been killed and 54,183 injured. Laws prescribing safety appliances for the protection of persons engaged in hazardous occupations are on the books in all the states. There are also laws forbidding trespassers upon railroad rights of way. People who walk upon railroad tracks simply tempt providence.—Leslie's.

Coal Results

¶ We sell the very best quality of hard coal, as good as we know how to buy.

¶ Are you getting results from the you are now using? Are you sure it is good? Are you burning it the right way?

¶ There is a deal of difference in how you handle the range or furnace, Our long experience tells us that fact, and we are ready to advise any in doubt as to the best way to make use of coal as fuel.

GUIDE FOR THE KAISER.

Philosophy Inscribed Upon a Scroll In Wilhelm's Workroom.

In the workroom of Kaiser Wilhelm hangs a scroll on which is inscribed, according to a translation given in the Chicago Tribune, the following sentiment:

To be strong in sorrow, not wishing for that which is unattainable or worthless, content with each day as it comes, seeking for the good in everything and enjoying nature and mankind as it is; finding solace in one happy hour for a thousand bitter ones and always giving the best that is in one even though no thanks are received—who learneth that lesson is happy, free and proud, and his life will be a beautiful one, but he who mistrusts only wrongs others and harms himself. It is our duty to consider every one good until the contrary is proved. The world is so large and we are so small—everything cannot possibly revolve round ourselves. If something injures us or causes us pain, who knows but what it is necessary for the good of the whole creation? The great, wise will of the almighty and omnipotent Creator manifests itself in everything, animate or inanimate, in this world. We petty human beings lack only the wisdom to comprehend it. As everything is, so should it be in this world, and, no matter how it is, it is always good in the eyes of the Creator.

Burning a Snowball.

Can you pick up a handful of snow, pack it into a good, solid, "throwing" snowball and then light it with a match? If you can perform this trick you are pretty sure to mystify the onlookers, and the secret of it is simple enough once you know it. The snowball can be rolled in full view of the spectators. It can also be passed round so that everybody may have a chance to see that it is real snow. What they do not see is that on one side a lump of camphor has been inserted. It is this that is lighted. It will burn until nothing is left of the ball but a shell. When there is no snow the same trick may be performed by thrusting the camphor into the top of a dish of cracked ice.—Youth's Companion.

Musicians and the Phonograph.

If Caruso, the great tenor, happens to lose his voice or becomes incapacitated because of such illness as has kept him off the operatic stage the last half of two seasons he will feel consoled by the knowledge that his royalties from a phonograph company will exceed $100,000 a year for many years to come, while Mme. Tetrazzini is grateful that the same company refused to pay her $1,000 five years ago for the very same effort that they are now paying her $35,000 a year for. Then the diva was willing to take the lower figure outright for her records, but a year ago she demanded a bonus of $25,000, besides the royalties, and she got it.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Dogs Rescued Two Women.

The dogs of St. Bernard's recently rescued two women who were on their way to Milan and were overtaken by a storm. The women were overcome, and it seemed that death was certain. One of the dogs, passing, scented the travelers. He barked as only St. Bernard dogs can bark, and this brought up his comrade, who was some distance away. The two dogs started on their search and found the women half buried in snow and then ran off to the hospice, and the brothers were able to add two more names to their long list of rescues.—Paris Matin.

An Incentive to Civic Interest.

"I believe de recall 'ud help to reform me," said Plodding Pete.

"What difference would de recall make to you?" inquired Meandering Mike.

"If we had it I t'ink I'd quit dis roving life an' settle down an' try to git back at some o' dese judges dat keeps sendin' me up."—Washington Star.

In Shakespeare's Time.

Patron—No native productions on the stage at all this year, eh?

Elizabethan Manager—No. We'd produce English plays, but we simply can't get them. All the successes of the season have been foreign made plots that Bill Shakespeare made over to suit our tastes.—Puck.

Public Ownership at the "Soo."

The Sault Ste. Marie Board of Trade held a meeting the other night and passed some strong resolutions. The board wants public ownership at the Soo. In two years' time, two important municipal franchises expire. They are those held by the Tagoma Water & Light Co., which concern, at present, lights the city and supplies the drinking water. The Board of Trade favors the municipality controlling the waterworks and electric light plant.

The board also has some opinions on such matters of local interest at the Soo as the improving of the water front, erection of a Government port at the ship canal, appointment of an industrial commissioner, and rebuilding of the Government dock. The board is playing a hand in the municipal elections, and will try to elect a council which will look after the policy it advocates.

A Mediaeval Impost.

Montreal's bath tub tax, a relic of the days when bath taps and bath tubs were among the luxuries of the rich, will probably be abolished. The tax is one dollar per bath tap in all houses having a rental of $150 per wear or over. Last year it netted $23,000. The Board of Control met the other day and heard protests against the tax. It was pointed out that the tax now fell on poor as well as rich, as rentals had greatly enhanced in the last few years, and the board recommended its abolishment.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"

Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.

"No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble." writes Phil. E. Pascalar, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the druggist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."

No remedy for biliousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. If you own a good watch; better be on the safe side — Bring it to our Repair Department where it will receive Skilled Attention.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE AT THE S. A. TEMPLE

At the S.A. Temple last night a very impressive service was held. The platform was transformed, one side representing the way to the cross, the other the tomb. There were short scripture readings, and these were followed by solos, duets and quartettes. The singing was very effective and the electric effects were good. Miss Pearl Payton presided at the organ. Much credit is due to Mr. Fred Merrett, who prepared the program, and to Mr. Thos. Yost, who arranged the electrical effects. Special meetings will be held in the Temple on Sunday, with special music by the band at 7 a.m. There will also be an early morning march out.

A Warship's Trail.

Incinerators are to be tested in some of our warships. I. W. W. Causes More Reductions.

Seattle, Wn., April 6.—Interest in the activity of the Industrial Workers of the World shifted yesterday from British Columbia, where 6,000 railroad laborers are on strike, to Southwestern Washington, where 1,000 sawmill workers are out, and where the situation has been complicated by a split in the municipal commission of Hoquiam.

The mayor, Harry Ferguson, is siding with the Industrial Workers, in their demand that they be permitted to remain in town unmolested while conducting the strike. The other two commissioners are backing the mill owners, and the citizens' committee in their efforts to drive the men from the district.

Reorganizing Diplomatic Corps.

Paris, April 6.—A series of diplomatic changes is being considered by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, according to The Figaro. It is regarded as possible that Jules J. Jusserand, at present French ambassador at Washington, will be transferred to Madrid, and that Antony Viadislas Klobukewski, who is now French Minister at Brussels, will be sent to Washington. No confirmation of these movements can be obtained.

The French Cabinet is about to choose an ambassador to Austria-Hungary in succession to Philip Harus Crozier, who resigned in March, and this fact may have given rise to the report of coming transfers.

Irrigation is slowly lowering the average temperature of Egypt.

KNOX CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, April 14th, Knox Church will celebrate its Fifth Anniversary with appropriate services. It is just five years since this congregation was organized as a self-sustaining congregation, and five years since Knox church called its first and present pastor, Rev. H. J. Keith. The preacher for the 14th will be the Rev. Thos. S. Mitchell, of the new St. James' Church, London, Ont., one of the most attractive personalities in the ministry and a preacher whom some have described as the Hugh Black of Canada. On Monday evening there will be a congregational rally when Rev. A. L. Greggie, of Parkdale Church, Toronto, will be present to give an entertaining address. Mr. Greggie is a favorite with Peterborough audiences as he is everywhere, and with these two strong men Knox Church will have a most successful celebration of their anniversary.

Why this terrific clamor from some women to vote? For a dollar, any woman can hire a man to vote her Big Principles at the polls; at some polling places, the rate is even lower than that.

STORY OF ROSENTHAL MURDER AND ROBBERY "TALL, FAIR YOUNG MAN" WANTED

Joseph Rosenthal Is Beaten to Death by Unknown Thugs Who Enticed Him to a Lonely Place at the Foot of Strachan Avenue to Look at a Car of Scrap — Eli Dunkelman Is Also a Victim of the Miscreants.

Toronto, April 8.—Lured to a lonely spot in rear of the Hydro-electric transform station, near the foot of Strachan avenue on the pretext of the sale of a carload of scrapiron, Joseph Rosenthal, 133 York street, was murdered Friday night, and Eli Dunkelman, 181 West Richmond street, was so beaten that he is in the General Hospital with a severe fracture of the skull and many die. The clues in the hands of the police are meagre. The most definite is a description of a tall fair young man, who called at Dunkelman's house on Thursday to tell the old man to go to 205 Strachan avenue at 7 o'clock Friday night, taking with him enough money to purchase the carload of scrapiron.

Lying upon its face with a ten pound cake of concrete resting at the base of the battered skull, the dead body of Joseph Rosenthal was found at 7.15 Saturday morning by John Blythe, H. Hewitt and Patrick Hayden, three employes of the Hydro-Electric Commission. Nearby was a pool of blood which they took to indicate that the body had been dragged by a rope which hung about the neck of the body. This later proved to be the spot where Dunkelman had lain in a semi-conscious state through the night. The police were notified and the body removed to the morgue.

At 8 o'clock Saturday morning Dunkelman staggered up to his own door. He rang the bell and was admitted by his little daughter, who did not know him, so bespattered with blood and mud was he. He had left the house at 6 o'clock Friday night to go with Rosenthal to meet some men who were to sell them a car of scrapiron. Taking with him more than $100 and possibly over $200. Mr. Rosenthal had more than $50 on him.

While in the house waiting to be taken to the hospital, Dunkelman talked incoherently of the assault upon himself and Rosenthal. First he mumbled that three men had set upon them. Then he said that he had fallen from a rig and later that Rosenthal was coming and would tell all about the matter.

The story of the murder begins on Tuesday, when a man giving his name as "Smith" called up Mr. Rosenthal, jr., at his office and asked how he could see his father, as he had some scrapiron to sell him. The son said he would speak to his father. The man called again and twice more that night. He wanted to make an appointment for Wednesday morning at the corner of Bay and Queen streets, but the son said that if he had business to transact with his father he would arrange a meeting at his office.

Wednesday a tall, fair, slim, youngish man called at the home of Mr. Dunkelman and left a note asking him to call at 205 Strachan avenue Friday night. Thursday Dunkelman went to the tailor shop of his son David and asked him to cash a check, saying that he was going to buy some scrapiron and saying that it was too late to get the check cashed, and the men would not want a check, but would have to have the money.

Dunkelman was seen at his office at 6 oclock Friday night, and was then waiting for Rosenthal to meet him to go to buy some scrap iron. He did not say where they were to go. When Dunkelman did not turn up at his home at 1 o'clock Saturday morning his two sons went to look for him at the foot of Strachan avenue, where they believed that he had gone, but found no traces of either him or Rosenthal.

Dunkelman went through two operations in the hospital on Saturday. These were performed in an endeavor to save his life. The doctors have still a thread of hope that he will recover.

Dunkelman had just bought out a junk business in West Richmond street, and there had been dealings in copper wire which it is now believed may have been Hydro-electric wire, though this was not suspected at the time. It is not yet explained how the large hammer used in the assault and murder and which was the property of the Hydro-electric came into the hands of the murderers.

One of the most surprising things in connection with the matter is the fact that from the hour between seven and eight o'clock Saturday morning Dunkelman, covered with blood and mud, with his clothing torn and his head battered, staggered through more than a mile of the city's most traversed thoroughfare, and yet no one seems to have seen him save a few workmen who noticed him staggering up Strachan avenue and believed him to be drunk.

An inquest was opened at the morgue Saturday afternoon.

TRENTON MAN PASSES AWAY

Belleville, April 8.—A young man, George W. Rumble of Trenton, on Saturday afternoon received fatal injuries by being struck by a G.T.R. freight train near Trenton. The victim died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital. An inquest will be held on Monday.

Rumble had made two trial trips on the G.T.R. as fireman. He was unmarried and his parents reside at Calgary.

Ate Swans for Easter Dinner.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 8.—Roast swan formed the staple article of Easter dinner in many homes here yesterday. More than three hundred swans have been taken from the lower river during the past two days, many being killed by being carried over the falls, while scores were shot by hunters. They are flavored like goose.

"Cheese King" Passes.

Smith's Falls, April 8.—One of the best known and highly respected residents of Smith's Falls passed away at his home on Friday in the person of Mr. M. K. Everett, known throughout the country as "the Ottawa Valley cheese king." He was in his eightieth year.

RUSSIA IS VERY NERVOUS

Turkey Seems to Have a European Power Behind Her.

London, April 8.—The relations of Russia and Turkey, which a few weeks ago caused the circulation of alarming reports, may at any moment reach an acute stage, and again the bone of contention will be Persia.

At the close of the Russo-Japanese war, Turkey moved some troops into the Persian Province of Azerbaijan, a strip of which has been in dispute for upwards of 200 years. Turkey claims this strip; Persia holds it, but the ownership has yet to be decided. The question has been subject of negotations, but while these have been going on, Russia asserts that Turkey has been slowly moving her forces forward until they have gone even beyond the disputed strip and now command the western part of Azerbaijan from Lake Urumiah to the frontier and could with ease attack the Russian Province of Erivan.

Turkey's firmness in supporting her contention, and not only placing troops in the disputed strip, but moving them forward, has given rise in Russia to a suspicion that some other power is behind the Ottoman Government.

THE END AT HAND

Special to the Review.

London, April 8.—Although Easter Monday is usually observed as a holiday, and it was not expected that the work in the mines would be fully resumed till to-morrow, the whirr of machinery is heard to-day in every manufacturing centre of Great Britain. Factories which had closed resumed operations, utilizing the small quantity of reserve coal at hand. In Scotland practically all miners are at work, and in England and Wales over fifty per cent.

Men Ordered to Work.

London, April 8.—The decision of the Miners' Federation Saturday afternoon to order the men to resume work has brought intense relief to the whole country. The termination of the coal strike virtually amounts to raising a ruinous siege of the nation's industries, which has inflicted financial loss by far larger than would have been caused by a war with a great power of similar duration.

In Scotland the miners will return to the collieries to-day, but as to-day is a holiday in England and Wales, the strikers there will not return to the coal fields until to-morrow. In many of the mines two or three days more will elapse before repairs can be completed. By the end of the week, however, it is expected that every colliery will be in full swing.

MAY BE THE MAN

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 8.—The police think that Wm. T. Smith, the young Irishman who roomed at 95 Peter street, and who was arrested this morning on the charge of theft, may be the mysterious "Smith" who lured Joseph Rosenthal to his death Friday night by a telphone message. Both Smith and Rosenthal spent the preceding night at a temperance hotel on York street.

BIG ANTI-HOME RULE MEETING TO BE HELD BY ULSTERMEN TO-MORROW

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Protestants Will Participate In a Demonstration Against the Home Rule Bill, Which Is to Be Introduced In the Commons on Thursday—Bonar Law Big Attraction.

London, April 8.—Belfast is to have another great anti-home rule demonstration on Easter Tuesday, two days before the date set for the introduction of the home rule bill by the House of Commons. This time there will be no necessity of moving troops into the city as was the case when Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, held his now historic meeting in the chief town of Ulster. An Irish member to make sure that Belfast would not again be put under practically what amounted to martial law, to enable a prominent politician to speak, asked the question in the House of Commons the other day. The reply of Augustine Birrell, the Irish Secretary, was that he thought the Nationalists could be depended upon not to interfere with free speech.

The head and centre of the demonstration is Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the Unionist party. While he will be speaking before the bill is introduced in the Commons, the scope of the bill is now fairly well known. The bill itself will not be issued until after the Prime Minister has delivered his speech in introducing it.

The demonstration, in which 150,000 men will take part, will be held at the Royal Ulster Agricultural Society's grounds. Since the beginning of the year, meetings have been held all over Ulster to protest against home rule, and the meeting on April 9 will be a climax to the series. The men have been carefully drilled so that the parades and march past shall pass off without any hitch. The main portion of the participants will be drawn from the Unionist Clubs of Ireland and the Loyal Orange Order.

The men from the shipyards of Belfast, 5,000 in number, will also take part, although the head of the greatest of the shipbuilding concerns, Lord Pirie, a native of Quebec, is for home rule, his employes are against it.

In other parts of Ireland, Nationalists will hold home rule meetings, not because their constituents need conversion, but to keep up interest in the question.

There will also be a number of meetings in England, Wales and Scotland. It is rather interesting to note that the name "Gladstone" again appears among the list of Englishmen who are trying to convert the masses of England to the principle of self-government for the sister isle. W. G. C. Gladstone, grandson of the "grand old man," and member for Kilmarnock burgs, has been taking a prominent part in the campaign, in England and Scotland.

KILLED WITH BILLIARD CUE

Toronto, April 8.—Joseph Solina, 97 Walton street, the Italian, who was hit over the head with a billiard cue on Friday night died in St. Michael's Hospital at 6 o'clock last night.

Solina, who for the past two years had been employed as a boot black at Callicott and Finnigan's billiard room, 319 Yonge street, was sweeping out the premises shortly before midnight on Friday when he noticed a young man still staying in the room, although it was after the closing hour. He told him he must leave. This put the man in a rage and picking up a billiard cue he struck Solina a terrific blow over the back of the head. The man then rushed out.

The Italian was taken to the office of Dr. O'Rielly, 52 College street, and from there removed to the hospital. He was completely knocked out by the blow and was unable to speak afterwards. He died from a fracture of the skull.

A number of people claim to have recognized the man who struck the blow. They state that he was not a foreigner as had previously been stated. He is a fair-haired, clean-shaven man about five feet and a half tall and thirty years of age. There is a deep cut across his left cheek. Detective Strome is now trying to locate him.

The body of Solina was removed to the morgue, where Coroner G. W. Graham opened an inquest at eleven o'clock this morning.

Kingston, April 8.—J. Y. Parkhill, a prominent wholesale produce dealer, died suddenly this morning. He was 65 years of age.

Ruef Turns on the Light.

San Francisco, April 8.—Abraham Ruef, convicted political boss of San Francisco, now serving a sentence of fourteen years in San Quentin prison, began in The San Francisco Bulletin yesterday a series of articles, which he declares will constitute a complete expose of the men accused with him in the graft prosecutions, but not convicted.

Directors of public utility corporations and railroads, public officials and politicians are named by Ruef in his prologue and he declares he will show how money was promised and paid.

CAPTAIN SCOTT STRUGGLING IN HIS QUEST FOR SOUTH POLE GOAL.

CAPTAIN R.F. SCOTT — THE TERRA NOVA OFF THE CAMP AT CAPE EVANS

COURTESY OF THE SEDEG FEATURE FILM CO.

A despatch to London from Akaroa, New Zealand, has been received announcing the arrival there of the Terra Nova, the vessel of the British Antarctic expedition without Captain Scott, and announcing that the British explorer, who, according to latest news, was 150 miles from the South Pole on January 3, 1912, and was still advancing toward the goal, would remain in the Antarctic for another winter to complete his work. This would indicate a victory for the Norwegian explorer, Amundsen. The news that Captain Scott has decided to spend another winter in the Antartic comes as a surprise, because it was understood that he was due to return about the Middle of March.

THE PROVINCE SUFFERS FROM SEVERE FLOODS

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Property Lost In Western Ontario — Walkerton Has Three Feet of Water In Main Street and C.P.R. Bridge Is Gone—Brantford Dkye May Break—Other Losses.

London, April 8.—Reports from all over Western Ontario last night tell of floods that have resulted in hundreds of thousands of dollars' loss. At Walkerton there is three feet of water in the main street and the Canadian Pacific bridge has been swept away. Truax lumber mills have had a large part of their stock swept away.

At Brantford the city officials are watching in fear of the dyke breaking, when there would be 1,500 people in West Brantford flooded out. At Galt there was a bad state of affairs last night, the damage being estimated at $100,000. Yesterday morning early a number of homes were flooded out and several invalids had to be taken out in boats. Water street last night was a river for over three-quarters of a mile, and in some places near Galt the river is half a mile wide. The water level is dropping, however.

The Thames at London is high on the south branch, but there is no immediate danger.

At Chatham the water is rising, but is two feet below the highest level at the end of the week. There has been a lot of low land flooded in Kent, but most of the farmers there are prepared for an annual washout and rather look for it.

At Paris there is four feet of water in the Penman mills, which are close to the river. The damage here is particular heavy.

Grand River Rising.

Galt, April 8.—All day yesterday the Grand River rose, until it has exceeded the record of the past twenty-five years. With the bursting of Elora dam a rush of water was precipitated.

As it rose it spread wide over areas on all sides, submerging back gardens and the low lying streets, invading cellars and lower flats, sweeping away buildings, walls and fences, forcing a passage through drains into quarters far remote from the course of the stream, and covering the railway track and the country highways.

The flood spread out over the paved roadway into adjacent foundries and factories. The large premises of Getty & Scott, shoe manufacturers, were visited by the waters, and stock damage estimated at $40,000 was done.

The water is half way to Main street. South on the same street the occupants of riverside residences have to be rescued from the flood by the fire department. All the afternoon boats and rafts were in requisition rescuing people from perilous situations. From Main street down the street is flooded.

The Grand River flood is still increasing in volume and growing in menace. North and South Water street has a depth of two or three feet, blocking access to postoffice, hotel, stores and private residences. Submerged district embraces all lower Main street and extends east to Ainslie street inclusive. Four bridges within the town limits are threatened with destruction. The water has risen twenty-five feet. Damage will reach a hundred thousand dollars with no insurance.

Grave Situation In Guelph.

Guelph, April 8.—The worst flood that has visited Guelph in forty-three years is now to be seen here. The River Speed began to overflow her banks Saturday afternoon and has risen several feet from that time until the present. Two bridges above Goldies' big mill were carried away during Saturday night and the water is several feet deep in the factories of the Taylor-Forbes Co., and the Guelph Carpet Mills Co.

The fire brigade had to be called out during Saturday night to assist in removing people from their homes after the water had surrounded them. Many of the men were taken out of the upstairs windows. Cellars are flooded and the whole southern end and eastern portion of the city is cut off from the rest of the city. The only available means of reaching many houses is by boats, and as the boathouses are also surrounded by water, it is impossible to get any boats. The situation is very grave, and there is not much relief in sight.

Rideau Overflows Banks.

Ottawa, April 8.—The Rideau River is overflowing its low banks at Ottawa east and some of the streets and lands are flooded. Lower down in Ottawa blasting has been going on, but it is not known how successful it will be in staying a flood in New Edinburgh or Eastview.

Just below Billing's Bridge, further out of the city and up the river, there is an ice jam, and the water is nearly up to the planking of the roadway, while a huge cake of ice is against the piers of the bridge. It looks dangerous to the safety of the main bridge out of the city, and there is anxiety on the river banks above and below the structure.

Owen Sound In Water's Grip.

Owen Sound, April 8.—Thousands of dollars of damage was done Saturday night and early yesterday morning by an unprecedented freshet. The Sydenham River began to rise about midnight, and, with the heavy rain which was falling, by 3 o'clock had reached the highest point on record. About 4 o'clock two mill dams and the Ninth street bridge were practically demolished. Many pleasure boats were lost.

Heavy Loss at Meaford.

Meaford, April 8.—There has been thousands of dollars damage done here by the waters of the Big Head River. Both of the dams belonging to the Georgian Bay Milling & Power Co. have been swept away and the iron bridge near their flour mill is also gone, and several rods of the street washed away.

Randle's dam and woollen mill, and Todd's Tannery are swept away, and also ten rods of the G.T.R. track, and at present it looks as if the two remaining iron bridges will also go. The property damage is now $100,000 or over.

Bruce County Hard Hit.

Southampton, April 8.—The warm weather of the last few days is causing heavy floods. Two new steel bridges, one in town the other two miles out, erected by Bruce County a year ago at a cost of over $60,000, are destroyed. The Saugeen Electric Light & Power Co.'s plant, two miles up the river, is in great danger. Already the race is totally destroyed, and a part of the dam.

Were Rescued In Boats.

Paisley, April 8.—The greatest flood in forty years occurred here Saturday night and yesterday a number of residents had to be taken out from their homes in boats. Two mill dams were partly swept away by the flood.

Beaverton In Darkness.

Beaverton, April 8.—Owing to the spring freshets there was quite an exciting time here Saturday night and yesterday. The Beaver River is higher than it has been known to be before. The C.N.O. Railway bridge crossing the Beaver River and several bridges in Thorah have been considerably damaged.

30,000 Are Homeless.

St. Louis, April 8.—Thirty thousand persons homeless, two thousand square miles of country inundated, thirty persons drowned, and a financial loss of $10,000,000 constitute the result of a two weeks' flood in the Mississippi alley. These figures were arrived at Saturday night by Government engineers and officials of state levee boards engaged in battling the raving sweep of the Mississippi River from points in Illinois to threatened places in Mississippi and Arkansas.

BIG PLANT IS BURNED

Brown Milling Co. of New Toronto Is a Total Loss.

Toronto, April 8.—Several section of blackened walls are all that remain of the modern plant of the Brown Copper & Brass Milling Co. at New Toronto, as a result of a fire which broke out in the building at 5.15 yesterday morning and did $150,000 damage, while a large crowd of helpless people stood by. A smal stream of water, with hardly any pressure behind it, was the only equipment which the men had to fight. The efforts of a bucket brigade served to create more steam, and the fire covered the building from one end to the other.

When Captain Dunning, one of the nightwatchmen, made his round he noticed that the electric wire coils in the northwest corner of the new wing were in flames. Vainly he tried to quench the blaze with water from the fire buckets, but this method failing, the other watchman was summoned and the fire hose used. Despite this stream of water the fire spread, and the captain turned on the whistle valve for the distress signal.

The workmen, who live in the surrounding houses, turned out and formed a brigade, but the intense heat seemed to almost dry the water before it struck the fire. The whistles on the neighboring factories and on the Grand Trunk roundhouse were also blown, and although hundreds of residents responded, willing to help, nothing could be done owing to the lack of water. A tank containing eight feet of water was all that was obtainable. When this supply was exhausted the flames were left to do their worst.

WINNIPEG CASE IS NOW SETTLED

Winnipeg, April 8.—With customary ceremony, Lieutenant-Governor D. C. Cameron prorogued the Legislature Saturday afternoon, the speech from the throne congratulating the province on the satisfactory settlement of the boundary question and on the legislation for control of a certain class of public utilities.

A settlement was reached at the eleventh hour between the two disputants, who have taken up so much of the time of the Legislature, viz., the City of Winnipeg and the Heese syndicate.

The basis of Saturday's agreement is that the city, in return for the withdrawel of the obnoxious "Manitoba power bill and the emasculation of the radial railways bill, agrees to purchase all poles in the city at valuation and rent space to the Winnipeg Electric Co., or its successors. This saves the city from an awkward legal tangle following on the action of its engineers in erecting poles and wires right over and even between the poles and wires of the company.

City officials express themselves as satisfied with the agreement. The consent of Sir Wiliam Mackenzie has yet to be obtained.

POLICE LOOK FOR MOTORISTS

Ottawa, April 8.—An old lady of 77, Mrs. Huston of Pembroke, was knocked down and seriously injured by an automobile Saturday night. She is now in the hospital. The automobile carried no lights and gave no warning, knocking the victim on to the car tracks, close to an approaching street car, and dashed on. Passers-by dragged her from under the wheels of the street car and called an ambulance.

The victim was on the way to the hospital to see her daughter, who fell downstairs the same day and broke some of her ribs.

The automobilists are being sought by the police.

"Marvelous Recovery"

Montreal Man So Ill With Dyspepsia Thought He Would Die.

No more convincing evidence was ever put on paper than the following letter from one of Montreal's well-known citizens, Mr. D. R. Larose, of 338 Joliette street.

"Permit me to write you a few words concerning Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for five years. I suffered so much that I could hardly attend to my work. I was weak and lost all courage. I enjoyed no rest until I decided to follow your treatment after having read your advertisement in the paper. To my great surprise I immediately began to feel better. I am now using the second box and I feel so well that I want to tell you that I owe this great change to your famous pills. I recommend them to every person who is suffering from dyspepsia. Your grateful servant, D. R. Larose, 338 Joliette st., Montreal, P.Q.

Let all who have weak stomachs, and those who suffer with indigestion, headaches, biliousness, know they can be perfectly cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Successfully used for many years, mild and safe, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

ROOSEVELT NOT COMING BACK

The Roosevelt boom seems to have been somewhat premature. There are very undoubted signs that it was launched too early, and that the ex-president, instead of gaining ground, has rapidly lost it. In fact, Roosevelt signed his death warrant as a serious presidential factor with his Columbus speech. He enunciated in the Ohio city the platform on which he stood for the Republican nomination, which will in all probability carry with it, the presidency. His platform of the popular recall of judges was too violent for even the American public to swallow. Notwithstanding their many radical and even freakish methods of conducting the administration of public affairs, the people of the United States are essentially conservative when it comes to a question of practically submitting to mob rule. They are generally opposed to putting the judiciary before the tribunal of the popular judgment, notwithstanding that they recognize that judicial rulings as to the constitutionality of popular measures have often been inimical to the public interest.

The conservatism of President Taft has taken the form of an endeavor to enforce the laws that are on the statute books, such as the Sherman anti-trust law. Taft has made enemies of the financial interests through his active prosecution of the corporations, but has gained and is holding the support of the general business public. It has been discovered by the big corporation interests that the trusts were not seriously threatened even by the Sherman law. Under it the dissolution of such corporations as the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey is attainable, but the unscrambling does not effectively alter the situation as regards repression of competition, and control of prices. The outward form of the corporation only is changed. So big business has plucked up courage, notwithstanding the trust-baiting that is so popular among politicians about election time. Roosevelt has not a very savory record as to the trust business, notwithstanding the "Big Stick" business. If the results of state primaries are any indication, he will be beaten by Taft at the Republican convention without an effort. Roosevelt can then either go to Africa, or decide that even an ex-president can't come back.

THE GOOD ROADS AND THE SENATE

A part of the Federal assistance to be given to good roads in Ontario will take the form of a larger grant towards the cost of county good roads systems. This has been decided on, and the Whitney Government has introduced the necessary enabling legislation in the form of an amendment to the Highway Improvement Act, permitting it to make an agreement with the Dominion Government as to the disposal of the Federal assistance, and to vary the proportionate amounts payable to and by the municipalities. This agreement marks an important step in the disposal of the Federal road money, at least as far as Ontario is concerned. It was thought by many rural authorities, when the Federal program was discussed in the House of Commons, that the Government proposed to devote the money to constructing trunk road lines. Opposition to such a method of disposal was manifest in many quarters, it being argued that such roads would be useful only as automobile thoroughfares, and would serve but a very small part of the farming community.

The increase of the Provincial contribution toward good road construction by the counties has been urged for some years. It was felt that the counties were not receiving as much state assistance as the necessities of road building demanded.

But to make the provincial treasury bear one-half the cost of constructing good roads under the Act, instead of one-third, meant the addition of a very heavy burden where burdens were too numerous at present. The Whitney Government was not slow in making an arrangement with the Federal Government that part of Ontario's share of the good roads grant should be spent in increasing the provincial aid to the county good roads systems. By this means the counties and municipalities will be relieved of a considerable part of their burden, the provincial treasury will not be mulcted, and part of the Federal money will go toward local or market roads. Counties not now operating good road systems will be encouraged to come in, and the era of good roads will commence on a new and better footing.

But! There is a million dollars at Ottawa awaiting disposal among the provinces for good roads. Ontario's share would have been $350,000 for this year. That million cannot be touched because the Laurier Senators, at the bidding of their chief, threw out the bill; or, in fact, amended it so that it was unacceptable to the Government, which amounted to the same thing. The Ontario counties operating good roads systems, and those counties that would have started good roads systems when state contribution had been increased, can thank the Laurierites for being deprived of the assistance to which they were justly entitled.

The Whitney Government has gone ahead to provide the machinery for the distribution of the Federal subsidy, feeling assured that the Highways Bill will pass next session. The Senate dare not block such popular progress and reform. Public opinion will become too strong for the Laurier Senators to keep up their desperate tactics.

An exchange extols the kitchen garden as an aid to the workingman in meeting the cost of living. All the aid it is one could put in his eye. The amateur agriculturist hies him to the store, buyes $4.50 worth of first-class garden seeds and reaps about $2.50 worth of third-class garden truck.

A fruitful subject of discussion in city papers is the probable cost of ice during the coming summer. The ice man cannot plead the excuse of mild weather, thin ice and loss in storage. The ice is of abnormal thickness and clearity. There is every business reason for cheap ice, if the dealer will let it be so.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher, Liverpool Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Nervousness regarding alleged crop damage forced the wheat market to-day towards a higher level. Many Illinois counties sent details of winter killing, and conceded that a large acreage was likely to be plowed up. The closing figures ranged from the same as last night to ⅝c up. Corn made a net gain of ⅜c to ½c to ½c to ⅝c and oats ⅜c to ¾c to ⅞c. Latest trading left provisions varying from 5c decline to 12½c advance.

The Liverpool and most of the continental grain exchanges were closed all day Saturday over the Easter holidays. At Budapest wheat closed 1¼c higher than on Thursday. The Winnipeg Grain Exchange observed the holiday.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"Yes, indeed," replied the young woman, all in one word, but her face brightened. Suddenly she was looking at me like a long lost friend. "I guess you're expected. Mrs. Hale, that's the lady of the house here, sent the telegram on, and Miss Woodburn telegraphed back about you. Mrs. Hale went to meet your train, but may be she didn't recognize you or else she got caught at the bridge. Anyhow, she hasn't come back yet. I guess you'd better come in. Your room is all ready for you."

"I can't do that, though I'm very grateful indeed to Mrs. Hale," I said. "I—I have other plans. I'll just scribble a little note to tell her so and thank her, then I must go."

"She'll just never forgive me if I let you," protested the young woman.

I began to be a little afraid that I might be detained by well meant force, but when I had written a letter to Mrs. Hale (squeezing Vivace under one arm and sitting at a desk in a bright, charming drawing room where three Persian cats, six Japanese spaniels and a number of birds played about the floor) I contrived to persuade the hospitable creature that my immediate departure was practically a matter of life or death.

So instead of writing my news to Mr. Brett I went back with it to him, like a bad penny. He must have been surprised when he heard that a lady was waiting in the drawing room of his hotel and hurried in to see me sitting there. I should have felt ready to die if he had looked bored, but he didn't a bit.

I told him all my adventures and about the dogs and cats and birds, and then I asked what on earth I should do now. "I suppose I shall have to go back to New York," I said gloomily, "and cable to my brother. I could stop at some pension and wait till I heard—a quiet pension Mrs. Stuyvesant-Knox wouldn't be likely to know about."

"You alone in a New York boarding house!" exclaimed Mr. Brett. "Never."

"Then could you find me a Chicago one?"

"There'd be nothing to choose between. No, Lady Betty, but I can suggest something better. Only—I don't know how you'll take it. Wouldn't you rather be near Miss Woodburn than anything else until your future plans are settled?"

"Of course," said I, "but that's impossible now."

"I'm not so sure. I think—in fact I know, where she is. You say Mrs. Hale's maid told you she'd gone to Ohio, to take care of a sick friend. I can tell you where that friend lives and her name, because I have relatives in the neighborhood. I don't often go there, but I've heard from them of Miss Woodburn's visits. My cousins have a farm, and I was wondering whether you could content yourself boarding with them for awhile, so near Miss Woodburn you could see her every day?"

"Oh, I should love it," I cried. "But would they have me?"

"They would be happy to have you. I know. The only question is, would you be happy? They're simple folk with simple ways, such as you would expect of my people, Lady Betty, but they've hearts of gold."

"Like yours," I thought, but I didn't say it. I said instead that I was fond of simple ways, and I asked where the place was and if it was far off?

"It will take us about twelve hours to get there," he answered.

"Us?" I echoed. "Why, you can't"—

"I can if you'll let me," said he, growing red. "I've finished my business in Chicago already and"—

"What, while I was away?"

"It was a short affair, though important."

"But I thought you weren't going to leave the hotel till I wrote?"

"I didn't need to. My friend came to me, and we fixed up everything between us in a few minutes. Now I'm free again, and my idea in any case was to drop in on my Ohio cousins. You see, twelve hours' traveling is nothing to us Americans, and they wouldn't like it if I didn't just say 'how do you do' when I'm so near."

"Oh, well, if that's really true and you aren't doing it only to help me," said I, with a sigh of relief. "I was afraid you were. I shouldn't mind the journey a bit if you were with me, but I do hope we'll have the same kind of ticket this time. Do get mine like yours, won't you?"

His eyes had a beautiful expression in them as he thanked me and said he would do the best he could, only I couldn't exactly make it out.

"The best train to take would be this evening," he went on. "That would give my cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Trowbridge, plenty of time to get ready for you, too, for I'll wire them that you're coming. But how could you pass the day? Would you—let me show you the sights of Chicago?"

"Would I? It would be the best of fun. Oh, I am glad I came, after all."

"Then that's settled. I'll send off that telegram and one or two others and come back with an automobile. Don't look like that, please, Lady Betty. It isn't going to cost me all I've got to hire one. They're cheap here; besides I know a man who will give me one for the day for next to nothing. And I'll bring you one of those silk things with talc windows to wear over your head and face, so no one will see that Lady Betty Bulkeley is 'doing' Chicago today."

I was as pleased as Punch. As Caro Pitchley said when she was engaged, I felt I was "going to have the time of my life." And it was fun. I shall never forget that day of mine in Chicago with Mr. Brett if I live to be a hundred.

The best fun of all was the Chinese restaurant, where we had dinner. It's in a queer street where there are some famous pawnshops, it seems, and I wanted to go into them, but Mr. Brett wouldn't take me. To get to the restaurant you go up a long flight of marble stairs, with two grinning Chinese devil heads, like watchdogs, on the wall at the top.

Mr. Brett had to pay with a number of expensive looking greenback things, but he laughed when he saw my frightened face and said the dinner didn't really cost all that, he only wanted change. I begged him to let me go halves with everything, as I'd invited myself in a way, but he told me I didn't understand American customs yet and asked if I had the heart to spoil the happiest day of his life.

I couldn't resist telling him it was the happiest of mine, too—that I had never amused myself half as well.

"Not even in Newport?" said he.

"Not even in Newport," I repeated. "It was delightful there, and everybody was kind and charming to me, but you see I had no real friends like you to go about with, and that makes the greatest difference, doesn't it?"

His eyes lit up again at that, and I could see the blood mounting under his brown skin.

"All the difference in the world," he answered in a low voice. Then he looked as if he were going to say something else, but shut his lips tight together and didn't. One wouldn't dare speak out the truth like this to a rich man one might be supposed to be trying to marry. I remember enough of what mother and Vic have told me about proper behavior in a debutante to know that. But I've never wanted to talk in such a way to any man except Mr. Brett, which is lucky, as he always understands me, and that's one reason why it's pleasanter to be with him than any other person I've ever met yet.

Chapter 16

After all, Mr. Brett's ticket was different from mine again, but I suppose he couldn't arrange to have the same kind and see something of me on the journey, because, as I'd asked him, he would have done it if possible. We went back part of the way we had come the night before, in the same grand kind of train, as far as Cleveland, which we reached in the morning quite early. We got out there, for no fine trains like that stop at the village near which Mr. Brett's cousins live, and he said the best thing we could do would be to drive to the farm in a motor car. It was about forty miles away, but with a good car, which he could easily get, we wouldn't be more than two hours, allowing for bad roads. If we didn't take a motor, we should have to wait half the morning for a slow train, and then have a drive at the end of six or seven miles in some kind of a country conveyance.

When I hesitated, thinking of expense, Mr. Brett explained that among his many other occupations he had once acted as a chauffeur, therefore, knowing the tricks of the trade and being a sort of professional himself, he could always hire a motor at a nominal price. This settled my doubts. We drove in a cab to a hotel, where he left me with Vivace, while he went to search for a car. Presently he came back with a smart gray thing which matched my clothes, and not only was there a gray chauffeur to go with it, but a gray holland coat for me, and a gray silk hood, with a lace curtain. I do think they do things well in America

I looked forward to seeing the country between Cleveland and Aristo, which is the name of the town nearest to the Valley farm, because except for the drives I had had near Newport I knew nothing at all of the real country in America. I had an idea that we should pass some fine country houses and see a number of pretty little nestling villages.

The name of Aristo was rather impressive and classical sounding, I thought, and I had visions of meeting on the way pretty girls driving or riding, and good looking, well groomed men such as I had met always in the country round Newport. But as we went on and on I was disappointed. The scenery itself was lovely, rich and peaceful, with groves of maple trees which would have been quite new to me if I hadn't seen a few in the east. But the villages were blots rather than beauty spots, and we saw only peasants and farm people.

Mr. Brett was driving the car, with me beside him, while the chauffeur sat behind, and I made some such remark to him before I stopped to remember that his relatives were farm people. I could have bitten my tongue then, but he didn't seem to be offended.

It is rumored that the Grand Trunk Railway intends to relieve the congestion in Hamilton by locating large yards at Stoney Creek, where it will erect a round house and repair shops. For the past few years the congestion of the Stuart and Cannon street yards has seriously interfered with the handling of freight, and although the report says that these will not be abandoned, they will be used chiefly to look after business from the centre of the city and small freight business in the east end, while the new yards will take care of the big traffic in the industrial annex

TRAINS TRAVEL VIA MILLBROOK

Floods at Lily Lake Made Traffic Impossible on G. T. R.---Bridges Swept Away on the Keene Road---No Service at Spingville Church.

Reports from the country and from the railroad officials, all testify to the severity and destructiveness of the heavy spring freshets and floods, of Friday and Saturday, and the height and volume of the water of the Otonabee has in scores of places inundated adjacent property and in some places interfered with railway traffic.

BRIDGES SWEPT AWAY.

Resident farmers in the vicinity of Zion and in Otonabee, say it has been the worst for forty-one years. Two bridges on the Keene road have been swept away, near the residence of Mr. James Lavelle, and the roads at this point are closed to traffic until repairs can be effected. The waters of the creek at this place are very high and the roads are almost impassable. Last night's frost, however, hardened them to quite an extent.

PLAYED NO FAVORITES.

Rev. C. E. Cragge's circuit work on Sunday was also blocked owing to the impassable roads. The pastor started out for Salem where he was to preach, at two o'clock, but he had driven only a short distance, when he saw it would be impossible to proceed further, and accordingly turned back.

Reports from Mr. Kitney at Coldsprings, also state the same disorganized conditions prevailing in his neighborhood, as far as bad roads are concerned. Owing to a good drainage system however, around his place, they came off fairly well. Some of his neighbors experienced great difficulty in keeping the water from flooding their cellars and were kept on the jump draining it off. Mr. Kitney never saw so great a volume water accumulate in such a brief period. On Friday noon there were very little evidence of the flood which was due, but by Saturday the water in the river was on a level with the dam just above the Otonabee boathouse. The stop logs are all out of the dam at present.

AT SPRINGVILLE.

In the neighborhood of Springville, the roads are in a very bad condition. Any sort of vehicle or outfit on the Springville road on Sunday was about as scarce as rainbows are in December.

NO SERVICE.

The roads were also responsible for the cancelling of the Sunday evening service in the Springville Presbyterian church. Nobody cared to risk an upset and spill in the murky roads, even if it was for a worthy cause. The only possible way of going or coming from Springville was by taking what is known as the low road, on which there are very few residences.

TROUBLE AT LILY LAKE.

Four miles east of the city at Lily Lake, the waters rose on Saturday until they completely washed over the Grand Trunk tracks, covering them to a depth of over four inches. This made traveling dangerous and all trains coming that way were cancelled and made their way into Peterborough via Millbrook. The track has been repaired, however, and traffic through is again possible. Down at what is known as "Blezzard's Cut" similar dangerous conditions occurred. One train was stalled at this point until its passenger list was transferred to a special train sent down from Peterborough. All along the line, there are pools and minature lakes. Up around Jackson's Park the scene in the creek is one of tumult and disturbance. The waters have rushed up on either side of the creek, while pieces of drift wood and tree branches come whirling down, adding to the wildness of the scene.

The only reason that can be attributed to the sudden and immense overflow is the rapidity of the two days' thaw. There is still a great amount of ice to come down and more trouble may be expected.

COSTLY FIRE AT PLANING MILL

Yesterday morning shortly before four o'clock the most destructive fire that has visited Peterborough this winter broke out in the premises of the Mann Lumber Company, on Dublin street. The residents in the immediate neighborhood were aroused by the volumes of smoke, some of which found its way into the surrounding houses, and an alarm from box 42 was rung in at four o'clock. The fire brigade responded immediately, but before they arrived at the mill the whole eastern portion was blazing furiously.

As soon as the brigade reached the scene of action they set to work to fight the flames. Five streams of water were played upon the burning building. The firemen mounted the ladders with the nozzles in their hands and turned the water on the blaze from every possible position.

They had a hard fight, but succeeded in getting the fire under control, in spite of the fact that the building was filled with such inflammable materials as doors, and window sashes, ready to supply the contractors in their spring building.

Luckily the fire was in the portion of the building where it would do the least injury to the machinery, and as the efforts of the firemen to keep the fire from spreading were successful, the machinery of the mill only sustained damage to the extent of $200. The building was damaged to the extent of $3,000 and the stock $1,400. It is estimated, too, that about $600 worth of belting was destroyed, making the total damage reach the large amount of $5,000.

Although the temperature was below freezing point and the hour was so early, a large number of spectators gathered at the fire, which certainly made a very spectacular picture.

It is expected that the firm will resume operations in the course of a couple of weeks.

SMALL FIRES.

Three other fires yesterday kept Chief Howard and his men on the jump. A fallen electric light wire caused a little trouble in the woodyard of Hicks & Company, and two chimney fires, shortly after 3.30 o'clock, followed each other. One was at the Palace Hotel, and the other at the residence of Mr. H. B. Lindsay, 659 George street.

WEDDING BELLS

BATTISON—SMITH.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening in St. John's Church at 7 o'clock, when Mr. Frederick Battison was united in marriage to Miss Helen Smith. Both the bride and groom reside in Peterborough. Mr. and Mrs. Battison left on their honeymoon trip Saturday night for Toronto and western points, and on their return they will live in the city.

TWO FEET ABOVE WHARF

On being asked to-day by a Review representative what were the prospects for the boating season this year, Mr. H. B. Rye, proprietor of the Otonabee boathouse, replied that it was a little early yet to discuss the subject. As far as he was aware there was very little stirring along the river bank, except the increased water supply, due to the recent thaw.

He has a contract in hand for the construction of a new launch for Mr. G. N. Osborne of the Brinton Carpet Company, which will be used on the Otonabee this summer.

The water to-day on the Otonabee is two feet above the Government wharf. Yesterday it was three feet above the normal height. This height has not been exceeded for some years.

All They Needed.

An incident that occurred to the R.N.W.M.P. some years ago is being retold in the magazines. A body of Canadian Indians took it into their heads to cross the border into the United States. But the United States had no use for them, and they were escorted north again, some 200 strong, by a formidable body of American cavalry. At the frontier line they were met by a corporal and two constables of the Northwest Mounted Police.

"Where on earth's the escort for the Indians?" asked the very surprised American officer who had charge of the proceedings.

"Oh, we're here," replied the corporal, with cheerful confidence.

"Yes, but where's the regiment?"

"Oh," was the answer, "we'll do this little job. You see, we wear the Queen's scarlet."

And the trio of redcoats proved well up to their work. They took the Indians on without any fuss or difficulty, and successfully escorted them 100 miles up country.

The Woman's Missionary Society of George street Methodist Church will hold their regular monthly meeting in the church parlor on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at which the annual election of officers will take place.

The rehearsals for the concert by the St. George's Choral Society are being held regularly and fine progress is being made. The concert will be given in the opera house on Tuesday, April 16th, when a large audience is expected.

Mr. A. B. Downer informs the Review that it was he who found the body of the late Henry I. Fairweather. His two boys, who were above him on the river, noticed an object floating in the water, and his attention being called he called to Mr. Cotton and the body was takne ashore.

All Saints' church was beautifully decorated by the ladies of the church for the Easter services. Two splendid sermons were preached by the rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, and included in the music by the choir at evensong was the anthem, O death, where is thy sting, the choir leader, Mr. George Chandler, taking the solo. Master Cyril Devey officiated at the organ, and his playing of The Holy City at the close of the service was most pleasing.

HOUSES FLOODED STREETS BLOCKED

Not in forty years has there been such damage and inconvenience from the spring freshet as has come about in the last three days. The low section, or depression reaching from Argyle street to London street, between George and Bethune streets has been flooded. Cellars filled, yards turned into ponds, and much loss and discomfort ensuing. The rain of Sunday morning swelled the torrent, during the day, but fortunately the sharp frost of Sunday night has checked to some extent the torrent.

When we tamper with nature, we have to make provision for breaking the rules. The feeder of the torrent is a small creek that drains the fields back of the Nicholls Hospital and flows through a drain or culvert through the greenhouse property of Jordan Bros., emptying alongside the G.T.R. track. Years ago the council built a 4 foot drain along under Argyle street and to the river. This drain was either obstructed or frozen up and did not deliver anything like the amount of water it should. The flood followed along the track, flooding the low section from Smith street to Aylmer and London street.

Years ago the natural drainage was to the river by means of the old gully crossing George and Water streets, and which has been filled up. New drains were laid as far as Dublin street and underneath the pavement along Aylmer street, turning at the corner of McDonnel and crossing near the track on Bethune street and along the track to the creek. All day Saturday it delivered five square feet of water, adding to the volume of the creek, coming down from back of Jackson Park.

The flood resulted in the damaging of considerable property and putting the people to great inconvenience. Those people that did not empty their furnaces found that when the water rose to the fire-pot, the furnace was destroyed by the water coming in contact with the heat. A great number of people suffered a loss from this source and will be forced to use the old coal stove to keep comfortable during the cold snap. Mr. Geo. Carruthers had articles damaged to the extent of $100. The people were isolated in their houses and those who wished to leave were forced to use long rubber boots and wade through the minature river.

During the evening the weather turned cold and the flood was subdued for a time which allowed the sufferers to leave their dwellings somewhat after the usual manner.

Many people there were who were inclined to growl at the change in weather, but it was a case of "its an ill wind that blows nobody good." The weatherman saved the situation for the householders in the flooded area.

Single Tax In Kelowna.

Vancouver has abolished the tax on improvements and personal property and taxes nothing but the land. But it is in the little municipalities of Chilliwack, Summerland, Penticton, and Kelowna that this system has worked with most satisfaction. Indeed, so great is its success that a Royal Tax Commission will report in favor of its universal adoption in the Pacific Province.

Kelowna has assessable land to the extent of about twelve square miles. Every street, roadway, town house and farm house has electric light. Even the farmers have sidewalks running past their wonderfully productive fruit farms. And the schools are central and graded. No little one-roomed, cheerless, badly-taught school for these progressive people. They have consolidated schools, with carriages to carry the children in the summer and sleighs to transport them in winter.

Single tax hasn't done it all, of course. Single tax is but one feature of their progressive system of local government. Indeed, they might have had all these glorious local services if they had never heard of Henry George's pet theory. Nevertheless it is interesting to notice that in the west progressiveness and the land tax go hand in hand in many municipalities.—Canadian Courier.

A Voracious Fish.

An angler, fishing at Aldeburgh the other day, landed a cod which had stowed away sufficient to stock a small fish shop. Among other things found in its stomach were six sprats, a teacupful of clams, a sea-anemone, several small crabs, and a score of shrimps.

CHOPPING HIM DOWN.

A Practical Joke That Was a Boomerang to the Woodsmen.

There is nothing that so cheers the heart of the lumberman as to play a practical joke on one whom he calls a "greenhorn," or, in other words, any one unused to the ways of a lumber camp. One of the harshest and most dangerous, although it is the most admired, writes Charles G. D. Roberts, the Canadian author, in "Around the Campfire," is that known as "chopping him down."

This means, in a word, that the stranger in camp is invited to climb a tall tree to take observations or enjoy a remarkable view. No sooner has he reached the top than two or three vigorous axemen attack the tree at its base. Long before he can reach the ground the tree begins to topple. As a general rule the heavy branches so break the fall of the tree that the victim finds himself uninjured. There are cases, however, where men have been crippled for life.

Mr. Roberts gives an experience of his own which did not come out exactly as the lumbermen expected. He had climbed into a magnificent pine tree one day. No sooner was he two-thirds up the tree than the lumbermen set to work to "chop him down."

"I thanked them for their attention," he writes, "and climbed a few feet farther up to secure a position which I saw would be a safe one for me when the tree should fall. As I did so I perceived, with a gasp and a tremor, that I was not alone in the tree.

"There, not ten feet above me, stretched at full length along a branch, was a huge panther. From the men below his form was quite concealed.

"I laughed to myself as I thought how my tormentors would be taken aback when that panther should come down among them. I decided that there would be no more danger to them than that to which they were exposing me in their reckless fooling.

"The great mass of foliage made the fall a compartively slow one. Then came the final thunderous crash, and in an instant I found myself standing in my place, jarred, but unhurt.

"The next instant there was another roar, overwhelming the laughter of the woodsmen, and out of the pine boughs shot the panther in a whirlwind of fury. He turned half round and greeted his enemies with one terrific snarl and then bounded off into the forest at a pace which made it idle to pursue him.

"The men seemed almost to think that I had conjured up the panther for the occasion. I thanked them most fervently for coming to my rescue with such whole-hearted good will and promised them that if ever again I got into a tree with a panther I would send for them at once."

New Animals Found.

A further study of the mammals collected by the scientists that accompanied the expedition of the Alpine Club of Canada in the Jasper Park and Mount Robson region of the Canadian Rockies last summer has resulted in the discovery of several previously unrecognized forms.

The hoary marmot and the caribou from the vicinity of Moose Pass prove to be new species. In connection with the identification of the caribou a thorough study of the specimens in the museum collections showed the necessity of recognizing additional forms of this interesting game mammal. A new species from the barren grounds of the Arctic coast of Alaska and one from Kamchatka are named.

The type specimen of the Rocky Mountain caribou came from the head of Moose Pass branch of Smoky River, Alberta, and, although its horns are not especially large, the measurements of the animal itself excel all authentic measurements of caribou on record.

Among the natural history collections made by Messrs. N. Hollister and J. H. Riley in the Canadian Rockies of eastern British Columbia and western Alberta were representatives of about 200 plants. Coming from a territory where little or no botanical collecting had been done previously, these have proved to be of interest. In the course of identifying the plants secured by the two collectors four were found which seemed to be unnamed.

HORSE'S LEG SWELLED

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

Nerviline Is a Trusty Liniment

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters, recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large bottles of Nerviline 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

NERVILINE FOR MAN OR BEAST

PAYING CANADA'S RENT

HOW THE ABORIGINE IS RECOUPED FOR HIS LOST LANDS.

Four Dollars a Year Per Man, Woman and Child, Free Schooling, Medicine and Aid In Time of Dire Necessity Is What the Dominion Gives Him — He Seems Content and Happy on His Allowance.

You have heard of Canada's duty to herself—and of Canada's duty to the Empire. You have gloated over her natural resources, you have debated hotly the question of reciprocity and its probable bearing upon the future welfare of the country. But was it ever brought home to you, prosperous Canada, that this Canada of yours is not yours after all; that it is a leasehold property, leased by the many from the few, and that you pay every [illegible] a portion of the rent?

[illegible] are but tenants in the land [illegible] we so proudly call our own. [illegible] many miles to the northward, living a simple life in tents and lowly shacks, dwell our landlords. They are not harsh and overbearing, these owners of our soil; nay, rather are they humble and submissive in spirit, thankfully accepting from their tenants a paltry handful of crumbs, let fall from the heaped-up table of the land's fruitage, the fullness of which they were incapable of reaping for themselves.

Among the Cabinet Ministers of the Dominion of Canada is numbered the Minister of the Interior. From his office at Ottawa he directs those administrative departments which come under his control. The Department of Indian Affairs is one of these. It is presided over by a Deputy Minister and carries on its work through the medium of Indian agents distributed throughout Canada, and one of the most important duties of each agent consists in "paying off" the Indians in his district, according to the treaties made at different times in the past between the redmen and the whites.

James Henry Pedley in a recent article in The Saturday Globe thus vividly describes such ceremony at Flying Post, New Ontario, last summer:

"A hush, then at a word from the interpreter a young man detaches himself from one of the groups and saunters forward, tugging at the knot in a bandana handkerchief he carries. This, opened and unwound, he hands to the agent a small blue ticket, which will be found to bear the printed words "The James Bay Treaty," and in manuscript the number which is his on the official books and his name, John Wolf. The books show that last year he was paid twenty dollars, his offspring numbering three. To find what changes, if any, have taken place during the last twelve months is the task of the interpreter. A short colloquy in Ojibway, then the interpreter turns to announce that, although one of the children died—tuberculosis—in the spring, the family still shelters five members and points in explanation to a papoose which its mother is rocking to sleep nearby. The birth and death duly recorded, the clerk with ostentation counts out twenty dollars into the father's hand and sees them folded up along with the blue ticket in the big red handkerchief. The full-bred Indian whether from trustful courtesy or ignorance, or both seldom counts the money we pay him. Honest himself (and no one is more so than he), he has perhaps not learned, though he has had many an opportunity, that all men are not as conscientious as he is.

"Another summons, and another paterfamilias lounges forward, his halting feet and impassive countenance giving one the impression of extreme boredness, but that is the way of his race and must be so interpreted. The former process is repeated, except that this time it is an elderly man who stands before us and his family has grown up. One of his daughters, moreover, has found a husband since last pay-day with whom she will henceforth be paid. This worthy advances next to receive a ticket (heretofore he has been paid under his father's name) and to have himself set down as the head of a family. Pride—the one emotion which the redskin does not blush to reveal—shines from his countenance, and it is with a great show of dignity that he takes his eight dollars and bears the sum off to his "woman."

"After the family men have all been paid come the widows and the orphans and the lone old men of the tribe. Here is a woman who last year received twenty-four dollars. But in the early fall, as the family journeyed toward the hunting grounds, her eldest son, the provider, was drowned. None of the others was as yet old enough to hunt successfully. The tubercule germ breeds fast in a stuffy wigwam, and it delights to prey on ill-nourished bodies. With the spring the mother returned from the bush—alone; her hand shook as she took the four dollars given her, and hobbled back to sit silent among the jabbering squaws. Many are the bashful youngsters dragged forward by stern guardians, and made deliver up the tickets which they hold crushed in tight-clenched hands. The bush is a cruel dwelling place, even to the men whom it has reared, and many a father meets his death before his children have learned to know him.

"There is little or no attempt at deceit, so great is the respect for truth which obtains among these "uncivilized" peoples of the north. Finally, when all have been paid, the Factor, who has watched the proceedings from the doorway of his store, presents the tickets of such absentees as have left them in his hands, and receives the money called for. Payment for 1911 is complete."

YOU CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF VALUES

If you carefully read the store advertisements and follow them in your buying.

Merchants advertise certain lines because they know these lines will advertise their stores. Because there is something about certain goods, they are put in conspicuous places and the people are told about them. It may be the exclusiveness or newness of design, it may be an unusual quality, it may be an attractive price.

But there is at least one definite, sure reason why a merchant advertises an article and is willing to stake the reputation of his store upon it.

Therefore, when you see an article advertised in THE REVIEW, depend upon it, that article is good value, as good value as can be obtained in that particular store.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. If you own a good watch, better be on the safe side — Bring it to our Repair Department where it will receive Skilled Attention.

REV. MR. POTTER IS MEETING WITH MUCH SUCCESS

Large Addition Being Made to Church at Montreal

Word has reached this city that the addition to the Rev. J. G. Potter's church in Montreal, is being rapidly proceeded with. Mr. Potter, who was formerly connected with St. Andrews church in this city, has now been in Montreal for over two years, during which time his congregation has increased so greatly in numbers that it has been necessary to set aside a large appropriation for a big extension. Work on this extension has now been under way for some months and it is expected that operations will be completed this summer.

Mr. Potter's church is in the Northern part of Montreal and is situated in a section of the city that is rapidly growing. As a result the congregation is a large one and the church is being nearly doubled in size in order to give the necessary increased accommodation.

SORRY TO LOSE MISS PRINGLE

At the conclusion of the evening service in Charlotte street Methodist Church yesterday, the pastor expressed regret on behalf of the congregation and himself at losing the services of Miss Edna Pringle, who has for the past couple of years so acceptably filled the position of soprano soloist at Charlotte street church. He referred specially to the willingness of Miss Pringle to assist at every gathering where possible. Sunday was Miss Pringle's last day with the choir.

"A Moral Question"

"A Moral Question," which Miss Constance Crawley will produce at the Grand Opera House to-night. is the very last work of the late Oscar Wilde. Mr. Daventry loves his horses and his dogs; Mrs. Daventry has a soul and ideals. The two outlooks in life clash, with the result that the coarser mind drags the finer through to the very mire before she decides to cast aside all conventions, face all scandal and live her life as God intended it to be lived. It is a tragedy which many women have to face, and this play is not a remedy in any sense of the word. It is just the powerful showing up of one even brilliant dramatic form.

EASTER SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

The disagreeable state of the weather was not conducive to large congregations at the churches of the city yesterday morning, but with better conditions existing by evening, the special Easter services were largely attended. The Story of a Risen Lord was beautifully told by sermon and song, and altogether the services were of much interest and calculated to inspire the worshipper with a true sense of the significance of Easter. Floral decorations were very much in evidence.

WORK AMONG THE CHINESE

A large congregation gave an attentive hearing to Prof. Harold Robertson B.A., of Chentu, China, last night in the Murray street Baptist church. Mr. Robertson delivered an excellent address on the past work of the Christian missionaries in general, and told the stroy of the gradual opening of China to the foreigners.

In beginning Mr. Robertson told of the famous city, whose name, translated into English, means "The legend beyond the great past," which is even more interesting to us than Pekin. In that city all religions that ever exerted a great and potent influence on the Chinese, had had their origin, and it was in that city that the Christian faith had first been preached.

Just without the walls of this city there had been found a stone tablet inscribed with Chinese characters which told the story of how the first Christian missionaries had been welcomed by the Chinese Emperor and had been allowed to build churches and preach their doctrine in the Chinese Empire. It recorded that at the time the Emperor had invited the Pope to send missionaries to China who would expound the Christian religion, and if he, the Emperor thought their creed suitable, he would establish it in China.

But a great change had come over China, a change that is very hard to understand, and all traces of the Christian missionaries' once prosperous work had vanished. But another change had effected China, and gradually the foreigner has been allowed to penetrate the empire, till now nearly every large centre had its missionary schools, colleges and hospitals.

In conclusion Mr. Robertson dealt with the great opportunity afforded at present to the Christian church and its younger members in the work of Christianizing the Chinese.

MUSICALE AT CHARLOTTE ST.

A rare musical treat afforded enjoyment to a very large number on Saturday afternoon at the delightful "twilight musicale" in Charlotte St. Methodist Church. The program was extremely high class and was composed of purely local talent. Every number scored distinctly, and appreciative applause denoted that the audience was fully aware of the meritorious program supplied.

Mr. Herbert C. Treneer, the capable blind organist of St. Andrew's, gave a splendid rendition of a difficult organ number, his shading and excellent technique being noticeably prominent. Miss Edna Pringle, soprano soloist, was also warmly applauded in a vocal selection. The Charlotte Street male quartette, Messrs. Lee, Fleming, Downey and Skitch, whose singing always pleases again exhibited the effective pitch to which they have attained, by contributing two very acceptable and well rendered numbers.

Miss Julia Choate gave a most finished performance of the selection "Vieutemps," bringing out the finer passages of the piece in her usual rare and accomplished manner.

Miss Brock's always welcome vocalism was again heard to decided advantage, in a very pleasing selection.

Two readings contributed by Judge Huycke which were greatly enjoyed, concluded a program that was in every way a genuine success.

Miss M. Clarry acted as accompanist in a very suitable manner.

The musicale was held under the auspices and direction of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle.

Numerous expressions of commendation were heard in praise of the splendid outcome of the entire affair and the ladies who managed the entertainment may feel justly proud of their success.

AN EASTER GREETING

Rev. H. J. Keith, the popular pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, was surprised yesterday morning when, on entering the vestry, he noticed himself depicted on the wall. A number of the members of the congregation having had one of his photos enlarged and the picture encased in a frame, at the Roy studio. An Easter greeting card accompanied the picture. There is some mystery as to who are the responsible persons. Needless to say, Rev. Mr. Keith fully appreciates the gift. It is interesting to note the delightful feeling of harmony and goodfellowship which is evidenced from time to time between the pastor and congregation of Knox church.

Would You Hear the Last Word In Spring Coat Fashions?

If so, come to our store and view the all-embracing and absolutely authentic stocks of brand new Opera, Automobile and Dust Coats that are here for your selection. We have attempted to include herein every new and practical style sanctioned by fashion, and we seek your opinion upon our success.

One thing is sure, however, and that is the styles are more practical and more charming this season than they have been within our memory. Many radical changes from last season's Auto-coats are evident—changes for the best, we believe, since they enhance the beauty and becomingness of the garments.

There are many distinctly different models, so that you will certainly find here the very coat style that best becomes you.

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

PASSED AWAY AT MILWAUKEE

The sad news was received last evening of the sudden death of Mr. Thos. Derry, of Milwaukee, formerly of Peterborough. Mr. Derry was the son of the late Thos. Derry, McDonnel street. Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss, a sorrowing mother, five sisters and two brothers, all of whom reside in Peterborough, excepting one brother in Dundas.

The remains will arrive in the city to-morrow evening and the funeral is to take place from the residence of his mother, 465 McDonnel street, at 2.30 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, proceeding to Little Lake Cemetery.

OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. McCarrell

The death occurred this morning about eight o'clock of Mrs. Isabel Stinson McCarrell, wife of Mr. Jas H. McCarrell, Wolsley street. Mrs. McCarrell had been in poor health for some time.

She had been a resident of the city for five years, and was a member of George street church. The funeral will take place Wednesday afteroon, at two o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery. Service at 1.30 o'clock.

DEGREES WERE CONFERRED AT LINDSAY

The brethren of Guiding Star Encampment No. 22, I. O. O. F., had a busy afternoon on Good Friday, when several members of the two Peterborough Encampments visited Lindsay, putting on a lodge of instruction.

Grand Patriarch Thompson, of the Town of Windsor, was present and addressed the brethren.

The brethren from Hiawatha Encampment No. 66, Peterborough, conferred the R. P. Degree, Bro. G. F. Cairns, captain. Mount Hebron Encampment No. 56, conferred the P. Degree and the G. R. Degree, Bro. Thos. Duncan being the captain.

The degrees were beautifully exemplified while the paraphernalia of the visiting brethren was gorgeous and manificent.

After the conferring of the various degrees the Peterborough brethren were the guests of Guiding Star Encampment at the Royal Hotel.

The Peterborough visitors included the following: Brethren Geo. J. Johnson, J. Buchanan, H. Barrett, J. Juby, R. Murduff, C. Gould, G. F. Cairns, George Baird, Geo. Sachern, John Richardson, J. Fred Reed, J. S. Londerwith, Kent Throop, E. Wand, Geo. C. Carruthers, R. E. Harding, B. M. Frederick, M. J. Kirn, W. J. Hooper and R. J. Craig.

BIG TIME FOR K. OF C.

About 80 new members are being initiated to-day into the Knights of Columbus. A large number of delegates are in the city in connection with the ceremony. A special train brought a large number of members of the Lindsay Council.

Hon. Mr. Beland Forgot.

For one who has established a reputation as a wizard on the campaign platform, Hon. Dr. Beland, who for a short couple of months was Postmaster-General of the late Laurier Government, is one of the most modest and retiring Parliamentarians in the House. He is comparatively rarely heard, and then in the most business-like and brief manner possible. Dr. Beland has a horror of the spotlight and the spectacular, and is none the less a valuable worker on that account. A good story of the modesty of the young physician from Beauce comes over from last summer. It was about a week after he had been sworn in as head of the Postoffice Department that he arrived in Ottawa and called to see Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He found the Prime Minister engaged with his colleagues in Cabinet council. Dr. Beland seated himself in the ante-room and waited for some twenty minutes. Then the genial and popular Ernest Lemaire, secretary to Sir Wilfrid, happened in.

"Why don't you go in?" asked Mr. Lemaire, when Dr. Beland told of having waited.

Then it dawned on the young French-Canadian that as a member of the Government he had the right to go in.—H. W. Anderson in Canadian Courier.

CAPITAL'S LIBRARIAN

W. J. SYKES LEAVES TEACHING TO DISSEMINATE BOOKS.

Widely-Known Teacher of English In Ottawa's Collegiate Institute Has Had a Brilliant Career Since He Entered the University—Is a Pioneer of the Canadian Club Idea and a Charter Member.

William John Sykes, professor of English literature at the Ottawa Collegiate Institute, has been appointed public librarian of Ottawa.

He is a specialist in languages and one of the most successful and popular teachers that has ever taught in the collegiate there. His resignation will be a great loss to the school, but his knowledge of books and literature and good judgment will be an invaluable asset to the Carnegie Public Library of the capital. For about 18 years he has been identified with the work of the Ottawa Collegiate and during that time he has won the respect and esteem of both pupils and teachers and has filled a large place in the hearts of all the citizens of the capital who take a deep interest in the progress of higher education. Every pupil attending the collegiate felt that in the head English teacher they had a sympathetic friend, a zealous worker and a man who stimulated them to earnest effort and directed their minds to what is noblest and best in English literature. His departure will be felt as a personal loss by each pupil and will be sincerely regretted by the whole teaching staff, with whom he is also a general favorite.

Prof. Sykes was born at Cobourg, Ont., about 47 years ago and moved when quite a young man with his parents to Campbellford, Ont. He attended the public and high schools in the latter town and subsequently entered Victoria College at Toronto University and graduated with honors in English, French, German and Italian, being gold medallist of his year. While at the university he took a very active part in college life and was editor for a time of the paper Acta Victariana. After graduation he entered the teaching profession and was engaged as teacher of English and moderns at the Cobourg Collegiate Institute, where he remained one year. He next became head of the English department at the Hamilton Collegiate Institute and was there two years before coming to Ottawa a teacher in the collegiate there.

With Sanford Evans, ex-mayor of Winnipeg, he was one of the originators of the Canadian Club idea and helped the latter gentleman and others to form the first Canadian Club in Hamilton, of which he was a charter member. Prof. Sykes is also a charter member of the Ottawa Canadian Club. He is a very earnest and enthusiastic student of English literature and is a very successful lecturer on literary subjects. In the collegiate institute at Ottawa he has constantly used his influence to promote the Lyceum and particularly in encouraging the students to read essays and take part in debates.

The Antonine Wall.

At the meeting of the Glasgow Archaeological Society the acting secretary reported that arrangements had been completed whereby two acres of land, lying to the south of the cemetary at Bearsden and containing a very well preserved section of the Antonine Wall, had been placed under the Ancient Monuments Act, thus securing for all time the preservation of this valuable relic. As a result of representations made some time ago by the society, the parish council of New Kilpatrick had enclosed another part of the wall lying within the cemetary at Bearsden, and had opened the negotiations now completed regarding the more important portion lying on the property of Mr. Douglas, of Mains.

The Shrewmouse.

The smallest mammal in the British Isle is the shrewmouse. This is not only the smallest British mammal, but, with the exception of one other of the same genus, the smallest in Europe. The harvest mouse is sometimes thought to be even smaller, but the length of its head and body is often two and one-half inches, while that of the lesser shrew is rarely more than two inches. The tail measures about one and one-third inches, and its teeth are so extremely small that a lens is required to detect them.

WEST'S COAL WEALTH.

Alberta Has Vast Areas That Will Be Valuable Some Day.

Canadians barely realize the extent of the great natural resources with which our country is blessed. We all realize that the Dominion has a considerable number of coal areas all being worked to the apparent great profit to their owners. Those of us, however, possessing homes and consequently furnaces regard coal somewhat after the manner of black diamonds, owing to the high prices which we are accustomed to pay for it. This is by no means the case in many parts of Alberta, where it is possible to get coal for the mere picking and carting of it. The value of this is brought still more forcibly before us on account of the dire trouble the coal strike is causing in Great Britain.

In many parts of our country coal is always dear, owing to the long distances it has to be brought by rail, but at the two ends of the Dominion it exists in enormous deposits. The mines of the Cape Breton shore, in fact, stretch their tunnels out under the Atlantic, and pay such high wages that the young Gaelic-speaking Highlanders of that region desert their paternal farms to make big money underground.

At the other end of Canada, on the Pacific coast, the Indians seventy-five years ago were vastly amused to find a blacksmith of the Hudson Bay Co., on Vancouver Island, burning a "black stone" which had been brought a six months' journey from England round Cape Horn. They delighted the blacksmith by telling him that there was any amount of the same "stone" on that very island. For many years now Vancouver Island has supplied not only British Columbia, but California and other regions further south.

A few hundred miles inland in the Rocky Mountains, dividing British Columbia from Alberta, there is another huge deposit which supplies a high quality of coal to the Canadian Pacific Railway and to thousands of private consumers all over the Prairie Provinces.

Western Canada has just had a big coal strike. The mountain miners "went out," and could not be persuaded to go in again. They were quite independent; farm labor is always scarce and highly paid in the Prairie Provinces, and the miners turned farm laborers as easily as the farmers of Cape Breton had turned miners.

Unfortunately, the prairie folk, though glad of this extra help, found that it involved a serious loss as well as gain. The price of coal doubled. The steam engines which do a large part of the plowing had to pay $10 a ton instead of $5; and so much of the railway rolling stock had to be used in bringing up coal from the United States that there were not cars enough to carry the farmers' wheat to market.

There is one very large western region, however, where coal is so easily got that a strike at the regular mines cannot cut off the supply. Over a vast area of Alberta the fertile soil is simply a skin covering a body of coal.

Paul Kane, the artist who crossed the prairie by canoe sixty years ago, and wrote a book in which he tells of "beds of hard coal" which he saw protruding along the banks of Saskatchewan River, near Edmonton, about 20 feet below the upper surface. It could not be used, he says, except in the blacksmith's forge, owing to "the want of proper grates or furnaces in those distant regions, where iron is at present so scarce."

When the settlers began to arrive in quite recent years, they were astonished to find this fuel lying ready to hand. A sturdy old Englishman with an Alberta farm, about forty miles east of Edmonton, on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, said: "When we dug our well we threw out two wagon loads of coal. We didn't want it, because our stoves were made to burn logs, and there was plenty of wood all round us." Sometimes the coal comes right up to the surface. "One time," the old man said, "we made a little camp fire at night, and were surprised to find it still burning in the morning. We had lighted it on a bed of coal."

Much of this Alberta coal is only lignite, and the poorer sorts soon lost their combustible quality when exposed to the air; but the better sorts of lignite keep quite long enough to make them commercially valuable, and great "fields" are being opened in various directions, especially west of the railway which lies north and south between Edmonton and Calgary. Of course, the coal of the mountain mines is far superior to this lignite of the plains.

A Curious Mishap.

Not long since two Edmonton Boy Scouts had quite an adventure on a homestead about a hundred miles from Edmonton, one of the boys being Lawrence Vance and the other Cecil Wall.

Vance and Wall had left their tent on a trip to the nearest centre to obtain further supplies, and on their return found that the tent had been broken into, and by no less a marauder than a big black bear, which was later seen by some other homesteaders prowling about the neighborhood.

The canvas was torn in several places by the huge claws of this animal, but that was not such a loss to these boys as the entire disappearance of a large sack of home-made doughnuts.

The funny part of the selection of eatables on the part of Bruin was that his lordship sniffed at the bakers' bread, six loaves of which were reposing peacefully in the immediate vicinity of the doughnuts, and after taking a bite carefully out of each loaf, with equal precision spat it out again upon the floor of the tent.

Bakers' bread was not "in it" for a minute with mother's doughnuts, said Mr. Bear.

The four-footed visitor helped himself also to bacon and sugar, and while he made away with all the sugar he could find, did not seem to think very highly of the bacon.

The funniest thing of all, thought the boys on their return, was the discovery that Bruin had evidently stood before the looking-glass for some time trying to make friends with the "other bear"—as he thought—who peered at him from the frame, and the way they came to this conclusion was from the numerous signs of "licks" on the glass.

Another instance of close observation on the part of Boy Scouts, or any other boys, being a very valuable thing.

The History of "Stepmother."

"Stepmother" is a word with a commonly unsuspected history. Probably most people if called upon to explain it would say that it meant a woman who had stepped into the place of the true mother. Dr. Johnson, at any rate, believed that this was the suggestion of the word to most minds. Really, "step" is the Anglo-Saxon "steop," the original meaning of which appears to have been "orphaned." Stepchild, stepbairn, stepson and stepdaughter came first, and then by gradual fading of the etymological meaning of "step" stepfather and stepmother came into being.—London Chronicle.

Japanese Landowners.

A landowner in Japan owns the surface and products of the land only. All minerals under the surface appertain not to him, but to the Japanese government. Moreover, should the government or its nominee wish to extract the minerals lying under a landowner's property the latter, though he would, of course, receive compensation for loss, cannot object on legal ground to the development of these minerals.—British Consular Report.

BURN Ocec SCRANTON COAL

VOL LIXV., NO. 84 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1912 TEN CENTS PER WEEK.

FLOODS ARE SUBSIDING; DISTRICTS REPORT CHECK

Grand River Has Gone Down About Three Feet and Danger Is Thought to Be Over—Dunnville Is Not So Fortunate — Lad Saved From Drowning at Brockville — Quebec Trains Delayed by Freshets.

Brantford, April 9.—The Grand River yesterday subsided about three feet and all danger of possible flood is thought to be over. Large outlying districts south of Parkdale are still under water, however, and employes of the Dominion Gas Co. yesterday were unable to effect repairs in the main, the breaking of which shut Brantford, Galt and Paris off from all supply.

No trouble is expected in West Brantford, the dyke having stood the severest test since its construction, although the water surged to the very top of the embankment, no break resulted. Mayor Hartman and officials were greatly pleased at the turn of events here yesterday morning. Brantford city is precically suffering no damage, although outlying sections were inundated.

Dunnville's Sad Plight.

Dunnville, April 9.—Sunday night the citizens of the town worked incessantly building temporary dykes, but from present appearances these will not be sufficient as the water in the Grand River is continually rising.

The Erie Woollen Mills are under three feet of water and several other mills are also in danger of being flooded.

When the ice was going over the dam of the Long Bridge, a support of one of the cribs was dislodged, rendering the bridge unsafe.

The Government overseer, Mr. David Rogers, while working at one of the wasteweirs, lost his balance and was carried through the flume. Fortunately the current carried him to one side, where he was able to grasp an overhanging limb until aid arrived.

Saved Lad From Flood.

Brockville, April 9.—The spring freshet which overflowed the banks of the west end creek, doing considerable damage, was almost attended with a fatality. A lad named Parslow, playing on one of the bridges of the B. & W. Railway, fell into the raging stream and was being carried down when Supt. Curle noticed his predicament. The lad's hands were then only visible above the surface of the water. Curle plunged in and at great personal risk saved Parslow, in whom life was almost extinct.

Quebec Trains Held Up.

Montreal, April 9.—Cold weather has prevented further rising of the water in the Farnham and Chateauguay districts, where floods have seriously disturbed railway traffic, but has not done much to alleviate the situation as the tracks in several places are now covered with several inches of ice.

The bridge over the Yamaska River, near Farnham, which was damaged by ice yesterday, has been repaired and trains will run across it to-day. The New York Central tracks, near Chateauguay, were covered yesterday by six inches of water for a distance of 500 yards, and the trains were considerably delayed.

The floods have done little damage so far except to the tracks of the railroads, no serious floods in any of the towns of this district being reported.

Chatham's Water Polluted.

Chatham, April 9.—The medical health officer has issued a warning to the people of Chatham to boil all drinking water until the high water subsides. Chatham obtains her drinking water from the river, but the reserve water tanked up in the large stand pipe has become exhausted, and the authorities find it necessary to filter the water direct from the river which, during the freshet season, does not insure the usual pure supply of water.

Three Drowned.

Montreal, April 9.—Three persons were drowned at Compton and a great deal of property damaged as a result of the flood which swept over all barriers Sunday. A party of nine were driving across the Coaticook River when the flood overturned their rig and hurled them into the icy waters.

Rescuing Flood Victims.

Memphis, Tenn., April 9.—Rescue boats still were busy last night bringing from Wyanoke refugees who had been marooned on knolls, housetops and in a church since the levee break 12 miles south of Memphis on Saturday. Many were thinly clad. All were suffering from hunger and thirst. Several hundred had arrived early last night and it was expected that by to-day the number would be not less than a thousand.

The inundation of a portion of the northern section of Memphis, populated largely by negroes, has ceased; the water has receded, vacating houses; street car traffic through that part of the town has been resumed and the people are preparing to move back into their homes.

The first of the Wyanoke refugees to be rescued was an assembly of about 100 persons. They were in a church, where they had taken refuge when the levee broke. Their supplies of provisions were scanty.

PUNISHMENT NOT EXCESSIVE

Woodstock, April 9. — Magistrate Ball to-day dismissed the assault charges against Professors McDonald, McCrimmon and Price, of Woodstock College, contending that the punishment administered to a student named Hopwood was not excessive.

Chatham Carries Bylaw.

Chatham, April 9.—The industrial bylaw submitted to the ratepayers of Chatham yesterday was carried by over 350 above the three-fifths requirement of the total number of ratepayers. Through the passing of this bylaw the St. Mary's (Ohio) Machine Co. of St. Mary's, Ohio, will take over the Swift Motor Car Co. of this city and go extensively into the manufacture of gas, oil and gasoline engines.

Only 78 ratepayers recorded their votes against it and 1,486 voted in favor of it.

FERRY SANK

Special to the Review.

Cairo, Egypt, April 9.—A crowded street car ferry, with hundreds of persons aboard, sank in the Nile river early to-day. The loss of life is placed at about two hundred

KIPLING AGAINST HOME RULE

London, April 9.—The home rule struggle, which promises to revive the animosities of Gladstonian times, will open this week with the presentation of the home rule bill in Parliament on Thursday morning. Rudyard Kipling is out this morning in The Morning Post with a slashing denunciatory poem.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, had an enthusiastic reception on his arrival at Belfast for the Ulsterite demonstration to-day, which will open the Unionist campaign against the Government's policy.

A Knotty Tangle.

Chatham, April 9.—Adolphus Reaume, a charity patient at the General Hospital, suffering from paralysis, was carried to the police court yesterday morning to answer to a charge of assaulting one of the nurses by kicking her in the abdomen. The charge against Reaume was dismissed by the magistrate and he is now lying in the police court with no place to go.

Under the present law, the magistrate cannot direct him to be sent to a hospital and he is not a fit subject for a jail or a house of refuge.

SKULL FRACTURED DURING FIGHT

Toronto, April 9.—As the result of a free fight at 91 Agnes street yesterday afternoon, Petro Pevitt is in St. Michael's Hospital with a fractured skull and fifteen other Polocks are under arrest, charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

The men were having a high time at the Agnes street house yesterday, drinking more than one keg of beer, when trouble over a woman brought harsh words from the lips of three or four of them. In a few minutes the whole house was filled with excitement. Blood flowed freely, but only for a few minutes. The noise had reached the street and some children called the attention of the police, and a raid was made. As the police were rounding up their men, Andrew Pargett gave Petro Pevitt a terrible blow on the forehead with a beer glass. When the men were safely in Agnes street station it was found that Pevitt's skull had been fractured. He was removed to St. Michael's Hospital.

Thomas Gufoffski is charged with keeping the house, Pargett with wounding and the rest are held on the charge of being inmates.

PROBABILITIES

ORPHAN LADS AT HALIFAX

Halifax, April 9.—The Allan steamer Scotian arrived from Glasgow yesterday afternoon with 1,344 immigrants on board. Among the passengers were 99 boys from Williard Quarrier's Kalmocalm Home, Scotland, in charge of William Douglas. The lads are between 7 and 12 years of age and are going to Brockville, Ont., from which place they will be distributed among people who propose adopting them.

The Scotian discharged 700 tons of cargo, took 1,500 tons of coal and will proceed to Portland, Maine.

Lighthouse-Keeper Dismissed.

Belleville, April 9.—John C. Weir, who has been lighthouse-keeper here for some time, has been dismissed from the office and Henry J. Smith of this city has been appointed to the position.

Construction work on the new C.P.R. line through this city will, it is expected, be commenced in the near future. A building office has been secured, and already members of the construction party are here.

SCENE FROM RECENT MEXICAN TROUBLE

EXCITEMENT IN JIMINEZ ON ARRIVAL OF WOUNDED INSURRECTOS

BRINGING IN THE WOUNDED

FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 9.—Walter Thorgood, the young man who struck Joseph Solina over the head with a billiard cue, inflicting fatal injuries, this morning made good his promise to surrender himself. A charge of murder was immediately lodged against him. He was remanded for one week.

FLY PEST TO BE EXCLUDED

Ottawa, April 9.—Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, is considering the prohibition of the importation of all fruit from the Hawaiian Islands to Canada owing to the ravages of the Mediterranean fly. It is one of the most destructive pests in the world to fruit and attacks northern as well as tropical fruit. It can live in northern or southern climes.

It has been doing a great deal of damage in the Hawaiian Islands, and it is feared that it will be brought over to British Columbia with pineapples, which are the principal exports of the islands to Canada, and thence spread to the whole of the Dominion.

Mr. Burrell has been in communication with the American authorities, and it is understood they are also alarmed at the situation and may pass legislation on the subject at the present sitting of Congress.

Kingston Business Man's Death.

Kingston, April 9.—J. Y. Parkhill, dairy produce merchant, was at business Saturday; took ill during Sunday night, and died yesterday morning. He was 66 years of age, and a leading business man here for over thirty years. His wife, four sons and two daughters survive.

Mauretania Unable to Land.

Liverpool, April 9.—Owing to a heavy gale the steamship Mauretania was unable to land her passengers here last evening. Fearing a repetition of the accident last December, the captain took the liner outside the river, where he could have more sea room, until morning.

TORONTO POLICE AWAIT DUNKLEMAN'S RECOVERY; NO TRACE OF THE SLAYERS

No Clue Can Be Found to the Murderers of Joseph Rosenthal Until His Companion Is Able to Tell What He Knows — Copper and Brass Has Been Stolen From Storehouse at Scene of Crime.

Toronto, April 9.—The police are still waiting for the recovery of Eli Dunkelman, who is slightly improved but still in a critical condition at the General Hospital from the results of the beating he received when Joseph Rosenthal was murdered at the foot of Strachan avenue Friday night. In the recovery of Dunkelman or the results hoped for from the offering of a reward by Attorney-General Foy or the city police commissioners, who meet at the city hall this afternoon, is seen the only ray of hope for the production of a clue which shall lead to the identification of the men who perpetrated what is still likely to prove a double murder of the most brutal nature which has occurred in this city in years. It is also believed that the offer of a substantial reward would aid materially in the solution of the shooting of Rebecca Berger in Chestnut street a few weeks ago, and which is still unsolved.

Yesterday the police were busy following to the uttermost the few meagre and indefinite clues provided in the Rosenthal case. These were well nigh exhausted without any appreciable light being cast upon the case.

It has become known that considerable quantities of copper and brass have been stolen from the Hydro-electric storehouses and employes have been discharged right and left in an unavailing effort to stop this leakage. It is now known that about two weeks ago that Rosenthal with one Silverman purchased about 1,000 pounds of copper from the manager at the Duncan street station of the Hydro-electric for 7 1-2 cents a pound about a week ago, and Rosenthal is known to have had over a hundred dollars about this time. This purchase was made at about 10 o'clock in the morning, and it is understood that the manager had full authority to make the sale.

The police have also learned of another man who was formerly connected in a business way with Rosenthal, but with whom he quarreled about a year ago. One intimately connected with this man is said to fit the description of the man who was seeking to locate Rosenthal for several days before the murder, and who also called up Antipiski, another dealer in junk, seeking to sell scrap at about the same locality. The man who sought Rosenthal told Mr. Rosenthal, jr., over the telephone that he had always dealt with his father and would rather deal with him than with the Antipitski's, but that he must locate him soon or he would be forced to take the business to the others.

At the hospital Dunkelman is still in a grave condition. He was conscious for a few moments yesterday, and when Silverman, referred to above, visited him he recognized him but was not allowed to carry on any conversation with him.

It is understood that the Attorney-General is considering offering a substantial reward for information which will lead to the arrest of the murderers, and the police commissioners, who meet this afternoon, will also consider the question of offering a reward.

West Indies Treaty.

Ottawa, April 9.—The final conference between the Canadian and West Indies delegates on closer trade relations will be held to-day, when the final touches on the negotiations will be made. The three Canadian representatives, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Hon. W. T. White and Hon. J. D. Reid, spent a large part of yesterday going over the proposals of the West Indians.

No official announcement as to the outcome will be made until to-day, but it is understood on the best authority that, unless something unforeseen happens to-day, the negotiations will be highly successful, and a treaty advantageous to both sides will be signed.

It is rumored that the agreement will follow the lines suggested by the commission headed by Lord Balfour of Burleigh.

Quebec Wants a Few Things.

Quebec, April 9.—There was an important conference between Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, and a strong delegation of the council for the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon, when the latter presented a memorial in regard to the immediate necessity for the erection of docks, elevators and railway terminals in the port of Quebec. Hon. Mr. Pelletier promised that a thorough investigation of the different sites would be made at the end of the month.

NEXT COAL STRIKE WILL BE BIGGEST EVER SEEN

Vernon Hartshorn Says the Employers of Britain Are Leaguing Together to Coerce the Government Into Making Laws That Will Prevent Another "Hold-Up"—Traffic Is Being Resumed on the Railways.

London, April 9.—If the surfacemen's grievances can be settled, there seems to be nothing to prevent a resumption throughout the coal fields of the United Kingdom. The protests of the Yorkshire and Fifeshire miners against the federation's decision are not likely to be followed by action. The Miners' Associations of these counties have already ordered the men to return.

The railway companies announce an early restoration of normal services. Some indication of the ideas in the minds of the labor leaders as to the future course of labor struggles was given in a speech delivered by Vernon Hartshorn at Muesteg, Wales, Sunday. He declared that the result of the coal strike would be the banding together of the coal owners, railway magnates, manufacturers, and owners and capitalists of all kinds to coerce the Government into adopting legislation to prevent the workers from ever again "holding up the nation." Therefore, he declared, the workers must similarly band themselves.

The transport workers, miners and railwaymen must unite in the preparation for the next fight, which, he said, would be of a magnitude never before seen.

General activity prevails in all the coal mining districts of Great Britain to-day. In Scotland and north Wales yesterday morning there was a large increase in the number of miners who descended the shafts, while in the English and southern Welsh coal fields, where the Easter holiday is being observed, small gangs of men went down the pits in order to clear the roadways and to prepare for a general resumption of work to-day, in compliance with the orders of the Miners' Federation on Saturday.

The full contingent of men is working in north Wales, and as the debris in most of the mines in that district was cleared away last week, thousands of tons of coal were raised yesterday morning.

In Flintshire, 6,000 miners have started work again, and in the Derbyshire pits the men are working in preparation for coal-getting time.

In Fifeshire, Scotland, the men have decided not to return until the funds in the treasury of the union, which amount to $150,000, have been exhausted, and as trouble is feared by the authorities between the strikers and the non-unionist men who have returned to work a large force of police has been drafted into the county. In southern Wales preparations have been made for a resumption, but the prospects there are not bright, as the enginemen, firemen, and other surface men have pledged themselves not to return to work until their demands also have been conceded.

The first coal mined will be supplied to the railroads and mills, so that three weeks at least will pass before the householders in the cities will be able to secure full supplies for domestic purposes at the usual prices, and it is estimated that an even larger period will elapse before normal conditions in foreign trade will be reached.

PASSENGERS MADE ESCAPE

Steamer Ontario Lies Off Montauk Point With Fire In Hold.

Montauk Point, N.Y., April 9.—The fate of the steamer Ontario of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Co., which was beached here yesterday morning, was still in doubt last night. With her passengers safely gotten off, the steamer's crew of fifty men stuck to the ship, and at a late hour were still on board, fighting the flames in the hold. The fire, which had raged all day, appeared, however, to be slowly getting the better of the men and from the shore last night flames could be seen bursting occasionally through the forward deck.

Despite the doubt as to the eventual quelling of the flames, no fear was felt for the safety of the crew. The revenue cutters Acushnet and Mohawk and two wrecking tugs stood by to take the crew off in case the flames got completely beyond their control. The revenue cutter Seneca was also nearing the scene to give assistance.

A wrecking barge lay alongside, into which the cargo, consisting mostly of cotton, was being jettisoned. There was, however, a considerable quantity of whiskey, turpentine and rosin in the afterhold, which was being removed as rapidly as possible.

CAMPBELLFORD'S POWER PROBLEM

Cobourg, April 9.—At a meeting of the council of the Campbellford Board of Trade it was decided to ask Hon. Mr. Cochrane to visit Campbellford and investigate the power question there. The secretary has received a reply stating that the Minister will visit Campbellford at as early a date as possible.

PREACHING "SABOTAGE"

Kamloops, B.C., April 9.—"Sabotage," that form of industrial warfare which the French syndicalists have perfected, is now being advocated, it is said, by some of the leaders of the camps of the Industrial Workers of the World strikers along the line of the Canadian Northern. These leaders explain that the costly machinery of the contractors is fully in the hands of the workers, and that it is the easiest thing in the world to see that some important belts disappear mysteriously, that some nuts rattle off, and that the machinery be allowed to shake itself to pieces.

It is easy to have a stove upset some night in camp and the camp go up in smoke. It is easy to have a blast go off at the wrong time and in the wrong place, rock slides and cave-ins can be caused with a little ingenuity, and the blame can be traced back to no one.

Montreal's Harbor Plans.

Montreal, April 9.—According to Major G. W. Stephens, chairman of the harbor commission, most of the riverfront work during the coming season will be in the neighborhood and eastward from the Victoria Pier to the new berths at Hochelaga for the West Indian, South African and New Zealand boats.

With a view to providing facilities for the calling at Montreal in the near future of larger ocean liners, dredging will be assiduously carried on this summer, the ultimate aim of the harbor commission being to have a 35-foot river channel from this city to Quebec.

THREW MATCH INTO GASOLINE

Hamilton, April 9.—A barrel of gasoline and Russell Martin, a small boy, who deliberately threw a match into it, was the cause of an explosion in the rear of McDougall and Fair's hardware store, McNab street, about 4.45 yesterday afternoon. According to the story told by Harry Hardcastle, an employe of the firm, a barrel of gasoline was being siphoned into the main tank in the lane at the side of the store and several boys came around to watch the operation and were ordered away. They would not go, and Hardcastle states that as soon as his back was turned young Martin deliberately threw a match into the bunhole and started to run. The resulting explosion was too quick for him, however, and he was severely burned about the arms and legs. He was immediately picked up and carried to Dr. Davey's office, King and Bay streets, and from there home, where he is reported to be doing nicely.

Repair Work Called Off.

Philadelphia, April 9—Orders were issued yesterday by the union district headquarters at Shamokin calling off all repair work in the Schuylkill district. There will be no interference with the pumpmen and workmen needed to prevent damage to property until after the result of the conference becomes known, when, it is said, it is intended to suspend everything in case there is no prospect of an agreement being reached.

The union heads claim that some companies were taking advantage of the permission given union men to do repair work to prosecute new work, which led to the order being issued.

Catarrhal Deafness

Successfully Treated By

Catarrhozone

Deafness is not so common as blindness, yet thousands are more o less afflicted by it, and their comfort seriously interfered with.

Catarrhal deafness manifests itself but slowly, yet it must be acknowledged that the great majority of those who become totally deaf might have averted this unfortunate condition if they had treated the catarrhal inflammation at its beginning.

The only remedy that can be safely employed for all forms of catarrhal deafness is Catarrhozone. You simply charge the air you breathe with this healing, soothing agent, and by forcing it gently through the ears destroy the germ life which keeps up the inflammation, and at the same time by the soothing, healing action it heals the inflamed surfaces of the middle ear.

CATARRHOZONE, to those who are just a little deaf, and are growing increasingly deaf, is an agent capable of affording the utmost satisfaction, and its use is attended without danger, and as the treatment can be carried on at home no person threatened with the affliction of deafness should postpone one moment in beginning its use.

From every part of the Dominion glowing accounts of the beneficial action it exerts upon catarrhal conditions of the middle ear have been sent in, and you will be resorting to the only method of cure, and the simplest method too, if you try Catarrhozone. Dealers everywhere sell it, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

The Daily Review

TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1912.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The proposed campaign to carry a local option measure in Toronto has been called off, the leaders in the movement feeling that to secure a majority of 9,000 votes in a total of about 45,000 would be exceedingly difficult. This would be the proportion required under the three-fifths clause in the liquor license laws.

It is a cheerful thing to learn that Maetarlinck, the composer of "Blue Bird," is coming forward as an ardent advocate of the virtues of boxing. Whereas, before he scoffed, he now says that there is no more efficient and healthful muscular exercise than punching, none which requires more suppleness and genuine pluck. It is evident that the distinguished dramatist has never enjoyed the delightful exercise of bucking a cord of good maple, or he would know that such a vulgar form of exercise is extremely healthful and invigorating.

The proposition of Mr. Rowell to abolish the bar is causing some uncertainty among the advocates of local option. If the platform were adopted and approved, then in places where the bar would be abolished the wholesale shops and liquor stores would remain open and selling. Local option would wipe out all. The stopping of the treating system cuts a big hole in the evils of the liquor traffic, and it would not interfere with the proposal to pass local option at any time. Temperance men are coming to see that the taking away of the bar will only open the door to greater evils so long as shops may sell.

Mr A. B. Morine, Chairman of the Public Service Commission, has sent in his resignation, and it will be accepted by the government. He says that the charges made against him by Mr. F. B. Carvell are unfounded, but while his answer and reply to these are pending, he does not want to see the work of the commission hampered, or doubt cast on its operations. This is the correct course to take. The charges being personal and against Mr. Morine, the government are not bound to enter on his defense. Mr. Bordens' position has been that the Public Service Commission must be above question, and that the public must regard its findings undisturbed by controversies or disputes.

The amendments to the Manitoba School Act provide for Separate Schools in Winnipeg for Roman Catholic children, the schools to be under control of the Public School bodies. It is the expectation that the school board will take over the present parochial schools; retain the present pupils, and man the schools throughout with a staff of Roman Catholic teachers. These teachers will be under the direct control of the Winnipeg school board; and will be inspected by the ordinary inspecting staff. Presumably the text book and course of studies would be controllable by the school board and could thus be made uniform with the other schools.

The proposition is, in brief, that the public school board should set apart certain schools exclusively for Catholic pupils and employ Catholic teachers to give instructions.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower, Liverpool Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 8.—An eccentric downward whirl of more than two cents a bushel in the price of May wheat to-day was taken by many speculators to indicate that the former bull leaders had been deserted by the trade and the public. Nevertheless, at the end of the session the nearby option was but little more cheapened relatively than either of the new crop futures. The close was steady at 1-8c and 1-4c to 1-2c lower than Saturday night. Corn finished 1-2c to 5-8c and 3-4c down, oats off 1-8c and 1-4c to 1-2c, and provisions less expensive by 2 1-2c to 15c.

The Liverpool Grain Exchange and the continental markets were closed to-day over the holiday.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 8.—Business in Manitoba spring wheat over the cable was very quiet, owing to the fact that there was only a little demand from the continent for April-May shipment, for which the prices bid were all out of line. There is a steady demand for oats from local and outside buyers, but the volume of business doing is only fair. The local trade in flour was fair, but the demand from foreign buyers was very quiet. In rolled oats the feeling is strong, and prices have scored another advance of 10c per barrel, and cornmeal has gone up 25c per barrel. Demand for butter is fair at firm prices. Eggs active and steady. Provisions quiet.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, 87½c.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 52½c to 53c; Canadian western, No. 3, 50c; extra No. 1 feed, 51c; No. 2 local white, 50c; No. 3 local white, 49c; No. 4 local white, 48c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, 63c; malting, $1.05 to $1.10.

Buckwheat—No. 2, 72c to 73c.

Flour—Man. spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.70; seconds, $5.20; strong bakers, $5; winter patents, choice, $5.10 to $5.35; straight rollers, $4.65 to $4.75; straight rollers, bags, $2.15 to $2.25.

Rolled oats—Barrels, $5.35; bag of 90 lbs., $2.55.

Hay, No. 2, per ton, car lots, $14.50 to $15.

Cheese—Finest westerns, 15⅛c to 15¼c; finest easterns, 14½c to 15c.

Butter—Choicest creamery, 36c to 36½c; seconds, 35c to 35½c.

Eggs—Fresh, 25c to 27c per doz.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, $1.70.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, April 8.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 46 carloads—929 cattle, 12 hogs, 13 sheep, 18 calves and 26 horses.

Exporters.

Mr. Howard bought for Swift & Co. 34 steers, 1200 lbs. each, for Liverpool, at an average of $6.95.

Butchers.

Butchers' heavy steers and choice quality sold at from $7 to $7.40; butchers' steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs., $6.75 to $7; good, $6.40 to $6.65; medium, $5.90 to $6.20; common, $5 to $5.75; cows, $3 to $6, and extra choice at $6.75; bulls, $4 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Not many milkers and springers on sale. Prices ranged from $40 to $65 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices for veal calves were firm, at $5 to $8.50, and "bobs" at $2.75 to $3 each.

Sheep.

Not enough on sale to make a market. Prices, however, are quoted firm at $5 to $6.50 for ewes; rams, $4 to $5.25; yearlings, $7 to $8.75; spring lambs, $4 to $8 each.

Hogs.

There were 29 hogs on the market, all bought by the Swift Canadian Company, at $8.25 to $8.30, fed and watered at the market.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 8.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending April 6 were 600 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 2000 calves. The offerings on the market for sale were 400 cattle, 25 sheep and lambs, 750 hogs and 200 calves.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle, prices being firm, owing to the very small offerings, which is usually the case every year at the first market after the Easter trade. Butchers generally have sufficient beef on hand to supply their wants for two or three weeks, consequently the gathering of buyers was small, and, as the demand from the large packing concerns was also limited, the trade on the whole was slow. A few choice steers sold at $7 to $7.25, and top quality cows at $5.75 to $6 per 100 pounds, but the demand for all kinds of common stock was almost nil.

The undertone to the market for hogs was strong, and prices have scored a further advance of 10c to 25c per 100 pounds, owing to the continued small supplies coming forward, which to some extent is attributed to the increasing scarcity thruout the country and the very bad condition of the country roads in some sections. The demand from packers was good, and sales of selected lots were made at $9 to $9.10 and $9.25 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

Supplies of small meats were very small, and in consequence trade was also quiet, with no change in prices to note. A few lambs changed hands at $7.25 to $7.50 per 100 pounds, and calves sold at from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $7 to $7.25; do., medium, $5.50 to $6.50; do., common, $4.50 to $5.25; canners, $3 to $3.25; butchers' cattle, choice cows, $5.50 to $6; do., medium, $4 to $5; do., bulls, $4.50 to $5.50; milkers, choice, $65 to $70; do., common and medium, each, $50 to $60; springers, $30 to $40.

Sheep, ewes, $5 to $5.25; bucks and culls, $4.50 to $4.75. Lambs, $7.25 to $7.50.

Hogs, f.o.b., $9 to $9.25.

Calves, $2 to $8.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., April 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 3400 head; active and 10c to 25c higher; prime steers, $7.85 to $8.15; shipping, $6.50 to $7.75; butchers, $5.25 to $7.25; heifers, $4.50 to $6.60; cows, $2.50 to $5.50; bulls, $3.75 to $6; stockers and feeders, $3.75 to $5.50; stock heifers, $3.75 to $4.25; fresh cows and springers active and strong, $25 to $65.

Hogs—Receipts, 8000 head; active and 10c to 15c higher; heavy and mixed, $8.40 to $8.45; yorkers, $7.75 to $8.45; pigs, $7.50 to $7.65; roughs, $7.85 to $7.50; stags, $5.50 to $6.25; dairies, $8 to $8.40.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 14,000 head; active and 10c to 25c higher; lambs, $5.50 to $8.95; yearlings, $7 to $7.75; wethers, $6.50 to $6.75; ewes, $5.85 to $6.25; sheep, mixed, $3 to $6.40.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"Outside the towns in the west there are few of what you would call gentlefolk," he said, with just the faintest emphasis of good natured scorn for English prejudice; "nor are there any 'country houses' as you understand the name in England. Here people live in the country to till the land and to live by tilling it, yet they don't call themselves 'peasants,' either. It isn't that they're snobbish and want to seem to be what they are not, don't think that for a moment. But they—well, I won't try to describe them. Many people from the old world would never understand what they really are or their point of view, but you will, Lady Betty. You are quick and sympathetic and intelligent, and when I ask you to define for me the difference between the farmers of Ohio, as typified by my cousins and their neighbors in Summer county, I shall be surprised if you don't exactly hit the nail on the head. They'll surprise you a little at first, I warn you, and for about ten minutes maybe you won't know what to make of them. But I count on you to see the point in spite of all your traditions."

"What have my traditions got to do with it?" I asked.

"Wait and see."

I laughed. "Well, I only wish I knew what my traditions are," said I. "I suppose I ought to know, but I don't think I do."

"You may feel them pricking up and down your spine for a bit, while you're getting used to a new order of things at the Valley farm," answered Mr. Brett. "And yet I don't know. I shall be enormously interested in watching the effect upon you before I—have to say goodby."

I forgot everything else he had been saying when I heard that last sentence.

"Will you have to say goodby soon?" I asked him in a crestfallen voice.

He didn't speak for a minute, perhaps on account of a series of bumps in the road.

At last he said, "To tell you the truth, Lady Betty, I should like to stop and pay my cousins a little visit, but—I don't know if I have a right to."

"Oh, why not?" I asked. "Wouldn't they be delighted to keep you?"

"Perhaps. I hope so. But what about you?"

"If it depended one bit on me, you'd make a long visit."

"Wouldn't you really mind seeing me hanging around—sometimes? Just at meals, you know—or to take you a drive once in awhile?"

I looked at him merrily through my talc window, for I felt happy and lighthearted, and the world seemed such a very nice place to live in at that moment.

"Do you truly need to have me answer that question?" I asked. "If you do, we can't be real friends as I thought, after all."

"You say that because you are kind—too kind to have reflected enough perhaps. An accident—the happiest accident in the world for me—has given me a chance to see something of you, Lady Betty, but do you understand that only by an accident could a rough fellow like me have any place at all in your life, no matter how small or temporary? I don't want to take advantage of that sweet kindness of yours, which is partly all your own and partly the essence of your youth and innocence."

"Now, you are making me very cross," said I. "I won't hear you talk so. You may laugh at me, because we've known each other such a short time, but really and truly you are the best friend I've ever had. I wouldn't lose you for any one or anything in the world, and I don't mean to, unless you get tired of me—so, there!"

"Tired of you! Good heavens, I tired of you!"

"Very well, then," said I flippantly, "so far as I'm concerned you needn't say 'goodby' to the Valley farm until you feel the first symptoms coming on."

"Lady Betty," remarked Mr. Brett, "I wonder if there's another girl like you in the world?"

"According to my mother, there isn't another so vexing," I replied.

We both laughed, and then he suddenly said, "Here is Aristo."

I stared about wildly. "Where, where?" I asked.

He laughed a great deal more. "Why, you're looking right at the postoffice and the grocery and dry goods store."

Sure enough, there was a brown wooden building at the top of a dusty hill we were just climbing, but there was nothing else anywhere, except a clear brown creek and some sweet smelling meadows with a white horse gazing in a bored way over rather a queer fence, and some cows asleep under a clump of maple trees on our side of a young birch grove.

"Where's the rest of it?" I went on. "Where are the other shops and the houses and the people?"

"Oh, the other shops and the houses aren't built yet, but they may be any time, and then the people will come. But the fact that they haven't come yet doesn't prevent this from being Aristo. But you mustn't think this is the only place you will have to do your shopping when you're at the Valley farm. Wait till you see Hermann's Corners. There's a great emporium there, and you'll ruffle the feelings of half the ladies of Summer county if you don't fall in love with it and its proprietor, Whit Walker. Promise you'll let me be the first one to introduce you to both?"

We were in a sweet and gracious country now. It looked as if Mother Nature would never allow any of her children who obeyed her to be poor or unhappy here. As we whizzed along the up and down road between billowing meadows of grain we could see here and there a farmhouse showing between trees or peering over the brow of a rounded hill, but there was none where I longed to stop until we came in sight of a dear, old, red brick house—really old, not what some Americans call old. It was set back several hundred yards from the road and an avenue of magnificent maples—each one a great green temple—led up to the comfortable, rose draped porch which sheltered the door. There was an old fashioned garden on one side, with a running flame of hollyhocks hemming it in. The background was a dark green oak and maple grove, and in a clover meadow beyond the garden was a colony of beehives. It looked an ideal, story book place, and I wished it might be the Valley farm, but thought such a thing too good to be true. When one is going to stop at a house one has never seen, as Vic says, it usually turns out to be the one of all others you like least.

So I was delighted when we turned in at the open gate, with its guardian apple tree on either side. We sailed up the avenue under the maples, but instead of making for the front entrance, turned off into a farm road which led round the side of the house, and the tooting of our horn brought

First Aid to Santa Claus.

A clever idea for a Christmas night party is to have the gifts come in on a sled piled high and strapped on and the sled drawn by two lads dubbed Santa Claus' assistants. The place cards at the supper which follows the distribution of the gifts should be tiny sleds made from cardboard and dipped in mucilage, then in diamond dust, the ropes to be of silver cord and each sled drawn by a miniature Santa Claus about three inches high.

Women Compose Cabinet.

Santa Monica, Cal., is to be the first city in the United States if not in the world to have a municipal advisory cabinet of women. Mayor Elect R. H. Dow has appointed seven women, one from each of the seven wards.

Before election he promised the women that if successful he would give them a voice in the city government.

"Not only will they be consulted as to appointments," said the mayor elect, "but they will be called on for advice in all matters affecting municipal legislation."

Cakes For Christmas.

Little cakes that will please the children either at the table or on the Christmas tree are made as follows: Bake the cakes in little patty or muffin pans and frost the tops with white icing. Dip a small new paint brush in melted chocolate and draw a face on each. Make some crying and others laughing, the different expressions being made by the curve of the mouth line. The merest outline will be sufficient. Cut a circle of tissue paper of white or any other color liked two inches larger than the cake, pink the edge with scissors and run a thread round one inch from the edge. Put a cake in the paper, draw up the thread, and a cunning little cap is formed. The pleasure of small children will well repay the trouble of making these little cake babies.

From Profits—or Losses?

WE all advertise.

A man advertises his character by his deeds, his wisdom by his words or by his silence. A merchant's store, stock, and windows speak either well or ill of his business.

So when a man says "No, I do not advertise," he knows not what he says. What he really means is that he does not publish printed advertisements.

Some proclaim this as though it were a virtue—yet spend much effort and invest much money in advertising their business through mediums other than the printed word.

They may make their wares fit for a king—yet hesitate to introduce them to Brown or Smith.

This is inconsistency.

The truth is, printed advertising is a vital force in every business, just as is the "silent" advertising of a product's quality or a merchant's service.

When you employ the Printed Word as your solicitor in the Court of Public Opinion, you build good will for your product or service—a good will that results in profit.

If unrepresented at this Court, your interests are as unprotected as though, when involved in a law suit, you failed to "enter an appearance" and the case is decided against you—by default.

So it is clear you pay for advertising—one way or the other. If you pay it wages, it will work for you.

If you refuse its offers of service, it will work against you, in just the measure of its employment by your Competitors.

So you are paying for advertising either out of your profits or by your losses.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

THE FLIGHT OF PRINCESS IRIS

High Class Entertainment of Novelties and Bewilderment

The success attained by Mildred and Rouclere and their merry company in the Egyptian Fantasy "Princess Iris," has been remarkable when one considers they are visiting many of these cities for the first time. The records of the best of the high class standard attractions have been beaten by them, and their immense audiences are made up of the wealth, refinement, intelligence and culture. On their second or third visit this sort of thing might be expected, but somehow they get to the public right away and the delight and novelty of the performance sends good news ahead of them which guarantees big audiences everywhere. Their appearance here shortly is anxiously looked forward to by the lovers of what is new and best in refined theatrical endeavor.

The play is one long continual laugh from curtain raise to curtain fall, introducing many new and bewildering illusions and many pleasing specialties.

The scenery is original and novel in its entirety, and the electrical effects beautiful and fantastical.

The engagement of "Princess Iris" is announced for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 11, 12 and 13, at "The Grand." The seats are now on sale.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE ROLLER RINK

Dr. McClelland is Heard by Police Commissioners

At a last year's City Council meeting Dr. McClelland complained of the Brock street rink nuisance, seeking some redress for his neighbors and himself. Nothing particularly was done at the time to mitigate the annoyance. At a meeting of the Police Commissioners yesterday, Dr. McClelland related several instances of what he considered indignities and grievances which he had considered himself subjected to ever since that time. While he had nothing definitely substantial to support his contentions, he was more or less convinced that these indignities had been indirectly attributal to P.C. Meharry.

His principal reason for appearing before the commissioners yesterday was to voice the feelings of the residents of Brock street, adjacent to the rink, who maintain that the combination of P.C. Meharry's work, as manager of a rink, and as a police officer does not work together in the interests of the city.

The doctor produced a ticket which he had purchased for entry to the Cobourg hockey match, last winter, which bore the name of "John Meharry, proprietor.

The police regulations strictly prohibit a police officer carrying on any business, while engaged on police duty, and the commissioners, a considerable time ago, gave Mr. Meharry an explicit understanding to that effect.

Dr. McClelland explained that his first trouble personally with Mr. Meharry, had been when he stopped the officer on the street and requested him to mitigate the noise at Brock street rink. Meharry had replied, that he had $4,000 in that place, and he was going to get it out of it. After the council meeting at which the physician had protested against the rink nuisance, Dr. McClelland said he was called up by phone the next evening, and a voice, asked "who was the policeman referred to by you at the council meeting last night." He had replied that he did not care to discuss the matter over the phone. The voice which he was almost positive was that of Mr. Meharry, who, had called him a very vile epithet, twice, and then rang off. Shortly after the operator of the rink called at the doctor's residence, saying he wanted to talk the matter over. The man had told him that what he had said at the council meeting was a lie.

Some time later, Dr. McClelland said that he and the Chief of Police had been talking over the matter of the rink nuisance, and about Meharry's presence there. The Chief had told the doctor that Meharry assured him he never was in the rink in uniform.

One day in August, Dr. McClelland clearly recalled seeing Meharry in uniform, enter the rink about 1.30. Dr. McClelland immediately phoned the Chief of Police that his officer was in the rink. He did not know what had been said to Meharry regarding this time, by Chief Thompson.

The doctor strenuously objected to the congregating of young boys in front of the rink, who swore filthy language and swapped disgusting stories. On one occasion, Mrs. Gibbs and another lady, who were out on their verandah one evening were forced to retire, so offensive was the language. On another occasion the doctor said a small boy had come to his place from the rink in a maudlin condition. The boy's talk was almost unintelligible, but he managed to explain that they had made him drink something in the rink. While this was going on, Dr. McClelland said he looked up and saw Meharry at a window in the rink, grinning at the whole performance. At another time two of the frequenters of the rink had placed a drunken man in Dr. McClelland's backyard, and in many other ways, the doctor thought he detected evidences of personal animosity to him.

He had also on one occasion received an anonymous letter, warning him that if he did not keep quiet he would be burnt out.

The doctor asked what evidences he had of Meharry's management of the rink. In reply, he said that Mr Meharry's wife sells the tickets, that all accounts were addressed to him, and that he did the banking. At another time he had heard Meharry come to the rink door and swear at some boys.

A lady witness, who was called in told of hearing a conversation in the Bank of Toronto, between the ledger-keeper and Meharry. She had seen him bank a night's proceedings.

Dr. McClelland said that he had noticed Meharry shovelling snow at the rink during the winter. He also complained of boys who come out in the lane from the rink to settle their disputes about their lady friends. He also felt that the Police Department, as a whole, were sympathetically disposed towards Brock street rink. He thought being a police officer and a rink manager was an anomalous position, for a member of the police force.

Mr. Meharry was called in and explained his connection with the rink. He denied ever being in the rink except as a policeman. Neither was he ever at the rink when a fight was on. He had heard of a fight on Chambers street, however.

RINK TO CHANGE HANDS

Mr. Meharry stated that he had a financial interest in the building only. The rink was the property of a company of four or five, local people, who were responsible for its management. The Alexander Amusement Company, have now however secured an option on the rink and will operate it in the near future. The option was given last week. Last winter the company ran the rink on a percentage basis; Jack Thirnbeck was manager of the place, acting for the Peterboro Hockey Club.

Mr. Meharry furthermore stated that he had not been wasting his time there, and that he was not interested in its management. All accounts sent in were tendered to the Brock street rink company.

The commissioners asked Dr. McClelland to put his charges in some shape if he desired to press them, but they felt that the better policy would be for him to ignore the rink as much as possible. The doctor will consider what action to take, and if he decides to go on, why the commissioners will see that he secures justice.

Note—It may be said that some time ago, to the commissioners, Mr Meharry said that while he had an investment in the roller rink, he had no part in the active management. The commissioners saw no reason why the officer should not invest money in a rink or other property, if he saw fit. They were assured that the duties of the officer were not neglected and that he took no part in the running of affairs.

The matter rests in the hands of Dr. McClelland to bring forward formally his charges, have them supported by evidence taken under oath. That is the only way to establish a point or points. Rightly enough, the commissioners will not place large value on hearsay evidence, or even on the impressions of one side of a case. Personal differences may be adjusted elsewhere; it is only so far as the public duties of a public officer are concerned that the commissioners are to adjucate.

PASSING OF DR. GRIFFITH

Local acquaintances of Rev. Thos. Griffith will regret to learn of his death, which occurred in Toronto on Saturday evening at the family residence.

The distinguished and veteran divine had enjoyed a long and useful career in the Methodist ministry, having held sixteen charges in all.

He was a minister in the Primitive Methodist church, at the youthful age of nineteen. His ministry in all extended over a period of forty-two years of active service.

He was a member of the committee which drew up the present basis of the Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Many in Peterborough will recall the splendid impression made by Dr. Griffith, when he preached in aid of the superannuation fund, in Charlotte street Methodist church in October of 1911. His vigor and heartiness on that occasion was marvellous in a man of his advanced age. He also preached in Peterborough some two years ago.

83RD ANNIVERSARY OF GENERAL BOOTH'S BIRTHDAY

To-morrow (Wednesday) will be the eighty-third anniversary of the birth of General William Booth, the founder and "Grand Old Man" of the Salvation Army. He was born in the city of Nottingham, England on April 10th, 1829, and was reared in the Church of England, but at the age of fifteen years became converted, and joined the Wesleyan church. He continued to worship in this connection in varied capacities, until the year 1865, when he severed himself from this body, and commenced mission work in the East End of Old London. From this mission eventually developed the world-wide Salvation Army of the present day.

In honor of the General's birthday a special meeting in the form of a musical festival will be held in the S.A. Temple, Simcoe street to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, when a splendid program of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered. One of the important items will be the presentation of a bandsman's A1 silver cornet and a beautiful Guard's patent side drum to the Temple band.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public, a voluntary collection only being taken inside.

GENERAL BOOTH.
Founder of the Salvation Army, who will celebrate his 83rd birthday to-morrow.

PASSENGER TRAIN AND MOONLIGHT FREIGHT COLLIDE SOUTH OF FRASERVILLE

Special Passenger Train Was Bound for Millbrook to Connect With Lindsay Train and Should Have Waited for Freight to Pass at Fraserville—Local People Escaped Serious Injury.

A G.T.R. passenger train from Peterborough, made up of an engine, one coach and a baggage car, which left here shortly after nine o'clock to connect with the Port Hope train from Lindsay at Millbrook, crashed into the moonlight freight train about 9.45 o'clock, just a short distance south of Fraserville. The extra train was made necessary owing to the trouble at Lily Lake as a result of the floods.

The passenger train had received orders to sidetrack at Fraserville to allow the freight to pass it, but for some reason or other the orders were not complied with and as a result, just half a mile from Fraserville the train bound for Millbrook collided with the oncoming freight. It appears that both engines were travelling tender first and for that reason the lights were not very noticeable to the engineers. But the engineers on both trains saw the probability of a collision while the trains were fifty yards apart, and applied the brakes. This reduced the speed of both trains considerably, and when they met neither was travelling very fast. The engineers escaped uninjured.

The first intimation that the passengers received of the accident was a terrific jar which threw them from their seats, and which wrecked many of the seats in the coach.

COACH WAS FILLED.

The passenger coach was crowded and a few of the passengers were accommodated in the baggage car.

The travellers in the coach were thrown from their seats and jostled against each other and against the iron and steel work of the car. Many received a number of cuts about the face and body but no one was unfortunate enough to sustain any broken bones.

THE INJURED.

Of these, Conductor Valentine, Mr. A. S. Cooper, of the Greenshields Co., Limited, of Peterborough, and Mr. W. Pilling, of Port Hope, were the greatest sufferers, and were taken to Nicholls Hospital by Belleghem's ambulance who met the emergency train on its return to the city. After having their wounds dressed they were able to leave the hospital to-day.

A number of local young men were going to Port Hope on this train for the Annual Club Dance, and of these several received nasty cuts and bruises about the face. Mr. Harry Cressman and Jack Hopwood both were slightly injured in this manner.

Soon after the wreck, an emergency train was made up here, and sent to the scene of the accident under Conductor Adams, and the train returned with the injured. Drs. Amys, McCulloch and McClelland went down with the emergency train from the Peterborough side. The engines were sidetracked at Fraserville and all was open for the 7.10 train this morning for Toronto.

The stove in the baggage car was broken open by the jolt and started a blaze in that car which fortunately was extinguished before it had done any great damage.

PASSENGERS EXCITED.

That Conductor Valentine, of the wrecked G.T.R. train last night, was not more seriously injured, is almost a miracle. He was lying lengthwise along the aisle when the passengers started in a frenzied rush for the door, according to Mr. Muldaney, of Cobourg, who was on the train. Mr. Sam Hoolihan of Peterborough, went to the rescue. He held the crowd back until the prostrate conductor could be removed to a place of safety.

Mr. Muldaney and Mr. Hoolihan were sitting together when the crash came. They were in a seat in the rear of the coach. When they heard the whistle for brakes they braced themselves and were not hurt. It was at the [illegible] end of the coach that the [illegible] most severely injur[illegible] the seats were smashed.

The passengers all flocked outside. It was very cold. Someone got some fence rails and soon had a good fire going which served as a light as well as a "shin warmer."

Among the world's best things to drink is "Salada" tea. Its purity, flavor and deliciousness stand unrivalled.

DINED HIM AT THE ORIENTAL

Wm. Hamilton Co. Employes Regret Mr. Stockdale's Departure

Mr. R. A. Stockdale, a popular employee of the moulding department of the Wm. Hamilton Company, was the guest of honor at an informal banquet last evening in the Oriental Hotel. About fifty of his fellow-employees were presentt. A generous spread was disposed of after which an illuminated address was presented to Mr. Stockdale by Mr. H. Robertson. Addresses were made by some of those present, after which Mr. Stockdale replied in fitting terms to the many kind things said about him. A short musical program followed, including a vocal number by Mr. Harold Lee.

Mr. Stockdale is leaving Peterborough for Toronto shortly.

DEFENDANT WON IN POLICE COURT

An Unpleasant Aftermath for the Complainant.

Simon Murphy, who keeps a store at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets, was found by Magistrate Dumble to be the greater offender when his charge of abusive and insulting language against Harry Cook was aired in police court this morning. His Worship found that Murphy acted in an ill-mannered way in his store, and dismissed the case after a couple of witnesses had been heard. Murphy will have to pay the costs.

O'K

Extra Mild, Remember

Many people would drink ale, in preference to all other malt beverages, if ale did not make them bilious.

This O'K brew is brewed especially for those people. It is extra mild and extra light, and lets you enjoy the creamy deliciousness of real old English ale without the heaviness and excessive bitterness. In easily—opened seal stoppered bottles. No broken cork or tinfoil in the glass.

CROSSING THE DRINK

A few more days will come and pass, when Templin's bunch will take the grass and ailments old and new ones too, most of them fakes and few but true will be writ down. The kids of school will have lame backs, which quickly heal at ball fence cracks, they'll have to plant the garden plot, the seeding's at the baseball lot; they'll have the toothache, mumps and piles, and have to slave at soft wood piles—across the drink. The fair young dear will have an ache, that only "Snake Curve Pills" will shake, the counter hops will their tale make about the lawn and garden rake—to cross the drink. The cops will hike the pikes in vain, then all at once from some side lane—their bird appears; each one with great intent to sink the handcuffs on their man kerplink, will chase him east—and cross the drink. And some days when there's not much trade and it's a hundred in the shade, the "prop" and "boss" will pause to think, its time to have another drink—across the drink.

ALL STARS WON AT CLEVELAND

Thursday night will see the Annual Junior Hexathlon Contest for 1912, conducted. This competition is conducted in almost every Y.M.C.A. gymnasium in Canada, and the local boys expect to get a slice of the "Bacon" this year. The events will be the 60 yard, potato race, running high jump, standing broad jump, 8 lb. shot put, fence vault, 160 yard potato race. The contest will start at 7.45.

Friday evening at 9 o'clock the Nemos and Hustlers meet in a city league basketball match.

Saturday at 8.15 the Midgets and Ramblers meet in a City Juvenile League basketball game, after which the floor will be open for the seniors to work in some practice.

DIAMOND DUST FROM THE CIRCUIT

Frank Bowerman, manager London Baseball club.

Such is the announcement that is expected to come out of London for the veteran National League catcher is expected in Cockney town to close up a deal with the London directors whereby he takes charge of the club for the season. The London crowd are very jubilant over their prospects for landing Bowerman Not only do they feel satisfied that the veteran will prove a success but they also are sure that he will turn out to be one of the best drawing cards in the league, for there is not a fan in the country but who knows of Bowerman by reputation and remembers his work with the New York Giants and other major league clubs, Bowerman being one of the original Johnny McGraw crew, when the New York leader had Joe McGinnity and the rest of the old chaps under his command.

Bowerman was out of the game last year, taking things easy, fortunately having amassed enough of the needful to permit of this. As a result the London people were greatly surprised, when the veteran expressed his willingness to take hold of the Cockneys, when invited to by Secretary F. C. Buzzell, who knew Bowerman in the old days when he resided in the same town, Romeo. Mich. with him. That he will prove the right man in the right place is only too evident, and naturally the London fans are well pleased with the prospects of having the old star as their leader.

There was some disappointment felt in London when it was decided that Joe Keenan had to go as the result of his share in the recent franchise controversy, but with Bowerman as his successor this will be pretty well cleaned up. Keenan has not signed up with any club as yet, but his friends claim that he will be found with Hamilton.

Secretary M. M. Robinson, of the Canadian league, and George O'Neil, of London, were in St. Thomas recently straightening out matters for Chaucer Elliott. The St. Thomas people are literally baseball mad and have the bug so badly that they want to take the club off Chaucer's hands. The league representatives were met by a large number of citizens including three aldermen, and the situation was gone into from every angle. It was understood that Mr. Elliott's illness will prevent him going to St. Thomas for the opening for the season, and it is probable that he may not go there at all. With this end in view, a number of citizens made an offer to the committee to purchase the franchise from him. The offer will be taken into consideration by the legal committee and will be submitted to Elliott. It is almost certain that the franchise will be turned over to the citizens, who purpose forming a joint stock company and selecting a manager, who will likely be one of last years' players. Matters are expected to take more definite shape in a day or so.

The Ottawa club directors are having some trouble over their Sunday dates. It was the original intention to play in the Hull grounds, but the parties in control of this park have demanded a hold-up price, and there will be nothing doing in that location. An offer has been made for another park, and if this is accepted the Sunday games will stand. In the meantime the league schedule is held up and will not be sent out until something definite is done about the Sunday dates, for loss of these will mean some very important changes in the schedule. Secretary Brice, of the Ottawa club, has promised to make a definite announcement today.

The Berlin fans have renamed their team, and now desire them to be known as the Busy Bees. There is little chance of this, however, for Green Sox will stick now that it has the hold. The Peterborough fans are still busily employed selecting a nickname for their club, all of which is waste of time, for the team will receive its name just as soon as they strike the road for the first game away from home. For instance, it was the desire last year to have the Hamilton club known as the Tigers, yet they were dubbed the Kolts and this still prevails. In London they wanted their team known as the Tecumsehs, but the Cockneys is the accepted title around the circuit.—Hamilton Spectator.

In referring to the expected appearance of Frank Bowerman with the London Ball Club, the Ottawa Citizen also says:

Another big leaguer in the Canadian Association will be "Smiling Al" Orth, who has closed to play for Berlin. Orth twirled for several seasons with the New York Americans and was known far and wide as the "curveless wonder." The coming of these stars to the Canadian League just goes to illustrate the remarkable advancement of the compact circuit, in which the Capital will be represented.

Next year, if the baseball boom continues, one will probably hear of Rube Marquard signing with Ottawa, "Three Finger" Brown with Hamilton, Joe Tinker with St. Thomas, Ty Cobb with Peterborough and Hans Wagner with the Berlin Dutchman. With Shaugnessy at the helm in 1913, however, Ottawa will be able to give them all cards and spades and beat them to the pennant.

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

Doctors Could Not Help Mrs. Templeton—Regained Health through Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Hooper, Nebraska.—"I am very glad to tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me. For five years I suffered from female troubles so I was scarcely able to do my work. I took doctors' medicines and used local treatments but was not helped. I had such awful bearing down pains and my back was so weak I could hardly walk and could not ride. I often had to sit up nights to sleep and my friends thought I could not live long. At my request my husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I commenced to take it. By the time I had taken the seventh bottle my health had returned and I began doing my washing and was a well woman. At one time for three weeks I did all the work for eighteen boarders with no signs of my old trouble returning. Many have taken your medicine after seeing what it did for me. I would not take $1000 and be where I was. You have my permission to use my name if it will aid anyone."—Mrs. SUSIE TEMPLETON, Hooper, Nebraska.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

BOYS GAVE HIM DIAMOND PIN

Presentation to Foreman of the C. G. E. Toolroom

During a few minutes interval at the Canadian General Electric Works yesterday at noon, business was laid aside, and good-byes said to Mr. E. Hawkins, foreman of the tool-making department, who is severing his connection with the company. Mr. Hawkins has been a popular foreman and the boys showed their appreciation by presenting him with a diamond stick pin, together with the following address, read by H. Dodds—

Mr. E. Hawkins,—It is with feeling of deep regret that we learn of your intention to sever your connection with the C.G.E.

We wish as members of your staff to show that we have appreciated being associated with a man of your sterling qualities and strong, honest purpose, and hope that you may take with you kind thoughts of those you leave behind, and that you will always look back with pleasure on the time you spent among us.

We would ask you to accept this diamond stick pin, as a rememberance of the staff in the tool room of the C.G.E.

Wishing you and yours a long, happy and prosperous sojourn, and that your efforts be crowned with the success they deserve.

Signed—

The Tool Room Boys.

Mr. Hawkins fittingly replied, thanking the donors for their thoughtful rememberance of him.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. ANNUAL MEETING COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASS'N.

The annual meeting of the County of Peterborough Sunday School Association was held in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday forenoon. There were present representatives from Otonabee, Lakefield and Smith, and Asphodel districts.

The minutes of the first annual meeting were read and confirmed.

The treasurer presented a statement showing receipts of $79.50 as follows:

Otonabee, $50.00; Smith and Lakefield, $11.00; Asphodel, $6.75; Belmont, $6.50; North Smith and Harvey, $5.50.

Of this amount $70.00 was contributed to the funds of the Provincial Association and the balance is on hand.

The budget for the year was considered and it was decided to ask the different districts to aim at the following amounts for this year, and the local executives were asked to take steps to apportion their amounts among the different schools and notify them as soon as possible: Otonabee, $50.00; Lakefield and Smith, $35.00; Asphodel, $20.00; Belmont, $10.00; Dummer, $7.50; North Smith and Harvey, $5.00.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—J. A. Finley, Norwood.
Vice-President—H. S. Bissell, Lakefield.
Secretary—R. Lees, Peterborough.
Treasurer—A. J. Johnston.

SUPERINTENDENTS.

Teacher Training—Rev. D. A. Thomson, Hastings.
Home Department—A. E. Kennedy, Lakefield.
Elementary Grades—Miss E. L. Waters, Norwood.
Adult Bible Class—Percy Edy, Bridgenorth.
Delegates to the Provincial Convention—The President and the Secretary.

THE MANAGER VAMOOSHED

"What Katie Did" to be Presented at Grand To-morrow Night

A fairly large audience enjoyed the presentation of "A Moral Question" by Miss Constance Crawley and her English company at the Grand last night, but there was one act that did not appear on the program. Instead of Miss Crawley it was the manager of the company who starred, and to-day the company are without the funds that should be theirs, and Mr. Manager is missing.

Now the management of the Opera House has come to the rescue, and the matinee play of the company, "What Katie Did," will be presented to-morrow evening by the company, admission to any seat in the house being fifty cents. The situation for Miss Crawley and her company is very embarassing, being as they are high up in their profession, and on the road under contract by the manager, who is said to have large funds of his own. Miss Crawley, who is an actress of exceptional ability, is a cousin of Lord Kitchener. "What Katie Did" is a sparkling farce comedy, and its treatment to-morrow night should attract a large audience.

Mr. G. N. Gordon has been retained by the company, and in the event of the missing man being apprehended, the case will likely be heard here.

NEW OFFICER FOR FORCE

Mr. John Kane, a young man of twenty-two, five feet eleven inches in height, and weighing one hundred and seventy pounds, was added on probation to the strength of the Peterborough police force, by the police commissioners yesterday afternoon. This was in accordance with the agreement that one extra man should be added to the force, should a sanitary inspector be appointed. The new man looks likely and has good qualifications for a police officer. For the past year or so he has been fishery inspector on the Otonabee. He has also a fair degree of clerical knowledge. One other applicant named Morrison was suggested for the office, but the commissioners felt that Kane was the more satisfactory.

A man named Samuel Cohen, whose nationality is apparent, applied for a license to carry on a second-hand store at 189 Charlotte street. The request was granted.

For measuring the speed of an aeroplane propeller there has been invented an electrical device, light in weight and taking up but little room.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT

Toronto Firms Will Supply 800 Feet of Hose

CHIEF GETS A BID

But Committee are Against His Going to Sherbrooke

Chiefly to consider tenders for supplying hose for the Fire Department, a meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was held last evening. The following companies submitted tenders at the given prices:

Kingan Hardware Company, $1.10 and $1.0 per foot.

The Dunlop Rubber Company, $1.05 and $1.00 per foot.

The Goodyear Company, $1.00 f.o.b. to Peterborough.

The Gutta Percha Company, $1.00 per foot.

An order for eight hundred feet was divided between the Dunlop Rubber Company and the Gutta Percha Company, each concern receiving an order for four hundred feet. The purchase last year was made from the Dunlop people. The hose in each case is to be delivered f.o.b. to Peterborough for $1.00 per foot.

MANY LIGHTS OUT.

The matter of light outages for the last quarter was given a protracted discussion. Seventy-three cases of outages were reported during the first quarter of 1912, representing a cost of $39.58. The city regularly is charged 16 2-3 cents for every light. When an outage occurs and is reported the city charges the company 25 cents extra, or deducts 41 2-3 cents for each outage, from the Peterborough Light and Power Company's bill. On motion it was decided to deduct the $39.58 from the account rendered by the Peterborough Light and Power Company for outages in the last quarter.

A letter was also received from the Peterborough Light and Power Company stating that twenty-six arc light had been removed to the centre of the streets, and are charged against the city. Some of these lights were removed last year during Ald. Morgan's period of chairmanship of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

AFTER THE CHIEF.

A letter from Sherbrooke, Que., was read by the chairman, asking for Fire Chief Howard's services in establishing a fire fighting department in their city. The letter stated that they had heard of the efficiency of Peterborough's brigade, and would like some assistance from the Chief, relative to the running of a fire department.

Mayor Bradburn said he saw no reason why the request for information should be withheld, but he was opposed to the Chief going to Sherbrooke to supply it.

Ald. Morgan jocularly inquired why they should come to Peterborough for information as to the running of a brigade. Chief Howard, who was present, accepted the mild insinuation smilingly. Mayor Bradburn stated that if Chief Howard went down, there was the possibility of a fire in Peterborough, and with the Chief absent, much loss might be incurred by the city. The Chief wont go.

RUBBER BOOTS.

The question of what kind of boots were most suitable for the firemen was again brought up. At the fire at Mann's planing mill, Mr. McGeachie told the chairman of the committee that the firemen were forced at intervals to remove their high boots and empty out the water. This was considered a very objectionable necessity, owing to the present high boots being in use.

Ald. Morgan thought the high boots were suitable, volunteering to show the fallacy of the Chief's assertion that in case of fire, the men would be unable to step into the long boots smartly, owing to the way the upper parts have of falling over as pointed out by the Chief.

Chief Howard advocated the low boots because of their ability to stand upright all the time.

On motion of Ald. Buller and Gordon, it was decided that the purchase of suitable boots and coats be left with the chairman and Chief Howard.

A petition for two hydrants on Bonacord street was left for the chairman to deal with.

DUMP GROUND FOR GARBAGE

City Will Buy Ten Acres at Crawford's Grove for $2200

A dumping ground for the city's refuse has been discovered. Ald. Duncan reported at a brief sitting of the City Council last evening that his committee had secured an option on a ten acre lot at the place known as The Drain, adjacent to Crawford's Grove. The owner of the land is Archie Jackson, who volunteered to undertake the caring for the garbage for one year. He is willing also to sell the plot for $2,200. The option secured by Ald. Duncan is good until April 15th. The location of the land was considered by the committee to be quite convenient and well as within reach of the city.

Ald. Brown remarked that if satisfactory he could arrange to secure the land at a rental of $425.00 by taking a five-year lease on it. The Council did not favor this idea, but felt that it would be a wiser plan to purchase the land outright.

On motion of Ald. Graham and Johnston, the report was received, and it was decided to request the City Trust to purchase the 10 acres from Mr. Archie Jackson for the sum of $2,200.00, in accordance with the option given for its use as a dumping ground for refuse, and that the Council agree to pay 4 1-2 per cent on the purchase price as rental.

BRIDGE TO EAST CITY.

Ald. Morgan asked Mayor Bradburn what steps were being taken towards putting a steel bridge over into East City at Hunter street.

The Mayor replied that he had received a letter from Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, saying that the government would have their engineers visit Peterborough soon and look over the site for the new bridge, and report back.

Regarding a bridge at Sherbrooke street, owing to illness, the city engineer has been prevented from completing his plans. The bridge at this place, however, is expected to be commenced this year.

HAD MANY FRIENDS HERE

Many local friends learn with regret, of the death at Joliette, Que., of Mr. John P. Meagher, who spent two years as a student at the Canadian General Electric Company, during which time, he made many acquaintances and friends. His death was brought about through injuries received while attempting to board a moving locomotive. The late Mr. Meagher was a nephew of Sir William MacKenzie, of Toronto.

He was thirty-three years old, and had spent most of his life in railway work, for many years with the Canadian Northern of Quebec. He is survived by his mother, two brothers and two sisters at the family home, Kirkfield. The remains were taken there by a private car, and interment took place yesterday afternoon.

VESTRY MEETING AT ST. LUKE'S; RECTOR'S STIPEND INCREASED

Encouraging Reports at Annual Meeting in the Anglican Churches — The New Officers,

The thirty-sixth annual vestry meeting of St. Luke's church was held last night, with a good attendance, the rector, Rev. F. J. Sawers, presiding.

The wardens presented the financial statement, showing a balance on the right side.

Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., was re-elected People's Warden, and the rector nominated Mr. T. H. Adams as his warden. Mr. H. Nesbitt and Mr. A. Fitzgerald were elected assistant wardens. Mr. T. H. Adams was re-appointed vestry clerk.

The following Advisory Board was elected: The rector, wardens and assistant wardens with Messrs. E. A. Peck, Wm. Gibbs, Wm. Maniece, J. Ball, G. Carpenter, F. Adams, R. H. Turner, S. Gaskins, F. J. Jameson, R. B. Rogers, T. H. G. Denne, Geo. Curtis, Claude Rogers, T. B. Maniece, F. Sedgewick, S. Whittaker and H. Moore.

The sidesmen were elected as follows: F. Sedgewick, E. Heap, A. Whittaker, T. H. Adams, R. H. Turner, H. Phillips, G. Carpenter, A. Sedgewick, A. Weart, S. Whittaker, M. Adams, S. Gibbs, Howard Curtis, P. Neil, George Butcher and Heber Rogers.

Lay delegates to the Synod were elected as follows: E. A. Peck, Wm. Maniece and T. H. Adams.

On an unanimous vote the stipend of the rector was increased by $100.

The adjourned vestry meeting will be held on Monday evening, April 22nd.

AT ST. JOHNS.

At the meeting in St. John's, the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, presided and extended warm thanks to the retiring wardens, who had sustained the high traditions of their office, and also expressed the appreciation of the congregation of their services.

As his warden for the ensuing year, the rector nominated Mr. H. W. Morphet, and the congregation elected Mr. A. H. Stratton as the people's warden. In nominating Mr. Stratton, the retiring officer, Mr. W. F. Johnston, spoke of Mr. Stratton's splendid services during the last year.

The financial report read by Mr. Johnston, showed a healthy condition of affairs, there being large expenditures and receipts. It was referred to the auditors. The Advisory Board and sidemen were appointed and the meeting was adjourned for two weeks.

At a following meeting of the congregation, Messrs. Jos. Mills, W. F. Johnston and J. H. McClelan were appointed lay delegates.

AT ALL SAINTS.

An unusually large and representative congregation turned out to the annual vestry meeting of All Saints Anglican Church, last evening when reports were presented from the various organizations affiliated with the church, and officers appointed for the ensuing year.

The rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, opened the meeting with a brief prayer, following which the committee reports given below were read:

Womens Auxiliary—Mrs. Gilbert.
Womens Guild—Mrs. Wolstenholm.
The Girls' Guild—Mrs. Hooper.
Sunday School—Mr. John Edgar.
Chancel Guild—Mrs. Gilbert.
The Choir—Mr. Chandler
The Bible Class—Miss Bullen.
Financial Report—Mr. F. H. Dawson.

The rector in submitting his report expressed his sincere appreciation of the prosperous and fruitful work that is being promulgated in the church, and felt that he was on the eve of a happy and encouraging period of ministry in the parish of All Saints. The rector also reported on the Poor Fund beneficent system.

Mr. Frank Dawson who has worked indefatigably in the interests of All Saints, was re-appointed as people's warden. Mr. John Hogan was also re-appointed rector's warden, and C. E. Sisson, vestry clerk. An Advisory Board composed of the following members was appointed:—Messrs. J. Mulholland, T. H. Hooper, Dryland, Jenkins, McFadden, Buller, Morgan Sisson, Dayman, Comstock, Wise, Lundy, Davis, Jones, Alexander, Denne, Spence, James Edgar, Howden and Chandler.

The lay delegates are Messrs. Hogan, James Edgar and Howden.

Auditors—C. E. Sisson and H. Morgan.

Charity Board representative—Wm. Buller.

Protestant Home representative—James Edgar.

A vote of thanks was tendered T. H. Hooper for bearing the expense of the staining of the chancel furniture, also to Mr. Wm. Comstock for erecting a screen at the end of the organ. A vote of thanks was also extended to all the officers of the church.

All Saints church is enjoying rich success in every department at the present time. The attendance at the regular Sunday services since the arrival of Rev. R. B. Grobb, exceeds any of previous years, and every indication points to a year of success and prosperity in store for the church.

The Easter offering on Sunday reached the magnificent sum of $1,100.00.

The chancel in the present parish hall has been redecorated and grained and presents a very attractive and tasty appearance.

OPENING OF THE SPRING ASSIZES

Judge Latchford is Presiding—Only Two Cases.

The Spring Assizes opened at one o'clock to-day at the County Court House before Judge Latchford.

The members of the bar present were: F. M. Field, K.C., Cobourg, Crown prosecutor; G. N. Gordon, Daniel O'Connell, R. Colville, of Colville & Humphries, Campbellford; D. G. Lynch, Campbellford; Crown Attorney R. E. Wood.

The Grand Jury as called is composed of the following gentlemen: Messrs. J. J. Turner, jr., (foreman), G. Patterson, Robert Hill, A. McIntyre, S. A. Oke, Arnold Prest, S. Ray, R. Sheehan, Charles Thompson, John Harrison, M. Whitney, W. G. Read.

There was a remarkably small list of cases, the number being confined to two jury cases, that of Samuel Newall, who was accused of committing an indecent assault on one Maggie Moore, a woman who was not his wife; and that of two Campbellford undertakers and furniture dealers, James Irwin and L. H. Stephens, the former being the plaintiff in a charge of malicious slander, and the latter the defendant.

After the address of the judge the jury in the Newall case was empanelled, and the assault charge was first proceeded with.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

The following letter was brought to the Review by the writer, with the request that it be published:

To all members of the L. O. L. and the Protestant Federation:

Dear friends,—Someone of you may hear by their action the Free Methodist Church, in their District Quarterly Conference of April 5th to 7th, had given me to understand that after a period of three months' probation, I am not worthy to become a member and later on a local preacher in that community.

Now to take away all misunderstanding by the citizens, I feel in duty bound to openly state the reasons.

I do not believe in condemning any other association called Church, Union, Lodge or Federation.

I am not willing to break my oath taken for the Loyal Orange Lodge and I have said and said again I shall protect the L. O. L. and all things founded on the Word of God, and belonging to the Christian Religion and Protestantism.

I shall never deny that which I sincerely love with all my heart, and to this end I do testify that I have sincere love to and for my Almighty Maker and that I will only obey His commandments and will walk in righteousness and obedience to and before Him. I never want to leave my steadfast hope and faith in Jesus Christ as the Saviour of the world, acknowledging Him as the only Mediator, between God and the Father.

I shall uphold the good name of him who is ruler over this country, King George, and will honor every member of the House of Parliament who does not act against the Word of God.

I never shall, or allow in my presence, any person to take the name of God in vain or even the name of the ruler of this, our country.

I openly protest against the Free Methodist Church for their action in speaking of the L.O.L. as a union of drunkards, I having attended their celebration of July 12. My protest is based upon rule 118, wherein is stated that all kinds of liquor in or about the lodge room before, during or after the meetings are not allowed and that every person engaged in making or selling liquor is not allowed to become a member of any L.O.L. I pray God may open their eyes and bless every faithful Protestant, and I feel that I have done my duty with the above declaration, and I thank you, Mr. Editor, for giving me this liberty. Calling myself your servant.

ROWELL NOT SATISFIED WITH BOUNDARIES BILL

He Thinks Ontario Should Have a Port of Her Own, But Premier Reminds Him That That Would Be Robbery Now—Every Effort Is Being Made to Wind Up the Session by the End of the Week.

Toronto, April 10.—Ontario should have a port on Hudson Bay within its own boundary, according to N. W. Rowell, leader of the Opposition, who introduced an amendment to the Ontario Boundaries' Extension Act to that effect in the Legislature last night. Very few words were expressed on the move of the Liberal leader. The Government merely voted down the measure.

Mr. Rowell had said that it would fall upon the Government to extend its railway before it could take over the five-mile strip of land which was granted by the Federal Government. To this the Premier replied that the land became the absolute property of the province irrespective of whether the railway was built there or not.

Mr. Rowell's amendment was then voted down and the bill will receive its third reading to-day.

The leader of the Opposition also moved an amendment making provision for the re-adjustment of the debt allowance for Ontario on the same terms and conditions as the debt allowance for Manitoba is re-adjusted. This met the same fate as his previous amendment.

Then Hon. Adam Beck's bill to the effect that the granting of gas, electric light and telephone franchises to cross streets by municipal councils, should not be made without a vote of the people was under discussion in committee. Sir James Whitney pointed out that the municipalities must have absolute control of the highways, and despite the fact that it would probably work hardship on some companies in certain cases the principle should always rule.

Hon. W. J. Hanna's bill regulating the granting of bonuses to industries was considered in committee most the approval of both sides of the House. It provides that a bonus could not be granted without the assent of three-fourths of the council and two-thirds of the people.

Two Liberal members, Messrs. Mageau, Sturgeon Falls, and J. O. Elliott, West Middlesex, introduced a batch of questions for the Government to answer.

Mr. Elliott's notice of motion is with respect to bilingual schools. He wants information regarding all reports made to provincial school inspectors about the character efficiency and teaching in the schools in five eastern counties since January 1, 1910; all correspondence, memorials, resolutions, affidavits, protests or complaints; all orders authorized by the Government to meet charges, the schools in said counties from which the provincial grant was withheld during the past two years; and the evidence upon which grants were paid in 1911 to schools from which grants had been withheld the previous year.

Mr. Mageau wants a line on all correspondence respecting the development of the Smokey Falls water power on the Sturgeon River for the town of Sturgeon Falls at the time when the lease for the water power was cancelled, and that it would be developed for the town of Sturgeon Falls and the Imperial Paper Mills Co.

Following to-day, the House will open every morning at 11 o'clock, and it is the intention to also hold night sessions this week. There is hope of the session ending on Friday.

The appearance of Hon. A. J. Matheson in the Legislature yesterday afternoon for the first time since his illness, was the signal for an outburst of applause from both sides of the House.

RECEIVER GETS THREE MONTHS

Hamilton, April 10.—Moe Levy, a pawnbroker of James street north, was yesterday convicted of the charge of having received stolen goods, and sentenced by Judge Snider to three months in jail.

Harry Burgoyne, who is now serving a term for the theft, stated that he stole them from Chapman Brothers, jewelers, Toronto, and that he told Levy that they were stolen before Levy bought them.

It was shown that when Levy heard of Burgoyne's conviction, that he took some of the goods from his store to his home.

Honors For Boy Scouts.

Ottawa, April 10.—Scrolls of honor of the Canadian Boy Scouts, signed by the Duke of Connaught as chief scout, have been forwarded for presentation to Harry Copping and Ira Hughey, of Mitchell.

The former was one of a group of boys who went swimming in a pond in May last. Lorne Hutchison got beyond his depth, and had gone under four times before Copping rescued him. Ira Hughey rescued a little girl from drowning.

Recognized His Picture.

Winnipeg, April 10.—William R. Shaver, president of the Golden Rule Oil Co., of Canton, Ohio, charged with forgery, was arraigned yesterday and remanded until an Ohio officer can arrive. His affinity, Ethel Wynne, the cousin of his wife, who fled with him, is under surveillance. They were living in a fashionable section. He was arrested Monday night, being recognized by his resemblance to a picture in a circular sent out by the Ohio police.

The Mayor Took a Bribe.

Freehold, N.J., April 10.—Edwin W. Packer, mayor of Long Branch, was fined $500 yesterday after his counsel had entered a plea of non vult to an indictment charging the mayor with having accepted a sum of money from the representative of an asphalt paving company, with a view to having the mayor use his influence in the awarding of contracts.

The mayor also placed his resignation in the hands of the court.

Ottawa, April 10.—The story that Hon. F. D. Monk is to resign and be succeeded in the Cabinet by H. B. Ames, M.P., is declared to be without any foundation.

PACT WITH WEST INDIES

Hon. Mr. Foster Announces That It Has Been Signed.

Ottawa, April 10.—In the presence of His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, in the historic room in the east block, which has been the offices of the Governor-General for years, the treaty between the delegates and the West Indies was signed at 3.20 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, at the close of the conference, handed out the following official statement: "An agreement was signed yesterday by the representatives of the West Indian colonies and the Government of Canada. It was the result of five days' sitting in conference and a deal of steady work done outside the conference by sub-committees.

"The agreement is made for a term of years and revocable at the end of the period named therein on one year's notice. It includes exchange of products on a wide and generous scale and is based on a preference to the products of each country in the markets of the other.

"The agreement goes to the Governments of the colonies included for consideration and comes into effect when approved by both the Dominion and Colonial Legislatures, and His Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies. It will be possible for all these to consider and decide, and for the agreement to go into effect before the beginning of the year 1913. Judging by the instructions given to the various delegates by their respective Governments and the evident goodwill and harmonious co-operation shown by them in the sessions of the conference, it is anticipated that no objection will be made to the speedy ratification of the agreement.

"The agreement is between Canada and the interested colonies alone, and leaves both with complete liberty to adjust their tariffs as respect all other countries. Grenada, the Bahamas, Bermuda, Jamaica and British Honduras are the only British West Indian colonies that are not included, and for these the latch-string is left on the outside of the door and the lamp kept burning in the window, with a warm welcome certain for them when they come.

"The question of improved cable and steamship communication between Canada and the West Indies were carefully considered, and the views of the conference were embodied in resolutions unanimously passed. The objective of these resolutions is to effect an up-to-date and adequate cable and steamship connection, based upon the co-operation of the West Indian colonies, the Dominion of Canada and the Government of Great Britain. Inasmuch as the agreement is to be submitted to the various Governments concerned for their consideration and approval, it is not advisable to give the details thereof at present to the public."

NEW RULES BY GRAND TRUNK

London, Ont., April 10.—Conductors, brakemen and trainmen from all over the Grand Trunk system in Canada are being notified by Grand Trunk officials to proceed at once to the offices in Toronto and write their new rules.

Yesterday Conductors G. Jackson, J. Forbes and A. Staples, all of Windson, went through to Toronto to write the new rules, after which it is said they will receive the runs they had before the strike.

The action of the company is said to be due to the strenuous objections made by the Government to the methods employed by the company.

An Even Break In Vermont.

Montpelier, Vt., April 10.—Half the Vermont delegates to the Chicago convention were chosen yesterday and Taft and Roosevelt supporters split even in the struggle for control. The delegation will be completed to-day at the state convention with the choice of the four delegates at large. The Taft delegates were elected in the first district by a majority of 78, while Roosevelt men won in the second district by a margin of 30 votes.

May Not Save "Ontario."

Montauk Point, N.Y., April 10.—Tugs last night were still pouring streams of water into the smouldering hold of the steamship Ontario, and the lightering of her cargo, which took fire shortly before she was beached off here early Monday morning, is being continued. It will probably be several days, perhaps a week, before the fire is entirely extinguished, and there is a chance that the vessel will never be saved.

UNIONIST LEADERS SPEAK AGAINST HOME RULE TO PEOPLE OF BELFAST

Bonar Law, Sir Charles Beresford, W. H. Long, Hugh Cecil, and Others, Speak at Huge Mass Meeting—Unionist Chieftain Calls Bill a Treacherous Conspiracy Against the Nation and Urges Resistance.

Belfast, April 10.—"I have come here to give you the assurance that we Unionists regard your cause as the cause of the Empire.

"We will do all that men can do to defeat a conspiracy as treacherous as any that has ever been formed against the life of a great nation.

"If we defeat home rule now it will be defeated forever."

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition in the British House of Commons, so declared himself in addressing a huge rally of Orangemen here yesterday.

A demonstration of 150,000 enthusiasts yesterday morning passed in procession before Andrew Bonar Law and other prominent Unionist leaders at the Royal Ulster Agricultural Society grounds. The route from the city of Belfast to the grounds is three and a half miles in length, and all the way the roads were packed with cheering partisans as the men marched past sixteen abreast.

The police nervously patrolled every street, in momentary fear of a bloody riot. Fearing that the sight of troops might precipitate trouble, Col. Count Gleichen, in charge of the Belfast military, kept his soldiers in readiness at Curragh camp, prepared to be rushed into Belfast at a moment's notice.

Excitement was at a high pitch when Law began a bitter attack on the measure which will be introduced to-morrow. He declared that the Liberals, having muzzled the House of Lords, were now endeavoring to force home rule through a single chamber Parliament. He talked in his usual blunt and forceful style.

"You say, and I think you mean it, that you will not submit to home rule. It will be difficult, and perhaps impossible to overcome your opposition. Under any circumstances your resistance would be irresistible, but the moral power of that resistance is increased a thousand-fold by the way in which it is proposed that this calamity should be forced upon you.

"If we defeat home rule now, we defeat it forever, for in order to remain a few months longer in office the Government have sold the constitution, they have sold themselves, and they thought they had sold you, but you were not theirs to sell."

From three other platforms, Lord Charles Beresford, Walter Hume Long, Lord Hugh Cecil, Sir Robert Finlay, Lord Castlereagh, and other prominent Unionist leaders urged the excited Orangemen to resist home rule to the end.

CONSTANCE CRAWLEY AT THE GRAND TO-NIGHT

To-night at the Grand "What Kitty Did" an amusing farce comedy will be presented by Miss Crawley and her English players, as a benefit to themselves. All Peterborough knows how this English company was suddenly left in the lurch by Tris Coffin, of Sherbrooke, their manager, and Peterborough people are responding to the call for help, taken up by the most prominent citizens of the town. This company is a meritorous one, having played at the Hackett Theatre, New York, and His Majesty's Theatre, Montreal, and not only will the audience to-night be doing a kind action, but they will be seeing a clever comedy, excellently played. Once tided over this sudden blow, the company have excellent prospects, for A. J. Small, of Toronto, has offered them the best time in Ontario, starting at Ottawa early in May. Tickets are only 50c. and there are a few rush seats in the gallery at 25c, so Peterborough theatre patrons will not lose by doing a kindness, as this company play Ottawa at $1.50 Help a good cause and enjoy yourself.

GEN. BOOTH'S MESSAGE

Hopes to Come to Canada This Year.

Special to the Review.

London, April 9.—General Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who is celebrating his eighty-third birthday to-day, in a message to the newspapers says he hopes to visit Canada and the United States this year. Next month he will undergo an operation on his eyes, which he realizes may result in his total blindness. He also wishes to establish the Army in China before he dies.

VACCINATION BILL IS OFF

Premier Whitney Suggested That it be Laid Over.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 9.—At the suggestion of Premier Whitney in the House this morniong, the vaccination bill, which places almost total authority in the hands of the Provincial Board of Health, to order vaccination in any municipality, was allowed to stand over indefinitely. The bill will not likely be brought forward again this session.

EXPEDITION WAS FAILURE

Cliffs Stopped Progress of Mountain Climbers

Special to the Review.

Fairbanks, Alaska, April 9.—The Mount McKinley expedition, consisting of four men and nineteen dogs, which left here February 5th to attempt to scale a mountain which Dr. Cook claims to have climbed, returned here last night, reporting failure. Their progress was stopped at an elevation of ten thousand feet by precipitous cliffs.

MAY BE NO BISLEY TEAM

Ottawa, April 10.—Whether a Canadian team will be sent to Bisley this year is not definitely determined yet. The dispute has been with regard to the Sutherland site on the Ross rifle. The National Rifle Association had a sight made by the Birmingham Small Arms Co., which they agreed to accept. This sight has been submitted to the D.R.A. which has referred it to the Minister.

Meanwhile the arrangements for sending the team as usual are under way.

PROBABILITIES

Moderate winds; fair to-day and on Thursday, with a little higher temperature.

SON SAY HIS FATHERS FRIENDS SHOULD TELL ALL

Facts in Rosenthal Murder Case Being Kept Back—Reward of $500.

Toronto, April 10.—Through the untiring efforts of Harry Rosenthal, son of the murdered man, a reward of $500 has been offered for information which shall lead to the detection and arrest of the men who murdered Joseph Rosenthal in rear of the Hydro-electric station in Strachan avenue, Friday night last. Yesterday Attorney-General Foy announced the offer of $300 for the capture of the murderers and later the city police commissioners added $200.

Mr. Rosenthal who has given his whole time and attention in an effort to aid in the location of his father's slayers, believes that all that could be disclosed by those who might be expected to render every assistance in the matter has not been told. He is indignant about this and said yesterday:

"The time for mincing matters is gone. Whatever objections may have existed against speaking of certain transactions before Saturday morning were wiped out when it was discovered that a murder of the most brutal kind had been committed. A shady transaction in wire or old iron is one thing, the arrest and punishment of a murderer is another.

"There are men who were old friends of my father who, I am convinced, know of facts which might be of material aid in unravelling this mystery, but they have kept silent. I have every reason to believe that my father knew at least one of the men involved in the transaction which led to his murder. When Mrs. Caplin, who lives in York street, told him of the mysterious man who was looking for him and who gave the name of Smith, she says that my father laughed and said, "Oh, I know him, alright. it is not Smith."

Mr. Rosenthal believes that when Dunkelman, who is mending rapidly at the hospital, is sufficiently recovered to be interviewed by the police, he will be able to throw much light upon the mystery which may then be a mystery no longer. He is also confident that the offer of the reward will bring to the surface further and useful information.

In this connection, he said: "If these people who have not spoken do not come forward and tell what they know before it comes out in some other way, they will not stand in so good a light as if they were to speak out before the words are taken out of their mouths by information, which may at any moment be placed in the hands of the authorities. I have kept silent about some things of which my information is not complete, but, when I have got the facts, those who refused to come forward to do their utmost to aid in the detection of my father's murderers need not expect to remain silent any longer."

Steamers Change Hands.

Port Colborne, April 10.—A meeting of the stock holders of the Mutual Steamship Co. took place here yesterday, when the steamers Acadian and Canadian were sold to the Canadian Interlake Line Limited.

Roosevelt and Clark In Illinois.

Chicago, April 10.—Roosevelt beat Taft by 20,000 in this city and in most of the other counties by 3 to 1. Champ Clark is leading Wilson by nearly 100,000 in Chicago and 3 to 1 in other counties.

Miss Pankhurst In Boston.

Boston, April 10.—It is reported here on excellent authority that Miss Christobel Pankhurst, the suffragette, who has been sought for over a month by the English police, is in Boston.

TWO HUNDRED ARE DROWNED

Nile Excursion Steamer Goes Down Near Cairo.

Cairo, Egypt, April 10.—A large number of passengers, estimated by some at 200, were drowned Monday evening by the sinking of a Nile excursion steamer after a collision with another steamer in the vicinity of the great dam on the river about 15 miles to the northwest of Cairo, and a few miles from Kalyub.

The steamer had 300 passengers on board, who had taken advantage of the eastern holiday to take a trip to the river dam. On the return journey upstream, and not far from the dam, the excursion boat collided with another and sank almost immediately.

All on board were thrown into the river, but many lives were saved by the vessel with which the excursion boat had collided.

Another passenger steamer and a number of boats from shore hastened to the rescue, and picked up many of those struggling in the water. It is not yet known how many lives were lost, and the identity of the bodies has not been ascertained.

The boat was overloaded. The big lumbering vessel was in centre stream when she collided head-on with another vessel. The ferry turned completely over.

No Tourists on Board.

London, April 10.—The steamer which foundered on the Nile as the result of a collision with another vessel Monday was a local excursion boat, which, according to reports received here, was conveying 300 persons, all of whom are believed to have been Levantines.

It is considered improbable that any Canadian or American tourists were on board.

ONTARIO'S WORK SHOULD BE TO ANGLICIZE ALIENS

Bilingual School Come In For a Good Deal of Abuse at Annual Session of Ontario Educational Association—Little Italies and Little Russias In Cities Must Go, Says A. Werner of Elmira.

Toronto, April 10.—Bilingual schools came in for a sound trouncing at yesterday afternoon's session of the public and high school trustees' department of the Ontario Educational Association. The discussion was stirred up by a paper by J. R. Lumby of Fort William, on "The Stranger Within Our Gates," and as a result a committee consisting of Dr. Elliott, Kingston; James McEwing, Drayton, and F. W. Gladman, Exeter, was appointed to consider the question and urge on the advisory council of education the necessity for an amendment to the school act to make it impossible under the truancy section of the act for schools to teach a foreign language to the exclusion of English.

"Our object," said A. Werner of Elmira, "is not to find out whether these schools receive grants or not, but we want to make Canadians of our children."

He had no intention of quarreling with parochial schools such as were maintained by the Lutherans, to give children of immigrants a working knowledge of English. Little Italies, Little Austrias or Little Russias should, however, be strenuously combatted in Canada.

Under the Truancy Act, as it was at present, foreigners imported teachers from their own lands and children were allowed to absent themselves from the public schools to attend these if they were "efficiently conducted." An American teacher's views on our history, said Mr. Werner, were naturally distorted and he did not make for the uplifting of Canada.

James McEwing of Drayton insisted that all schools should be under the control of the state. "We are careless in Canada," he said, "in letting foreigners know that this is a British country." Why, he asked, should the recommendation of the advisory council a couple of years ago in this regard have been ignored by the Legislature and no explanation made?

"Our population," said Mr. Lumby, in his paper, "was being recruited from every race of Europe and some of Asia. We could not check the tide if we would, the most powerful weapon for assimilating these heterogeneous elements was our system of national schools.

In the rural sections of the Northwest good work had been done in Canadianizing English-speaking immigrants, but in the cities there was a grave danger where the foreign element was large. It was common to find men who had long ago qualified for naturalization, still quite ignorant of the language spoken or written of the country to which they had become bound.

In hard-fought political campaigns, he said, foreigners who had acquired a mastery over their own people by acting as interpreters, often were avowedly in the market offering to deliver their constituencies' votes to the highest bidder.

Night schools for foreigners had been found to work well. Some of the students who had been illiterate at the beginning, even in their own language, were able by the end of the winter session, to read intelligently the whole of the second book and had attained some proficiency in writing and composition. The Canadianizing of their children would never be done by their home surroundings.

NEW SHIPPING REGULATIONS

Washington, April 10.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission yesterday laid down the principles which are to govern under the existing Inter-State Commerce Act as follows:

That a shipment by water from one point to another in the territory of the United States is coastwise business; that shipments by water from a port of the United States to a port of any foreign country, even though adjacent, is export business.

BLUE RUIN KNIGHT SHOULDERS BLAME

Ottawa, April 10.—In a letter to the citizens, Sir Richard Cartwright, Liberal leader in the Senate, denies that Sir Wilfrid Laurier instigated the action of the Liberal majority in the Senate in practically killing three important measures of the Borden Government. He stigmatizes the charge as unjust, and asserts that Sir Wilfrid did not attempt to influence the Senate in the action taken.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

UNION LABEL

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION

The report on Canadian immigration prepared by Arthur Hawkes has been presented, and the British-born leader is now finished with his commissionary duties. What the report contains, in the way of recommendations, is not divulged. It is to be hoped that some changes are recommended that will provide a much stricter examination of immigrants than has seemingly been in force. The statement was made by hospital authorities at a meeting in Toronto a few days ago that fifty per cent of the cases in the free hospitals were of recently arrived immigrants. They have in many cases become a charge on the charities of the country, and instead of being an addition to the productive force of the community, much money would have been saved if they had been stopped at the port of entry.

The immigration question is one of the most important that Canada has to face. On the quality of the new-comers populating the vacant acres of the west, and crowding into the industrial centres of Ontario, depends to a large extent the standard of life which will obtain twenty-five years hence. Canada has been fortunate so far in getting mostly Anglo-Saxon stock, though some of it has been rather deficient in typical Anglo-Saxon quality. The South-Eastern Europeans—the Hungarians, the Bulgarians, the Poles, Roumanians, etc.—have been going to the United States, leaving to Canada the North-Easterners, who are comparatively a much superior class.

But even North-Eastern Europe on the whole does not contibute citizens who measure up to the average of Canadian-born citizens.

Many of them are diseased, and in such general condition that the severe Canadian climate puts them on their backs, at the public expense. It would pay Canada to set aside much of the sentiment that has been governing immigration; much of the haste to grow big in a hurry, and religiously select its future citizens with a view to maintaining an exceptionally high class citizenship. We in Canada now would be just as well off—7,000,000 people in a country of such vast resources—as 12,000,000 of a lower order. Vast numbers give fortunes to a few, but the average man faces just that much more competition and trouble. The immigration to Canada is the source of much of our present prosperity, and there is no likelihood of checking it materially, even if the immigration regulations were made much stricter. What is for our own good, and the future welfare of this young country, is a system of selecting immigrants on the other side of the Atlantic which will secure us only those whom we want, and and the imposition of such restrictions as will keep out those who are undesirable.

CANADA IS HELPED

Canada seems likely to benefit materially by the industrial unsettlement in Britain. The Lloyd-George system of taxation is driving capital out of Britain to the colonies, and particularly to Canada, which probably is without an equal in the world, at the present time as a field for investiment. The coal strike revealing the dangers of syndicalism in all the lurid light of a great industrial tie-up, was the sign for many financial forebodings. One wealthy manufacturer has announced his intention to transferring all his surplus from time to time to Canada, and he says that there are scores and hundreds preparing to do likewise. The industrial disturbances in the United Kingdom seem likely to increase even more rapidly than in the past five years. Where the uprising of democracy, or as in this case it may be more properly termed, the labor union element, will end, it is possible to discern. There is a feeling in Britain among the more conservative people that the next twenty years will bring about such drastic changes, such social revolutions, such overturnings and re-establishments, that the present balance between capital and labor will entirely disappear. Industrial unrest pervades most of the world. prosperity producing no less than poverty. Canada has been comparatively free from big strikes so far, but as its industries get down to a finer basis, a more settled condition, we may not always live as free from troubles of a socialistic nature as in the past.

NOTE AND COMMENT

To forestall the observation on the part of our contems, it is here stated that winter is lingering in the lap of Spring. Oh, shocking!

People talk about the delay in getting things through the Privy Council. No less than fifty cases from Canada are down for hearing this summer.

There is nothing like success to set a man up in the public eye. "Amundsen" is the popular name for babies, motor cars, town sites, cigars and even soda water fountains. Wait until Scott arrives and we will have another rush of this sort of thing.

The Edmonton school board passed a resolution excluding reporters from attending a special meeting of the board but permitting citizens to remain. The pressmen availed themselves of their rights as citizens and remained until the proceedings closed.

WIFE OF THE P.M. TALKS TO WOMEN

Tells What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did for Her.

She Suffered for Two Years and Found a Cure for all Her Troubles in a Single Box.

Lower Caraquet, Gloucester, N.B., April 9. (Special.)—Mrs. Jos. O. Chiasson, wife of the police magistrate here, who for two years has been practically an invalid, is again in the best of health, and she is telling her friends how quick and complete was her cure when she took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My illness," Mrs. Chiasson says, "was caused by a strain and for two years I was a sufferer. My back ached; I was always tired and nervous, there were dark circles under my eyes and after sleeping I had a bitter taste in my mouth.

"I had a pressure and sharp pain on the top of my head. I was always thirsty and my skin had a harsh, dry feeling. I was often dizzy, I perspired easily and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor.

"Almost from the first dose Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me and by the time I had finished the first box I was a well woman."

Mr. Chiasson's symptoms showed that the trouble was with her kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her so quickly.

Conference to Foil Counterfeiters.

Washington, April 10.—The United States will call an international convention of the world's expert paper money makers to meet at Washington to consider means to circumvent counterfeiting and perfect mechanical devices. June 15 is the tentative date.

At the request of Secretary MacVeagh, Secretary Knox will invite all nations to participate. Russia, Japan Germany, Sweden and France are especially interested.

A Young Woman—Scarcely Thirty—Seemed to Be Dying on Her Feet.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night, and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor, and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 9.—There was an increased demand from foreign buyers for all grades of Manitoba spring wheat, and, as cables were strong, with prices 1½d to 3d higher, a fair amount of business was done. No. 2 northern was sold to London at 41s 9d, and No. 3 at 40s 6d for nearby shipment. A feature of the local market is the demand from Ontario points for oats, and sales of a number of cars were made. An easier feeling has developed in the butter market, and dealers who paid 35½c at Cowansville Saturday were offering it on spot to-day at 34½c. Eggs fairly active and steady.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, April 9.—The railways reported 39 carloads of live stock at the City Market, comprising 725 cattle, 514 hogs, 68 sheep and 459 calves.

Butchers.

A few cattle, weighing 1000 to 1180 lbs., sold at $7 to $7.25; loads of good, $6.60 to $6.90; medium, $6 to $6.50; common, $5.25 to $5.90; cows, $2.75 to $5.60; bulls, $4.50 to $6.

Milkers and Springers.

The bulk of the milkers and springers were sold by Dunn & Levack, and, as will be seen in the report of their sales, they sold 11 milkers, that averaged $62 each, and two more at $55. The sales would range from $40 to $65, and we heard of one solitary cow at $80, but she was of extra size and milking qualities.

Veal Calves.

There were 459 calves on sale. In this number were many "bobs" and inferior quality calves. Bobs sold at $2.75 to $3.75 to $8, while an odd extra quality, new, milk-fed brought $8.50 to $9.

Sheep and Lambs.

Wesley Dunn reported sheep and lambs as follows: Sheep, ewes, $5.25 to $6; rams, $4 to $5; yearling lambs, $7 to $9 per cwt.; spring lambs at $4 to $8 each.

Hogs.

There were 357 hogs reported on sale. There were some hogs sold at $8.10 f.o.b. cars at country points, and $8.45 for selects, fed and watered at the market. We know of several dealers that are paying $8.15, or at least offering that price, for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points, which means that the farmers are now once more getting $8 per cwt.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

One was a tall, thin, middle aged woman, with gray-brown hair pulled away from her forehead and done in a knob at the back of her head. Her skin was sunburned; she wore a black and white print frock, without so much as a ruffle or tuck, and her sleeves were rolled up over her sun-browned arms above the elbow; she had no real pretensions of being pretty, and yet, somehow, she was one of the nicest looking women I ever saw. She had the sort of expression in her eyes and in her smile you would like your mother to have, if you could have had your mother made to order exactly according to your own ideas.

On her right stood a very pretty girl with a dazzling white complexion, all the whiter for a gold powder of freckles, black eyes rather deep set, dimples and a quantity of curly, bright red hair wound in a crown of braids round her head. She was in print, too, but it was blue and very becoming.

On the tall woman's left was another girl, also pretty, though in a florid way, with great blue eyes, a full mouth and a mouse colored fringe down to her eyebrows. She was more elaborately dressed than the others, with a lot of coarse lace on her blouse and a pink skirt. But she hadn't the look of simple refinement which the first two had in spite of their plain clothes and rolled up sleeves. All three waved something excitedly. One had a huge kitchen spoon, another a book and the third a towel.

"Howdy, Cousin Jim!" cried the nice woman with the expression, as Mr. Brett stopped the car in front of the door. "We're mighty glad to see you again. This is the young Lady Bulkeley, isn't it? We're mighty glad to see her, too, and we're going to try to make her as happy as we can."

"I knew you would, Cousin Fanny, or I wouldn't have brought her to you," said Mr. Brett, jumping out and helping r down. "But she's Lady Betty."

"I thought that would be a little too familiar to begin with," said the dear woman, with a perfectly angelic smile and a pleasant American accent with rather more roll of the "r" than I'd heard in the east. "But you shall be called just what you like best, my dear."

"Shall I? Then I should like you to call me Betty," said I, shaking hands hard with Mr. Brett's Cousin Fanny, and my heart warming to her for her own sake as well as his. There was a good smell about her of linen dried on the grass and of freshly baked cake. I can never smell those smells, I know, without remembering her.

She smiled and pressed my hand. "Why, you are just like an American girl, my dear," she exclaimed. "Not a bit stiff and English, like we supposed you would be. We all thought we were going to be afraid of you, but I guess we won't, will we, Patty and Ide?"

I saw that I was expected to take this as an introduction. I smiled and bowed to the two girls, and when they put out their hands I put mine out too.

"I'm very happy to know you," said Patty, the pretty red haired one.

"How do you do?" inquired Ide, the one with the fringe.

I fancied that they must both be Mrs. Trowbridge's daughters, but she continued the ceremony of presentation by saying:

"Patty is Miss Pinkerton, and Ide is Miss Jay. They generally stay with Mr. Trowbridge and me pretty nearly all the year round. Patty takes music lessons in Arcona twice a week and keeps up her other studies, and Ide helps me look after the house and the milk. I should have hard work to get along without either one of them, it seems to me, and I expect I shall be feeling just the same way about you before you leave us. Here comes Mr. Trowbridge now. See, Cousin Jim, here comes your Cousin Hezekiah. He's been hiving a swarm of bees. That's why he's got that mosquito net veil around his hat. Something like your automobile one, Lady Betty."

A man of fifty or more, in white duck trousers and a bluish shirt with a turned down collar a little open at the neck, was coming toward the house from the direction of the beehive colony. He had on no coat—in fact, I think a gray linen thing hanging over a wooden rocking chair on the veranda must have been his. His battered straw hat, with the "mosquito net veil" which Mrs. Trowbridge had mentioned, was on the back of his head, and when he saw us he snatched it off and waved it as his wife had waved her spoon and Ide her towel. From a distance he looked just an ordinary farmer, but when he came near enough for me to make out his features I saw that he was very far from ordinary. He had a splendid head, the head of a statesman, and his face was clear and intellectual, with keen, kind eyes.

He shook hands, too, with me and Mr. Brett, but first he wiped some honey from his fingers on the side of his trousers. As he did it, it was a dignified and laudable act. There was no reason why he should have been glad to see me, a perfect stranger, but he seemed to be so honestly pleased that it warmed my heart, and made me feel already at home in the sweet, old, red brick farmhouse, which reminded me, in its soft colors, of a great bunch of wall flowers.

"I reckon we're going to be real good friends," said he. "If we'd known just how you was coming, Jim, I'd have liked to meet you and her little ladyship—the first ladyship we've had in these parts. You didn't give us any idea, though, and now I see why. But look here, mother, you might have had the front door open. I'm afraid the young lady from England will think we're mighty informal."

"I shouldn't wonder if that's just about what she'll like to think, father," said Mrs. Trowbridge, with her smile that was so motherly and friendly at the same time. "Miss Woodburn would have been over to see you if she could; she was just ready to jump for joy when Patty ran across to tell her you were coming, but Mis' Randal is pretty sick, and Sally felt she couldn't leave her yet awhile. So she sent you her love, and she'll be along the minute she can git away."

Just for an instant it struck me as odd to hear this simple farm woman in her straight print calmly calling my charming, dainty friend "Sally," as if there could be no shadow of doubt in any one's mind of their perfect social equality. But in another second I could have boxed my own ears for my denseness and snobbish stupidity. Already—even in these few minutes—I was beginning faintly to understand some of the "points" at which Mr. Brett had hinted.

"Maybe you'd like to go and have a look at your room," went on Mrs. Trowbridge. "Patty and Ide have picked you some flowers, and I hope you'll find everything right."

Woman's World

Interesting Home Life of Mrs. Philander C. Knox.

Copyright by American Press Association.

MRS. PHILANDER C. KNOX.

By far the most interesting side of the life of a public man or woman is the domestic side, and probably there is no woman in Washington's official set who could stand closer scrutiny from this viewpoint than Mrs. Philander C. Knox, wife of the secretary of state.

Mrs. Knox is very domestic in her tastes, although she ably assists her husband in the social duties of his position. She has a special love of flowers, and the charming fancy is hers of always having her homes, both at Valley Forge, in Pennsylvania, and her charming house at the capital, adorned with violets arranged in cut glass bowls. When living at Valley Forge, Mrs. Knox takes a special interest in the flower garden and has much skill in raising plants. Many a delicacy finds its way to the White House table under her direction, for all the old fashioned accomplishments, like the making of pickles and preserves and jellies, are known to her.

Perhaps there are few women in public life who are better or more constant readers than Mrs. Knox. There is a conveniently arranged light at the head of her bed, and one of her fancies is for reading after she retires.

The residence of Secretary and Mrs. Knox is one of the best adapted to entertain on a large scale of any in Washington. It is situated on K street, one of the fashionable thoroughfares at the capital, and is of light buff brick, with white stone trimmings. Its generous entrance, wide windows and lofty appearance make it one of the most imposing residences in that part of the city. Every detail of the furnishing has been carefully thought out by its mistress from the rich lace stretched plainly over the great plate glass windows to the most minute furnishings. Everything is suggestive of elegance and good taste.

The Family Bulletin Board.

In a large family where the members go out a great deal a family bulletin board is a convenience. It may be of a sheet of celluloid, a small blackboard or a large slate with pencil attached and should be hung in a part of the house where all the members of the family pass at some time of the day. The dining room or the front hall would be a good place to hang it.

On the bulletin board the family post notices of regular interest which they have forgotten to impart at breakfast or dinner. One day's substance ran like this:

"Had a letter from Mary Smith. She wants Tom to send her the address of that antique dealer where he bought the blue pitcher. Sue."

"Won't be home to dinner tonight. Tom."

"Don't forget the church supper Friday. There'll be no supper at home. Mother."

"Has any one seen my tennis racket? Jean."

"Mrs. Henderson phoned; wants mother to call her up as soon as she comes in. Jean."

And so it goes. Messages, callers, telephone calls, neighborhood news, engagements, lost and found articles, are tabulated here for the benefit of all. The result is a surprising lessening of household friction. Occasionally some one pastes up a squib or joke or bit of verse which the rest of the family will enjoy. Even the cook and housemaid use the bulletin board and like the convenience of it. The board may be washed whenever necessary.

PILES CURED
Writing from Poplar, B.C., Mrs. C. Hanson, proprietress of the Commercial Hotel, says: "I suffered for years with bleeding piles. The pain was so bad at times that I could hardly walk, and ordinary remedies seemed utterly unable to give me any ease. Finally I decided to undergo an operation, and went to the Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane. There they performed an operation. For a time I was certainly better, but within twelve months the piles became as painful as ever. I tried liniments, hot poultices, various 'pile cures,' and indeed everything I could think would be likely to do any good, but still I continued to suffer, and the shooting, burning, stinging pains, the dull, aching, 'worn-out' feeling that the disease causes continued as bad as ever.
"One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better. Well, I went on using Zam-Buk, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the trouble."
Zam-Buk is a sure cure for piles, eczema, ulcers, abscesses, eruptions, chapped hands, varicose sores, burns, scalds, bruises, inflamed patches, and all skin injuries and diseases. - Druggists and stores everywhere, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Trouble Brewing In Quebec.

Montreal, April 9.—There appears to be a storm brewing on the political horizon of this province and there may be a cloudburst at almost any moment. There are rumors of scandals afloat and they will not down. In fact the statement was made yesterday that Sir F. Langelier, the Lieutenant-Governor of the province, will refuse a dissolution unless something is done to relieve the public mind.

Rumors of dissension in the Cabinet are rife and it is said that the old feud between Sir Lomer Gouin and Hon. G. N. Parent has broken out afresh.

Will Hang for Shooting Policeman.

Ottawa, April 10.—Word reached the officers of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police yesterday that Fritz Eberts, a German, will hang on June 1 for the murder of E. George Wilmott, at Frank, Alberta.

Wilmott and two or three other members of the mounted police were patrolling at or near Frank, and came across men who had been committing robbery. In the fight that followed Wilmott met his death.

C.P.R. Fireman Fatally Burned.

North Bay, Ont., April 10.—Sidney Aldrich, a young C.P.R. fireman, was fatally burned Monday night. A boiler tube burst, blowing steam back through the firebox, carrying live coals with it. Aldrich was caught in the rush of fire.

Ran Out of Goods.

Brockville, April 9.—The police have located John W. Hendry of Toronto, who has been soliciting orders here for a carpet cleaning preparation which was nothing more than sand and coal oil. When brought before the magistrate he explained how he had run shy of the genuine material and had used the sand and the oil to complete his orders. His story was accepted and he was allowed to go.

Saved From Burning House.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 9.—An overheated stove caused a fire that destroyed the home of George Aseltin, from which the occupants escaped in night attire. A falling chimney injured Assistant Chief Diddemus. The loss is about $8,000.

French Rout Tribesmen.

Rabat, Morocco, April 9.—A French column, under command of Gen. Ditte, has routed a large force of rebel tribesmen near Machel. The engagement lasted thirteen hours, and the fighting was severe.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE IN PRESENTMENT OF GRAND JURY

When the report of the Grand Jury was read at 10 a.m. to-day, His Honor Judge Latchford took occasion to congratulate the jury on its thoroughness. He said that he had never seen a Grand Jury which had done its work more thoroughly, and he was pleased with the manner in which they had performed their duties.

In referring to the lights in the court room, which the judge was compelled to "dodge" to see the jury, he hoped that a change would be made before the next sitting.

The presentment was as follows:

Peterborough, April 10th, 1912.

To His Honor Judge Latchford, presiding at Spring Assizes, Peterborough, Ont.:

May it please your Lordship:

We, the members of the Grand Jury, desire to compliment the county on the small number of cases which will engage your attention. We are pleased to see that law and order is so well maintained in our community. It occurred to the Grand Jury while listening to your address that an improvement might be made in the lighting arrangement on the dias. As you addressed us you had to dodge backward and forward behind the brackets supporting the lamp in order to see our faces. We would suggest the advisability of raising these brackets of 10 or 12 inches to permit of an uninterruped view of the Grand or Petty Jury.

NEED MORE ROOM.

Our attention was drawn to the inadequate accommodation provided for members of the Bar, as outside of the cloak room, which is just large enough for the purpose, there is no accommodation except the public room opening off of it. We would recomment a larger private room for their accommodation. Upon examining the building we find some repairs necessary, and would recommend a new floor in that portion of the main hallway which has not been done, and would make a level floor throughout the different hallways, owing to the fact that a new floor has already been laid in some of these hallways, which are at the present moment the thickness of the new floor above the old one. The building generally requies the walls and ceilings re-decorated throughout.

IN THE JAIL.

There are 15 persons confined in the jail, two of these being weak-minded, and three making it their home on account of their old age or poverty. These unfortunate people we trust will find a home in a proper institution maintained for that purpose, at an early date. We would recommend that proper wash basins be provided in each corridor, which would be an improvement over the method now used for washing purposes. We recommend this on sanitary grounds. We recommend that some further provision be made to protect the staircase leading from the second story by erecting a lattice work or a partition having a door leading to the stairway. We found the building scrupulously clean. In event of the jail being used as a House of Refuge for any length of time, we would recommend two or three substantial sofas covered with imitation leather, for the use of the old people confined there. This would just apply to that part ocupied by them only.

We consider that some provision for ventilation should be arranged other than opening the windows in the corridors. This could be obtained by inserting a metal ventilator in the top of the window, a small corner of the glass being cut out to permit of the ventilator being inserted. This would draw off the hot, impure air, much more effectively than the opening of half the window, which in many cases would make too strong a draft.

THE HOSPITALS.

We next visited St. Joseph's Hospital, and found that 33 patients are being treated at the present time. Everything appears to be in good order. We would recommend to those who have the supervision of hospitals, the necessity of providing a ward for children, which could be commenced in a small way with six or eight beds. It would be a matter of convenience to the public if proper walks were constructed to the entrance of the building.

The House of Providence contains 57 old people who all appear healthy and clean. We were just a little puzzled to know whether nine beds in a room about 16 x 25 were too many to be conducive to general health.

We next visited the Nicholls Hospital, which at the present is treating 43 patients. We were able to contrast the equipment of this Hospital with St. Joseph's Hospital, and noticed the absence of an elevator for bringing patients up and down from one floor to another. In contrasting the equipment of the operating room and its relative position to the sterilizing room, we consider that the rooms are not arranged as convenient as they should be to obtain efficiency. This we trust will have the attention of the Hospital Board. We would recommend a ward for children in this Hospital, containing from six to eight beds. On visiting the third floor where the staff is quartered, and which usually contains from 20 to 25, we find that the fire escapes are inadequate to serve this number. The only outlet at the present time is a small balcony in the centre of the building having two ladders leading to the fire escape below. We would recommend additional outlets for this portion of the building. We found the building in good condition, and clean.

NEW PROTESTANT HOME.

We visited the new building which is just about completed, to replace the Protestant Home, and were delighted with its substantial character, and the splendid arrangement for light on the four sides of the building. We were disappointed however at not finding fan lights over the doors in the sleeping rooms, which we think is a mistake from ventilation standpoint. It is too early to comment on the building further as we do not know what provision has been made for fire escapes until after it has been completed.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. J. TURNER, JR.
Foreman.

POSTIES WANT HALF HOLIDAY

On Thursday During Months of July and August

The post-men of Peterboro are desirous of obtaining Thursday afternoon off duty, during the months of July and August. They have petitions, which are being signed by the citizens, and they will place these before Hon. Mr. Pelletier, Postmaster General at Ottawa, who will consider their request.

The people of this city are strongly in favor of the men receiving a half holiday, and are readily signing the petition. One post-man, whose route is in the centre of the city succeeded in obtaining over 400 citizens to sign the petition.

What the President Says:

THE President of a big concern doing an international business gives ten reasons "Why Some Fail," and starts out with this one:

"A salesman may fail if he is slovenly in dress and habits, because this leads other men to suspect that he is not prosperous and does not represent a first-class concern."

Semi-ready Clothes are tailored so that they do not grow slovenly with wear. The inside construction is true tailoring—the garment holds its shape.

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.

Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

UNIQUE WINDOW DRESSING FEAT AT CRESSMAN'S

A striking and unique window arrangement differing widely from the majority, is greatly admired at the A. W. Cressman department store today. The decorative scheme is devoted to an exposition of the great scale on which the business of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is operated, the head office of which is the Metropolitan building in New York City.

A large miniature of this immense building, accurately designed, is on exhibition in the centre window of the store. At night this model is illuminated by electricity, and the radiance which emanates from the multitudinous windows gives a very excellent effect. Show cards containing interesting information about the Metropolitan are arranged in conspicuous places in the window. The building itself in New York has a ground area of 25 acres; it has fifty elevators which travel 25,000 miles yearly. here are thirteen miles of plumbing pipes, and one hundred and fifty miles of iron conduits, one hundred and ninety miles of electric wiring, and twenty-four hundred and sixty miles of telephoning wiring, with thirty thousand electric lights.

The Metropolitan tower is seven hundred feet in height, the highest piece of masonry in the world. The model gives a very fair idea of what the building itself must be. There are fifteen thousand employees in the company's service, with twelve thousand policies in force.

The clock itself on the tower is twenty-six and a half feet in diameter. The two hands weigh seventeen hundred pounds, the minute hand being seventeen feet long. The figures on the dial are four feet long. At the very topmost elevation of the tower is the lantern from which the quarter hours are flashed by electricity, and which may be seen by six millions of people.

Attractively displayed in the background of the window is a large banner, on which is engraved in gilt lettering the percentage of business of each of the leaders of the country in business, and of which Mr. John Rothwell, the local district superintendent, leads the rest. The colors of the Metropolitan, blue and white, predominate in the other window fixtures. Several framed photographs of Metropolitan superintendents in convention, and one of the Peterborough district staff, also add to the interesting display.

Mr. J. McNichol was the designer of the entire decorative plan.

INFORMATION AS TO OLD AGE PENSIONS IN NEW ZEALAND

A complete outfit of Old Age Pension statutes, guidebooks, provisions, etc., arrived in town this morning from New Zealand, for the local Dominion member who is collecting material of this description from all quarters in order to bring it to bear at the next session, upon the powers that be at Ottawa.

The permanent secretary of the Old Age Pension system at Ottawa, for the committee has been raised to that status is corresponding with the Salvation Army branches and Societies, Trade Societies, Labor Unions, Councils, etc., to the number of about 1000, throughout Canada for the purpose of securing all information possible, with a view of convincthe Government that the Old Age Pension system is a desirable thing for Canada.

In New Zealand they also have a widow's pension, whereby a widow with one child receives £12 per annum; with two under fourteen fourteen years of age £18, with three, £21 and more than three £30. All pensions only refer, of course, to those born in the country. The pensions are for the deserving poor, and people who are neither deserving or poor do not get them. There can be no doubt but that public opinion in Canada is overwhelming in favor of the movement and the people confidently look forward to the bringing on of this most desirable condition of affairs into the Dominion within the next two years.

This is an age of enlightenment. People are no longer cooped up in prison, who should be out working in the open air. Poor people will no longer, we hope, be divided in their old age from each other after having lived as man and wife for 40, 50 and 60 years, but will live at home, assisted by a moderate if not sufficient pension. The fact that this is a new country has not prevented the rise of Homes and Houses of Refuge and all that sort of thing. Humanity is the same in a rich country or a poor one, in a new or old country, and as a consequence there are a certain number taken by ill-health and misfortune. These people instead of being driven into poorhouses and become institutionalized, which is well to be considered the worst of all evils, will have an old age in their own homes to look forward to instead of being left to the tender merices of public charity.

COMING to CONSERVATORY

Redferne Hollinshead, the Great Canadian Tenor; Leo Smith 'Cello Soloist of Toronto Symphony Orchestra and Conservatory Orchestra, in a delightful programme at Conservatory Hall, Friday Evening, April 19th.

While a Grand Trunk train from Guelph to Toronto was running between Brampton and Georgetown the other night, an owl flew through one of the open windows, startling the passengers and the colored porter, who, however, succeeded in capturing the intruder. It is thought that the bird was confused by the sudden flare of lights from the passing train but the occurrence is nevertheless remarkable as the train was running at the speed of 40 miles an hour at the time.

Bright Liners on Athletic Topics

THE NAME PROBLEM

Here's another contribution from a fan—

Many names for our new ball team come from all along the line, some of them are simply freakish, others sure would suit just fine. Bu: there's one of them the "Lifters" that I think would surely do for the men who'll swing the willow in their dress of white and blue. Other cities have electric works and porridge factories too, but this old burg's the only one with a lift lock to its clue. Then too the names a booster, and that's the kind we want for our local aggregation that no other bunch will daunt. We want a name to make them swat and field their level best, to lift them towards the pennant and help them swamp the rest. And of all the names the Lifters is the best one for all that, it will make them lift the grounders and help them wield the bat. But remember, Mr. Editor whatever name they take, the Peterborough ball team will still have one to make.

Yours truly,
A. FAN.

A Puzzle For the Expert.

A case concerning motor driving was on hand, says The Montreal Star, when the chauffeur declared that when driving at forty miles an hour he could, if necessary, pull up in ten or twelve feet.

"Um!" said the judge.

An expert was the next occupant of the box.

Said his lordship, "If a motorcar were traveling at forty miles an hour and the brakes could be put on in such a manner as to stop it within ten or twelve feet, where would the driver go?"

"Depends very much on the sort of life he'd been living," said the expert.

To reduce flesh, try living on a diet of love.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

By the end of the week it is expected that practically the whole British mining industry will be under full operation again.

The first coal cargoes ever sent to England from Cape Breton left last night by steamer Muirfield. She takes 5,000 tons for London.

While riding in one of the classes at the Calgary horse show yesterday afternoon, Percy Sawtelle, a youthful rider, was terribly injured when his horse threw him over its head.

A child of Richard Driscoll of Brockville, aged 15 months, drank a solution of paint and coal oil from a dish and died in five minutes from shock. No inquest will be held.

All of Montreal's telegraph and telephone wires and power cables must go. The work of removing the unsightly poles from the city streets will be commenced early in the coming summer.

An aftermath of the recent floods is the complete tie-up on the G.T.R. north of Hanover. Since Saturday, not a train has come in or gone out owing to washouts at Ben Allan, Parkhead and Tara.

Archbishop Bruchesi, Montreal, whose health has been impaired of late on account of his many duties, left yesterday for Detroit, Toledo and other parts of the United States, where he will sojourn for three weeks.

Five persons were killed and thirty injured in a bomb explosion in Lisbon yesterday. The bomb was thrown at a religious procession which was marching through the streets on its way to one of the principal churches.

The obnormal weight of 850 pounds attained by Abraham Sodekson of Boston caused his death yesterday from fatty degeneration of the heart. During his sickness it is estimated that he gained in weight at the rate of 20 pounds a day.

Col. John Barlow and Col. Crosse, both of the National Rifle Association of England, will arrive from England on April 22, to confer with the D.R.A. upon any differences that exist in connection with the sending of a team to Bisley this year.

W. D. Staples, M.P. for Macdonald, a practical farmer, will probably be one of the commissioners on the new Dominion grain board. The other two are said to be Prof. Magill of Halifax and Frank N. Gibbs, chief grain inspector at Fort William.

Go slow at the start and save your speed for the finish.

Put your worries in pawn, then proceed to lose the ticket.

MUCH RELIEF IN RHEUMATISM

IN ONE BOX OF GIN PILLS

Thousands of people have tested Gin Pills in thousands of cases of Painful or Suppressed Urine, Backache, Aching Legs and Shoulders, Pain through the Hips, Rheumatism and Lumbago. Here is a case of one cure — out of thousands.

NEWBURGH, ONT.

"My father had been troubled with Rheumatism for a number of years. He tried two doctors but got no relief, when a friend advised him to try Gin Pills. He purchased a box and after taking Gin Pills for a week, found that they were giving him much relief. He then bought three more boxes, which were the means of curing him. He is now a strong man—in good health—and able to attend to his daily work."

NIAGARA'S MUSEUM.

It Is One of the Most Interesting Spots In Canada.

The first building erected in Ontario for purely historical purposes is situated facing the military camp grounds. It contains more than five thousand articles of historical interest. Thousands of visitors go to the Chateau de Ramezay in Montreal every year, to see the collection of historical relics of Lower Canada, but that collection is in no way superior to that contained in Memorial Hall, Niagara, presided over by Miss Janet Carnochan, whose personal charm and devotion to the cause is responsible for a large percentage of these valued relics. Miss Carnochan thinks that the most interesting relic in the entire collection is Gen. Brock's cocked hat. She also prizes very highly the sword given up at the capture of Fort Niagara in 1813, and the first novel published in Upper Canada. Then there is the coat worn by Fort Major Campbell, who surrendered with Cornwallis at Yorktown in 1781. A collection of military buttons gives the military history of Niagara, for they represent nearly all the regiments, British, United States, or Canadian, which fought or were stationed there. A recent addition to the collection is the brass kettle in which Laura Secord hid the gold when her home was attacked by Indians; and, two beautiful silver table spoons owned by the Secord family, as well as the Secord family hamper, were willed to the Museum only a shortly time ago. Other peculiarly interesting articles are one of the two first harpiscords in Upper Canada, an old table, an old mantle with crane, hand-bills and posters printed by William Lyon Mackenzie, a collection of very old books, letters and official papers, the first paper published in Upper Canada, the Gazette, and an old library record book of the first collection of books in Upper Canada. It may be incidentally mentioned that the very first newspaper published in Upper Canada was issued at Niagara-on-the-Lake in 1793. There is a case of women's clothing which eclipses any collection in any other museum in Canada, not excepting the Chateau de Ramezay.

Fort Niagara was visited by La Salle in 1678; erected by the French in 1725; taken by assault by the British in 1759; given up by treaty in 1796; taken by the British in 1813, by assault, after the burning of Niagara; and given up to the United States by treaty in 1815.

The house in which the Count de Puisayes lived was built in 1799 and still stands intact. McFarland's house was built in 1800, and used as a hospital in the war. The Masonic building on King street is still substantial, despite the fact that it has stood since 1816, on the site used for the first hall in 1792. Butler's barracks are to be seen here, with some of the buildings erected before the war.

The centennary celebration of the hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States is to be celebrated soon, and there is no doubt but that such a celebration should be held at Niagara. Of course, there are other historical places in the immediate vicinity. Seven miles away is Queenston Heights, while Lundy's Lane, Beaver Dam, and other places claim distinction; but the real centre of historical interest, and the place where history was made for Upper Canada, is Niagara-on-the-Lake.

A Ragged Republic.

Hulbert Footner, whose great Canadian story of "New Rivers of the North," is now running in The Outlook, had some interesting experiences on the road and on board the construction train. He says:

"We rode on the uncompromising wooden seats of an emigrant car, and the train averaged exactly seven miles an hour for nine hours, but it was impossible to be bored. Never was there a more interesting carful, pioneers for the most part, with their faces turned toward the frontier and radiating an atmosphere of hopefulness. We were entranced by the scraps of conversation that reached our ears; how so-and-so had succeeded in establishing the old Indian trail to the headwaters of the Big Smoky; how somebody else had made a strike in the valley of the Grand Forks. I remember only one woman on the train, the wife of the storekeeper at Tete Jaune Cache, who had her baby with her, undoubtedly the youngest white man in the country. She had a drive of a hundred and twenty-five miles through the pass before her.

"We were reminded anew of the advantages of rough clothes as a passport on the road. Good clothes cut the wearer off from his fellows like a wall. The more fashionably clad, the more of an outcast he becomes. But let him put on a cheap or a ragged habit and go into the streets, and delightful adventures will crowd on him. He will learn what human fellowship is. The world will take him to its heart, initiate him into its mysteries, and provide him with inexhaustible entertainment."

CANADA'S MACE.

Gorgeous Golden Bauble Is the Insignia of Authority.

A bauble, Cromwell called the mace. To-day we think of a bauble as something smaller — something we can hang on your watch chain, or carry to a pawn shop in your pocket. Well, you cannot do that with our mace; not even Col. Smith can do it, and he is a strong man and knows more about the mace than any other person in the land.

Our mace is about as long as a stick of cord wood cut for city consumption. It is a little taller than a barrel of flour, but not quite so tall as a schoolboy who wears long trousers. Its weight is considerable. You might lift it with one hand but you would not try to swing it to your shoulder without the aid of two. In fact, to handle the mace is no child's play.

All other things being equal—pay included—a man could spend a more comfortable day swinging an axe in the forest than in looking after the mace on one of those fussy days, when the House of Commons cannot make up its mind whether it wishes to sit as a House with the Speaker in the chair, or as a Committee of the Whole with the Deputy presiding. Back and forth it goes from one to the other, and Col. Smith is kept busy with a sort of Indian club exercise removing the mace from the table and hanging it on the hooks down at the end and then taking it from the hooks and restoring it to the table. On such a day as that Col. Smith is the busiest man in Ottawa, and when all is over, sometimes about midnight, he has nothing to show for his labor except a wilted collar and a few sparkling bits of gold-dust ground into the palms of his white gloves from handling the great golden bauble.

Golden it is from top to bottom, but how far through no man knows except the Sergeant-at-Arms. Gold through and through he evidently believes it to be, judging from the care he takes of it. It certainly looks like solid gold, and it lifts like it, although one has to admit that one's experience in lifting huge chunks of pure gold is rather limited.

Like almost everything else that shares this world with man, "that pendulum betwixt a smile and a tear," the mace has known troubles, has confronted danger, and has suffered loss. Some seventy years ago all that there was of Canada were the two old Provinces—Upper and Lower Canada—whose Legislature consisted of a House of Assembly and a Legislative Council. The mace in use in our House of Commons is the one that was used in that old House of Assembly of United Canada.

For a number of years Toronto and Quebec were alternately the seat of Government. The mace became a wanderer, but finally a permanent resting place was found, when, in 1865, the present Houses of Parliament were completed in Ottawa. Then the mace, when the House was not sitting, was snugly tucked away in a stout little cabinet prepared for it in the Speaker's apartments, or tenderly deposited on a green velvet cushion at the lower end of the Clerk's table when the Speaker is in the chair, or deposited on two velvet-covered hooks that project from the legs of the table at about a foot below the level of the top.

There has been a mace for more than half a century. Around it has grown up the city of Ottawa, changed by the presence of the golden "bauble" from little sawmill settlement of Bytown into the national capital of our great Dominion.

Around the mace has been built up all our federal statutory law, which bound in buff half-calf, looks so pretty on a library shelf, and around it has been debated every policy that during all these years has tended to make or mar the fortunes of our country. The mace has seen and heard more politics than any living member of Parliament.

What does it think of it all? No man knows, except possibly Col. Henry Smith, Sergeant-at-Arms, the mace's special guardian and most intimate friend—and discreet man that he is, he will not tell.

Preacher Wins a Wager.

"The sporting parson" is the name that all Toronto gives Rev. J. D. Morrow, the athletic pastor of Dale Presbyterian Church, and on a Toronto street car the other day Mr. Morrow gave a very good demonstration of why he holds the title. Once upon a time the preacher held the Canadian amateur 100 yards dash record, and this fact is well known.

On the street car the other day Mr. Morrow was accosted by a man who evidently had scant faith in the preacher's fleetness of foot. In plain words he spoke his doubt. Mr. Morrow is always game, and he asserted that he was still able to run a bit.

"Tut!" said the man. "I can beat you myself. I'll bet you $2 for your new church funds that I can beat you in 100 yards."

Now, it happens that the preacher is having a hard time raising the money to put a roof on his church, and that two spot looked good to him.

"Done," said he. "Get off the car and we'll run it now."

At the next stop they alighted, ran the 100 yards, and Mr. Morrow made it a walkaway.

The $2 is now in the church building fund— wager made and won to the glory of the Lord, as Mr. Morrow puts it.

A little tip will often cure a waiter of deafness.

THE REVIEW

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. If you own a good watch, better be on the safe side — Bring it to our Repair Department where it will receive Skilled Attention.

BARREL OF WHISKEY SEIZED AT THE STATION

Bobcaygeon, April 10.—By some sort of wireless telegraphy Inspector Lithgow was informed that there was a suspicious looking cargo which was labelled tobacco from a "Cigar Co." of the city of Peterborough, at the station here last Saturday morning. Mr. Lithgow examined the three cases which were shipped to a South Verulam farmer and found that instead of tobacco they contained first-class whiskey, which was no doubt intended to make merry during Easter tide. The whiskey is now in the inspector's possession and the department is notified and things will develop now in their logical order.

SEVEN YEARS

Sentence Imposed by Judge Latchford on Samuel Newall for Criminal Assault.

Prisoner is Ill and Medical Attention is Necessary—Said He Was Not Guilty.

Samuel Newall was this morning sentenced to seven years imprisonment by Judge Latchford, who is presiding at the Spring Assizes. A statement as to the physical condition of the prisoner, from one of the local physicians, who claims that Newall will require an operation at once to prolong his life, as he is at present in a critical condition, alone saved the added penalty of the lash.

According to the evidence given yesterday afternoon, Newall had carnal knowledge of one Maggie Moore who was not his wife, on May 30, last, without her consent.

Mrs. Moore, was nursing Newall's wife, who was seriously ill, doing the housework at Newall's and attending to her own four month's old baby.

Newall, who was a big strong fellow, while in the root house on the evening of May 30, where Mrs. Moore was skimming the milk, assaulted her. She was a very frail woman, and could not resist him, and there was no one about to hear her cries. As soon as she could she went and informed her husband of the crime. They at once went to a constable, and laid the information, and the following day Newall was arrested.

He appeared before Magistrate Edmison shortly after and was remanded to the Fall Assizes. He was too ill to attend, and his trial was left over for the Spring sittings.

At 5.05 yesterday, the jury retired after the judge had charged them. At 5.55 p.m. they returned with a verdict of "guilty."

"All I can say gentlemen," said the judge, "is that I do not think any twelve reasonable men could give any other verdict than the one given."

Mr. G. N. Gordon, counsel for the prisoner, asked His honor to defer sentence till this morning when he wished to submit a statement from a medical practitioner as to Newall's physical condition. Newall is suffering from an absess in his side, and he is but recovering from an operation he had a short time ago.

When asked this morning if he had anything to say before sentence should be passed upon him, Newall said, "I have nothing to say, only I am not guilty."

In passing sentence His Honor touched on the seriousness of the crime. He said that unfortunately, in the outlying districts, the women have not the same privacy they ought to have. The women of our country must be protected; their purity must be upheld."

When in prison, Newall will have the benefit of the best surgical and medical attendance.

CHARGE IS VERY SERIOUS

Young Lad Said to Have Been the Victim of Stranger

James Cross, a stranger, was arrested last evening by P. C. Kidd, and arraigned before Magistrate Dumble this morning on a most serious charge, a small boy of eleven years of age being his victim. He was remanded for a week.

According to the information, Cross arrived in the city yesterday. He walked around the city until evening when he met the boy, and by giving the lad a copper induced him to go to the C.P.R. station and then to the Fuel and Cartage Co's yards where he is alleged to have committed the offence on the child, holding his hand over the boy's mouth to keep him from screaming.

P. C. Kidd found the youngster at the C.P.R. station later. He gave a good description of his assailant and Detective Newhall and P. C. Kidd went after the ruffian. The boy later identified Cross as the man who did the deed.

A physician was called to examine the boy and the man. The child was in a fearful state.

The punishment for conviction of such a crime is life imprisonment.

NO TRESPASSING ON C. P. R. BRIDGE

Magistrate Dumble Dismissed Case With a Warning

Henry Coil and William Prichard appeared in the police court this morning to answer to the charge of trespassing on the C.P.R. property in the vicinity of the C.P.R. bridge.

They pleaded guilty to the charge but explained that they intended to receive employment on the dam near there and went down to see if the water had lowered sufficient to begin work.

Magistrate Dumble told the men that the government requires that people should not make a highway of the railway track, but as the C.P.R. company did not wish to press the charge, he would allow them to go with a warning.

The C.P.R. wish this case to be a warning to other trespassers and if they persist in disobeying they will be severely dealt with in the future.

LADIES MISSION CIRCLE OF MURRAY STREET CHURCH

Officers Were Elected and Interesting Reports Presented

The thirty-third annual business meeting of the Ladies' Mission Circle of Murray street Baptist Church, was held last evening, commencing at 7.30 with about eleven members in attendance.

Mrs. Webb, read the report of the Nominating Committee as follows:—

President—Mrs. Hunter
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs V. Eastwood.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs Wood.
Secretary—Mrs. W. D. Scott.
Treasurer — Foreign, Mrs. Stenton; Home, Miss Aldrige.
Collectors—Medical, Mrs. White; Indian, Mrs. Scott.
Pianist—Mrs. Wray.
Collectors—Mrs. H. Montgomery, Miss Nicholls, Miss Matthews, Miss Branch.

Miss Cochrane was the recipient of many remarks of appreciation for the faithful work done by her as collector.

On motion of Mrs. Webb and Miss Cochrane, the Neile Fund of $8.65 will be sent to Home Missions.

The Program Committee for the year was appointed as follows:—Miss Aldrige, Mrs. Pettit, Miss M. A. Nichols, Mrs. Webb, the president and secretary.

A discussion followed regarding the meetings to be held at various homes during the year. It was decided to hold one meeting in every quarter at some home, Mrs. Webb volunteering to throw her house open for the initial meeting in May, and provide the program.

The public meeting opened at 8 o'clock with Miss Nichols presiding. After the opening exercises the annual report was read, showing a slight decrease in membership, and a need for renewed zeal, in the work for the coming year.

The financial statement was as follows:

Sent to Foreign Missions	$138 48
Sent to Home Missions	93 38
Sent to Indian Missions	24 10
Monthly collections	6 11
Baby Band	4 50
The Mission Band	68 00
Total	$334 57

Miss Nichols then in a brief address introduced Rev. Mr. Robertson, the speaker of the evening, who gave a very interesting and comprehensive address on educational work in China.

Mr. Elcome moved a vote of thanks at its conclusion, to Rev. Mr. Robertson, which was seconded by Rev. H. J. Keith.

Mr. Robertson briefly replied answering several questions which were asked about his work.

A duet by Mrs. Rehill and Mr. Pollard was greatly enjoyed.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Wm. Montgomery.

NEW UNIFORMS WERE ISSUED TO REGIMENT

The 57th Regiment held their second regular drill in the armories last night. The turn out was a large one, and showed that the companies are filling up rapidly. There are still vacancies for good men.

The new uniforms were issued to the men last night and they will soon appear in their fresh outfits.

The orders for the week are:—

Sub-target gun practice — Wednesday night, Co's 5 and 6; Thursday night, Co's 3 and 4; Friday night, Co's 1 and 2.

AFTER BOYS WHO DO NOT ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL

A thorough canvass of the city will take place on April 23rd, by well over a hundred Sunday school workers, who will ascertain the names of all boys of the Protestant denominations from ten to eighteen years of age, who do not attend Sunday school. This was practically settled at a special meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. parlors last evening, at which a large number of Sunday school officials were present.

INTERESTING NEWS OF NORWOOD

Special Correspondence.

Norwood, April 8.—Mr. A. Davidson is spending a few days in Toronto this week.

Miss McCullough, Miss Stella Searight, Miss M. E. Laing, spent Good Friday in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnston went to Havelock Monday evening to visit their daughter Mrs. W. Andrews.

Mrs. John Weir and Miss M. McLachlan spent the Easter holidays in Toronto.

Mr. C. J. Puffer visited Toronto during the Easter vacation.

Mr. Bob Rahal paid his home here a visit on Easter.

On Good Friday morning a few of the local curlers gathered at the rink and had a short game. On account of the mildness of the atmosphere the ice was rather soft but they nevertheless enjoyed the game for about an hour. Mr. J. A. Finlay, Skip, was defeated by one shot by a rink skipped by Rev. Mr. Peer.

Mr. J. E. Thompson has carpenters at work erecting a steel clad addition to his store on Colborne St. The addition is 20x40 and two stories high and will be used principally as a store house. Mr. Thompson has lately added a stock of hardware and was somewhat cramped for room.

Manager W. T. Carbery is getting things in working shape at the cheese box factory and intends commencing the season's work this week.

Mr. Norman Graham who has been running the baking business here for the past year has sold to Messrs. Tucker Bros., and is loading a car for the West where he is going to embark on a larger scale. We wish him success.

Messrs. Ollie Basking and John Whyte, who took two car loads of horses to the west a few weeks ago, returned last week well pleased with their venture. They had no difficulty in disposing of their horses at a good profit.

The water in the creek rose very high after last Saturday's thaw and Sunday's rain, and was almost past high water mark, but since the change to cooler conditions it has fallen a few inches and there appears now to be no danger of an overflow.

Maple syrup in very small quantities has been offered for sale in the village and eagerly bought up. The price is $1.25 per gallon This week will bring in larger quantities.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Waters were in Toronto for a few days last week.

Harold Williamson, of Norwood, has taken a position in Mr. Comers' harness shop, Tweed.

Messrs. E. S. Hopkins, B.S.A., and J. P. Sackville, were in Belleville on Wednesday, attending the Holsteins Breeders' Sale.

Miss Mary Mcleary, of Sydenham, is visiting at the home of her grandmother Mrs. Butterfield.

Mr. J. L. Juniac is selling by public auction at his residence, Alma street, on Saturday, April 13th, all his household affects, including a fine new piano.

Moved by councillors Blake and Watson, that the accounts as read be paid. Carried.

Building plans were submitted as follows—

J. E. Thmopson, addition to store 20x40 metal clad.

I. N. Ackerman, wareroom at rear of E. P. Cuffe's for use by J. W. Rork.

Moved by councillors Watson and Blake, that building permits be granted. Carried.

The auditors' report for 1911 was laid before the council.

Moved by councillors Searight and Blake, that the auditors' report be accepted, and handed to the Norwood Register, for printing, and orders drawn on the treasury for the payment of the auditors' salaries, viz., $7 each.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Waters spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Mr. Harold Williamson, who has been working for Mr. W. Sedgwick, for the past two years, has taken a position in Mr. Conner's harness shop at Tweed.

Messrs. E. S. Hopkins and J. P. Sackville of the Norwood branch of the Ontario Agricultural College, were in Belleville last week attending a Holstein breeder's sale.

Mr. Jack Rathwell has moved into Mr. Wm. Taylor's house on Spring street.

Messrs. C. E. Packenham & Son unloaded a carload of western oats at their mill last week, and are retailing them out at 60c per bushel. Home grown oats are very scarce, and cannot be procured at any price A few farmers are holding oats for seed, and are asking 60c per bushel.

Just think of it, good skating in the rink on Monday night, April 8th.

Mr. John Baskin has fixed up the premises on Peterboro street, lately occupied by Mr. Geo. McLean, as a boot and shoe repair shop, for a butcher shop, and this week, Norwood will be served by two obliging meat vendors.

Mr. J. L. Squire intends, as soon as possible in the spring, to commence the erection of up-to-date premises adjoining his store on Peterboro, for the local branch of the Bank of Toronto.

With the addition of Mr. Baskins new hotel and the new Bank building, Peterboro street will take on a decidedly business like apperance.

Norwood will hold a demonstration on May 24th. As yet final arrangements are not made, but the people who have the management of the doings in hand, expect to provide a real enjoyable program of sports. A fine concert will also be held in the hall in the evening. The members of the Norwood band are looking after the arrangements for the day's sports.

The officers of the St. Paul's T. A. S. for 1912 are as follows — Hon President, Mr. R. H. McLaughlin; President, Mr. J. English; Vice-Pres. Mr. J. O'Keefe; secretary, Mr. P. Heffernan; treasurer, Mr. J. Kelly, marshall, Mr. J. Fallon; committee, Messrs. E. Fitzpatrick, A Breault, J. O'Shea.

A heavy snow storm is falling here to-day, Tuesday, and we are looking for fine weather to follow quickly.

Lost His Hair, Beard and Mustache

Terrible Plight of a Pennsylvania Man Reported by a Prominent Citizen:

"About two years ago my hair, beard and mustache started to come out in spots. These spots were entirely bare of hair.

Seeing PARISIAN SAGE advertised, I purchased four bottles and after using two of the bottles, the hair came in until now I have as good a head of hair as I had before this trouble started.

I can truthfully recommend this preparation to any one for what it is recommended for. Sam Galder, Jamison City, Col. Co., Pa. Oct. 11, 1911."

Please bear in mind that PARISIAN SAGE is not guaranteed to grow hair on bald heads.

In Mr. Galder's case the hair root was not dead and there is no good reason why PARISIAN SAGE should not do just what he writes it did.

"The next time Mr. Galder came into my store after purchasing the PARISIAN SAGE," writes the druggist who sold him, "his appearance was so changed I did not know him."

PARISIAN SAGE is without doubt the most efficient hair grower, beautifier and dandruff cure in the world and people who are wasting time with ordinary commercial tonics should wake up.

PARISIAN SAGE will banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp; will put life lustre and beauty into faded hair, or money back. It is a most delightful and refreshing tonic for men, women and children. Large bottle 50 cents at Wm. Madill's, and druggists the country over.

DIABETES

Is one of the most cruel maladies of which mankind is subject, the many complications arising from time to time, making life seem almost unbearable. For many diseases, medical, scientific, and physiological knowledge and experience gained from years of deep research, has achieved remarkable results, but, up to now, little has been discovered of practical value in the treatment and cure of Diabetes. In fact, people have begun to look upon the disease as well-nigh incurable. Even in the medical profession can be found doctors who are of the same opinion, regarding sceptically any claim to ameliorate or improve the condition of a diabetic patient.

It can, however, be proved that SANSOL'S ANTIDIABETES lastingly cures all cases of Diabetes. Full particulars can be obtained from the Sansol Mfg. Co., Winnipeg, Man.

KEEPING SUPPLIES IN DRY DISTRICTS NOW PROHIBITED; AMENDMENT TO LIQUOR ACT

Two Gallons Is the Limit That May Be Kept by One Person, According to Hon. Mr. Hanna's Amendment—Hotelkeepers May Throw Out Persons They Do Not Approve Of—Prohibition on Public Works Jobs.

Toronto, April 11.—The storage of liquor in local option districts is to be prevented by Hon. W. J. Hanna's bill to amend the Liquor License Act, which received is second reading in the Legislature last night. The amendment provides that in a municipality in which no tavern or shop license is in force, no liquor shall be stored or kept by any brewer or other person whatsoever, for future delivery to any customer or other persons, even though the liquor was previously ordered. Liquor not actually delivered into the possession of the person for whom it was intended in any local option municipality, shall be deemed to be kept for sale by the person in whose possession the liquor is found. Any person in these districts allowing liquor to be stored on his premises shall also be guilty of an offence against the act.

Two gallons is the limit that is allowed for any one person to have in his possession in local option districts except with regard to chemists or others expressly authorized to keep liquor.

Forcible removal of any person who has came upon licensed premises, apparently for improper purposes and refuses to leave, is also permitted by one of the amended clauses. This applies even if the person is not of notoriously bad character. Hon. Mr. Hanna explained that hotelmen usually know who should be put off their premises in this regard, but haven't hitherto had the authority to ask such persons to get out.

The traveling public is also provided for by a clause giving provincial license inspectors the power to report to the Minister any hotel which falls below the standard of accommodation usually provided in licensed hotels.

Authority is given the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council to issue a proclamation forbidding the sale of liquor within the limits of any place where the construction of any public work is going on. The license in hotels in that district shall be suspended while the proclamation is in force. This clause refers to the building of any railway, canal, road, bridge, or any lumbering or mining operation carried on by the Government, or by a municipal corporation or even private enterprise. A penalty of from $100 to $500 is imposed for breach of this clause.

Another clause in the act is amended increasing the fine for keeping liquor for sale from $200 to $500.

Mr. Rowell wanted to know why the Government hadn't inserted a clause in the bill to do away with the treating system.

"There is a semblance of something in my hon's friend's remarks," said Sir James Whitney. "But what a strange thing it is. It almost passes understanding that not a whisper, or the shadow of even the baseless fabric of a dream, was even heard upon the question of treating until the majority of this House declared against it."

Truth After Expatriates.

London, April 11.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Truth says that for some time past there has been irritation in Canada, to which expression was given in the more independent newspapers, at the ready acceptance at political headquarters in London of Canadians who have domiciled themselves in England after doing little to make themselves beloved in their native land. Several of these men, it is understood, have offered themselves at the headquarters of the Unionist party as Parliamentary candidates.

Maybe with the payment of members, more local candidates will offer themselves at the next general election, therefore, the organization will not be able to avail itself of offers from these "carpet-baggers."

NOBLEMEN TO DO FARM WORK

New York, April 11.—Lord Somers and Lord Hyde, both young men, came over in the Olympic to start their two hundred acre truck farm at Pickering, near Toronto.

Lady Hyde came with her husband, bringing her three children. They will spend their summers on the farm and their winters in England. Lord Hyde said his becoming a truck farmer is an experiment, and that if it proves successful he and Lord Somers may enlarge their holdings.

Lord Hyde is the only son and heir to the fifth Earl of Clarendon, and was born in 1877. In 1895 he married Adelina Verona Ishbel Somers-Coetts, sister of the sixth Baron Somers. The latter who has come with them to Candaa, was born in 1887 and succeeded his great-uncle, the fifth baron, in 1899. He is unmarried.

The St. George's Choral Concert on Tuesday next, promises to be a huge success. There are nearly a thousand tickets out already.

DON'T FORGET

ticket holders may exchange their tickets for numbered seat tickets on Friday. General booking opens Saturday. Miss M. Moss, elocutionist, Dr. Park, solo violin.

ASQUITH'S ARGUMENT

Home Rule Should Not be Killed For Sake of Ulstermen

Special to the Review.

London, April 11— In introducing the Home Rule Bill in the House, Asquith said, "I cannot admit the right of a relatively small minority of the Irish in Ulster to veto the will of the vast majority of Irish, who favor the bill."

HOME RULE BILL INTRODUCED IN THE COMMONS TO-DAY

Important Measure Is Said to Be Closely Along the Lines of Gladstone's Bill—Many Notables Arriving to Hear the Debate and the Galleries Will Be Filled—Irish Representation to Be Reduced.

London, April 11.—The members of the British Cabinet yesterday put the finishing touches to the home rule bill, which Premier Asquith is to introduced in the House of Commons to-day. The members of the Government and the few Nationalist members who have been taken into their confidence have kept the secret of the details of the measure well, but with the exception of the clauses relating to the control of the excise and customs and the numbers of the Irish representatives to be retained at Westminster, the general outlines of the bill are pretty well known.

The measure is expected to follow closely that which was proposed by the late William E. Gladstone. Until quite recently the Nationalists have shown no opposition to the suggestion that the Irish excise and customs should remain under the control of the Imperial Parliament, but there has been lately a strong movement in Ireland in favor of securing control of this revenue by the Irish Parliament. One reason advanced for this is that Ireland desired to make a tariff agreement with the United States.

Among many forecasts, that which suggests that the Imperial Government should retain control of the customs and excise of Ireland for a certain number of years, after which it should pass to the Irish Parliament is generally accepted.

It is certain that Ireland will continue to be represented in the House of Commons at Westminster, but by a reduced number of members.

While the interest in Premier Asquith's speech does not compare in any way with that aroused by the late Mr. Gladstone's efforts, there will be a full attendance of members and the public galleries of the House of Commons will be filled to their utmost capacity. Thousands of applications have been received for seats, but outside of the distinguished strangers' and peers' galleries, there is room for only a very limited number of people.

A big contingent has come over from Ireland, including several bishops, who will be seated in the distinguished strangers' gallery if the Irish members are successful in the ballot for seats in which members take part.

With the exception of two members who are now in Australia, the Nationalists, who have arranged to meet before the opening of the House, so as to settle the order of their speakers in the debate, will be present in full force.

The Premier is a master of condensation, and in all probability will take less than two hours to state his case to the House. He does not need to fear the defections in the Liberal party from which Mr. Gladstone suffered. There are only two Liberal members who are known to be opponents of home rule. There are Thomas Charles Reginald Agar-Robartes and Sir Clifford John Cory, members from Cornish constituencies, where the Protestant element is strongest.

At the conclusion of the speeches of the Liberal and Unionist leaders to-day, the debate will be adjourned until Monday, and the division of the House will be taken on Tuesday. The second reading will take longer, and the committee stage of the bill is expected to occupy at least six weeks. The introduction of the closure will be a necessity, however, in order to conclude within that time, as the Unionists are determined to obstruct the measure in every way possible.

John Redmond, the leader of the Nationalists, last evening said that the demonstration in Ulster on Tuesday had not affected the bill in the least, and that the Nationalists were just as hopeful as ever of securing what they had fought for so long.

And if some girls never married they would never get over being romantic.

BRAZIL FOSTERS TRADE WITH UNITED STATES BY OPERATING AN ACTIVE STEAMSHIP LINE

SETTLEMENT IS LIKELY

U. S. Anthracite Miners and Operators Will Confer.

Philadelphia, April 11.—Prospects of peace with an early resumption of anthracite mining grew much brighter yesterday after the miners and operators decided to sit down together and talk over their differences. When the negotiations, broken off on March 15, were resumed in the Reading Terminal here yesterday afternoon, Geo. F. Baer, president of the Reading Co., proposed on behalf of the operators to arbitrate their differences; that is, to let the anthracite coal strike commission, which settled the strike of 1902, investigate present conditions and decide whether any notification of the commission's award is necessary at this time.

In the discussion, the miners practically threw this offer aside and the conference agreed finally to appoint sub-committees to take up the demands of the miners with power to make recommendations for adjustments. The sub-committees were immediately appointed and after a brief joint session they adjourned until this afternoon.

Alvin Markle of Hazelton, an independent operator will act as chairman of the joint conference, but will have no vote.

The miners representatives said yesterday they fully expect a ten per cent. increase in wages. Aside from the wage demand that of the recognition of the union appears to be the stumbling block in the way of an agreement.

VERDICT IS UNIMPORTANT SAYS McKINLEY

Washington, D.C., April 11.—Representative McKinley, director of Taft's national headquarters, yesterday issued the first official comment from the Taft side upon the Presidential primary in Illinois yesterday.

"The result in Illinois was not unexpected to those familiar with the situation," said McKinley. "The issues which occupied the attention of the people of the State were so peculiarly local as to cause the Presidential issue to be lost sight of so far as President Taft was concerned.

"I say this advisedly, and for this reason: Mr. Roosevelt recently invaded the state and devoted the major part of his addresses to subjects which had no relation whatever, for the most part, to the issues on which the Republican party must meet the Democratic party in November.

"The result in Illinois has no bearing whatever on the outcome of the Presidential contest in the Republican party except in so far as it expresses the desire of Illinois based on purely local issues."

FOUGHT FOR 22 YEARS AND FOSTER IS WELL PLEASED

Minister of Trade and Commerce Guest of Honor at Banquet in Toronto.

Toronto, April 11.—Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, was the guest of honor last night at a banquet in the National Club, given by the Toronto Board of Trade and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, to the representatives of the West Indian Governments. In his address, Hon. Mr. Foster told of the advantages that will accrue from the extension of trade with the comparatively small British dependencies in the Atlantic.

"It is a perfect agreement that we arrived at; there is no dissatisfaction whatever between the two parties," said Mr. Foster. "In 1890, 22 years ago, I went down to the West Indies to get information regarding the possibilities of reciprocity. Shortly after we were turned out of office and this even intervened. But to-day the thing is done and we are all glad. I put my whole heart in the work."

Hon. Mr. Foster said that it was in the interests of the homeland to look after the needs of the West Indies, and he was certain that Canada would put forth an extraordinary effort to benefit the islands and this country. "Canada stands willing to do a third and even more, if necessary, to bring about better communication by steamship and cable. The Governments should establish a direct water route."

R. S. Gourley, vice-president of the C. M. A., said that there was not a manufacturer in the country who did not welcome the extension of trade with the West Indies. The great fault of Canadian manufacturers today was the fact that they did not go out of their own country for business. In proposing the toast to the "Federal Government," he said he was proud of what had been achieved. The legislators were men of character, fidelity, purpose and large vision.

T. L. Roxburgh, C.M.G., St. Kitts, expressed gratification for the entertainments the representatives had received in Canada.

E. J. Cameron, C.M.G., administrator of the colony, St. Lucia, said that Canada apparently knew very little about the islands. Toronto, however, has shown some intelligence in regard to their geography. He considered that in the adoption of reciprocity a good deal had been done for both sides. "We have desired for a long time a closer trade connection with Canada," he said.

REPORT OF DEATH OF POPE PIUS NOT CORRECT; DENIAL BY THE VATICAN

Special to The Review.

Rome, April 11, 3 p.m.— The Pope is not dead and the report emanating from Madrid was entirely unfounded. The first news of the rumor came to the Vatican by a flood of telegrams from all parts of the world asking for the confirmation of, the Madrid despatch.

London, April 11—A Reuter despatch from Madrid says that word was received there from Rome that Pope Pius, passed away early to-day. Three London papers issued extra editions announcing the Pope's death on the strength of the despatch from Madrid, but all efforts to get confirmation by telegraph from Rome, have been unsuccessful up to 2.15 p.m. It is believed that the Vatican censor at Rome is stopping all despatches.

New York, N.Y., April 11—Neither Cardinal Gibbons, Cardinal Farley nor the papal legation at Washington had received word of the Pope's death at 10 a.m. All were inclined to discredit the rumor; Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Minn., claims to have received a private telegram, confirming the reported death of the Pontiff.

DUNKELMAN IMPROVING

Victim Will Soon be Able to Tell His Story.

Toronto, April 11.—Startling developments may be expected any moment in the Rosenthal murder case. Several persons visited headquarters in the City Hall yesterday and were closeted with the detectives detailed on the case. Harry Rosenthal, son of the murdered man, has been almost constantly at the detective office and some of the officers who are giving their whole time to this matter, visited different parts of the city.

"The parties of whom I spoke yesterday as having information which they have not yet disclosed," he said yesterday, "have not yet come forward but we are getting closer to the facts which they are thought to know about."

The police are now sure that no one man committed the crime and are gradually narrowing down the clues in their hands. There is still a great mass of information to be sorted out and run down to its original sources, but any moment Dunkelman, who is steadily improving at the hospital, may be able to bring the matter to an abrupt termination and even without his aid, upon information which yesterday came to their hands, the police hope to be able to solve the mystery and apprehend the murderers.

Dunkelman's recovery is now practically assured and it is now confidently expected that this recovery will be mental as well as physical and that with returning strength will come coherent thought and recollection. It was at first feared that though the man might live his memory or mind would be so affected that he would be unable to tell a clear story of the assault upon himself and the murder of Rosenthal but as he continues to improve this fear is lessening.

Silverman, the man who with Rosenthal purchased a thousand pounds of brass and copper from the Hydro-electric, says that this was purchased by them three weeks ago from the purchasing agent at the William street storehouse who is the man empowered to sell this metal. It was not the superintendent at the Duncan street station who sold it as at first stated.

No Salaries for Commissioners.

London, April 11.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In the Commons yesterday, Hon. Mr. Harcourt, replying to Sir Gilbert Parker, said that no salaries will be paid to the United Kingdom's representatives on the Empire Trade Commission, but he granted traveling allowances and subsistence expenses. The dominions would pay the whole expenses of their representatives and a proportion of the secretarial expenses.

Sir Gilbert Parker declared himself as dissatisfied. He alleged that the United Kingdom's representatives were not impartial.

Orphan Boys Find Homes.

Brockville, April 11.—One hundred orphan boys from the parent homes in Scotland reached Fairknowe Home here yesterday for distribution throughout the province. They range from six to sixteen years and have all been allotted homes long before their arrival.

MILITARY TRAINING ALRIGHT SAYS PRINCIPAL HUTTON

Need for Antiseptic Virtues of Obedience and Service.

Toronto, April 11.—"Just because this is not the age of militarism, military training should become part of our training," said Principal Hutton of University College, speaking on the "Strathcona Trust," before a joint meeting of the inspectors of public schools, physical training and hygiene departments of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday afternoon, "not to be used against the foreigner, but against ourselves.

"In all educational work we see a want of these military virtues of system, regularity of life. Literature produces every year a certain number of Bohemians, artistic blackguards, shifty dreamers. These are Rousseaus and Coleridges on every side, but more like them in their vices than in their virtues."

The opposite military virtues, said Principal Hutton, might not seem very intellectual; they might seem a very external way of preserving our self-respect; but the great philosophers of ancient Greece, who lived in the midst of a people who were too devoted to freedom to submit to control, had placed great stress on these very military virtues.

"We want," he said, "fixed thought as an attitude to free thought, discipline as an antidote to the open mind. In this day of democracy and liberty we need the antiseptic virtues of obedience and service."

Turning to the question of cadet training, he remarked that it was not, or had not been very popular in England in his time at least. This might have been because it was not as exciting, or because it was more onerous than athletic sports. Yet, if England needed to be saved, it would be saved by the men who could shoot straight rather than by the "flanneled fools and muddled oafs" of whom Kipling spoke. Our boys in Canada, he thought, were not yet demoralized by too much sports, and here we had the advantage.

Foster Off to Australia.

Ottawa, April 11.—Now that the negotiations for reciprocity with the West Indies have been brought to a successful conclusion, Hon. G. E. Foster, it is understood, will leave next month for Australia to carry on negotiations there for a preferential arrangement.

Playfair Buys the "Toiler."

Montreal, April 11.—James Playfair of Toronto, has purchased the Toiler, the oil-burning freighter, for his lines. She was the first of her kind in the great lakes. The boat will ply between Montreal and Lake Erie ports.

WOMAN STARTS 1000 MILE WALK

New York April 11.—Mrs. David Beach, who proposes to walk from the office of The Globe, in this city, to the office of The Chicago Daily News, subsisting en route on a diet of raw foods, left New York on her thousand-mile walk at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. She hopes to reach Chicago by June first. A physician examined her just before her departure and her condition throughout the journey will be watched carefully. An automobile bearing provisions and a maid accompanies her.

Tarte Sues La Nationaliste.

Montreal, April 11.—J. L. Tarte, proprietor of La Patrie, has entered an action against La Nationaliste, which accused him of running his paper for business reasons. The plaintiff states that such an accusation makes him out to be a shopkeeper and an illiterate man.

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone treatment affords little drops of healing for sore places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

UNION LABEL

CONCERNING TREATS

Men are discussing the proposed anti-treating law. How will it work out? Where will the treater be stopped? At the door of the bar, or at the counter—at the bar itself?

It would seem that the principle of treating is not to be affected—only the kind of treat. It is not proposed that the ban will be put on ice cream or Sundie treats, not at all. Soft drinks, except when dispensed over the bar, are not within the pale of the proposed law. The treat to be tabooed is the liquor, or hard drink treat. So that the great principal that one may give away what he likes so long as it is his own, will not be infringed.

There are and will be divers ways of getting around such regulation, not only around but positively astride. The treater has only to hand a friend five cents, ask him to drink, each pay at the bar and the thing is done. If one man tells on his fellow for treating, then goodbye to him. He would be outlawed.

Will the barkeep tell? Not much. Will there be a convenient knothole through which to observe? If our legislators can devise a law that is workable, that will effectively break up the treating habit, well and good. But so far in our legal history nearly every law that is made is full of holes and if the holes are not there they are presently inserted. An anti-treating law will be a curiosity should it turn out to be of practical use.

THE VACCINATION BILL

There is good ground for the protests against the compulsory vaccination bill now before the Ontario Legislature. Apart from the merits or demerits of vaccination, it seems absurd to give to municipalities the power to order the revaccination of everyone because a smallpox case has been discovered. The bill should provide for the optional exercise of such a sweeping order, which if carried into effect would cause a great deal of unnecessary hardship and suffering.

The new provincial health act is very sweeping and radical in other respects, asserting the domination of the Provincial Board of Health over Ontario affairs in no uncertain manner. This is all right, in centralizing power so that abuses which have existed by reason of local apathy or pull, may be promptly jacked up. But there should be a guard against too much medical despotism. The doctors are necessary and do a great service to humanity. In fact, they cannot be dispensed with. But at the same time, a man should be given at least some personal option as to whether he shall be vaccinated or not. To force a man with religious objections to vaccination into being inoculated, is about as much cruelty as to force Ulster into accepting the domination of Cork.

It is most desirable that when smallpox makes its appearance in a locality, prompt measures shall be taken to prevent its spread. It is a disease that is the product of rough, unsanitary life, and seldom originates within city or town confines. There is a large section of the public which would most vigorously protest against the compulsory vaccination law, if it felt that there was any likelihood of it ever being carried into operation. Ontario is comparatively free from smallpox, except in the northern sections, unlike Quebec, where Dr. Beaudry, the Provincial Inspector of Health, stated a short time ago, that there were 75,000 cases. It would not be a bad idea to ship a few carloads of the compulsory vaccinationists to Quebec, where they could have ample opportunity and excuse for following their hobby.

IRISH HOME RULE

The Home Rule struggle about to be staged in the old land promises to be just as bitter a fight as was waged when Gladstone first put his hand to the task. Ulster stands gaunt and determined not to bow to the yoke of an Irish parliament, with the Roman Catholics in the majority, holding that such an arrangement could not give them the peace and the liberty they are determined to maintain. The many sided aspects of Home Rule allow a sensible man to entertain views that would in ordinary cases be held to be foolish and narrow. Whether Ulster has any real ground for its fears remains to be seen. Certainly the provision by which any legislation of the Irish parliament can be disallowed by the Imperial House should afford the Protestant minority in Ireland some guarantee of respect for their rights and privileges. The religious bitterness that has marred the history of Ireland for so many centuries is likely to be still further fanned into flame by the new proposals, though to the dispassionate observer there does not seem to be any valid objection to allowing an Irish legislature control of internal affairs, so long as the minority are not disturbed in the rights and privileges they now enjoy. Whether the establishment of such a parliament would lead eventually to a fight for the removal of the house the suzerainty of the British House cannot be said. Certainly Ulster would not put up with any such effort, but the bloodiest civil war of centuries in Ireland would follow. John Redmond is apparently master of the situation at London, and is forcing the hand of the Asquith Ministry, just as the labor strikes have been encouraged by the radical campaign conducted by Lloyd George. Ulster may fight, but it cannot yet be said with any degree of certainty—by a conscientious observer—that Ulster will be right.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Vancouver is building a new jail of six stories in height. It is safe to say there will be no elopements from the upper story so long as the stairways are closed.

Kingston doctors having decided that the profession was under paid, got together and raised the rates. The advance is said to be about 50 per cent to many of the physicians. A few of the more common rates are—day visit, $1.00; night visit, double rate; advice, from 75c to $1.50. Nothing is said as to the quality of the advice.

The city of Lethbridge announces through the superintendent, that the municipally owned electrical department of the city facilities, made a clear gain of $20,000, in 1911, and coupled with the statement was the suggestion that a ten per cent reduction in light and power rates should be put in force shortly. This is another evidence of the value of municipally owned plants to serve public utilities.

The bargaining habit is impaired in many people. What they save in a bargain they spend, often recklessly. A business man sat beside a desk and squabbled for half an hour to get for eight dollars something that eight-fifty was asked for. Finally to close the matter up the price was made eight dollars. "Now," said the disputant, "let us go over to the hotel and blow in that fifty cents." Said the other, "It beats me why I, who am busy, and you, who should be the same, waste an hour of good time over fifty cents and then go and drink it up. Why do you do it?" "Because," was the reply, "if I didn't I wouldn't have the fifty to blow."

Jumped to His Death.

Cincinnati, O., April 11.—The body of Isaac Sturm, a well-known insurance man of this city, was found in a misshapen mass on the roof of the one-storey annex adjoining the First National Bank building yesterday. In an office on the thirteenth floor a note was found from Sturm, saying that he intended to jump out of a window on that floor.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 10.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending April 6 were 850 cattle, 325 sheep and lambs, 1530 hogs and 2500 calves. The offerings on the market this morning were 300 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 300 hogs and 1600 calves.

A fair trade was done in cattle, there being a good demand from butchers for small lots to fill actual wants, and, as the offerings were light, a firm feeling prevailed in the market and prices show no change. Choice steers sold at $7 to $7.25; good at $6.25 to $6.75, and the lower grades down to $5.50 per 100 pounds. The best cows brought $5.50, and the commoner ones from $3.50 to $5 per 100 pounds. Bulls sold from $3.50 to $5.50 per 100 pounds.

The tone of the market for hogs was strong, owing to the very light run, and prices scored a further advance, with sales of selected lots at $9 to $9.25, and $9.50 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars. The trade in calves was active, and, as the offerings were not excessive, prices ruled steady, with sales at from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality. An easier feeling prevailed in the market for lambs, and prices declined 25c per 100 pounds, on account of the limited demand, and sales of the few sheep offered sold at $4.50 per 100 pounds.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 50 head; market steady; trade light; prime steers, $7.75 to $8.35; butcher grades, $3 to $7.25.

Calves—Receipts, 200 head; market active, 50c higher; cull to choice, $6 to $8.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 12,000 head; market slow, 15c to 25c lower, choice lambs, $8.25 to $8.40; cull to fair, $5 to $8.15; yearlings, $7 to $7.25; sheep, $3 to $6.75.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"Oh, Mis' Trowbridge, do let me take her," exclaimed Patty.

"Me too!" cried Ide.

"They're just like children. I guess we'll have to humor them this once," laughed Mr. Brett's Cousin Fanny.

When I smiled at Patty, she cuddled her arm around me, and then Ide promptly did the same. Thus interlaced the procession moved into the house.

The door of the veranda opens into a cozy sitting room. There is nothing which you could point out as pretty in the furnishing, and decoration there is none, but the room has a delicious, welcoming look and makes you want to live in it.

"What a nice room!" I exclaimed to the girls, pausing for a glance around.

They looked surprised.

"Do you think so?" asked Patty. "We were afraid maybe you wouldn't. The things you're used to must be a good deal handsomer. Everything's so old here."

"I love old things," said I. "Our house at home is very old, and I wouldn't have anything changed for worlds, even if it were to be made better."

"Why, that's kind of the way I feel, too!" exclaimed Patty, giving my waist a sympathetic squeeze. "I like this living room, but Ide doesn't admire it a little bit."

"If I was Mis' Trowbridge, I'd always sit in the parlor," said Ide, "instead of keeping it shut up except for best just because Mr. Trowbridge's ma did before her. It's a real pretty room.

I thanked her, but thought we had better put off the treat until another time, as we were on our way to my room. I was wondering how to define the difference between Patty and Ide. I saw that it was very marked, yet I didn't quite understand. The two girls appeared to be on the same footing in the house, I said to myself, but Ide was far more showy than Patty, seeming to put herself forward as if she were afraid of not being noticed, and then she was dressed so much more elaborately. Perhaps, I thought, Patty was poor and in a more dependent position than Ide.

The stairway, very steep and narrow, leads straight up from the "living room," which is apparently in the center of the house and fills the place of a hall. There are no balusters, but a whitewashed wall on either side, and only one person can go up at a time. At the top is a landing, with a bare painted floor, and doors opening from it. One of the doors is mine, and as they showed me in I could see that Patty and Ide both waited breathlessly for my verdict, their faces looking quite strained and anxious until I exclaimed:

"How fresh and pretty it is here!"

I meant it too. It is a dear room, with something pathetic about its simple sweetness, and the kind thought to give me pleasure which shows in every little innocent detail. The floor is covered with a white straw matting, and there are no two pieces of furniture that match. There's a wide wooden bed of no particular period that I can recognize, yet with an air of being old fashioned, and there are stiff, square shams to hide the pillows and turn down over the top of the sheet with fluted frills round the edges. The scent of dried rose leaves and lavender mingles with the perfume of the pinks, and some of the summer house pagodas on the wall are hidden with old fashioned steel engravings and photographs in homemade frames.

I didn't stop to examine the pictures at first, but after Patty and Ide had tripped away ("to see about my dinner," they said), I was attracted by a faded cabinet photograph framed with shells. It was a full length figure of a young man on horseback. He was dressed something like those splendid cowboys they took me to see at Earlscourt when I was a little girl, and the face was Mr. Brett's. It was so handsome and dashing I could hardly stop staring at it while I washed off the dust of motoring. Evidently the photograph in its frame has been on the wall a long time. I am glad they happened to put it in what they call the "spare room," so I can look at it whenever I like without any one noticing.

Chapter 17

WHEN I went downstairs dinner was ready in a cool, shady dining room, with a bare floor painted brown and a long table down the middle. It wasn't quite 2 o'clock, but it turned out that the family had had their dinner at noon exactly, and this was a meal only for Mr. Brett and me, with Patty and Ide to bring us things from the kitchen and wait upon us, while Mrs. Trowbridge flitted in smiling from time to time to ask how we were "getting along." It was she who was cooking for us, and I felt quite distressed at the trouble I was giving, on such a hot day, too, but she said she was enjoying it.

It was a very funny dinner, according to my ideas, for I never had a meal like it at home, even when I was small and dined in the daytime with the governess. But it was tremendously good, though none of the things went together properly. We had delicious young chicken—quite babies they were, poor dears—fried with cream, and wreathed all around our plates in a semicircle were a quantity of tiny dishes. Each one had a big dab of something different in it; mashed potatoes, succotash, green peas, a kind of vegetable marrow to which they [illegible] the unworthy name of "squash," [illegible] sweet green pickles, preserved strawberries, and goodness knows what all besides, while, if we stopped eating to breathe or speak, Patty flew in with a plate of freshly made things of the most heavenly nature, called corn fritters. Mrs. Trowbridge beamed all over when I said I should like to live on them for a month.

We were obliged to eat a good deal of everything, otherwise Mrs. Trowbridge would have felt hurt, and I felt sleepy when we had finished, but I refused to go and lie down to rest, as they wanted me to, it seemed such a waste of time. At last Mr. Trowbridge offered to show "Cousin Jim" around the farm, and maybe I looked wistful, for when they found that I was determined not to take a nap, they asked if I would go with them.

Mr. Trowbridge had on a linen coat now, a long, yellow one, which I should laugh at if I saw it on the stage in a play, but it suited him, and he looked quite impressive in it. He fanned himself with a large straw hat, without any ribbon, and talked splendidly to us, as we three walked together under the trees.

SHE SUFFERED TEN MONTHS

Mrs. Blankenship Tells of Her Restoration to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks for what Lydia E.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.

"Now I have been restored to health and it has come from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what this medicine has done for me and I will always speak a good word for it."—Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENSHIP, Elliston, Va., Montgomery Co.

Was Helpless—Now Well.

Trenton, Mo.—"About two years ago I had female trouble and inflammation so bad that I was literally helpless and had to be tended like a baby. I could not move my body or lift my foot for such severe pains that I had to scream. I was very nervous and had a weakness.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me to such an extent that I think there is no medicine like it for female troubles. I am up and able to do my work again and I give you full permission to publish my letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. W. T. PURNELL, 320-10th St., Trenton, Mo.

Points for Mothers

Oil Bath For Baby.

This story begins like a fairy tale. It is not a fairy story at all, but a plain statement of a very important subject—the oil bath for a delicate child.

Once upon a time there was born a tiny baby.

At birth this little mite of humanity weighed less than five pounds, and the physician, nurse and parents all despaired of her life.

The child's mother was a frail, delicate little woman, who, after a few weeks, was forced to stop nursing her infant daughter.

It was only by the most infinite care that baby's life was saved when this calamity befell her.

Pure fresh cow's milk was modified and pasteurized, and by a careful study of proportions a food at last found that agreed with the little one.

Even then much difficulty was encountered trying to get the baby to feed from a nursing bottle, and the troubles of mother and nurse were many.

Baby lost weight, not much, but a gradual decrease was noticed until one week showed a loss of one and a half ounces.

It was while the mother was bathing her tiny baby one morning that an old colored woman who had nursed the mother and grandmother before her came in to see the new arrival in the family.

It only took a minute for old "Mammy Harriet" to see the condition of the child. Raising both hands to her head, she said: "Land, honey, you must rub dat chile wif goose grease if you wants her to live! Yes, ma'am, rub her all over wif nice warm goose grease an' git some fat on her pore little bones."

Old Mammy Harriet then went on to tell how one of her little charges had been very near the borderland of heaven when she had started to rub the child with goose fat or mutton tallow every day, and how it had waxed fat and strong as a result of the treatment. The little mother thought it no harm to try, but instead of using animal fat she warmed a tablespoonful of olive oil and bathed the baby's body all over with it just before the little one was put to bed.

A few days showed a marked change, and at the end of the week she had regained the lost ounce and a half.

Physicians agree that the oil bath is excellent for delicate children.

When the child is very puny it is a mistake to bathe the body every day with warm water, using soap. A lather of soap removes the natural oils from the skin, thus decreasing the fats of the body.

Cleanse all soiled portions of the baby's body with warm water and a little pure soap, but give a sponge bath of clear tepid water over the rest of the body. At bedtime give baby a thorough rubbing with pure warm olive oil.

This is a good rule to follow when older children are recovering from an illness, are suffering from pulmonary troubles or are anaemic.

An oil bath taken daily will put flesh on a person as nothing else will do. Try it for your delicate child.

Three Months For Assault.

Chatham, April 11.—Thomas Griffith yesterday morning pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and wounding before Mr. Justice Falconbridge at high court and was sentenced to three months in jail. Originally Griffith was charged with manslaughter but the charge was reduced.

The assault took place last July on Griffith's brother-in-law, Orlando Arnold. Arnold died the following September but it was not proven that he died as a direct result of the injuries received in the assault.

SUREST TONIC IN THE WORLD

IS "FRUIT-A-TIVES" THE GREAT FRUIT MEDICINE

Like fruit juice, "Fruit-a-tives" acts on the great blood purifying organs of the body—namely the liver, bowels, kidneys and skin, and stimulates all these parts to increased activity. The splendid nerve tonics and intestinal antiseptics, combined with the intensified fruit juices, make "Fruit-a-tives" the finest of nerve tonics.

On the stomach, "Fruit-a-tives" acts as a soothing tonic and allays all irritation.

By purifying the blood—strengthening the nervous system and regulating kidneys, bowels and skin—"Fruit-a-tives" builds up the whole system as nothing else will.

"Fruit-a-tives" is a really wonderful medicine—being made directly from fresh fruit—and is the intensified juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit. It is mild in action—pleasant to take—and is a tonic of inestimable value.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

We are now in a position to grind 200 lenses every day. In case of an accident (if you didn't buy your lenses from us) bring the broken pieces to us and we can duplicate the lense on the shortest possible notice. It makes no difference what kind or what strength of a lense or where you bought them we can duplicate them in a very short time and we guarantee perfect results.

We carry the largest up-to-date Optical stock in the city. If you compare our prices you will find that they are the same as charged by Eaton and other Optical houses in Toronto. Our prices are governed by Toronto prices. In case you need new lenses (providing you have used them before) or if you are suffering from eye strain or headaches, kindly give us a call. We will guarantee to give perfect results.

WRIT FOR LARGE SUM

Against the City by Bishop Construction Company

A writ has been issued at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, by the Bishop Construction Company against the City of Peterborough for the sum of $23 384.99 as the balance alleged due for work done on a contract for the Water Commissioners of the city.

The writ was fyled without the knowledge of the local water commissioners, whose first intimation of the step taken by the company was from the Toronto papers of to-day. The claim arises from the work performed by the Bishop Construction Company at the water works dam, in 1909. The commissioners were under the impression however, that the amount, whish the company would probably press for, was in the neighborhood of $12,000.00. They are awaiting further notice on the matter.

ENJOYABLE TIME AT S.A. TEMPLE

Fine Program With Some Interesting Features

The concert and presentation held in the Salvation Army Temple last night, to celebrate the 83rd anniversary of the birth of General Booth, was favored with a good attendance. Ald. Anderson officiated as chairman and opened the meeting by a few appropriate remarks. The "Victory March" by the band followed. Other items worthy of special mention were the male quartette in "What can you Expect," and the recitation, "Fireman's Wedding," by Bandsman F. Gray.

The most interesting part of the evening was the presentation by Alderman Anderson on behalf of the members of the Salvation Army, of the silver cornet and side drum. Bandmaster Peryer received the cornet on behalf of the band. In presenting the instrument, the chairman expressed the hope that its silvery notes would be heard in all parts of the city. Drummer Vick received the drum.

After the presentation the "Peterborough March" composed by bandmaster Peryer, was rendered by the band and was loudly applauded.

Mr. Peryer's other composition, rendered by Band Sgt. Brown was certainly appreciated. Both of Bandmaster's compositions were delightful in their strength, and harmony, and certainly would justify his going farther in this line. Ensign Merrett at the close of the meeting, moved a vote of thanks to the chairman.

LOCAL GARDEN IN COVER DESIGN

Canadian Horticulturist Makes Some Pleasing Comment

As a cover design for April, the Canadian Horticulturist contains a very effective view of the garden of Mr. G. Walter Green. Regarding the picture the Horticulturist says that it depicts one of the finest properties in the city, which do much to make the "Electric City" during the summer months one of the most attractive cities in Ontario. The issue also contains an article on Canadian gardens, or "Is an Amateur Garden Worth While?" written by R. S. Rose, of Peterborough.

"WHAT KITTY DID"

The presentation of "What Kitty Did" at the Grand last night by Miss Constance Crawley and company received a splendid reception, the audience being treated to some very clever work on the part of Miss Crawley and Mr. Maude, who are always in the limelight during the progress of the comedy. Some very funny complications and situations arise as Sir Reginald Belsize (Mr Maude) seeks to qualify for a fortune by marrying, in the first place, against his own wishes and also those of Madame de Semiano. Sir Reggie, however, falls in love with his wife, and she with him, and Kitty manages the rest.

After the second act Mr. Maude, on behalf of Miss Crawley and the company, expressed their thanks for the kindness of the people of Peterborough, the Grand management, the orchestra and the stage staff.

The company leave for Owen Sound to-morrow.

A RUSH FOR 'SYLVIA'

Tickets for Monday's Operetta Selling Rapidly

The first presentation in Peterborough of "Sylvia," a pretty operetta, with a score of tuneful songs and choruses, will be given on Monday, April 15th, in the Grand Opera House. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Peter's, and the principals and chorus have faithfully prepared for its production. Under Mr. George Lynch's capable direction the stage work has been well planned and the choral and musical part of the production has been under the direction of Miss L. Hurley. The advance sale of tickets opened this morning with a big demand, and those desiring to see Sylvia should not delay their purchase. Reserved seats 50 cents and 35 cents.

Don't forget the Concert in the Labor Hall, 435 George St, on Friday evening, April 12th. A good programme will be given. Admission 25c. 3d

St. George's Choral Society

There was an excellent rehearsal of the St. George's Choral last night in Coleman's Parlors. The choruses were rendered in excellent style. In several numbers the shading was exceptionally fine. The quartette, both mixed and male are working hard and will be worth hearing. The program for Tuesday next will consist of solos, trios, quartettes and choruses by such well known composers as Pinsuti, Lohr, Parkes, Ardette, and others famous in the musical world. There will also be readings by Miss M. Moss, and violin solos by Dr. Park. There are about 25 numbers on the program and this concert should prove the local event of the season.

Roosevelt In Maine.

Bangor, Me., April 11.—At the state convention yesterday the four Roosevelt candidates for delegates at large were elected by a vote of 739 to 497 for Taft. They are Merill N. Drew, Portland; A. E. Stearns, Rumford; Charles H. Hichborn, Augusta, and H. P. Gardner of Patten.

While uninstructed by the convention, they are pledged to support Theodore Roosevelt.

The delegates from the fourth district were instructed for Roosevelt, while the others, though instructed for no one, are pledged to the colonel.

Chicago Smites Woman Suffrage.

Chicago, April 11.—With the decisive defeat of the "votes for women" proposal at the special supplementary primary, the women suffragists yesterday declared that defeat will spell ultimate victory for the agitation, for submission of the question to the voters will now be carried forward in every section of the state. Chicago gave an emphatic negative answer on the suffrage question. With two-thirds of the vote complied the vote stood: For suffrage, 54,007; against suffrage, 102,632.

Rushing G.T.P. In West.

Winnipeg, April 11.—The great "Pioneer" track-laying machines of the Grand Trunk Pacific start work to-day, one on the Regina Boundary section, and the other on the Calgary-to-Field section. Double shifts will probably be worked on the first named, a stretch of 15 miles, with four hundred men to a shift and a capacity of five miles single and eight miles double shift per day. A little grading remains to be done on the Calgary section of ninety miles, but track-laying will go on simultaneously.

"Baby Bunting" Sleeping Garment.

Now that the healthful habit of sleeping out of doors has become so general that even the tiniest babies take their daytime naps as well as all night sleeps in the open many devices for keeping their little bodies properly protected are suggested in the shops. One of the most attractive seen is a sliplike garment called a "baby bunting," fashioned of white eiderdown, with edges bound in ribbon, pink or blue. The garment is closed below the feet, and the head is covered with a red riding hood cap, snug and close. Opening the little wrapper in front, baby is slipped in and kept there with only the wee face visible. The garment is sleeveless, thus preventing the possibility of cold hands.

75 PER CENT OF AMERICAN SETTLERS HAVE ABSOLUTELY NO USE FOR RELIGION

Says R. W. Allin, Missionary Field Secretary, in Speaking of Canadian Problems at Laymens' Banquet—The Mormon Danger—Gathering in St. John's Hall Was Most Successful.

The banquet held in St. John's church last night, by the three local parishes of the Anglican church in the interest of the Laymen's Missionary movement, was a huge success. About one hundred laymen of St. John's, All Saints, and St. Luke's churches attended and all evinced, not only their entire satisfaction and appreciation of the excellent menu supplied by Messrs. Coleman Bros., but an earnest and enthusiastic determination to do their share at least in the forwarding of the mission work, both in home and foreign fields of the Anglican church.

Mr. G. C. Wainwright acted as chairman and toastmaster for the occasion, and discharged the duties, which accompany the honor of such a position, in the most acceptable manner.

Representatives from the three churches, spoke, and Mr. R. W. Allin, Field Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada gave a remarkable address on the Canadian situation and problems.

CANADA'S PROBLEM

Mr. Allin drew attention to the problem originating from an impouring of people from foreign lands into this young country such as had never been equalled in the history of the world. In the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, seventy-four per cent of the incomers were Americans and seventy-five per cent of those settlers from our sister state to the south, had absolutely no use for religion. They displayed the utmost ignorance of all church work and imagined that a minister was one whose only purpose for coming to see a fellow being, was to get money.

MORMON DANGER

He graphically portrayed the danger arising from the Mormons in this country. Their doctrine countenances the practice of polygamy (and in this they live up to their teachings and beliefs) and they are sending their missionaries all over Canada. This sect, teaching their nefarious doctrine are making progress in Canada. Here is a gigantic problem to face.

In conclusion Mr. Allin made an eloquent appeal for liberality in relation to missions, and said that we are in danger of losing our spiritual wealth for material riches, and asked "shall we not plant the religion of Jesus Christ from ocean to ocean, or shall it be the Barabus of gold and pleasure. Choose ye this day."

Mr. W. F. Johnston in a splendid speech on behalf of St. John's church expressed the hearty good will of the men of St. John's church for the members of the other two churches. Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., represented St. Luke's church, and dwelt upon the motto, "keep moving" which he thought was a fit one for the occasion. Mr. C. E. Cisson for All Saints church, expressed the hope that some day his church would return the favor so graciously and generously extended to them by St. John's church.

All the speakers were delighted with the idea of making the joint affair an annual one and anticipated great results.

Towards the close, Canon Davidson gave a most patriotic address, enlarging on the presentation in Mr. Allins' speech that "I love Canada too well to allow it to run in the natural cycle, childhood, maturity and death, as have Greece and Rome before it." and stating that by this movement, they were serving not only the church which they loved so dearly, but also the Dominion and the Empire. "Let us" said Canon Davidson, pointing to one of the several large Union Jacks, which served to decorate the Sunday school room, "let us take that blood-red cross, which is so prominent there and impress it upon our Canada."

The musical program was contributed to by Messrs. Aldred Chandler Greensdale and Roberts. Mr. R. J. Devey presided at the piano.

The room was suitably decorated for the occasion by a generous arrangements of flags. Easter lilies added to the beauty of the table.

This banquet and meeting, the first of its kind, was certainly a great success, both in increasing the already evident interest in home and foreign mission work, and in drawing together into a brotherhood for God of the English churchmen of this city.

The ladies deserve much of the credit for the results of the gathering because of the efficient manner in which they helped to prepare the tables and the attention which they showed in serving the good things.

DESTRUCTIVE BLAZE AT F. MASON'S GREENHOUSE

Thousands of Plants Destroyed Together With Large Quantity of Glass.

Shortly before five o'clock this morning a very destructive fire broke out in Mason's greenhouse at the corner of Water and Brock streets. In some manner the heat of the fire in the furnace ignited some of the lumber that was stored in the basement of the green house and a ho blaze resulted. The lumber, of which there was quite a quantity, was kept in the basement to be used in repairing and putting up new shelves. It was perfectly dry and when once started the flames spread, melting and breaking the panes of glass which made up the roof.

Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., was the first to notice the fire, as he was on the way to catch the early train, and rang in an alarm.

The brigade responded promptly, and two streams of water were turned on the flames from both sides, and for an hour the firemen fought the conflagration. The flames were hottest in the north part of the building but fortunately the firemen were able to save the store at the north of the flower house.

The loss will be considerable.

About 5,000 plants were destroyed by the heat. Two hundred panes of glass were melted or broken, and possibly 5,000 additional panes of glass are ruined by the smoke. This last item however, cannot be decided for certain until a few days have elapsed.

The loss is not yet estimated with any degree of accuracy. To-day Mr. Mason was busy with covering the holes in the roof where the glass had broken, and in protecting his stock from the cold.

It is certain, however, that the loss to stock will be considerably over $1,000 and probably reach the $2,000 mark. The damage to the building will be about $500. This loss will however, be covered by insurance. Mr. Mason most fortunately has insurance on stock and buildings to the amount of $3,000.

TWO SMALL FIRES.

The firemen were also called out to two smaller fires, one was a blaze on the roof of Peter Hamilton's moulding shop at the corner of Water and King streets. The other was a chimney fire this morning at ten o'clock at 164 Charlotte street, the house occupied by David Hooper.

The firemen as usual are experiencing the fact that it never rains but it pours, but even in the pouring their efforts and work are of the strongest and best.

The wreck of the steamer Wasaga in Copper Harbor, Lake Superior, will be dynamited.

PETERBORO FIRM BUSY IN LINDSAY

New Quarters for the Greene Music Company

Mr. R. C. Braund, president of the Greene Music Co., Peterboro, was in Lindsay on Tuesday for the purpose of selecting new quarters for their branch store in this town.

The Greene Music Co. opened their branch here less than two years ago, but the business has grown to such an extent that the present quarters on William street became too small.

The company has secured a lease of that section of the old Y. M. C. A. building, corner Kent and Lindsay sts., and adjoining W. R. Keys hardware store. This will be fitted up in modern style, with a beautiful front and the interior will be in keeping with the finest of the city stores. The apartments overhead will be fitted up as a conservatory for recitals, etc. Work will start on the structure at once and will be pushed to a speedy completion.—Lindsay Post.

The re-appearance recently of the Grand Trunk Pacific S.S. "Prince George" on the regular Pacific Coast service was greeted with pleasing festivities, and this event, together with the opening of the company's handsome new docks at Seattle was honored by civic officials and other guests, to the number of 100 from the cities of Vancouver and Victoria who made the round trip to Seattle as the guest of Captain C. H. Nicholson, general manager of the G.T.P. Steamships. At the American port, the party was met by the Mayor and other civic dignitaries, and, after a dinner on board the steamer, a jovially informal entertainment was held at the Seattle Press Club. No attempt was made to force the "Prince George" on the trip, but with her new oil burning engines, an average of 18 3-4 knots an hour was maintained, and it is conceded by engineers and oil experts that she will be good for another couple of knots, so that the innovation may be regarded as a complete success.

By a clever arrangement of telephones clubs in two New York cities held simultaneous meetings, and those attending each could hear all that was done at the other end, though 70 miles apart.

OPENING OF THE BALL SEASON

It doesn't make much difference now how fares the sparkling booze, if Whitney gets his "dutch treat" through, or Rowell works his ruse; it doesn't cut no ice with us who takes the White House key is Teddy's big stick fails to land or Taft goes up a tree. The Senate too, can smash the bills as Borden turns them out; this Home Rule talk can still keep up and Law can win the bout; the suffragettes can keep their pace and break whate'er they will, the Kaiser too can take his time to down the Churchill pill. The Turks can keep on spending coin, and fight till someone quits, Jack Johnson too can take the scalp, of Langford with the mits. Capt. Scott can bring the South Pole home, of course we know he should, and Adam Beck can keep right on, to make Big Guns be good; most everything can take a seat, and on the back shelves stay, the big noise on the map is this, "THE BALL GAMES START TO-DAY."

SPORTS AT Y. M. C. A.

To-night at 8 o'clock the annual Canadian Hexathlon contest will be contested at the Association. The Hexathlon contest is composed of 60 and 160 yard potato races, running high jump, standing broad jump, 8 lb. shot put, fence vault. Last year the local boys won 7th place in the all Canada contest, and they are out this year to land the silverware. The following men will compete: G. Reid, H. Long, B. Hamilton, O. Cavanah, A. Horsefield, K. Brown, C. Brown, C. Arnott, M. Huycke, W. Carruthers, D. Canniff, H. Hill, C. Stewart, A. Darling, M. Sucee.

Friday night the Nemos and Hustlers will meet in a city league basketball game. The Nemos spilled the beans last time out, and are out to repeat the trick on the Hustlers Friday night.

Don't forget the big Canoe Club meeting Saturday night at 8 o'clock. This club should be one of the biggest features of the outdoor work this season. So be on hand if you want to get in on a good thing.

SPORT TALK

To the Editor of the Review.
Re nick name for ball team:
Dear Sir,—One of your correspondents in advocating a few names he favors, goes out of his way to criticise a prior suggestion. There is nothing degrading about the name "Lifters," but rather elevating. To boost or lift along is not bad. We will all like to see the boys lift the ball out of the grounds. If lifting, means, as your correspondent says, pilfering and stealing; then let's lift the bases; lift and land every game in sight; lift and land the pennant for the Lift Lock City. The Lifters sounds alright and has novelty to its credit. So Lifter along and get a good name.

Yours truly,
WM. R. TETLEY,

Instinctive Mimicry.

Why if one man on the street takes out his watch do others do the same? Among the very early instincts recognized in the human mind are mimicry and curiosity. Mimicry develops into habit, as when we see many persons walking faster than we do we gradually fall into their gait and in time this faster gait becomes habitual with us. Every instinct emanates from one or the other of the fundamental instincts, self preservation and race preservation. Every action that benefits the human being can be traced back to the instinct of self preservation, and among these actions are the acquisition of knowledge, even the knowledge of the time of day.

Instinctive mimicry creates an impulse which in the case of the man looking at his watch upon seeing another do the same, is supported by another instinct, curiosity, and by the human faculty, reason. We therefore follow the impulse and look at our watch.—New York American.

Moroccan Toilet Accessories.

The native ladies of Morocco are very particular about the preservation of their complexions. They wash their faces in rosewater in which apricot kernels baked and powdered are introduced as an aid to preserve the natural tint of the complexion. Some ladies employ a wash which contains red radish scrapings powdered. They have also a peculiar method of removing superfluous hairs. A paste is made of lemon juice and sugar. This is applied and allowed to dry and then removed, taking, it is said, the hair with it. A hair preparation seems no less strange to Europeans. It is composed of aloe leaves, henna and reed grass. This is applied to the head, and when dry it is washed off with soap.

HORSE TAILS.

We Import Them From All Over the World and Also Export Them.

An item that seemed odd in the manifest of a steamer lately arrived from Japanese and Chinese ports was this in the list of her cargo from Tientsin: Fifty-five cases of horse tails.

As a matter of fact, horse tails or the hair thereof are a common article of importation into this country from China and from pretty much every other country on earth. The American market gets large quantities of them from China, but more from Russia, and horse tails are imported here from every other European country and from South America, from Australia, from all round the world. On the other hand, there are more or less American horse tails exported.

From various causes the supply of horse tails, like that of anything else, may in one country and another vary from year to year, and there may be years when the world's supply is short and years when it is plentiful, with corresponding changes in the range of prices. Horse tails have sold as low as 20 cents a pound, and they have sold for as much as $2. If stocks are scarce and high in London and ample at lower prices here New York importers ship horse tails to London. In the contrary circumstances London importers might ship horse tails here.

Horsetail hairs are sorted for length and colors, and they are used either alone or mixed with other fibers in the manufacture of various sorts of brushes and mixed with other materials in the manufacture of haircloth.—New York Sun.

A VERSE FOR THE BEGGAR.

Victor Hugo's Response to the Old Blind Soldier's Appeal.

A Frenchman, writing recently upon "The Mendicants of Paris," recalls a pretty anecdote of Victor Hugo and a blind beggar. The beggar was an old soldier, very feeble and quite sightless, who was led every day by his little granddaughter to a certain street corner, where he waited patiently for such scanty arms as the hurrying public might drop into a small box that hung from his neck.

One day a group of gentlemen halted near him, chatting, and he heard the name by which they called the one who lingered longest. Reaching forward as he, too, was about to go, he caught him by the coat.

"What do you want, my good man?" asked the gentleman. "I have already given you 2 sous."

"Yes, monsieur, and I have thanked you," replied the veteran. "It is something else that I want."

"What is it?"

"Verses."

"You shall have them," said the gentleman, and he kept his word. The next day the blind soldier bore on his breast a placard with a stanza to which was appended the name of Victor Hugo, and the alms in the box were quintupled. The lines may be thus translated:

Like Belisarius and like Homer blind,
Led by a young child on his pathway dim,
The hand that aids his need, pitying and kind,
He will not see, but God will see for him.

How One Word Was Born.

The two friends had been dining on divers and sundry strange dishes at the Cedars of Lebanon cafe, in the Syrian quarter of New York. They were drinking their coffee, thick with coal black grounds, and wondering whether they really enjoyed it, when Smithers suddenly cried out:

"Pataug! Pataug!"

The waiter hurried away and came back presently bringing an ordinary corkscrew.

"I was just testing," said Smithers to his companion, "the truth of the story that the first corkscrew seen in Beirut was brought there by a Yankee. It was a patented American contraption, and the Syrians were amazed at its convenience. They spelled out on it the mystic words, 'Pat. Aug. '76,' and took that to be the name of the implement. Now, I believe the story that pataug is its name all over the Levant."—New York Sun.

The First Quarantine.

From all accounts the custom of quarantine originated in Venice somewhere about the beginning of the twelfth century. All merchants and others coming from the eastern countries were obliged to remain in the house of St. Lazarus for a period of forty days before they were admitted into the city. Taking the idea from Venice, other European cities, especially port towns, instituted quarantine during seasons of plague, and well down into modern times most nations adopted the system, applying it when it was deemed necessary.

RECKLESS SPORT.

Rock Rolling Feats of Mark Twain In His Boyhood Days.

A BAD SCARE ENDED THE FUN

The Final Prank on Holliday's Hill Was In a Fair Way of Ending In a Tragedy When the Danger Was, by a Bit of Good Luck, Narrowly Averted.

Writing on "Mark Twain" in Harper's Magazine, Albert Bigelow Paine recounts some of the scrapes of the youthful Sam Clemens. Sam was a recognized ringleader among his playmates, and one of the pranks they played nearly had a fatal termination.

"One of their Sunday pastimes was to climb Holliday's hill and roll down big stones to frighten the people who were driving to church. Holliday's hill above the road was steep. A stone, once started, would go plunging and leaping down and bound across the road with the deadly swiftness of a twelve inch shell. The boys would get a stone poised, then wait until they saw a team approaching and, calculating the distance, would give it a start. Dropping down behind the bushes, they would watch the dramatic effect upon the churchgoers as the great missile shot across the road a few yards before them.

"This was Homeric sport, but they carried it too far. Stones that had a habit of getting loose so numerously on Sundays and so rarely on other days invited suspicion, and the 'patterollers'—river patrol, a kind of police of those days—were put on the watch. So the boys found other diversions until the patterollers did not watch any more. Then they planned a grand coup that should eclipse anything before attempted in the stone rolling line.

"A rock about the size of an omnibus was lying up there in a good position to go downhill, once started. They decided it would be a glorious thing to see that great bowlder go smashing down a hundred yards or so in front of some unsuspecting and peaceful minded churchgoer. Quarrymen were getting out rock not far away and left their picks and shovels over Sundays. The boys borrowed these and went to work to undermine the big stone. It was a heavier job than they had counted on, but they worked faithfully Sunday after Sunday. If their parents had wanted them to work like that they would have thought they were being killed.

"Finally one Sunday while they were digging it suddenly got loose and started down. They were not quite ready for it. Nobody was coming but an old colored man in a cart, so it was going to be wasted. It was not quite wasted, however. They had planned for a thrilling result, and there was thrill enough while it lasted. In the first place, the stone nearly caught Will Bowen when it started. John Briggs had just that moment quit digging and handed Will the pick. Will was about to step into the excavation when Sam Clemens, who was already there, leaped out with a yell:

"'Look out, boys; she's coming!'

"She came. The huge stone kept to the ground at first, then, gathering a wild momentum, it went bounding into the air. About halfway down the hill it struck a tree several inches thick and cut it clean off. This turned its course a little, and the negro in the cart, who heard the noise, saw it come crashing in his direction and made a wild effort to whip up his horse. It was also headed toward a cooper shop across the road.

"The boys watched it with growing interest. It made longer leaps with every bound, and whenever it struck the fragments and dust would fly. They were certain it would demolish the negro and destroy the cooper shop. The shop was empty, it being Sunday, but the rest of the catastrophe would invite close investigation and results. It was making mighty leaps now, and the negro had managed to get directly in its path. They stood holding their breath, their mouths open.

"Then suddenly—they could hardly believe their eyes—the bowlder struck a projection a distance above the road and, with a mighty bound, sailed clear over the negro and his mule and landed in the soft dirt beyond, only a fragment striking the shop, damaging but not wrecking it. Half buried in the ground, that bowlder lay there for nearly forty years. Then it was blasted for milling purposes. It was the last rock the boys ever rolled down. They began to suspect that the sport was not altogether safe.

"'Limelight' and the center of the stage was a passion of Sam Clemens' boyhood, a love of the spectacular that never wholly died. It seems almost a pity that in those old faroff, barefoot days he could not have looked down the years to a time when, with the world at his feet, venerable Oxford should clothe him in a scarlet gown."

Her Resentment.

Put Cartridges In Metal Pot.

Quebec, April 11.—H. Jobin, a stereotyper on L'Evenement, had a narrow escape while at work. Some alleged humorist placed two cartridges in the metal pot, and when the lead got heated one of the cartridges exploded, the ball passing close to Jobin's head.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. If you own a good watch, better be on the safe side — Bring it to our Repair Department where it will receive Skilled Attention.

STALLION SHOW ON MAY 4TH.

Fair Directors Decide on Date for Spring Exhibit

After performing the vanishing act to a liberal spread of good things in Hoopers' grill room last night, the Peterborough Fair directors informally discussed plans for the purchase of the fair grounds and the holding of a spring stallion show in May. Some of those present were: Messrs. J. H. Garbutt, president; Ald. Gillespie, R. M. Glover, Robt. Neill, F. J. A. Hall, James Storey, T. H. Hooper, J. Cox, Charles Moore, J. T. C. Laing, Roland Denne, Frank Wise and Mr. Cruikshanks.

Information of a more definite character relating to the plans to purchase the fair grounds will be released at a later date, at the request of the society.

Mr. Garbutt brought up the matter of whether it was the purpose of the society to hold the spring stallion show this season. Last year it was financially successful, the attendance having been most encouraging and satisfactory. The directors discussed the advisability of holding the show directly in front of the grand stand this year and charging fifteen cents admission to all. This price would allow the public the privilege of witnessing the show from seats on the grand stand.

On motion of Messrs. Glover and Storey, it was decided to undertake the holding of a spring stallion show this year as usual, the date chosen being most suitable, namely, May 4th. Lindsay is holding their stallion show on April 28th, so that the two exhibits will not conflict.

A committee composed of Messrs. Storey, Denne, Garbutt, Cruikshanks and Cox was appointed to undertake the management of all details in connection with the show. Mr. Roland Denne offered the freedom of his store as a "talking-it-over" place.

A. G. Gillespie at this juncture created some amusement by asking the members if they were aware that an official from western Ontario had paid a visit to the local exhibition grounds during the winter, and had looked them over carefully. What the visit portended was unknown, as the visitor did not make his reasons public.

In regard to the proposed stallion show, every horse enthusiast in the locality will be extended an earnest invitation to exhibit and so boom the show as much as possible.

Prizes of ribbons and money will be awarded. Special arrangements will be made to dispose of tickets at the gate as speedily and as conveniently as possible. It was also suggested that tickets be sold to street car passengers on the route down, thereby avoiding the customary rush to the gate for tickets. Mr. Denne said that Mr. J. H. Munro might possibly issue a few passes on that day to the ticket sellers, as the show would be benefitting the street car company in addition.

A large framed and beautifully inscribed resolution of sympathy to Mrs. R. H. Leary, widow of the late president of the society, was viewed by those present last night. The lettering is in almost copper-plate hand, and was the work of Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine. Messrs. Storey and Cruikshanks will convey the resolution to Mrs. Leary at an early date.

TURF CLUB WANTS LEASE.

A communication was received from Mr. Brooks, on behalf of the Turf Club, asking for a lease on the race track at the Driving Park for the summer. A committee of Mesrs. J. J. Turner, sr., Glover and Cox was appointed to interview Mr. Brooks and arrange terms and make all arrangements. To assure no misunderstanding it was suggested to have the agreement in writing.

A SUGGESTION.

In regard to the layout of the exhibition grounds and the construction thereon of new buildings, as proposed by the society, Mr. Frank Wise suggested a very commendable plan for getting drawings of the proposed work. He favored an idea to have a competition, open to all the children of the city, who would be given an opportunity of preparing and submitting drawings for the layout of the grounds and the buildings to be erected upon them. Five dollars might be offered as a prize.

No action was taken, however, on the matter.

The gathering broke up about nine o'clock.

THANK OFFERING CAME TO $120

Successful Meeting for W. M. S. of George St. Church

The annual thankoffering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the George Street Methodist Church, was held last night in the lecture room of the George Street Church. There was a large attendance. The Rev. I. Couch presided.

The only musical number was a solo by Miss E. Kemp, which was received with hearty applause.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Harold Robertson of the Methodist College, Chentu, China, who gave an address on the present condition in that land.

Mr. Robertson traced the growth of the revolution from the first seeds at the time of the trade treaty with England in 1854 and up through the chief encounters between the Chinese and foreign nations, in which the Chinese had been forced to accept unwelcome terms from the other nations. The Chinese felt that they were repeatedly humiliated and strove to learn the reason for this. The Boxer rebellion was an outcome of this feeling and the recent revolution was directed by men who had studied western civilization. The hope of China was in its educated young men and the speaker pointed out the present opportunity for Christianizing the nation by assisting the Christian churches in China.

After the address the collection was taken up and it was found that $120 was placed on the plates last night, for missions.

On motion of Messrs. D. W. Dumble and S. R. Armstrong, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Robertson.

WEDDING BELLS

WHEELER—HUBBS.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Hotel Quinte, on Tuesday, March 26, at 7.30 p.m. The contracting parties were Mr. William L. Wheeler, of Ameliasburg, formerly of Peterborough, and Miss Madge Alfreta Hubbs, of Ameliasburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chas. G. Smith of the Baptist church. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of cream lustre trimmed with silk overlace and fringe. Her traveling suit was of brown lady's cloth with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful crescent set with pearls. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Peterborough to visit the parents of the groom together with other friends in the Flower City, and on their return will take up their residence in Ameliasburg.—Belleville Ontario.

Judgment Given in Favor of Plaintiff in Libel Action

In the libel case Irvin vs. Stephens, which was heard at the Spring Sittings of the High Court yesterday, the jury allowed the plaintiff, Irwin $50 and costs. The verdict was returned at 9.45 o'clock last night.

The session yesterday was an exceptionally long one, as the judge wished to clear the slate last night. The proceedings started at 9 a.m. and lasted until 10 p.m.

The plaintiff asked for $5000 and costs

WHAT REMOVAL OF SNOW COST

Work Cost the City During the Winter $1749,79.

There are few citizens indeed who need a further evidence or another reminder that an unusually large quantity of snow has fallen this winter. The feathery flakes make alarmingly heavy shovelfuls, and and for this reason many arms and backs have experienced more persistent and acute aches than ever before. Then too the spring floods will not let us forget the fact.

But there is another view point from which to look at the question—that of dollars and cents. This winter the removal of the snow has cost the city $1,749.79. Last year it drew upon the city treasury to the amount of $1,273.39. So in this past winter the snow has cost the people of Peterborough $476.40 more than last year.

The figures show that the amount of snow removed in the past winter was an increase of one-third above the amount removed in the winter of 1910-11.

Option Three—One bush of Tree Honeysuckle, Pink; one Hydrangea Arborescens, a grand new variety; one Crimson Rambler, climbing rose.

Option Fourth—One Dorothy Perkins, pink climbing rose; one Wigelia Rosea, pink flowering shrub; one Lilium Auratum, the King Lily of Japan.

The citizens in general have responded to the call of the society in a manner that is highly gratifying to the Directors, but it is felt that there are still many people in our city who should identify themselves with the cause. By looking over the above list of premiums, we can all find some spot where we can place the plants in position to give us keen enjoyment during the coming summers. However, in addition to being entitled to one of the above options members receive a collection of bulbs in the Fall, as well as receiving a yearly subscription to the Canadian Horticulturist, the only magazine devoted to Horticultural subjects published in Canada. The membership fee is $1.00 and may be either sent to the Secretary, or left at the following up town places of business when a membership ticket will be sent you.—Messrs. Jordan Bros. SCHOOL CONCERT AT WARSAW

Pupils Gave Good Program on Closing Day

Special Correspondence.

Warsaw, April 10.—The pupils of the Warsaw public school held a concert in the school room on the afternoon of the last day of school, Thursday, April 4th, commencing at 2 p.m.

A large number of the parents and friends of the pupils were present, showing the interest taken in the school by those residing in the community.

The program was lengthy and varied, consisting of choruses, recitations, dialogues and songs by the pupils, and an address by Rev. Mr. Huffman, also a debate by four boys, resolved, "That the Indians were unjustly treated by the White Men." The decision was given in favor of the negative.

The chair was ably filled by Mr. Robbert Bullocks, the secretary-treasurer of the School Board. Just before closing all present enjoyed a treat of candies and nuts provided by the chairman. The concert closed by the singing of the National Anthem and prayer by Mr. Huffman.

Coal Results

¶ We sell the very best quality of hard coal, as good as we know how to buy.

¶ Are you getting results from the you are now using? Are you sure it is good? Are you burning it the right way?

¶ There is a deal of difference in how you handle the range or furnace. Our long experience tells us that fact, and we are ready to advise any in doubt as to the best way to make use of coal as fuel.

SCHEMER WAS SENT TO JAIL FOR TWENTY-ONE DAYS AT HARD LABOR

Port Hope Guide.

Harold Levith appeared in the Police Court this morning on a charge of vagrancy. Levith it will be remembered pleaded not guilty last Saturday and as a consequence was remanded until this morning.

He was the young man who stopped at two different local boarding houses and in each case neglected to settle his bill. He told the story that he had a car load of seed potatoes at the station which he was selling at 90c per bushel. Then he became deeply in love with the daughter of his second boarding mistress and told her that she was soon to receive a large fortune and that he had been engaged to look after her interests. He wrote a letter regarding this fortune and attached the signature of a well known firm of Toronto lawyers. Late Saturday afternoon the Chief learned of this game and that evening Levith was placed in safe keeping. When he was brought into the court room this morning he was confronted by his two boarding mistresses and the young lady whose fortune he was looking after. Levith at once asked to have his plea changed to guilty.

When asked for an explanation of his conduct Levith replied that his father intended to send him a load of potatoes from Picton but they did not arrive. Police Magistrate White thought the story altogether too thin and sent the prisoner to the Counties jail for 21 days at hard labor.

The prisoner's wife was in court during the trial and while the committment papers were being made out she remained in the cell with him.

JUNIOR Y.M.C.A. BOYS HAD GRAND CAMP RE-UNION

The Junior Camp Re-Union was held at the Y.M.C.A. last night and it certainly was a great success. Over 20 of the boys who attended camp at Sandy Point, along with several prospective campers for the 1912 camp gathered at the "Y" and jumped into their gym togs and proceeded to erect two of the large tents in the boy's game room. After the beds were carefully prepared in the tents all adjourned to the "Ball Yard" (the gymnasium) where the famous camp baseball teams had a battle royal. The camp champions, "The Millionaires" put a crimp in the "Hustlers" but it took them two extra innings to do the trick. Then the "Money Kings" took the "Dubs" to task and again "The Millionaires" won, in spite of the fact that someone was unkind enough to say that the game was bought by the "Millionaires."

After the ball game the usual rush was made for Clear Lake, (the plunge bath) and everybody enjoyed a good swim even if the bath was not as large as the lake. After the swim, the campfire was the next stunt, and the corn poppers were kept good and busy for some time. Following this the usual "Sing" around the fire was enjoyed and then the devotional exercises were conducted and everybody hunted up his little cot and turned in for the night, and the slumbers of some of the campers were disturbed by others who had the habit of walking in their sleep.

At 6.00 a.m., the call for breakfast was heard and everybody got busy and after breaking camp all adjourned to the Lake for the morning dip, after which breakfast was served. Everything passed off without a hitch, and if every day in camp is anything like last Night's affair, the camp for 1912 should be a record breaker.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Whereas a certain letter, published in the Review of Tuesday, April 9, 1912, over the signature of S. M. Duysers, is a fabrication of misleading statements, I beg leave to reply through your paper as follows:

The said S. M. Duysers has never been on probation in the Free Methodist church of Peterborough; his case did not come before the District Quarterly Conference on April 5-7 for consideration, hence no such actions as he states, were taken by that body, or any other church board in our organization.

I do not wish to begin any controversy through the press, but simply write this to clear up the matter before the public.

REICHSTAG ELECTIONS.

The Method of "Running For Congress" In Germany.

For election to the reichstag there is equal universal suffrage with secret ballot for all made citizens twenty-five years of age, there being certain excluded classes, criminals, paupers, etc., while persons in actual military service have their voting rights suspended.

Nominations are not made by regular conventions, as with us. Any man may put his name before the people, but in practice, of course, committees in each election district make the nominations for the parties, and the methods of securing the nominations, by personal solicitation, by trades among the aspirants, by the influence of dominating personalities, are much the same as with us, for the Germans, too, have their "bosses," and they are even now using the English word to express the fact.

One hears little or nothing of bribery in German elections, but the influence of the government, amounting practically to coercion of officials and the direction of their political activity by their superiors, is generally recognized as going far beyond the "pernicious political activity" that has been so emphatically condemned and so nearly suppressed in the United States.—American Review of Reviews.

INSULTED HIS COLONEL.

An Offense For Which a French Soldier Had to Die.

By deliberately insulting a superior officer at a court martial a French soldier at Lille incurred the death penalty. The incident is a deplorable one. The fact that the officers had to condemn the man is likewise painful, but the military regulations were plain and left no alternative.

A dragoon in one of the regiments at Lille was being tried before a court martial. Another dragoon of the same regiment, who was undergoing arrest for some other fault, was summoned as a witness. When this dragoon entered the room of the court martial he was asked by the presiding colonel to take off his cap. The man took this in bad part and flung his cap at the colonel, following it up with a storm of abusive language.

When he had finished, the colonel, out of sheer good nature, asked him to reflect and express regret for his action, which he was willing to look upon as a momentary outburst of temper. The dragoon merely repeated his insults. The court martial immediately deliberated and at the end of a quarter of an hour gave judgment condemning the dragoon to death.—Boston Transcript.

Book Without Errata.

A London publisher once determined to publish at least one book which should be faultless in the matter of errata. He had the proofs corrected by his own proofreaders with the greatest care until they had exhausted their skill and patience and assured him that there were no longer any errors to be eliminated. Taking duplicate proofs of the last revise, he sent them to the universities and other large publishing houses, offering large money prizes for each error discovered. A few errors only were found, and after every one had a chance to detect any additional errors the plates were made, the book printed, expensively bound and sold as an absolutely perfect book and unique in all literature. For a long time this was conceded, but six or eight months after its publication a letter called the publisher's attention to an error in a certain line and page. Later a second was announced, and before the first year had elapsed some four or five errors had been reported.—Charles Winslow Hall, in National Magazine.

Natural Turkish Baths.

Preston, Ont., about seventy miles from Toronto, enjoys natural Turkish baths. Near the town is a lake the waters of which are impregnated with sulphur and other chemical properties. The lake is government property, and the cost to those availing themselves of its virtues is merely nominal, about sixpence being sufficient to remunerate the services of the halfbreeds preparing the bath.

This is taken in what is locally called a "sweat lodge." The lodge is made by digging a hole four feet deep, lining it with small bowlders and covering it with an air proof tent. A fire is then built in the hole and kept burning until the stones are thoroughly heated. Water from the lake is sprinkled on the hot stones, and a steam arises which is laden with medicinal properties.—London Graphic.

Nature.

"We say that nature is blind," says John Burroughs in the Atlantic, "but she has no need of eyes, she tries all courses. She has infinite time, infinite power, infinite space, and so far as our feeble minds can see her delight is to play this game of blind man's buff over and over to all eternity. Her creatures get life and the joy and pain that life brings. But what is augmented or depleted or concluded or satisfied or fulfilled who knows?"

A Thorough Test.

"What makes you think so?"

"Why, my wife has been listening for three weeks and hasn't caught her yet."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TERMS OF THE HOME RULE BILL

Historic Scene Occurs In Commons When Third Attempt Is Initiated to Give Erin a Separate Government—She Will Not Have Full Control of Excise and Customs—Ulster to Have 59 Members.

London, April 12.—(Through Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The House of Commons was crowded yesterday afternoon to hear Premier Asquith introduce the Irish home rule bill, but the crowd was not nearly so great as upon the occasion of the introduction of the previous home rule bills, and no chairs were placed on the floor as in 1886 and in 1893. Mr. Asquith, upon entering the chamber, was received with a volley of cheers by the Ministerialists and Nationalists. Mr. Redmond was warmly welcomed by the Nationalists, the Unionists standing up to cheer for Sir Edward Carson, and shortly afterward Mr. Bonar Law, the Opposition leader, was similarly applauded.

Premier Asquith rose to speak amid a renewed ovation. He said, at the outset, that it was nineteen years since Gladstone introduced his last measure to provide for better government of Ireland. That speech contained a perfect exposition of the historic case as between Great Britain and Ireland. He did not pretend to cover the whole ground, but before he entered upon an explanation of the provisions of the bill, he would take up the narrative at the point at which Mr. Gladstone had left off, and would ask the House how far the case for and against home rule had been affected one way or the other by the course of events since 1893.

Every year, he continued, had emphasized the imperative need of the emancipation of the Imperial Parliament from local cares, they would never get the separate concerns of the different parts of the United Kingdom treated with adequate time, knowledge and sympathy until they had the courage and wisdom to hand them over to their special representatives. Mr. Asquith laid stress upon the congestion of business in the House of Commons under the existing system and asked how they, in the meanwhile, were discharging their duties to the Empire at large.

The premier then came to the bill itself. It was expressly stated in the first clause, he said, that the supreme authority of the Imperial Parliament remained unimpaired.

The bill provides for the establishment of an Irish Parliament, consisting of a Senate and a House of Commons with power to make laws for peace, order, and good government in Ireland.

The bill provides that the matters to be excluded from the control of the Irish Parliament are the crown, the army, and the navy, Imperial affairs, the Irish land purchase, and the old age pension and national insurance acts, the Irish constabulary, the postoffice savings banks and public loans, in addition to those excluded by the Home Rule bill of 1893, which left the customs and excise under the control of the Imperial Government.

The Irish Constabulary is to be automatically transferred to the Irish Government after six years, and power is given by the bill to the Irish Parliament to demand the transfer of the old age pensions and Insurance Act to its control on giving a year's notice to the Imperial Government.

The Irish Parliament is debarred from altering the home rule bill or the power to appeal to the Privy Council.

Provision is made for the protection of religious equality in Ireland, and stipulating that the Irish Parliament cannot make laws, directly or indirectly, to establish or to endow any religion, or to prohibit the free exercise thereof, or to give a preference or privilege to any religion or to make any religious ceremony a condition of validity of any marriage.

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is to have the power to veto or suspend any bill on the instruction of the Imperial Executive.

Any question regarding the interpretation of the home rule bill is to be settled by appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

The Irish Senate is to consist of forty members, and the House of Representatives of 164, of which Ulster is to have 59 and the Universities two.

The Senate is to be composed of nominated members. In the first instance, the Imperial Executive is to control the nominations with a view to assuring the representation of the minority. The nominations are to be for a fixed term, and as the members retire by rotation the vacancies will be filled by the Irish Executive. In case of disagreement the two Houses are to sit in joint session.

The Lord Lieutenant is to be head of the executive. There will be no religious bar, and he will hold office for a fixed term.

The authority of the executive is to be co-extensive with that of the Irish Parliament. The 164 representatives are to be elected by the existing constituencies, but no constituency is to have less than 27,000 population.

The collection of all taxes is to remain in the Imperial service, and they will be paid into the Imperial Exchequer, which is to pay over to the Irish Executive an amount equivalent to the expenditure on Irish services at the time of the passing of the act. An additional sum of $2,500,000 is to be paid to Ireland the first year, and this will diminish by $250,000 yearly until it is reduced to $1,000,000.

The postal services are to be handed over the Ireland.

The Irish Parliament is to have power to reduce or discontinue the Imperial taxes, excepting the income tax and the stamp and estate duties. It will also have power to alter the excise duties, but except in the case of beer and spirits it is debarred from adding to the customs duties anything which will give a greater increase than 1 per cent.

The Irish representation at Westminster is to be 42 members, one for every 100,000 of the population.

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionist party, and member for Dublin University, denounced the Government's proposals as ridiculous and fantastic, and declared that the safeguards in the bill were delusions.

If the Government passed the measure, Sir Edward declared, it would have no power on earth to resist the further demands of the Irish Nationalists.

Sir Edward was followed by the Nationalist leader, Redmond, who made a compromise speech, endorsing the bill.

"We Nationalists of to-day are not separatists like the followers of Parnell," he said. "We are ready and willing to accept an Irish Parliament, subordinate to the British law-making body, which may prescribe proper safeguards for Irish legislation. The bill presented to-day by Premier Asquith is excellent."

Mr. Redmond thought the bill would be adequate to carry out the objects of its promoters. He unhesitatingly advised the forthcoming Nationalist convention to accept the bill.

WILL BE NO SILVER DOLLARS

Heavyweight Not to be Included in Canadian Currency

Ottawa, April 12—The finance minister has decided not to issue silver dollars for the present. The late government passed an act authorizing their issue. After looking into the situation Hon. W. T. White has decided that the time is not opportune for the issue. Coinage of five and ten dollar pieces will be proceeded with though they are not expected to replace paper money to any extent.

BEATTIE NESBITT IN TOILS AT LAST

He Will Be Brought Home on Three Warrants In Connection With the Collapse of Financial Institution—Friends Say He Is a Broken Man and That He Now Wears Short Hair and a Flowing Beard.

Toronto, April 12.—Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, formerly one of the most familiar and jovial figures upon the streets of Toronto, was arrested last night by the American authorities at Chicago. Detective Wallace of the Toronto force is now in the Windy City to bring him back to the city. The Toronto police hold three warrants for the doctor's arrest. It is charged that he committed forgery by making and signing false documents in the shape of the padded and altered list of alleged subscribers of the Farmers' Bank, of which he was then the president, and sending these lists to the Finance Department at Ottawa. This is the only charge now laid upon which the Canadian authorities can hope to extradict the doctor. The other charges are that he conspired with Travers and George Wishart to steal $350,000 of the proceeds of the sale of the Keeley Mine, and that he made false returns to the Government of the same nature as those involved in the charges against Col. Munro, president of the bank, at the time of its collapse, and upon which charges Munro was acquitted.

It is said by those who have seen Dr. Nesbitt in Chicago, that he is a broken man. He is said to be prematurely aged, grown much thinner and to have lost all of his jovial attitude and masterful bearing. It is said that he will scarcely be recognized in Toronto, as his hair is now worn short and he has allowed a long and flowing beard to grow. This man, who has been sought the world over, and who has been reported as being seen in every quarter of it, has never in reality been off the continent.

It is said that Dr. Nesbitt will fight extradition in which event the authorities will likely take the matter up with the immigration authorities of the United States with a view to having him deported, it being grounds for deportation that there is a criminal charge against an alien in another country.

That he will object to returning of his own free will and accord is doubted, however, as it is known that he had considered coming back to face his trial for some time. To this end he had even communicated with some of his friends here recently and is even said to have sought to open up negotiations in this regard.

KNOX CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

Knox Church to-day.

Knox church people will celebrate their fifth anniversary on Sunday next and Monday evening. This congregation has shown an aggressiveness in keeping with the Historic Character after whom it is called. It is a good example of progressive Peterboro. It has taken it step out of infancy into aggressive youth. On Sunday next, the choir will render music suitable for the occasion. The Rev. Thos. Mitchell, M.A., B.D., of London, Ont., will preach at both services. Mr. Mitchell has one of the best congregations in London. His church is always filled and his work is an example to the church at large in its complete organization. He is a speaker of rare power. Knox church is fortunate in securing his presence on this occasion.

Rev. A. Logan Geggie, a typical Scot, well known and greatly appreciated by Peterboro audiences, will give an address at the Monday evening gathering. In addition to Rev. Mr. Geggie, an excellent program has been prepared on which appear the names of Dr. Park, violinist, Miss Chalmers soloist; R. F. Downey, and other well known musicians.

The congratulations of sister churches will be extended to the pastor and congregation of Knox Church in this their fifth anniversary. The progress attained in so short a time appears remarkable, and yet there is no mystery, the simple facts being that the church has a leader, who, before everything else has the interests of his people at heart and the same can be said of the congregation in their relation to the pastor, Rev. H. J. Keith. When factors such as these, are found amidst the pleasures and disappointments, in the life of any church and second only to the one supreme ambition, to accomplish the work of the Master, lesser things sink almost into insignificance and success is the result.

TEACHER GAVE POLICE TIP

Which Brought About Arrest of Beattie Nesbitt

Special to the Review.

Chicago, Ill., April 12— Proceedings for the extradition of Beattie Nesbitt, are being rushed as rapidly as possible, and in the meantime the police are concealing from the newspapers and the public, his place of imprisonment. The authorities fear his friends will attempt to block extradition by a habeas corpus writ. The local theory is that the tip which led to his arrest was given by one of the party of Toronto teachers now visiting Chicago. The police believe the former president of the Farmers' Bank to have been penniless for the past two months. He has been working in a chemical laboratory.

FOR SIR JOHN A. MacDONALD

Letter Arrives From New York at Kingston.

Special to the Review.

Kingston, Ont., April 12—A letter has just been received here addressed "Sir John A. MacDonald, care of Queen's University." It came from New York, and has been sent to the dead letter office.

Hydro For Brantford.

Brantford, April 12.—The fire and light committee has decided to recommend to the City Council the submission of a Hydro-electric bylaw here, involving an expenditure of $109,000. The conduit system in the centre of the city will be an additional charge to be provided for on the local improvement plan. Installation of 3,600 lights is proposed instead of 280, as in use at present.

CHARLES GIBSON CHARGED WITH ROSENTHAL MURDER; ANOTHER MAN ALSO HELD

Former Employe of the Hydro-Electric Department Is Found Hiding In the Lavatory of a Transformer Station Cooking His Supper—R. G. Langmaid Is Also Held on Nominal Charge of Vagrancy.

Toronto, April 12.—After evading the police since last Saturday morning and sending a letter to his stepmother saying he was on his way to Sudbury, Charles Gibson, Ontario street, a former employe of the City Hydro-Electric Department, was found in a most mysterious manner while hiding in the lavatory of the Hydro-electric sub-transformer station at the foot of West Market street shortly after six o'clock last night and taken into custody on a charge of murdering Joseph Rosenthal. Detective Cronin, who became suspicious when Reginald G. Langmaid, meter reader, exhibited great excitement when the detective ordered two loafers out of the office. The detective immediately began an inspection of the premises and on opening the lavatory door found Gibson, who had for several days been known to the police as the man who had given his name over the telephone to Harry Rosenthal at "Smith," crouching behind the door. He had a quantity of meat and other eatables and an electric stove was already hot and about two pounds of sausages were ready to be cooked.

The detective had not the least idea that Gibson was hiding in the station. He went there with the hope of learning something which would lead to the whereabouts of a man wearing a grey coat and who had been seen with Gibson the night of the murder. Finding the two men hanging about the office, he ordered them out, so that he could hold a secret conversation with Langmaid. No sooner had the door closed behind the two men than Langmaid became excited. The detective became suspicious and, without even starting the conversation, decided to search the place. He went straight for the door leading to the lavatory, and, trusting it open, stood face to face with the man in search of whom two detectives were preparing to leave for Sudbury.

That the murder was committed on Friday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock is now quite clear. Rosenthal and Dunkelman left Dunkelman's junk shop at the corner of Richmond and York streets shortly after six o'clock on Good Friday night. Before 11 o'clock Gibson returned to his rooming house in Ontario street covered with mud and in a most disreputable condition generally. No special notice was taken of him at the time, and on the Saturday morning he cleaned his clothes and left the house. Since then he has not returned. Just where he has been in the meantime is not quite clear. It is believed that he has spent two or three days in the Hydro station, and it is believed that he spent at least one night at the home of a friend. This, however, is not quite clear.

At nine o'clock on Good Friday the three men were seen on the Strachan avenue bridge. No one is known to have seen either Rosenthal or Dunkelman after this until the body of Rosenthal was found shortly after seven o'clock the following morning. Half an hour after the finding of Rosenthal, Dunkelman staggered to his home in a semi-conscious condition and since then has been in St. Michael's Hospital, in such a weak condition that he has been unable to speak.

Gibson apparently went direct to a downtown departmental store and purchased a black overcoat and a suit, and after changing destroyed the old garments. He had changed his shirt and underclothing before leaving home. His shirt, which was covered with blood, was burned by his stepmother.

The letter which he sent to his stepmother read as follows:

Dear Mother,—Leaving for Sudbury. I am sending you this by special delivery. Hope you will get it before late. I will write when I arrive. I am going to work in the mines and will send you whatever I can when I get started. Write to me to General Delivery, Sudbury, Ont. Hope you won't be mad at me for going. I got paid to-day. I never expected it. So do the best you can and let me know if you got it.

(Signed) "Charlie."

This letter was dated from the Union Station, but Gibson admitted that he wrote it while in the general post-office. When Mrs. Gibson was taken to the City Hall last evening to tell her story of the affair she had the letter in her stocking. The first definite information to be received by the police about Gibson came by way of Detective Taylor. All the force was working on the case, but Detectives Cronin and Mitchell have been working day and night on it ever since the finding of the body. They have hardly had time since to eat.

After Mrs. Gibson had been taken to the detective department, Detectives Tipton and Taylor remained in the house with the hope that Charles Gibson, sr., would return, but he did not.

Reginald George Langmaid, whose nervousness lead to the arrest of Gibson, is held on the nominal charge of vagrancy. This charge, however, may be changed to that of harboring a fugitive. Several other arrests will be made to-day, it is expected. The police have information which points to several people having assisted Gibson.

WRECK AT PORT HOPE

East Bound Double-header Freight Crashed Into a Standing Train During Fog.

Special to the Review.

Port Hope, March 12—A bad wreck occurred on the G. T. R. main line, here, this morning, about five o'clock when an eastbound double header freight from Toronto, crashed into another freight train on a siding. The wreckage was piled up as high as the telegraph wires.

Fireman Shaw, of Mimico, was instantly killed and engineer Hooper, of Toronto, fireman McNamara, of Belleville, and a man named Reed, who was not employed by the railway, were badly injured. One of these men, is reported to have since died in the hospital at Cobourg, where they were taken.

The wreck occurred just a short distance from the station and the engines of the double header were piled one on top of the other to the height of about twenty-five feet. The caboose of the standing freight was smashed into kindling wood and other cars were thrown far off the krack.

The heavy fog at the time was largely responsible for the accident.

It is understood that fireman Shaw who met his death, was on his first trip east of Toronto.

CARTWRIGHT'S RED HERRING

Sir Richard Cartwright, the "blue ruin" knight, the leader of the Laurier forces in the senate, has written a letter to the Ottawa Citizen, in which he declares that Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not instigate the killing of the three important government measures. "It was I who killed Cock robin," quoth Sir Richard.

The admission is important, for this reason, that it shows that Sir Wilfrid Laurier realises a grave mistake was committed by the killing of the Highways bill, and the T. and N.O. railway subsidy bill. The province, especially the rural part, has been antagonized by the foolish tactics. Therefore, Sir Richard undertakes to act as the lightning rod to draw off the lightning of the approaching storm. Being safely ensconced in his senatorial dignity, old Sir Richard feels that he can afford to be a target for the criticism pouring forth. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier cannot escape responsiblity in such an easy fashion. He made frequent visits to the senate. A twitch of his little finger would have altered the action of the Laurier senators. The arguments they used against these bills were precisely those of the House of Commons Liberals. The killing of the bills, which deprived Ontario of two and a half million dollars it is rightly entitled to, was instigated by a desire to prevent the Borden government gaining the credit for its good work, from carrying out its pre-election pledges.

The Liberal senators were warned at the time they were commencing their wilful obstruction of the expressed desire of the people, that they would run their heads against a stone wall. They are now beginning to see the real effect of their actions, Ontario will not stand for any such treatment from the Laurier element, no matter how deep the hate it may feel for this province The Whitney government intends to test the feeling of the legislature and the province by proposing a formal protest against the senate's action. That it will be carried almost unanimously, there can scarce be any doubt. The Rowell supporters will have to find some means of sticking to the party allegiance, and voting against the province receiving what they as Ontario men, must feel to be its due. It may be that Sir Richard's self-sacrifice is designed to forestall the Whitney resolution, but if so it has failed. The blame will be placed where it belongs, and that is on the shoulders of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Ontario wants the money for its provincial railway, as much as the big corporations want their subsidy, and it wants the money to help improve its highways.

TREATING IN THE CLUBS

The abolition of the treating system that the Whitney Government proposes to bring about will not be confined to the hotel bar. Treating in clubs must also go. This will, in effect, destroy the usefulness of the club license much more than it will the bar, if it can be enforced. The difficulty will be in the fact that most clubs are semi-private, and quite exclusive, and it will be much harder to detect violations of the law. At the same time, it is exceedingly satisfactory that the club licenses should be included in this move to stop treating.

The opinion around the province as to the merits of the Rowell proposal and the Whitney compromise seems to favor the more clear cut policy advanced by the Liberal leader. The abolition of the treating system has not lost the government its friends on the anti-local option side, and it has not lost the party the support of the temperance element that usually goes Conservative. From a party standpoint, the Whitney move may be regarded as quite proper, and quite effective. Whether the policy will work out as it is intended to work out, remains to be seen. Certainly, some surprise was felt that Sir James Whitney should announce that tthe liquor men had intimated that they would welcome the abolition of the treating system. The enforcement of Dutch treats will mean quite a loss of revenue, no matter what the hotelmen or others may claim. It will reduce bar-room patronage considerably. Unless the hotel interests had seen that they would have to put a good face on their acceptance, it would probably hae fared harder with them. The smaller municipalities of the province are going dry almost totally, for from every standpoint the evils of the liquor traffic are so manifest as to not need argument. The abolition of the treating system is a distinct step forward, in cutting down the bar-room. Death by inches may preferably be chosen, but the end seems none the less certain, in view of the present state of Ontario opinion.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 11.—New crop futures in the wheat market sold to-day at the highest level reached so far this season. Millions of bushels unloaded, however, by the chief owners of the May option nullified the advance, which was due mainly to increased excitement over reports of damage to growing crops, especially in Illinois. The market closed easy at prices varying from 1-8c to 1-4c lower to 5-8c to 3-4c up. Latest trading left corn with a net gain of 1-4c to 3-8c, oats 1-2c to 7-8c higher than last night and provisions slanting from unchanged futures to 7 1-2c to 10c decline.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat unchanged to ¼c higher than yesterday, and on corn ½c to ⅝c higher. Buda Pest wheat closed ¼c higher, Berlin ½c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 11.—The foreign demand for all grades of Manitoba spring wheat continues fairly good, and as cables were strong at another advance of 1½d to 3d per quarter some business was worked. The local trade in coarse grains was quieter, but the undertone to the market was strong. There was an increased demand for spring flour, and a few sales were made at higher prices. The tone of the local market is stronger and an advance in prices is anticipated. Rolled oats continue strong and prices have scored another advance of 20c, and cornmeal has been marked up 60c per barrel. Butter is quiet and easy, with prices tending lower. Demand for eggs is fairly good.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

If any English person should write a novel and make a farmer in it talk like Mr. Trowbridge, every one who read the book would say he was impossible. His way of speaking was a little slipshod sometimes—though not a bit more than ours when we drop our "g's" and things like that, only more guileless sounding—but without seeming a bit as if he wanted to show off what he knew, which is so boring, he quoted Shakespeare and Wordsworth and Tennyson and in mentioning his work at the hives in the morning asked if we had read Maeterlinck's "Life of the Bee." From that he fell to discussing other things of Maeterlinck's with Mr. Brett and incidentally talked of Ibsen. There wasn't the least affectation about it all.

By and by he left us alone for a few minutes while he went to speak to a man who works on the farm. He was going to show us the maple sugar camp when he came back, and we sat on a felled oak and waited, with a smell of clover coming to us on the warm breeze and the "tinkle-tankle" of cowbells in the distance.

"What an extraordinary man!" I said to Mr. Brett.

"You mean because he's a farmer," said he, his eyes laughing.

"Well, I suppose I do. But, then, of course he's a gentleman farmer, not an ordinary one at all."

"He's a gentleman in the way that all the good people in the country round are gentlefolk—because they're self respecting and kind hearted and intelligent. But he comes of generations of workers. They make no pretensions to blue blood, though perhaps they may have some in their veins, and don't think themselves superior socially to their own farm hands, like that one over there. Nor do they consider themselves inferior to anybody. Not that they would think of asserting their claims to equality with your friend Mrs. Stuyvesant-Knox, for instance. They simply take it for granted that they are the equals of any other American or, for the matter of that, persons of any foreign nations. What would your mother the duchess think of them—now, honor bright? Don't dream you'll hurt my feelings because they're my cousins and we may come of the same stock."

I thought for a minute, and then I said:

"Mother would begin to patronize them graciously at first, as if they could be classified with our farmers—I mean, the peasant ones, not the younger son or poor gentleman kind. When she found she couldn't, she would be inclined to resent it. Then at last, when a dim, puzzled inkling of the truth came into her head, and she found out that they knew as much as she about books and politics and all sorts of things—oh, I can hardly fancy exactly what she would feel, but I'd trust Mr. and Mrs. Trowbridge or any one like them not to appear at a disadvantage with her, whatever she did with them. They wouldn't have self consciousness enough to be overawed by her, though she can be so dreadfully alarming. Why, Mr. Brett, in a way I believe they're like us—more like us, really, deep down and far back, than a good many enormously rich people I met at Newport, who think no end of themselves and live in palaces and know royalties abroad. Just as I said once to Sally—Miss Woodburn—we take ourselves for granted, and then don't make any more fuss or bother about our manners or whether we're going to do the right thing or not. But a few of the people even in your Four Hundred don't seem quite easy in their minds about themselves. I've never seen anything in big houses at home where I've been with mother of Vic to come near the luxury of theirs, yet several I've met can't seem to relax and look thoroughly comfortable, as if they really liked it. They don't loll about as we do; they only pretend to loll, because it's in their part in the play they're acting—oh, such a smart, society kind of play, with lots of changes of dress and scene in every act.

"They build castles because it's the smartest thing they can do and because grand people always did it a long time ago. Of course in old times you had to live in them and couldn't have nice seaside cottages with balconies, because if you did your enemies shot off your head or poured boiling oil on you, but nowadays they merely say horrid things behind your back, and it's just play acting to build new ones. People talk about a man being 'worth' so many millions, as if it didn't matter what else he's worth, and they seem to be worrying a lot about themselves. Now, I can't imagine your cousins doing that. They just take themselves for granted, as we do in England. Their behavior is like the air they breathe and as much a part of themselves as that air is when it's in their lungs. There's a kind of invisible bond between our kind of people at home and people like this, I think, if you come to study it. Partly it's from having all one's natural interests in the country, maybe, and not just going into the country from a town to play. They are real. There's nothing artificial about them."

"You've got hold of things even sooner than I thought you would, Lady Betty," said Mr. Brett when I stopped, horrified at myself for my long harangue, in which I'd been thinking out things as I went on. "But all the same, though these new types and this pleasant Ohio farm interest you now, you know you'd rather die than be doomed to live among such people and in such a place."

"Perhaps I should be bored after awhile, but I don't feel now as if I should. I know I could be happy if I had people with me whom I loved."

"But could you love anyone who"—

"Well, I've got rid of that fellow," said Mr. Trowbridge cheerfully. "Now we'll have a look around the camp, and I'll show you how we tap the maple trees for the sap, then afterward we'll go into the sugar house where we boil it down and make the maple sirup."

We'd been talking so earnestly that we hadn't heard him come up, and I felt quite dazed for a minute.

He explained everything to us, or rather to me, for Mr. Brett knew all about it beforehand. Then we had a long walk over the hills, which are billowy and wooded like Surrey, and when we came back Mr. Trowbridge took me to the beehives to get some honey and show me what a queen bee is like. He gave me a hat with a mosquito net veil and put on one himself. Then he opened a hive, and when I wasn't a bit nervous, because I trusted him, he said, "I tell you what it is, Lady Betty, you're a trump. I shouldn't be surprised if there isn't something in blood after all."

I was pleased, for I don't think that he or any of the others at the Valley farm are the kind to say nice things to you unless they really mean them.

After we had done all this sightseeing, it was past 5 o'clock, and I was longing for tea. "We shall have it soon now," I said to myself, as we sat on the side veranda on benches and rocking chairs, fanning ourselves with palm leaf fans.

"Tea's ready, good people, if you're ready for it," announced Mrs. Trowbridge's gentle voice at the door.

ZAM-BUK IN THE HOME

Read How Useful it Proved in These Widely Different Cases

Zam-Buk's strongest point is its effectiveness in all kinds of skin diseases and injuries. Just note how excellent these persons prove it in widely different directions.

Sore Heel—Mrs. C. A. Campbell, of Powassan, Ont., writes—"One of my heels was very badly blistered by a pair of new shoes, and the poisonous dye from my stocking got into it, and made a bad sore. For a week I could not put on a shoe, and suffered great pain. I applied Zam-Buk and in a few days it drew the poison out and healed the wound."

Bad Cut—Mrs. J. Virgint, of Onondaga, Ont., writes— "Zam-Buk healed a bad cut which I sustained. I was hurrying across my yard one day when I slipped and fell heavily, my knee striking a sharp stone. At the moment I did not realize how badly I was hurt, but I found I had a bad cut about two inches long, very jagged and very deep. We bathed the cut and applied Zam-Buk, and in a few days it had healed the wound completely. For cuts and bruises, Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy."

Eczema Cured—Mrs Antoine Arsenault of Maxiamville, P.E.I. writes—"I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to any person suffering from Eczema. I had this disease and was under doctors' treatment for two years, without any good result. I then tried Zam-Buk, and in the end it cured me."

Zam-Buk is just as good for piles blood-poison, festering sores, pimples, eruptions, cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c box all druggists and stores, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk soap, 25c. tablet

LEAVES THE STAGE FOR RELIGIOUS WORK

Leading Lady of Beverly Company Makes a Change.

London, April 11—Miss Evangeline Plasdale, leading lady in the theatrical company which played "Beverley" in the local theatre a week ago Saturday, attended the Sunday evening service in the Salvation Army citadel on Clarence st. the next day During the meeting, she became converted, and next morning told the manager of her company that she would leave the stage. She was first attracted to the Army while playing in a Quebec town, and on Sunday evening was dining in a local hotel when she heard the London citadel band playing in the street. She immediately left the table and followed the band to the citadel. Major and Mrs. McGillivray spoke to her during the meeting and she expressed a desire to be prayed for. On leaving London the next morning, Major McGillivray gave her a letter of introduction to Miss Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in New York. Miss Plasdale has cancelled all her future engagements, and will leave the stage when she arrives in New York. She purposes engaging in some line of religious work.

Hard Coal Conference.

Philadelphia, April 12.—The subcommittee of miners and operators appointed at the conference Wednesday to take up the work of trying to reach an agreement on a new working arrangement of the anthracite miners held a three hours' session here yesterday, and at its conclusion gave out a brief statement that progress had been made. The committee will go into session again this morning, and will probably hold an all-day meeting.

The situation in the coal fields remains unchanged. The miners are patiently waiting for news from this city. They fully expect an early resumption, and the same expectation obtains among the members of the Miners' Union now in this city.

A False Report.

Rome April 12.—There is no truth in the report circulating throughout the world, based on a telegram from Madrid, that the Pope is dead.

The Pope continues his daily audiences. He received yesterday Cardinal Della Volpe, Prince Borghese, Senor De Estrada, the Argentina Minister at the Vatican, and his family and Count and Countess Jonghe.

Madrid, April 12.—The official Spanish news agency explains that its statement that the Pope was dead was due to an error in a message received from Rome at the Papal Nunciature here.

It is believed that the error occurred in the deciphering of a code message.

To Amend Opium Regulations.

Ottawa, April 12.—The Government has received a request from the International opium conference, asking that Canada enact stringent laws to prevent the manufacture, preparation and importation of opium, morphine and other drugs. It is likely that Canada will amend their present rigid laws so as to make them uniform with those of other countries, which are agreeing to accept the proposals of the conference.

WHERE GAS IS USED ON AN EXTENSIVE SCALE

Messrs. Beale and Henderson Return From Trip to Eastern States

Messrs. H. L. Beal and W. G. Henderson have returned from a trip to the Eastern States, where they spent two weeks in the interest of the gas department of the Peterborough Light and Power Company. They visited most of the gas stove and commercial gas appliance manufacturers in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, where they obtained a great deal of valuable information about the various appliances manufactured and the multitude of uses to which gas can be applied. While in conversation with them this morning a Review reporter was shown a number of photographs showing the extensive use to which they employ gas in these cities. It was found that in Baltimore with gas at $1.00 per 1,000 cu. ft., practically all the hotels, cafes, hospitals and public institutions are using gas exclusively in their kitchens, having found it much cleaner and more economical than coal. In the commercial gas line the iron and steel manufacturers are using it very extensively for hardening and tempering, annealing, brazing, jappaning and in every way where a steady and intense heat is required, and also in the core rooms of foundries, where they are discarding the coke ovens and installing gas, having found that they can get much quicker and more perfect results with the latter.

The butcher shops are using gas very extensively for cooking large quantities of meats, lard rendering and in smoking hams, bacon, sausages and fish.

In the private homes and dwellings the All Gas Kitchen is much in evidence, it having been found cheaper to heat the entire house from the furnace and use gas exclusively for cooking. Where there is no furnace register in the kitchen, a hot water system for heating the kitchen by piping from the hot water tank to the furnace and placing a radiator on this circuit is adopted. This system answers a two fold purpose as it gives an unlimited supply of hot water for the kitchen and bath and at the same time heats the kitchen. This has been found to be very satisfactory and does not use any more coal in the furnace.

The cabinet gas range is the favorite this year as is also the double copper coil water heaters.

Messrs. Beale and Henderson are highly delighted with the hospitable reception and courtesy extended them at every place visited, and derived from the trip pleasure combined with business to a large degree.

JAMES BANCROFT IN THE NEW BOY

When Mr. C. James Bancroft comes to the "Grand" next Wednesday, April 17, the theatre goers will have the pleasure of seeing Mr. Bancroft in an entirely different role. His "do you know" in "The Private Secretary" will live as long as the English and American stage, and in Arthur Law's famous farce "The New Boy" Mr. Bancroft has chosen a part that suits him down to the ground. It takes him from the cynical curate of "The Private Secretary" to the rediculously funny character of Archibald Rennick in "The New Boy." Mr. Bancroft has the happy faculty of knowing just what his audience wants and he never overdoes it; his facial expressions are wonderful and upon these Mr. Bancroft depends for the larger part of his comedy. Mr. Bancroft has been surrounded with a first class production and an excellent cast.

FAREWELL FOR MISS FLETCHER

Twenty-five of the Y.W.C.A. girls and Miss McCalla gave a farewell supper to Miss Fletcher, of the Y.W.C.A., who will leave town in a couple of weeks.

As this was the last night that it was certain Miss Fletcher could be with the other girls, last evening was given in her honor, to express their regret at her departure, their appreciation of her while amongst them and their wishes for her success after she leaves the city. The young ladies had a very pleasant evening, spent in games, and refreshments were served.

Railway Men Make Protest.

Ottawa, April 12.—The Department of Labor has been receiving many complaints, particularly from the west that Canadian railway crews are not allowed to run across the boundary line, while American crews are permitted to carry their trains through to their destination in Canada.

Yesterday a strong protest was received from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen at Brandon.

Hon. T. W. Crothers has ordered a thorough investigation.

Boston Supper Given by George St. Sewing Circle

The Boston Supper held last night in the Sunday school room of the George street Methodist Church was largely attended. The array of good things which had been promised, and which were provided lured many a hungry person from their usual place at the family supper table, or in one of the local cafes. It is certain too that all who went there with the intention of gratifying their appetite with a very wholesome and tasty meal were not dissappointed.

The supper was held under the auspices of the Sewing Circle of the George street church and the proceeds, which will likely be large, will be used for charitable purposes.

The following report was read by the secretary, Mrs. W. H. Cunningham:

The Sewing Class of George street Church held their first meeting for this year's work on Oct. 19th, 1911, in the church parlor and elected the following officers:

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. James Kendry.
Pres.—Mrs. George Curtis.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Andy Allison.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Thos. Rutherford.
Sec.—Mrs. W. H. Cunningham.
Treas.—Mrs. W. J. Devins.

The class has met continuously all winter, which means 24 Thursday afternoons. We have 19 members who pay an annual membership fee of 25 cents.

Our aim and object is to make and distribute clothing, to the poor and needy who are brought to our notice through the winter months. The Sewing Class has been instrumental in keeping 14 families (which average 5 or 6 children in each family) this winter with good warm clothing and bedding. Altogether we have distributed 132 garments and 8 quilts.

We have also been supplying a sick man with milk every day for the last couple of months.

Received in donations, $7.30; fees, $4.75.

NORTHERN ONTARIO'S NEEDS.

Mr. Rowell Tries In Vain to Have Them Specified Item by Item.

Toronto, April 12.—The question as to whether the $5,000,000 for the development and colonization of New Ontario should be voted in lump sum or a portion appropriated year by year as the progress of the work demanded it caused a lively debate in the Legislature yesterday afternoon. Another contentious point was whether the authority to spend the money should be entrusted to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council rather than to the Legislative Assembly.

When the bill to raise this $5,000,000 on the credit of the consolidated revenue fund of the province came up for its second reading, N. W. Rowell had some criticism of it to offer.

"No more vicious bill," said he, "has ever been submitted to a Legislative Assembly where British institutions are enforced."

The Opposition leader contended that the necessary amount of money required each year should be voted by the Legislature, otherwise its right to control the finances of the province would be taken away. He instanced the procedure of the Federal Government in voting annual amounts for the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway.

Mr. Rowell introduced amendments to have a portion of the $5,000,000 voted each year, and also to give the Legislature the power to vote the money instead of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. He also introduced an amendment to strike out the words "such other public purposes of a like character as the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may deem expedient." This was in one of the clauses specifying for what purposes the money should be spent.

All of Mr. Rowell's amendments were defeated, and the bill was carried.

The purposes for which the $5,000,000 is to be devoted, according to the wording of the bill, will be: (1) The construction of works and improvements; (2) the making of roads; (3) the improvement and development of waterpowers; (4) the advancement of settlement and colonization and the assistance of settlers; (5) the improvement of means of transportation and of communication and the encouragement and assistance of agriculture and reforestration in the north and northwestern districts of the province, and for such other public purposes of a like character as the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may deem expedient. The money is to be raised upon the credit of the consolidated revenue fund of the province.

DIAMOND DUST FROM THE CIRCUIT

Ottawa, April 12.—"Draper will not be sold or traded before the close of the Canadian League season," said an officer of the Ottawa Baseball Club last night, when approached with regard to the handsome offer which the locals received from the Richmond club for the services of their big portside pitcher. "We are out to place a winning team on the field and have been forced to pay big money for those whom we have already landed. What we have we'll hold until the drafts are put through at any rate."

The Ottawas have wired Pitcher Draper and the Richmond club, requesting the latter to report at Chatham about the first of the month and informing the Richmond club that they do not desire to dispose of Draper. It appears that the Richmond club has had its eye on Draper for some months, but that they had offered him several hundred less than the Ottawas. Hence his decision to come here. Ball players prefer the North anyway, not only because the climate is healthier, but because of the fact that they find it easier to bat in the northern altitude. That is one of the reasons, in fact, advanced for the failure of the St. Louis clubs to win the big league pennant.

Many of the Class "A" teams are seeking to use the Canadian Association for "farming purposes" and the circuit, in which Ottawa will play, will be crowded, in fact, with major league recruits. One Southern club wired the Ottawas yesterday, offering them two pitchers, an infielder and an outfielder. The Ottawas will act upon the offer to-day, but are skeptical about the wisdom of accepting it, as the Southern club would probably like to recall the men before the end of the Canadian season.

The Ottawas are out for the fastest that money can buy and the pruning knife will be used freely during the spring training trip at Chatham. Manager Louie Cook has not been heard from since Saturday, but is probably off on another scouting jaunt. Cook intends to remain down South until the Central and Virginia leagues open, when scores of youthful constellations will be turned loose. That will be the time to grab up the likely looking youngsters. Cook has probably secured the contract of the Chicago centerfielder by this time. That, at least, is what the Ottawas are hoping.

Manager Lichtenhein, of the Montreal Royals, was here yesterday and was talking to officers of the Ottawa club. Sammy will probably turn two or three good men in the way of the local club, as his string of Royals is already very large and he will not be able to carry all of the present staff. What the Ottawas need just now, however, is a first baseman, a third baseman and a utility infielder. One more pitcher can also find a berth, as Munsen has not yet returned his contract.

Mr. L. O. O'Connor is getting out the program and score card for the Ottawa club and season tickets will be placed on sale in a few days. Bright reports continue to pour in from all parts of the league.

News from the circuit continues very encouraging. The Hamilton Guelph, Berlin, and Brantford clubs are strengthening daily, and will be right up in the championship race. Peterboro has gone wild over baseball and the fans near the lift lock can scarcely wait for the opening game in the Canadian series. There was a slight hitch at St. Thomas' club over the managerial job, but everything is understood to have been smoothed over. The St. Thomas followers look for a rupture of all records when the Ottawas start the fireworks there on May 14.—Ottawa Citizen.

SPORTS AT Y. M. C. A.

The Junior Canadian Hexathlon Contest was run off at the local "Y" last night when the following men won places on the team for 1912: Below will be found the three best men in each event:

60 yard potato race—H Hill 14 4-5, Cavanah 15 4-5, Huycke 15 4-5.

160 yard potato race—H Hill 44 1-5, K Routley 47, H Smith 47 1-5.

Running high jump—H Hill and K Routley tied 4 ft. 9 in., Cavanah 4 ft. 8 in.

Standing broad jump—Hill 8 ft. 6 in., Cavanah 8 ft. 5 in., Huycke 8 ft. 4 in.

Putting the 8 lb. shot—Hill 39 ft. 7 in., Huycke 37 ft., Cavanah 34 ft. 8 in.

Fence Vault—Hill and Huycke tied with 5 ft. 6 in., C. Brown 5 ft. 4 in.

The total team score was quite an improvement on last year's score, which was 1445, this year's score being 1518. It will not be known who the winner is until about the end of the month.

Harold Hill should stand a good chance for the all round Canadian Y.M.C.A. indoor Hexathlon championship, as his average was over 90 in every event.

The Nemos and Hustlers meet tonight in a City League Basketball game. J. Laing will handle the whistle.

A shoe factory is to be added to Stratford's new industries.

WHAT A BLIZZARD COSTS A RAILWAY

An official of the Grand Trunk reports that the recent blizzard cost the management of that company $30,000 for cleaning the snow from around the tracks, and that, in bad weather, each shunting engine costs $3 an hour extra because of the difficulty of moving around when the yards are filled with snow. In this connection an interesting interview recently given out by a prominent railway man further illustrates the difficulties against which the companies have to contend during the rigorous winter months.

"There are instances," he says, "where one night's fall of snow will represent $100,000 of expense to the railroad the next day, and it is not at all uncommon that the item of clearing a railroad system of snow will represent from $500,000 to $1,500,000 in a single winter. Many have never heard of a train freezing to the tricks while standing at the station, yet that has happened several times during the reign of the recent cold weather. At all intermediate division points it is necessary to remove the ice from the couplings, safety appliances, pipe joints, and other under portions of the car to inspect and test and see that everything is in its proper place and in working order before starting out.

"It is also necessary to generate 120 pounds of steam to keep the equipment warm; and steam escaping from joints and then condensing forms an icy coating which sometimes takes as much as five hours to remove. There is a popular impression that hot boxes are much more of a summer complaint than a winter one, but this is not the case. During extreme cold weather the grease and oils in the boxes about the journals are stiffened and recede and thus an axle is doubly exposed to trouble. When it is necessary to uncouple the engine the pipes immediately begin freezing. There is no way to prevent it until the engine is again attached and all the working pipes are again warmed up. Frogs become frozen solid and must be picked out if the switches and signals are to be kept in smooth working order. It requires 1,000 per cent more effort to get an engine to steam in winter than it requires in summer, and there is always the risk of air-brakes sticking, with the consequence that the air-pipes become clogged. Much trouble is also caused by water tanks freezing solid, so that the engine is not able to receive water when the supply runs low. Track engines must be kept free from ice by means of hot water so that the engines may scoop up its supply and keep moving."

To Mint Gold Coinage.

Ottawa, April 12.—The minting of Canadian five and ten dollar gold pieces will begin next month at the mint. The new coins will meet a long-felt want in Canada, practically the only gold coinage used here being American. There are several millions worth of the latter here in circulation. The new coins will be exactly of the same intrinsic value as the American gold pieces, and will be exchangeable at par in the United States, thus obviating present difficulties of Canadian travelers visiting the United States in regard to being obliged to discount Canadian bills.

There will be about eight million dollars' worth of the new gold pieces coined this year.

Calls Taft Gross Deceiver.

New York, April 12.—A delegation of ninety members, uninstructed for any candidate, but all bound by the unit rule, were yesterday chosen to represent New York's democracy at the national convention at Baltimore in June.

The principal plank in the platform and the leading theme of the speech of Congressman John J. Fitzgerald of King's County, the permanent chairman, was the revision of the tariff. The platform denounced the action of President Taft in vetoing the tariff bills last August, and charged the President, and the Republican party with gross deceit of the people in promising a downward revision of the tariff.

Arrested Brother.

Chatham, April 12.—The man Burley, arrested in Sarnia and brought back to this city to answer to a charge of jail-breaking, was found to be a brother of the Ernest Burley wanted on the charge. Constable Peters brought the man all the way to Chatham, and finding his mistake, let him go.

It is now learned that the Chatham police want the brother worse than they do Ernest. He is wanted here on several charges, including robbery. When Peters let him go, Burley was out of town inside half an hour.

GOOD PROGRAM AT THE GRAND

Mildred and Rouclere Perform Many Bewildering Feats

Mildred and Rouclere" at the Grand last night certainly surprised the audience in their many wonderful feats of magic. Rouclere as a magician accomplished with apparent ease the most difficult and seemingly impossible feats imaginable. As an illustration of one of his acts, it might be told how he borrowed a glove from a lady in the audience, compressed it into a miniature of the original and then enlarged it till it was many times as large as the borrowed article. Then making the glove disappear the identical one which he had received from one of the audience was found in the very centre of a large orange. This is only one of the many entertaining tricks he performed, and while very interesting to watch it, was eclipsed by others.

The singing and playing act by Miss "Billie" Rouclere and Douglas Raymond was a good one. Raymond is a wonder at the piano, and he received a hearty hand.

Richard Leggett in "The Rising Generation" was very amusing, and after growing six or seven feet, while he was singing his humorous sketch, he walked off the stage with the statue of a giant.

Mildred and Rouclere in their mind reading act in which neither of them spoke were very mysterious, and the readiness with which Mildred described different articles in the possession of persons in the audience was more than interesting.

"The Flight of Princess Iris" brought to a close a very interesting program.

PAID AMOUNT OF SHORTAGE INTO COURT

The trial of ex-Constable Fred Bennett, of Havelock, charged with misappropriating $182.94, collected by him in taxes, terminated in a rather unexpected manner yesterday. No evidence of any character was required, the ex-constable maintaining that if there was a deficiency he was unaware of it, and to prove it he handed over the amount in court, which the auditors had found lacking.

"I do not know whether I was short or not," was his surprising statement to Magistrate Edmison, "but if I was, I am willing right here to make it good."

The collections which the auditors found short were in the tax receipts of Havelock for 1910.

It was apparent from the statements of Bennett, that while his intentions were good his education was insufficient to make him a proper party for the position of collector.

Magistrate Edmison was present to hear the case, and Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, for the prosecution.

LECTURE ON THE UNION JACK OVER NATIONAL FLAG

At the conclusion of the general business of the 57th Chapter, Daughters of Empire, of the meeting held in the recreation rooms of the armories yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Clegg, regent, presiding, an informal lecture was given by Rev. Canon Davidson on the subject of the Union Jack, our national flag. Canon Davidson explained in brief, the history of the flag, tracing its connection with the three countries, England, Ireland and Scotland, and showing its religious significance, religion being clearly interwoven with it. The lecturer also referred to some lessons suggested by the colors of the flag, and the significance of the different ensigns and the general national character and ideals for which the flag stood.

Canon Davidson urged that the Daughters of the Empire endeavor to inculcate a greater respect for the flag, in its ordinary treatment. It should be more widely displayed on public occasions and holidays than was at present the case.

A vocal selection by Miss Chalmers was much enjoyed.

INDUCTON OF PORT HOPE PASTOR

Following an afternoon meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery at Port Hope yesterday, Rev. Mr. McCullough was inducted as pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church by Rev. H. J. Keith, moderator of the Presbytery.

Rev. Mr. McCorkindale, of Lakefield, preached a strong sermon. Rev. R. Pogue and Rev. Mr. Beattie, of Cobourg, also took part in the service which was one of great interest to the congregation.

CONTATA AT KNOX CHURCH

The concert given in the Lecture Hall of Knox church, last evening, by the Mission Band, consisted of musical numbers by Misses Chiles, Allin, Penrose, Montgomery, Carr and Scott; lantern slides, by Mr. A. McKenzie, and a Cantata.

The lantern slide scenes by Mr. McKenzie and the chief item on the program, the cantata, by about twenty-five children, entitled "The Cross Moves Westward," in eight scenes, represented the spreading of the gospel from Jerusalem westward to Rome, Britain, eastern America, and the various stages up to the extreme west and north.

The children, under the able instruction of Miss L. Chiles, acquitted themselves creditably.

At the close of the program they presented Miss Chiles with a beautiful bouquet.

WHY A WATCH WEARS OUT

Neglect is responsible for most Watches going wrong. A Watch should be thoroughly overhauled, at least once a year. Dust collecting in a Watch causes it to run dry, the grit will then wear away the delicate bearings. ROBT. FAIR & Co., Limited

Company met all the requirements of the Dominion laws in that it had on deposit with the government ample and sufficient security to protect its policy holders. The Company had written over $30,000,000 of insurance last year, in Canada, the largest amount of any foreign company operating in the Dominion. They were proud of the record made in the Dominion and proud of their Peterborough force and its most excellent work.

Mr. Rothwell was cheered when he stood up to reply to the compliments handed to him by the Fourth Vice-President. Mr. Rothwell said that he and his men were amply repaid for their efforts. They had won out on the average per man and also on the average increase per man, higher than any other district in the States or in Canada. He spoke of the value of insurance, and particularly of such as provides for the family. He said he felt that in industrial insurance was the real field for extension and expansion, and one that came closer to the people who really needed to make such provision as they could afford to do at a moderate cost.

Mr. Burnham said he was pleased to approve most heartily of Mr. Ayers' address and its relation of the operation of and benefits from life insurance, and particularly that part which applied to industrial insurance. It was not only a great business work but a phlanthropic one as well. Side by side with this was the matter of old age pensions, for the greatest blight that could fall on poor people was that in place of an honorable old age they were reduced—many of them—to a state of servitude in some public institution. We should provide for these in Canada, and we will do so. We should lift up our deserving poor and help them in old age.

Rev. Mr. Webb Rev. Mr. Couch, Mr. F. H. Dobbin, Mr. E .L. Goodwill made brief remarks, complimentary to the local staff and to the Company and its American representatives.

Mr. H H. Gray, of Berlin, spoke for a few minutes. He had been sent from Peterborough to work up the district in which he was stationed, and told of his experience and how the interests of the Company were being broadened by the work of the men who were loyal and energetic.

Mr. J. E. Cavanagh, Superintendent of agencies for the Company, closed the evening with a strong and well delivered address, directed to the members of the field staff, with the object of inspiring all to renewed efforts for the present year. He outlined the methods they might adopt, the essentials of a good representative. Going about the continent he had ample opportunity to see and look into the work of all and he was sure that the pace has nowhere set faster than it had been in Peterborough during the past year. The workers should remember this inspiring fact that the aims and purposes of the Company were the equal of the best in the world, and better than many, and he urged the district to win out again, a thing never yet achieved within the annals of the competition.

With cheers for Mr. Rothwell and the American visitors, the gathering broke up.

VESTRY MEETING REPORT ON DR. LANGFELDTS PARISH

The report of the vestry meeting for St. John's Church, at Innisfil, and of which Rev. Dr. Langfeldt is rector, shows the church to be in a very prosperous condition. The total amount of money raised in the parish from all sources, came to the sum of $5,100.88. The report says: —Flattering remarks were made regarding the splendid work of the rector and the people's thankfulness of having him in charge of the church.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt was due to leave St. John, N.B., to-day on the Virginian for his trip to England, Germany and Switzerland.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE CO. BANQUET

Given by the Company to the Peterborough, Canada Staff, and Superintendent John Rothwell.

Last night at the Oriental Hotel, where the house put on a spread that was a model in cusine service and appointments, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. held a banquet, the only one of its kind on the continent. It was a professional testimonial to the ability of the District Superintendent, Mr. Rothwell, and his staff, and to the excellent work they have done during the year past, in gaining the highest honors accorded by the company in leading all other districts on the continent in individual work and in the aggregate of business written per district and per man.

The tables were laid out in a square, beautifully decorated, and set, and graced with a charming menu card, bearing the flag of the company, and an illustration of its famous building. The names of the officers present of the district staff and guests were included in the particulars set forth.

The gathering was given added interest from the presence of the 4th vice-president, Mr. P. O. Ayres, and Mr. J. E. Cavanagh, Superintendent of Agencies, who came on from New York to attend. Mr. Ayres filled the position of chairman most ably and successfully. Following is a list of the staff and guests, the district covering territory from Toronto to Kingston:

Staff—Messrs. John Rothwell, Superintendent; E. Moyns, W. M. Roebuck, J. Rogers, F. A. Simpson, A. C. Gray, N. Tobin, F. Whatley, of Peterborough; W. F. Dixon, J. F. Coyne, Oshawa; F. G. Barber, S. B. Lamb, Lindsay; W. Patterson, Havelock; S. F. McDonald, Gananoque; F. M. Bird, A. Kennedy, A. Hinds, W. G. Ferguson, Kingston; A. J. Wagar, Napanee; J. Coutts, Belleville; S. A. Oke, Port Hope; T. McIntosh, Cobourg, H. Tobin, Campbellford; J. W. Holmes, Belleville; Mr. Gray, Superintendent, Berlin. The lady clerks, Miss A. E. Graham, Miss B. L. Wilder and Miss F. Mulholland, were with the staff and enjoyed the banquet.

Of the invited guests present were Dr. W. D. Scott, medical examiner for the company; Canon J. C. Davidson, Rev. I. Couch, Rev. S. R. Webb, J. H. Burnham, M.P.; Messrs. John Crane E. L. Goodwill, F. H. Dobbin, Benj. Shortly, and Mr. H. H. Gray, Superintendent for the Company at Berlin. Mrs. Rothwell and Mrs. B. Shortly were also of those favored with invitations.

The Opera House orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Howarth, played a number of selections during the serving of the banquet. and Mr. Donaldson, from the Red Mill, sang several topical songs, written for the occasion and descriptive of the good work and achievements of the Metropolitan staff and the company they represented. The large dining room was handsomely decorated, the color scheme being in blue, buff and white. The banner of the Company, supported by the British and American flags filled the end wall of the dining room.

The chairman, Mr. Ayres, said that the banquet was a recognition of the effort put forth by the men of this district, who had written more ordinary insurance, man for man, than any others in the service of the Company. There was over 300 districts, all over the continent, districts of from 12 to 75 men working in each. In all there was over 11,000 men in the service of the Metropolitan. All were inspired with a personal pride to hold up their end, and the record for 1911 came most worthily to Peterborough. Boston led in 1910; this year the banner floated in Canada, for there was no international line in life insurance. The honor was well due the District Superintendent and staff, who so well pulled together. Not only did the result show splendid work, but it showed that it was done in a splendid community, an up-to-date people. Canada as an insurance field was striding to the front, because its people were not only prosperous, but prudent.

The Metropolitan had two fields of effort, the ordinary or regular life insurance and the industrial. It excelled in both. The industrial insurance catered to the mechanic who could only put on a policy of moderate amount, and pay a moderate premium unless he denied his family some of the comforts of life. The

NESBITT SHOWS NO SIGNS OF RESISTING EXTRADITION

Toronto Teachers Visiting Chicago Positively Identify the Prisoner and His Lawyers Admit That He Is the Man Sought, Although They Deny His Culpability—Wife Is Too Ill to Be Informed of Arrest.

Toronto, April 13.—Despite the prominence given to stories of the desperate fight which Dr. Beattie Nesbitt is said to be preparing to make in Chicago against his extradition to Canada, nothing has yet been said by his counsel or himself indicating in any way that he intends to give up his original intention of returning voluntarily to face the charges against him here.

It was learned yesterday that the doctor had entertained this thought for more than a month and that there had been negotiations on foot to have him come back to give evidence before the royal commission at present examining into the granting of the charter of the Farmers' Bank. These were not successful, but even after the close of these negotiations, the doctor still intended to return to Toronto. He has now been remanded before the U. S. Commissioner of Extradition until April 26, and no developments are to be expected until then, unless the American immigration department decides to deport him, when he will be brought back by the Canadian authorities.

Mrs. Nesbitt has not yet been told of the arrest of her husband. She is confined to her bed at her home, under the care of a doctor, who fears that the news, in her present weakened condition, might prove too much for her. Such news would come as a great shock to her as the last word that she had in the matter was to the effect that her husband would return in less than a week to face the charges of which she still stoutly declares his innocence.

There is a very pathetic side to the plight of this very human personality who has occupied the limelight before the public in many roles. Perhaps there is none more appealing than that cast by a view of the very near and intimate regard in which he is held by his immediate family. On St. Valentine's Day his very little daughter sent him a remembrance of the day. Upon it she had scrawled in a childish hand, "Dear Daddy, do come home soon. Every night I have prayed to God to bring you back and He does everything for little girls. But dear, dear Daddy, sometimes He is so slow."

It is said that the receipt of this note doubled the doctor's determination to return to his home and family. It is a significant thing also that when the troublous days fell upon his bank the doctor retired to the seclusion of his Muskoka home, taking with him his wife and little girl, and it was there that he remained until warned to flee by the mysterious telegram which just preceded the issue of the warrant for his arrest.

Awaits Extradition.

Chicago, April 13.—Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, one-time president of the Farmers' Bank of Toronto, last night was in the custody of the United States Government here awaiting extradition on the charge of forgery and false returns in connection with that institution. Dr. Nesbitt was taken to the county jail late yesterday after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Foote. The extradition laws do not permit of bail. His hearing was continued to April 26. Nesbitt's attorneys, William K. Patterson and William H. Holly, would not state what their course of action would be, but it is said that Nesbitt will fight all attempts to extradite him.

Nesbitt at first denied his identity. A number of Toronto school teachers attending a convention here, positively identified him, however, and later his attorneys gave out a statement admitting him to be the former Canadian bank president, but denying he was guilty of any offence.

Attorney Patterson caused surprise by declaring that to his own knowledge Nesbitt had been in Chicago for more than a year and frequently had dined with him at a downtown hotel.

"The president of a bank in Canada is merely a nominal figure," said Mr. Patterson. "The cashier and other officers have most of the power. The charge of forgery is not extraditable in any event. Mr. Nesbitt, moreover, did not forge anything. He merely signed a false statement which resulted in the wrecking of the bank."

The charges against Nesbitt, as made known yesterday were: Making false return to the Government of Canada under the banking laws of 1907.

TEACHERS OFF FOR LONDON

London, April 13.—The Canadian contingent to the Imperial conference of teachers' associations in London will number over two hundred. Among them will be Dr. C. C. James, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick; President Stanley Mackenzie and Prof. McGill of Dalhousie University, Nova Scotia; Rev. T. W. Powell, president of King's College, Windsor, N.S.; Mr. Alex. Mackay, supervisor of the Halifax city schools; Miss Walsh, of the Bishop Strachan school, Toronto, and Mr. W. H. Liddicoatt, of London, Ont.

The classical section of the conference will be presided over by Prof. Gilbert Murray, Regius professor of Greek at Oxford, and Lord Selborne will preside over the history session.

Trainmen Vote Strike.

New York, April 13.—By a majority of more than 23,000 out of 25,000 votes cast, locomotive engineers on fifty railroads east of Chicago and north of Norfolk and Western, have authorized their officers to call a strike, should further negotiations with the railroads for increased pay fail. The count of the vote was completed at noon yesterday, and the result made known immediately by Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to J. C. Stuart, chairman of the General Managers' Association of the Railroads.

The general managers have called a meeting, to be held here April 15, to consider the result of the vote. The engineers' officers have notified Mr. Stone that they would remain here for "a reasonable time" to await a counter proposition of the railroads. The original demands of the engineers for increases in pay aggregating fifteen per cent. were recently rejected by the railroads.

LOOKS BAD FOR COHEN

Evidence at Inquest Seriously Implicates Him.

Toronto, April 13.—"That the evidence points to Abe Cohen, now in custody, as the perpetrator of the murder and that Sadie Cohen has a guilty knowledge of who committed said murder." This was the verdict returned by Coroner Dr. Yonge's jury at the inquest in the morgue last night, into the shooting of Rebecca Cooper, alias Berger, at 160 Chestnut street, on Monday evening, March 25.

The evidence given last night was practically a repetition of that taken a week ago, with the exception that Cohen was cross-examined as to his whereabouts at the time of the murder. He claimed he had left the house about 11 o'clock in the morning, returned for a few minutes about four o'clock in the afternoon, and spent the remainder of the time trying to sell some jewelry. At 7:50, the time the fatal shot was fired, he claimed to have been sitting in a confectionery store in Elizabeth street. The first he knew of the murder, he said, was when Marcovitch came into the store and said "the woman is shot."

Alex. Marcovitch and Mrs. Cohen were placed in the witness box, but their stories were very conflicting. Mrs. Cohen now, says she cannot tell anything about the case, and Marcovitch claimed that he had not been near the house after about 9 o'clock in the morning.

ABUSES WILL BE REMEDIED SAYS WHITNEY

SALAD OIL TO BE LABELLED

Ottawa, April 13.—Under the provisions of the Adulteration Act, an order in council has been passed fixing the standards for "edible vegetable oils." These include olive oil and cotton seed oil, the standards of purity of which are set forth in the order. It is provided that either of these may be sold as salad oil, but when cotton seed oil is offered as salad oil, the fact that it is cotton seed oil must be declared on the label.

The same requirement is exacted in regard to mixtures of cotton seed oil and olive oil. It must be stated on the label that the contents of the package are a mixture.

Issued Deed to Sidewalk Places.

Lethbridge, Alta., April 13.—The line of 125 men who occupied places outside the land office, with the intention of remaining there until May 1, when land would be opened up for settlement, have disappeared.

The mayor issued deeds to a foot of property to each man and the deeds will expire May 2.

Three Trainmen Injured.

North Stratford Junction, N.H., April 13.—Three trainmen were injured, two seriously, in a head-on collision between an express train bound from Montreal to Portland and a freight train westbound on the G.T.R. near Wenlock, Vermont, early yesterday.

HOUSEWIVES TO ATTACK HIGH COST OF LIVING.

MRS. JULIAN HEATH AND "HOUSEWIVES' LEAGUE" BUTTON. MARCEAU PHOTO

The newest and most powerful factor in the crusade being waged against the high cost of living is the Organized Housewife. This, coupled with the determination of every member of the Housewives' League to place housekeeping on a strictly business basis, will, in the opinion of experts, force tradesmen to realize that the time has come when their customers will pay just so much and no more for the commodity sought or else go without it.

Mrs. Julian Heath is president of the Housewives' League and just now she is one of the busiest women in this country.

SUSPECT IN ROSENTHAL MURDER PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Gibson Appears in Court and is Remanded to Jail—Dunkelman Progressing.

Toronto, April 13.—Yesterday the police succeeded in drawing their net of evidence even more closely about Charles Gibson, so cleverly arrested in the West Market street sub-station of the city Hydro-Electric Commission by Detective Cronin Friday night. The detectives located the clothes which he is said to have worn on the night of the murder. They were discovered in a lodging-house in Church street, where Gibson passed Saturday night. Upon these clothes there are stains which resemble blood stains and which are believed to be such, but which will be analyzed and tested so that this may be made certain.

The police have learned that another woman in the Ontario street house where Gibson lived with his father and stepmother was shown his shirt with a blood stain upon it on the morning following the murder, and that the stepmother took it to the cold water tap and washed out the stain.

The authorities have also learned that Langmaid, the meter reader, who was in the sub-station when Gibson was taken, and who denied having seen him since the murder, has been identified as a man who came up to Gibson in the street on the Wednesday before the murder and said to him: "That deal will not come off to-night." It is understood that when Langmaid, who has thus far been charged with vagrancy, comes up on Friday next he will be charged with being an accessory after the fact to the murder, inasmuch as he harbored and succored Gibson. The penalty for this offence is life imprisonment.

Gibson was arraigned in the police court yesterday and pleaded not guilty. He was represented by W. A. Henderson of Robinette, Godfrey, Phalen and Henderson. He was remanded a week. The young man, who is slight and tall, and of almost boyish appearance, did not seem perturbed as he stood in the dock with the eyes of a little more than the ordinary police court crowd upon him.

It is not likely that there will be much evidence offered at the inquest, which is to be continued Monday evening, as the police are not yet ready to disclose all the evidence which has come to their knowledge. They believe that there was only one man actually at the scene at the time that the murder was committed, and point out that the deed might easily have been committed by one man of even less than ordinary strength.

Dunkelman still lies in the General Hospital. He is yet too weak to be interviewed by the police, but is progressing in a way far beyond the original expectations of the doctors in attendance.

WOODSTOCK'S TREASURER DEAD

Woodstock, April 13.—Word received yesterday afternoon announced the death in Harrisburg, Pa., of one of Woodstock's most prominent citizens and officials, George C. Eden, city treasurer.

The late Mr. Eden had been in poor health for some time, but his condition was not regarded as serious until a few days ago, when he was the victim of a paralytic stroke. He had been resting at Harrisburg for a number of weeks.

The deceased was a prominent Mason and a life member of King Solomon Lodge of this city. He was appointed clerk of the town of Woodstock in 1880. In 1893 he resigned that position and was appointed treasurer of the municipality.

Drowned Off Seawall.

Toronto, April 13.—Mait Akroyd yesterday afternoon at 1.30 recovered the body of the man who ended his life off the seawall at High Park. The body is that of a man of about 25, with the appearance of a working man. An I. O. F. record book and $7.80 were in the pockets. The body had been in the water some hours.

Harold Male and Cecil Carrick found the man's watch and a letter addressed to James Stewart, in care of John Neil, Mimico, on the sea wall.

FRANCE HONORS QUEEN VICTORIA

Nice, April 13.—A series of Franco-British festivities signifying, according to the French press, another powerful demonstration of the vitality of the friendship between the two countries, began here yesterday when an imposing monument was dedicated to the late Queen Victoria.

The British and French fleets were anchored in the bay, while 10,000 British and French marines and soldiers marched through the streets of the city and were reviewed by the French Premier, Raymond Poincare, Sir Francis Bertie, the British ambassador to France, Theophile Delcasse, French Minister of Marine, Alexandre Millerand, French Minister of War, the King of Sweden, and a large number of princes and princesses were present.

A statute of the late King Edward will be unveiled at Cannes to-day.

Man Arrested in White House Had Knife.

Special To The Review.

Washington, April 13.—With a wicked looking knife in his pocekt a German, giving the name of Michael Winter, dashed past the doorkeepers of the White House, early to-day, and gained access to a private part of the mansion. When arrested he said he wanted to see the President, but intended to do him no harm.

YANKEE MILLERS RESENT TREATY

Chicago, April 13.—Proposed preferential duties between Canada and the British West Indies on flour caused the board of directors of the Millers' National Federation in session here yesterday, to appoint a committee which will make an appeal to the State Department at Washington to take action seeking to prevent the approval of the agreement.

A. L. Goetzman, secretary of the federation, read a report setting forth that the preferential duty would materially decrease the export sales of United States flour in the West Indies.

New Move for Board.

Ottawa, April 13.—The proposal made last year by the U. S. Government to have an international railway commission, have again been renewed to the Canadian Board. The proposal is, briefly, that the board should be composed of selected members from the Interstate Railway Commission and the Canadian Board of Railway Commissioners for the consideration of through freight rates.

Negro Family Murdered.

San Antonio, Texas, April 13.—William Burton, his wife, two children and Leon Evers, his brother-in-law, all negroes, were murdered while asleep in their homes here early yesterday.

The head of each victim appears to have been crushed with an axe, and butcher knives were found sticking in all bodies except those of the children.

May Abandon Commission.

Ottawa, April 13.—Gossip in political circles is to the effect that the Government may not bring in next session, a bill to establish a tariff commission, but will probably elaborate a general policy respecting the tariff in general.

Ice Blocks Canals.

Ottawa, April 13.—Advices which have been received at the railways and canals department, indicate that the St. Lawrence canals will not be able to open before the first of May.

TO BREAK DEADLOCK

Congress Rushing Emergency Measure, for Compulsory Arbitration.

Special To The Review.

Washington, April 13—Anticipating a deadlock in the coal strike conference, plans are being made to rush through Congress an emergency measure, providing for compulsory arbitration of controversy in the coal fields. A similar law now applies to railway labor only.

FANATIC KILLS WIFE AND SELF

London, April 13.—A double tragedy was brought about yesterday by another mental brainstorm affecting the Rev. Samuel Henry, the self-styled "Messiah," who on February 26, caused a sensation in the House of Commons by firing several shots from a revolver at the ceiling of the lobby.

Henry was discovered yesterday morning dying in his home, with two revolver bullets in his head, and by his side lay his wife's dead body, with the throat cut.

Clara Barton Dead.

Washington, April 13.—Miss Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross Society, died at Gen Echo, Md., at nine o'clock yesterday morning from chronic pneumonia, with which she was stricken about a year ago. She was born at Oxford, Mass., in 1821.

The Partizan Action of Ottawa Upper Chamber Throwing Out T. & N.O. Subsidy and Highway Aid Measures Is Vigorously Condemned—Application Should Be Renewed Say Opposition Members.

Toronto, April 13.—With the session of the Legislature scheduled to close today, rapid-fire changes were run in on the final hours yesterday afternoon, and, under the pressure of time, amendments, divisions and sharp exchanges between the leaders followed each other in rapid succession. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the action of the Senate in throwing out the bills for the T. & N.O. subsidy and highway aid for the province.

The former resolution, by W. S. Brewster (South Brant), was objected to by the Opposition on account of the wording as not likely to produce good results on another application for the subsidy at Ottawa. Mr. Proudfoot's amendment approved the principle of granting subsidies to provincial railways and of the action of both the former and the present Provincial Governments in applying to Ottawa for aid, and held that the objections to granting the subsidy would be removed if the proceeds were devoted towards extending the railway, and suggested that the Government should renew its application.

The resolution of Mr. Arthur Grigg (Algoma) in respect of the highway grant expressed indignation and deep regret that the popular will had been overridden by the partisan action of the Senate. An amendment moved by Mr. W. E. N. Sinclair (South Ontario) declared that the grants to the several provinces should be on a fixed basis, and regretted that the Federal Government declined to accept that principle. This motion was lost on a vote of 71 to 19.

The Elk Lake telegram again occupied the limelight, and the Prime Minister could not be drawn into making a statement as to its authorship.

Mr. Rowell read from a return of correspondence and reports in connection with the Elk Lake extension. He quoted from reports by the Engineer of the commission dealing unfavorably with the route from Earlton to Elk Lake, which had been decided upon later.

Going over the circumstances again, Mr. Rowell said that the Prime Minister ought to state to the House whether he sent the telegram purporting to be signed by him in answer to one that he had received.

Sir James charged that Mr. Rowell all through the discussion had held back the fact that he had received a telegram himself. "Now my hon. friend says that before this clause passes I should do something. I will tell my hon. friend that if this clause never passes I will not do it."

"Whenever we propose doing a good thing for the people we will make a point of telling the people about it, no matter whether there is an election on or not," concluded Sir James.

BRITISH EXPERTS ARE ALL DISCUSSING HOME RULE BILL

Jail Governor Dismissed.

St. Thomas, April 13.—The Provincial Government has definitely decided on the removal of Mr. N. W. Moore, governor of Elgin County jail for the past twenty-five years, and has named W. F. Luton, of Mapleton, former warden of the county, as his successor. The change takes effect May 1.

Ten Years For Killing Man.

Quebec, April 13.—Octave Godbout, charged with murdering J. Cadrau by hitting him with an axe over the head, in a dispute over a right of way through a farm, was found guilty of manslaughter, and sentenced to ten years.

MARRIED HIS HALF SISTER

Cincinnati, April 13.—A strange story which resulted in John P. Ruch, jr., aged 22 years, being divorced from his half-sister, Helen Hoffman Ruch, 24, was related in the insolvency court here yesterday. The brother and sister were married October 25, 1910, neither at the time knowing of the blood relationship between them. The discovery of the relationship was disclosed a few weeks ago, and the action for a divorce followed.

It was explained to the court that the mistake had been possible because of the fact that the mother, for a private reason, had hidden from the children the fact that they were brother and sister, allowing them to believe that the girl was only an adopted child.

The husband was given the custody of the two children.

Prime Minister Asquith's Measure Has No Effect on Stock Market—Exemption of Ireland From Contribution to Army, Navy, or Diplomatic Service Is Ground of Chief Criticism—Debate on Monday.

London, April 13—The adjournment of the home rule for Ireland debate in the House of Commons until Monday has given an interval in which the opinions of public men of all classes are being canvassed on the main outlines of the measure. As far as details are concerned, especially of the complex financial proposals, it will be needful, however, to await until the bill is in print, which probably will be Wednesday.

In the Stock Exchange yesterday the introduction of the bill had no effect whatever. Consols rose slightly, but Irish bank and land stock prices did not change. According to the Unionist view the failure of the measure to affect prices was the outcome of a belief among bankers and financiers that the bill will never become a law. Criticisms of the measure seems likely to fasten itself upon the financial proposals, not only on the part of opponents, but also supporters of the bill, as the financial scheme, together with the clause calling for a nominated senate, are considered its weakest spots.

The exemption of Ireland from any contribution to the army, navy, diplomatic service, etc., also is severely criticized, while it is predicted that such a scheme of dual government as the bill proposes would lead to constant friction between the Imperial and Irish Parliaments, since the Imperial Parliament, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and the Privy Council each would possess the power to veto over the Irish Parliament.

The Spectator describes the bill as both foolish and cowardly. It says the Government, afraid to grant the Nationalists' demand for colonial home rule, bribed them into accepting much less to begin with, but in allowing forty Irish members to remain in Westminster, have provided them with an instrument for extorting in the future full colonial powers. The Spectator adds that as the Nationalists thus eventually will get both the bribe and full powers, they naturally are contented.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If In Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak, there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills A Family Medicine

The Daily Review

SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1912.

THE HOME RULE MEASURE

The centre of political interest has shifted for the time being to the Home Rule Bill, or, as the Asquith government prefers to style it, the Government of Ireland Bill. The behest of the Irish Nationalists, headed by John Redmond, has been obeyed. Again is to be made an attempt to virtually separate Ireland from the larger Island; to set up the barriers of race and religion as they have seldom been set up in any country of late years. The Asquith government has been in office since 1909, and the price of its existence has been its promise to introduce the Home Rule measure. The measure has been so drawn that its introduction will be much less of a shock to the public than was expected. The bill has been nicely sugar-coated. The members of the senate— for it has been decided that the Irish parliament shall have a senate—will be appointed by the Imperial authorities to assure that the minority shall have proper representation. Subsequent appointments shall be by the recommendation of the government of Ireland, and as the Nationalists will have 100 seats to Ulster's 59, it may easily be seen where the senatorial appointments will go.

At the end of six years the Irish constabulary—which will remain an arm of the imperial service in the meantime—will pass into the hands of the Irish government. Likewise with the excise duties. The Irish parliament is given control of these except that in the case of beer and spirits, it is debarred from adding to the custom duties anything that will give a greater increase than 10 per cent. That is to say, Dublin may levy taxes on imports, and even on imports from England and Scotland. The Asquith government is thus incorporating a provision for a protectionist government for Ireland.

Whether the right of the Imperial Parliament to annul Irish legislation will develop into a mere nominality, remains to be seen. Certainly its rights with regard to colonial legislation were seldom exercised. Federal control of provincial legislation in Canada is very seldom asserted. There is a long fight ahead, however, for the promoters of the Home Rule bill. Under the new constitutional arrangement, the House of Lords, may not reject a money bill; but any other bill, if rejected by it three times, and then passed by the House of Commons, may become law on receiving the royal assent, without reference to the Senate. This means that the House of Lords can kill the Home Rule measure, if it passes the House of Commons, in 1912, 1913 and 1914. By that time, it may well be that the Asquith government will be swept from power and the Redmond domination broken.

Certainly a general election seems to be likely before the House of Commons can pass the Home Rule measure for a fourth consecutive time and the Nonconformists of England and Ireland, and many conservative Liberals will join to defeat the government and the measure. Premier Asquith seems likely to share the fate of Gladstone.

ENGLISH LORDS AT PICKERING

That is rather a novel sight; two English lords forsaking the old land, to farm 200 acres of land in Canada. Lord and Lady Hyde and Lord Somers have arrived at Pickering, where their farm is located, and are going to raise garden truck for market to earn a living. Said Lady Hyde in an interview, "We are going to teach our children to forget the titles of aristocracy and buckle down to hard work."

One cannot but admire the spirit which brings these aristocrats from the Old Country to a new land to earn a livelihood by every-day hard work. There are too many of their class who have no such common aspirations. On the whole the English aristocracy, however, is essentially wholesome, fond of rural life, and anything but effete and degenerate. Lady Hyde says that two servants have been brought with them from the old land, but they will be dismissed, and she intends to do the work of the house herself. Only one hired man will be kept, to help with the rough work of the farm. We do not know anything as to the past position of the titled new-comers, but there is one thing certain, and that is, that Canadians generally will be glad to give them a hearty welcome, to admire their hardy spirit, and wish them all success. Lord Somers is said to be unmarried, and it seems to be rather a wonder to some that instead of going in for hard work like farming, he did not pitch his tent in the United States, where no doubt he would have been pestered with offers of marriage from heiresses with money to burn. One might imagine that such a course would be making money a great deal easier than by growing cabbage and turnips. But there is significance away and beyond the mere fact of their decision to farm in Canada, in this move. The day of titled privilege in the Old Country seems to be drawing to a close. The restrictions and taxations on the aristocrats are yearly becoming more burdensome. Of course, the unequal distribution of wealth has made this necessary, perhaps, since for long years they did not contribute their rightful proportion toward the cost of governing the nation. If many of the aristocrats leave to take up life in the colonies, like some of the nobility have done in the Canadian west, attention will be more strongly drawn to the process by which the march of empire is slowly transferring the fulcrum of power to the westward. Dreams of the day when Canada will be the centre of the British empire may be visionary, but with the migration of British capital, the coming of Britain's best, leaving only the unfit, the growth of this magnificent country in stature and wisdom, it is not an impossibility. In the meantime, here is hoping that the new residents of Pickering neighborhood may find their new life quite to their taste.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It would be a curious development of the abolish the bar-business, if it were found that the idea was to do away with the bar in hotels, but permit it as a separate thing in a separate building. That solution may be a joker held up the sleeve of Mr. Rowell.

Few public arrivals to be chronicled in the papers will be noted with the interest that will be attached to the coming of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt. After keeping out of the way for over a year he has been found and apprehended. His arrest and extradition will give renewed interest to the Farmers' Bank wrecking.

Persons who have contracted the unfortunate habit of a weakness for drink, and who are known as habitual drunkards, will learn with interest of the new provisions of the act now being considered by the legislature. When a person is repeatedly found drunk, and especially when within three months after a previous conviction, he may be committed to an industrial farm for an indeterminate period up to two years.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 12.—(Can. Press.)—Excited competition for wheat to-day resulted in a net advance of 1¼c to 2½c a bushel. This means that since Monday the price of the cereal has risen 7¼c to 8c. Disastrous impairment of crop prospects all the way from Ohio to Missouri was what put force into the buying. Largely as a result of the wheat bulge, corn reached a new top level for the year and closed ⅝c to 1c higher than last night. Oats rose 1¼c to 1⅜c, and provisions were up 25c to 27½c.
